BANDITS LOOT ON BIG SCALE AT SHANGHAI

Fortune in Rifles and Munitions Stolen From Vessel

OVERPOWER OFFICERS

Largest Silk Stores of City Have Been Entered

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Shanghai, Jan. 2.—Upwards of one hundred armed gangsters, believed to be soldiers disguised, boarded the steamers Kingta and Kiang Yung Wednesday night, while the vessels were moored at the French concession wharf. They over-powered the officers and seized 200 cases of rifles and munitions valued at more than a quarter million dollars.

The rifles and munitions were consigned to General Sun Chuen-Fang, who was engaged on the side of General Wu Pai-Fu, deposed Peking military chief. They had, however, been intercepted and were being held by customs authorities when captured by gangsters.

STORES ARE LOOTED

Shanghai, Jan. 2—It is reported that a detachment of American marines have been landed at Nanking to protect the foreign residential district following the looting by the bodyguard of General Ch Sh sh-Yuan former Military Governor of Kingsu, of a number of the largest silk stores of city, causing a loss of eight hundred thousand dollars.

Thomas Foster Is Toronto Mayor

He Defeated W. W. Hiltz by 2,448 Votes at Light Poll

Toronto, Jan. 2.—The civic elections in Toronto yesterday furnished a number of surprises, chief of which was the election of Thomas Foster as Mayor over W. W. Hiltz by a plurality of 2,448. Owing to the severity of the weather and the general apathy of the citizens the vote was quite light. Taking the vote cast for Mayor as the criterion, less than twenty-five percent. of the electors thought it worth while to visit the polling booths. The actual vote cast for Mayoralty candidates was 67,791, compared with 82,551 last year, a decrease of 14,760. In consequence of the great falling off in the vote Mayor Hiltz went down to defeat. He polled 31,393 only, compared with 44,265 last year, a decrease of 12,872. Controller Foster, who was elected Mayor, polled 33,841, compared with 33,975 cast for T. L. Church, M.P., last year, when he sought to regain the Chief Magistracy.

Controller R. H. Cameron, Alderman A. W. Carrick, Ward Three, and Alderman Joseph Turner, Ward Eight were among old members of Council who went down to defeat. School Trustees Dr. E. J. Forfar, Ward 2 and John McClelland, Ward Four, a former chairman of the Education Board also met defeat. The striking feature of the voting was that the Waterworks extension by-law, calling for an expenditure of $14,000,000, carried by two to one, also strongly opposed by Mr. Foster and warmly supported by Mayor Hiltz. In other ways the election was the tamest in years, and the remarkable sight was witnessed at the City Hall of a long queue of Deputy Returning Officers with their ballot boxes, in the corridors at the early hour of 7.15 o'clock, something unprecedented.

The complete result of the voting was tabulated and announced by 9 o'clock.

Although there will be a slight change in the personnel of the Council, four of the five new men have had previous experience in municipal affairs, the exception being Dr. W. N. Robertson, elected Alderman in Ward Eight.

The vote for Mayor and Board of Control was as follows:

For Mayor

THOMAS FOSTER	33,841
W. W. Hiltz	31,393
H. Winberg	2,265
S. Fieldhouse	292

Plurality for Foster, 2,448.

For Board of Control

JOS. GIBBONS	39,172
A. E. HACKER	34,265
W. D. ROBBINS	32,091
D. C. MacGREGOR	31,286
R. H. Cameron	27,897
J. Simpson	14,485
J. Birks	4,272

TWO WEEKS'-OLD FOUNDLING LEFT ON HOSPITAL STEPS

An unexpected visitor to the Hospital for Children, Toronto, the other night, was the gurgling little baby boy shown above, who was found wrapped in warm clothes, and tucked into a club bag, the bag being found on the steps of the hospital.

AN ENGINE MUST BE CALLED "SHE", CANNOT GET ALONG WITHOUT A PUFF

Lindsay Rotarian Writes Clever Essay in Unique Contest

EXPENSIVE TO KEEP

Spends a Good Deal of Time in the Shops

Lindsay, Jan. 2.—Lindsay Rotarians enjoyed a novel feature at a recent luncheon. Secretary Ed Miles introduced a competition in which Rotes with an 100% attendance record during December only could compete. A Rotary wheel button was given to Rotarian Maconachie, who was adjudged to have written the best essay on "Why an engine is called She." Rotarians Wilford and McCulloch who were judges made the decision.

Here is the winning essay.

"Everyone acknowledges the fact that an engine must be a "she" because she draws the mail and like the ladies an engine is supposed to go first. Since the coming of Sir Henry Thornton, the C.N.R. Engine is becoming quite fast, and because an engine needs a man to take her out, is expensive to keep up, spends a good deal of time in the shops, is always ready to give a man a run for his money, an engine must certainly be a "She." Then again an engine is "She" because a man can only go with one at a time. If one wants to stop her, she has to be throttled and yet she always responds to a man's touch and never wants a man to "lever". An engine is a "She" because when one comes along, one is expected to "stop and look and listen." If running an engine a man must keep a good watch because when two meet there is always a lot of noise and generally someone gets into trouble. We all know that the cold bare steel makes her run, although after a wash out on the line an engine gets some time to rest. An engine must be a "She" because she gets only water to drink and seems satisfied. Very often has to use a switch, cannot get along without a puff, is always ready to receive the attentions of at least two men, who try to keep her on the straight and narrow way, which if she leaves is difficult to get her back. An engine like a woman is a thing of mystery, leaving tracks behind, but never showing the direction taken. An engine often keeps a man waiting when he is taking her somewhere and at the beginning of "the journey" a man is expected to "ring the bells". Like many women an engine is always on her metal, men work hard to make her daily path smooth. It takes an expert with much experience to understand her. One of the men on the engine is called a "stoker" and "she" cannot be a man because a man never carries a train behind.

The engine of an automobile is also called a "she" because she carries a fan to keep her cool. To make her noise less, one has to muffle her and when men are choosing one for their own use, they prefer a new model. Anyone who is thinking of buying a car or getting married is hereby warned that life with an engine is just one explosion after another; that she cannot get along with out regular sparking. She needs to be taken care of or soon goes to pieces; that it is not the initial cost, but the upkeep that drains a man's pockets; that one is expected to provide her with a belt, or apron, a hood or bonnet, a jacket and everything else necessary or other wise, and even then will sometimes behave badly for no evident reason. If you expect smooth running all causes of friction should be avoided and she will often seem to lose her bearings very easily. Above all remember that her dazzling head lights are dangerous and that when overhauled and painted up it is difficult to tell her age."

Important legislative measures are being laid aside while ways and means are devised to get rid of the rodents. Other parts of Constantinople also are suffering from an invasion of mice.

POLICE COURT IN NEED OF CALENDAR

It is difficult sometimes to "make dates" without the aid of a calendar. That is if the days of the "date maker" are crowded by appointments as lawyers days are.

In police court this morning the pressing need for a 1925 calendar was felt, when dates for adjourned cases were being arranged.

Though calendars seem scarce this year, there will doubtless be one in position in police court before the next sitting.

Point Anne Church Is About Ready

After Many Setbacks First Service Planned Next Sunday

In spite of storm damage and reverse, and in the face of an extremely cold December, at last the New United Church at Point Anne is nearly completed. At least, the edifice is enclosed and the basement so nearly finished that the opening services are advertised for Sunday, Jan. 4th, 1925.

The Trustees, Ladies Aid and congregation, generally, deserve congratulations and a large public support in their opening anniversary and tea meeting for they have toiled and sacrificed long and persistently to accomplish this achievement. No little credit is due the pastor, Rev. L. M. Sharpe for his inceasing sympathy and inspiration, he having joined in the work of construction and actually performed many hours of carpenter work by way of donation and encouragement.

Rev. Dr. Malott, Chairman of Belleville District and Rev. H. P. L. Seymour, of Rednersville, who formerly ministered the Point Anne Mission will be preachers for the opening which will be held at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m. and in the School session at 2.30 p.m. when there will be brief talks by leading laymen and music by Baxter's Orchestra.

Then an old-fashioned tea meeting will be held on Wed. evening 7th inst when an exceptionally good program will be given in which the Rednersville band will give the major part and Chas. Hanna M.P. will be chairman.

No doubt the whole proceedings will receive a large attendance and patronage as the whole district was sympathetically aroused by the serious loss by the hurricane of early November.

W. C. MUIR HEADS HIS DEPARTMENT

Announcement has been made by J. E. Dalrymple, Vice-president in charge of Traffic and Express, Canadian National Railways, of the appointment of W C Muir as General Manager of the Express Department of the System. The appointment is effective as from December 15th, 1924.

Mr. Muir was born at Clinton, Ontario and entered the service of the American Express Company at Toronto in 1884. He was later agent of the Dominion Express Company at Winnipeg and joined the Canadian Northern Express in 1902, being successively tendent and general manager at Winnipeg. Upon the amalgamation into one company of the Canadian Northern Express and the Canadian Express in 1921, Mr. Muir became Vice President and General Manager of the Canadian National Express Company with headquarters at Montreal. In 1922, when the amalgamation of the Canadian National Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway Systems took place, Mr. Muir was appointed Assistant General Manager of the Express Department and on May 1, 1924, upon the retirement of the General Manager, Mr. C. A. Hayes, Mr. Muir was appointed Acting General Manager.

RUSSIAN WAS REMANDED TO JANUARY 9th

Kotchi or Tracj Will Have Preliminary Hearing Then

CHARGE IS CHANGED

Murder is Now Alleged; Prisoner Appears More Worried

Serge Tkacj (Kotchi) Point Anne Russian, appeared before Magistrate Masson this morning and was again remanded to the county jail until Friday, January 9th, when he will have preliminary hearing.

The attempted murder charge was amended this morning by Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, to a formal murder charge. Tkacj stood up in the dock, his right wrist shackled to a Provincial officer, another officer standing by, while Crown Attorney Donnan read the charge.

"Serge Tkacj, you stand charged, that in the village off Point Anne, in the County of Hastings, you did on or about December 22nd, 1924, unlawfully murder one Alek Cernuska, contrary to the criminal code."

"The Crown is not ready to proceed with the preliminary investigation," explained Crown Attorney Donnan, "and my learned friend will not be ready until one week from to-day. We have agreed upon that date January 9th at ten o'clock.

A change in the spelling of the name of the accused Russian was made this morning. His name to date has been spelled Kotchi, and was believed by all to be correct, until the accused was asked by the Crown to write it down this morning. The first name "Serge" was legible but the Christian name was not. Mr. Donnan then wrote what he believed the letters of the name as written to be, and submitted them to the prisoner He said they were as he had written "Tkacj."

Serge appears more worried every time he appears, and this morning, with a clean shave, he was pale and haggard. He takes great interest in proceedings which he does not evi- he cast shy glances at the police court lently understand. While in the dock audience, there being a goodly number present today.

A large number of guests assembled and enjoyed this annual reception.

IS CONVICTED OF KEEPING FOR SALE

Jacob Wesley Kellair, of Actinolite, was convicted on a charge of keeping liquor for sale when he appeared before Magistrate R. R. Casement of Madoc, on Wednesday. He was fined $300 and costs or six months, and accepted the jail term.

On the same day, David Clement of Bogart, was similarly charged under section 40 of the O. T. A. and was fined $200 and costs or three months plus three months. This was not paid.

Inspector William Nugent, of Madoc, laid the informations for both those cases.

EXPLANATIONS ARE IN ORDER AFTER DEFEAT

Toronto Newspaper declares Wet Vote Defeated Mayor Hiltz

DRYS ARE WARNED

Thomas Foster, Mayor Elect Is 73 Years Of Age

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Jan. 2—Toronto is busy trying to explain on New Year's day why it fractured a tradition of sixty years and declined a second term to a mayor who was acknowledged by most authorities to have given eminently satisfactory service.

Yesterday, when Controller Thomas Foster defeated Mayor W. W. Hiltz for the mayoralty, was the second occasion in Toronto's history as a city that a mayor was refused a second term. Three of Toronto's four daily papers supported Hiltz against Foster toand are today speculating on reasons for the defeat of Hiltz.

One of them ascribes it definitely to Toronto's "wet vote". Editorially it says, "Yesterday's vote had little to do with municipal affairs. Toronto's wet vote put Thomas Foster in the Mayor's chair. The wet vote and little else." This paper remarks that real campaign work was done by Toronto members of the legislature and warns Ontario prohibitionists that the lesson taught by the Toronto municipal elections is that "people of Ontario who have fought liquor in the past cannot afford to relax their efforts if this province is to be kept dry."

Thomas Foster, Mayor-elect, is the "dean" of the city council. He is 73 years of age.

In conection with elections to the Board of Education, it is notable that two members of long standing Dr. James E. Forfar and John McClelland who in last year's board championed a resolution commending the Ontario Temperance Act, were defeated at polls yesterday.

Point Anne Trio Remanded Again

Have Analysis of Wine, but Crown is Not Ready Yet

Sam Belak, Sam Gurniak and Nick Tomchuck, three Point Anne men charged with drinking in a public place, following the seizure of a partly filled keg of Niagara wine at the home of Nick Gurniak at Point Anne by Inspector F. Naphan recently, appeared this morning, but the three cases were adjourned until Tuesday next, January sixth at ten o'clock in the morning.

A fourth charge against "Billy Caruk" was laid aside for the time being, as this name is believed to be fictitious and the information will not be proceeded with. This is the third enlargement, the first appearance being the day following the seizure which was made December 22 and again on December 30th.

"We have the analysis report from Toronto on the sample of wine which was sent there," explained the Crown "but something has developed which requires additional investigation."

The Crown then asked for the amendment to the charges in each case, and each of the three men will now be charged with purchasing liquor from a person not authorized to sell same for consumption in Ontario, contrary to section 50 of the O.T.A.

The bonds which gave the accused men liberty before, were again accepted and they were allowed to go until January 6th.

MARKET LICENSE CHANGE EFFECTED

Farmers Must Pay $25 To Sell Meat on Market

At a special meeting of the City Council on Wednesday evening, the by-law regulating the selling of meat on Belleville market was passed, the license fee to be $25 per year, instead of $1 as has been in force previously.

Members present were: Mayor Mikel, Aldermen G. E. Foster, R. Gardiner, H. W. Greenleaf, A. H. Ketcheson D V. Ketcheson, A. E. LaRoche, W. R. McCreary, W. H Patterson, A. Robertson and S. H. Treverton.

The amendment to the existing bylaw reads as follows:

That section 19 of Consolidated Bylaw Number 891 as amended by by-law No. 1879 be amended by striking out the words one dollar in the ninth line thereof, and inserting in lieu thereof words twenty-five dollars.

Aldermen Foster and Greenleaf were the only members of the Council voting against the license fee of $25.

The extension of Mr. A. S. Large's lease of the market tolls was made the 1st day of April, 1925.

This was the only business transacted and the council adjourned sine die.

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Reports of voting on Church Union from Presbyterian churches in Western Canada and Ontario received up to noon today by the Church Union bureau of information here show that of 157 congregations that have voted, 148 have decided to enter the United Church of Canada, while nine have voted non-concurrence.

According to figures compiled by the bureau of information, 32 congregations in Ontario have voted for Union and one against. In Saskatchewan, 108 are for and 4 against. In Alberta, 8 are for and 3 against, while in British Columbia one church voted against union.

Belleville Club Was Merry Place

New Year's Ball Was Outstanding Social Event Of Season

One of the outstanding social events of the season was the ball on New Year's Eve, given by the members of the Belleville Club in their club rooms. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Rodger Porter and Mrs. A. Gilien and consisted of evergreen trees, bells and balloons, which were full of favours. These made the room look very gay, and the many coloured evening gowns worn by the ladies, against the sombre background of the men's attire, enhanced the charm of the occasion. At midnight the bells were rung and the favours and balloons were scattered, while all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mrs. H. Corby, Mrs. D. M. Waters, and Miss Alice Corby received the one hundred guests who were present.

The patronesses were: Mrs. G. B. Begy, Mrs. Jamieson Bone, Mrs. S. R. Burrows, Mrs. R. A. Carman, Mrs. W. J. Cook, Mrs. H. Corby, Mrs. J. V. Doyle, Mrs. J. J Farley, Mrs. Alf. Gillen, Mrs. W. J. Hume, Mrs. B. L. Hyman, Mrs G. H. McArthur, Mrs. Rodger Porter, Mrs. W. E. Schuster, Mrs. Geo. Stewart, Mrs. D. M. Waters, Mrs. J. F. Wills, Mrs. P. H. Wills.

The stewards were: Mr. G. B. Begy Jamieson Bone, S. R. Burrows, R. A. Carman, W. J. Cook, J. V. Doyle, Alf. Gillen, W. J. Hume, B. L. Hyman, G. H. McArthur, E. Guss Porter, W. E. Schuster, J. F. Wills, P. H. Wills.

RECORDS ECLIPSED AT THE ACADEMY

The New Year's eve dance held in Johnstone's academy eclipsed all records for attendance, for the large academy was crowded. A very happy time resulted, when an interesting program of dances was presented.

The Bon Ton orchestra supplied the dance music, and the academy was beautifully decorated with evergreens and streamers.

When old 1924 was passing, he was counted out with lights turned low, and dancers who had halted and who stood about the orchestra then joined in the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

A dainty lunch was served during the evening.

THE WEATHER

Fresh winds, local snowfalls to-day and Saturday, comparatively mild.

A DAY OF RECKONING

According to Frank J. D. Barnjum, who is making a noble effort to save Canada's forests from the clutch of outsiders, evidence as to the alarming rate at which forest depletion is progressing on this continent continues to multiply. President Coolidge, on the authority of the United States Forest Service, stated in a recent address that five-sixths of the forests in his country had been cut down or otherwise destroyed within a period of seventy-five years, thus indicating that not more than fifteen years' supply remains. This calculation is coming very close to the estimate of thirteen years made by the writer over a year ago.

Some people may attempt to deduce that the remaining one-sixth of the United States forests, which are situated largely on the Pacific coast, will yield a greater percentage of timber per acre than the forest already destroyed owing to the greater size of the trees. It is known, however, that any advantage in this direction will be more than offset by the inaccessibility of much of the remaining timber as well as by the indifferent quality of a considerable proportion of it. Furthermore, much waste is encountered in operating in large-sized timber, actual tests demonstrating that waste runs in the heavier stands to an average of more than 20,000 board feet per acre.

In calculating the longevity of this remaining one-sixth supply consideration must also be given to the progressive increases in losses through fires, insect pests and wind, brought about by the drying up of the earth's surface as the forest cover gradually disappears, as well as to the increased needs of a growing population and of new industrial developments dependent upon wood. To allow fifteen years, therefore, for the complete wiping out of the American forests which existed 75 years ago, and which have already shrunken to one-sixth of their original extent, would seem to be a very conservative estimate indeed.

"When we come to Canada," Mr. Barnjum says, "the situation, as I have frequently pointed out, is even more alarming. Taking the Province of Quebec as an example (and Quebec is better off than most of our provinces) I have repeatedly stated and have offered incontrovertible evidence to prove that the available supply of pulpwood will be exhausted within ten years unless something radical is done to check the present rate of depletion.

"Some critics are using a statement made by the 'Royal Commission on Pulpwood' to attempt to refute this calculation, although the report itself in reality substantiates every contention made by me. They take the Commission's estimate of 131,000,000 cords of supposedly available pulpwood in Quebec, together with an estimate of the annual cut, placed at 3,000,000 cords, and by a simple mathematical process, figure out by this method how long the supply will last. This, of course, ignores past history altogether and takes no account of depletion through fires, fungi, insects, wind and increased cutting to supply the numerous new wood-using industries which are springing up in the province faster most than one can keep track of them. Even the Commission makes allowance for losses sustained by blow-downs although experienced woodsmen will agree, wind is not of the most serious of all structive agencies affecting the ts but one that is constantly be ming more aggravated. At the present time losses from this one agency alone are more than sufficient to offset the total annual growth. The losses occasioned by fire, fungi, and insects are admitted by the Commission to be of the most serious character. In case of the forests along the lines of the Transcontinental Railway it has been demonstrated that fire has destroyed twenty cords of wood for every one sacrificed to the axe. The Commission itself points out the fallacy of trying to calculate the duration of supply merely by dividing the estimated available wood by the annual consumption. 'It is abundantly clear,' says the report, 'that figures derived by mathematical division of annual consumption into total supplies are entirely misleading and err on the side of optimism to an extent which can in no sense be justified.,"

WAR AND PEACE NEWS

During the last half of the year 1924, the possibilities of another great war have exacted considerable attention from newspapers and magazines. Thousands and thousands of words have been written and read on such subjects as Germany's present military attitude, new inventions for scientific warfare, dangerous thought in the Orient, revolutionary plans of communists.

After a fashion and without a doubt, unintentionally, editors have been feeding the fears of people who dread most of all a repetition of the recent upheaval.

On the other hand how little the general public knows of the discussions and words being conducted by the League of Nations for world peace. When Washington correspondents hint that Coolidge is considering a disarmament conference or some statesmen of Europe utters an arresting idea on the question of peace, big headlines fit in, but there is not enough information available on the real hard work being done at Geneva.

Bare talk of "protocols", "conversations", "amendments" to "treaties" are meaningless to the average man in America.

Sift the vital and interesting news at the League of Nations headquarters from the vague technical notes of what is going on, and people would be as interested in news of peace as they are in news of war.

WHERE QUEBEC STANDS FIRST

One of the remarkable things brought out by "The Natural Resources of Quebec", a well-illustrated publication just issued by the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, is the number of features in which the province stands first or excels. For example, Quebec produces seven-eighths of the world's asbestos. The first centrifugal cream separator to be used on this continent was operated in Quebec at the village of Ste. Marie de Beauce in 1882. Canada's first paper will was established in St. Andrew's, Quebec, in 1803. Fifty per cent. of the capital invested in Canada in the pulp and paper industry is invested in Quebec, and the province has within its borders over one-third of the waterpower that can be produced in Canada. It was in Quebec, at the Oak Institute, that the first "frost-resisting" breed of poultry, the Chanteclere, was developed to withstand cold winter weather. More staple products are made in Quebec than in all the other provinces of Canada combined, and the only known workable deposits of kaolin or china clay in Canada are found there. Finally, the province boasts the largest water-power storage reservoir in the world, the Gouin Dam on the St. Maurice river with 160 billion cubic feet capacity.

Of special interest are the chapters on the pulp and paper industry, water-jowers, and the agricultural and mineral resources, including the new Rouyn gold fields. The scenic resources and the attractions offered to sportsmen and tourists are treated in detail. The chapter entitled "The Land and the People" is singularly successful in conveying the local atmosphere which imparts to the people and the institutions of the province their quaint attractiveness and peculiar charm.

To business men, investors and citizens generally "The Natural Resources of Quebec," will prove of very timely interest. Perhaps nowhere else within the covers of a single volume can there be found such a readable and concise description of the principal natural resources of the province as in this booklet of 130 odd pages.

Press Opinions

ANOTHER IRISH CONSPIRACY

Hamilton Herald:

From time immemorial Irishmen have been by instinct "agin the government." In times past it was the British government that was the object of their hostility. But not altogether because it was British partly also because it was a government, Now they have their own government and many of them are hardly less hostile to that than they used to be to the government at Westminster.

There have been conspiracies against the Cosgrave administration The latest one just disclosed appears to be a rather dangerous one. Not only a large number of military officers have been dismissed from the service for treasonable plotting but members of different branches of the civil service are also involved.

It's a matter of habit as well as instinct. For many years patriotic Irishmen have lived in an atmosphere of conspiracy. Political activity seems tame and almost meaningless without it. Shorn of that excitement, public service seems a humdrum sort of business; one might almost as well stick to farming.

It will be a long time before South Irish politicians are content to work together in peace for the good of their country. But they will yet be. They will gradually work out of the old habit.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

Buffalo Express:

At Port Allegany, Pa., on Wednesday night a man walked into the lobby of a hotel and drawing a revolver ordered all present to throw up their hands. Instead of complying, Earl J. Fetterly, proprietor of the place, rushed at the bandit. He was shot and killed. A bystander, William Barrho, went to the aid of the fallen man. Barrho was shot and seriously wounded. Then the murderer fled.

Here is another good case to serve as a text for such expounders as Clarence Darrow to develop their theories about malignant cells, the futility of punishment, the sins of society and the blamelessness of the criminal. As the ordinary mind sees it, an evil, vicious man committed murder from no other motive than sordid greed. Is there any healthfulness either for the individual or society in a school of thought which exonerates him and his kind from the accusation of being evil and vicious? Are they not properly subject to whatever penalty law can impose to protect other persons from their misdeeds.

PRICES AND PRODUCTION

London Morning Post:

The best way of lowering prices is to increase production within our own territories and under our own flag. We can do this in various ways, by fiscal arrangements, by bounties, and by the development of land and sea transport.

It seems to us that if the dominions were guaranteed a preference in these markets they would be stimulated so to increase their powers of production as to give us a means of retort to the excessive demands of nations. If, on the other hand, we persist in our policy of neglect, these dominions may be either tempted or forced into making arrangements elsewhere, and possibly even into increasing the strength of foreign trusts which already dominate or threaten to dominate our markets and certain commodities.

CANADIAN SOAP INDUSTRY

Canadian Chemistry and Metallurgy:

The manufacture of soaps, washing compounds and toilet preparations, ranks third among the chemical industries of Canada. It is exceeded only by the paint and varnish, and the heavy chemical groups in importance.

It is one of the fields where there has been steady growth, and, in some directions, real expansion, during the last few years. Plants manufacturing special lines, such as are required by particular industries, have been affected by trade in these lines, but, broadly speaking, the whole group is in a sound and progressive condition There are some seventy plants engaged in these lines of manufacturing, of which one-half are in Ontario.

CANON CODY'S SUBJECT

Montreal Gazette:

Toronto's record for originality apparently extends to her pulpits, as witness Canon Cody's subject last Sunday, "A Short Bed and a Narrow Blanket". Coincidental as it was with the first real cold snap of the winter its suggestion must have brought it under the category of those sermons described as "uncomfortable."

Mrs. G. W. Ostrom entertained a number of friends at her residence Friday evening. About forty guests were present, and enjoyed a very pleasant evening of music and cards.

One satisfactory feature of the season's traffic on the great lakes is the comparative light loss of life and vessel property.

The vessel and cargo loss was the least in ten years, the total being $500,000 for 30 vessels. Sixty sailors lost their lives: the greater number perished in the big storm of May 10th Last year 123 sailors and pasengers were drowned. The largest loss of life in recent years was in 1887, when 204 persons were drowned on the great lakes. The comparatively small loss during this year was in a great measure due to the excelent work of fifty-one life saving statilons along the coast.

HUGE RESTAURANT OPEN FOR PILGRIMS

Rome, Jan. 2.—The big square in the shadow of the Castle of St. Angelo has been leased by the municipal authorities to a Genoese restaurateur for the construction of a huge popular-priced restaurant to accommodate thousands of Holy Year pilgrims to Rome during 1925. The plot of ground, comprising about two acres, is now occupied by an amusement park, a miniature Coney Island, but all these gaudy trappings will be removed and open air restaurant pavilions installed where meals will be served at a flat rate of nine lire, about 40 cents, including a bottle of wine.

A BERNARD SHAW STORY

Bernard Shaw, who is not overfond of music, now, probably because of his early career as critic, happened to be beguiled to a musicale given by a prominent London society woman, who, during the evening found the author sitting disconsolate and bored in a corner of the room.

"Now, really, Mr. Shaw," said the hostess, "don't you think this orchestra plays beautifully? These men have been playing together for eleven years."

"Eleven years?" repeated Shaw. "Haven't we been here longer than that?"

Letters to Editor

TO HASTINGS PEOPLE

Belleville, Dec. 31, 1924.

To the Electors and Those who are interested in the management of County Council matters,—

During the year a number of letters appeared in the Madoc paper and within the last few days a number of pamphlets containing copies of the different letters, with misleading remarks, have been mailed to some Electors in different municipalities.

The writer, as it appears, has taken the pains to go to the County Treasurer to secure some figures. I have no objections to any ratepayers calling on the County Clerk or County Treasurer to secure any information which, they feel would be of benefit to them, in regard to any matter on record, which concerns the management and expenditure of the County's money. What I do make objection to, is the writer trying to leave an impression on the General Public, that the men who represent the different municipalities at the County Council, are not inclined to do their duty justly. I, being one of the members of the County Council, and having served on the Provincial Co. Road Committees in the year 1922 on the Bridge Committee in 1923, and as chairman of County Gravel Roads for the present year. On account of my name being referred to on more than one occasion, I wish to inform the Writer that intelligent people throughout the County are not inclined to consider any statements to be of any value which are made by anyone who is ashamed to give his signature.

W. A. REID,
Reeve of Sidney.

MUCH SUFFERING

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Distress is worse in the city at present than in any previous year at this time, according to a statement issued by Finance Commissioner Ross Wednesday morning. There are at present 3,776 families receiving assistance from the House of Industry, which is the highest December peak for any year. Dring the present month, 804 new families have been placed upon the relief rolls.

Belleville Men Win at Kingston

Intermediate Cage Teams From Y.M.C.A. Secured 32-26 Victory

On New Year's afternoon the Belleville Intermediate Basket Ball team journeyed to Kingston and took the Five-Nine Club of Kingston Y.M.C.A. into camp by the score of 32-26.

The game was very fast and the first period was a very close checking twenty minutes with Belleville first taking the lead. The score ran along even until Kingston broke a ten to ten deadlock which had existed for nearly five minutes and were leading at the end of the first period 15 to 10.

Things looked dark for the Quinte boys until the second period got nicely started and then visitors came through with the necessary punch and not only pulled down the lead but went ahead a few points. The game was a hard fought battle until, with one minute and a half to go Russell Cole, a Belleville forward, had his shoulder knocked out of joint as the result of an accident. Medical aid was readily given and the injured player was able to rest quite comfortably in a short time. Belleville was leading at this stage of the game by two points and were able to hold this lead and also add four points more before the final whistle. Final score 32-26.

Both teams gave all they had and played good ball from start to finish. The visitors were well entertained by the Five-Nine Club after the game and all the members of the Belleville team enjoyed the trip very much.

The following is a line up of the teams and the points made by each player.

Kingston — Forwards Smith (3) Brunke (6) Centre Hewgill (9) Graves, Defence, Lawrence (7) Harper Kendirch (1) Rired.

Belleville — Forwards Hurley (11) Cole (4) Herity, Centre, Armstrong (8) Defence, Harris, Weir (9).

Referee—Dawes of K. C. I.; Umpire, Sanders, of Kingston Y.M.C.A.

Montreal—Five firemen hurt when fighting $150,000 blaze at St. Hyacinthe.

ARE SENDING OUT VETERANS' BONUS

Washington, Jan. 2—Approximately 600,000 adjuster service certificates, representing $750,000,000 as part of the bonus voted for World War veterans by Congress, were placed in the mail at midnight to-night by the Veterans Bureau.

Promptly as the new year began more than 250 sacks of mail were moved from the bureau to the railway station. Under the law the certificates were not to be issued before Jan. 1.

By arrangement with the Post office department a postal branch was established at the bureau, and as each certificate was completed it was addressed, stamped and the stamp cancelled ready for the train.

Thirty thousand cheques for amounts of $50 or less, representing the cash payment for soldiers who served only a short period, have been prepared at the bureau, but these, under the law, are not to be mailed out until March 1.

PACKARD MOTOR CAR DROPPED IN PRICE

Detroit, Mich. Jan. 2.—The Packard motor car company has thrown a bomb into the automobile industry with the announcement of one of the most drastic cuts in prices made on any automobile in years. Reductions which affect all enclosed models of the Packards six bring them down to the same prices as those on the open cars. Reductions run from $540 to $840. Officers of the company said the reduction has been made in the midst of one of the most prosperous years in the company's history and with prospects ahead for a big year for the entire industry, because it was believed that the action would result in a big increase in distribution which would fully justify it.

350 REMBRANDTS ARE DISCOVERED

London, Jan. 2—An unusual collection of some 350 Remembrandt etchings which had been hidden from the art public library for nearly a century, has been brought forward for public sale in the near future.

There is said to be no doubt about the genuineness of the etchings, and no one ventures an opinion on their probable value. The forthcoming sale it is declared, is without precedent in living memory.

The collection was formed early in the 19th century by Edward Rudge, a Middlesex magistrate, a member of a family which dates back to Queen Elizabeth's reign.

CHICAGO MARKET

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Influenced by European reports that Argentine wheat is being held at higher prices than wheat from United States, wheat market here took fresh upturn early today, but then heavy selling developed and sharp decline ensued. An advance in Liverpool quotations helped to life Chicago prices at start. It was said that considering differences in exchange rates. Liverpool market was at highest point yet for 1924 crop. Chicago opening prices which varied from ¼ cent to 1 5-8 cent higher and July $1.55 to $1.55½ were followed by set back which in some cases went about three cents under initial top prices. Mild weather tended to ease dow ncor nand oats. After opening unchanged to 3-8 cent higher, corn market underwent decided sag all around. Oats started at ¼ to 5-8 cent advance, but later showed losses of material extent. In absence of any aggressive selling, provision market averaged higher.

Belleville Men Win at Kingston

Intermediate Cage Teams From Y.M.C.A. Secured 32-26 Victory

On New Year's afternoon the Belleville Intermediate Basket Ball team journeyed to Kingston and took the Five-Nine Club of Kingston Y.M.C.A. into camp by the score of 32-26.

The game was very fast and the first period was a very close checking twenty minutes with Belleville first taking the lead. The score ran along even until Kingston broke a ten to ten deadlock which had existed for nearly five minutes and were leading at the end of the first period 15 to 10.

Things looked dark for the Quinte boys until the second period got nicely started and then visitors came through with the necessary punch and not only pulled down the lead but went ahead a few points. The game was a hard fought battle until, with one minute and a half to go Russell Cole, a Belleville forward, had his shoulder knocked out of joint as the result of an accident. Medical aid was readily given and the injured player was able to rest quite comfortably in a short time. Belleville was leading at this stage of the game by two points and were able to hold this lead and also add four points more before the final whistle. Final score 32-26.

Both teams gave all they had and played good ball from start to finish. The visitors were well entertained by the Five-Nine Club after the game and all the members of the Belleville team enjoyed the trip very much.

The following is a line up of the teams and the points made by each player.

Kingston — Forwards Smith (3) Brunke (6) Centre Hewgill (9) Graves. Defence, Lawrence (7) Harper Kendirch (1) Rired.

Belleville — Forwards Hurley (11) Cole (4) Herity. Centre, Armstrong (8) Defence, Harris, Weir (9).

Referee—Dawes of K. C. I.; Umpire, Sanders, of Kingston Y.M.C.A.

Montreal—Five firemen hurt when fighting $150,000 blaze at St. Hyacinthe.

ARE SENDING OUT VETERANS' BONUS

Washington, Jan. 2—Approximately 600,000 adjuster service certificates, representing $750,000,000 as part of the bonus voted for World War veterans by Congress were placed in the mail at midnight to-night by the Veterans Bureau.

Promptly as the new year began more than 250 sacks of mail were moved from the bureau to the railway station. Under the law the certificates were not to be issued before Jan. 1.

By arrangement with the Post office department a postal branch was established at the bureau, and as each certificate was completed it was addressed, stamped and the stamp cancelled ready for the train.

Thirty thousand cheques for amounts of $50 or less, representing the cash payment for soldiers who served only a short period, have been prepared at the bureau, but these, under the law, are not to be mailed out until March 1.

PACKARD MOTOR CAR DROPPED IN PRICE

Detroit, Mich. Jan. 2.—The Packard motor car company has thrown a bomb into the automobile industry with the announcement of one of the most drastic cuts in prices made on any automobile in years. Reductions which affect all enclosed models of the Packards six bring them down to the same prices as those on the open cars. Reductions run from $540 to $840. Officers of the company said the reduction has been made in the midst of one of the most prosperous years in the company's history and with prospects ahead for a big year for the entire industry, because it was believed that the action would result in a big increase in distribution which would fully justify it.

350 REMBRANDTS ARE DISCOVERED

London, Jan. 2—An unusual collection of some 350 Remembrandt etchings which had been hidden from the art public library for nearly a century, has been brought forward for public sale in the near future.

There is said to be no doubt about the genuineness of the etchings, and no one ventures an opinion on their probable value. The forthcoming sale it is declared, is without precedent in living memory.

ARE WOMEN 100 PER CENT. EFFICIENT

How many women do you know who are one hundred per cent efficient? That means every nerve and sinew of the body pulsating with life and health as nature intended. Do you not know more who are half dead and half alive with aches, pains, nervous, irritable and despondent, making themselves miserable and every one around them? Women in this condition should let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rebuild and restore them to a normal healthy condition which will make them one hundred per cent efficient and life worth living. There are women in every section of this country who testify to its merits.

Campbellford Plays Locals Here Tonight

Junior O.H.A. Opening at Arena at Eight O'Clock

Junior O.H.A. opening here occurs this evening at eight o'clock, when Campbellford and Belleville lock horns at the Turnbull Street arena.

Campbellford, Trenton, Picton and Belleville are grouped together this season in junior hockey and interesting games are anticipated. Already the Campbellford sextette has met Hastings in exhibition games which produced snappy hockey and tonight's opener should mean much excitement for players and fans alike. Campbellford is a new team in the grouping this season, and fans will doubtless be anxious to give their boys the once over for comers.

Burt is slated as referee and this afternoon Manager Ed Thomas stated that his line-up would be chosen from the following list of players who have turned out.

"Piper" Latchford will be in goal and the other players in uniform will be Strachan, Maracle Gaulin, Hibbart, Townsend, Rourke, Smith, Canning, Buskard, St. Denis and Matthews.

Kingston Intermediates will play here Monday evening next.

ARE REACHING END OF BOWLING CONTEST

Another round in the elimination tournament was played at the Recreation Alleys yesterday afternoon and evening with the following winners:

Mrs Thomas and W. Walshe eliminated Miss H. Boyle and J. Yerex; Miss Goyer and J. Alexander eliminated Mrs. Bottum and C. Cornell; and Mrs. F. Domenico and L. Barrett put out Mrs. Benford and M. Campbell. Tonight will very likely see the wind-up of this tournament.

Called at Cobourg on January 13; New Rule Marked

Oshawa, Jan. 2—The officers and executive of the Central Ontario Amateur Baseball League extend the greeting that the year 1925 will be a prosperous and happy one to all baseball fans throughout Belleville and Eastern Ontario and announce that a meeting of representatives from Kingston, Belleville, Peterboro Cobourg, Port Hope and Oshawa will be held in the Dunham House, Cobourg, on Tuesday, January 13, the morning session to begin at 10.30 at which the baseball situation in the towns will be considered and organization for the coming season completed.

A new rule in the constitution of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, provides that any player who has moved his place of residence since August first, last shall personally notify J. Walsh, 91 Quebec Ave., Toronto, Secretary of the O.B.A.A., of such change in residence, stating the place of former residence, club last made. Such notification is to be in the secretary's hands at Toronto before February 1. This must be done personally by each and every player who has come into the different towns of the league, and Secretary Nott issues a warning to clubs to see that the same is complied with and save further trouble, if said player is to play in 1925.

BOSTON MUST BE GETTING USED TO IT

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—The Boston pros made their first local appearance here Wednesday night, and were given a 5 to 2 trimming by the Senators. A small crowd attended. The locals were never in danger of being overhauled after Dennenay's two goals had sent them away to a flying start in the first period, and their attack netted them a total of five goals only, mainly through the brilliant work of Charlie Stewart in the net. The Boston goaler turned in a sensational game.

For two periods, except for a flash at the opening of the second, Ottawa carried the attack to the visitors determinedly, and had a big advantage.

The Ottawa attack smothered the visitores' front rank, but the Boston rearguard stood up well under the constant pressure. Stuart, in particular played well. Herberts was valuable at all times, and scored one goal.

Nighbor fed Dennenay a perfect pass for the opening goal. Dennenay repeated his feat near the end of the period, when he pounced on a loose puck and outguessed Stewart from close in. Herberts cut this lead in two early in the middle frame, when he took a rebound off the netting at the end of the rink and whisked it pastConnell. Smith scored the next on a smart individual play. Clancy made it four to open the final twenty, and Smith followed with another. "Red" Stewart concluded the scoring with the classiest individual play of the night when he skated from end to end to tally.

Stewart was the most prominent player on the ice. Stuart, Herberts, Sparrow and Mitchell were also much in the lime light.

"Hooley" Smith was Ottawa's best man. He worked tirelessly, scored two goals and did an immense amount of back-checking. Dennenay, Clancy and Nighbor were also good. Boucher played a careful defense game, while Connell's exhibition in the net was all that could be asked.

The Boston players received a total of six minor penalties, while Ottawa got two.

Boston—Goal, Dr. Stewart; defense, R. Stewart and Herberts; centre, Jackson; wings, Mitchell and Skinner; subs, Sparrow, Headley, Redding, Carroll, Schnarr.

Ottawa — Goal, Connell; defense, Boucher and Clancy; centre, Nighbor; wings, Dennenay and Smith; subs, Hitchman, Finnegan, German, Campbell.

Referee—Dr. Jerry Laflamme, Toronto.

Kingston's Team Showing up Well

Railbirds Surprised by speed At Practice on Tuesday

Kingston, Jan. 2.—Kingston Intermediate held their best practice so far at the Harty Arena Tuesday evening when almost twenty players were on hand, and they went at it hammer and tongs for an hour.

Prof. Gelley, of the R.M.C., handled the players from the ice, and he sent the squad through a stiff workout. Rogers of R.M.C. was in one net, and Brooks, the classy little Live Wires net guardian, held down the other. Rogers had Devlin and Tom Angrove as defence to start while the forward line saw Joe Smith and Terry Millan on the wings and Clarence Gibson at centre. The other team wasn't any weaker, having Watts, and Murray on defence, and Lindsay of Queen's at centre, with "Buzz" Lanos and Dougall on the wings. Later on Rooney of R.M.C. put in an appearance, and with Purdy, worked on the defence. Lawless of Regiopolis, Lawlor of Live Wires, and Vern Johnston of Queen's were also on the job.

The players set a terrific pace all through the practice, and played together well, under the watchful eye of Prof. Gelley, while Bill Hughes was also on the scene and gave valuable assistance. Both Brooks and Rogers played sensationally in the nets, while the work of the defence players was a revelation. Devlin showed marked improvement and broke up many a rush effectively, while Watts' rushing was good. Rooney and Murray also showed up well.

The Smith-Gibson-Millan forward line looked mighty sweet last night. Smith seems to be in for his best year, while Millan's deadly shot is just as sure as ever. Gibson looked good at centre and should be hard to beat out of the regular position. Lindsay, however, was one of the hardest workers on the team, and Lawless uncorked speed that opened the eyes of the rail-birds.

St. Pats. Took one From Montreal

Much Excitement Piled Into Last Period on Wednesday

Montreal, Jan. 2.—St. Patrick's of Toronto evened their debt with Montreal here Wednesday when they captured the scheduled National Hockey League fixture at the new Forum by 2 to 1. All the excitement of the game was packed into the last period. Montreal scored in the first stanza, St. Patrick's replying with two counters in the second.

One goal behind in the final session, Montreal kept up a steady bombardment on Roach. Two melees occurred in the St. Patrick's net as Montreal forwards shot and rushed Roach before he could clear. Then players piled on Roach and hid the puck in true football style, but the St. Patrick's squad kept their goal safe and held to their one-goal margin.

Early in the First Period

"Babe" Dye started an exciting scramble around Montreal's net without material result, and a moment later Jack Adams missed. "Dunc" Munro evaded the entire St. Pat team, but Roach made a miraclous save of what looked like a certain goal. Montreal kept pressing, and Berlinquette got through only to have Roach cheat him of a goal. Dyye suffered similarly when Benedict made a smart play on a bullet like shot.

Adams, Dye and Day gave Benedict five busy seconds with four shots in quick succession. Both sides maintained a three-man defense, apparently awaiting the "breaks," though St. Pat's showed a more aggressive attack.

Noble Beats Roach

The "break" came fifteen minutes after the start, when Noble, who had previously been playing defensive hockey, rushed down alone, evaded the entire St. Pat's defense, drew Roach out and sent a back-handed shot into the net for the first goal of the game.

St. Patrick's opened the second period with a solid defense as Montreal attacked in the first two minutes. Adams broke away, secured the puck and circled Gerald Munro. The St. Pat's centre rushed Broadbent, who fell to the ice to keep out the tying goal.

Benedict was caught napping when Dye stole the puck and shot just to the left. The Montreal goaler stuck out his hand, but in dropping the puck to the ice allowed it to bounce into the net to deadlock the game at 1 to 1.

Four minutes from the end of the second period Jack Adams rushed down the left wing, eluded "Dutch" Cain and shot around "Dunc" Munro, St. Pat's going ahead 2—1 whe nthe puck landed just inside the goal post.

One goal up, St. Pat's relied on a five-men defense to hold their lead in the last period, and Montreal did the rushing in the first five minutes, but without gain.

Penalties Creep In

Gerald Munro drew the first penalty of the game for tripping. Corbeau went a moment later for spilling Munro. Broadbent, Noble and Berlinquette had Roach jumping, and the crowd was in an uproar. Corgeau returned before any damage was done to St. Pat's lead. Broadbent was chased for besenting "Happy" Day's method of checking. The crowd peered when Day was allowed to remain on the ice.

Half way through the third period play was faster than at any time during the game, with Montreal besieging Roach. Noble rushed, circled the net, and there was a scramble, with Montreal players trying to charge the puck past Roach. Lowrey duplicated this scrimmage when ten players heaped into St. Pat's net with only two minutes to go. Again St. Pat's held their narrow margin.

Montreal—Goal, Benedict; defense, D Munro and C. Munro; centre Nable; wings, Broadbent and Berlinquette; subs Lowrey, Dinsmore, Rotschild, Cain, Parkes and Scott.

St. Patrick's—Goal, Roach; defense, Corbea and Holway; centre, Adams; wings, Day and Dye; subs. McCaffrey, Reid and Fisher.

Referee—Dr. O'Leary, Ottawa.

Peterboro Took First O.H.A. Game

Won From Aura Lee by Very Narrow Margin

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Peterboro made its debut in senior O. H. A. hockey at the Arena last night and scored a 3—2 victory over Aura Lee. It was the Pete's sixth straight victory this season, four wins in the S. P. A. series, and the other an exhibition affair with the same team they defeated last night. What proved the winning goal came in the second period on a long, lazy lift from the side by Collins, Moore misjudging the puck and it flopped into the net. That rather lucky score evened up for the one by Frankie Burke in the same period, the Aura Lee right-winger passing out from the corner the puck hitting Joe Dwyer's skate and sliding into the cage. The game was good in spots and was witnessed by only a fair crowd.

There was little to choose between the two teams, but had Aura Lee played as well in the first two periods as they did in the last they would probably have won. During the first twenty minutes neither team showed very much, the players failing to hold their positions and bunching badly. And the shooting was poor. Peterboro came to life in the second period and showed some system to their play, combining well and beating the Aura Lee defence cold repeatedly. That they did not dun up a big lead was due to the splendid stopping by Alt. Moore, who turned aside shots from all angles. Aura Lee forwards did not drop back after a rush, leaving Jack Cain and Walkem with very little protection, and they were rather helpless before the two and three play attacks as engineered by Peterboro's clever stickhandlers.

Aura Lee's Best Period

But it was a different Aura Lee team in the last period and had Bill Marsden's players been able to do any real shooting they might have beat Dwyer for a goal or two. As it was, they kept the veteran and his baseball glove very busy. Peterboro was on the defensive during the entire twenty minutes, being pretty well bottled up. The Petes always had to face a six-man defence when they rushed. Aura Lee players dropping back very fast after an attack, with the result that Peterboro was seldom able to break through for close in-shots. And the long drives were easy for Moore.

But Peterboro also played different hockey in this period. They never had less than three men back on the defence, and their rushes were always of the individual kind. They may have gone out with the instructions to be satisfied with their one-goal lead and to hold it, and then the reason for their play may have been Aura Lee forcing the pace so strongly that the S. P. A. champions could not get going. On the night's play Aura Lee appeared just as good as the winners.

Aura Lee—Goal, Moore; defence, J. Cain and Walkem; centre, Shaw; wings, F. Burke and Bond; subs., Clayton and Morris.

Peterboro—Goal, Dwyer; defence, McLeod and Parker; centre, Collins; wings, Bailey and Ranger; subs., Rose and Burgess.

Referee—M. J. Rodden.

Fiery, Itchy Skin Soothed With Sulphur

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN: SERIAL: THEATRE

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

"That I am wasting my sweetness on the desert air. Just so. I often feel it; but once having got lost in the desert, it's rather difficult to find one's way out, you see. Have I no ambition?" The black eyes flashed, and the clear olive tint of his complexion grew warm. "Of course I have! What do you take me for—a mule, a packhorse? Why, man, I never see a well-dressed man of my own age but I envy him his clothes; I never lean over the railings in the park and watch the fellows riding by but I envy them their horses and their acquaintance with the pretty girls—the daughters and wives of swell people; I never pass a good club but I feel that I'd give ten years of my life to be a member and one of the class to which it belongs. Do you think I live in this stifling den from choice? Do you think I dine on a sixpenny plate of meat, and drink porter, sit in the gallery of a theatre, and wear old clothes because I like doing it?"

He drew himself up to his full height, and flashed down upon his observant listener for a second, then relapsed into his old lounging attitude and laughed musically.

"Why do you come here with your Arabian Nights' kind of speeches and stir me up! Bah, it's too hot for such mental exercise," and he sank into a chair and folded his hands behind his head. "No, Churchill, I am in the desert, and there I shall stick."

"Unless some friendly guide extends a helping hand and leads you out," said the philanthropist. "I can quite understand your feelings, my dear Percy, and I must say they are very natural ones. You are, without flattery, formed by nature to adorn a higher sphere than your present one. I don't think any of the young fellows you envy could do greater credit to their wealth and position than you could do. Seriously, I think you were cut out for better things than teaching the piano to the daughters of the inhabitans of Soho and its neighborhood."

"No doubt. I was intended for the heldest son of a hearl," said Percy, sarcastically, "but there happens to be a hitch somewhere."

"And suppose I tell you that I can undo that hitch, that I can give you a helping hand to better and higher things; in short, to repeat myself, to make your fortune. Think of it, my dear Percy. Plenty of money, the entrance to good society, horses to ride, club doors thrown open to you, choicest of wines, men of rank for friends, an da world ready to welcome with outstretched hands good-looking and accomplished Mr. Percy Levant!"

The young fellow regarded him with the same incredulous smile, but there was a light of subdued eagerness in his eyes, and a warmer color in his face.

"You ought to go into the house, Churchill," he said. "I don't mean the workhouse but the House of Commons. I suppose you learn all this kind of thing at your charitable public meetings? I'll come and hear some of these days; they tell me you make uncommonly good speeches. Well, go on. How is this fortune of mine to be made, and—excuse my bluntness—why are you so anxious to make it?"

"A very natural question, my dear Percy, and, believe me, I am not at all annoyed by it. I intend to be perfectly frank and open-minded with you—"

Percy Levant smiled, and got another cigar.

"I beg our pardon, Churchill, but the idea of your being frank rather tickled me. The spasm has passed, however; proceed. Is it a new gold mine you are going to ask me to become a director of? Or have you invented a new washing machine, and want me to travel for it? What is it?"

"It has always seemed so strange to me," resumed Mr. Spencer Churchill, ignoring the interruption, "that you have never turned your attention to matrimony."

The young fellow stared at him, then laughed sarcastically.

"You think that the palatial dimensions of this room are too large for one individual; that I should be more comfortable if I shared my sixpenny plate of meat and threadbare wardrobe with another? My dear Churchill, you might as well ask a limping, footsore tramp why he doesn't turn his attention to riding in a carriage and pair! Matrimony! Good Lord! I am not quite out of my mind!"

"But your wife need not be poor, my dear Percy. She may be rich in this world's goods——"

"Oh, yes, I didn't think of that; and you suggest that there are hundreds of wealthy heiresses who are dying to become Mrs. Percy Levant; perishing with the desire to bestow their hands and fortunes on the music teacher of Soho!"

"You would not be the first man who has married money," said the philanthropist, smoothly. "But let me be more explicit, my dear Percy. By one of those strange chances, which are indeed providential, I happen to be acquainted with a young lady who would, in all respects, make you a most suitable wife."

"Really?"

"Yes," said Spencer Churchill, gravely, "the circumstances of the case are peculiar, not to say romantic. The fact is, I am that young lady's guardian, not exactly such in a legally qualified sense, but by—er—an unfortunate accident; and, as her guardian, I am naturally desirous of promoting her present and future welfare. Ah, my dear Percy, how sacred a trust one undertakes when one accepts the care of a young and innocent girl!" and he looked up at the ceiling with a devout sigh.

Percy Levant smiled with mingled mockery and amusement.

"Very nice sentiments," he said. "But go on. And this is the young lady you have in your eye for me, is it?"

The philanthropist nodded gravely.

"I confess it, my dear Percy. I have considered the question in all its numerous bearings, and I am convinced that I shall be promoting both her future welfare and yours by—er—bringing you together."

Percy Levant stared at him.

"This grows serious," he said. "And may I ask if this young lady is 'rich in this world's good,' as you so beautifully put it?"

Woman on Jury Real Good Picture

Cast of Stars Produce One Of Year's Best

A poignant portraiture of a woman's soul is on view at the Griffin Theatre, where First National's "The Woman on the Jury," which was directed by Harry O. Hoyt from Bernard K. Burns' famous play, is the feature. The cast headed by Sylvia Breamer, includes Frank Mayo, Bessie Love, Lew Cody, Mary Carr, Hobart Bosworth, Myrtle Stedman, Henry B. Walthall, Roy Stewart, Jean Hersholt, Ford Sterling, Arthur Lubin, Arthur Stuart Hull, Fred Warren, J. Edward Davis and Leo White.

George Wayne (Lew Cody) gloried in his reputation as a "cheater of women." One of his first victims was Betty Brown, who innocently believed his promises of marriage until he dissolved her dream by handing her a revolver when she threatened to end her life if be left her.

Several years later little Grace Pierce, whose creed was to "play the game on the level," also fell into the clutches of the fascinating Wayne. The latter, finally tiring of her, used the same method of breaking off their relations. But this time there was a different ending to the story, and Grace found herself on trial for her life.

Then came the testing period, and the souls of the two women were bared to the world before justice triumphed. The one, happily married, sacrificed her all that the other might be saved.

It is seldom that a picture has possessed such a gripping and thrilling plot, and it is not surprising that "The Woman on the Jury" is being acclaimed one of the greatest photoplays ever filmed.

Mr. Fred Hare, Grafton, was groomsman. Mrs. Reginald Roberts presided at the organ, and Mr. Naylor and Mr. Harry Pratt were the ushers. After the wedding luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden left to spend their honeymoon in Toronto before going to Dallton Mills. The grooom was formerly in charge of the Parish of St. George's Church, Grafton, and St. John's Church, Centreton.

At a sub-committee session of the international opium conference at Geneva, Switzerland, the Persian delegation expressed anew its desire gradually to suppress the opium traffic in that country. Alfred Sze, of China, emphatically approved the Persian stand and stated that the Government at Pekin had instructed him to support any country in its efforts to reduce the use of opium.

Never Worked so Hard in Lifetime

Tom Mix Had Strenuous Time Filming Belle Picture

When Lambert Hillyer director of "Mile-A-Minute Romeo," Tom Mix's new William Fox production, completed one of its most strenuous scenes he sighed deeply and compared it to Napoleon's retreat from Moscow. The comparison was apt and Tom Mix, who will be seen in this particular production at the Belle Theatre was in the same condition of fatigue as Napoleon when it was all over.

Briefly, it consisted of a cross-country flight, over hill and dale, river and lake, field and marsh. It was wild, hectic and highly enervating.

Mix rode on the back of a harnessed horse. The horse was pulling a two wheeled racing vehicle on whose seat was another player in the cast. The trio, Mix, the cameraman and the extra player, all experienced to the arduosities of making motion pictures, emphatically declared that they never worked so hard in their lives.

The evening was brought to a close by the National Anthem.

To-night the installing staff will visit Frankford.

District News

Killed Flying Squirrel

Peterboro, Jan. 2—Herbert Foster, of Monaghan township secured a fine specimens of that rare and beautiful creature the mouse-colored flat-tailed flying squirrel. Foster found it in his cellar busy with the contents of a barrel of apples. For lack of a better projectile, he flung an apple which by chance or luck, or, for the squirrel, bad luck, hit it on the head The squirrel has integument stretching from front to hind paws like the skin of a bat's wing. Gus Sawer, the veteran local deer hunter, is having the squirrel mounted as the best of only two flying ssuirrels he has seen during forty years' annual outings in the north country.

Slack at Shops

Lindsay Jan. 2—There has been a decided slump ingrain hauling operations on the local division of the C.N R. and as a result quite a number of the railway employees have been out of work. This has had a serious effect locally, as a slumn in the railway payroll means much to the merchants, who, this year, state that Christmas business was not up to former years.

Rather Cold

Apsley, Jan. 2.—Thirty-one degrees below zero was registered here on Sunday morning, and twenty-nine below a week ago Sunday, two low figures for December. As a consequence of the severe cold the swamps are in good shape for getting out timber, and the lumber camps are in full swnig. More attention is being paid to cutting hardwood for lumber, there being little or no market for soft woods such as hemlock, spruce and balsam, while maples command a good price.

Inspector Retires

Lindsay, Jan. 2.—The retirement of License Inspector William Thornbury of Victoria and alliburton Counties has been announced here. Mr. Thornbury, who is seventy-three years of age, has been license inspector since 1905, having succeeded John Short, who afterwards became chief of police of Lindsay . Mr. Thornbury's successor, it is understood, is Mr. David Porter, of Lindsay, brother of Mr. A .T. Porter, clerk of the Surrogate Court.

Shot an Eagle

Peterboro, Jan. 2—Aubrey Clapper hot a huge eagle as it rested in a reetop, and a secosd shot brought it o the ground. Mr. Claper threw himelf on the struggling bird, gripping it the neck and being tossed on the round by the fury of its death strug. Finally, thinking it dead, he start d homeward, but was again plunged nto a struggle when the eagle renew its fight.

While Claper was being thrown around on the road, help arrived, and two other men managed to hold the bird till it ceased to give battle. It The captor will have the eagle measured 36 inches to tail. 90 inches from tip to tip of its wings, and weighed 14 pounds. mounted as a trophy.

Masonic Officers Chosen

At a regular meeting of Maple Leaf Lodge, A.F. & A.M., No. 119, G.R.C. at the lodge room, Bath, on Saturday Dec. 27th, the following officers were installed: D. R. Sharpe, W.M.; G. W. Cuppage, I.P.M.; M. H. Mellon, S. W.; C. B. Collupy, J.W.; Robert Mott, chaplain; Max Robinson, treasurer; F. G. Young, secretary; Wm. Pirrell, S.D.; J. S. Weese, J.D.; W. Thompson, D. of C.; M. Creighton, S.S.; D. F. Aylsworth, J.S.; R. Sexmith, I.G.; M. Thomson, Tyler.

Plaintiff Recovered

A case of more than local interest was brought by J. E. Cooney, who resides near Grafton, against the owner of a truck, which the owner loaned to a man named Hart to move some of his household effects from Havelock to Cobourg. It is alleged that a bedstead was sticking out on the load, and in passing damaged the top of Mr. Cooney's automobile. The plaintiff sued for $50 and was allowed $32.70.

A Shooting Competition

Despite the cold and unpleasant day there was a good attendance at the shooting competition on Thursday Prince Edward county. Everything was done to help those taking part, and for their comfort, a tent was erected and lunch served. Harvey Graham, Swamp College, won the big prize turkey of fifteen pounds and Carl Bryant the big goose of similar weight, while, others were quite satisfied with fowls of less proportions.

A Veteran Lady Dies

An aged resident of Ameliasburg township in the person of Mrs. Abigail Eaton passed away on Christmas at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. Osborne, Massassaga. Deceased was born in Prince Edward county in 1837 being thus eighty-seven years of age. She was a daughter of the late William Way.

Ladies' Shooting Match

On Friday afternoon a ladies' shooting match took place at Tweed. Owing to the snowstorm and darkness, only one goose was shot off. Mrs. Harry Corbett had the honor of getting the goose.

Holds a Record

Frankford, Jan. 2 — William D. Ketcheson, who has been Collector of Taxes for the Trent River village for some years, has returned the completed 1924 tax roll without a dollar unpaid. The best part of it is that this year's collection was made without the levy of one cent of costs on any of the village taxpayers. Mr. Ketcheson has a record for perfect collections.

Four Boys Charged

Port Hope, Jan. 2.—Four local boys: Luke Micks, Chas. F. Jackson, Gerald Henderson, and Percy Chesterton, appeared before Magistrate Campbell Wednesday morning charged with breaking into the "Bluestone," the residence of Mr. Creighton Withers, King Street, and committing burglary on Dec. 27th or 28th.

The courtroom was crowded, but Magistrate Campbell did not question the boys as to whether they were guilty or not on request of Mr. Archie Cochrane, who appeared for the Crown, all four boys were remanded until January the 8th at 10 a.m., and were taken to the counties jail at Cobourg by Chief Murphy and Provincial Constable W. Cousans, where they will remain in custody until the time of their trial.

Watch Theft Charged

Oshawa, Jan. 2.—Accused of stealing the wrist watch of his hostess, at whose home he was spending the Christmas holidays, William Vining of Toronto, was arested by Constable Taylor of Whitby late Tuesday night. The accused was spending Christmas week at the home and a couple of days after his arrival, Mrs. Wilson missed her wrist watch.

Vining, at first, denied having the watch but it was found on his person by Constable Taylor. He is now lodged in the County Jail at Whitby.

A Thought for the New Year

IF the dollars for which you have worked during the past twelve months have slipped through your fingers, and you have failed to increase your income, it would be well for you to give thought for the future as the New Year begins.

Everyone who earns money and is thrifty enough to accumulate it, can increase his income steadily and surely by investing in high-grade Bonds.

You should therefore resolve to invest regularly a part of your savings during the coming year, bearing in mind that the character of the investment house in which you place your confidence is of primary importance.

CREAM FOR CATARRH OPENS UP NOSTRILS

Tells How To Get Quick Relief from Head-Colds. It's Splendid!

In one minute your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh will be gone.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little o fthis fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Relief comes so quickly.

ACIDS MAKE KIDNEYS HURT

DRINK WATER FREELY AND OFTEN, AND IF BLADDER BOTHERS TAKE SALTS

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a table spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

TENANTS IN LONDON MUST GO WITHOUT

London, Jan. 2.—Despite the rapid modernization of London, the great metropolis is not to have the advantage, most desirable in a climate as uncertain as that of London, of central steam heating in its new houses now being erected by the London County Council for middle-class tenants.

The housing committee of the council recently reported that, in view of the present legal restrictions, the cost of such heating installation would be prohibitive.

ONE IS KILLED ANOTHER HURT THIS MORNING

Miss Jessie Anderson, Albert Street, Was the Victim

TEAM RAN AWAY

Struck Shopper in Front of McIntosh Department Store

Miss Jessie Anderson, 257 Albert street, was instantly killed and Mrs. John Hough of Sidney Township was knocked down at eleven o'clock this morning when a runaway team of horses bolted into the south window of McIntosh Brothers departmental store.

Miss Anderson was looking through the window at goods displayed there when the horses, hit her. They commenced to run away from their driver and owner W. C. Potter of the Front of Sidney, just before they reached the corner of Victoria avenue and Front street.

Mrs. Potter was riding in the seat of the light sleigh with her husband at the time of the accident.

When the neck yoke broke, and and Potter lost control of the horses, they swerved into the window with great force smashing the plate glass window and th eframework of the window. Miss Anderson who was pinned between the horses and the window was thrown to the sidewalk with great force. It is believed that the tongue of the sleigh penetrated her head. Her head was badly crushed at all events and she died in a few minutes. The body was removed to Tickell and Sons mortuary.

Mrs. Hough was treated by Dr. G. H. Stobie and Dr. W. W. Boyce who dressed an ugly scalp wound and had her removed to the General hospital in the police ambulance, which was on the scene of the accident in short order.

Occupants Unhurt

Mr. and Mrs Potter, who were thrown from the sleigh when the crash came, were not hurt, and were able to tell the Intelligencer about the accident though they were naturally nervous and suffering some from shock.

"I noticed the horses becoming unmanageable at Victoria Avenue corner", he explained, "but I do not know exactly what it was that scared them. It may have been an auto or a horn.

Potter tugged on the reins and shouted to the horses to stop but, they became more utterly unmanageable and increased their speed. Two small boys who were bob riding, wisely jumped off in front of the Intelligencer office, were rolled in the snow, but not hurt. One boy picked up his hat but left his scarf on the roadway in his excitement. One boy was pulling a hand sleigh behind the farmer's sleigh, which was a light sleigh with box and one seat.

The sleigh was not damaged save for the broken tongue and neck yoke. The horses were not badly injured, and were quickly unhitched from the sleigh and taken to stables.

Coroner W. W. Boyce ordered an inquest for four o'clock this afternoon.

INSTALLATION HELD IN BELLEVILLE LODGE

Installation of Officers of The Belleville Lodge No. 123 G.R.C., A.F. & A.M., took place in the Masonic Temple, Front street. The installing officer was Rt. Wor. Bro. H. J. Clarke, B.A., who was ably assisted by M. Wor. Bro. Col. Ponton, Rt. Wor. Bro. Adams, Rt. Wor. Bro. Backus, V. Wor. Bro. McGie, V. Wor. Bro. Barragar, V. Wor Bro. McCrudden and others.

After the business of the evening the brethren enjoyed a banquet and the toast list was presided over by Rt. Wor. Bro. W. O. Adams, who handled this with his customary skill. Toasts to the Grand Lodge and Grand Lodge Officers was proposed by Rt. Wor. Bro. Backus and responded to by M. W. Bro. W. N. Ponton. Our installating Master proposed by V. W. Bro. Barragar, responded to by Rt. Wor. Bro. H. J. Clarke. The visiting Brethren proposed by V. Wor. Bro. McGie, responded to by W. Bro. A. E. Barlow, V. W. Bro. Herity and others.

Newly installed officers proposed by W. Bro. J.O.R. McCurdy, responded to by W. Bro. J.B. Boyce, C.A.W. Thompson and V. Graves. During the evening the Brethren were delighted with songs from Bro. A. F. Stillman, Rev. N. S. McKechnie, Bro. J. A. Thompson and Bro. S. Burrows.

"Millionaire Orphan" and Former Fiancee. The second chapter in the story of William McClintock,, "millionaire orphan," is now being written in Chicago, where an investigation is in progress into the circumstances surrounding the death of the 24 year old youth on Dec. 4. Shortly before that date he had inherited a fortune valued at $2,000,000 and reputed to have brought ill luck and early death to its every possessor. His will left this estate to his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Shepherd, making provision, however, for a life annuity of $8,000 for his fiancee, Miss Isabelle Pope, who is also shown above.

Emmanuel School Annual Is Held

Varied and Interesting Program Given by Scholars Last Night

Emmanuel Sunday School annual prize distribution and Christmas tree, took place in the school on Friday, the 2nd. In the absence of the rector, Mr. Geo. Naylor presided and proved himself a genial and capable chairman. The program was a varied and interesting one, entirely provided by the scholars who had been carefully trained to their parts by their respective teachers. Several pieces, and a pantomine splendidlyrendered, had been prepared by Mrs. Naylor, who with Miss I. Folwell, "the pianist", won great praise. A large platform had been erected for the occasion in front o fwhich was a Christmas tree, laden with good things. The program concluded, upwards of one hundred and twenty prizes were awarded, each scholar also received, on leaving, bags of candies and oranges. A capacity audience was delighted with the following items:

Mr. Canniff, retiring from service, was made the recipient of a purse of gold, and Mrs. Canniff was presented with a bouquet of American beauty roses. Mr. Canniff was born in Belleville in 1852. He was one of the originals of the 90th Battalion, Winnipeg ("The Little Black Devils"), and served in the Northwest Rebellion, where he was badly wounded. He is [illegible] eldest son of the late Dr. C[illegible] who was the first medical h[illegible]cer of Toronto.

Thrown From Car, Both Legs Broken

Car Driven by Dr. J. A. Faulkner Collided With Truck

Arthur Hill, official at the Dominion Fish Hatcheries, Kingston Road, who lives at 123 Foster avenue, lies in the General hospital here today suffering great pain from fractures of both legs, sustained Friday evening about five o'clock on the Kingston Road as he walked home from work.

Mr. Hill was walking westwards towards his home, when a truck owned by the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario, and driven by Edward E. Timmerman, 11 Alexander street, drew up at the right side of the highway, the driver asking him to jump on and have a ride. Mr. Hill was just mounting the truck when an auto driven by Dr. J. A. Faulkner 101 Bridge street east struck the rear of the truck, throwing him to the roadway and underneath the car.

When the unfortunate man was examined, it was found that one leg was fractured above the knee and the other leg fractured between the knee and ankle. He was removed to the hospital, and is reported today as being in great pain and also suffering from shock.

Twenty Men After The One Position

Time Extended For Application for Sanitary Inspector's Job

At the meeting of the members of the 1925 City Council held last evening, it was decided to extend the time for receiving applications for the position of Sanitary Inspector until noon of Thursday next. This was considered necessary owing to an error in the advertisement. It was also decided to request the members of the Board of Health to make some selections from the number of applicants and present them at a special meeting of the Council to be held on Thursday evening next the 8th inst. Those who have already made application and in their application stated the salary expected will have to apply again. It is held that it is contrary to the statute to ask applicants to state salary expected.

Up to last evening some twenty had applied for the position.

FLAMES CLAIM NINE VICTIMS AT MONTREAL

Three Others Were Seriously Injured During Last Night

MOST ARE CHILDREN

Parents Left Four Youngsters Alone; All Found Dead

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, Jan. 3—Nine lives were lost and three persons suffered serious injuries in two fires which broke out at 3 o'clock this morning, one in a tenement building in St. Agathe Lane and the second in a one storey wooden house in a field at Montee St. Michael, Montreal North. No cause is ascribed for city blaze, but an over heated stove caused the fire in the suburbs.

The downtown fire took as its toll one woman and five children, while three other occupants of the house suffered serious injuries by jumping from second storey windows. In Montreal north a boy and two girls were fire victims. After the firemen had subdued the flames in the tenement, they entered and found six victims of the blaze lying on the floor, tables and chairs. The dead are Rene Thouin aged 12 Ronco Thouin, aged 3, Cecile Thouin aged 9, Emalienne Thouin aged 6, a Greek woman, name unknown, who lived on the third floor and Lionel Brault aged 6, second floor The injured, now in a Montreal hospital, are L. Brault, aged 6, Osias Brault, aged forty years, Mrs. A. Gauthier aged 50. They suffered fractured legs and severe internal injuries in jumping from windows.

Members of the families were asleep when the fire broke out and flames swept through both dwellings 11 and 13 St. Agathe Lane so swiftly that occupants were unable to escape. When the flames were noticed by a passerby they were already shooting through windows.

Seized Children

It was at the commencement of the outbreak that Osias Brault, who lived with his brother, was injured. When Brault awoke and saw flames he seized one of children and went to window with him, assisted Mrs. Gauthier to window also and the three jumped before the firemen had raised ladders. Lionel Brault was found near is bed and his body was badly burned All others died of asphyxiation. He four of victims were children of Xavier Thouin.

In Montreal north two girls, Freda Nowell, aged 10, and sister Helen, aged 11, daughters of Mrs. F. Nowell of Montreal and boy, Peter Taylor, aged 9, son of A. L. Taylor, perished in their beds when fire swept the home of A. L. Taylor on Cobourg St. Children were alone in house, parents being absent visiting friends in neighborhood. Mrs. Nowell's children were guests at the Taylor home, the mother being in the city.

Taylor and his wife returning from their friends house at 12.30 this morning, saw a light in the sky as they approached their home, and suspecting fire, hurried to investigate and found his own house in flames. He rushed into the blazing house but was driven back before advancing dozen steps. His wife dropped unconscious when she realized the tragedy. The remains of children found amid ashes in the vicinity of the beds.

FRENCH COURT SAYS WHAT FRESH EGG IS

A despatch from Paris says:—After thre edays of ponderous deliberation, a French court has decided just what is a fresh egg. It is an egg not more than two weeks old in Summer or three weeks in Winter. Dealers who sold older eggs as fresh were given fifteen days in jail and fined 300 francs. The court also defined the three classes egg. First is the egg a la couque, that is, young enough to boil; second, the egg still fresh, though laid over a fortnight, but not artificially preserved; third, the preserved egg. Hereafter eggs must bear their proper label.

New License Is Not A Deterrent

Twelve Farmers Were Selling Meat at Market To-day

The license of $25 imposed by the Council on those cutting up meat, on the market did not appear to have a deterring effect today as twelve stalls were noticed upon the market this morning and all were busy. The ruling prices for beef was from 10 cents to 15 cents according to cut, and pork sold from 12 cents to 18 cents per pound. Beef was sold by the quarter in considerable quantities at 9c for hind and 7c per pound for fore quarters.

The interior of the market building was well filled, with those selling dairy products and fowls. The ruling price for butter was 40c per pound. Strictly fresh eggs commanded good prices, namely 63c and 65c per dozen.

A few geese were offered for sale retailing at $3 and $3.50 each. Dressed chickens were quite plentiful, and varied in price from $1.25 to $2.50 a pair according to quality. Cream sold at 25c a pint.

There were no changes to note in prices for vebetables. Potatoes sold at 85c and 90c a bag.

Forty Seven Men Named For Board

Much Interest in Election of Chamber of Commerce Directors

Yesterday afternoon the primary election for the naming of four directors for the Belleville Chamber of Commerce was concluded.

There were no less than 47 members to receive nominations.

Those receiving the highest number of votes were as follows, in alphabetical order.

Jamieson Bone, Chas. T. Dolan, Chas. E. Hanna, W. F. Ketcheson, C. M. Reid Mack Robertson, O. H. Scott F. B. Smith.

The names of these eight will be placed on the final ballot which will be mailed to the members on Tuesday of next week. The four receiving the highest number of votes will be elected directors for the coming year. Balloting will close at 4 o'clock on Friday January 9th.

Messrs. E. W. Worth, manager of the American Optical Company, F. B. Smith, of the Smith Hardware Co. and W. E. Scott, manager of the Dominion Bank acted as election committee yesterday afternoon and will perform a similar duty at tht final election on Friday next.

The Chamber of Commerce annual election always evokes deep interest among the members. There is little or no canvassing or electioneering ever done by the candidates or their friends, each of those nominated preferring to take a sporting chance without the use of any artificial stimulus in the form of a canvass.

In the past, Beleville's busiest men of affairs have given freely of their time to assist officially in the promotion of what they regard as work of the foremost importance in the advancement of the city's welfare.

PASSENGERS SING HYMNS AS SHIP BURNS

Those on Liner Mohawk had Terrible Experience

ALL WERE SAVED

Luggage and Sixty-Eight Motor Cars Are Gone

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Lewes, Del., Jan. 3.—Clyde Liner Mohawk whose crew Thursday night fought a loosing battle off the New Jersey coast against flames in the hold, finally being forced to scuttle, the ship after 208 passengers had ben taken off, lies to-day in forty feet of water near Deleware breakwater.

The passengers luggage went down with the ship also sixty-eight automobiles. Passengers told of trrible experiences during the fourteen hours the ship was tossed in the worst gale of winter, while smoke rolled up from the hold and nearly choked those assembled in the crowded social hall with lifebelts on praying and singing hymns.

New York, Jan. 3—The Clyde liner Mohawk, with 207 passenegrs aboard bound from New York to Charleston and Jacksonville, caught fire in one of the wildest storms of the present winter off the New Jersey coast on Thursday night and ran into Delaware Bay to save her passengers.

The Clyde Line officers in this city announced this afternoon that the ship had been run aground and her valves opened to let the sea in to flood the holds.

The blaze started in the after-hold of the Mohawk and spread rapidly. The crew fought it with some hope of success until 7 o'clock this morning.

Word was received here this noon by the coastguard service and the Clyde Line that the coastguard cutter, Kickapoo and the two ocean-going tugs had landed all the passengers at Lewes, Delaware. A thick fog hung over the ocean at the time.

The Mohawk left New York at noon yesterday. The fire was discovered when the ship was seventy miles south of Sandy Hook. A high northeast gale accompanied by snow was blowing. Captain Staples acted promptly and decided to run for the Delaware Capes. He sent out radio calls for assistance.

WHERE INDUSTRY SUFFERS

The outstanding problem of Canadian industry to-day is taxation. And yet when Ontario manufacturers, represented before the Statute Revision Commission by the officials of the C.M.A., had an opportunity to tell why, in the interests of agriculture, labor and business, the unfair taxation burdens which are handicapping a great wealthproducing section of the community should be reduced, there was no one to speak but the association's solicitor. "Is there anyone else to speak for the manufactureers?" asked the chairman. "I don't need any backers," replied the lawyer.

Here was a government commission inquiring into taxation with power to make specific or general recommendations; the C. M. A. presented a written brief making a good case but when the opportunity was presented to impress upon the commissioners the necessity to remove the unjustified levy made in 1920—in defiance of the understanding between the manufacturers and the government reached twenty years ago—there was no one to support it. Not only were the commissioners permitted to assume that the claim for reduction was merely a legal one and not necessarily backed by the manufacturing interests generally, but an opportunity was lost to gain the ear of the public and show that the handicaps of the manufacturers are resulting in unemployment and are hampering the development of the home market for both agricultural and manufactured products.

The incident is typical of the manner in which the affairs of the country's manufacturers are being mishandled by th eassociation which at present represents them before the public. Could any better justification be asked for the attitude which the Financial Post has taken in showing how the policies of the little busybodies who have assumed to direct the association's activities for their own benefit and aggrandizement are damaging industry in Canada And in advocating the appointment of a general manager to represent the manufacturers in the big issues and leave the service departments to the present capable departmental organization? — Financial Post.

WASTE IN INDUSTRY

Incompetence, lack of thought and preparation, waste caused by ignorance are among the principal factors in business failure and professionalizing of business is absolutely necessary, says Richard J. Walsh in his January article on "Professionalizing Business' 'in the Century Magazine.

American industry wastes annually ten billion dollars, according to the author—most of it avoidable and due to lack of knowledge.

He quotes William A. Durgin, chief of the division of simplified practice of the Department of Commerce.

"It is distressing to know that a great intelligently directed and highly organized industry like that covering the production and fabrication of metals should permit waste to devour 29 per cent. of its expenditures every year. In the boot and shoe trade the loss is 41 per cent. In the textile industry for every yard of goods made the value of another yard is wasted. In the building trades the annual waste amounts to 53 per cent. and in the printing trades 58 per cent. "The men's clothing business has the worst record. It costs as much to make a pair of pants as it should cost to produce a whole suit."

This waste must and can only be eliminated by training and study.

"We have begun far too late to educate staff officers for business. We began a generation ago to drill the rank and file.

"For many generations the only way one could learn to be a business man was through apprenticeship. We called it 'starting at the bottom.' Most of us were reared with a conception of a business career derived from the Alger books—'from train boy to president.' That this idea still persists is apparent when we look at the stories of success in some of the popular magazines. Steadily, however, formal methods of education have gained ground replacing the apprenticeship or 'watch me, my boy, system."

Training the youth of this country for business is becoming an important factor in our educational life, says Mr. Walsh. "With the present development of both undergraduate and graduate schools of business there can be no doubt that the next generation of business men will be inspired with professional ideals and guided by professional training."

And not only the new generation is given a chance to become professionals in business, but those already in business now have the opportunity to acquire a post-graduate education through research foundations and other means that give them the necessary information and guidance without forcing them to leave their business.

A WINTER CARNIVAL

Belleville, and the Bay of Quinte district has capitalized to some extent on the beauty fraught by summer in this locality, though much remains to be done.

Curiously enough winter is accepted as an off season and beyond playing among ourselves in a mildly enthusiastic manner, people have a tendency toward comparative listlessness.

But Belleville folk and their friends close to the Bay have as fine an opening to draw visitors here in winter time as they had by the celebration last summer and as they expect to have through the Peace Celebration next summer.

We suggest a winter carnival.

It is too late to attempt anything of the sort this season, but the idea is worth considering for the winter of 1925-1926.

This vicinity offers a combination of natural attractions that is hard to duplicate elsewhere in Ontario.

The Bay provides fine accommodation for ice-boat racing and skating events. One does not have to travel far from the city for the best snowshoeing and skiing. We have curling facilities and who knows but by next winter a modern artificial ice palace may be available.

Canadian winters should be something more than a target for grumblers.

Press Opinions

ONE LESS TAX

Vancouver Province: Vancouver is practically exempt from one heavy tax that nature imposes on many Eastern cities. To remove snow and keep the streets clear up to the beginning of next year Montreal City Council has appropriated $62,000. Last winter's bill for the same purpose reached a million dollars.

SUBSIDIZED TO LEARN

Border Cities Star: The statement has been made that one form of Imperial preference will be an annual grant by the British Government to Canada, to be spent in teaching Canadian fruit-growers how to pack apples for the British market. That would be humiliating. Canadian fruit growers should not have to be subsidized to learn their business.

GOOD. BIOGRAPHY

Ottawa Journal: In Canada at the present time there are two or three of our elder statesmen with pens in hand. Sir Robert Borden, it is understood, is working on a constitutional history of Canada; Sir George Foster is compiling his memoirs, and Mr Lemieux is working on a life of Laurier. Let us hope that the practice becomes more general. Good biography and good autobiography is history made fresher and truer; and what the histories of Canada seem to lack, what most of our biographies seem to lack, is a human fibre through them to give them a wider appeal.

ASK LOCAL AUTONOMY

St. Thomas Times-Journal: Public utilities are very well managed as a rule. The best business brains are always at their disposal, and when they are making the service pay, there can be no moral or expedient ground to justify disturbing them. They should have complete autonomy over their own affairs. When the Ontario Commission delivers the supply and gets the cash that is all they need worry about. Time enough to butt in on purely local matters when the local commissioners are not doing their duty. St. Thomas is one of the places which is more than making good and there are other cities which equally resent the domination of the Provincial authority.

SELLING OUR GOODS

St. John Telegraph Journal: The Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce made the startling statement before the Rotary Club in Ottawa that the United States spent one thousand dollars to every dollar of ours in promoting export trade. We cannot of course hope to compete in the matter of expenditure with our neighbor to the south, but we can do much better than at present. If we spent one hundred dollars to the American one thousand dollars results would be seen apparent. It does not matter how rich Canada is in natural resources or how well able she is to supply the world with raw products if we do not send our national commercial travellers to every corner of the world to sell our goods. It is up to the Government to get busy.

Cobourg, Jan. 3—One of the oldest residents of Central Ontario, Mrs. Susan M. Carman, who resides at Trenton, celebrated during the Yuletide season the 102nd anniversary of her birth. Mrs. Carman was born in Trenton in 1822, being the oldest of eleven children born to Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Hawley. Her parents belonged to a U.E.L. family, and she is stated to be the first white child born in the Town of Trenton. Mrs. Carman is in possession of all her faculties and attributes her good health and longevity, it is stated to wholesome food, proper dress and regular hours. She does not approve of some of the present day freaks of fashion and thinks the wearing of clothing that is not sufficiently protective is ruining the health of some of the younger generation.

BIG CUSTOMS DROP

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Customs receipts at Toronto during 1924 were $18,820,334 compared wkith $60,079,189 for the calendar year 1923. This decrease of about 12 mililon dolars is attributed by the colector to lower duties on some things and the reduced sales tax.

DEATH RATE IN ENGLAND GOING DOWN

London, Jan. 3rd.—Despite the wetness of the climate England is a healthy place to live in, if statistics are anything to go by. The death rate for England and Wales during the third quarter of 1924 was 9.3 for each 1,000 inhabitants, or the lowest on record, according to the Registrar-Geineral's report. The birth rate of 19.3 a 1,000 was also the lowest in any third quarter of the year, except during the war.

The chief reasons for the improved death rate return are the absence of summer epidenmics among children, and the improved care of infant life.

The rate of natural increase of the population continues to go down. It was 115,710 in the third quarter of 1921; 104,791 in 1922; 98,812 in 1923 and this year only 96,493. More people were married in 1924 than last year, so far as figures are available.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL METHOD APPROVED

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Approval of the method of Bible teaching as proposed by Dr. Campbell Morgan, whereby a teacher would take one or two children and teach them the Bible stories rather than a whole class being given to a teacher for Biblical teaching, was expressed during the presentation of the Sunday School committee's report at the Holiness movement conference here yesterday.

Sunday school teachers of the church were not instructed to adopt this method, however, and while the International Sunday School lesson was approved for continuance, it was left to the discretion of the teachers which system to adopt.

ATTENTION RADIO FANS!
World Famous Stars Will Give Numbers

New York—Canadians will no longer have to travel to New York to hear the world famous grand opera stars and musicians Their songs and music will henceforth be broadcast from the leading radio stations of the United States and will be carried to the ear phones and loud speakers of Canadian owners of receiving sets.

It was announced recently that the famous musicians, prohibited by contracts with phonograph record companies from going "on the air" would in future be permitted to broadcast. John McCormick, the Irish tenor, and Lucrezia Bori, lyric soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company sang before the microphone on New Year's night.

The singers will broadcast from New York stations and their programs will be carried by eight powerful stations as far west as Pittsburg. Virtually all the world-famous singers and musicians in the country will be included in programs to be "put on the air" early in 1925.

Riggs Motor Sales Wins High Praise

For Good Work in Selling Gasoline Here in Belleville

The following account of Riggs Motor Sales appeared in the December issue of Motor Trade, where a cut of the Riggs Motor Sales building also appeared as well as cuts of the advertisements inserted by W. B. Riggs in Belleville newspapers.

The article states:

"There's money in gasoline, particularly so when by a combination of attractive price, high quality and efficient service, one can build up a big volume of business in this commodity. And by spreadng the effort a little to push a line of motor oils, the profit may be augmented. This is the experience of W. B. Riggs, proprietor of Riggs Motor Sales, Dodge Brothers dealers at Belleville, Ontario.

"Riggs Motor Sales own and operate one of the finest dealer buildings in Canada. It is impressive on three counts, size design and lay out. The appearance of the building gives an idea of the size and beauty of design. The excellence of the layout is suggested by the front of the building, with its wide entrance and exit on one side and a pleasingly fitted out ladies' waiting room, immediately by this drive way, in one corner of the building. On the other side of the drive is the equipment sales department and general office and next to it is the large and bright showroom. The interior is thoroughly departmentalized general repairs being segregated to a service room, which is a model of adequate equipment, and a large area being available for storage in the centre of the driveway is a battery of pumps for dispensing oil and fuel.

"Mr. Riggs undertook the interesting experiment of importing gasoline and handling it in a big way for big volume. He has been entirely successful, and has built up a certain volume of wholesale trade, in addition to a very big retail business. To do this it was necessary to establish storage tanks by a railway siding, and to use a tank truck for transporting the fuel and oil from the storage tanks to the pump tanks at his business establishment. The business was inaugurated with extensive newspaper advertising space.

How It Was Done

"Gasoline testing above a certain figure is afforded free entry to Canada, and consequently shipments to this country are subjected to government tests, to ascertain whether they are dutiable or not. The present low prices of crude permits of laying down this gas at an attractive figure, particularly by reason of the fact that it is duty free, and the fact that it is duty free, may be capitalized further by reason of its being a guarantee of high quality. This is being done by Riggs Motors, attention being directed to the fact that the fuel has passed government tests.

Killing three birds with one stone is the phrase which fixed the plan designed by Riggs Motors to start the gas public using their imported fuel, to sell them on using the oil which Riggs Motors also imports and to impress upon them the prestige of Riggs Motors by reason of their business age—ten years.

Mr. Riggs announced the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the establishment of his business and the feature of this celebration was to give free for a period of ten days—one day for each year in business—a quart of oil with each five gallon sale of their high test gas, or a pint with each three gallons. Where there was no immediate use for the oil, tickets were issued, redeemable at any time.

BUENOS AIRES HAS NEARLY TWO MILLION

Buenos Aires, Jan. 3—The population of this, the largest city of the southern hemisphere, is approaching the 2,000,000 mark. Although no census has been taken since 1914, when the population was 1,575,000, statistics based on births, deaths, immigration, emigration and other factors, sent by the municipality give a population on August 31 last of 1,817,000

Buenos Aires street cars during August carried more than 48,000,000 passengers and its subway nearly 5,200,000.

McCarthy, beloved husband of Maude Belle (nee Cable) McCarthy. and is survived by his widow, one son Creston, two brothers and one sister, Mr. J. E. McCarthy, 69 Dupont St., Toronto, Mr. J. C. McCarthy and Mrs. Timothy Daly, Charles Street Belleville Ont.

Funeral took place Friday Dec. 12, by motors from his late residence, 7203 Indiana Ave. to St. Columbanus Church, where solemn requiem high Mass was celebrated.

MISS VERA DELL BURGESS

A sad gloom was cast over the community when word reached Napanee on Tuesday that Miss Vera Dell Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Burgess of Belleville had passed away. The deceased, who was in her 18th year, had been ill for a long time and although the best medical aid was securedd, nothing could be done to stay the young life. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, who were residents of Napanee for about three years recently moved to Belleville. The funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. A. M. Burgess Newburgh Road, Rev. A. J. Terrill, B.A., of Grace Church, officiating. Many friends were prosent to pay their las ttribute of respect. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Burgess and family in their sad bereavement.

JOHN A. VANDEWATER

John A. Vandewater died last evening at his home on Coleman street. He was born in Sidney township about 53 years ago and was a son of Gilbert S Vandewater. He lived practically all his life in this part of the country. He was a member of Consecon A. F. & A.M. One sister, Mrs. Fred Longwell Streetsville, one brother, Edgar S., of Toronto, also his widow and one son Gerald of Detroit, and two daughters Beatrice and Bessie at home, survive.

VICTIM WOULD NOT ADMIT IT A GIFT

Toronto, Jan. 3—"Do you swear Abramovitch gave you that face", asked Magistrate Jones in police court yesterday when a much battered victim entered the witness box to give evidence that an assault had been committed upon his person by one Abram Abramovitch.

"The accused committed nothing so serious," replied Mr. Murphy, "he merely mutilated it."

The British Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, declined to appoint a committee to assist him in connection with exercising the prerogative of mercy in cases of death sentences, as has been suggested. He declares that he is always able to obtain competent advice from different sources, including the judges presiding at murder trials, towards arriving at decisions in questions of mercy for condemned prisoners. The suggested advisory committee, the Home Secretary says, would not make his task of deciding the fate of a person sentenced to death any easier than it is at present.

Captain Peter Fraser, Land Lubber After 35 Years At Sea

WAS CANADIAN BORN

No Hope For Hardened Bachelor in Bermuda, He Says

(Special to The Intelligencer)

New York. Jan. 2— Credited wit. ha.ing crossed the Gulf Stream more often than any living man and wit. out even the faintest of black mark against his long record as a marine Captain Peter J. Fraser of the Furr ess Bermuda Line has just come ash ore to lead the life of a land-lubbe. During the thirty-five years that Cap tain Fraser navigated steamships be tween New York and Bermuda h made over 600 voyages without th slightest mishap. These voyages mea that he crossed the Gulf Stream 1,2 times, and to these may be adde 200 other crossings when he sailed a a lad on square riggers and later a an officer and master of freighte into Southern waters.

Most people are inclined to think the Gulf Stream as a turbulent cu rent that cuts its tempestuous wa through the Atlantic, but take it fro the master mariner, Captain Frase it is as peaceful, at most times, as gently flowing river. "Old Archie" as sailormen call the Gulf Stream, much maligned and entirely belies th name of "El Diablo", conferred upo it by early Spanish navigators.

Misses "Old Archie"

"Now that I am ashore. I miss m meetings with 'Old Archie' but mo f all I miss the sight of beautif Bermuda rising like a veritable fai land from the peaceful Atlantic, stated Captain Fraser in discussin his long career as a sailor. "Never i all the years that I guided steamshi to the romantic isles did I ever wea of Bermuda. They became an impor ant part of my existence, and wh Master Pilot summons me over th bar, should there be any stopping o place between here and the hereaft I sincerely trust it will be Bermud Better yet, if I have any intimati as to when the call will come, it wi find me in Bermuda."

Captain Fraser, coming of a race hardy seamen, was born in Picto Nova Scotia, and when but a boy was sailing the Newfoundland Ban n fishing craft. Later, as a sailor "wind-jammers" he visited out-of-th way ports of the world and a kee student of navigation he was soon "bucko" mate, and then with hi master's papers he went into steam Some thirty-five years ago he wa placed on the Bermuda run and hi ove of the islands and his popularit with the Bermudians and his passen gers kept Captain Fraser in comman of ships between New York and th archipelago during the rest of his ac tive sea career. Now with over fort years of active service to his credit, the mariner ashore finds himse yearning for the islands he knows so well.

Climate Affects One

"There is no hope for the hardened bachelor who visits Bermuda nor by he same token is tere any hope for girl who seeks to pursue a life single blessedness," continued Cap in Fraser. "There is something a out the climate of Bermuda, the rs, the waters and the skies that trangely affect people. I have known any hardened bachelors return from Bermuda with a bride or the determ ation to find a life's partner on eir return home. I have also met ith many girls and women, who be re their visit to Bermuda entertain thoughts of a marital career, ut who returned engaged or in quest the men of their dreams.

"Bermuda, said to be 'further away m any place than any place in the 'd', is but fifty hours from New ork city aboard the comfortable mships of the Furness Bermuda ne, and yet the change that is ought about in that short time ver s on the miraculous. The commo on and nerve-racking pace, that is art of our life is as foreign to Ber uda as are snowshoes in the Sahara. ne, as we know it, has no part in ermuda life. Hustle and bustle is known. It is a land of rest and eams. Time and again I have seen en and women board my steamship New York with nerves on a jagged ge and beside themselves with wor ment. Later I have brought them ck from the happy isles totaly dif ferent beings. The peace and beauty Bermuda passes all understanding d the effect it has on visitors is al ost uncanny."

He Likts The Feel

Like all sailors home from the sea ptain Fraser has a great yearning r the "feel" of a ship under his fee d it is one that will ever remain th him. His greatest joy is his re llections of Bermuda days and he ver misses an opportunity of talk g about that land of roses and ro nce.

"You know I feel a bit timid going out in bustling and noisy New York marked the doughty Captain. "Nev in all my days at sea did I eve perience fear, but ashore it seems fferent. I keep thinking that th rnice off a building may fall upon , that I will be run down by an tomobile or that I will step into a nhole. Why I would rather cross d Archie' a hundred times than at mpt a crossing of Broadway during rush hours. And, the worst gale ever encountered was a few nights in Brooklyn. I was afraid that e steeple on the church would fa my house. You don't have to worr out falling cornices, church steeples automobiles on the peaceful cruis Bermuda."

The Morning After—

"What's the matter with Bill this morning—he's so stiff he almost squeaks?" enquired the sales manager.

"O, they gave a Kids' Party at his house last night and Bill entertained them so strenuously that this morning he can hardly move" laughed the bookkeeper, as he carefully sharpened his pencil to a needle point.

"Well, he evidently doesn't know about Absorbine Jr. That's what I always use after unaccustomed exercise, and it saves me all that unpleasant and even painful stiffness the next day."

Absorbine Jr. is just the thing—a few drops rubbed briskly into over tired and stiff muscles limbers them up, seems to inject new life into them and wonderfully refreshes them. $1.25 at your druggist's.

OYS' PARLIAMENT IS ISSUING BONDS

Toronto Jan. 3—Necessity of fund or the advancement of boys' work n Ontario was a problem which en aged the attention of the older boys' arliament at their continued session n the legislature here yesterday. Pro isions for obtaining the funds took he form of "legislation" authorizing bond issue of $8 500.

While the boys' parliament in pro osing to raise money by an issue of onds follows the plans of parlia ents proper its securities will be istinguished from other governmen ssues by the fact that they will have cash redemption value. The bonds ill be similar to those issued dur the last year, which invite the blic to invest not in a financial se rity, but in the development of the oyhood of the province.

The marketing of the bonds is to handled by the boys themselves uring the period between Jan. 31 d Feb. 10.

NO SPEED LIMIT

Brussels, Jan. 3—New Belgian road traffic regulations which go into effect in February provide that a speed limit will no longer apply to motorcars. Motorists merely must avoid driving in any fashion which may endanger the public, and pedestrians must get out of the way and allow cars to pass.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Letter from Mrs. Ayars Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Spring Valley, Sask.—"I took the Vegetable Compound before my last confinement, when I got to feeling so badly that I could not sleep nights, my back ached so across my hips, and I could hardly do my work during the day. I never had such an easy confinement and this is my sixth baby. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the 'Farmer's Telegram' and wrote you for one of your books. We have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all kinds of work to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl, who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as she can be.) Yours is the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it." — Mrs. ANNIE E. AYARS, Spring Valley, Sask.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system so that it may work in every respect as nature intends. All druggists sell this dependable medicine. Give it a trial.

BERLIN IS LOOKING TO MERRY YEAR

Berlin, Jan. 2.—Berlin looks forward to a winter of merrymaking; not since 1914 have there been such general preparations for a lively season. All the dance floors in the better known hotels, theatres and private halls are engaged for every night from now until spring, and it was predicted that on New Year's eve all previous records for balls and gaieties would be smashed.

The cream of social attractions, as in other years, will be the Berlin Press Club ball. It will take place late in January. The leading men and women of the stage, of art, musical and literary life and of business and politics count it an honor to be seen there. Other balls already announced are that of the Metropole Theatre, of the Austrians living in Berlin, of the communists, the socialists, the movie industry, the Society of German Nobles and the ball arranged by a leading fashion house.

Matthew Boyle, a resident of Dover township for nearly seventy years, passed away following an illness of two years. He settled in Dover when a young man.

Hunting Travellers By Radio Message

Hope to Get Trace of Explorers of Arctic Route

Somewhere along the eastern coast of Baffinland is thought to be survivors of the Yacht "Lief Ericsson". Last summer this Yacht set forth from Norway to follow the course of the Viking to America. They touched Reykjavik Iceland, and from there sent communication to their friends. They left Reykjavik supposedly for Julianshaab at the southern point of Greenland, and according to meagre reports received are supposed to have sailed from Julianshaab on September 8th last, their destination being Battle Harbour, Labrador. From that date all trace of them has been lost.

The United States Government sent the Scout Cruiser Uss. "Trenton" to Greenland, and by means of aeroplanes searched over 93,000 square miles of the ocean, but returned without any trace of the missing boat. Aboard the "Trenton" was Capt. Robt. Bartlett, the famous skipper of Admiral Peary's boat. Bartlett it will be recalled was the last white man to leave Peary before he reached the Pole.

On account of Bartlett's wonderful familiarity with the Arctic regions it was necessary to summon him to accompany the "Trenton". Apparently no one knew of his whereabouts at the time and accordingly he was paged by all the Broadcasting stations in and about New York, with the result that Capt. Bartlett appeared abroad the "Trenton" a few minutes before the sailing of the boat arrayed in his evening clothes and top hat, he having received the message when attending a banquet.

After the failure of this effort the officials of the Cruising Club of America, through Mr. H. B. Greening one of Canada's best known speed boat men, held a series of conferences in Montreal with the officials of one of the big fur companies, who has posts throughout this district.

It would appear that there is a heavy current flowing north west from Greenland and touching the Baffinland shore in the vicinity of Cumberland Gulf, and it was concluded that if the yacht should have had engine trouble it was quite possibly carried northwest to Baffinland.

The conferences further developed the fact that due to a series of successful experiments carried on between the Canadian Westinghouse Co., and the Fur Company that this year most of their posts along the Baffinland shore had been equipped with Radio Receiving sets.

Two further circumstances developed. First, that the Fur Posts had been instructed to listen in to the Westinghouse Stations during the holiday week for Christmas messages, and secondly that the Eskimos usually come in to the Pots during the holiday season and thereby provide a means for sending messages overland to the various Posts not equipped with Radio Receiving Sets. Advantages was taken of all of these conditions to send out at 10.00 o'clock E.S.T. on the nights of December 24th and 25th, immediately after the transmission of the time signals, a broadcast to these Posts. This was sent out from Westinghouse Stations "WBZ", at Springfield, Mass, "KDKA" at East Pittsburg, Pa., and "KYW" at Chicago, Ill. The message which was broadcast read as follows;—

"The following broadcast is sent out from Stations "KDKA" "WBZ", and "KYW" to all listeners on the eastern coast of Baffinland and the western coast of Greenland.

"On September 8th last, the American yacht, "Lief Ericsson", under the command of William Hutting left Julianshaab, Greenland, for Battle Harbour, Labrador since that date all trace of the yacht has been lost. The Capt. Bob Bartlett abroad has searched the waters east of Greenland without success. The crew of the "Lief" Ericsson" was composed of William Nutting, Arthur Hildebrand, John Todahl, all of the United States, and Mr. Fleischer of Denmark. The "Lief Ericsson" was constructed in Norway being heavily built 40 feet overall, and draws 5 1-2 feet of water. It is believed the boat carried two months supply of provisions and also firearms. The crew were experienced seaman, but had no Arctic experience. It is surmised by their Canadian and United States friends that the boat may have been driven ashore either on the eastern shore of Baffinland or on the west coast of Greenland. It is the purpose of this broadcast to inform listeners in Eastern Baffinland regarding the disappearance of the "Lief Ericsson" so that they may be on the lookout for the survivors and also for them to inform the Eskimos to be on the lookout for any tell-tale evidence from the boat.

"Any expense incurred in connection with any supplies and equipment furnished these men will be paid for in accordance with arrangements made in Montreal."

A verdict in favor of President Ebert, of Germany, in his suit for libel against Editor Rothardt, of the Mitteldeutsche Zeitung, was rendered by the court of Magdeburg, Germany. The editor was sentenced to serve six months in prison.

An earthquake which rocked Suriga Province on Mindanao Island, killed 24 persons, says a dispatch from Manila, Philippine Islands. The 'quake destroyed 28 houses on four small islands near the northern coast of Surigao Province. Forty-seven persons were injured.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF THURLOW

Having been Assessor, Councillor, Deputy Reeve and Reeve for one year of the Township of Thurlow, it being one of the most important Townships in the County to represent, and needing experienced men, I respectfully solicit your vote for Reeve. My record has been before you for years and if re-elected will serve you to the best of my ability.

Paid $25,000 for Seat on Exchange

Carl Stever Puts Up Money At San Francisco

San Francisco, Jan. 2—The highest price on record for a seat on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange, Carl W. Stever. This is said to be the highest figure for such a sale outside of the New York Stock Exchange, where a seat sold recently for $101,000

The bond market in the Stock and Bond Exchange of San Francisco is second only to that of New York, while the volume of business in stocks is reported to exceed that of Boston Philadelphia and other large exchanges.

Since the hectic gold days of more than 70 years ago, San Franciscans always have been speculators. There now are two exchanges here, the Stock and Bond and the San Francisco the city's old mining exchange, which still handles many mining stocks reminiscent of the colorful early days.

Trading in stocks on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange has increased from 479 569 shares of the market value of $20.927.166 in 1900 to 848.625 shares with a market value of $102,778,333 for the first nine months of 1924. During the same period the value of bonds dealt in annually rose from $5,300 210 in 1900 to $38.426,000 the first nine months of 1924.

WIRELESS CRAZY

London, Jan. 3—The number of persons in Great Britain who have taken out wireless receiving licenses has passed the 1,000,000 mark, and is growing steadily. It is estimated that the actual number of listeners-in exceeds 4,000,000.

MOTHER!

Watch Child's Tongue

"California Fig Syrup" is Children's Harmless Laxative

When your child is constipated, bilious, has colic, feverish-breath, coated-tongue, or diarrhea, a teaspoonful of genuine "California Fig Syrup" sweetens the stomach and promptly cleans the bowels of poisons, gases, bile, souring food and waste. Never cramps or overacts. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs. Children love its delicious taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has full directions for babies and children of all ages, plainly printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Sealed! to protect McLaughlin-Buick performance

McLaughlin-Buick Chassis is sealed. Iron and steel housings protect the operation of all driving parts —seal them in to safeguard McLaughlin-Buick performance.

Some cars have some of this protection, but only McLaughlin-Buick has a wall of defense continuous from front to rear against dirt, stones, water and loss of lubricant. McLaughlin-Buick's close coordination of driving units and McLaughlin-Buick's torque tube drive make possible this important improvement.

We are holding a special exhibition of the Sealed Chassis all this week. Come in and see why McLaughlin-Buick performance is so consistently good. Why McLaughlin-Buick parts so seldom need replacement. And why McLaughlin-Buick owners are saved so many of the ordinary repair and lubricating annoyances.

Here are the vital points at which McLaughlin-Buick engineering provides this extra protection:

❶ Fan Hub—Fan bearing totally enclosed—lubricated by its own gear pump.

❷ Motor—Steel cover keeps water from short circuiting spark plugs. Steel cover over valve-in-head mechanism keeps dust out, oil in.

❸ Starter-Generator—Delco single-unit starter-generator completely housed in single housing. Starting gears housed with fly wheel.

❹ Fly Wheel—Completely housed. Starting teeth protected from road damage and accumulation of mud and dirt.

❺ Clutch—Multiple disc—completely housed.

❻ Transmission—Completely protected. Shifting mechanism holes sealed.

❼ Universal Joint—Completely encased in ball joint—lubricated automatically from transmission.

❽ Propeller Shaft—McLaughlin-Buick's third member drive, which is a torque tube, completely encloses the propeller shaft. Road dirt cannot work from the shaft into the universal joint or rear axle.

❾ Rear Axle—Floating type, totally enclosed in rear axle housing.

Juniors Defeat Campbellford Last Night Six To Five

WAS TIGHT GAME

Clever Passing Features With Good Goal Keeping

Ed Thomas' junior sextette were forced into ten minutes overtime, and had to extend themselves to the limit to wrest victory from the Campbellford crew at the Turnbull street arena last night . They won the first junior game seen here this season, however, by 6—5 before a small but enthusiastic crowd.

It was a seventy-minute succession of spills, thrills—and chills—for the fans. There was some fair hockey dished up with much which was not so good plus shinny. Both line-ups presented boys of promise if educated properly, and as usual in junior hockey, all the players were in the game, body and soul.

Though both aggregations faltered towards the end, the pace taking toll of their condition, yet on a whole they showed very good condition, the easier for their youth. A few of them were inclined to play the man too persistently, but referee Ross Burt made those tactics decidedly unprofitable and unpopular by ruling with a firm hand.

Truly both teams tried hard to play real hockey and though lacking in team play and finish—this being their first game—they should round themselves into real interesting thrill vending machines before the season is far advanced. Except in rare instances, they played unselfishly on the rush, passing, and always at least attempting two and three man combination. This department—an important one—lacked finish but improved greatly as the game spent itself. Poor judgment loose stick handling and awkward interference in the opening stanza was forced to give way to more interesting play however, as the boys steamed into action and acquainted themselves with the keen and "slippery" ice sheet.

Both aggregations, and Belleville particularly, played a very strong defensive game, the bulwarks saving goalie "Piper" Latchford, a new performer, from much additional work. Green and Strahan stopped all manner of shots with almost every part of their bodies, blocked well, and threw their weight at their lighter opponents. Campbellford had an edge offensivel ybecause of the locals' weakness to chase into the corners. They worked themselves into fair combinations too as the game proceeded, but their rushes in too many instances, though more frequent and superior to the visitors' rushes, were too easily steered to the meaningless corners. On other occasions weak shots scarcely off the ice, when the net gaped at the player with the puck, were easily turned aside by Sanders who is an active and efficient net guardian.

Promising Bunch

Green, a burly boy who is willing and promising if coached and practiced worked hard and effectively on the defense, and if Strahan, with his experience, weight and abilitiy had applied himself more strenuously with Green, he certainly could have beaten Sanders for goals. The centre man, a fifteen-year-old boy, played a brave game and clean. Canning is the name. Townsend is as good as ever but penalties with two unfortunate leg injuries robbed the game of his maximum of usefulness. Hibbard like Strahan, is a seasoned junior who should have snaked through more often had he sailed into it. He did tie the game however, and scored the winning goal ably assisted by Townsend, so stepped into town for the leading role in the final stages. Gaulin and Matthews worked har dand rounded out an aggregation which should look good later.

Sanders in the net for the Northerners is an active boy, who knows how and does not miss an opportunity. He saved his team time and again last night. Lemyre, the stocky defense man is speedy and stood out. Copperthwaite, his assistant was "expensive." He "gave" and then "took" time, and like "Coot" Blue the snappy wing man, did not always play the game. Blue looks like a real player if he would lay off the penalty earning tactics. Parsons, the other regular wing, though frail, was one of the steadiest and most effective hickory handlers they showed.

Play Opens Fast

From the face off, the boys tore into it with a vengeance fresh and ambitious in an effort to get their bearings real early. The first occurrence was a smacking body checking competition between Townsend and Lemyre, both falling heavily and going out. Townsend injured his leg and retired for repairs, Hibbard falling back on the defense and Canning going to centre. Strahan came on the defense when Canning was subbed, and for some seven minutes they chased the disc here, there and everywhere, and then in a wild melee about three feet out from Latchford's citadel, old number one was eased in for visitors. Copperthwaite drew two penalties in quick succession, the second for five minutes. Blue was travelling fast by this time, and forcing the locals to take care of him. Hibbard tied it up when taking a pass, he shoved one past Sanders from close range. Airhart came back for Campbellford shortly after the face off with their second, on a nice play, and then the locals accellerated their speed a bit and for a time had Sanders on his knees continually, swiping this way and that to save the situation. He made two brilliant saves on the second occasion, he being the only man to beat. Green hooked Blue and was banished and spurned to action, visitors opened in a combination which baffled the locals temporarily, and made it mighty unpleasant for net guardian Latchford, who they showered with shots which he successfully turned aside. Evidently weakening under the spurt, and with Townsend on the fence, Campbellford resorted to a few long shots, the first deviation from the real article. Strahan scored the tie goal after going through in good fashion. The defense saved Latchford until the gong with Blue off for a trip.

Breaks Tie Quickly

Lemyre lost no time in the second stanza, and one minute after the face off, grabbed the puck and with two defense men waiting, he cleverly evaded them, whipping it into the twine. Townsend came right back from a scramble out in front and slambed in another tie goal. Combination at this point was being worked up well, and heavy checking was the forte of both squads. These tactics slowed the boys up, however, and the second part of the second period was probably the slowest of the game. Gaulin tallied the next counter for Thomas' boys wtih a hard low shot which completely beat Sanders. Matthews took a walk, and right of the face off, Airhart slapped in Campbellford's next. Gaulin and Flint took forced rests before the bell.

Third Stanza Fast

Everyone resumed knitting in earnest in the third, as there was absolutely no indication as to whose game it would be at this stage. Ingram threw the first scare by sending their number five home, and with the pace telling on everyone it appeared as though the game was over but the bell, with locals one down. Johnny Hibbard dispelled dull care however, when he fooled Sanders with a clean shot from the wing, and save for three penalties that was the only tell tale excitement in the third.

Ten Minutes Overtime

In the overtime, the boys threw their all into the fray and though they were able to skate fast enough, they were weakening and anyone who had strengh enough to check with stick or body won out handily. Apparently unable to shoot with strength, it was doubtless what would decide the battle. Five minutes were spent for nothing, and after the change, with five more minutes nearly up, Hibbard and Townsend made a lovely rush, Townsend in possession. On a wide but accurate pass which Hibbard accepted perfectly from Townsend ,he whipped in the winning goal. They stalled Campbellford until the bell which rang out victory.

The line-ups:—

Belleville

Campbellford

Sanders, goal; Copperthwaite and Lemyre ,defense; Airhart, centre; Parsons, left wing; Blue, right wing; subs, Ingram, Flint and Bush (goal).

Ross Burt of Trenton, referee.

MISS SARA LIVINGSTONE

Grandniece of the famous African explorer, Dr. David Livingstone, who is visiting her native Canada. Miss Livingstone was born in Dresden, Ont., but removed to Seattle, Washington. She is present holder of the women's tennis championship for Washington, Oregon and the Pacific Northwest, and was at one time ranked fifth among the women players of the United States.

An international wedding of coming wide interest is that which will be held in the early spring at Atlanta, Ga., when Miss Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta (above), will marry Dr. Wilbert G. Fraser, of Ottawa, Ontario (below), whom she met on the links of the Rivermead Golf Club, Ottawa, when she lost the Canadian open women's championship three years ago.

Mrs. Charles Chaplin, 16 years old, was making splendid progress with her arithmetic and spelling before she slipped away with her famous screen suitor to Mexico and got married.

In fact, her teachers had every hope that she would, in time, become a fairly competent stenographer. She could operate a typewriter, and, if her spelling was a bit vague, she could spell as well as the average typist.

PAIR ROLLED THE HIGHEST SCORE YET

Miss M. Goyer and J. Alexander rolled the highest score to date in the elimination tournament at the Recreation alleys last night when they eliminated Miss Murray and G. Anderson, the latter two rolling the next highest score in the recent tournament and Anderson hitting the maples for 707. Mrs. Thomas and W. Walshe were the other two to fall before Mrs. F. Domenico and L. Barrett. The contest now is down to three couples, Miss Goyer and J. Alexander drawing the bye and the following four to play the semifinals today. Miss M. Blaind and M. Black vs. Mrs. Domenico and L. Barrett.

Miss M. Goyer, J. Alexander—1218.
Miss Murray, G. Anderson—1126.

Mrs. Thomas, W. Walshe—898.
Mrs. Domenico, L. Barrett—1088.

The woman who made the world sit up and take notice because of her expensive clothing is dead, but she did not die as she had lived. Mrs. Edward Smith-Wilkinson, who moved in a halo of glittering gems and gorgeous gowns, died in her home, devoid of lavish decorations, following an operation. She lived near London, England.

Visited in America

Mrs. Smith-Wilkinson came to the United States and was feted as a queen, although there was no royal blood in her veins. Indeed, she had no claim to distinction of any kind—but there was no denying the beauty or expensiveness of her gowns. Some of them were freakish in style and design, but the blazing gems with which they were decorated took the public eye.

Mrs. Smith-Wilkinson was reported in financial straits soon after she returned to England from America. She denied these reports, but at any rate soon there after sold most of her rich gowns at a small price. Then she retired.

The woman inherited a fortune of several millions from her first mate. That is the reason she could pay $500,000 for one gown. She married again, but her second husband, who was much younger than she, deserted her. He said he had been treated as a servant. So the woman of the million-dollar gowns died alone and, humor say, almost penniless.

Peter Pan Film At Belle Monday

All Star Cast Featured in Fine Herbert Brenon Production

Indians, pirates, fairies and the colorful denizens of the Never Never Land have come to the screen in Herbert Brenon's production of J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan" for Paramount.

Starting in the well ordered nursery of Mr. and Mrs. Darling, where their three childen, Wendy, Jonn and Michael, lead lives very similar to those of other little boys and girls, the story of "Peter Pan' runs the whole gamut of emotions—children's emotions.

The drama opens when Mrs. Darling confides in her husband that she is worried over the safety of her children. Coming into the nursery unexpectedly, she found a strange boy there—a creature who seemed as light and graceful as a fairy. The boy gave her one startled glance and then vanished through the window—two flights above the ground. When the window closed, it cut off the boy's shadow. From a drawer, she produces the shadow—a filmy thing.

"It's no one I know, but it does look like a scoundrel," says the head of the house.

"That boy may come back for his shadow," says Mrs. Darling anxiously. "That's why we must keep Nana here to watch."

Nana, the dog nurse, is the faithful animal who tends to the children very much as a real nurse would, carrying them into the bath room, despite protests, putting their pajamas to warm before the fire and generally taking care of the turbulent occupants of the nursery.

On this fateful night, Nana incurs the anger of the choleric Mr. Darling and is banished to the yard where she howls dolorously.

Several hours later when Mrs. Darling enters the nursery, she is horror stricken to find only tumbled bed-clothes, still warm, but no signs of her three children. The great, leaded window is wide open to the immensity of the night sky.

Where have they gone? What wonderful adventures befall them as they wander in the Never Never Land?

"Peter Pan," Sir James M. Barrie's wonderful fantasy, has thrilled theatre goers for more than twenty years all over the world. The script was prepared by Willis Goldbeck and submitted to Sir James M. Barrie, who approved of its treatment of his story.

Betty Bronson, selected by Barrie himself, plays the title role. With her appear Ernest Torrence as "Captain Hook," the terrible pirate, Cyril Chadwick, as "Mr. Darling," Virginia Brown Faire as "Tinker-Bell," the rowdy fairy who washes pots and pans for the other fairies, and Anna May Wong, as "Tiger Lily," chieftainess of the Indian braves.

Roy Pomeroy, who was responsible for the many startling scenes in "The Ten Commandments," aided Brenon in production. He has obtained some unusual effects in "Peter Pan", which opens a 3 days' next Monday at the Belle Theatre.

"Peter Pan," as a stage play, has been a phenomenal success for over twenty years, revived again this season (1924) with Marilynn Miller in the title role.

It has reached the screen at last. And what a picture it is!

TO HELP CHURCHES CARRY WORK ON

Toronto, Jan. 3—An advisory council, the object of which is to see that there shall be no break in the services of congregations remaining in the Presbyterian Church, and to help the churches with their problems was organized at the St. Andrew's Institute last night by members of the Presbyterian Church Association.

The following were appointed members of the council: Chairman, Dr. A. S. Grant; C. S. McDonald, Hugh MacDonald, F. S. Shephord, James A. Milne, Thomas Eakin, Ph. D., Horne, Mrs. George Gall, Miss Mortimer Clark J. T. Fotheringham, M. D., Angus McMurchy, K.C., G. Tower Ferguson, D. Inglis Grant, K.C.

The council will continue to function and to carry on the work of the non-concurring congregations until the meeting of the general assembly next June, when the church will be asked to either confirm these appointments or to appoint new officers.

Story of Elements Is Powerful One

"Judgment of the Storm" Coming to Griffin on Monday

Cold that shrunk the mercury down to zero-minus degrees! Blinding snow! An icy gale, terrific, buffeting, laden with stinging arrows of sleet! Does that give the reader a chill and a stir of blood that recalls those record, death-dealing blizzards we sometimes have in winter, worse than the terrible cold of the Arctic?

For the "real" sensation, and so many other thrills that only "seeing is believing," one must go to the Griffin Theatre Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday and witness "Judgment of the Storm," the Palmer Photoplay Corporation's initial screen production.

The whole dramatic climax of this powerful story, written by Mrs. Ethel Styles Middleton, is staged in a terrible blizzard of the sort described. In emphasizing the thrills and realness of the storm, however, one must not overlook the fact that it is only one point of interest in a picture filled with startling contrasts, gripping situations and spectacular effects, superimposed upon the foundation of a powerfully dramatic story.

Do you like love stories? One of the most beautiful and most sweetly thrilling of them all is a vital element in "Judgment of the Storm." And does strong emotional drama fit your taste or mood?" Judgment of the Storm" is full of it. Do you like powerful but deliciously human realism in your shadowstage bill of fare? "Judgment of the Storm" is that! And imagine for your love hero, Lloyd Hughes, the screen's newest matinee idol, with charming Lucille Rickson, another "rising star" of screendom, opposite! Add George Hackathorn, Myrtle Stedman, and Philo McCullough as principals of the supporting cast, and Bruce Gordon, Claire McDowell, little Fay McKenzie and little Frankie Darro in important roles, and a fair idea is gained of the most important elements of the first Palmer screen play.

Powerful stories have become associated with the "homespun" variety of production of late, because of the success of several pictures of this type, but "Judgment of the Storm," with its contrasting lavishness of ultra metropolitan like and its spectacular snowstorm balancing the farm scenes, proves conclusively that a powerful story is a powerful story, garb it technically how you will. It was directed by Del Andrews and photographed by Max DuPont.

FRACTURED SKULL AT HOCKEY PRACTICE

Kingston, Jan. 3.—Andrew Chapman of Gananoque is in the Hotel Dieu suffering from a fractured skull and bruises about the face which he received while practisng hockey at Gananoque Thursday night. He was struck in the face by the puck and fell backward striking his head on the ice, which resulted in a fracture near the right ear.

Dr. Godfrey Bird was called and after giving first aid the young man was rushed to the Hotel Dieu where he was further aided, and an X-ray examination made about midnight last night. This revealed the fracture of the skull. Dr. Bogart was called and this afternoon Mr. Chapman is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

HOCKEY AT PICTON

The opening game of the season in Picton, will be played on Wednesday evening, January 7th, in the arena. Trenton Juniors will line up against Picton's best. The Junior prospects look very favorable and Picton will be represented by a fast, clean team.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 472 L. Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N.J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

O. S. D. Notes

The girls' and boys' rinks have been put in good condition for the holiday season. Due to the seasonable weather the pupils had an enjoyable Christmas afternoon on the rink.

During the first part of the afternoon the school played a team composed mainly of pupils and former pupils from Peterboro, the Peterboro boys winning the game.

After the game the hockey sticks were put away and skating was enjoyed till five o'clock.

The boys of the printing office printed some very artistic Christmas cards to send to their friends. This part of their work provides variation and gives them some very good ideas which may help them after they have left school. As well they put out a very simple but artistic programme of the Christmas entertainment.

. Scott of the Amusements Branch, Toronto, made arangements with the Regal Film Co. for a motion picture for the School during the holiday. The feature film "Nanook of the North" portrays the every day life and hunting expeditions of Nanook, Chief of the Itivimits, a tribe numbering les than three nundred souls occupying a territory about the size of England, and the life of his family. It shows the frozen beauty of the Eskimo's land and the Eskimo's land as it really is. Through our columns we extend thanks for the courtesy of Mr. Scott and the Regal Film Co. for the use of this very suitable film.

Toronto—late D. A. Cameron of Bank of Commerce will be given military funeral.

POEMS Old And NEW

FOR THE NEW YEAR

Let me be a little kinder,
Let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more;
Let me be when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery;
Let me serve a little better
Those that I am striving for.

Let me be a little braver
When temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little harder
To be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker
With the brother that is weaker;
Let me think more of my neighbor
And a little less of me.

THE STALWART HEART

Give me always a goal to try for;
  Let me fight till my breath be spent;
Give me a dream to live and die for
  And I shall be content.

Keep for others your silken leisure,
  Drowsy days in the shade or sun;
I was never a one to treasure
  Rest till my work was done.

No, for sloth is the worst of sinning;
  Give me the joy and zest of the fray,
Finding my true reward in the winning,
  Not in the prize or pay.

And, if victory be denied me,
  I shall not shrink from another test,
Nor care at all if the fools deride me,
  Knowing I did my best.

Somewhere still there are roads uncharted;
  Somewhere still is an unfound Grail;
Let me go onward, valiant hearted,
  To the end of the last, long trail.

Give me always a goal to try for;
  Let me toil till my days be spent:
Give me a dream to fight and die for
  And I shall be content!

AUNT ADELAIDE'S A LADY

Aunt Adelaide's a lady and she has a lady face;
Her house is spick and spandy, too, and so is all the place.
So, when we go to visit her, we shine our Sunday boots
And take a clean, whole handkerchief and wear our other suits,
And sit up straight at table and keep our elbows off,
And always turn our heads away if we should have to cough,
And say "No thank you," when we're ast to take another slice,
And for the Lord's sake don't forget to tell her things is nice.
And careful we don't interrupt when anybody talks,
And go outdoors to run and play and don't get off the walks,
And shake her hand at leaving and be sure to say it hearty,
"I thank you dear Aunt Adelaide, it's been a pleasant party."

Aunt Sadie is another aunt, but we just call her "Aunty."
She says her yard's a circus and she calls her house a shanty.
She says that trees were made to climb and grass was made to roll on,
And says a child's a stomach that you got to graft a soul on,
And so she makes us pies and cakes and feeds us in the kitchen,
And if we bust ourselves, she says, she's there to take a stitch in,
Then she says she's baked some cookies, and if anybody rubbered
They must have seen the jar is on the low shelf of the cupboard.
She says her house is kid-proof; no one yet has broke or bent it,
And to bump our heads against it if We think that we can dent it.
And when we're hugging her good-by, we say "Oh, Aunt Sadie, We're coming back to-morrow and we're glad you ain't a lady!"

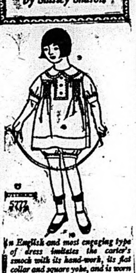
—Edmund V. Cooke.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon



An English and most engaging type of dress imitates the carter's smock with its hand-work, its flat collar and square yoke, and is worn most appropriately over separate bloomers.

If you go to a smart shop for smocked dresses for your small daughter—and you will only find them in the better shops—you will be astonished at the prices that they fetch. Eighteen to twenty-five dollars are quite the usual figures for these little frocks. You can make them yourself for almost nothing, but when you buy them you pay handsomely for the style and the hand-work. Pongee is charming with its pale honey color smocked and feather-stitched in wood brown, sage green or old blue; crêpe de Chine in soft greens, blues and fawns smocks delightfully; and chambray in linen blue or buff smocked with scarlet is very gay. Pin-check gingham in dark blue and white can be smocked in white or red, and with red or white gingham the smocking is done in red or dark blue. The feather-stitching matches the smocking.

THE ADVANTAGES OF POOR MEN'S CHILDREN

President-Emeritus Eliot of Harvard firmly believes that every normal boy, like every man who is worth his salt, likes productive labor and should have his chance early in contributing something to the family. In A Late Harvest, Dr. Eliot set down some of his opinions as follows:

The country-bred child who has taken active part in the defense of the family against the rigors of nature and in the support and care of the household has learned lessons in co-operation and loving service that have high moral value and promise much for the adult life.

The thoughtful son of a poor man is sure to learn early two lessons that will be useful all his life life. The first is to avoid unnecessary spending, and the second is to save money or goods for future use. He distinguished between transitory and durable satisfaction and avoids spending his earnings for the unsatisfying gratification in order to use his money later on the satisfying. This is first-rate practice in discrimination and self-control.

The children of the well-to-do are likely to keep up a steady small expenditure on trivial luxuries; the children of poor men have to deny themselves silly expenditures, to their great advantage, both physical and moral. They learn to go without cheerfully; not to spend and not to waste.

The children of professional men of small income, as well as the children of farmers, mechanics or laborers, can often get this training in productive labor, co-operation and economy. The boys can do all the heavy work of the household, like taking care of the furnace, carrying coal and kindling to the kitchen, blacking boots and shoes, shoveling snow in winter and keeping the front yard and back yard neat all the year round.

One day I was looking at the full-length portrait of a professional man, in company with one of his sons, who within a few years after leaving college had already become an eminent railway manager. The portrait seemed to me a strong likeness both as to face and to figure, but when I asked the son what he thought of it he replied with enthusiasm: "It's admirable! Those are the very boots that I've cleaned hundreds of times!"

That sensible father, who knew so well how to bring up his boys, was always obliged to live frugally, because he had a large family and a moderate salary. But he lived a long, serviceable and happy life. That son, who was so serviceable at home, became a distinguished business man and a wise philanthropist, friendly and influential with all sorts and conditions of men.

Any boy who is promising physically and morally takes keen satisfaction in contributing to the welfare of the household and to the ease of mind of the father and mother with regard to the family income and its best applications. Girls who help their mothers in caring for the house and the children win a similar satisfaction and moral gain.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the advantage children thus brought up have over children who are always attended by hired servants, so that they never do any work either for themselves or for their parents. There is a considerable moral difference between a person who is clean, tidy and orderly through his own habitual action and the persons who is made so only by the action of servants.

Poor men's children receive a valuable training in going without superfluities and in avoiding excess; and this training comes in a perfectly natural and inevitable way and not through artifical regulation or discipline. Such experience heightens the enjoyment of necessaries and comforts not only in childhood but also all through later life. It is a grave error to suppose that luxurious living is more enjoyable than plain living. On the contrary, plain living is much the more enjoyable in the long run, besides being more wholesome.

A Woman's Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

"She is—or, rather, she will be," replied Spencer Churchill, leaning forward, and speaking in a lower tone, and with his eyes fixed on the other mans' face with a keen, yet covert watchfulness. "I said that there were peculiar and romantic circumstances in the case, and one of them is this, that the young lady has no idea of the wealth which will some day be hers."

"Oh!" said Percy, curtly, "she hasn't eh? Yes, thats' peculiar, certainly. I suppose there is no doubt about the golden future, eh?"

"It is as certain as that you and I are in this room."

"And the romance—where does that come in?"

"Her story is a singular one. Her name——" he stopped suddenly, and smiled blandly, "but perhaps I'd better reserve that for a while, my dear Percy."

"Yes, you'd better," rejoined the young man, sarcastically. "I might go in for the speculation on my own account and throw you over! Churchill for a saint you are singularly suspicious."

"Not suspicious, my dear Percy; say careful, perhaps cautious," suggested the philanthropist, with a smile.

"All right; choose your own word! Go on."

"The young lady's career has been a singular one; she has been an actress."

Percy whistled and stared.

"But she is a lady in every sense of the word," continued Spencer Churchill, slowly and significantly. "She has left the stage, acting on my advice, and in consequence of the death of her only relative, and is living now with some dear friends of mine. With the exception of myself, she has no one to turn to for advice and assistance. I am her sole guardian, and—I may say—friend. She will, I am sure, be guided entirely by me, and that is why I am so anxious to provide for her future welfare.

"By marrying her to a needy adventurer," finished Percy Levant, with a smile.

"No; to one who, though deficient in the energy which achieves greatness by its own strength is, I am sure, a man of honor," said Spencer Churchill, suavely.

Percy Levant stared at him with a curious smile.

"This is amusing and romantic with a vengeance," he said. "And the young lady—of course she is as ugly as sin "

Spencer Churchill was about to answer in the negative and dilate upon Doris' beauty, but he stopped himself and made a gesture of denial with his hands.

"By no means, my dear Percy. This, I will say, that she is refined, accomplished, amiable——"

"And quiet in single or double—especially double—harness?",

"In sporting parlance, my dear Percy, that exactly describes my charming ward."

The young man took a turn up and down the room, and then, resuming his old attitude, looked down upon the smooth face of the tempter with a curious and half-troubled regard.

"You don't offer me a penny for my thoughts, Churchill, so I'll just make you a present of them. I am wondering—what—the—devil—you are going to gain in this business. Wait a moment. You come here and offer this young girl to me—is she young, by the way?"

Spencer Churchill nodded and smiled.

"To me—a penniless man, without position or anything else that makes a man eligible for a husband——"

"You forget your youth and good looks—your undoubted talents, dear Percy," murmured the philanthropist.

"A most undesirable match in every way," went on the other, taking no notice of this interpolation. "Why do you do it? Of course, you have some game———"

"My dear Percy!"

"Oh, nonsense. For Heaven's sake let us have no hypocrisy. You offer to sell this girl to me, with her fortune in the future—what is the price I am to pay for it?"

"If you insist upon putting it with such—may I say—barbaric directness———"

"Yes, I do. I want the thing plain and distinct. I don't suppose it is for any love of me that you come, as you say to 'make my fortune!' "

"Not altogether; though I have always regarded you as a very dear friend, Percy."

The young man made a movement of impatience.

"Yes, yes, I know! But you have some object in view; what is it? You don't want me to believe that I am to give you nothing in return for a wealthy wife. What is it?"

Spencer Churchill drew a paper from his pocket.

"Really, it is marvelously like Faust and Mephistopheles, isn't it?"

"If that's a document I am to sign, it really is," assented Percy, with a grim smile.

"Well, I shall want your signature, my dear Percy, but only in ordinary ink—only in ordinary ink."

"What does it contain?" asked the young fellow. "One moment before you tell me. If it is anything detrimental—anything that would interfere wtih the happiness of this young girl, you can put your precious paper back in your pocket and light your pipe with it."

"Right, quite right; your caution does credit to your heart and honor, my dear Percy," said Spencer Churchill. "I say nothing of the injustice you've done to me by your suspicion. I forgive you! In a word, this is a little bond by which you undertake three things. To marry the young lady when I shall request you, and not till then; to keep the marriage secret until I give you permission to disclose it, and on your wedding day to pay me ten thousand pounds, or give me a bond for that amount."

"Is that all?" demanded Percy Levant staring at him with knitted brows.

"Yes; and I don't think the conditions over hard. Consider, my dear Percy; I don't think you would have a chance of knowing who the young lady is without I tell you, you certainly haven't of marrying her without my assistance; as to the secrecy of this affair—why that is not a great hardship; and for ten thousand pounds, believe me, my dear Percy that it will be but bagatelle to the man who shall marry my ward."

"She will be very rich then?"

"Very rich."

NATURE LORE

By

Wallace Havelock Robb

INSIDE THE GATE

Chubby Bubbles, Erma's little brother, was stuck in the snow. And Chubby, (the name he got most of the time), was crying.

There was the bunny, now well grown and fat and happy, sitting up, just inside the doorway of a nice little snowhouse, wiggling his nose and wondering what Chubby was bubbling about but Chubby kept crying, for he was stuck in a pile of snow that he had made himself, trying to imitate a snowhouse.

Just as the bunny was beginning to get worried, up came Rover with a bound and, as though in greeting to the bunny, he turned his tail to Chubby, in order to sniff a howde doo to Bunny and that was Chubby's chance he grabbed that tail and Rover turned to play and, of course, he had to pull his tail after him and the poor tail had to pull Chubby or stay there, so a couple of wiggles and three or four waggles and Chubby was out and laughing again.

It had snowed in Montreal. A big winter storm of soft fluffy snow, almost up to old father Winter's whiskers, for the summer had long since passed and the sound of jingling sleigh bells filled the clear crisp air. The sunshine was glorious. It made such pretty shadows of Rover and played such fairy tricks too, for Erma drew pictures in the snow, of the shadow, all except Rovers tail, which seemed bewitched and never the right length and Bunny's ear shadows were terribly naughty and insisted on jumping out the end of Bunny's shadow nose or something else just as foolish, so Erma had to give up and let the fairies manage the pictures themselves.

Bunny was more than half dead when Mr. Brown and Erma rescued him that day, in the summer on the mountain but home inside a big iron fence, with nice green lettuce and other nice vegetables, a nice big hole in the ground for safety and quiet made him a new bunny before long.. He was really in a sort of Bunny heaven, for Erma and Chubby loved him and so did Rover. Rover would love anybody or anything that the children loved. That's how it happened that Rover appointed himself Bunny's protector and people looking in through the fence, all summer long, could see Rover lying in the shade, his front feet stretched out and his head stretched out on them, with the bunny right at the end of his nose.

That was in the summer but now that it was winter, Mr. Brown had made a special room for Bunny, under the ground. The doorway was a hole, too small for Chubby-Bubbles but just right for Bunny.

Well, Chubby was pulled out of the snow. Mr. Brown had arrived home, to enjoy the lovely afternoon in the snow with the children, for life had opened a new land of wonders to him, ever since Erma took him to fairyland and Nature. After feeding some nut meats, raisins and suet to the birds, until they got so friendly that one little chicadee wouldn't get off his head until he began to shovel snow, Mr. Brown decided to make a huge snow house.

A spot was picked for the snowhouse and all began to gather snow. It was not long before a nice pile was made and Erma began to dig and make the door.

The snowhouse door was looking very nice and Erma's daddy was just beginning to make the room inside, when someone noticed the gate open and Mr. Brown started to shut it to keep out stray dogs but he was too late.

Before anyone could stop them, they had found bunny over in a corner and them, the bunny, scared out of his wits, almost, in the lead and two yapping poodles of great social standing, tearing around behind him, showing how silly and useless they were.

Rover had been called to the back door for a bone and missed most of this but he heard it and we can only imagine how quickly he moved. He may have been clumsy but that does not mean slow and when he arrived on the little garden landscape, everybody knew he was there but the two foolish dogs.

Poor Bunny. He had been wanting Rover very badly indeed and was the first to see his protector come forward.

When Rover dashed into the scramble, everybody was in it and everybody yelling except Bunny who had his ears back and was playing for time, keeping ahead of the dogs and trying to get to his hole.

Rover managed to get between Bunny and the other dogs just about when Bunny was nearest to the new door to the new big snowhouse.

Now, the door was alright but the inside was only started. There's where Bunny made his mistake. He darted right and left around Rover, then shot into the snowhouse doorway and hoped to find refuge in there, with Rover on guard at the door but, if he found an open door, he got fooled on the inside, for there was little or no inside made yet and bunny took a headfirst plunge right into the snow and there he stuck.

It was now Rovers turn to play merry go-round and he had those two snobs of dogs putting on their fastest speed, for fear he would get them and gobble them up. It is certain they almost died of fright every time he gave that awful bark. It shook right through them. Mrs. Brown called out from the upstairs window, to open the gate and let them out but keep Rover in and that was what ended the chase.

Rover ran over and began to dig with all his might at the snow and Mr. Brown shoveled and Erma scraped and Bubbles cried but they all laughed, even Rover with his bark and tail, when Bunny poked a snowy head and ears out of the top of the pile.

Mrs. Brown brought out some water in a saucer, for the birds to drink and a piece of lettuce for Bunny.

"Isn't this a glorious day," said Erma's mother.

"Yes, and look, Mother, how the snow twinkles where the fairies have touched it," answered Erma.

MAY TAKE DOWN ST. PAUL'S DOME

London, Jan. 3.—So serious has the condition of St. Paul's cathedral become that the special commission, which for the past three years, has been considering the best method of completing the work of preservation begun a few years ago, has been considering the question of reconstructing the piers entirely—an undertaking that might involve the necessity of taking down the dome and its supports. This would cost an enormous sum of money and would necessitate the closing of the greater part of the cathedral for several years, apart from the great risk of the building being seriously damaged.

The commission, whose chairman is Sir Aston Webb, architect, former president of the Royal Academy, has just issued an interim report on the matter of the preservation of St. Paul's. The report contains recommendations for strengthening the piers at an estimated expense of £140,000. The commission expresses the opinion that unless this work is taken in hand forthwith the situation as to the safety of the cathedral may rapidly become grave.

Suit Over a Cow

At Division Court in Wellington Judge McLean heard the cast of Philip A. Terry versus Bert Pearsall. Pearsall, who is a drover, purchased a springer cow from Terry, the plaintiff, some time in October, agreeing to call for it in a few days. During that time while it was on the plaintiff's property, the cow freshened. Pearsall sold the cow to Mr. Purtelle, Bloomfield, who, with his man went to Mr. Terry's farm on Gilead road, and took it home. In a few days Purtelle complained to Pearsall that the cow had only three quarters and refused to keep the cow. Pearsall told Purtelle to deliver the cow back to Terry, which he did, Terry refusing delivery, claiming that the cow was all right when sold to Pearsall. The animal was left on the road, and finally placed in the pound of John Dick, Gilead. After remaining in pound for several days, the cow was advertised and finally sold at public auction, to pay poundage. Plaintiff Terry asked Pearsall payment of $50, for his cow, which was allowed by the judge, together with costs.

Dr. Ming Mayor

Napanee, Jan. 3.—Most of the nominees for municipal honors in the town of Napanee declined to enter the contest and the list now stands as follows: Mayor, Dr. Edward Ming (acclamation); for reeve, M. P. Graham, W. G. Paul; for councillors—W. H. Dunbar, William Howitt, T. H. Huffman, W. J. Jewell, Alexander MacGregor, J. M. Simpson, E. J. Roy.

For Public Utilities Commission, Thomas B. Wallace (acclamation).

For Board of Education, the only contest is in the west ward between Herbert Daly and Mrs. Wesley Conway.

To Make Cheese at Roblin

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morton have returned to their home at Thomasburg from Sidney, where Mr. Morton made cheese this summer. He is engaged for the Roblin factory for next year.

Change of Proprietorship

Paul Killorin has purchased the pool room in Napanee from James Poulos.

Fire at Picton

Fire was discovered in the eastern end of the C.N.R. station at Picton. The fire was fortunately discovered before it had made much headway. The heating furnace is located in this part of the building and it is thought probable that the furnace door was blown open by a gas explosion and a pine fuel bin became ignited. There was a strong wind blowing but the firemen handled the situation well and soon subdued what threatened to be a serious fire. The Picton station is a substantial brick building.

To Operate Next Year

Mr. Sam Nesbit of the Canadian Canners, was present at a very large and enthusiastic meeting of the farmers in the vicinity of Hillier on Tuesday and was pleased to state that the acreage of peas, corn and tomatoes subscribed for made it possible for him to say definitely that the factory would be operated. It is to be hoped that the farmers and company will co-operate and that the factory may not be closed again.

Pembroke Police Chief Promoted

Chief of Police Daniel MacLachlan of Pembroke was appointed Chief of Chatham police at a meeting of the city Police Commission. His salary will be $2,000 a year.

Dairy School Opens

The Dairy School at Kingston opened its doors yesterday morning although this morning registration was very quiet. The afternoon trains coming into the city will, however bring in a great many students from eastern and western points. Last year approximately fifty students registered all told for the regular course and Mr. L. A. Zufelt stated yesterday morning that an even greater attendance than last year is anticipated. There are no chnges in the teaching staff which will be composed of the same teachers last year.

Ferry In Distress

Cobourg, Jan. 3.—The ferry Ontario No 2 experienced a rough trip when the big boat left Genessee Dock on Sunday forenoon for Cobourg, having on board besides freight about thirty passengers, the majority of whom were returning from spending Christmas with friends in Rochester. When about three-quarters of the way across the lake, a wireless message brought the information that the waves were sweeping over the pier at Cobourg and it would not be safe to try to make the slip here. Capt. Forrest decided to turn about and return to Genessee Dock which was reached at 7.30 Sunday evening. The passengers on the boat were guests of the Company.

Ever buy a wooden nutmeg?

A HUCKSTER stopped at Grandmother's door. "Any nutmegs to-day, lady?"

In the tray before him he displayed his wares—big, beautiful nutmegs, and at a ridiculously low price.

Being fond of nutmeg's spicy flavor, and seeing an opportunity to stock up on them to advantage, Grandmother bought generously.

There was to be rice pudding for supper. Grandmother took the golden-brown beauty from the oven and prepared to give it its finishing touch—a sprinkling of nutmeg. Out came the grater and one of the new nutmegs. She scraped and looked puzzled. Scraped again, and looked closer. Sawdust!! The nutmegs were made of wood.

How far from such methods we have travelled in these days of advertised merchandise. The merchant of to-day signs his name to what he says about what he sells. He knows that when you come to buy, you will expect the goods in his store to be what he has said. He knows that if he deceives you once, your trade is gone forever.

Wooden nutmegs never could have been advertised.

SECRET SERVICE MEN BUSY IN EUROPE

Amsterdam, Jan. 3 — Continental travellers are firmly of the opinion that more men and women bent on secret service are roving about Europe today than was the case before the war. The hotels seem filled with them.

These operatives are not always referred to as spies, nor does military information necessarily claim their attention in spite of the fact that 1,000,000 more men are under arms in Europe today than ten years ago. The espionage of the present time relates more to questions of economics and matters of policies and politics.

Many investigators doubtless are active in the interests of the Soviet government at Moscow.

Begins His Duty

Campbellford, Jan. 3.—Mr. John Brown, late of Port Hope, the new Chief of Police for Campbellford, arrived in town on New Year's night and began his duties the same night.

Hamilton's fire loss up till the end of November was $760,646. The heaviest damage was the G. F. Glassco Co. fire, the total there being $400,000.

Hot Water and Calomel

CLEANS AND TONES UP THE WHOLE SYSTEM

You need not fear any bad aftereffects, no salts or Seidlitz are needed when you take the new tanol calomel. It is the best medicine in the world for headaches, indigestion, gas on the stomach, constipation, high blood pressure, bad taste in mouth, rheumatism poisoned system, etc. One tanol calomel tablet before meals or two at bedtime, and a cup or two of hot water first thing in the morning will wash all the previous day's wastes, gases and toxins from the system, making you feel better, eat better, work better, digest better, and be 100 per cent better in every way. Get a few of these simple tablets from McKeown's Drug Store and you will be surprised how effective they are.

Itchy Eczema Is Healed By This Sulphur

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Year's Talks Given by Banker

Thanks C.N.R. Employees And Talks to Patrons Over Radio

(Special to The Intelligencer)

Toronto, Ont. Jan. 2—A New Year's message to the patrons and employees of the Central region of the Canadian National Railways was delivered Wednesday by Mr. C. G. Bowker, General Manager. In his mesage Mr. Bowker expressed appreciation of the company for the co-operation and patronage which has been given the National Railways during the past year. He especially requested that all travellers should make frank criticisms of anything which they found wrong, stating that he believed that this method was the finest way to correct any short comings which might be found. To the employees' Mr. Bowker extended his personal thanks for the fine way in which they had helped to make the service on the Central Region a success.

"Personally," said Mr. Bowker, "I believe that the Canadian National service is second to none in the world of transportation. Courtesy brings its own reward, no act no matter how little which you can do to help the passenger, is unappreciated. We have built our service upon two words, Courtesy and Helpfulness, and I believe that with the same co-operation we have received in the past, the year 1925 will be a banner one in the history of the company."

Mr. Bowker drew attention to the fact that there was every indication that during the next twelve months a new cycle of prosperity would come and he asked that every employe would consider himself a solicitor for the traffic department in the securing of new business.

Mr. Bowker's message was broadcasted throughout the central region from the studio of the CNRT in the King Edward Hotel. A complete musical program was also given, concluding with the music of the New Year's Eve Bal.

OLD MAYNOOTH LADY HAS PASSED AWAY

Cobalt, Jan. 2— ord has ben received here of the passing, at a ripe old age, of a lady who in the course of a long life pioneered in four different sections of Ontario.

Mrs. J. J. Gannon, who has just died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lynch, Whitney, Ont., and who was 90 years of age, was born in Pakenham, and lived at different times in Douglas, Maynooth and the White River section of Timiskaming, each of which was, during her residence, just being opened up for settlement..

The deceased lady leaves 12 children, 74 grandchildren and 80 great-grandchildren, many of them living in this part of the Province. She retained her faculties to the last. A son and two daughters and another son reside in New Liskeard. Ex-Controller Maguire of Ottawa is a grandson.

Hits Wilderness In Ford Coupe

Jack Brennan-Blazed Trail To Le Pas, Manitoba

"Jack" Brennan, the well-known Northern Manitoba traveller, who already has a number of automobile achievements to his credit, added another to his list last week—the greatest of them all—when he blazed the trail in a Ford coupe, from Melford to The Pas, in Northern Manitoba. This is the first time the trip has ever been made by car and many miles of the route travelled was through an unbroken wilderness.

Brennan, accompanied by another traveller, left Melfort at 4 p.m. Monday, November 17th, travelling as far as Nipawin that night. He left Nipawin Tuesday morning, spending Tuesday night at one of the Pas Lumber Company camps along the Carrot River. The Pas was reached Wednesday night, where the arrival of the car created quite a sensation. In all a distance of 237 miles was covered. One hundred and thirty-two miles was made over new trail. He broke trail through deep snow twenty miles over a popular corduroy trail. The trip is only possible during the winter—after freeze-up and before the heavy snowfall.

Outside of the tough going, in spots, no accident or break down of any kind marred the trip. The car is equipped with balloon tires and a number of other accessories, and was a source of wonder and admiration to the citizens in the northern metropolis, where the husky dog and the canoe are the great transportation stand-bys. Mr. Brennan left The Pas Thursday evening, driving all night, arriving at Nipawin 2 p.m. Friday, and Melfort at night.

It was a wonderful trip and while he would not care to make it again under the same conditions, still, he would not have missed it for twice the trouble and hardship involved.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND WERE OUT OF WORK

Hamilton, Jan. 3.—It is a long procession of strange people that has filed past the sergeant's desk at Central Police station during the year 1924 applying for a night's lodging. Weary men, indifferent men, life-long "bums" and men formerly well-to-do—only a few of these—and foreigners of almost every country in Europe, black men, white men—in all 5405 seekers for a night's lodging.

The big book wherein each applicant places his name was added up this morning. The list includes laborers, salesmen, "gentlemen," cooks, sailors, one former minister fallen upon evil days, and one school teacher. None of them has been refused a bed and each has been offered bread at least.

Chinese is mentioned.

COME TO CHURCH

What good resolutions should all who claim the name "Christian" make as we enter upon the year 1925?

Micah 6: 8 tells us one. "What doth Jehovah require of Thee but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God". We would sound a warning to all who read these lines who call themselves "Christians" We are entering "the day of Judgment" Pet. 4: 17. Joel 2: 1-11 and "God is not mocked but whatsoever a man soweth that shall be also reap". Free Lit. I. B. S. A.

THIS POLICE CHIEF IS OLD-FASHIONED

Hamilton, Jan. 3—"If a man falls down, smells of liquor and cannot answer simple questions, he is drunk," stated Police Chief Coulter this morning, discussing the announcement from Washington that Professor H. L. Hollingsworth of Columbia University to the effect that only by psychological measurement can inebriation of a subject be proven. For practical purposes the local chief is quite satisfied with the above mentioned test. There is no local physician called in whenever a charge of drunkenness is to be laid. This would entail considerable time on the part of such a doctor. In cases where the opinion of a constable is open to doubt, however, a doctor would be asked to verify the constable's opinion stated the chief. Magistrate Jelfs has always been of the opinion that the constables concerned with a case have been quite able to correctly diagnose the "malady."

POURED ON GASOLINE THEN LIGHTED MATCH

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Zepora discovered a new way to dispose of a husband who complains because the biscuits are heavy. To still the complaints of her husband, Edward, she emptied a can of gasoline in his direction and touched a match to his coat tails, the police said.

The effect was all that could be desired. Edward ran howling to the street, where neighbors smothered the flames with blankets. By the time the fire department arrived the flames had been extinguished and there was nothing to do but take him to the hospital.

He is expected to recover. His wife was arrested, though she barricaded herself in the house.

Lord Carson, speaking in the check the activities of money lenders pointed out that a bill to prohibit the House of Lords on a bill designed to use of the mails to money lenders desiring to send out circulars in connection with their business had been before the House of Commons for a long time, but had never been taken up as a Government measure. It is thought the Government may now give official backing to the bill. It is asserted in some quarters that fully 50 per cent. of the junior civil servants are in the clutches of money-lenders.

RADIO IS HURTING THEATRES, HE SAYS

New York Jan. 3— Radio broadcasting history was made when John McCormack, tenor, and Lucrezia Bori prima donna, of the Metropolitan opera company, sang into the microphone of station WEAF, which was linked up with seven other stations in the east, to an audience estimated anywhere from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000.

It was the first time that internationally famous artists of the standing of McCormack and Bori broadcast in this country.

Theatrical men declared that the patronage of nearly every theatre in New York city was affected.

Only a handful of the biggest theatrical successes of the season faced capacity houses, while many established successes played to rows of empty seats.

"Radio constitutes the greatest menace that the theatre ever faced," William A. Brady, producer, declared.

Owing to the failure of the beet root crop, the Soviet Government of Russia has authorized the importation of 300,000,000 pounds of sugar, the bulk of which will be purchased in the United States, Czecho-Slovakia and Great Britain. The Government probably will be obliged also to import a considerable quantity of grain to offset the shortage in districts where the corps failed, and to enable the authorities to stabilize market prices.

HAVE MUCH TO DO THIS YEAR MAYOR SAYS

Inaugural Meeting of New City Council Held This Morning

APPOINT COMMITTEES

By-Laws Are Passed and Men Named for Civic Bodies

The City Council for 1925 held its inaugural meeting at the City Hall this morning, every member but one being present. In an optimistic address, His Worship Mayor W. C. Mikel outlined a constructive program for the year, pointing among other things to the Old Boys' Re-Union and Peace Celebration planned for next summer.

The meeting was called to order at eleven o'clock and a number of citizens were in attendance including Mr. C. E. Hanna, M.P. and a few ladies. Members of the Council present were Mayor W. C. Mikel, Aldermen R. J. E. Graham, W. H. Patterson, S. T. Traverton, P. Harrison, C. A. Ruttan, G. E. Foster, G. W. Dawes, A. H. Ketcheson, J. L. Manley, W. Parish and A. Robinson.

After City Clerk J. W. Holmes had made his declaration as to the composition of the Council, Mayor Mikel was escorted to the chair by Aldermen Ruttan and Manley and invested with the insignia of office. His Worship delivered his inaugural address as follows:

Mayor's Address

"To the Members of the City Council of Belleville—

"While you the Aldermen of the City Council are to be congratulated on the fact that no citizens were prepared to offer opposition to your election, nevertheless this confidence imposes upon you a heavy responsibility in the discharge of which you will no doubt use every effort to keep down the burden of taxation so far as is consistent with economical and progressive administration.

"Your attention may be directed to a statement of the great Roman Statesman, Cicero, which has been adopted as the motto on the coat of arms of the City of Belleville, "Magnum est vectigal parsimonia", meaning "Economy is a great revenue."

Unemployment

"It will be the duty of the Labor Committee to devise and carry into effect systematic methods for alleviating the unemployment difficulty during the winter season.

Power

"The cost of steam power having become prohibitive, it is of the highest importance for Belleville that the work be speedily proceeded with for the generation of electric power on the St. Lawrence River, and it will be the duty of the Power Committee to exert its influence for the completion of this undertaking, also to make a thorough study of the power question of the Province as it effects Belleville.

A Bigger Belleville

"Even those of little faith concede that the population of Canada will increase. This means that other large cities will come into existence. Even the cynic and the pessimist recognize that the conditions srrounding Belleville are sitable for the development of a large city, therefore it is wise to plan ahead, and encouragement should be given sch a policy. The success of this policy will, by providing work, enable all to discharge the burdens of taxation more easily.

Peace Celebration

"Publicity has played a large part in building up private fortunes, and it has also played a large part in building up cities. The very fact that a city is planning definite scientific methods of growth will create favourable publicity. A public meeting of citizens of Bellevilel has decided upon a celebration during the first week of next August in Belleville, of the 110 anniversary of the peace that has existed between Canada and the United States. Canada is one of the few countries that has but one foreign neighbor, and notwithstanding the fact that these two countries are inhabited largely by the samekind of people who live in war torn Europe, they have existed side by side in peace and concord for 110 years.

"This is one of the great outstanding facts of history. The citizens will be encouraged by the success of the U. E. L. celebration last year to co-operate in making the Peace Celebration a success. A great deal of useful publicity will be obtained at little cost as the celebration can be made self sustaining. At the same time as this celebration an Old Boys' Reunion and the International Yacht Races of the Lake Yacht Racing Association will be held at Belleville. As many distinguished visitors will attend these events, our ctizens should be encouraged to make Belleville look its best during the coming summer.

Tourists

"Tourist camps should be provided and every effort made to attract tourists of all classes to our city.

Fire Insurance

"Our efforts to obtain a reduction in the cost of fire insurance for the citizens of Belleville should be continued.

"These and such other matters as come before you, I commend to your careful consideration.

"May you have a happy and prosperous year personally, and may our efforts as members of the City Council produce happiness and prosperity for the citizens of Belleville."

SAMUEL SQUIRE

Second Of Series Heard At Tabernacle

Rev. Captain Kenny Discusses "The Scrap-Heap Of Humanity"

Spendid singing and discourse upon "The Scrap-heap of Humanity," on Sunday evening at the Tabernacle Methodist Church, Rev. Capt. H. B. Kenny briefly referred to a somewhat recent trip he made through the Bowery of New York City. "There I looked into course and brutal faces, of leering and suspicious eyes. Some were thieves, thugs, professional crooks, and possibly murderers. Men whose hopes and ambitions were withered, who find their only hope in some Jerry Macauley, who knows how to salvage humanity.

The discovery that waste, in the scrap-heap contains concealed values, may give a much needed message to us. William Perkins put his patient and skilled hand into the unsightly coal-tar scrap-heap and drew out colors that vie with the sunset and the rainbow. Surely the Church can do something for the seeming waste of humanity. I have never met a totally depraved man or woman. We sometimes sing "Chords that were broken will vibrate again."

Such wrecks of humanity embody the divine as coal-tar hides sweetness and beauty. No man is absolutely useless. The Salvation lies back of hunger, and malicious impulse. Legislation and education will not in themselves suffice. They need the saving power of God or what Jesus calls "The New Birth." Created anew in Christ Jesus. James Russell Lowell said, "After all the kind of world one carries about in ones self is the important thing and the world outside takes all its grace, color, and value from that." He who came to save humanity sees values even in the wreckage, and "can save to the uttermost all who come unto God by Him."

Mr. Kenny announced that Mr. W. H. Goodwin, of Montreal, would deliver the address next Sunday evening.

The musical numbers were an attractive feature.

"Lift Up Ye Heads O Ye Gates," was sung by the choir, and in the Octet, Mr. S. Burrows took the solo, in his usual hearty manner. Solos were sung by Mr. Stillman and Dr. Haffner, and the Radio Four gave "The Heavenly City." Mrs. Duff is to be congratulated in arranging such a musical treat.

Arrangements Made For Allied Meet

Finance Ministers Plan to Apportion One Billion Gold Marks

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 5—The final arrangements for Wednesday's conference of allied finance ministers are being made. The chief ostensible aim of the conference is to apportion a billion gold marks in reparations received from Germany but there is a general impression that this business will be overshadowed by a lobby discussion of inter-allied war debts.

The thorniest problem before the conference proper, is that of the American share in Dawes plan yield. Great Britain is standing out against United States participation on equal basis. Should Britain refuse to modify her attitude matter may be sent to Hague tribunal.

TWO CHARGED WITH STEALING CORBY LIQUOR

Given Chance to Engage Counsel and Fight Case

OUT AT CORBYVILLE

Prisoners Tell What Happened; Remanded Until January 10.

Clarence Herron and Thomas Bell, both employes of the Consolidated Distilleries Limited at Corbyville, pleaded guilty to charges of having intoxicating liquor in a place other than their private dwelling house, when arraigned before Magistrate Masson in police court this morning, and were each fined the minimum of $200 and costs of $9, or three months in the county jail.

Each young man was also charged with the theft of liquor from an employer, a very serious charge which is punishable with a maximum of fourteen years in the penitentiary, and both were remanded to jail until Saturday morning next, January 10th, at ten o'clock.

"I do not wish to advise you," explained Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan to Herron, who hinted at pleading guilty on the second charge, "but you had better think the matter over during the week, and probably you will decide to engage counsel and fight the case. Remember you are faced with a serious charge, and I do not mind telling you that if you are found guilty, I will ask that a jail sentence be imposed. I will not dictate, but will ask that the court impose a sentence which will meet the requirements. This thing must be stopped."

Arrested Saturday Night

Both boys were arrested while they chatted in front of the Hastings House, where Herron lives, by Provincial Constable Simon Elliott. They were arrested between seven and eight o'clock Saturday night. Both were sober, but Herron's pocket revealed a reputed quart bottle of gin which was full save for a sample sip which he had taken. Bell's sealed bottle of Special selected whisky for export, which he says had been bottled but Saturday, was still sealed. Both bottles were exhibited today, and by direction of the court, being admittedly stolen goods, will be returned to the owners, the Consolidated Distilleries Limited, after the court has finished with them as exhibits.

Herron possesses but a few cents, and will in all probability serve the sentence. Bell did not state what his financial position was, merely stating that he had lived in Belleville for four months with a married sister on Pinnacle street.

Herron, who hails from Dobbington, near Owen Sound, came to Belleville the day before Christmas, and was employed by the distillery officials on December 30th, where he has since worked.

"Took" Liquor Saturday

He told of picking up the bottle of gin about 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon while he was in the plant getting his clothes. He had been discharged. It was the first bottle he had taken, and he being a stranger to gin, evidently wished to try it out.

"We will have Mr. Hume down here to look after this," said the Crown.

In explanation of his action, Bell told of putting the bottle of whisky in his pocket while at work, and later leaving for Belleville. He was not searched when leaving the plant, he said.

"Did you ever take bottles from the plant before?" asked dthe Crown.

"No."

"Did you have permission from anyone to take the liquor?"

"No."

"Did you take it for a drink or to give to a bootlegger to sell?"

"The company had just laid off forty men, and I believed that I would be one of the forty, so I thought I would take it."

"Were you laid off?"

No."

"You just thought you would get something on your employer before you left," put in the bench.

It was then explained that anyone found guilty of theft from an employer might receive up to fourteen years in penitentiary.

Remember For Two Hundred Years Dutch Doctor and His Famous Advice

(Associated Press Despatch)

Leyden, Holland, Jan. 5.—There occurred this month the 200th anniversary of the death of Dr. Hermann Boerhaave, and the city is reiterating for the 200th time the famous message he left to his heirs.

The doctor's executors found among his possessions a sealed book entitled "The Deeper Secrets of Medicine." His fame had been such, during his life, that all Leyden was keenly interested and eager for the promised revelation. The book was sold, unopened, at public auction, for a large sum. It contained in 14 words the doctor's advice to the world: "Keep your head cool and your feet warm. Then you will defy all doctors."

OLDEST CHURCH IN COUNTRY HAS JOINED UNITED

First Church, Truro, Votes 611 to 43 For Union

RETAINING MAJORITY

To-day's Summary Shows 187 For and 11 Against

(Special to The Intelligencer)

Toronto, Jan. 5.—A summary of the voting on church union in Presbyterian congregations shows that one hundred and eighty-seven have decided to enter the United Church, and eleven have voted non-concurrence.

The voting in the cities and larger centres so far has been over whelmingly in favor of union. Twenty voted union and only one against. The entire six churches in Regina have voted in. Three in Edmonton, two in Medicine Hat and two in St. Catharines. Notable among the city churches voting for union is the First Church, Truro, Nova Scotia, which voted six hundred and eleven to forty-three for union. This is the oldest Presbyterian church in Canada.

Knox and Westminister churches in Edmonton voted by very large majorities for entering the United Church. At a meeting in Victoria church here, yesterday a statement was read from Dr. Jonathan Goforth, the veteran missionary of Honan, China, in which he declared that he was not opposed to union, but that he had always been a unionist by conviction. Dr. Goforth was nominated by the anti-Unioists for Moderator of the general assembly at Owen Sound last June.

Gordon Tells Rotes About Great Men

Deputy Speaker of House of Commons, is Rotary Speaker

Mr. G. N. Gordon, K.C. M.P., of Peterborough, Deputy speaker of the Dominion House of Commons, delighted the Rotarians at their luncheon to-day with intimate glimpses of great men past and present in Canadian history. From his position in the House and through study of Parliamentary records, Mr. Gordon has acquired a great fund of stories and a knowledge of personal characteristics of public men which makes his addresses of great value.

In his talk today the speaker ddealt with Sir John A. MacDonald, Sir Wilfred Laurier, Sir Robert Borden, Sir MacKenzie Bowell, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Mr. Rodolph Lemeiux and Mr. Lucien Cannon. Necessarily he touched briefly on these men but succeeded in imparting a vivid pictuie of each in turn.

Rotarian Charlie Cameron occupied the chair to-day very acceptably. Among the guests were Charles Hanna M. P. and Col. Eddie O'Flynn.

Hold Service For Accident Victim

Impressive Services in St. Thomas' Church for Jessie Anderson

The funeral of the late Jesie Anderson who was instantly killed in the runaway accident on Front street Saturday morning, was held this afternoon.

The remains were conveyed from the late residence 257 Albert street to St. Thomas' Anglican church, where a very impressive service was conducted by Venerable Archdeacvon Beamish at three o'clock this afternoon. The spacious church was well filled by sorrowing relatives and friends who had congregated to pay their last sad respects.

Following the service, the body was shipped to Kemptville, Ontario, and interment will be made at Oxford Mills.

CORBYVILLE LAYS OFF HOLIDAY HANDS

Between forty and fifty men were laid off at the Consolidated Distilleries Limited on Saturday night, the Intelligencer was assred when in conversation with Mr. William Hume, Superintendent of the plant, early this afternoon.

During the holiday season an additional shift was inaugurated at the plant, and it was members of this temporary shift, who were discharged. The plant now resumes its usual practice of maintaining two shifts.

SCHOOL AGAIN

The school bell tolled the knell of departing holidays this morning, and pupils and teachers have wended their weary way back to the halls of learning, doubless with a stock of brand new resolutions, which ought to last through until June at least.

MR. JOHN O'CONNOR

103 Years old, Toronto's oldest voter, who cast a vote in the municipal election New Year's Day, despite the inclement weather.

City May Claim New Authoress

Former Student of Belleville High School is Comer

Many in Belleville and the vicinity are taking pleasure in the success of Mrs. R. E. Breach who has just arrived, a most promising Canadian novelist. Her first novel, "Sanctuary" made its appearance in January 1st number of MacLeans Magazine and is being carried as a serial. The story has all the ear-marks of an excellent author.

Mrs. Breach received her secondary school education at Belleville High School. She is now living in Holden Alberta "very busily engaged on further novels of the West."

In a letter to the editor of MacLeans, she writes,

"I am Canadian-born of Scotch-Irish descent, and married to an Englishman." writes Mrs. Breach, "so on might say that I am British."

The author of "Sanctuary" was educated in the Kingston Public Schools Belleville High School, and Queen's University. Later she taught school in Ontario, Saskatchewan and Alberta and then deserted teaching for stenography, working in various secretarial positions in Calgary, Edmonton and San Francisco. Thus was laid the bas's upon which has been constructed a varied and mature experience of life so valuable as the perequisite of a literary career. Mrs. Breach says:

"My first novel was written at the age of nine, but the characters were arrested by the town police at the bottom of the second page, which ended the story. I have passed safely through the poetry infection, and the blank verse dramatical complex. When I finally settled down to plain fiction, it required four years of hard steady work to produce anything worth publishing. My first and only previous publication was a story of Vancouver Island. "Land's End," which was published as a serial in a local western periodical.

"Some day I hope to wander about the world looking for stories to write but I believe that in the western country every hill and valley, river and mountain lake has more wonderful stories to tell than have ever been written, if only one may learn to hear them."

VILLAINOUS ASSAULT

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal. Jan. 5—Mrs. Adolphe Laperle, aged 73, was severely beaten and robbed Saturday afternoon in her small candy store by an unknown man who entered and demanded money. She refused and the man struck her with his fist knocking her senseless to the floor where she lay unconscious until discovered by neighbors. She was taken to the hospital where doctors found a bone in the head fractured. The robber escaped with three dollars

LONG CROSS-EXAMINATION

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Jan. 5—Cross-examination of R. P. Gough, Vice-President of the Home Bank, which failed in 1923 on charges of making false statements of the Bank's affairs, was concluded just after noon today. Mr. Gough who took the witness stand in his own defence was cross-examined for over 32 hours by D. L. McCarthy, Crown Prosecutor.

HOLD INQUEST OVER ACCIDENT ON WEDNESDAY

To Call Witnesses of Death of Miss Jessie Anderson

MRS. HOGG BETTER

Suffering From Shock; Has Left the Hospital

On Saturday afternoon at Tickell and Sons' undertaking establishment an inquest was opened on the death of Miss Jessie Anderson, victim of the unfortunate runaway accident on Front Street Saturday morning. The evidence submitted was purely for identification purposes and an adjournment was made until Wednesday evening next at 7.30 at the police Court rooms. Dr. W. W. Boyce, coroner, presided.

The jury is composed of Messrs. S. J. Fisher, foreman, J. E. Parks, F. Meagher, H. Day, J. S. Cook, S. T. Vandervoort, R. H Ketcheson and H McGinnis. After taking their oath of office the jurymen viewed the body.

Had Hand Bag

Sergt. Detective J. M. Truaisch testified as to the summoning of the jurors by order of the Coroner and all were qualified to act. Witness took possession of the body and it was conveyed to Tickell and Sons Undertaking Establishment. Witness had in his possession $30.35 also a cheque for a small amount and a Montreal Bank book which belonged to the deceased which were in a knitted hand bag, in her possession at the time of the accident.

Wm. J. Tomson gave evidence as to the identification of the victim. He recognized the body as that of Miss Jessie Anderson, whom he knew well r 30 years. She was slightly deaf but had no other infirmity. Deceased was an active person and was about years of age. He did not see the accident which occurred in front of McIntosh Bros. Store on Front St.

Knew Her Long

Mr. Fred Chapman testified that he resided at 259 Albert street, Belleville and knew Miss Jessie Anderson. He had resided next door to her for over ar. He knew nothing about the accident.

Mr. C. R. Cole, undertaker, gave evidence at to receiving the body at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning and was taken to Tickell & Sons undertaking establishment. Personally he knew nothing of the accident.

This completed the evidence for the session which was adjourned until Wednesday evening next when details of the affairs will be given by persons who witnessed the accident.

Mrs. John Hogg of Sidney township the woman who was knocked down by the runaway team Saturday morning, and later removed to hospital, was allowed to leave the institution Sunday afternoon.

In converstaion with Dr. J. J. Robertson, Saturday afternoon, he stated that while Mrs. Hogg was suffering from shock, which had to be reckoned with in a woman of her age, yet cuts on her head and arm were not regarded as serious, though deep. Mrs. Hogg was cut to the bone at the point where the hair joins forehead Another cut on the head and a deep cut on the arm were the other injuries All cuts were to the bone and jagged, being supposed that it was the corks of the colt's shoe which inflicted the wounds.

YOUNG BOY LOST

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, Jan. 5.—Jumping to get a handful of straw from a passing hay cart, Douglas Dillon, aged eleven years, fell through a manhole into a sewer. The top of the manhole had been removed for snow-dumping purposes. The body was not recovered.

IRENE A MOTHER

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Irene Castle McLaughlin late yesterday became the mother of a seven pound daughter. Mrs. McLaughlin, first married to Vernon Castle, the dancer, and then to Captain Robert Treman of Ithaca, N.Y., was married to Major Fred McLaughlin of Chicago, November, 1923. At that time she announced she had abandoned her stage and motion picture career and thenceforth would devote herself to her home.

TO SIGN TREATY

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, goes to Washington on Wednesday to sign the extradition treaty on behalf of Canada. The treaty provides for the extradition of persons trafficking in drugs.

This Custom's Officer is Just the Man For Whom Old Diogenes Was Looking

(Associated Press Despatch)

Manilla, Jan. 5.—Vicente Lumanug deserves the palm for honesty, modesty and unselfishness. He is a customs inspector at a salary of $35 a month.

Recently a big steamer, carrying an excursion party around the world, touched at Manila. Vicente, busy with his duties on the docks, found a purse that contained $8,000. A card inside revealed the owner's name and Vicente sought her out on board her ship and returned the property. Furthermore, he persistently refused a reward of $500.

The inspector said nothing of the incident and it never would have become known had not the grateful woman sent a letter to the custom authorities, complimenting them upon their honest servant.

FUR WILL FLY IN ICE PALACE HERE TONIGHT

When Kingston Meets Ed. Thomas' Intermediate Collection

FINKLE GETS CHANCE

He Will Play on Defence With Bill Green

Ed Thomas said this afternoon his intermediate collection are all ready for the fray at the Arnott Arena tonight. Kingston is coming up with a good reputation and there should be a battle royal.

All members of the Belleville team have been going strong since the first game with Brockville and on practice showing are expected to put up strenuous opposition for the Limestone crew.

Finkle will be on the defence with Bill Green, while the forward line will be the same as last Tuesday with Weir, Hagerman and Whalen doing the honors. Frechette, Goyer and Wardhaugh will sub. Nurse, of course, will decorate the goal posts.

There seems no doubt that Kingston will be a hard team to beat this season. The men have been well coached by their professor in charge. They apparently know the value of combination and are not backward in boring in.

Harold Mitchell will handle the bell and should make a good job of it.

Blood Offering Was of no Avail

Robert Simpson of Belleville Hurried to Toronto To Save Life

On Monday, December 29th, the Intelligencer printed a story about a collie dog having been found locked in a shoe repair shop on Front street, in distress. It stated that the police investigated and ordered the dog taken to the home of its owner's father.

This morning Mr. Robert Simpson, the owner of the dog and the man who conducts the shoe repair shop, visited the Intelligencer and explained that he had paid a boy to care for the dog until he returned from Toronto, and also stated that the dog had not been neglected.

Mr. Simpson hurried away to Toronto on that occasion to give a blood transfusion to his young nephew, Harry Thornton, Jr. who passed away despite the sacrifice of his uncle and granfather, Harry Thornton Sr. of Toronto.

Young Thornton was sleigh riding on a hill but two blocks from his grandparents' home, when he lost control of the sleigh and piled into a stump. He suffered severe chest and abdominal injuries, and internal bleeding finally caused death.

Blood transfusions was believed to be the only salvation, and they too failed. So much blood was drawn from Robert Simpson that he was unable to return to Belleville on the day appointed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Thornton, parents of the dead boy have resided in Chicago fo rthe past two years, and the boy had lived with his grandparents at 439 Strathmore boulevard during that time. He died at the Hospital for Sick Children.

DENOUNCES COUNCIL ON MARKET ACTION

At the city council meeting this morning a rather lengthy letter was read, written by a lady resident of the city, protesting against the action of the 1924 council in imposing a license of $25 for cutting up meat upon the market. The writer, who did not sign her name, was very profuse in denouncing the action of the members of the council. A motion carried to refer the epistle to the market and city property committee.

WOULD JOIN FORCES

The Montreal Star, that newspaper which published the "Whispers of Death" articles some months ago, persists in its gloomy outlook, but is coming along with some constructive criticism. Another Union Government is advocated.

The Star editorial is as follows:

"Canada is in serious plight.

"How serious her condition is only a few of the leaders of the Dominion know, but thousands of her citizens are becoming gravely alarmed.

"The Star takes no pleasure in sounding a doleful note, especially at this time, when faith in the future of the Dominion is inspiring men to greater effort and hundreds are struggling against difficulty and adversity with the courage that refuses to capitulate.

"Yet these same men know that it is the meanest form of cowardice to turn our backs on the dark clouds and fix our gaze solely on the tiny edge of the silver lining. It is neither brave nor honest to gloss over our difficulties, for they cannot be minimized or overcome merely by disregarding them.

"We are faced with the stubborn fact that our national debt shows a persistent increase and that provincial and municipal taxation is growing constantly. New projects of railway construction and the like involving the expenditure of many more millions are being proposed with profligate generosity.

"In the minds of the most discerning, hope is being tinged with grave anxiety and even the stoutest quail at the magnitude of the task of saving the country when they realize the terrible price that failure would involve.

"Looking the facts squarely in the face at this time of our annual stock taking, there are three questions which suggest themselves:

"Is this country worth saving?

"Can the country be saved?

"If so, how can its salvation be accomplished?

"Every true Canadian will unhesitatingly acknowledge not only that the country is worth saving, but that it is so well worth it that no honorable sacrifice that can be made for it is too great.

"If we go on adding to our debt and levying the taxation that impoverishes without saving, there is only one outcome — NATIONAL BANKRUPTCY. When the 'Whispers of Death' were published in the Star to awaken the national consciousness to our dangers, there were people who criticized and declared that such pessimism was unwarranted. Some of the bitterest critics at the time of publication say to-day that the picture was not painted in dark enough tones.

"Let us turn then to the means of salvation. Men will differ on this point and their main cause of difference will be because they belong to opposite political camps.

"The Liberal party has its men of vision, who are slowly beginning to realize what they yet hesitate to acknowledge—that we are inviting a great cataclysm. Yet the Liberal party cannot save the country solely by its own efforts. Its power is only nominal. The Liberal party cannot exert its full strength, as the best men within it would wish to do.

"The Conservative party has within it many patriotic men, who nevertheless are powerless to save the country not only because the party has not got the opportunity, but because it is unable to create that opportunity.

"The result of this grave deadlock is a negation of patriotic effort through one cause alone—the LUST OF OFFICE. Policies that are detestable to the best men of both parties are adopted on the basis of barter. To such a course there is only one inevitable end—the ultimate downfall of the Dominion.

"How can the country be saved? In the darkest hours of the Great War the idea of a united or national Government was an instinctive impulse. Before it became a reality in Canada it had long been the rule in Britain. It was practically in force in France; New Zealand and Australia had shown the way. When the Germans were delivering those three bloody and stupendous hammer blows against Ypres and only by a miracle were shut off from the channel ports, Canada deliberately set aside any selfishness and rose like a giant to spend herself without stint in the service of Empire. In that day men made sacrifices without complaint that the Empire might be saved and that Canada should endure. They sank personal differences and forgot party rivalries.

"'Then none was for party, but all were for the State'."

* * *

"To-day Canada is menaced just as surely as she was menaced when the Huns pounded at the gates that opened the way to Calais, to Boulogne and to victory. There is only one way to avert the terrible doom that hangs in dark shadow over the land, and that is the way of 1917.

"Canada must rise once more to a realization of her danger. The same spirit which dominated patriotic men and women in the darkest day of the war must inspire us to-day.

" "A Government should be formed by the best men—the patriotic men—of both political parties to save the country in her hour of danger.

"It Can be Saved, but in no other way under present circumstances can that salvation be achieved."

STILL A NEMESIS

The picture of Lady Astor being introduced as the first woman M.P. into the British House of Commons by Lord Balfour and Mr. Lloyd George is still a source of embarrassment. It was hung in a prominent place in the House of Commons, but caused such a storm of objections that it was removed. As it was accepted by the First Commissioner of Works, it remains the property of the government, but the government does not know what to do with it. Lord Astor presented the picture but he has studiously refrained from offering to take it off official hands.

Plymouth, which is the constituency which elects Lady Astor, is willing to find a place for it and, of course, there are suggestions from the United States. The trouble is, that the First Commissioner of Works has not authority to dispose of what has become national property without parliamentary authority. It may require a special act of Parliament before the unfortunate First Commissioner can see the last of this much abused picture.

WILL PROBE ACCIDENTS

It is the law of England that no motorist on the roads may exceed a limit of 20 miles per hour. The Ministry of Transport is introducing legislation to abolish the limit "which, as a matter of fact", one writer says, "no motorist observes when he has a clear run on a country road. It is impossible to lay down a universal limit which is always reasonable. On some roads at some hours of the day thirty miles is not excessive, whilst in other circumstances ten miles an hour would be dangerous driving."

It is proposed to make it a law that every road accident should automatically be followed by official inquiries into the cause. This, it is held, will impose more caution on motorists and should result in the collection of valuable information, whether it is the roadway or the vehicle that is at fault. The system is actually followed in London and it has revealed that a surprisingly large proportion of accidents are due to defective brakes.

Press Opinions

PURITAN AND FLAPPER

(Christian Science Monitor)

Rather startling it is, to the individual who has been in the habit of thinking of the term "Puritan" as representing almost everything that was good and the term "flapper" as representing almost everything that is bad, to learn from President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., that the two have something in common. The Puritan maidens, like the "flappers" of to-day, relished short petticoats and dresses so that they could better show off their shoes and red stockings, President Woolley is quoted as having stated at "Forefathers' Night, observed by the Boston Congregational Club at Ford Hall, in Boston, not long since. The colonists even as early as 1623, said the speaker, were sendings large orders to England for fancy dresses, shoes, stockings, silks and buckles. Thus truly doth history repeat itself.

FOR THE PEOPLE TO DECIDE

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

A great many municipalities are quite willing to run their own business, accepting their own responsibilities, and if they pay the Ontario Commission's bills for electricity it should be no concern of the commission what the local rates are, provided they are such as to ensure the continued solvency of the local utility. The duty and authority of the Ontario Commission could very well end at the point of delivery to the cities, leaving the local people to make the proper charges. Only when the local government falls down on its payments or is obviously jeopardizing the security, need there be any ground for outside interference in local management.

MURDER AND THE GALLOWS

(Ottawa Journal)

One hundred and eighteen defendants are awaiting trial for murder in the December assizes at Chicago, four extra judges having been drafted for the work. A contemporary, noting this fact, asks believers in capital punishment to square this with their theory that the death penalty is a preventative of murders, seeing that the State of Illinois has capital punishment.

The answer is that in Illinois capital punishment exists chiefly on the statute books—it isn't practiced. With the eminent Mr. Clarence Darrow achieving increasing fame—and dollars—in getting off young criminals like Leopold and Loeb, and with less than ten murders out of every one hundred reaching the gallows, the truth is that capital punishment in the Republic hardly exists.

A few swift executions such as that which took place in Montreal recently might make a world of difference.

SUE AUTOISTS WHO HIT TRAINS

(Winnipeg Tribune)

The railways in the United States it is reported, will launch a national movement to stop reckless automobilists from crashing into trains that are on their own rights-of-way. The Great Northern Railway has taken the initiative and recently collected damages in full from a Great Falls (Mont.) motorist who drove his car into a freight train, smashing the side of a car.

To-day's Smile

Little Edna was watching with tremendous interest the ceremony of un-wrapping mother's new evening dress. Finally its shimmering glories were all revealed free from its tissue wrappings.

"Oh, mamma, how lovely. Will you wear it to-night?"

"No, not to-night, dear. This is for when ladies and gentlemen come to dinner."

While little Edna was registering disappointment she had a bright thought. "Oh, mamma, let's pretend just for once that papa's a gentleman."

Letters to Editor

RED CROSS WORK

Belleville, Jany 2,1925

Dear Mr. Editor.

May I use your columns to explain some work we have done and will continue doing during the winter and spring months.

To enable the women of Canada to obtain a practical working knowledge of Home Nursing and Home Hygiene, classes have been formed and are being formed all over the Dominion under the auspices of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and in co-operation with other organizations interested in health and welfare. The work is being carried on as part of the peace-time programme of the Red Cross for "The impovement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

The scheme involves a book, a teacher and a class.

The Book—Is the Red Cross Manual for Home Nursing Classes. This manual contains the most recent and the most reliable information on Home Nursing and Home Hygiene with particular reference to mothers, infants and children.

In the preparation of this Manual, care has been taken to avoid as far as possible the use of technical terms. The information is presented in such a way that those who attend the classes will find it easy to understand.

The Teacher—Is a trained nurse, usually one who is not actively engaged in the profession.

The Class—A course of so much value to women generally and of such universal necessity, is regarded with favour by nearly every organization of women.

Duration of the Course—The course is given in twelve periods of two hours each. Each period includes a short lecture by the teacher, but the greater portion of the time is devoted to practical demonstrations and practice by members of the class.

Upon the completion of the course, each student who has attended 80 per cent of the classes, is given a card stating the amount of work she has completed. It should be clearly understood that this card is not a certificate, nor does it imply that the student is qualified to practice this elementary kind of nursing for remuneration.

Outline of Course—
1 Introduction, Health in the Home.
2 The Bed-room in Health and Sickness.
3 The Signs of Sickness.
4 The Care of the Patient.
5 Feeding the Sick.
6 Treatments.
7 Communicable Diseases.
8 Emergencies and Slight Ailments.
9 Maternity Nursing.
10 Infant Care.
11 The Feeding of Infants and Children.
12 Review.

Information for those who wish to join such classes, or to organizations who wish to carry on this work as part of their winter work, will be cheerfully given by the undersigned.

MRS. J. A. McFEE,
142 Foster Ave. Chairman of Com.

ONTARIO BUSINESS MEN WILL VISIT QUEBEC

Arrangements have been made and plans are now maturing whereby a large delegation of Ontario's prominent manufacturers, professional and business men, accompanied by his Honor Lieutenant Governor Cockshutt, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson and members of the Ontario Cabinet, will pay a visit to Quebec as the guests of the Lieutenant-Governor and Premier, representing the Province of Quebec. The object of the visit is to further good relationship and better business conditions between the provinces.

The Canadian National Railways are co-operating to the extent that they will operate a special sleeping car train to leave Toronto on Wednesday, Jan. 28th at 7.00 p.m., arriving in Quebec in time for breakfast on Jan. 29th. This train will consist of standard sleeping and compartment cars and reservations may now be made through any agent of the company. 30, j-2, 5, 6

PLAN CELEBRATION AT NEWPORT NEWS

Newport News, Va., Jan. 5.—Interest extending overseas is claimed for the proposed sesquicentennial celebration of the British surrender at Yorktown, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club at Newport News for October 19, 1931.

International participation will be sought in the pageant to be presented showing the actual surrender of Cornwallis to Washington, after scenes of the early colonial period shall have led up to the climax.

Invited to take part are all the states; the army and navy as well as other agencies of the United States government, the French and British navies and many historical societies.

Sponsors of the celebration report cordial co-operation assured from many organizations and societies in the United States and abroad.

Congress will be asked to appropriate at least $50,000 to cover the expense of the national government's participation. The states will also be urged to provide funds. It is proposed to have a special postage stamp issued to aid in advertising the celebration.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN: SERIAL: THEATRES

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

"How am I to know that this is not a trick of yours, my good Churchill?—that I may marry this protegee of yours, and wake up to find that it is 'beggar mated to beggar'?"

Spencer Churchill nodded a smiling approval.

"A very proper question, very proper. If you will look over this bond, you will see that the payment of the ten thousand pounds is contingent upon the young lady's becoming possessed of at least twenty thousand a year. Do me the favor of perusing it; it is very short and very simple.

"And very sweet," said Percy, and he rapidly ran over the paper. "I see you have left a blank where the young lady's name should go."

"Which I will fill in when you have signed."

"Ah! How long will you give me to consider this extraordinary proposal of yours?"

"Exactly five minutes," said Spencer Churchill blandly; "and excuse me, my dear Percy, if I say that that is four minutes too long! My dear young friend, consider A young, refined, accomplished lady, with a future fortune of at least twenty thousand a year—and you hesitate. Are you so fond of Soho, and this rather—excuse me—squalid life of yours? Think what a vista this opens before you? You are ambitious. I present you with a golden ladder by which you may climb to any height you please. What are your prospects now, save those of a lifelong drudgery with the workhouse at the end? You, whose gifts warrant your taking your place among the flower of the land——"

"Wait, wait!" interrupted Percy. "I can't think with your drivel buzzing in my ears! I want to think! Man alive, I can scarcely believe that this is sober earnest, and if it were not for the price you exact, I should find it impossible to do so; but now I see your game, or part of it——" he wandered to the piano as he spoke and dropping into his music chair, abstractly let his hands stray over the keys.

"I think more easily to music," he murmured, dreamily.

Spencer Churchill watched him for a few minutes, then he said:

"Time is up, my dear Percy. Is it to be 'Yes,' or 'No?' "

The young fellow rose from the piano; his face was pale, and his eyes glowing with a strange excitement.

"I cannot resist it," he said, in a low voce, whose tremor belied his faint smile. "You are right—more right than you guessed—when you said I was ambitious. I am sick and weary of this life of squalid drudgery. I feel as if I would sell my soul—perhaps I am doing it!—to get out of it. Give me the paper and I'll sign it!"

Spencer Churchill spread it on the table, and Percy Levant snatched up a pen and wrote his name.

"There!" he said, pushing it from him, folding his arms, and looking down at Spencer Churchill with an almost defiant light in his dark eyes. "And now what next? I am all attention! Who and where is my future bride, and when shall I see her?"

"Her name is Doris Marlowe," said Spencer Churchill, softly, writing the name in the blank left for the purpose as he spoke. "She is at present acting as companion to Lady Despard, and you shall see her in a day or two."

"Doris Marlowe!" repeated Percy Levant. "Doris Marlowe; it sounds pretty, 'but a rose by any other name,' etc.; and she is acting as companion to Lady Despard, is she? And has no suspicion of the wealth that will be hers? Churchill, are you sure that this is not a fiction born of your too fertile imagination?"

"You will see in a day or two," said Spencer Churchill.

"It is really genuine? And what is the plan to be adopted? You will, I suppose, introduce me as a prince traveling incog., a millionaire in embryo, a something brilliant enough to dazzle the eyes of the young lady and carry her fancy captive? Is this to be the line?"

The philanthropist shook his head with an indulgent smile.

"No, my dear Percy; I'm free to admit that that is the kind of thing most men would do; but I think that you and I are too wise, not to say too honorable, to adopt such a course of deception."

Percy Levant laughed sardonically.

"Pardon; I forgot that you were a man of high principle, and a light of Exeter Hall. Well, what will you do?"

"I shall tell the truth," said Spencer Churchill, with virtuous uplifting of the eyes. "I shall introduce you to Lady Despard as a musical genius—you are a genius, you know, my dear Percy!—struggling against the difficulties and obstacles insuperable to poverty and—er—that kind of thing. Lady Despard is never so happy as when she is assisting struggling talent, and she will receive any one whom I recommend; dear Lady Despard! The rest I leave to you. If you cannot find a way to Miss Marlowe's heart, then I will confess that I am very much mistaken in you."

"Thanks for your flattering opinion," said Percy, with a short bow. "I will do my best—or my worst, which is it? Meanwhile, touching that ten pounds!"

"You shall have it with pleasure," said Spencer Churchill, and he took a note from his purse and handed it to him with a benevolent smile. "Do not spend it——"

"In riotous living! No, father patriarch, I won't; I will buy myself some decent clothes, and get my hair cut, for I've noticed that your Lady Despards take a great deal more interest in struggling genius when it is clean and neatly dressed."

Spencer Churchill nodded.

"You know the world, I see, my dear Percy. I think that is all we need say. We thoroughly understand each other——"

"I thoroughly understand you," returned the young fellow; "whether you understand me is quite another matter."

"I think I do, I think I do," murmured Spencer Churchill. "I think that you will do your best to win the game which will secure you a charming wife and future independence. Good-by, my dear Percy. Don't let the new suit of clothes be too resplendent; remember that you are a poor young man of genius."

"I'm not likely to forget the poverty," said Percy, slowly. "Good-by. Mind how you go downstairs; there are generally from twenty to thirty children asleep on them at this hour, and the parents, strange to say, have an unreasonable objection to having them smashed."

"I will take care," said the philanthropist, and with a murmured benediction, he ambled out.

This information has been given the Los Angeles Board of Education by Mrs. Chaplin's alma mater—the Hollywood Secretarial School. Angered that the equipment of one of their graduates should have been questioned, the school authorities stated that Mrs. Chaplin, when she was still Lillian McMurray, (or Lita Gray, if you will) graduated last April.

Furthermore, Mrs. Chaplin, since her marriage, has been living up to the spirit and letter of the law relating to children's education, for she has engaged an instructor to tutor her in algebra and history.

Had to Use Three Axes in This Scene

Actors in "Judgment of the Storm" Learn Science Lesson

Lloyd Hughes, who takes the leading part in "Judgment of the Storm", the first Palmerplay, which is now showing at the Griffin Theatre, is a strong, upstanding, athletic young picture star, but until a certain incident occurred while shooting snow scenes "on location" at Truckee, California, he never thought of "doubting" for Hercules.

There is a scene in the pictures in which Mr. Hughes is chopping wood. When the scene was taken the day was extremely cold—the sort of cold that winter brings in the high Sierras. Mr. Hughes took the first healthy swing with the axe for rehearsal, and to his surprise the tool shattered to bits, the soft breaking as well as the more brittle steel blade.

"It's the cold!" said Director Del Andrews. "Get Mr. Hughes a new axe—and strike lighter blows, Lloyd!"

All went well for a few strokes thereafter, and then the axe shattered again, this time under a very light blow. The problem was solved by heating the blade of the third axe. George Hackathorn, who plays an imporant supporting role, brought forth further information concerning the brittle qualities imparted to all substances by intense cold from experiences of his school days. A frog and a cup of lead, dipped into the terribly intense cold of liquid air, and then dropped on the laboratory floor, shatter into minute bits instantly.

Advertising For Twenty Ankles

Philadelphia Man Claims They Are Becoming Scarce Now

According to a news item, Patrick Kerns, of Philadelphia, is reported as having advertised for the twenty loveliest pairs of ankles in the Quaker City, each model chosen to sit for a portrait or statute of her shapely limbs, for his private salon.

Mr. Kerns, interviewed by a reporter who wished to ascertain whether he was going to start a "Follies" of his own, admitted that he was collecting evidence of beautiful ankles specimens for his own pleasure, and for the sake of posterity; that for years he had believed them extinct in his city.

First, he said sadly, the flapper streak hit the girls, and they wore flopping galoshes which completely ruined his artistic contemplation of limbs, and then when fashion brought ankles in sight again, there seemed to be no shapely ones. Athletics, the wide use of sandals, and the "boyish ideals" of girls, according to the wealthy Philadelphian, have been the various causes of the scarcity of decorative limbs, and despairing of seeing them on motor buses or parks any more, it appears, he decided to collect models of his own, and immortalize them for his private salon satisfaction.

The report does not say how many perfect ankled lassies have responded so far. He could be overwhelmed with applicants in California. Quidnuncs assert that most of the Golden State girls are born with pretty ankles, and those who are not, acquire them through dancing, which is declared to be infallible—Argonaut.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TO STUDY ABROAD

Williamsburg, Va., Jan. 5.—Study tours at the University of Toulouse in France and the National University in Mexico, will be conducted during the summer of 1925 by William and Mary College. Academic work will count toward diplomas at the University of Toulouse and teaching certificates of the Alliance Francaise.

In the arrangements with the University of Mexico, courses offered by William and Mary will be opened to students having sufficient knowledge of English and to American students who can understand Spanish. The summer school at Toulouse will be conducted by Dr. C. C. Fichtner, and the school in Mexico will be under Professor C. E. Casteneda.

No One Can Tell If You Darken Hair

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Marvelous Film Is Coming to City

"The Lost Tribe" Booked For Griffin Theatre Next Week

Belleville is getting something akin to a "first run" picture.

On Monday, January 12, "The Lost Tribe" is coming to the Griffin, direct from Toronto, where many thousands have been thrilled by it for weeks at Massey Hall.

"The Lost Tribe" is acclaimed by all critics as one of the greatest moving picture productions given to the public since this form of entertainment was invented. Wrapped around an interesting story is photograph work that has startled the world. New York, London and Melbourne have talked about it as they have over few other moving pictures.

In this case, it is the photograph and not the actors proper, who is the star. Captain Frank Hurley, Australian, flew into the hinterland of tropical New Guinea and discovered a race of savage white people believed to be the lost tribe of Jews, people whose features resmble that of the Jewish race. They thought he was a god, come to visit them.

Captain Hurley took in his moving picture camera with him and the results will be well worth seeing at the Griffin next Monday.

The picture will be here for three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee for the school children on Wednesday afternoon.

A difference of opinion between Mrs. Edward W. Bok, wife of the former editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and John Grolle, director of the Cutis Institute of Music, founded by Cyrus H. K. Curtis, father of Mrs. Bok, over the question of how long he should remain in charge, resulted in his resignation.

Greatest Thing In His Life Time

Says Torrence of "Peter Pan" At the Belle Theatre

"Glad?" shouted Ernest Torrence when questioned about his feelings on being selected to portray the role of Capt. Hook in the Paramount picturization of J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan", "It is the greatest thing that has ever happened to me in my life. There is nothing in the entire history of the world's literature that I would rather play. Glad? I'll tell the world I'm glad!"

Torrence, who is featured with Betty Bronson, Cyril Chadwick, Virginia Brown Faire and Anna May Wong in the production which is due tonight at the Belle Theatre, looks the part of Capt. Hook even without make-up and his attitude toward the Barrie fantasy is, therefore, the more amazing. He has studied the play not only with the mind of a student but with the heart of a man who loves it.

"What a marvelous conception the character of Peter Pan is," he said one day while discussing plans for the picture.

"Every man with the heart of a boy is a PeterPan. In infancy he may not have fallen out of his baby-carriage when the nurse was looking the other way, but at some time in his life he has been a blood brother of the band of lost boys, has had his adventures in the forest of the Never Never Land and has cruised upon its desperate seas. It is easy enough for a boy to find the trail to that wonderful land, most of them can't miss it. The feet of youth skip over it nimbly enough, although there are many stones in the path of the feet of age.

"I am sorry for the man who can't remember his days of hand-to-hand encounters with whiskered pirates of the Spanish Main, who can't remember his desperate battles with the savage redskins, when every clump of bushes was an ambuscade, when every tree concealed an enemy. What heroes we were and what brains we had. The wily Long John Silver schemed against us in vain. We laughed at the nefarious plots of Captain Hook and defeated them. Chief Red Eagle and his band held no terrors for us, so long as we had our trusty rifle. We thwarted them all at every point and how we reveled in the shock of battle and gloated over the mangled bodies of our enemies. The clash of swords, the rattle of musketry and the deep boom of the cannon were music to our ears.

"Those were the good old days!"

"Peter Pan", produced by Herbert Drennon, was adapted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck. There's a strong cast playing in support of the principals.

GERMAN DRYS GET AFTER THE CHILDREN

Koenigsberg, Germany, Jan. 5.—The Board of Education is behind a series of lectures, given in the smaller villages, on the evils of the drink habit. Children particularly are invited and asked to relate the experiences their communities have had with drunken persons. The poisonous nature of alcohol is then explained and volunteers are sought to help in combating the use of alcohol.

OPEN FIRST SUBWAY

Barcelona, Spain, Jan. 5.—Barcelona's first subway is to be inaugurated next month. The motive power is to be electricity, and the cars and stations are to be equipped with all modern improvements. Elevators will carry passengers to the street level at points where the tracks are far under ground.

BERLIN PEOPLE ARE BUYING MORE AUTOS

Berlin, Jan. 5.—Berlin now counts 27,000 automobiles. This is an increase in the city of 20 percent in six months, and means one car to every 100 inhabitants.

The country now produces between 30,000 and 40,000 cars a year, and an increase of 100 or even 200 percent is expected by the rational use of existing production facilities.

A drawback to production is the point of view that the motor car is a luxury rather than a necessity, which results in taxation, on a single car, of about 40 percent before it reaches the hands of the ultimate user.

If Rheumatic Eat No Sweets

Says Glas of Salts Helps to Overcome Rheumatism Acid

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

IN MEMORIAM

WEESE—In sad and loving memory of my dear husband, who passed away Jan. 4. 1924.

Life's path is sad and lonely now
Since Flay has gone away
God called him to his home above
Four years ago to-day.

How we long to clasp his hand
To see his smiling face
For, Oh. the one we loved so well
Leaves such a vacant place.

But we know you're waiting Daddy
For us on the other shore.
And when life on earth is ended,
We'll meet again to part no more.

Wife and daughter Freda.

A Letter of Appreciation

The letter below was received recently from a young man who attended Ontario Business College last winter and who is now in a town in New Ontario:

"I am keeping the books for a general merchant who also handles pulp wood, runs the post office and deals in furs. My salary is $100.00 per month together with my board and lodging. Ontario Business College has done more for me than ten years of hard work could have done. I thank you and all the staff for the great interest taken in me."

The young fellow referred to lived a few miles from Belleville and had received only a common school education previous to attending the College.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. CHARLES KETCHESON

On Saturday afternoon many relatives and friends were in attendance at the funeral of the late Mrs. Charles Ketcheson, of Sidney Township. At the family residence, Rev. Mr. Honey conducted services and officiated at the enterment at Bellevilel cemetery.

A number of floral tributes were evidences of sympathy. Bearers were relatives of the deceased, namely Messrs. Ed. Hinchcliffe, J. Whitley, Col. W. G. Daniel, Blake and Tom Ketcheson.

MRS. EFFIE G. DINGMAN

The mortal remains of the late Mrs. Effie G. Dingman were laid to rest in Belleville cemetery on Saturday afternoon, following impressive funeral services at the late residence. Services at the home were conducted by Rev. Dr. Alfred Brown, Pastor of Holloway street Methodist church, who also officiated at the graveside. Services were held at 2.00 o'clock.

The bearers were Messrs. J. Dingman W. Fry, W. Kellar, H. Kellar, B. Monville and D. Monville.

MISS JESSIE ANDERSON

The passing away of Miss Jessie Anderson is a matter of universal regret, particularly to her many friends and acquaintances and the tragic accident connected with it, adds to the sorrow felt by all who knew her.

She was born in Oxford Mills, Ont., was the daughter of the late Henry Anderson Esq., and sister of the Rt. Rev. C. P. Anderson, Episcopal Bishop of Chicago, who, with an eldest sister, who lived with her, survive her.

She had lived in Belleville for thirty years, was a student and afterwards a teacher, in the O. B. C. under the late J. W. Johnson Esq., who valued her conscientiousness and ability, was secretary Treasurer of St Agnes School, and of the Hospital Board, for some years.

In whatever position occupied by her, the qualities of heart and head possessed by her, were displayed, and all who came in contact with her, were impressed by her character and personality, which are best described by the word, "noble."

The funeral service was held in St. Thomas Anglican Church to-day, and the body taken to Kemptville by her nephew, Garnet Anderson, Barrister of that place. The interment will take place to-morrow, Tuesday, Jan. 6th, Feast of the Epiphany, in the family plot at Oxford Mills Cemetery.

Many evidences of the esteem in which Miss Anderson was held, have been given and tributes paid to her memory.

There is this calm assurance to comfort all who sorrow, "The Souls of the righteous are in the Hands of God; they rest from their labours; their works do follow them." "Her soul pleased the Lord, therefore He hasted to take her."

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the city council will be held on Friday evening of this week. The object of the meeting is to consider the applications for the position of sanitary inspector of the city.

John McNally, 17 years old, was burned to death, two persons were severely injured and two others were carried down a ladder to safety at Lawrence, L.I., when fire destroyed the residence of Harry Rascovar, a New York advertising man.

Railroad employees responsible in any way for the safety of the Soo Line passenger train which plunged into the Chippewa River at Chippewa Falls, killing eight persons and injuring seven others, were exonerated of blame by a conference of railroad and State officals. General Superintendent C. E. Urbahns said after the conference that the investigation had shown the wreck wa sdue to a broken bolt in a switch, caused by the cold.

Boy Signs Away Pomp Of Year

Loses Empty Title of Emperor of China, and Court

IS NOW VERY POOR

Had to Plead to Get Wife's Clothes After Eviction

(Associated Press Despatch)

Peking, Jan. 5.—The signing away under duress by Hsuan Tung, the boy emperor, a few days ago of the empty title of emperor and the right to preserve within the limited precincts of the Forbidden City the pomp and ceremonies of the old Manchu court, brought to a final end the Ching dynasty founded in 1644 by the emperor Shun Ching.

While the Manchu reign actually ended with the addication in behalf of the infant emperor as a result of the revolution in 1912, the founders of the republic agreed that members of the imperial family and the lesser nobility, by whom they were surrounded, would be permitted to retain their titles, their court ceremonials and generally would receive treatment in their retirement such as is usually accorded to a foreign sovereign. A yearly allotment of $4,000,000 of the country's currency was to be made for their support. A large portion of the old imperial precincts within the quarter known as the Imperial City was set apart for their exclusive use and residence, and there, a virtual prisoner, the young emperor has grown to manhood.

The terms of the agreement for favorable treatment, so far as it concerns the yearly payments, has long since become a dead letter, if it ever was kept. The imperial family today faces impoverishment. The marriage of the emperor two years ago, conducted with much ceremony, was probably the zenith of his glory and marked his last emergence into the limelight of newspaper publicity until his exicton by the Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang.

The new reigning cabinet saw fit, according to Dr. C. T. Wang, the foreign minister, to rectify the anomalous situation growing out of maintenance of an imperial court within a republic. Accordingly, without a word of warning, agents of General Feng swooped down upon the defenceless court; presented a new abdication document for the emperor to sign; demanded the imperial seals which had been in possession of his famliy, represented by himself and nine predecessors for 180 years, and forthwith expelled him from the only home he ever had known. He had to plead to be allowed to send back for his own and his wife's clothing.

A commission has been announced whose duty it will be to determine how much of the property seized in the Imperial quarters belongs to the ousted Manchus, and how much to the state. There are reports of the existence of antiquities and documents of immense historical valaue which it is proposed to place in a museum to be established for the purpose. In the future the ex-emperor, as plain Mr. Pu Yi, so designated in the regulations governing the investigating cimmission, may reside where he will by the letter of the abdication agreement, but he must live where the government authorities can keep an eye on him since they reserve the right to "safeguard" him.

Fire which broke out in Washington court, a large west end apartment block, in Vancouver, B.C., did damage to the structure and contents of approximately $150,000 and drove the occupants of 42 suites out on the street.

Arturo Toscanini, formerly musical director of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, and former director of the orchestra at La Scala, Milan, has promised to complete the unfinished opera "Tunandot" of the late Giacomo Puccini.

Entire Family is Wiped Out By Gas

Neighbor Found Six Dead in City of Brockville

Brockville, Ont., Jan. 5.—When a neighbor, alarmed at the non-appearance of members of the family of Jesse Gray, laborer, forced an entrance to their small rough cast house here, he found every occupant of the house, six in number, dead as a result of asphyxiation from illuminating gas.

The victims were Jesse Gray and his wife and their four sons, Harold, aged 26, Purvis, 18, Kenneth 10 and Cecil 9. All the family are wiped out by the tragedy with the exception of a married daughter, Mrs. Yeldon, who lives in the United States.

Even the family dog was killed. The cause of the escape of gas which killed the family is a mystery and the municipal gas system was not attached to the house.

PRINTERS OBSERVE FRANKLIN'S BIRTH

Indianapolis, Jan. 5.—Printers in the United States are asked to observe the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, Jan. 17, 1925, in a statement issued by James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, which has head quarters here.

President Lynch will address a banquet of the Old Time Printers' Association in Chicago on that date, and he urges associations in other cities to plan suitable observances.

"Franklin, as a historical figure, is deserving of a larger share of attention that he has received in the past," Mr. Lynch said. "It is proper that printers should pay tribute annually to their patron saint. Franklin's life and philosophy offer a splendid model for his fellow craftsmen. His career as a printer, business man, writer, statesman, man of science and diplomat reveals the heights to which a journeyman printer may rise." 5

Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston in 1706, and took up the printing trade at an early age.

C.N.R. CONDUCTOR HAS PASSED AWAY

Toronto, Jan. 5—The sudden death of Conductor Charles H. Adam took place at the family residence, 28 Pinewood Avenue, Toronto, Friday. He had not complained at all and was apparently in fine health until suddenly attacked with acute indigestion, passing away within one hour's time.

The late Chas. H. Adam will be remembered by scores and scores of people throughout Ontario, especially the travelling public of Port Hope, Peterboro, Lindsay, Toronto and other towns along the Port Hope-Toronto line of the Canadian National Railway. For 42 years he has been actively identified with the service, first as a brakesman and then as a conductor. He gave the Company for which he worked the best that was in him, retiring some years ago to live in Toronto.

GERMAN MERCHANTS VISITING MEXICO

Hamburg, Jan. 5.—A party of German merchants and manufacturers will leave here Jan. 31 for Mexico, where they will be given an official welcome. They will tour Mexico for 20 days, visiting the industrial, mining and oil regions of the republic. The travelers will land at Vera Cruz, but their return trip will be made through the United States.

Wheeled Yardmaster

Brockville, Jan. 5.—In payment of a hockey wager, Frank Giffin, supervisor of track for the C.N.R., wheeled Smith Pazzard, general yardmaster for the same line, in a wheelbarrow, the length of King street, in the presence of many amused spectators, and a screen camera. The performance was the outcome of Brockville's intermediate hockey victory in Belleville.

Set Mattress Afire

Oshawa, Jan. 5.—Last week a young girl, an inmate of the shelter, set fire to a mattress in one of the bedrooms but the blaze was extinguished before any serious trouble resulted. On Wednesday evening after 9 o'clock, the same girl got more matches and lit another mattress in a bedroom, causing another bit of excitement. No damage was done.

Cold for Watchnight

Apsley, Jan. 5.—Twenty-one persons braved a temperature of 19 below zero to attend a very impressive watchnight service at St. George's Church on New Year's Eve, which commenced at 11.30 p.m. and lasted until a few minutes after midnight. Some had four miles and seven miles to drive home afterwards.

Couple Were on Look Out For Grizzly Near Campbellford

Campbellford, Ont., Jan. 5—Clifford Brown, aged 22, of Stanwood, while hunting the big black bear which has been terrorizing the district was accidently shot by his companion, Allan Simpson, who was following in the rear and stumbled, causing his rifle to discharge.

Brown received the charge right through the abdomen. He was rushed to Peterboro Hospital where his condition is serious.

FAMILY HERALD CALENDAR

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, has commenced the distribution of a beautiful calendar for 1925 with a picture subject entitled "The Sale of Old Dobbin." The publishers announce that the calendar will be sent free to each subscriber whose subscription is entered for 1925. The Family Herald Calendar has been greatly admired by those who have received advance copies.

Professor J. B. Reynolds, M.A., President of the Ontario Agricultural College, said in a recent letter: "I am sure 'The Sale of Old Dobbin' will be welcome in every farm home to which it goes."

When one considers that the calendar is given free in addition to fifty issues of this big 72 page weekly, for which the subscription price is only two dollars, one marvels at the value received.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star has always been noted for its superexcellence as a family and farm paper, its low subscription price and generous premiums.

lleville C.N.R. Tied Allandale

Surprised Holders of Hockey Shield on Saturday Afternoon

GOOD GOAL-KEEPING

Buskard Made Clever Saves —Team Combines Well

Those who went along to Allandale with the Belleville C.N.R. hockey team on Saturday are convinced now that the Quinteville boys have a great chance to land near the top in the scramble for the C.N.R. Hockey shield. In a nifty exhibition, they played a tie game with their opponents, the score being 3-3.

Allandale are holders of the shield won and were surprised by Belleville's showing. A good crowd was on hand to see the game.

Buskard, in goal for Belleville, delivered a great game and made saving time and time again, when Allendale became dangerous.

Allandale took possession from the face-off. Luck took a pass from Desourdie but couldn't beat Buskard. The home team kept on the offensive for time and had Belleville worried some, but eventually Follwell broke through, only to shoot wide.

Hutchinson tried to bring the puck back into Belleville territory, but Seeny took it from him at centre ice. He passed to Riggs who skated inside the defence and beat the Allandale goalie with a nice high shot.

This reverse aroused the Allandale boys and they tried hard to equalise, but Buskard in goal was unbeatable just then, this in spite of the fact that Chummy Buskard on the defence was penalised for using an Allendale player and the boards in making a sardine sandwich. The first period ended 1-0 for Belleville.

Fast in Second

Fast hockey featured the start of the second period. Play went from end to end with both goal tenders handling difficult shots. O'Connor skated clean through only to see Buskard save. Then Desourdie and Tuck combined, but the former missed a perfect pass in front of the goal. Jepson drove in a nice shot but Buskard again cleared.

Chummy Buskard took possession, skated from end to end and beat the Allandale goalie with a hard drive.

From the face-off, play went to the Belleville end and in a general mix-up in front of the Belleville goal, O'Connor put one through.

Allandale attacked hard at this point and Belleville shot in their subs to hold them. O'Connor was going through, but Murray pulled him up. Murray soon after pulled a penalty for hard body checking and the bell rang with the score 2 to 1 for Belleville.

Allandale evened the score at the start of the last period, with Murray still in the penalty box. Jepson shot from outside and O'Connor skated in for the rebound giving the goal tender no chance.

Belleville came to life, however, and produced some good combination. Carmichael, Seeney and Riggs went down together, but Tuck and Hutchinson broke up the party. In a mix-up at Belleville's end, a moment later, Allandale claimed the rubber had been in. There was some argument about it and eventually the referee allowed the goal. This put Allandale in the lead with seven minutes to go.

Seeney the Hero

Belleville tried desperately to toe it up and were successful when with but two minutes left, Seeney broke through and equalized.

The teams:—

Allandale—Kilby, goal; Tuck and Hutchinson, defence, Desourdie, centre; Jepson, r wing; O'Connor, l wing; Pepper, sub.

Belleville— Buskard, goal; Follwell and C. Buskard, defence; Seeney, centre; J. Riggs r wing; Moore l wing; Murray and Carmichael, subs.

After the game the boys were shown round the Allandale roundhouse and later saw the Canadiens and St. Pat's play at Toronto. Next Saturday Belleville meet London at Arnott's Arena at 1 p.m. A good game is assured.

Boston Bruins are Just Nosed Again

Montreal Maroons Defeated Tail-Enders By Score Of 4-3

Montreal, Jan. 5.—Montreal just managed to snatch victory from the hustling, plugging Boston Bruins in the scheduled National Hockey League game played at the Forum Saturday night, Cecil Hart's newly-gathered team defeating their equally recently-assembled opponents 4 to 3.

Victory came only after a stubborn third period in which Art Ross' Bruins overcame a 3 to 1 lead registered against them and tied the count after persistent rushes. However, the game was only deadlocked 50 seconds before "Dutch" Cain ,substitute Montreal defence player, cleared from in front of Benedict and, working his way through the Boston opposition, circled the final defences and beat Stewart for what proved the winning tally. There were five players a side when the score was registered.

It was a thrilling hectic third period, wtih a free fight between Sammy Rothschild and "Red" Stuart, which for a time threatened to become general, and other minor frays thrown in and generally mixed wtih the swaying tide of fortune as the visitors made their final effort to come from behind to break their long list of consecutive losses.

It was all exciting for the 4,000 fans, who, incidentally, strongly supported the Art Ross clan, to such an extent in fact that the crowd was about evenly divided in its support, and it would have been quite a popular victory among those assembled had the Bruins been successful in their rally. The support was, no doubt, that generally accorded a tail-end team and came partly because Art Ross, Boston manager, enjoys a following in this, his home city, and for the courageous, uphill fight staged by the Bruins after being apparently out of it with the score 3 to 0 against them in the second period.

Herberts Starred

Herberts ably backed up Stuart in attack, and the big defence player proved a factor for Boston by counting two goals for his side, besides blocking well. He also came in for close attention and was frequently dumped to the ice. He mixed sturdily with the opposition, and made three trips to the penalty bench, in all having quite a checkered evening. The youthful Boston forwards, Redding, Headley, Mitchell and Schnarr, backed up by the aggressive Alf Skinner, veteran pro-player, were much improved over their past showing here, the visitors altogether making many friends by their contest.

Ottawa Senators Win Three in Row

Put Hamilton Back With Canadiens By 2-0 Victory

Ottawa, January 5.—Registering their third consecutive victory within a week, the Ottawa Senators triumphed over the league-leading Hamilton Tigers here Saturday night by a score of two goals to nil. The victory keeps the locals on even terms with Montreal in the National Hockey League race, the two being in third place.

A capacity house turned out to see the two teams in action, which in their last local encounter, battled eighty minutes to a scoreless draw. The hockey throughout was high class and replete with thrills. The close checking, hang-on-to-your-man type of hockey, which usually attends a game between two such evenly matched teams was missing last night, and in its place, the spectators were treated to a splendid exhibition of the open game. While the checking was hard, close and consistent, there was enough of the aggressive hockey by both teams to present numerous chances for goals, and to keep the crowd in a high state of excitement at all times.

That veteran star of the Ottawa team, Cy Denneny, earned the highest laurels. The sharp-shooter turned in one of his very best games, and it was appropriate that the two goals secured by his team should both have come from his stick.

His first goal came after nineteen minutes play in the first period, when he teamed up with Clancy and took the latter's pass, going through the defence. Forbes never had a chance to reach the bullet-like shot Denneny rifled into the far corner of the net.

Peterboro Team Looks Formidable

Will Have Heckman and Whitehouse on Mound Next Year

Peterboro, Jan. 5.—A new baseball organization, with the object of giving Peterboro home-brew baseball next summer, and being practically an amalgamation of the players of last year's Central League and C.G.E. Midland League Clubs, has been launched, and will make application for a berth in the Central Ontario League.

The officers of the new club which will be known as the Peterboro Athletic and Baseball Club, are as follows:

Hon. Presidents: Mayor J. J. Turner, and George C. MacDonald.
President: Gordon Matthews.
Vice-President: H. P. McFadden.
Secretary: Doug. McDonald.
Treasurer: Sheriff F. J. Hall.
Executive: Robert Abbott, R. M. Glover, O. DeGraw, J. E. Sullivan and L. H. Bond.

"Shiner" Johnston has been appointed manager of the new organization and players who have consented to throw in their lot with the club are Ray Rose, Bob Ross, Jack McCarney, "Scotty" McPherson, and Herb Wolfe of the C.G.E. team; Frank Whitehouse, pitcher of the Lakeviews, Jr. O.B.A.A. champions, and Al. Heckman, Max Swanston, Hap. Harrison, Tommy Holyman, "Red" Legon, Jimmy Hall and other members of last year's Peterboro Central League Club.

With Heckman and Whitehouse on the mound and Swanston and Ross as catchers, the battery positions will give "Shiner" Johnston few worries; while the addition of the best of the C.G.E. squad to last year's Petes, provides plenty of strength for outfield and infield positions. It will be a real "home brew" aggregation and the development should be popular with the fans.

Canadiens Crawl Back up on Top

Beat St. Pats 3 to 1; Holway Stood Out as Star

Toronto, January 5.—Although Canadiens had a strenuous game in Hamilton on Thursday night and were not in the best of shape to meet St. Patrick's at the Arena on Saturday night, the Irish started out to play the puck in the first period, instead of the man, and this apparently wrong selection of tactics resulted in Canadiens scoring a 3 to 1 victory, and as Hamilton lost in Ottawa, the champions are again on the top rung of the ladder with the Hams.

With St. Patricks allowing Canadiens to make the most of their superior speed in the first period, the world's champions scored two goals, and from then on had only to play a defensive game and allow the Irish to do all the skating and attacking. In the second period the locals started out to bump the Canadiens, but it was too late, and the visitors held the two-goal margin from the first period to the end, increasing it by one in the third and having it reduced by the same amount two minutes from the end of the game.

Canadiens did not take any more chances than they had to and seldom did they go down more than two abreast, while in the final period Joliat was the only one to show anything in the way of offensive hockey, and he was after goals all the time. By scoring the Montrealers' last two goals he gained on Dye in the individual contest, as the latter was held to one counter by Vezina. Canadiens have been known in the past as a sixty-minute team and the substitutes have had little chance to show this season, but Leo Dandurand showed that his regulars were not in shape for a grueling struggle by commencing to relieve them after ten minutes play, and during the night every member of the regular team, with the exception of Vezina, was given one or more rests.

On the play the winners' superiority was even more clear cut than is shown in the final score. In the last period they preferred to rag the puck and the Cleghorn boys toyed with the local attacking brigade around Vezina's citadel.

Once they obtained a two-goal lead they took few chances of being stepped into and, as a rule, shot from outside the local defence.

Holway and Corbeau gave Roach good protection, although Joliat broke through the outer defence to get both his goals on rebounds, while Morenz rounded Corbeau to get the opening counter of the game. The Irish defence players rushed continually, but seldom got further than the Canadien defence, but each time they rushed there was a lot of excitement.

Holway turned in his best game of the season, and it is hoped that it was not a flash in the pan. He showed lots of courage by instituting a feud with every member of the visiting team and participated in many bumping matches. He was away out in the lead in the exchanges until near the end of the game, when he had to be assisted off the ice after a scrimmage near his own goal, as a result of a butt end.

St. Patricks—Roach, goal; Corbeau and Holway, defence; Adams, centre; Dye, right; Day, left; McCaffrey, Reid and Fisher, subs.

Referee, Dr. W. J. Laflamme, Toronto.

Kingston Appears To be Right There

Men Worked Together Well Following Some Good Coaching

The Kingston Standard on Saturday had the following to say about the Brockville-Kingston game on Friday night:

Kingston intermediates opened the local O.H.A. season in truly auspicious fashion last night when they defeated Brockville by the score of 7 to 4 before a crowd of over 2000 fans at the Harty Arena, in a red-hot contest from start to finish. The locals were superior at most stages of the game, and turned in a splendid performance which should carry them a long way towards the championship.

The result of the coaching of Prof. Gelley was seen more than once last night, when the locals would go down the ice three men abreast, and their passing was effective and brilliant at all times. Every man worked like a Trojan, and they deserved the victory over the strong and well-conditioned Brockville team.

Kingston won because they played hockey, bored in on their shots, and because Rogers was a stonewall goaler. The Kingston net guardian turned in a sensational performance, especially in the first and second periods, when he made many seemingly impossible saves . Roney, on the defence for Kingston was perhaps the best man on the ice. His blocking was great, and his stick-handling at all times spectacular. One goal he scored was one of the nicest ever seen here. He was ably supported by Watts, who got in some good work but had hard luck with his shooting. Joe Smith never worked harder on the wing, and was in the game the entire sixty minutes with the exception of one short rest. At centre Gibson checked as never before. He broke up many rushes, and was always in his position. Terry Millan, despite the fact that he is over weight, proved a sensation. His heady playing was always much in evidence and his deadly shooting had Murray guessing. Chummy Lawlor and Vern Johnston were by no means the weakest men on the ice.

For Brockville Murray in goal, and Munro on the wing, were the best. The former had a busy session and was always on the job, while Munro's tricky stick-handling resulted in much work for Rogers. Kerwin played well at centre, and Guest was good on the defence, though he was inclined to rough things up a bit, and took several trips to the penalty bench.

The game was a strenuous one, as is seen by the fact that seventeen penalties were handed out, ten of them going to Brockville. Heavy checking, and hooking were the main reasons for the enforced rests.

Stan Nurse of Belleville handled the bell and with the exception of a few doubtful decisions on offsides, gave satisfaction.

Praises Hotels of United States

English Architect Says They Put London Places To Shame

London, Jan. 5.—England will never adopt the skyscraper because it is being realized in America that the tall buildings convert the streets in to veritable canyons, in the opinion of Topham Forrest, architect to the London County Council, who has just returned from an official visit to the United States.

Mr. Forrest says that in plumbing and sanitation arrangements he found the United States far ahead of Great Britain, and that the educational buildings are far better equipped and finished than those in England.

In regard to hotels Mr. Forrest says that the best hotel in the comparatively small city of Buffalo would, if dumped down in Piccadilly, put the best London hotels to shame. American hotels excel in the matter of service and in design, and the leading hotel architects of Great Britain are visiting the United States to study methods of hotel construction.

Presbyterians Met In Anglican Church

Were Not Allowed Use of St. Andrew's At Peterboro

Peterboro, Jan. 5.—Like their forefathers, the covenanters, who were driven to secret places to hold their meetings, over a hundred members of Knox Presbyterian Church who dissent from Union were gathered Friday night in the Parish Hall of All Saints' Anglican Church, to hear reasons and plans for continuing the Presbyterian Church in Canada. With them assembled as many more from each of St. Paul's and St. Andrew's, the other two Presbyterian Churches in Peterboro, and the hall was crowded almost to capacity. It was an earnest band, founding its claim on the right to free worship enjoyed by citizens of the British Empire through ages past; demanding that though the Union strip them of property and name, it yet leave them their traditions that have been handed down from the heart of the Old Testament for which their great-grandfathers died, and for which they are prepared to go out on the street beggared as to Church property but rich in the possession of their grand old faith.

The leaders of the Union cause were criticized; the methods of the 'Act of Union were denounced as unfair; the action of Knox Church session in excluding them from the church was labelled unjust, but no criticism was offered throughout the evening of the Unionists who are content to go into the new Church. "Freedom to worship God, according to our consciences and after the manner of our fathers" was the object of the Presbyterian Church Association as it was articulated last night, and the speakers conceded the same right to everyone else.

Rev. W. F. McConnell, of Toronto, a man of strong personality and fluent speech, was the principal speaker. The meeting was conducted by Arthur McLeish, Sr., who presided, and John Anderson, both members of the Board of Managers of Knox Church.

ST. ANDREW'S VOTE STARTED LAST EVENING

Congregation Met and Have Arranged all Necessary Details

W. J. CAMPBELL CLERK

Ballots May Be Cast Up Until January 21st

The congregation of St. Andrew's Church met last evening in the auditorium of the church to arrange for the vote that will determine whether or not St. Andrew's church will enter the United Church of Canada which comes into being June 10th 1925.

There was a large attendance of the members indicating the interest that is being taken in the question. The minister of the church, Rev. A. S. Kerr, presided. Mr. Newton Thompson was appointed secretary. Col. S. S. Lazier presented a number of resolutions dealing with the time, form and manner of voting which were in substance adopted. Mr. W. J. Campbell was appointed Poll Clerk.

Immediately at the close of the meeting voting was proceeded with, the privilege being taken advantage of by a number of members who expected to be leaving town temporarily but who would not have another opportunity of casting their votes.

The poll will be open for voting in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Church on Thursday, Jan. 8th, from 4 to 6 o'clock, on Friday Jan. 9th, from 7.30 to 9 p.m. and on alternate days with the exception of Sunday until the evening of Jan. 21st, on which evening the result of the voting will be declared.

The meeting closed with the Benediction.

Bench Is Lenient With Foreigners

Decides Against Imposing Maximum Fine on Point Anne Man

Pleading guilty through his counsel to a charge of having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling house, contrary to section 41 of the O.T.A. Nicholas Gurniak, Point Anne boarding house keeper, was fined $200 and costs of $19 in police court here this morning. Gurniak issued a cheque covering the fine and costs, and is again a free man.

Charges of drinking in a public place which had been preferred against Sam Gurniak, his brother, Sam Belak, and Nick Tomchuk al lboarders at his house were withdrawn by the Crown when Nick pleaded guilty to the greater charge.

These cases had been twice before enlarged, and are now definitely disposed of.

After counsel for accused, C. A. Payne had asked for the minimum fine which was imposed, and after Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan had asked for half of the maximum of $2,000, Magistrate Massen gave his reasons for imposing the minimum fine.

"These men are foreigners", he began, "and knowing that the Niagara wine is lawfuly allowed to be sold to them, they apparently did not know it was wrong to use it in their house. If they were wilfully selling, knowing that it was contrary to law, it would be perfectly right for you Mr. Donnan to ask for the extreme penalty of $2,000 or the half of it. The government, in passing the Act allowed native wines to be sold in five gallon kegs or cases of one dozen bottles. This is accused's first offense under a charge of this kind."

Government Attitude

"The government does not want money so much as an example being made. It wants people to know that while this wine may be purchased, it is not to be sold, and may be used only in private homes."

"The minimum fine under the circumstances will be sufficient."

"There has been a technical breach of section 41 of the Act," explained C. A. Payne, defense counsel. There was Niagara wine in the house, and the accused being a foreigner does not understand the question as to whether there were three or four boarders at his house when the seizure of the wine was made."

Since he had pleaded guilty, and because he was not conversant with the English law and language, the minimum was askekd for.

"This has been a peculiar case from the start", explained Crown Attorney Donnan.

"There has been great difficulty throughout in getting the evidence. There is a condition down there however which should not exist, and in view of the serious nature of the offense and owing to the stand taken by the accused, I must urge that a heavy penalty be imposed. I do not believe that "$1,000 would be too much, nor do I see why I should not urge that it be imposed."

The explanation of the interesting case, is that while accused had lawfully purchased a keg of Niagara wine, he was not allowed to keep it in his boarding house where there was evidence of four boarders residing. Three boarders other than members of the family is the limit. More than that number make a house public and a place where intoxicating liquor cannot lawfully be kept under section 41 of the O.T.A.

Eight persons committed suicide over Niagara Falls during 1924. Of these three were women.

Author of "Sanctuary" In MacLeans Was Robie Holmes of Charles Street

Through the courtesy of the Editor of MacLean's Magazine, it is learned that Mrs. R. E. Breach, the latest addition to the ranks of Canadian novelists, who obtained her schooling at Belleville High School, was Robie Holmes.

In a night lettergram, sent from her present home at Holden, Alberta, Mrs. Breach said she came to Belleville from Kingston after her parents died and attended the Belleville High School from 1901 to 1905 exclusive.

She lived on Charles street with her Aunt Mrs. Holmes, since deceased and attended Bridge Street Methodist Sunday School.

Mrs. Breach adds, "I was the worst kid in town."

Her father and mother settled in Huntingdon Township in 1840, her father being Rev. John Holmes.

GAVE RARE TREAT TO MUSIC LOVERS

Misses Hunt and Walton Charmed With Violin and Voice

Music lovers of Belleville were entertained last night at a musical recital of the highest order presented by two Belleville ladies, who have achieved prominence in musical circles in Canada and the United States. Miss Helen Hunt, violinist, and Miss Strethel Walton, contralto soloist. The gymnasium at the Y.M.C.A. was well-filled with an appreciative audience, and the program offered by the two artists, assisted by Professor V. P. Hunt, accompanist, gave a delightful variety.

Miss Hunt looked charming in an evening dress with a pale pink foundation and lace overdress. Miss Walton was becomingly gowned in jade green trimmed with silver ribbon.

In all her selections, Miss Hunt showed a masterly knowledge of her instrument, which has a superb tone and was made about the year 1770 in Italy.

Miss Walton possesses a rich contralto voice, and her numbers received hearty applause, both in the lighter selections, and in the more serious ones which required real talent.

The opening number was Andante from a Spanish Symphony by Lalo, and was a difficult and heavy violin solo, which was brilliantly executed by Miss Hunt. With Miss Walton's first appearance, she sang three Italian songs very sweetly.

A group of American pieces including Deep River, and Land of the Sky Blue Water were greatly appreciated, also Miss Walton's three little love songs.

The final selection consisted of the two young ladies and Mr. Hunt presenting Hanscom's Lullaby, and Lieurance's By the Waters of the Minnetonka, both charmingly rendered.

Prof. Hunt then expressed his thanks, on behalf of the two young ladies and their appreciation of the fine interest shown when they appeared in their home town.

Mrs. Hogg is still resting in the hospital, but is improving very satisfactorily, her many friends will be glad to learn.

HEAVY DAMAGES DONE BY FIRE AND WATER

Haileybury Ont., Jan. 6.—Heavy damage was done to the store, stock and fixtures of the Liggett Drug Company here, when fire, breaking out in the basement of the building shortly before midnight, burnt through the joists and caused the floor to collapse.

The blaze was difficult to reach and the brigade could not get it under control until the cellar had been flooded to a depth of eight feet. In the absence of the manager of the store an estimate of the loss is not obtainable, but it will run into many thousands of dollars.

Stewart Testifies In Gough Defence

Tells of Daly Knowing the Bank's Condition Eighteen Months

Toronto, Jan. 6—J. F. M. Stewart, former Home Bank director convicted of negligence, took the witness stand this morning in defence of his fellow director R. P. Gough, on trial for making false statements concerning bank's affairs to Minister of Finance. Mr. Stewart entered the box to tell of his story of various companies with which he and other bank directors were connected. He said the syndicate including himself and M. J. Haney put half a million dollars in a Halifax ship yards most of which money came from the Home Bank.

J. F. M. STEWART,

Witness said he had been invited to join the bank directorate by the late J. Daly, President, who had told him the bank was making the usual amount of profit.

Mr. Stewart broke down when telling of the directors meeting of Aug 7, 1923, when A. E. Calvert presented a statement showing the bank was broke. He said he could not describe the effect of the blow on directors. Wiping his eyes, witness said the late H. J. Daly announced that it was his mess and he would accept the responsibility for the crowd but, added witness "before the meeting was over he made a worse mess of himself than I am doing now and eventually had to be taken home". Continuing Stewart told of a clash between President Daly and Calvert during which Daly declared Calvert did not know enough about the bank to know its condition. Finally Daly told Calvert he was through and asked him to leave the room. Calvert replied that if he left the room he would be through. Other Directors urged Calvert to remain. After Calvert had gone, Daly declared he had known the true condition of the bank for 18 months but did not tell other directors because he did not think they had enough red blood in their veins to stand it. He then declared he would take the punishment for the crowd.

MAN IS STRICKEN ATTENDING MASS

Joseph Brusseau, well known carer in this city was stricken with paralysis while he attended mass at St. Michael's Church this morning. The unfortunate man was removed to the general hospital where he is doing as well as could be expected. The paralytic stroke is not considered fatal.

Inspector Makes Wild Stab at Spelling Serbian Name; Bench Expresses Surprise

Peculiar spelling of Rumanian, Serbian and Russian names in the Point Anne colony, still provides police court fun.

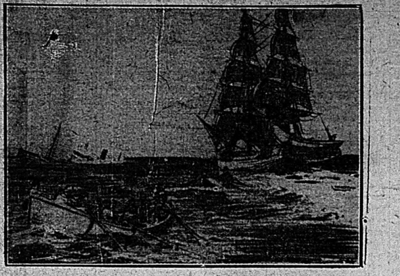
This morning the accrate eye of the bench noticed that Inspector F. Naphan has mis-spelled Gurniak's name in the information. He spelled it "Gurnuk."

"My mistake, your worship" confessed the Inspector, when attention was drawn to the word.

"I am surprised at you, an artist and first prize winner at school in spelling matches, making such a mistake," smiled the beak.

"That's right enough, sir," modestly admitted the Inspector.

Nick Gurniak assured the court of the proper spelling of his christian name.



A drawing of the Marie Celeste, the mystery of which has probably been solved after half a century by the story of Capt. James Lacy, British sailor, that the crew divided the treasure on board, and then went to Cadiz in small boats. The ship was found drifting at sea. Above, the vessel abandoned by her crew.

Contests Close About the County

E. W. Brown, Elected Reeve of Thurlow; J. G. Campbell Heads Tyendinaga

Reports from Tyendinaga and Thurlow show close contests and much interest on the part of ratepayers in the municipal elections yesterday. In Tyendinaga, J. G. Campbell was elected Reeve by a close vote and J. E. McKinney deputy reeve. In Thurlow, J. L. Sills, for a long time a member of that Council was defeated by E. S. Brown. The contest here took on a real political aspect, the conservatives getting in four members to one liberal.

Away up north it was difficult to get complete returns, but word from Bancroft indicated close contests there also.

FRANKFORD VILLAGE

The contest in Frankford village was close for the positions of the various offices to be filled. Mr. J. E. Finnegan, former Reeve was defeated by 11 votes. The result was as follows:

Reeve
H. Miller—230.
J. E. Finnegan—219.
Councillors
Chas. A. Morris—232.
Elmer O. Freeman—213.
Geo. W. Potter—209.
James Ford—20.
H. Foster—203.
G. A. Simmons—175.
The first four are elected.
School Trustees
Leonard Hendricks—286.
Walter T. Morrow—249.
A. B. Harrison—239.
A. A. Whitelow—233.
Harvey Patrick—153.
The first three are elected as trustees.

STIRLING

C. B. McGuire had majority over Chas. Van. Allen of 13 for Reeve.

Councillors—Hugh Morden, Sam Hatton, Tom Cranston, Jeddie Thompson.

THURLOW

The contest in the township of Thurlow was one of much interest and the vote polled was one of the largest in the history of the municipality. Mr. J. G. Sills, who has been Reeve since the passing of Mr. N. Vermilyea and a member of the council for a number of years was defeated by Mr. E. W. Brown for the Reeveship. The latter was Deputy-Reeve last year. The vote was as follows:

Reeve—E. W. Brown, 876; J. G. Sills, 718; Maj. for Brown, 158.

Deputy-Reeve—R. M. Mitchell 983; D. Ketcheson, 497; Maj. for Mitchell 386.

Councillors—W. Gray, 665; J. W. Embury, 660; Daniel McDonnell, 536; Donald McDonald, 517; W. B. Tuits, 497; H. Townsend, 353; G. Clapp, 288. The first three are the Councillors-elect.

CAMPBELLFORD

Special Despatch to the Intelligencer

Campbellford, January 6—Old time enthusiasm permeated this town in the municipal elections held Monday and the same encouraging spirit prevailed through Percy and Seymour townships also.

Mayor A. J. Meyers was again returned as Chief Magistrate of Campbellford and this will make his fifth term in municipal life, fourth year as Mayor.

Very strong councils hvae been returned in the town and townships, Campbellford's council being the strongest elected in many years.

Following are the election results.

CAMPBELLFORD— Mayor, A. J. Meyers, reeve, C. Davidson (acc.); deputy-reeve, C. Palliser; council, G. A. Kingston, S. J. Moore, R. H. Cole, R. Southworth, W. S. Wiggins and W. Abernethy.

SEYMOUR TOWNSHIP—Reeve W. S. Grills deputy-reeve, Russell Peake councillors, W. T. Allan, Robert Lynn and Robert Innes.

PERCY TOWNSHIP—Reeve, John McCubbin, deputy-reeve, Herbert Nelson; councillors, Messrs. Poole, Laver and Sykes.

MONTEAGLE

Reeve—John M. Anderson.

Councillors— Jos. H. Davis, Thos. Robinson, Hector Scott, Gus Shanick

CARLOW

Henry Haryett was elected Reeve.

FARADAY

Reeve—W. E. Wiggins.

Councillors—C. W. Bierworth, Duncan McLellan, Melville Vader.

TYENDINAGA

The election in this municipality resulted in the return of the former Reeve and Deputy Reeve.

Reeve—J. G. Campbell.

Deputy Reeve—J. A. McKinney.

AMELIASBURG

In the township of Ameliasburg the contest formunicipal honors was a lively one, candidates contending for the Reeveship, Deputy Reeve and Councillors. The result was as follows:

Reeve—J. A. Weese.

Deputy Reeve—Geo. S. Wallbridge.

Councillors—W. H. Montgomery, Saylor Smith, Frances Wood.

LIMERICK

Alex McKenzie is elected Reeve of Limerick Township, having defeated R. C. Brett.

TUDOR AND CASHEL

Mr. W. A. McMurray, Reeve of Tudor and Cashel townships was accorded a second term of office by acclamation.

Peter A. Kellar is elected Reeve of Mayo Township, having defeated Frank hite and Charles Burlanyett is Reeve of Bangor, Wicklow and McClure by acclamation.

A GOOD BUY

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 6.—One Ottawa citizen got a nice surprise during the festival season of late December. He bought a box of chocolates in an Ottawa store, but on opening it found, not chocolates, but $867 in cash—the total day's receipts of the store. And the store got a real surprise when the buyer returned the money, for there would have been no clue to the person who had been sold the "box of chocolates." The store cashier had placed the receipts in an empty chocolate box, and confused it with other boxes.

Add Many Names To Committees

Splendid Interest Shown in Affairs of Old Boys' Re-Union

Many names were added to committees at the meeting of the executive committee of the Old Boys' Re-Union Committee held at Judge Wills Chambers at the Chamber of Commerce last evening. There was a fine attendance of committee members.

The following names were added:

Publicity Committee—S. B. Dawson H. Morton, C. D. Tice, T. A. Little.

Finance Committee—H. E. Fairfield H. Saunders, Charles Dolan, George Ketcheson, J. Bone, A. Snider, W. E. Scott, J. Elliott, W. A. Parker, A. Jones and A. D. Harper.

Decoration Committee—R. Wotten, H. Wolfe, S. E. Carman, W. C. Springer, T. H. Coppin, G. Sinclair, W. J. Carter and J. Cook.

The committee adjourned until January 14th at 7.30 p.m. at Judge Wills' Chambers.

Kiwanis Talking Auto For Nurse

Interesting Meeting Held at New Queen's To-day

The question as to whether or not the Kiwanis Club should set about to procure a small car for the use of the Victorian Order Nurse in Belleville was discussed at the regular meeting held to-day, but was left over for further consideration.

As it is at present, Miss Shand is compelled to waste many minutes of her time every day in walking from one end of the city to another and it is considered advisable to make the expenditure.

The meeting to-day was the first held under the presidency of W. H. Lattimer and was crammed with interest.

An interesting ceremony was carried out before luncheon was served when W. H. (Bill) Lattimer and Russ Wotten were duly installed as president and vice-president respectively. The new officers were led into the dining room by Bob Gorman. They were clad in aprons and bonnets and shackled together with real honest-to-goodness handcuffs. A huge iron mallet was presented for a gavel to the president and a giant biscuit box to the vice-president for a fine box.

After it was all over, past-president McLaurin discovered he had lost the key to the handcuffs.

W. H. Nugent, County Clerk, B. Ayrhart, Reeve of Marmora and J. G. Campbell, Reeve of Tyendinaga, were introduced as guests by Andy Davie.

Tuesday night next was chosen as ladies night.

The following chairmen of committees were appointed:

Membership George Cole; program Fred Malott; attendance, George Lee; educational, Cliff Dyer; reception, Fred Hill; public affairs, Ed. O'Flynn Inter-city relations, Charles Hanna, Jack McIntosh; music, Harold Holton; classification, Sam Cronk; finance George Griffin; house committee, Herb Fish.

IRISH MANAGE TO NOSE BRUINS OUT

Boston, Jan. 6—St. Patrick's won a fast game from the luckless Boston Bruins last night by the narrow score of 3 goals to 2. On their last visit to Boston the Irishmen routed the locals 10 to 1 and the difference fairly represents the improvement in Art Ross's proteges in the interim.

Babe Dye, of St. Pat's an ornament on any hockey team, who scored five goals when his team was here before could not get going. He was the most closely checked player on the ice and was smothered almost every time the puck came his way. He scored one goal in the second period by a brilliant burst of speed and a wicked shot.

The Bruins, in vastly better form than they showed in the early season, worked hard, but fell short of the winning class. Their passing was bad and their shooting worse, but they held St. Pats scoreless in the first period and notched the only tally of the third. At the last the crowd of 2,500 was calling for a goal to tie the score and it looked a likely bet.

The game was less rough than previous engagements here, with St. Pats drawing the bulk of the penalties. Ingram, a recruit from Moncton, N.B. was given a tryout by the Bruins, but had little opportunity to show his wares.

Garrison Badminton Club to Be Formed; Officers Invited to Organization Meet

At a meeting of the Officers of The Argyll Light Infantry held in the Armouries last evening it was decided to immediately form a Badminton Club to be known as "The Belleville Garrison Badminton Club" and for the purposes of organization all Officers (including Officers on the Reserve) in the Garrison are invited to attend at the Officers' Mess in the Armouries at 8 p.m. on Thursday next January 8th, when committees will be appointed to carry out the organization as speedily as possible.

It is deemed possible to have four courts playing at one and the same time on the spacious Armoury floor. The showers will be put in operation and the bowling alley will be at the disposal of the club.

CUPID LOAFS IN THIS CITY DURING 1924

Marriages Have Fallen Off In Comparison With 1923

JUNE IS POPULAR

Twenty-four Couples Said "I Do" Last June

Dan Cupid, the boy with the "infectious" dart, has been loafing in Belleville during 1924, and it was Leap Year too.

Vital statistics compiled and supplied by City Clerk Wilfred Holmes, show that ten fewer couples took the uncertain matrimonial plunge in 1924, than in 1923. During 1923, 163 couples visited their favorite clergyman, but during Leap Year only 153 couples were wedded.

June was the banner month both years, May of 1923 and August of 1924 being the slack months. Twenty-four couples were married here last June and 31 during June, 1923.

Births of course decreased also, there being 362 births in 1923 and 350 in 1924.

Deaths for 1924 equalled the 1923 record exactly, the number being 218. Mortality rate was highest in February and July, 1924, 27 persons passing in each month.

In 1923 there were 109 males and 109 females who died; last year 106 males and 113 females.

There were 181 boys and 181 girls born in 1923, but in 1924, the girls out did the boys 186 to 166.

Death classifications here are as follows:

	1923	1924
Still born or premature	18	18
Under 1 year	29	33
From 1 year to 10 years	8	8
From 10 years to 18 years	4	5
From 18 years to 30 years	8	13
From 30 years to 50 years	20	30
From 50 years to 70 years	63	57
Over 70 years	70	53
	218	218

INSPECTOR MAY GO TO KINGSTON JAIL

Kingston, Ont. Jan. 6.—Monday morning, Judge H. A. Lavell, acting upon the request of W. H. Herrington, solicitor, issued an order directing John Pollie, former agent for the Children's Aid Society, to produce a child aged a little over two years, which be handed over to foster parents in December, 1922, or else be committed to jail until he does. Mr. Pollie, who was agent of the Children's Aid Society for four years, was asked to resign in October, 1922, but was paid up until the end of the year.

In December, 1922, a child was born to an unmarried county resident at the Kingston General Hospital. At the request of the mother, the child, when a few weeks old, was handed over to foster parents, where it is at the present time. The mother of the child recently secured the services of W. H. Herrington for the purposes of having the child turned over to her, which Mr. Pollie absolutely refuses to do, and says that he will go to jail before he responds to the request.

ON A BIG SCALE

Early in December, The Daily Intelligencer suggested an advertising campaign as a means for attracting a better class of immigrants to Canada. The claim was made that the right sort of advertising, the kind that would challenge the spirited, healthy, athletic type of young man to match his ability with the hardship of mining and farming, would draw better results than some of the staid, departmentalized methods now employed.

The idea struck a responsive chord in Vancouver, and the following was received from the Vancouver Publicity Bureau, of which J. R. Davison is manager:

"I was much interested by an editorial in your paper of December 10th in which you point out something of what Canada can do by advertising Canada as a whole. Your point is very well taken indeed and I thought you would be interested in knowing of the plan we have suggested to the Dominion Government for advertising along one particular line.

"We are suggesting that the Dominion Government should put on a publicity campaign in the United States to back up the work of those already advertising, as well as to bring business to every community.

"The scheme suggests that advertising be run in leading newspapers and magazines across the line and that this be augmented by stories, pictures, etc. I am sending herewith a synopsis of the plan suggested, which I think gives a fair idea of it.

"While the program has, as its main idea, the development of the tourist traffic, there should be placed in the advertisements mention of the resources, lands, timber, mines, waterpower, raw material and the special attractions of fishing, hunting and sports of all kinds.

"The immediate effect of such advertising would be, of course, the increase in the number of visitors from the south and from these we would get a certain percentage of investors and manufacturers.

"We, in Vancouver, spend from $40,000 to $50,000 a year to bring visitors here and you may judge whether or not this is considered a good expenditure from the fact that the business men, some 650 of them, including the best in the city, have given us for some nine years money for such advertising, in ever increasing amounts.

"I am sending you by this mail reprints of some of the advertisements we have been running south of the line and also, in the prairies and eastern Canada. We believe that similar space taken on behalf of the Dominion Government in selected points in the United States would be of immense value.

"Much money has been spent to attract settlers, to aid agriculture, lumbering and other major industries but almost nothing to increase this tourist travel. This could be made one of the most profitable businesses of Canada and the adoption of some such plan as we have suggested will assist very materially in this.

"The following are some of the reasons for such a step:

"1.—Canada needs business, also does the C.N.R., C.P.R., etc.

"2.—The United States has more money than ever. Its people are healthy customers for our climate and scenery.

"3. The immediate results will be the influx of tourists who will spend millions. The secondary results—that many of them will stay or decide to stay and invest in farms, factories, mills, mines, etc. Instead of requiring assistance as immigrants do—railways, roads, schools, markets, etc.,—millions more of these travellers can be accommodated by the present facilities and they will give us the necessary money to provide their accommodation in later years.

"4.—These results will provide a new impetus to business.

"5.—The plan does not call for a big organization or overhead. In the first year at any rate, the C.N.R., C.P.R., Provincial Governments and advertising communities will take care of the increase.

AN EDUCATION CENTRE

Dr. Baker and a few others of this community have been working to establish Belleville as an "education centre." Their mottoes are praiseworthy and not without hope of realization when one considers the reputations of the Belleville High School, Albert College and The Ontario Business College.

But while we are looking for big results, it might be well to consider for a moment what has been done up to the present time in the way of producing scholars and artists.

One cannot begin to enumerate all former citizens of Belleville and the district who have gained signal success partly through their early activities here, but such names as Sir Gilbert Parker, Knight McGregor, Beatrice Lille, Miss Helen Hunt, Miss Strethel Walton, who entertained, at the Y.M.C.A. last evening, and now Mrs. R. E. Breach, novelist, associated with Belleville are significant.

The stability of citizenship, in evidence always, general appreciation of the finer things in life and careful training in educational centres have done much and will do more in producing individuals who have the desire and the ability to carry on the artists' work.

A JOKE

The Montreal Star can see no hope for Canada's salvation in the good offices of the Conservative or the Liberal parties. Lord Atholstan is suggesting that the only way out of the slough of despond is to set up a Union Government along the same lines as that other government back during the war.

The Kingston Standard applauds the idea in jest and suggests the following cabinet:

"Prime Minister, Secretary of State for External Affairs, President of the Privy Council—Lord Atholstan.

"Minister of Finance—Lord A—.

"Minister of Railways and Canals—Lord A———n.

"Postmaster - General— L——— A———.

"Minister without Portfolio—Athy.

"Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment and the Minister in charge of and to administer the Department of Health—L——d A——.

"Minister of Customs and Excise—L—— Ath———.

"Minister of Justice and Atttorney-General — ——d —t——n.

"Minister of Imigration and Colonization—L—r— A——t—n.

"Minister of Trade and Commerce— —rd ——ol——.

"Secretary of State — Lo—d A—h—l—t—n.

"Minister of Interior, Superintendent General of Indian Affairs, Minister of Mines—Lord!

"Minister of Agriculture—Lord Athol———.

"Minister of Labor — L— ——stan.

"Minister without Portfolio—Lord At———.

"Minister of Public Works—Lord —hol——.

"Minister of National Defence—Lord ———tan.

"Solicitor-General — Lord At——an.

It is to be expected that the country as a whole will take the Montreal Star's plan as seriously as the Kingston Standard.

Press Opinions

PRECEPT AND PRACTICE

Toronto Saturday Night:

It is to be hoped that the U.F.O. is really serious in the proposal that its local clubs should inculcate the O.T.A. principles in their own districts. Since it was almost entirely in these districts that the majority against Government Control was obtained. It is surprising to learn that abstention from liquor is a matter of profession rather than practice in the farming districts. It is to be hoped that in demanding severe punishment for bootleggers, the U.F.O. were thinking of a clean-up in their own districts. O.T.A. enforcement is notoriously much less vigilant in the country than it is in the towns and cities; and a willingness on the part of rural communities to practice what they vote for would be welcome as an evidence of sincerity.

The most astonishing thing about the myriad proposals that came up for discussion was an apparent fondness for arbitrary measures. Men who were for freedom in one matter seemed to be in favor of repression in others, and thiugh the bosses of the convention kept the lid on rather creditably, it was plain that what this country needs more than anything else is education on the broad questions of the liberty of the subject and on the limitations of law in human society. A list of the resolutions submitted to the U. F. O. convention, would bear a close affinity to the legal codes of the early Tudors.

SMOKING IN PUBLIC PLACES

Ottawa Journal:

Protests against smoking in the auditorium during the progress of hockey games are more than justified. The vast majority of hockey patrons have enough of sportsmanship and of good manners to obey the injunction of the management against smoking. But there still appears to be a large number who, apparently preferring their pipes and their cigarettes to seeing the game and without a decent consideration for anybody else send up a pall of smoke that makes the arena look like a Northern Ontario town during a bush fire. This practice is unfair, not only to people who pay their money to see the games, but to the players themselves. A few strong elbowed ushers in strategic positions and backed by the moral or other necessary support of the majority of the audience, might make a decent difference.

WHEN TALK HELPS

Guelph Mercury:

Talking prosperity doesn't bring prosperity, but it helps. Talking calamity doesn't always bring it but it helps to discourage the public and prevent a proper suport of industry through judicious spending.

Taking an optimistic view of conditions always has a good effect on the public mind, and the more this can be encouraged the better the markets created for the products of the farm, thus benefiting agriculture and industry, the two great basic industries of the country, the success of each being largely dependent on the success of the other.

There has been progress in farming matters despite the discouraging reports from time to time by casual observers who see in every empty house a sign of calamity, and there will be a greater progress with the passing of the years.

LOOKS LIKE NASH BY ACCLAMATION

Kingston, Jan. 6.—Little or no interest seems to be taken in the forthcoming bye-election for alderman in St. Lawrence Ward, necessitated by the disqualification of Joe Nash. Mr. Nash says that he intends to pay his back taxes and thus become duly qualified, and inasmuch as Mr. Peters will not run again and no one else has signified a desire to enter the field, it now looks as if Mr. Nash would be elected by acclamation. Nomination day is on Thursday.

Cod Liver Oil In Sugar Coated Tablets For Puny Kids

Forget the nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil and give the thin, underdeveloped children McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound tablets if you want to give them a good appetite and put pounds of goods, healthy flesh on their bones.

Doctors know all about them and so does Dolan's Drug Store, McKeown's Drug Store, Doyles Drug Store and all good pharmacists all over America, for they are in great demand, because they are not laggards but show results in a few days.

They are not expensive either—60 tablets—60 cents and children take them like candy.

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

One skinny woman gained 9 pounds in 24 days.

"Be sure to get McCoy's, the orginal and genuine Cold Liver Oil Compound Tablet."

To-day's Smile

Farmer Giles, canvassing for members for a raffle, asked one of his neighbors to enter.

"George," he said, "be ye agoin' in for my raffle?"

"How much?" asked George.

"Five shillings," was the reply.

"Put me down," answered George, "I'll pay you to-morrow."

Next day the two men met again

"Well," said George, "who won the prizes?"

"I won the first prize," said the farmer, "wasn't I lucky?"

"Who won the second?"

"My wife won the second, wasn't she lucky?"

"And who won the third?" queried George patiently.

"My darter; wasn't she lucky? By the way you haven't paid me your five shillings yet."

"No," said George. "Wasn't I lucky?"

Thirty Years Ago

The Pal Mall Gazette, commenting on financial situation in Newfoundland, says that the only remedy for the existing state of things is the immediate incorporation of that province with the Dominion of Canada.

There will no doubt be a large attendance at the meeting to-night to discuss the public library by-law.

Few travellers are venturing to drive across the ice, and the bridge is doing a good business in consequence.

On New Year's Day a team of horses broke through the ice near Nigger Island and were drowned. A single horse broke through in the same locality, but was rescued.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Lazier gave a progressive pedro party last evening to a large number of friends and all spent a most enjoyable evening. Prof. Riggs' orchestra furnished the music.

NEW MAYOR MAY CUT OUT AUTOS

Toronto, Jan 6—One of the first matters to be given attention by Mayor-elect Foster after he assumes office will be that of the city's fleet of motor cars.

It is thought likely that he will mention the question in his inaugural address, and propose the appointment of a committee of Council to study ways and means of reducing the number of cars and the expenditure. This committee would also investigate the plan followed by the City of Pittsburg in selling all but the Mayor's car and allowing employes to use street cars, except in cases of emergency, when taxis are employed.

ONTARIO BUSINESS MEN WILL VISIT QUEBEC

Arrangements have been made and plans are now maturing whereby a large delegation of Ontario's prominent manufacturers, professional and business men, accompanied by his Honor Lieutenant Governor Cockshutt, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson and members of the Ontario Cabinet, will pay a visit to Quebec as the guests of the Lieutenant-Governor and Premier, representing the Province of Quebec. The object of the visit is to further good relationship and better business conditions between the provinces.

The Canadian National Railways are co-operating to the extent that they will operate a special sleeping car train to leave Toronto on Wednesday, Jan. 28th at 7.00 p.m., arriving in Quebec in time for breakfast on Jan. 29th. This train will consist of standard sleeping and compartment cars and reservations may now be made through any agent of the company. 30, j-2, 5, 6

Women Making Good as Police

Old London Has Added Fifty to Force of Seventy-five

(Associated Press Despatch.)

London, Jan. 6.—London's 75 policewomen have been so busy during the last year that they are going to have another group of 50 sisters to help them against the increasing indiscretions against the law. The police board has decided that there are certain beats and certain jobs that only study women can handle properly, and that henceforth a good sized corps of policewomen will be maintained by the department.

The police department first put women on the force during the war, and they proved their value. They are particularly useful to-day in controlling the venturesome of the male sex who jeopardize pedestrians of the other sex. It is no unfamiliar sight in London to see some man being gently escorted to headquarters on the arm of a policewoman, and the women arrest on an average as many law violators as a corresponding number of men.

Women members of the London force are expected to obey the ordinary regulations of the department with the exception that they do not do all-night work nor follow the stringent roles concerning trim haircuts. They do, however, have to report at certain times for drill and inspection, and their buttons and shoes are expected to be just as glossy as those of their blue-coated brothers.

The women wear uniforms designed, except for the skirt, like those of the men but their helmets are just a little more feminine and individualistic, with a lower crown and wider brim. There are no regulations prohibiting the women from marrying, but according to the records, only 11 of the present force are married, and only six are widows.

The new members to be added to the force have been chosen from among the women who, in many cases, sacrificed home ties to perform police duty in London during the war.

Germany Angry At Allied Attitude

In Refusing to Evacuate the Cologne Area Immediately

Berlin, Jan. 6.—Lord D'Abernon, British Ambasador to Germany, this afternoon, deposited with the Foreign Office official notification of the Allied refusal to evacuate Cologne on January 10, the date set in the peace treaty, because of German violations of that treaty.

The Reich immediately announced its intention of fighting back. Like an angry cat, it is striking out blindly. The first movement of its paw ripped through the draft of a trade treaty with France. Then the cat began to snarl and proclaimed that in self-defence Germany must form a Reactionary Government.

Official confirmation of this retaliation was given the correspondent by Minister of the Interior Jarres and Count Westarp, leader of the German Nationalists. They gave it without the bouquets the Foreign Office usually attaches to its complaints.

End of London Treaty

"This means the end of the London Treaty and the policy of fulfilment," Jarres declared. "My party (The Industrial Peoples' Party, headed by Foreign Minister Stresemann) will not permit ratification of the provisional trade treaty with France under these circumstances.

"The Marx-Stresemann fulfillment policy bears bitter fruit. We must try another way. No treaty can be carried out in the spirit and the letter but must be fulfilled in a spirit of loyalty, which Germany did and the Allies did not."

Count Westarp officially announced that thanks to the Allied tactics he had succeeded in winning to his side a group of smaller parties which include the peasants' bloc, the Economic League, most of the extremist Fascisti and the Bavarian People's Party. With their aid he says he is in a position to overthrow any Government Chancellor Marx can construct.

Temporary Cabinet at Best

Herr Marx, as was cabled a week ago, is trying to form a ministry without party color, but it is doubtful if he will succeed before Friday. At best it would be a temporary affair.

Just how long Germany will fight it is difficult to predict. She cannot fight too long and eventually must make a commercial treaty with France. She cannot afford to tear up the London agreement, which put the Dawes plan into effect. If the Allies press an ultimatum, some one here will be found to sign it. But the ultimatum will be of short duration and its only effect will be to strengthen the hand of monarchists of the Westarp type.

The allied note makes the following five charges: First, the German General Staff has been re-established second, that volunteers were enlisted in the Reichswehr for short terms of service, thus swelling the country's potential military strength; third, that munition factories are not on a peace time basis; fourth, that arms and war materials in excess of the legal limits were found by the Control Commission; fifth, that the Green Police have not been re-organized as Germany promised.

The Foreign Office last night issued a general denial of all these charges. It was not deemed advisable to refute them further because they are not substantiated, the announcement declared.

Continued occupation of the Cologne area, therefore, the Germans declared, is unjustified. The Foreign Office said it would reply in detail to the Allied accusations when the report of the Control Commission, in which they are made, is published This is expected shortly.

Deaths and Funerals

J. ADAM VANDERWATER

The funeral of the late J. Adam Vanderwater was held from the late residence, 274 Coleman street, on Monday afternoon, Rev. C. E. Clarke, rector of Christ Church conducting the service at the home, as well as presiding at the graveside in Belleville cemetery.

The funeral was held under Masonic auspices, and Rev. Clarke with W. W. Anderson, H. Thompson and J. Hall, conducted this service.

The pall bearers were Messrs. H. McGuiness, F. G. Chamberlain, Col. R. Vanderwater, George O. Tice, W. W. Anderson and B. Backus.

WILLIAM D. GRAVES

Kingston lost a much-esteemed and well-known figure on Sunday morning when William Daws Graves died suddenly at the age of 75 years. For the greater part of his life deceased had lived in the city, and his passing came as a shock to his host of friends in the city.

Deceased was born at Bath, in 1848, but lived the most of his life in Kingston. He learned the trade of carriage trimmer with his father, and in April, 1891, entered the service of the Government, being express clerk in the Customs House. He remained in that department of the Government for thirty-two years, being superannuated in November, 1923.

The late Mr. Graves was a faithful member of Princess street church, and was the last of the members who saw the church being built. He was trustee of the church, and also treasurer, and one of the most ardent workers in the interests of the church. Mr. Graves was a member of the A.O.U.W., Oddfellows and Chosen Friends.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Maud Graves, at home, and Miss Edith Graves, of the Canadian National Express Co., three sons, W. G. Graves, of North Battleford, Sask., Victor H. Graves, of the C. N. Express Co., Belleville, and Fred M. Graves, of the C. N. Express Co., Kingston; two sisters, Mrs. James Curragh, Kingston, Mrs. Katharine Moore, Rochester, N. Y., and three brothers, Daniel, Edward and Fred, all of Harrowsmith. The funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

United States Supreme Court Upholds Dominion Of Canada

DIVERSION SCHEME

Illinois City Has Been Drawing 10,000 Cubic Feet

Washington, Jan. 5.—The United States Government and the states of New York, Michigan and Wisconsin and indirectly the Government of the Dominion of Canada won a notable victory today when the United States Sureme Court upheld their fight to prevent the city of Chicago from diverting enormous quantities of water from Lake Michigan for purposes of drainage and sanitation.

The Chicago proposal had been the subject of energetic protest by the Canadian Government, which had communicated to Washington through the British Embassy its contention that such a diversion of water from Lake Michigan would seriously menace Canadian interests by lowering the level of the lakes generally, and should not be permitted. Further diplomatic action on the matter was deferred pending a decision on the issue by the United States Supreme Court to which it had been referred by reason of injunction proceedings brought against the Chicago Drainage Commission by the federal Government and several of the American states bordering on the lakes, who objected to the diversion on practically the same grounds as did Canada.

In an opinion prepared by Associate Justice Holmes, and read by Chief Justice Taft, the court decreed that the injunction limiting the Chicago sanitary district to a water flow from the lake of 4,167 cubic feet per second, originally granted by federal Judge Carpenter, should become effective within sixty days.

The Chicago sanitary district is now and has been for several years withdrawing 10,000 cubic feet per second from Lake Michigan, despite the issuance of a permit by the Secretary of War limiting the diversion to 4,167 cubic feet per second.

The federal Government accordingly entered suit to enforce the terms of the permit of the Secretary of War, and an injunction was issued by the Federal Court for the northern district took an appeal to the Supreme Court, which today upheld the injunction granted by the lower court.

In the appeal to the Supreme Court, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin and other states in the lake region intervened in behalf of the United States, alleging that the Chicago diversion tended to lower lake levels, and, therefore, was prejudicial to the interests of navigation as well as the development of power.

Today's decision sustained the contention of the federal and state governments in all particulars, the court declaring the case to be one of gravity and importance.

The only loop hole left to Chicago in its fight to continue to use 10,000 cubic feet per second for sanitation purposes was contained in the last clause of the decree, which stipulated that the decision should be "without prejudice to any permit that may be issued by the Secretary of War in accordance to law."

An Important Link

Thus in settling the controversy over the right of the United States to maintain control over the Chicago drainage canal, which is regarded as an important link in opening water communication between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi River and the Gulf, the fight of the city has again been transferred to the war department. Ultimately Congress will be asked to enact legislation legalizing the 10,000 foot water flow. Bills to this effect are now pending with the endorsement of the Illinois delegation in Congress.

"This case concerns," said Justice Holmes, "the expenditure of great sums and the welfare of millions of men. But cost and importance, while they add to the solemnity of our duty, do not increase the difficulty of decision except as they induce argument upon matters that with less mighty interests no one would venture to dispute. The law is clear and when it is known the material facts are few."

Reference was made by Justice Holmes to the fact that the lower court which was presided over by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, withheld a decision in the controversy for about six years. "No valid excuse was offered for the delay," Jusitce Holmes observed in the course of his opinion today.

The court ruled that as the law stands the injunction prayed for must be granted. "Probably the dangers to which the citizens of Chicago will be subjected if the decree is carried out are exaggerated," said Justice Holmes, "but in any event we are not at liberty to consider them here as against the edict of a paramount power."

SWEARS JARVIS HAS NOT LEFT JAIL FARM

Toronto, Jan. 6.—"On my word of honor, Mr. Jarvis has not set foot off the Farm since his arrival here," was the emphatic statement of Major Morrison, superintendent of the Municipal Farm, yesterday. It was in refutation of reports which have been more or less continuously in circulation that Aemilius Jarvis was not being confined to the Farm, but was being permitted to spend considerable of his time on his own farm near Aurora.

"We would very much like to learn who is responsible for the circulation of these false reports," said a friend of Mr. Jarvis, who made the suggestion that effort should be made to trace the rumor to their source.

SEA LIONS MAY BE LIFE SAVERS SOON

Hamburg, Jan. 6.—The sun-tanned life saver at summer resorts may be put out of business by the trained sea lion, according to predictions made by Captain Hans Winston, a local animal trainer.

Captain Winston contends that he has a seal which could save half a dozen persons in rough water while the ordinary human life saver was wrestling with a single individual. The sea lion trained to save lives has been taught to grab men by the back of the neck in the water and swim with them to safety without injury from his jaws.

ONLY THREE COPS FOR LARGE CITY

Hamilton, N.J., Jan. 6.—This town of 45,000 population was policed yesterday by three men.

Safety Director Joseph B. Myers said the condition was likely to continue unless some relief is given for the $76,000 shortage in his department.

All save three of a normal police force of 39 men were laid off.

Negroes Through Now as Robbers

Cold Weather Interfered With Plans and Almost Cost Life

New York, Jan. 6—Two negroes swore off the robbers profession after an aerial experience over Sixth Avenue. One of them, Julius Hill twenty-six years old, of 148 West 141st Street came close to losing his life both from cold and from a narrowly averted 100-foot fall. The other, Paul Nelson, twenty-four, of 136 West 142nd Street almost died from fright.

Nelson and Hill planned to rob the fur shop of Moskowitz and Katzman, on the eleventh floor of the thirteen-storey building at 22 West Twenty-seventh Street. They ascended by way of the elevator to the roof of the building late Friday night, and concealed themselves until early Sunday.

Then, with a fifty-foot rope, Nelson lowered Hill two floors. Hill was to swing slowly and crash through the window of the fur shop. After he had effected this entrance, he was to open a door from the inside and admit Nelson. However, owing to the cold, Hill, after being lowered, was too numb to swing himself. Nelson, on the other hand, was too numb to haul him back.

As the intense cold increased, Hill, 10 feet above the street, dangling for twenty minutes, at last declared pathetically: "I'm dying from cold. Let me drop. I'd rather die that way than from the cold."

But Nelson could not bring himself to let go. He managed to fasten the rope around a pipe and then descended to the street and summoned Patrolman Walter Donaldson. The patrolman hurried to the eleventh floor with Nelson, to find that Hill, in sheer desperation at length had swung himself into the furrier's place and lay on the floor exhausted and half frozen.

Asks Railroaders To Help Fellows

Mosher Suggests Employed Men Share with Out-Of-Works

It is getting rather late for New Year's messages, but the following address to Canadian Railwaymen from A. R. Mosher, Grand President of the C. B. of R. E. is interesting enough to publish even if we have entered on the sixth day of 1925. The message was published in the Halifax Herald on January 2nd:

We have come to the last leaf of the calendar for 1924. As this message is written, the spirit of Christmas is pervading Canada. To most people it is a season of joy and happiness, a season of wonderment to the childish heart, a season of retrospect, and a season of plans and resolutions for the coming year.

As a Brotherhood, we look back upon 1924, and the record gives evidence of the spirit which permeates the entire organization. It has been a year of service to members generally, to railroad employees not included in the organization, and to Canada. There has been a steadfast adherence to the great principles which gave rise to the existence of the organization sixteen years ago.

In examining the internal economy of the Brotherhood, one is impressed with the growing sense of responsibility evidenced by the desire of the members to strengthen the ties of organization. Besides the strengthening of individual divisions, we find divisions in closely populated centres grouping themselves together for the coming welfare. The six divisions of the Brotherhood in Toronto followed the lead of their Winnipeg brothers and formed a District Council last June. Now we have the divisions in and near the old city of Quebec, taking similar action.

This movement is a natural one and can only work out to the general benefit of the Brotherhood and of the individual members. With the gradual perfection of organization there can be but one result: railway workers eligible for membership will seek out the Brotherhood, rather than be sought.

One of the principal activities of the past eleven months has been in negotiations of a new schedule of working conditions and in adjusting wage scales on the C.N.R. During a period when the thoughtless have cried for lower wage rates on the railways in the fallacious belief that such action would result in lower freight rates, the Brotherhood has succeeded in maintaining, and extending in some instances, the wage scale of the previous year. Many inconsistencies of the working schedule have been satisfactorily adjusted and, in all, we go into the New Year under more satisfactory conditions than at the commencement of the Old Year.

In extending greeting to members of the Brotherhood, other railroad employees, and workers generally throughout Canada, I am not unmindful of the problems confronting many Canadian workers who have been unable to secure steady employment. I would ask that every man who is regularly employed shall sacrifice a little for his unfortunate brothers. There are many ways in which each of us can help to make the load lighter. Knowing the spirit which has animated our members on similar occasions, I am confident that they will do their full share in this respect.

May the holiday season bring to everyone of you, your wives and children, the full measure of joy and happiness which your work of the past twelve months merits; and may we, by our united efforts, press forward during the coming year towards the accomplishment of that adjustment in human relationships which will eliminate hunger and want, and give to every man the right to work, and adequate compensation therefor.

Traffic over the Wabash railroad through Canada has been diverted over Canadian National lines owing to ice conditions in the Detroit river. The Wabash has been unable to maintain its car ferry service on account of the ice blockade.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD IS ALCOHOLIC VICTIM

New York, Jan. 6.—The death from acute alcoholism of a five-year-old boy in Fordham Hospital to-day resulted in the arrest tonight of two men and a woman on charges of homicide. They were locked up in the Bronx Park police station for arraignment to-morrow.

When an ambulance call was sent in to Fordham Hospital to-day from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vittore, at 760 East 214th street, Dr. Hughes responded and found their son, Lorenzo, jr., in a coma. He was hurried to the hospital, where he died soon after his arrival without regaining consciousness.

An autopsy disclosed the presence of a small quantity of liquor in the lad's stomach. It was the same, it was stated, as that found by the police in a bottle in the Vittore home.

Lorenzo's father told a detective that the liquor had been given him as a New Year gift by Peter Pato, of 3368 Holland avenue, the Bronx, a friend of long standing.

The investigation disclosed that after receiving the bottle, Vittore had placed it on the kitchen table, after which he and his wife had left the house, leaving their son sleeping soundly in his bed. The police say that the boy awakened during the parents' absence, climbed out of bed and wandered into the kitchen, where he found the bottle. The cork had been drawn and replaced loosely.

REINDEER CANNOT SURVIVE IN SOUTH

Lansing, Jan. 6.—Experiments conducted by the state department of conservation apparently have demonstrated that reindeer will not thrive in the northern peninsula of Michigan.

About two years ago 60 reindeer were imported and placed on a game farm. It was the hope of sportsmen that they would find the cold stretches of the Lake Superior region to their liking and that the northern woods soon would be thickly populated with the Arctic. Federal and state agencies had announced that a mossy growth prevalent in the upper peninsula was ideal food for reindeer. The herd at first increased to more than seventy. Then they started to die off and now only seven are left.

Scientists have attributed the high mortality rate to a species of pneumonia, brought on by the climate, and to a lack of lime in the food.

Ice that will grace the ice boxes of Londoners next summer when the thermometer is hovering around 90 in the shade, will start to be cut at the Coves next week.

Belleville Shows In True Colors

Literally Swept Kingston Off the Hockey Map Last Night

SCORE WAS 5 TO 1

Ed. Thomas' Boys Display Every Trick to Fans' Delight

Belleville Intermediates checked Kingston almost to a standstill in the Arnott Arena last night and romped to bed with a precious five to one victory. The hockey dope concocted after Belleville was beaten last week by Brockville and the trouncing that Kingston gave Brockville on Friday night, was upset soon after the teams took the ice. Belleville fans who witnessed the battle have a brand new idea of Ed. Thomas' team and are daring even to think in terms of semifinals and final games.

At that, these fans may not be far wrong. If last night's exhibition is a sample of what the Belleville boys are going to do from now on there will be no stopping them.

As Harold Mitchell said after the first period:

"This isn't the same team that played Brockville last week?"

Every last Belleville man was oiled up, and during the first period and most of the second, they formed a smooth machine. They swept up and down the ice in a finished style, the Limestone players looked foolish. Two, three and four abreast, they rushed Kingston right off their feet in the first period. Weir, Hagerman and Whalen checked fiendishly and young Rogers in goal became dizzy under a shower of shots. Stan Nurse joined the unemployed and had to stamp around to keep warm.

Some Good Training

Harold Mitchell, referee, and one of the best in the business today, called everything. He made the fans sore once in a while, but he was giving the players some valuable training against loafing off-side and in the wrong style of passing.

Under instructions from O.H.A. headquarters, he cautioned both teams that penalties would be in order for body checking and hoisting on the defence. Strangely enough, the boys took his tip and the play all evening was more open than it has ever been in the district. Not a man was penalized on this count. There were a number of two minute sentences handed out, but all for hooking and tripping.

As was pointed out by the Intelligencer last week, Belleville had the parts of a good machine. All that was needed was to put the parts together and that job was performed to a nicety since the game with Brockville.

Weir Shows Up

Stan Hagerman, Vern Weir and Al Whalen were about as inseparable as a set of triplets and when Bunny Frechette came on he was just as good. They all passed cleverly and played their positions well. Their checking was a treat, though Weir must be singled out here for credit. His poke check must have driven Kingston players crazy. It was about as easy to get past him as to run a motor boat up the Moira. And he was just about the speediest man on the ice.

Goyers Gone

It looks as if the team is going to be without the services of Soup Goyer and his brother. They apparently have had to choose between the Point Anne team in the Bay of Quinte League and Belleville Intermediates, as their interests are lying closest with Point Anne, they do not find it hard to make the choice.

JACK JOHNSON

Who knocked out Fred. Vincent in the second round in Toronto on New Year's Day.

Finkle sat in with Bill Green on the defence and had no trouble in filling Soup's shoes. He was going well throughout the game and his rushes were always effective.

Nurse in goal was one hundred per cent. efficient. The one goal counted against him was extremely doubtful.

Armstrong worked in nicely for relief work, though he did not shine. Watts, Rooney and Smith worked hardest for Kingston and be it said for all the visitors they never gave up. They were fighting for goals in every session.

Belleville took the offensive from th first ring of the bell in the first priod and hung like a dark cloud over every department of the visiting puck chasers. And for the first five minutes, Rogers in the Kingston goal lookd like a machine gun target with the gun going at rapid fire. Nearly every member of the Belleville team was taking a shot at will. And had it not been for some fairly clever work on Roger's part, the score would have been much higher than four to nothing at the end of the period.

Frechette got the first for Belleville in six minutes. He stickhandled up left wing and from the boards lifted a hard accurate shot into the top of the net.

Not content with this advantage, Belleville came on stronger. Green came up with the forward line for a four man combination, the defence man acting as pivot. It was pretty work and balm to the fans when Whalen ended the rush with a neat little pass to Green right on top of the net, and Green tucked the rubber away for the second count.

With Hagerman off for holding, Kingston tried to swing into attack but the Belleville defence was just as good as an old-fashioned stone wall. Following a nice two-man rush in which Green and Weir were the principals Frechette took possession around mid-ice skated a stroke or two and then rolled a long teaser into the net from outside. Weir took the fourth on a nifty shot from outside.

An Easy Job

Only towards the end of first, did Kingston give Nurse any work to do and that was when Smith rushed alone and gave Stan a hard low drive to handle.

At the beginning of the second, Kingston tried to get the initiative but after one minute or so were again bottled up due to the wonderful checking of the Belleville boys. Finkle made himself over to left wing and drove a beauty into the top right hand corner of the Kingston net. Rogers looked bewildered.

Real Senior Hockey

There was no further scoring in the period, but shortly after after Finkle's goal there came about two or three minutes of genuine senior hockey when both Kingston and Belleville combined up and down at whirlwind speed. Linemen put everything they had into the rush and came back as strong for the check. It was a flash of real classy hockey.

Frechette was the main attraction after this spell, showing up as real sharp shooting. But Rogers was wide awake. Weir, stick handling here was the Queens' dessert and Watts was working his head off all alone. He could do nothing against the Belleville defence, however.

The third was featured with repeated end to end rushes which never came to anything. Rogers and Nurse both turning in splendid exhibitions.

Kingston's sole counter came after ten minutes of play when Murray shot and Rooney got the rebound. Stan Nurse was right on the job and made a pretty save of a sudden slap. Whether the puck got past him or not is doubtful, but the referee permitted no argument.

Condition again told on the brand of hockey in this period. Weir and Whalen tired noticeably and the whole team began to feel the effects of the fast going. Most Kingston men were ready to quit in the second.

The Line Up

Referee—Harold Mitchell.

Elimination Tilt Has Been Decided

Mrs. F. Domenico and Leo. Barrett Win the Tournament

Mrs. F. Domenico and L. Barrett won the elimination tournament at the Recreation Alleys last night against Miss Goyer and J. Alexander in one of the most exciting games of the contest which was witnessed by a large number of spectators. Although Miss Goyer and J. Alexander won two games out of three, the winners piled up enough pins in the second game to carry them through to a win. The following is the result:

Mrs. Domenico ..	181	149	151—481
L. Barrett	150	224	146—520
Total			1001
Miss Goyer	180	107	151—438

Montreal Paper Explains Rough Professional Hockey This Year

Montreal Jan. 6—In both east and west this year, professional hockey has been spiced by more rough and punishing play than has been in vogue for many seasons. And the reason is not hard to locate says the Montreal Herald.

The age-long battle between players of long-established reputation, some of them starting to show the tarnish of age, against the incoming horde of new and rising talent, is the most fruitful cause for increased bitterness of play.

It seldom fails that players who are beginning to slip from their hey-day of speed and skill resort to rough tactics, directed against the newcomers, largely and this frequently has been the cause of vindictive play this season.

On the other hand their is the anxiety of the new-comers to show their courage and mettle, and to demonstrate to the pay-roll boss that they hold no fear of much-advertised veterans of the professional game whether these are known as "bad hombres" or otherwise. It was this aggressive spirit that, early in the season, prompted one noted recruit from the amateur ranks—and he is not with a Montreal team—to declare in the dressing room after the first practice in which he had bumped one of the veterans around with considerable zest, that anyone who didn't like his style of play could get their satisfaction on the ice, out behind the rink, or right there in the room, and added that this defi went for the whole team. And we haven't noticed any scars around this bold young man's dome, either.

Many of this year's feuds, of course had their birth in the hectic play at the end of last season, or developed in the early games of the present struggle which is the most spirited the circuit has known in years. But for the most part, they have arisen from the bitterest and oldest of all sporting duels. Youth vs. Age. And they lend color to the sport only so long as they are not allowed to degenerate into sheer rough-house. Spirited, hard-checking play is one thing. Hooliganism is something else again.

STRATFORD TRIMS STRONG LONDONERS

Stratford, Jan. 6.—Staging a sensational rally in the last ten minutes here last night, the Stratford O. H. A. seniors scored two goals and defeated the powerful London team by 4 to 3. It was a thrilling, strenuous battle, but most of the checks were according to the rules, and the players gloried in the heavy going. The visitors, despite the reverse, looked just a bit stronger than the locals, but they had hard luck in their attacks and Dolson made many thrilling saves.

The pace was lightning fast throughoutout, and the youthful locals stood up remarkably well under the conditions.

ANDREW WILSON & Co TORONTO AND MONTREAL

For Hockey Fans

(From Peterboro Examiner)

With the Peterboro Hockey Club represented in the senior series of the O.H.A. for the first time in many years, it is to be hoped that the attitude of the people who patronize the games will be in keeping with the new status of the club.

In other words, there should be less of the small town partizanship and more appreciation of clever playing, no matter by whom it may be done.

By that we do not mean that there should not be enthusiastic support of the home team. By all means cheer for the "Petes" as lustily as ever, but let there be not so much verbal abuse of the visitors or of the referee as in the past.

The Peterboro team has played five games in Toronto this season, and on every visit has been given the best of treatment at the hands of the Queen City fans.

Even when the local team was playing against Toronto teams, Parkdale and Aura Lee, the Arena crowds applauded all Peterboro's good plays, and the players have never been the target for the abuse that was directed at them in smaller centres in other seasons.

Peterboro hockey crowds have never been particularly violent in their treatment of visitors, but this year with the Peterboro team prime favourites in Toronto and duly honoured for their fine showing at the Arena, there is more than the usual reason for regarding outside players as sportsmen and gentlemen, as the Peterboro team has found them to be and for treating them as such.

Cheer for Peterboro, of course—but let it go at that. Leave the practice of abusing visiting teams to such places as Belleville, where it seems to be regarded as a necessary factor in baseball and hockey.

To think that this should come from Peterboro of all places!

NIAGARA FALLS WINS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 6.—Some 4,200 fans witnessed last night's "Big Six" senior O.H.A. game here, when the local team defeated Kitchener Green Shirts by the score of 5 to 3. The game produced much good hockey in the second and third periods, but the opening chapter was rather listless.

JUNIORS ARE OFF TO CAMPBELLFORD

Belleville Juniors O. H. A. team journeys to Campbelford to-day, where they will play a regular game against the Campbellford Juniors to-night.

Determined to repeat their remarkable opening performance here Friday night last, Ed. Thomas' crew will step into the northerners with vengeance. Doubtless the northern boys, on their own ice, will be equally emphatic in their effort to see to it than even in overtime as was the case here, no outsiders will grab the big end of the score on their home ice.

BOTH MONTREAL ARE IN HARD GAMES

Montreal, Jan. 6.—Canadiens and Montreal each face a big issue in their National Hockey League games tomorrow evening, Canadiens meet their old time rivals from Ottawa at the Mount Royal Arena, while Montreal travel to Hamilton for a contest with the snappy Tiger aggregation.

Local interest will centre for the most part in the game here where the traditional rivals clash. Ottawa and Canadiens have divided in the two games played to date, each winning at home. Recently, however, the Senators have been showing winning form, their dashing play carrying them to three successive victories in the past week, the climax coming with the win over the league-leading Hamiltonians last Saturday. Whether they can continue the unbroken succession of wins is a matter of conjecture, and will only be known for certainty after tomorrow's game.

Canadiens at home, however, are a difficult opposition to overcome. The Senators gave them a real battle in their last meeting here, and another stiff tussle is anticipated for the mid-week fixture, but Leo Dandurand's world champions loom as favorites.

KINGSTON HOOKS UP WITH POINT ANNE

Lloyd Brown, one of the best defence men who ever played with a Kingston team, has finally come out of two years' retirement, and will be seen in action on Wednesday night here with the Irishmen in their Bay of Quinte game against Point Anne.

Brown played no hockey last year and practically none the year before, but this year he has been practising considerably and finally signed a certificate with the Irishmen. This means that the husky defence player will once more delight the fans with his stelha work, and incidentally will greatly strengthen the Irish lineup.

Point Anne have a strong team this year, including the two Goyer brothers from Belleville, and the game on Wednesday promises to be a good one.

SWIMMING POOL 1,000 FEET LONG

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—The new Fleishhacker swimming pool, 1,000 feet long, said to be the largest in the world, will be dedicated when the National Amateur Athletic Union swimming championships are held here April 23, 24 and 25.

The tank is under construction. It is stuated near the ocean beach at Ingleside, the southwestern end of the city. It will have a maximum depth of 12 feet. It is an outdoor pool, but the temperature of the water will be regulated. The property involved is owned by the city, and the pool will be open to the public.

Another dedication, that of the new municipal stadium in Golden Gate park, will mark the track and field events of the National A.A.U., to be held July 3, 4 and 5. The stadium, being built this winter, will seat 22,000. Careful attention is being given the running track, so that it may be one of the fastest.

PITTSBURG IS AFTER BROPHY OF QUEEN'S

Kingston, Jan. 6.—Brophy, the sensational wing man with Queen's puck-chasers, was approached at Pittsburg by representatives of the Fort Pitt team in the U. S. H. A. with a tempting offer to join that pro. outfit. Brophy demurred, so the despatch says, desiring to finish his college course, but it is known that a place will be kept open for him on the Pitt roster if he desires to make the jump.

BENNY LEONARD ILL

New Cork, Jan. 6—Benny Leonard lightweight champion of the world is ill at his home here, suffering from a severe cold accompanied by a high temperature. The boxer was forced to leave the stage last night in the midst of a vaudeville skit in which he is appearing here. His condition is not considered serious by his physicians.

BOWMANVILLE WINS

Bowmanville, Jan. 6.—In the junior O.H.A. game, played here last night, Bowmanville defeated Cobourg, 6 to 1. The game was fast and clean throughout, few penalties being handed out. The line-up:

Cobourg—Goal, Lloyd, right defence, Waldon; left defence, Cavanaugh; right wing, Rollins; left wing, Brimming; centre, Gibson; subs, Hames and Sleighton.

Referee—Norman Alberts, Toronto.

CHAPTER XXI.

AN ART PATRON

"Dear me, how interesting!" said Lady Despard.

It was the third day after Doris' arrival, and they were sitting at breakfast in a small room, beautifully cool and shady, and furnished with an elaborate simplicity which while it avoided all harsh color, was fresh and bright. A great bowl of roses stood in the centre of the table from which rose a fountain of perfumed water. Curtains of the faintest blush-pink threw a warm tint upon her ladyship, who, in her morning gown of delicate chintz, looked like one of the Dresden shepherdesses which stood on the mantel-shelf. Doris, in her white morning frock, with its deep black sash, was the only patch of decided color—if white can be called a color—in the room, but, beside Lady Despard's rather insipid prettiness, her fresh young loveliness looked like one of the roses in the bowl.

She looked up from the coffee cup she was filling from the great silver urn with a faint smile of curiosity. In three days she had learned all that there was to learn of Lady Despard's character, and had grown to like her. As for her ladyship, she had already taken to the beautiful girl and her quaint, graceful ways and soft, musical voice, and, twenty times in each of the days, had congratulated herself and blessed Mr. Spencer Churchill on having sent her such a treasure.

"Really very interesting!" she repeated, turning over the note she was reading, and regarding it with a pensive smile. "It is from our friend, Mr. Spencer Churchill, dear," she said; "one of his charming little letters. The good that man does in a quiet, unobtrusive way, is really astounding!"

"What has he been doing now?" asked Doris, quietly.

"Why, he has written asking me to help him in assisting a young friend of his who has had a great deal of trouble and all that. He is a great musician—that is, he ought to be great, you know—but he is poor and friendless, and Mr. Churchill wants me to take him by the hand. He says that I have such immense influence in the arts and musical world that I can do anything. Of course that's nonsense; that is only his nice way of putting it. But there's the note. Just read it out, dear."

Doris took the letter and read it. It was a charming little composition, as Lady Despard had said, and in the pleasantest way told the story of struggling genius, which only needed Lady Despard's patronage to rise to the heights of success and fame. Might he bring his young friend to see dear Lady Despard? Perhaps, if he might suggest, and her ladyship was disengaged, she would kindly ask them to dinner. He was quite sure she had only to know his dear young friend, Percy Levant, to feel an interest in him for his own sake, and the sake of the art of which dear Lady Despard was so distinguished a patroness.

Charmingly worded as was the epistle, Doris, as she read it, felt a strange and vaguely indefinite want of faith in it; an incredulity for which she at once took herself to task, as she reminded herself that Mr. Churchill was only doing for the young man that which he had done for her.

"It is a nice letter," she said, handing it back. "Shall you ask him, Lady Despard?"

"Well, yes, dear; I think so," said her ladyship. "I don't know that I can do much for the young man; you see, we go to Florence in a week's time. I might give a concert; and so introduce him to the musical people; but I daresay Mr. Churchill has a plan ready—he is always so systematic. I wonder what the young man is like? Percy Levant is the name, isn't it? Sounds Greek, doesn't it? I hope he isn't a foreigner; they generally smell so of tobacco, and it's so dreadfully difficult to understand them; and they are not always presentable. There was a Signor Something-or-other, an artist they got me to patronize, and he used to swear dreadfully in Spanish, which no one understood fortunately."

"Then it did not so much matter," said Doris.

"No," said her ladyship, pensively. "I forget what became of him; I think he got into debt, and went back to Spain. There is one of his pictures in the saloon. I hope this young man is presentable. These young genuses are often so—so gauche, and wear such old clothes."

Doris could not help laughing at her ladyship's doubts and fears.

"But genius covers a multitude of sins, doesn't it?" she suggested, and Lady Despard brightened up.

"So it does; and after all, if he should be a little rough, why we can point out that all clever people are eccentric. Didn't Dr. Johnson eat sweet sauce with his fish, and use his knife when he ought to have used his fork?"

"I think he did," said Doris.

"Very well, then," said Lady Despard, as if that settled it. "Just write a line and tell Mr. Churchill to bring him to dinner to-night! I think"—doubtfully—"that we'd better not have anybody!"

"In case this genius should eat with his knife," said Doris, with a laugh; and presently she rose and, going to a davenport, wrote the required note.

"How lovely you look in that pose, dear," she said. "You certainly have the loveliest profile! And how quickly and—and easily you write! It takes me no end of a time to get my sentences together, and the spelling—I suppose you can spell like a dictionary?"

"Not quite so well," said Doris, with a smile; "but fortunately, there aren't many words of ten syllables required for this note," and she handed it for Lady Despard's inspection, but her ladyship extended both hands with a gesture of refusal.

Doris laughed again.

"You are not very hard to please, Lady Despard," she said, with a little flush.

"I should be, if I were not pleased with you, you little snake charmer," responded her ladyship, leaning over her and gently pulling the tiny, shell-like ear. "And now let's go for a drive! I want you to get some roses in those pale cheeks of yours. I think you are looking better already, do you know?"

"I should be very ungrateful if I were not," said Doris. "But hadn't I better tell the butler that these two gentlemen are coming to dinner?"

SISTERS RE-UNITED

Toronto, Jan. 6.—Three sisters who came from England to Canada forty years ago may be shortly re-united by the efforts of a nephew in England to find some trace of them. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police have already received two answers to their inquiries which were commenced just before Christmas, and expect to hear of the third sister soon.

SLIPPED AND DROWNED

Vancouver, Jan. 5.—Walter J. Lloyd, forty, insurance agent, formerly a Methodist minister, was drowned in the Pitt river Sunday near Port Coquitlam when attempting to get a drink of water. He slipped into the current and was carried away.

MANY TELEPHONES

Toronto, Jan. 6.—There are now 104,000 telephones in use in Ontario, according to the annual report of the Ontario Railways and Municipal Board just issued. These are operated by no fewer than 637 different telephone systems, representing an investment of $10,000,000. Out of this number 113 are owned and operated by rural municipalities, and 0 by urban municipalities.

Rev. W. Scott Galbraith of Thamesford, has decided to accept a call to the Erskine church, Blenheim. He will be inducted during the third week in January.

The TIME You LOSE when Constipated makes every Beecham's Pill worth at least a Dollar in the Time it has Saved you.

The Constipation Habit costs more than time, for it sets you back in many ways. It lowers vitality, cuts down your ability, wastes even the food you eat. Beecham's Pills make your bowels free and regular. They are famous also as an aid to digestion and a stimulant to the liver. Beecham's Pills, by helping the entire digestive tract, benefit the whole system.

FLY FISHERMEN COME OF OLD STOCK

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 6—Fishermen who proudly watch their flies settling far out in the water after a perfect flashing arc through the air may well be reminded that this sport was shared by similar enthusiasts in Rome during the year 300 B.C., Prof. Teavor Kincaid, University of Washington declared here recently in an illustrated lecture on fly making and casting.

"The Romans were skilled fishermen and fly casters," said Professor Kincaid. "Although our manufactured flies may be more substantial and a trifle more beautiful, the Romans in 300 B.C. considered angling a fine art and had many magnificent specimens of flies in their collections."

A two-horned rabbit, shot by Gordon Smith near Effingham, is one of the attractions at the annual St Catharines Poultry and Pet Stock Show, which opened Wednesday afternoon at the Armouries.

SLACK—LEEDER

On Thursday evening, Jan. 1st, in St. Peter's church, Brockville, the marriage was solemnized of Ethyl May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs Philip Leeder of McIntosh Mills and Amos A. Slack son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Slack Lansdowne, Rev. A F. Cecil Whaller officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Kingston and other western points.

Last evening the members of the W. W. Club gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Miller, McDonald Avenue, to spend a social evening in honor of Mrs. Miler's birthday. The business of the club was conducted by the newly elected master of ceremonies, Mr. J Thrasher. Mrs. George Conner then read an appropriate address, while Mrs. E. Fenn presented Mr. W. Ashley with a Sedan car on behalf of the club. Mr Ashley thanked the club for the support they had given him in his previous office. Games were indulged in, Mr. W. Brooks, Mr G Teale, Mr. J Naylor carrying away the prizes of the evening. A dainty lunch was served, birthday candles decorating the table. The members then dispersed in their usual manner.

Modern Fairy Tale Is "Peter Pan"

Delightful Photoplay Being Shown at Belle Theatre Now

At Belle Theatre "Peter Pan", which has stood for twenty-one years as one of the most charming classics of the stage, in picture form proves one of the most delightful fantasies ever screened. The production, produced by Paramount from the novel and play by James M. Barrie, opened yesterday at the Belle Theatre. Betty Bronson Ernest Torrence, Cyril Chadwick, Virginia Brown Faire and Anna May Wong are featured in the cast.

The story, adapted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck, is a delightful, modern fairy tale. "Peter Pan" is a bright, mischievous boy, head of the cult for having a good time. The picture opens in the Darling home. The children's mother, entering the nursery at bedtime, is startled by the glimpse of a little boy walking lightly on the window sill. She is greatly alarmed for the safety of her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Darling go off to dine with a neighbor opposite, leaving the children asleep in bed. At the window the little boy appears again. He opens it and jumps lightly in—"Peter Pan" from the Never Never Land. He tells Wendy and her two brothers, John and Michael, of Indians, pirates, the Little Lost Boys of his underground home fairies—everything they have known in their dreams, in fact. He offers to carry them off. They consent. Peter teaches them to fly and when the parents return the nursery is empty.

On a fleecy white cloud, lazily drifting, Wendy, John, Michael and Peter Pan arrive in Never Never Land. We couldn't begin to tell of the adventures which befall them here in the land of their dreams.

"Peter Pan", directed by Herbert Brenon, was adapted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck. Roy Pomeroy was technical director. He did the trick camera work on Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments."

MISERABLE AND ALWAYS IN PAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help for Mothers

Port Greville, Nova Scotia.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to bloat all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLEY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after child-birth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing.

Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child.

No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine. C

BABY'S COLDS

Children's delicate digestions are easily disturbed by too much "dosing." Still, the little ones' cold troubles cannot be neglected.

At the very first sign of croup, sore throat, or any other cold trouble, apply Vicks VapoRub over the throat and chest. There is nothing to swallow—you just rub it on. Colds go over night, croup is usually relieved in 15 minutes.

Have Nothing to Compare With It

"Judgment of the Storm" Makes Hit at Griffin Theatre

We do not pretend to be able to describe "Judgment of the Storm," and there is no other photoplay to which it can be compared. We can only tell you that it is one of the most gripping and thrililng films ever presented in Belleville and that you should see it while it is at the Griffin Theatre.

The story has to do with John Trevor, a college boy, and his love for Mary Heath, the daughter of a farmer's widow. Of course, there is the second suitor and villain, Martin Freeland, a 'city chap' and rounder.

The complications come fast for John Trevor's mother, known in the underworld as "Helene," runs a gambling house—unknown to John who thinks his mother is wealthy. Dave Heath, the brother of the girl he loves, is killed in this gambling house when Freeland brings him to the city to "see the sights." John Trevor, to atone, volunteers to work without pay on the Heath farm in place of the murdered Dave, for whose death he holds his own mother responsible.

From the fury of a big blizzard John rescues Bob Heath, Dave's young brother, the Heath twins and his own mother who has come from the city to see him at Christmas, and the judgment of the storm replaces misery in many hearts with great happiness.

The scenes for the big blizzard were filmed in the high Sierras and are undoubtedly the greatest snowstorm scenes ever screened, not even excepting the great snow scenes shown in "Way Down East."

The story was written by Ethel Styles Middleton, a Pittsburgh housewife. It is a story that is written in the fertile soil of every-day-life and should bring this heretofore unknown writer great fame.

The adaptation and direction were both done by Del Andrews, who made "The Hottentot", among other great pictures. In "Judgment of the Storm" he has far excelled any of his previous efforts.

The cast is really all star. Each individual in it is a star in his or her own name. Lloyd Hughes as John Trevor, does excellent work. Lucille Rickson as Mary Heath plays her role in a delightful manner. Myrtle Stedman gives a fine performance in the role of "Helene" Trevor, the mother of John and the owner of a gambling den. George Hackathorn, Claire McDowell and Phil McCullough, all show great histronic ability.

Thrill In Every Foot of Picture

Pictures Show Strange Cannibalistic Tribes Never Seen Before

Not many months ago there appeared unheralded in New York a strongly built man of thirty-four, bronzed and lean, with the look of a pioneer and an adventurer. He came from Australia and under his brawny arm he carried a portfolio filled with photographs the like of which none had ever seen before. He also carried a tin box filled with reels of motion picture film.

There came a Sunday morning when citizens in comfortable dressings gowns opened newspapers at the breakfast table to find whole pages of singularly fascinating and beautiful photographs taken in New Guinea of strange cannibalistic tribes living where no white man had ever before penetrated.

The Sunday newspapers marked the advent of Captain Frank Hurley and Belleville will be one of the first cities in Canada to see this great wonder picture "The Lost Tribe". It will be shown here at the Griffin Theatre for three nights and Wed. matinee, starting Monday, January 12, coming here direct from Massey Hall, Toronto.

"The Lost Tribe", discovered in New Guinea by Captain Hurley has been the subject of more magazine and newspaper articles during the past few months than has all the motion pictures ever made in Hollywood. They are the first pictures ever taken of a primitive and savage people whose chief occupation is cannibalism and head hunting. Captain Hurley descended upon these people who are thought to be the Lost Tribe of Israel, by seaplane. The headhunters thought it was a strange bird coming to them from the gods. Never was such thrilling adventure recorded by the camera. After months of diligence, Captain Hurley made slow progress towards friendliness but with the confidence secured he began to film their daily life, social and religious customs, marriage ceremonies and every interesting feature of an honest-to-goodness head hunter. There is a thrill in every foot of film, something weird and daring every minute. Fantastic music secured by phonograph by Hurley, from the native orchestra, accompany the picture.

"The Lost Tribe" unlike many pictures taken in foreign lands has an interest to the entire community. These native headhunters have their flappers and Valentinos, their stunt men and daredevils just like our own film casts. They have more thrills to the foot than any wild and woolly western serial ever had.

Captain Hurley will be well remembered in Canada as the official photographer with Shackleton at the South Pole and with General Allenby in Egypt and Palestine.

"The Lost Tribe" is so unlike any picture ever seen in Canada that it is worthy of the attention of every man, woman and child, and it will prove equally interesting to all.

FEWER DRUGS ENTER OLD COUNTRY NOW

London, Jan. 6.—The London police campaign against the illicit sale of dangerous habit-forming drugs, coupled with the existing legislative provision against such sale, has reduced the import of these drugs in some cases by about 80 per cent., according to statistics recently made public.

The decrease, it is stated, is due entirely to the steps being taken by the authorities against the manufacture of the drugs, and not to any diminution in the amount prescribed by physicians.

RAMSAY MACDONALD IS TAKING A REST

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 6.—Ramsay MacDonald, the former British Premier, arrived here yesterday on the steamer Camito, Mr. MacDonald, who is to visit several West Indian and Central American ports before returning to England early next month, said that his health had greatly improved and that the sea voyage from Avonmouth had been most enjoyable.

Welcomed by city officials and by Horace Myers, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, Mr. MacDonald received an ovation from a large crowd as he left his steamer to call on the governor.

The former Prime Minister is making the trip at the recommendation of his physicians, who believed that a sojourn at sea would benefit his health. He said he would forget politics until he returned home.

Mr. MacDonald was entertained at a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce at the Myrtle Bank Hotel this afternoon, Governor Wilson, who presided, extended the cordial welcome of Jamaica.

Mr. MacDonald sailed this afternoon for Central America. He will return next Monday and remain in Jamaica about a week. Then he will sail direct for England.

Cornwall Churches Safe Now

The mystery surrounding the entries effected to various churches in Cornwall has been solved by the arrest and sentence of Joe Lacelle, a boy 16 years of age, who has been sent to the Mimico Industrial School for an indefinite term. Lacelle admitted having broken into Knox Church three times, the Batist Church twice, and St. John's Church once . He also confessed to three robberies of shops in Cornwall and to thefts from farmers' vehicles.

Two Daughters in Year

On New Year's Day, 1924, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dow, 319 St. Lawrence Avenue, Ogdensburg, and on Christmas Day of the same year another daughter was born to them. This gives Mrs. Dow the unusual distinction of having given birth to two children within the same year.

Former Odessa Lady Dead

Susan Armitage, widow of W. H. Hutchins, who was for some years a member of the Federal Parliament for North Middlesex, passed away very suddenly at Brockville yesterday morning. She was a former resident of Odessa.

Kingston Physician Passes

Kingston, Jan. 6.—Dr. James F. Gigson, 336 Barrie street, died on Saturday at 2 p.m. after a long illness. He was born in Kingston and was educated at the Common and Grammar Schools. He also took a course in the Military School. Afterwards he went to Detroit, Mich., attending a Commercial School there and filled a position in the Internal Revenue office for a time. He came back to Canada and took up farming. Then he studied medicine at Queen's University, graduating in 1891. He took a post graduate course in New York and passed the N.Y. Medical Council. He practised for some years in the city but was forced to retire. For the past few years he had lived quietly at home.

Succeeds as Sculptress

Peterboro, Jan. 6.—A former Peterboro girl who has made good is Kate Wallis, the sculptress. Miss Wallis, whose charming clay fantasy entitled "Mercury Charmed With His Own Invention," graces Peterboro Public Library here, for some years conducted a studio n the artistic section of the Quarter Latin in Paris, and she has had three of her works of art accepted by the recent salon of the French capital. One of her chief d'oeuvres, the head of a faun in bronze, was purchased by a French connoisseur, who accepted a generous offer made by Tiffany, the Ney York jewellery firm, and resold to them. Miss Wallis is a daughter of the late Captain Wallis, who operated the former "Ogema," the first steamer plying between Lindsay lay Scucog River and Pidgeon Lake.

Fire in Station

Kingston, Jan. 6.—Fire broke out at 8.35 p.m., on Saturday night from unknown origin in the mail department of the C.N.R. outer station. An alarm was immediately sent in from box 48, corner Montreal street and Hickson avenue.

Within a very few minutes the Fire Department had answered the call and a line of hose from the hydrant at the corner of Montreal street and Hickson avenue was laid to the scene of the fire. The mail room is situated between the baggage room and the restaurant and it was found necessary to tear up part of the floor and wainscotting in the mail room and part of the floor in the fireman's room. The work of the Fire Department was exceptionally well done and what might have proved a very serious fire was checked within an hour after the alarm was sent in. The damage was not great, although the smoke was dense.

Port Hope Hen Leads

Port Hope, Jan. 6.—Port Hope is making a name for itself in the poultry line, and now we have the honour, or, at least, Miss Maud Holdsworth, of Hythe Farm, Port Hope, R. R. No. 2, has the honour of being the proud owner of the best laying hen in the Dominion of Canada.

This hen registered as R.O.P. D. 11077 has a record of 316 eggs from Dec. 16 1923, to Dec. 16, 1924, which is the highest amount ever registered in Canada for one hen per year.

Last year, Miss Holdsworth's flock had the highest average of any flock east of the Rockies.

A Stiff Fine

Cobourg, Jan. 6.—W. J. McDonnell, of this town was found guilty on a charge of selling liquor by Magistrate Colonel Floyd and was fined $500 and costs of $36.50, or four months imprisonment. McDonnell, through his counsel and solicitor, Col. H. A. Ward, K.C., for Port Hope, and F. M. Field, K.C., has entered an appeal against Magistrate Floyd's decision and it is expected the appeal will be heard by Judge Cameron this month.

Died of Wounds

Campbellford, Jan. 6.—Clifford Brown, son of Daniel Brown, blacksmith at Stanwood, Ont., died on Saturday evening at Havelock as a result of gunshot wounds in the hip and abdomen caused by the accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of his companion, Alan Simpson of Stanwood.

The two young men were out hunting a big black bear, which had been tracked to a swamp in the neighborhood, when Simpson who was following up in the rear stumbled over a log causing the gun to discharge. The wounded lad was later being conveyed to Peterboro Hospital, but the party missed the train at Havelock and, in spite of the constant attention of Dr. Holdcroft of that place, the boy died. No action has been taken against Simpson, as the boys were great chums and the shooting was purely accidental.

The bear in question has been terrorizing the neighborhood since December 31st.

The annual meeting of the Starlight Beef Association at Forest, showed that 18,500 pounds of beef were distributed, with an average weight per animal of 462 1-2 pounds. Officers for 1925 were elected as follows: President Thomas Bell; secretary-treasurer, Victor Fuller; auditors, S. O. Blunden and A. E. Vance.

Santa Claus stopped at our station on Christmas morning and left a fine baby boy for Mr. and Mrs. Everett McCann.

Wedding bells are ringing quite loudly in our vicinity.

Shooting matches seem to be becoming more popular. There have been several in this vicinity. Some are debating whether or not they are the best thing after all.

A large number of our ratepayers were at the nomination at Town Hall Ivanhoe, on Monday afternoon. Huntingdon isn't having an election this year.

Miss Jean Fargey of Belleville spent a few days at home at Christmas holidays.

Rev. and Mrs. Lane visited their parents at Oakville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McGowan and family spent Christmas Day at Marmora.

Mr. Fred Fargey of Toronto spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fargey.

Miss B. Haggerty returned to Richmond Hill after spending the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Haggerty.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and family of Montreal spent few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. P. Fargey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and Arthur spent New Year's with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bray and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Haggerty entertained a few of their friends on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilson, Miss Christina and Mr. Foster spent New Year's at Mr. J. A. Wilson's.

The offices of three Brantford coal dealers were visited by cracksmen, but although three safes were opened apparently with a torch and jimmies all being damaged, they secured no monetary reward. They then paid a visit to Turvey & Gundy, where they secured goods valued at $300.

TEACHER FIRED, STUDENTS STRIKE

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 6—Almost the entire student body of the Windsor Locks High School, eight miles from here, girls included, is on strike and Windsor Locks is on the verge of a strike itself, because of the "firing" of Leander Jackson, principal.

Mr. Jackson, eight years at the helm, was discharged during the day by State Supervisor Francis E. Huntington and a temporary school head installed, but refused to quit as principal, with the result that most of the student body stood by him.

The death of Miss Orpha Hutchison, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchinson of Blandford township, near Wiarton; occurred following an opertaion. Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Carr of Bright and Miss Kate Hutchison of Woodstock.

Construction Time Bad For the Poet

Says McGill Professor to Women's Canadian Club Yesterday

"Early French Canadian Literature" was the subject of Professor Victor Morin's address to the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon in the Armouries. The Professor read a learned and instructive paper, which was very interesting, and as Mrs. Baker, the President, remarked in moving a vote of thanks, it threw a light on our French-Canadian compatriots' work which was new to most of those present.

Professor Morin of McGill University was introduced by Mrs. Baker, and he began his lecture by saying that he believed that with a better knowledge of the two races, more harmony would be produced. He had been talking recently with an English gentleman who confessed that outside of two or three works he didn't know that the French possessed any literature. The professor thought it was time that they did know something about it. One element of the nation should know what the other was doing. The English should know what the French were doing. This sentiment was reciprocal, and the French were striving to know English Literature. To this end the Ryerson Press had issued forty volumes of Canadian history and of these eight dealt with French subjects.

French Literature had been slandered and commended. Critics said that Canada had no national language, but the Professor believed that when closer relations were made with foreign countries we should advance.

Natural talents were not sufficient without persistent work, the speaker said.

"I have seen young people gifted with brilliant talents who failed miserably because they were discouraged by the rejection of their first work.

"The period of construction was not conducive to poetry writing because the pioneers of this country had more momentous problems to solve than courting the Muse.

"The men who wrote the early French literature were better qualified to rule empires than to hold the pen. They had the opinion that an axe, a sickle, and a musket were much more important than the pen.

"Jacques Cartier and Champlain hold no claim to literary greatness. Thier works would seem childish and incorrect, and their style would be smiled at, if the mistakes of the work were not overshadowed by the sublimity of their message.

"The dominant work of the eighteenth century is the History of New France published by Father de Charlevoix in 1744."

There was no printing done at all during the French regime in Canada, he said. In 1752, seven years after the taking of Louisburg, John Bushel did the first printing in Canada, in Halifax.

Professor Morin traced the events which kept the French occupied, the political and racial disputes which led up to the rebellion. Lord Durham's report, which was written after a study of existing conditions after the rebellion, roused indignation and protest, and led to the retort of a French Canadian lawyer. "If we have no national literature, it is because we have been too busy building a nation to write about it." He then undertook to write four volumes of French history in Canada.

French authors had made themselves favourably known. In 1860 a great literary birth took place, when the number of writers increased to a great extent. The Professor then read the names of the poets, the novelists and the historians of that period, which formed a formidable list, and did not include political or science writers, but was a hasty glance upon the literary achievements of centuries.

Robert Simpson, city assessment commissioner, at Sarnia, has forwarded a letter to the City Council resigning his appointment.

Stirling Resident Recovers Auto

Was Missing a Year After Red Ryan Took It

Kingston, Jan. 6.—It was on the 17th of December, 1923, that "Red" Ryan, bandit and escaped convict, paid Stirling a brief visit. His getaway was hurried and spectacular. He stole Mr. Frank Sarles' new Maxwell car from where it was standing in front of the Methodist Church and drove to Toronto, where the car was later found.

For some reason or other the police seemed to have lost track of the identity of the car and instead of returning it to its rightful owner it was sold by auction. However, Mr. Sarles did a little head work on his own account. He sent a full description of his car to the Dept. of Highways and asked the officials to claim it should a license for it be applied for. On Saturday, Dec. 20, a little more than 12 months after the car was taken, Mr. Sarles was notified by the department that his car was waiting for him in Toronto. He has it back in Stirling little the worse for its experience. The officials of the Department of Highways are receiving much credit for their good work in the matter.

Are Getting On With War History

Canadian Compilers are After Information From Other Armies

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The official history of the Canadian forces in the Great War, which has been undertaken by the Historical Section of the department of National Defence, is proceeding as rapidly as possible, according to the report of that department which has just been issued.

"A stage has now been reached," the report says, "when it is absolutely essential to have access to the diaries and other records of British, Australian, Indian and French units which served under Canadian headquarters or on Canadian flanks in various operations. The information is in possesion for the final stages of the war but not in respect to the earlier period. Without recourse to these records it is impossible to make correct appreciation of situations or to write a complete or accurate story of operations in which the Canadian Corps took part." Arrangements are now being made for a representative of the historical section to go to England to examine the necessary documents and consult with the staff of the British War office who are engaged upon similar work.

A "Who's Who" of Canadian airmen in the Great War has been completed by the historical Section so far as possible with the material available in Canada.

Many Regiments On Half Strength

Total of Canada's Permanent Force, 413 Officers, 3,185 Men

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Jan. 6—The present strength and cost of maintenance of various regiments of the Canadian permanent force is revealed in the report of the Department of National Defence. Many of the regiments are carrying on with barely more than half their authorized strength. The total strength of the permanent force—known as the permanent active militia—is 413 officers and 3,185 men. The enrolment is limited by statute to 437 officers and 6.008 men, from which it would appear that the policy of the department is to keep up an almost complete complement of officers for training school purposes.

The Royal Canadian Dragoons consists of 17 officers and 242 men and the net expenditure for the regiment was $64.814 during the fiscal year ending last March. Lord Strathcona's Horse maintained 16 officers and 193 men at a cost of $64,317. The Royal Canadian Artillery kept 56 officers and 617 men at a cost of $203,970. The three infantry regiments were: Royal Canadian Regiment, 404 of all ranks $104,631; Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, 269 of all ranks, $93,391; Royal 22nd Regiment, 189 of all ranks, $43,396.

The Royal Military College at Kingston cost Canada $338,082 in the last fiscal year. The attendance for the year was 165 and as well as the regular studies for the cadets, the college carried on staff courses for officers of the permanent and non-permanent militia.

For cadet services $450 000 was spent in 1923-24 which was the largest amount spent for this work during the past ten years. The estimates for cadet work for 1925 have been reduced to $400 000. The total number of enrolled cadets was 110,120 for the year ending last March. Four hundred and eleven teachers obtained Cadet inspector's certificates. The annual report states that "unless cadet training which is now receiving the wholehearted support of educationalists and medical authorities, is to be seriously curtailed, increased appropriations must be made in future." Ontario and Quebec head the provinces with 34,000 and 50,000 enrolled repsectively

COURAGEOUS FATHER SAVED ONE OF THREE

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. .—A father's heroism saved the life of only one of his three children, the other two dying of burns received when fire swept through their home.

The father, Joseph W. Solark, is in a hospital with severe burns and may lose his hearing as a result of injuries sustained in making three trips through a curtain of flames which had cut off the bedroom of his little ones.

Mrs. Solark, who aided her husband in the rescue, and an infant son, Joseph, are badly burned.

Miss Margaret Lochead, chief telegraph operator of the Parliament buildings, Toronto, died at Forest, at the home of her mother, Mrs. William Lochead, after a lengthy illness. Surviving relatives are her mother, one brother James Lochead, and three sisters, Mrs. Glen Van Valkenburg, Mrs. Jean Anderson, all of Forest and Mrs. Duncan McIntyre of Bosanquet township.

Safe Fat Reduction

Why be fat? The answer of most fat people is that constant dieting is hard, continual exercise is tiresome and exhaustive—and then, too, it might be harmful to force weight down. That was the old-fashioned idea. Today in Marmola Prescription Tablets all these difficulties are overcome. Just a pleasant little tablet after each meal and at bedtime causes fat to vanish. This modern method is easy, entails no dieting or exercising and has the added advantage of cheapness.

Get a box of these tablets and start taking them now. Within a short time you will be getting rid of fat steadily and easily without starvation diet or tiresome exercise. You will be comfortable and able to enjoy the food you like and want. Even after taking off many pounds, there will be no flabbiness or wrinkles remaining. You will feel 100 per cent. better. All drug stores the world over sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a box, or the Marmola Company, General Motors Building, Detroit, Mich., will gladly send them to you on receipt of the price.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

EMIGRATION RIGHTS

Hamilton Herald:

It is natural that the question of the emigration of people from one country to another should be differently regarded in overpopulated countries and in countries sparsely populated or with large unpeopled areas. The reason is that the migration affects them differently The government of an overpopulated country desires that the pressure of population upon the means of subsistence shall be relieved, and at the same time is anxious that its nationals who leave their country shall have somewhere to go where they are assured of a fair chance to prosper. The government of a country with sparse population, much as it may desire the influx of settlers, is likely to be anxious also that immigrants shall be of a desirable quality in respect of race, moral character and occupation. In short, such a government claims the rights of selection and restriction in the matter of immigration.

Forwarded Letter to New City Council Last Night

OFFICERS ELECTED

A. S. Large Is Chosen President; Albert Ayling Vice

At a most enthusiastic regular meeting of the Belleville Trades and Labor Council, held last night in Foresters' Hall, officers for the ensuing year were appointed and other important business was discussed.

It was the decision of the meeting for instance, that a letter be written and forwarded to the city council protesting against their action in passing the by-law which now demands a license fee of $25 per year from farmer butchers who cut and sell meat on the market.

The mayor and city council members will also be invited to attend the next meeting of the Trades and Labor Council on January 20th, when the newly appointed officers will be installed.

On Friday evening of this week the Trades and Labor Council are giving a concert and dance at the Moose Auditorium. At the meeting last night full preparations were made for the success of this interesting function.

A. Sykes Large was chosen President for the ensuing year and following are the officers selected:

Honorary-President—C. E. Hanna, M. P.; president, A. S. Large; vice-president, Albert Ayling; secretary, Garn E. Dobbs; assistant-secretary, Harry A. Thompson; treasurer George MacDonald; guardian, W. J. Parrish; trustees, Messrs Harrison, Giffen and Beare.

TAXI DRIVER IS MONTREAL HERO

At Risk of Life, Saved Conduit Worker From Death

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, Jan. 7—At the risk of his life, Louis Zimmerman, a taxicab driver, aged 24, yesterday rescued Napoleon Latonde from a manhole where he had been overcome by gas.

Latonde had gone down to repair a break in the conduit and before lapsing into unconsciousness from the gas managed to call for help.

A crowd collected and Zimmerman seeing the commotion left his cab and started to descend the ladder into the hole. A citizen stepped in front of him and warned him of the danger.

"Oh, that is all bunk," said the chauffeur and pushing the man aside he scrambled down, then called for a rope which he tied about Latondes waist. Then with the victim over his shoulder Zimmerman successfully made the ascent.

Latonde is recovering at the hospital and Zimmerman was only slightly affected by the gas.

ENGLISH CRICKETERS HAVE GOOD CHANCE

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Melbourne, Jan. 7.—With four wickets to fall, England requires 113 runs for a victory over Australia in the second cricket test match of the present series. Commencing last inning of contest late yesterday, invading players had scored 54 runs for the loss of one wicket out of total of 372 required to win the game. Stubborn defensive play by Sutcliffe who was unbeaten at the end of the day with another century to his credit, was mainly responsible for England's favorable position, their total standing at 259 runs for six wickets.

FRANCE CLAIMS IT DOESN'T GET SQUARE SHARE

And Suggests New Plan of Reparation Money Distribution

CONFERENCE HINTED

Great Britain Representative Falls in With Last Idea

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 7.—A highly important talk between Finance Minister Clementel of France, and Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, was held this afternoon in advance of the opening of the Finance Ministers' conference. A communique on the subject, issued after the meeting, threw little light on the discussion, merely declaring there had been an unofficial exchange of views on general aspects of inter-allied debts.

It is understood the conversation grew more difficult when Clementel began to place the responsibility for the diminution in reparation payments which France may expect from Germany, charging it to other allied and associated powers. In his view, had yielded to the demands of Great Britain and the United States in accepting the reparation settlement which reduced her share by more than half without obligating any absolute assurance that she would be able to collect even that reduced claim.

Freely Accepted

Mr. Churchill averred in substance, it is declared, that the Dawes plan was freely accepted by all the allies as a necessary measure to restore the economic situation, not only in Germany, but in all Europe and that France was not the only power that made necessary concessions.

Clementel is understood to have suggested, as an alternative measure, the payment of war debts proportionately to receipts under the Dawes plan, an agreement by which the French percentage of reparation payments, fixed at the Spa Conference in July 1920 would be increased through the eliminatio nof pensions from war damage claims.

Mr. Churchill was unable to accept this proposition. He proposed, according to unofficial accounts of the meeting, a general war debt conference. The French Finance Minister, is understood expressed himself as quite willing totake part in such a conference, although he regarded it unlikely to produce any definite results in the absence of representatives from the United States.

SURE OLD HERMIT WAS MURDERED

Hull, Jan. 7.—No arrests have yet been made in connection with the death of Joseph Bouchard, aged hermit-farmer on the shores of Wakefield Creek, in Hull County, who, according to one of the conjectures of the authorities now investigating his death, was slain in his log house while extending the hand of hospitality to a murderer who had come to him in the guise of a benighted traveller.

The impression is growing that Bouchard was struck down from behind some time between Dec. 23 and Jan. 4, while, perhaps, busying himself preparing the evening meal he intended sharing with the calculating assassin bent on robbing him of his money, the few hundred dollars he received in insurance last fall to compensate him for the loss of a barn and contents, which were destroyed by lightning. The old man kept his money in his cabin.

Preliminary investigations have already revealed evidence overwhelmingly supporting the murder theory. The remoteness of the scene of the murder, and the days that elapsed before the discovery of the remains thrown into a dugout that served as a cellar, may have given the murderer a start in his flight from justice, but it is believed he will soon be tracked.

ROSS ONDERDONK

Mr. Ross Onderdonk, a former well-known resident of Ameliasburg Township, passed away on Monday at Batavia, N.Y., where he had been residing for some time. In the year 1879 deceased was born in Ameliasburg where he lived until removing to Batavia. Mr. Onderdonk was a member of the Methodist church. A widow and one daughter, Mrs. G. Brickman, of Batavia, survive, also his father, Mr. W. A. Onderdonk, and step-mother, two brothers and two sisters. The brothers are John and Charles of Ameliasburg and the sisters are Mrs. C. O. Oyer of Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. Earle Weese of Ameliasburg. The body was brought here for interment in Albury cemetery.

Arrest Bailey At Point Anne

Man Who Tried to Live With Squaw on Indian Reserve

Charles Wesley Bailey of Point Anne was arrested before noon today by Inspector Francis Naphan of the Provincial Police, and was brought to Belleville.

With him were three kegs, two of which are empty, the third containing about two gallons of Niagara wine; and a funnel crowns the exhibit in police headquarters this afternoon. They were seized at his home this morning.

Bailey will doubtless be charged with keeping liquor for sale, and two Belleville youths arrested at Point Anne at 2 o'clock this morning will likely be witnesses in the case.

The boys who are still in custody, will doubtless be arraigned before Magistrate Masson some time this afternoon, and the cases will be proceeded with Thursday morning, it is believed.

Bailey is the squatter who was ejected from the Mohawk Indian Reserve when the house in which he lived there was burned. He maintained that having married a squaw, he was entitled to live on the reserve. He is a white man. Bailey then moved to a shack at Point Anne.

UNION SECRETARY BULLET RIDDEN

Scranton, Penn., Jan. 7.—His body riddled with bullets, Samuel Pace, secretary of the Ewen Colliery local union of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, was found dead on a street in Pittston early yesterday. He was 31 years old.

Five men suspected of complicity in the slaying were arrested by State and Pittston police. The prisoners, all said to be members of the radical element of the Pittston mine workers, are being held incommunicado at the Pittston police headquarters and their identity has not been disclosed.

Pace, one of the 11,000 miners on strike in the Pittston district for the past five weeks, was on his way home after attending a union meeting at the home of Rinaldo Cappellini, district president of the miners' union, who has repeatedly urged the strikers to return to work.

Pace was walking along a Pittston steet at 2 o'clock when the was attacked by two gunmen, according to persons aroused from their beds by the sound of pistol shots. Several persons saw two men shooting at Pace and saw him crumple and fall. The men then fled and are thought to have jumped into an automobile.

Pittston police found Pace's body riddled with 14 steel-jacketed bullets which entered his stomach and legs. The slaying took place less than a block from Pace's home, where his wife and three children were waiting for him.

Pace was secretary of the Ewen Colliery local union, where the present unauthorized strike originated.

WOLF HIDES
Every year about this time, an extra shipment of wolf pelts arrives at the department of game and fisheries in Queen's Park. During the past ten days 75 pelts have been received, making the total number sent in so far this year, 455. The above picture shows some of the recent arrivals. The two huge pelts which are being held out are timber wolves, the largest yet received. Most of the others shown are brush wolves. Below is a cut of the deputy minister of game and fisheries, Mr. D. MacDonald, who, under Hon. Chas. McCrea, minister of mines and fisheries, has charge of the administration of wolf bounties.

TOO LATE!

St. Thomas, Jan. 7.—Drillers for water on the farm of John Rider east of Otterville in South Oxford struck a bed of gypsum. Rider refused an offer of $30,000 for the farm. The gypsum was later found on the farms adjoining.

OWEN SOUND FIRM SUFFERS BIG LOSS

Owen Sound, Ont., Jan. 7— When the nail and wire departments of the Northern Bolt, Screw and Wire Company, Limited, Owen Sound were destroyed by fire last night, a loss variously estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000 was sustained by the company. It was about 7.30 o'clock when flames burst out from a transformer in the fire department, and in a short time had broken through the roof of the one-storey wooden structure. By the time the fire department had arrived the plant there was no chance of saving the two departments, which were converted into a roaring furnace fanned by the strong south wind. Efforts were at once directed to save the machine shop, shipping and heating departments of the plant which were situated to the east of the burning sections and separated by a cement fire wall. Although this part of the plant was blazing several times, lines of hose were played on the wall from within and without until the intensity of the fire had died down.

Similarly at the other end of the plant, to the west of the burning sections, the fire wall saved the storage department, where considerable manufactured stock was kept.

Plan to Encourage Tours of America

Cunard Line Arranged for Attractive Return Trip Tickets

London, Jan. 7.—To encourage holiday touring in the United States and Canada by English professors, teachers, students and young club members as well as family visits, special tourist third-class tickets from £41 3s 6d return are to be issued by the Cunard Line, and a number of the newest Cunarders sailing from Southampton and Liverpool will have the whole of the third-class accommodation specially reserved for this traffic.

Last year the Cunard Company brought over to Europe under a similar scheme, a number of American and Canadian oturists, mostly professors and students, and so successful was the movement it has been decided to provide similar facilities from this side during the coming season.

The outward voyage will be made by way of the St. Lawrence River to Quebec and Montreal, the Great Lakes thence to Niagara Falls, Boston and the New England country and then on to New York. The homeward voyage may be made from Quebec and Montreal or from Boston or New York.

The White Star Line has decided on important improvements in the second and third class quaters in their steamers in the Liverpool-North Atlantic service, the Baltic, Cedric and Celtic.

WAS FIRST TIME CHINAMAN SQUEALED

New York, Jan. 7.—Detective Peter Thornstensen was accosted by a Chinese Monday night, who told him he might be interested in what was going on in a room nearby. The detective went to the room where he says he found Gee Tong, 35 years old, and a revolver, ammunition and a quantity of drugs. The police believe Gee is a member of the On Leong Tong, and that the informant belongs to the rival Hip Sing Tong. They say this is the first time in the history of Chinatown's long tong war that a Chinaman was ever known to "squeal" on an enemy.

Island Inhabitants Cut Off From World; "King" Hurt Most By Tobacco Shortage

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 7.—The tempest having abated, the inhabitants of the Island of Bardsley, who were cut off from the mainland for a month by recurrent gales, have been re-provisioned after going on short fare for two weeks.

An aged fisherman, Pritchard, whom islanders call their "King" aged 84, said he suffered more from the lack of tobacco than food. He was reduced to smoking colts foot leaves.

CHIEF MAKING HAPPY START IN NEW TOWN

Catches Burglar Red Handed at Four in the Morning

SPEEDY JUSTICE

Prisoner Arrested, Tried Sentenced in Few Hours

(Special to The Intelligencer)

Campbellford, Jan. 7.—Chief of Police J. Brown, who started in on his duties here at the first of the year, following his trouble in Port Hope, where the council called for his resignation, began his career here auspiciously this morning, when he caught a burglar red-handed.

The man was arrested by Brown at four o'clock this morning and was waiting to be taken to Cobourg jail before noon. It was quick justice.

The Chief was patrolling at four this morning, when he noticed the figure of a man going down the lane adjoining to John Irwin store. Thinking it queer that any citizen should be out at that hour, the Chief followed and found that he had affected an entrance into the store by breaking the glass and unlocking the rear door.

The man's name was Alfred Cook, 30, a married man with two children. The Chief surprised him helping himself to some salt pork.

The prisoner appeared before Magistrate Payne this morning and was sentenced to three months in the jail at Cobourg.

The thefts have been going on since before Christmas and included bags of sugar, flour, a case of canned corn and salt pork, most of which were returned to the merchants to-day.

Cook worked on the Trent Canal and had never been in trouble before.

BELLEVILLE BOYS GET IN WRONG

The industrious village of Point Anne has been in the limelight recently, though the resultant publicity may not have been beneficial to the village.

Two arrests made there at 2 o'clock this morning add further publicity to the village, though the two youths arrested are Belleville boys.

Arrested by Sergeant of Provincial Police E. A. Rae, and Provincial constable Simon Elliott the two Belleville boys were taken from Point Anne to this city where they were taken into custody, charged with being intoxicated in a public place.

On the strength of statements which the accused young men are believed to have made to Inspector F. Naphan of Provincial police, a third arrest is probable at Point Anne this afternoon.

In the meantime the pair are being held in custody.

YEAR'S BEST WORK

100 YEARS OLD

The Halifax Chronicle, in its issue of January 1, celebrates the centenary year of the foundation of the newspaper, which was first printed, with the title Novascotian, or the Colonial Herald, under the proprietorship of George R. Young, on December 29, 1824. Since that date publication has been continuous. It is a unique record, and one of which the Chronicle has every reason to be proud. The present title, the Morning Chronicle, was assumed in 1843, when William Annand purchased the Novascotian from Joseph Howe, the latter designation being retained for the weekly edition. To these outstanding names must be added that of Hon. W. S. Fielding, who was for a time editor, and is described by Mr. St. Clair Hamilton as "the most efficient newspaper man I have ever known, equally at home doing shipping news, dramatic criticism, book reviews, a newspaper big story or editorials." The list of distinguished writers who have contributed to the Chronicle in one way or another is a long one. Among the many interesting features embraced in this souvenir edition, there is a special article on the great "Joe" Howe, by Dr. Archibald MacMechan, being a readable account of that remarkable man, written in terms of admiration, but with a keen insight into the humanity of Nova Scotia's great orator and statesman. We read: "The man who fought a desperate duel, who kissed every woman in Nova Scotia, who began his career as a printer's apprentice, and died—on his feet—as lieutenantgovernor in government house, who was loved and hated and followed as no man was loved and hated and followed in all our history, stands out from the blackcoated mass of our respectable politicians like some strange tropic bird amidst a flock of crows." There are other estimates of the great tribune, of much interest Other biographical articles deal with the Young family, the founder and his sons; notes on Sir Charles Tupper, Judge Haliburton and others.

The contents of the edition are not confined to newspaper history. There are many interesting articles on the province as a whole and on localities having special claims to attention. The sections dealing with Nova Scotia's industries—agriculture, apple-growing, fishing, coal, iron and steel—will be found instructive. Considerable attention is devoted to the tourist traffic. Much historical information is given concerning the city of Halifax and various places which have figured prominently in Canada's history, with articles specially devoted to Cape Breton—"the island kingdom." Mr. H. W. Hewitt's Customs of the Micmac Indians, the aborigines of Nova Scotia, gives, in a concise form, an entertaining and instructive account of the natives. The entire edition, in fact, provides a literary bill of fare from which all tastes may be satisfied.

EARLY MARRIAGES

Early marriages are frowned upon by many parents, but in the opinion of the Montreal Star, they should be encouraged. Celibacy is fashionable because girls have grown extravagant in their tastes and the cost of living is high. Thrift, frugality and economy are far too seldom taught by parents and they are scoffed at by young men and women of to-day as old fashioned. Yet these virtues are the foundations of self respect and happiness. They give more real pleasure than gaudy gowns and the richest jewelry.

An early training in the habits of thrift, seasoned with a pinch of common sense, is the divorce court's most powerful enemy.

IN THE NAME OF SCIENCE

The men who threw two or three little guinea pigs into a burning furnace, in the alleged attempt to fathom the mystery connected with the recent death of a woman in Ohio whose body was found in this same furnace, undoubtedly justified themselves in the name of science. We have yet to learn that any knowledge was gained from the brutal experiment that ordinary common sense could not have determined unaided by any such deed of cruelty. We are more than confident that here was an attempt to pose as exceedingly scientific by men who have needlessly outraged multitudes of intelligent and humane people throughout the country. According to the last reports no value at all was placed upon the results of the torture to which the little victims were submitted.

GIVE A JOB

"I do hope that citizens will do all they possibly can to help the men who are out of employment," remarked Mayor Thomas B. Angrove, of Kingston on Tuesday. "The city is doing all it can to help out in the way of providing employment, but there is need also for help on the part of the citizens, as the city cannot provide work for all who are out of work."

The Mayor stated that citizens who can, should provide work for men out of work, in doing odd jobs and chores around the house. He pointed out that any work of this kind would help out the situation, and he was free to admit that the unemployment situation in Kingston had reached a very serious state.

The advice given by the Mayor of Kingston is applicable anywhere.

Many people supplying short jobs can be the means of keeping a score of men employed, and twenty men struck off the unemployment list is a decided asset to the city apart from the human kindness spirit.

Workless Staged Small Revolution

Revolted in Winnipeg wood Yard and Raided Restaurant

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—Winnipeg police and civic authorities experienced their first trouble of the winter with unemployed men when several "out-of-works" staged a miniature revoluon in the city's wood yard. Nine men are in jail and will probably be charged with "vagrancy."

In order to obtain aid, single unemployed men must work so many hours at the wood yard each day, and on Saturday afternoon a number of them threw down their tools and refused to continue with their work. After trying to force other workers to join them, and the attempt proving unsuccessful, the men invaded a nearby restaurant, had a meal and refused to pay for it. The police were called and the men lodged in the central police station.

TOWN AND MINISTER EXPECTED TO CLASH

London, Jan. 7.—Edmonton, in the environs of London, has a trades union question on its hands which seems likely to cause a clash between the Edmonton town council and the British Ministry of Health, in which case the matter will be of considerable public interest. The trouble is anticipated in connection with a sewage extension scheme on a large scale which Edmonton is now considering. This, like public works of all kinds undertaken by local authorities, must receive the sanction of the health department of the Government before the work can be proceeded with.

The trades union in question comes into the case in this way: Edmonton town council recently decided that every civic employee must belong to a trades union, but the Ministry of Health takes a different view of the matter.

The ministry has intimated that there is no justification for the Edmonton council's action with regard to compulsory membership in a union and the exclusion of any suitable man from employment on state assisted work merely because he is not a trades unionist.

The remains of the late W. G. Merritt, city clerk of Chatham, will be laid at rest in the Maple Leaf cemetery Tuesday afternoon with full municipal honors. The mayor and members of the city council will attend in a body, and every civic department will be represented.

Press Opinions

KEEP LITTLE ONES

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FEAT OF RAILROADING

(St. Catharines Standard)

The Canadian Nationals will do as well this year as they did last and provide an operating surplus of between twelve and fifteen millions. This has been accomplished by a difficult feat in railroading, the contraction of operating expenses in the face of decreased earnings. Canada is beginning to understand Sir Henry Thornton's task pretty well. It is gigantic, but the national lines will pull through under such expert guidance as they are receiving. All the country needs is population—and a great revenue-paying asset will be built up for the future generations.

DEFINING A SOCIALIST

(Halifax Herald)

Since the death of Samuel Gompers reminiscences of him have been coming thick and fast. For example, here is his comprehensive censure of Socialists: "Economically, you are unsound; socially, you are wrong; industrially, you are an impossibility." In that case, one is not surprised to learn that he had "no use for them."

HISTORY OF A JOKE

(London Advertiser)

"Give Noah credit. He floated his stock when the whole world was in liquidation."

This, in our opinion, is a clever paragraph. It was originated by a young Hamilton man in 1916 and sent to the writer. The writer, in turn sent it to the Columbia Jester, New York where it was published. Six weeks later somebody "stole" it from the Jester and published it in the New York Sun and it later found its way to the Literary Digest. A few years after, it appeared in the D. A. C. News, Detroit as an original joke said to have been conceived by a well known Detroit club man. Four months ago a Canadian humorous magazine printed it "for the first time." After that it appeared in many daily newspapers. We saw it two weeks ago in a weekly which boldly claimed credit for making it up.

The young man who got the idea in 1916 never saw his joke in print. He was killed the following year. That is nearly nine years ago, yet yesterday we met a man who gleefully told us the joke with the remark: "I made it up myself."

SOLDIERS OF THE WEATHER

(Winnipeg Tribune)

When the temperature drops to 30 or 40 degrees below zero, it is unpleasant out-of-doors. The cold bites. Those who find it possible get indoors and stay there just as much as possible. After a hurried plunge from the car to the door they remark, or perhaps complain, that it is cold outside.

The business of a city, and of a country cannot stop because it is cold. It is hampered, of course. To carry it on means a battle with the frost king. Soldiers of the weather go out to fight. They suffer, but the work is carried on.

If the coal man, the baker, the milkman, the street car man, the telephone lineman, the trainman, the postman the newspaper carrier, the delivery man all of the hundred and one men who serve your household day by day should suddenly decide it was too cold to go out, try to imagine the condition that would arise! They wont, of course. Like good soldiers they do not stop to ask questions or consider conditions. But give them a thought as you sit warm, comfortable and secure indoors.

OLD WONDERS FOR NEW

(St. Paul Pioneer Press)

Within a few weeks, specially designed airplanes will establish a 15-day passenger service between London and Bagdad. The route will pass over Cairo and the planes will be equipped so that meals can be served and the day salon will be converted into sleeping apartments at night. This is not a "stunt". It is a commercial enterprise that is expected to pay as good profits as any other means of transportation. What gives it the air of unreality is the name of Bagdad. That city of fable is now to see the magic carpet and the dream of Scheherazade come true as the airplanes descend on the landing field in sight of the palace, where facing death each morning, she dwelt. The city is little changed and its people even less so in their customs, habits and religion. The roar of the giant planes alone will disturb the quiet off the night or still for a moment the noise of the bazaar. The world is living an "Arabian Night's Entertainment" without realizing it.

KEPT HER PICTURE UNDER HIS PILLOW

St. Catharines, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Bernice C. Sawyer, school teacher of this city, has obtained a divorce from her husband, Edward J. Sawyer, at Erie, Pa. Sawyer's last known address was Niagara Falls, N.Y. Mrs. Sawyer's telling point of evidence was that her husband slept with a girl's picture under his pillow and had asked her to leave him so that he could marry her.

Famous Musicians

R. W. S. Mendl, in The English Review

Joseph Haydn

That a composer puts himself into his work is a conclusion which it is difficult to avoid. Take, for instance, even Haydn—perhaps the most "absolute" of the great instrumentalists. History telsl us that he was a man of calm temperament and kindly humor, good-natured, simple in his habits, and clear in his opinions. His appearance was tidy. His wig was trim. He liked to be neatly dressed and turned out, even when engaged upon composition. (What a contrast is this to the rugged Beethoven, with his erratic ways his shabby, ill-fitting clothes and unkempt hair!) The picture which Haydn calls up is that of a man who pursued the even tenor of his life, prolifically writing charming music for the pleasure of his noble patron, Prince Esterhazy. The circumstances under which he lived at the Prince's court enabled him to lead a placid existence, free from financial worries and pleasing to theose with whom he came in contact. How perfectly this description suits the character of his music, with its simple, unaffected suavity; its easily flowing melodies; its precision and symmetry and polish; its workmanship, so careful yet apparently so effortless. The umse of Haydn is not stirred to great depths of emotion: she is a gentle creature: her face in repose is calm, with a dignity serious, yet not solemn: but the corners of her mouth are often wrinkled in smiles; and when she laughs, it is the light, rippling merriment of a heart that was young and buoyant even in its old age.

Beethoven

Beethoven is seen to have been a man of tremendous force of character with great faults, but also with great qualities. It is precisely because he was so human that by expressing this humanity musically he has made so wide an appeal. He lived more in the world than Haydn did. However auto-biographical such works as the C minor and the Ninth Symphonies may be thought to be—and it is almost impossible to exaggerate the personal side of them—it is because in varying degrees they typify the struggles and hopes and triumphs of everyone of us that their message is so universal. Beethoven was capable of experiencing both joy and sorrow profoundly. But the grief which he felt and which he expressed in his music was not the morbid distress which too often—alas!—appears in the life and work of Tschaikovsky. On one side is the noble, yearning sadness of the Adagio in the Ninth Symphony, or the dignified melancholy in the Allegretto of the Seventh; on the other, the hopeless, sobbing anguish of the finale in the Symphonie Pathetique. Beethoven had many love affairs; but, for all that, he was able to love deeply; and in the slow movement of the Fourth Symphony he reveals to us the tender, idyllic passion which thrilled him in early manhood; it is the lover's song of happiness, the significance of which is deepened by our knowledge that the composer had recently become engaged to be married.

Wagner

The personality of Wagner is everywhere in his operas. In some respects his is the most personal music in the world. To take only three instances from his mature works: "Siegfried," "Walther," "Tristan"—whatever their legendary or historic associations—are both in their pramatic significance and their musical portrayal, representations of Wagner in different aspects. Siegfried, is Wagner himself fighting against the old order of conservatism typified by Wotan. Walther, the young enthusiast, triumphing, with his characteristically Teutonic prize love song, over the narrow pedantry of Beckmesser and the formalism of the Mastersingers, is Wagner in revolt against the conventions of early nineteenth century Italian opera. Tristan, the victim of a desire so intense that it heeds neither the bonds of marriage nor even the fear of death, is the Wagner who was swept off his feet by his passion for the wife of Otto Wesendonk. This autobiographical trait recurring in Wagner's work reminds us of Byron. The identification of the poet with the characters of his creation, such as Don Juan and especially Childe Harold, is something conscious and definite, contrasted with the inevitable but unintentional revelation of Shakespeare's own nature in the personages of his dramas. The merging of the man in the artist in the case of Wagner is different in kind from what it is, for instance, in Haydn, who put himself into his music by a natural process which he could not help and of which he was probably quite unaware.

To-day's Smile

A rabbi was on a street car one day and got up to give his seat to a lady. Before the lady could take his place some man crowded in and got it. The rabbi stared hard, thoughtfully, and suggestively at the man, who winced beneath the stare and said:

"Well, what are you staring at? You're staring as if you want to eat me up."

"No," says the rabbi. "My religion forbids my doing it."

Have Wild Time At Washington

Representative Spills Secrets During Divorce Court Proceedings

Alpena, Mich., Jan. 7—Eggnog parties at the homes of members of congress and army officers were popular diversions around Christmas time, Mrs. Edna James Scott testified yesterday in the divorce suit brought by her husband, Representative Frank D. Scott. "There were always eggnog parties in Washington at Christmas time," she testified. "We went to them, and I went with my army friends."

Much of the questioning of Mrs. Scott this forenoon concerned alleged gay drinking parties and reference was made to a trip members of congress made to the Panama canal in 1921.

"On the trip to Panama in 1921," Mrs. Scott said. "We wives of congressman were thrown together a lot because the men gambled all day and drank. Ordinarily." Mrs. Scott testified, "the wives of congressmen are not thrown so much together. We meet only the wives of men in whom our husbands are especially interested. Mr. Scott did not care for any men who did not play cards He would not play with women, except with Mr. and Mrs. Royal Johnson, who are expert card players. That is why my friends were among the army set, but of course I had other friends as well."

Referring again to drinking in Washington, Mrs. Scott said: "In Washington every time you turn around it is a cocktail. We served them to everybody, even to the waiters in the hotel. Mr. Scott used to bring the waiters up to our rooms and give them drinks. Mr. Scott and I did not drink a lot. We kept liquor for our friends."

Questioned regarding her acquain-
Mrs. Scott denied that she ever gave a drink in her apartment to the clerk of the hotel where they made their home.
tance with the clerk and an army officer previously referred to as "Jazzbo," she declared she did not tell her husband every time they called upon her, because Miss Jane Kennedy, her husband's secretary, had told her Mr. Scott was "a very jealous man."

IS FIRST TO TRAVEL UNDER MAIDEN NAME

New York, Jan. 7.—Credited with being the first English woman to travel on a passport issued to her by the Foreign Office under her maiden name although happily married, Miss Helena Normanton, a lawyer, arrived here today on board the Adriatic.

The woman barrister was one of several notables on the White Star liner that arrived twenty-four hours late because of strong westerly gales and heavy head seas encountered all the way from Liverpool and Queenstown.

Others on board were Sir George Paish, eminent economist, and who was financial adviser to the British Government in the war; the Right Hon Hilton Young, M.P.; Major Hugh Wakefield, distinguished English comedian, who comes to join Florenz Ziegfeld's forces, and who will co-star with Leon Errol in "Louis the Fourteenth" soon to be produced and the Hon. William Brownlow, son of the third Baron Lurgan.

Toronto Dentist Has New Discovery

May Eliminate Danger of Abscesses at the Roots

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Elimination of the danger of abscesses at the roots of the teeth, which is responsible for a variety of ills ranging from rheumatism to eye trouble, is expected to be the result of the research work is now been carried out for five years at the University of Toronto, and which is only now revealed by an article in the January number of the Dominion Dental Journal, written by a member of the research staff . Announcement of th eresult o fthe research work is now made to the dental profession at large after thorough testing. The new discovery consists of using copper amalgam as a permanent filling for the root canals of the tooth. This has been used before as a filling for teeth, but until the research work at the university, it was not known to have a permanent germicidal effect. Dr. F. C. Husband, a Toronto dentist, gets the credit for what is expected to be the greatest advance in dentistry in a hundred years.

Research work has been carried on at the University of Toronto since March, 1920, first under the direction of Prof. J. J. Mackenzie, who died, and then under Prof. O. Klotz. Results of the work of the staff have been given before various dental associations and the discovery will be explained in a paper from the Toronto section to be read at the meeting of the International Association of Dental Research, which takes place at Chicago next March.

BY MOTOR ACROSS SAHARA

The motor tour which King Albert of Belgium was to have made across the Sahara from Algiers to Timbuctoo at the invitation of Marshal Petain, is shown above. For the convenience of tourists and of big game hunters entering the Niger country, French company is arranging for two public services of autos in each direction every week. From Colomb-Bechar to Timbuctoo—a distance of about 1,680 miles—the journey will take 9 days.

MUST CHANGE WAYS WOMEN ARE TOLD

Brandon, January 7.—The whole organized temperance movement of Manitoba must be abandoned unless this winter it can be put on a different basis, W. R. Wood, secretary of the Manitoba Provincial Temperance Alliance, told the United Farm Women of Manitoba at their convention here yesterday. No large sums of money were required, he said, but each community must do its part.

Mr. Wood said he knew that the United Farmers were steadfast for temperance, and the challenge for them was in fact that six to ten millions of dollars per year were being drained from the commerce of Manitoba by the liquor system, that police reports in the cities showed a thirty per cent. increase in drunkenness, and that young people were being menaced. The remedy, he declared, was not in legislation; they were not seeking changes in the law. The remedy was a matter of basic temperance education, and this could be given only through local bodies, through individuals believing in temperance doing the teaching.

"What the Alliance wants," he said, "is to procure an army of local teachers, of local leaders of every kind, who believe in temperance. What the Alliance can do is to provide material and co-operation. The challenge is serious, because not one in twenty of temperance people have got in touch with the temperance movement."

WEEK OF PRAYER STARTED LAST NIGHT

The Week of Prayer Services conducted by the City Ministerial Association, had an auspicious beginning in Emmanuel Church last night. Rev. George Marshall presided, several ministers participated and the choir rendered valuable help. The address by Rev. Dr. Malott proved a very timely and inspiring message. There was a good attendance, representing the various churches. Increasing interest is anticipated.

1,272,600 ARE OUT OF WORK IN ENGLAND

London, Jan. 7.—Unemployment increased 10 per cent. in Great Britain during Christmas week, and there are nearly as many people on the dole lists now as there were a year ago.

The Ministry of labor announced tonight that 1,272,600 persons were recorded on the registers of the employment exchanges on Dec. 28. This total represents a gain of 103,373 over the preceding week, and is only 13,023 less than the corresponding week in 1923.

1925
Let us begin the new year from a HEALTH STANDPOINT. Most of us have our old chronic headaches, stomach trouble or nervous condition to carry over from the old year. Why not start in right by having your SPINE EXAMINED, because most of our trouble is caused absolutely from this centre. You don't allow your teeth to totally decay before you see your dentist, so call in and have your spine examined. If there is nothing wrong, alright. On the other hand, if there is and you neglect it, you are the one to suffer.

Pirates Kill, Then Contribute Purse

Chinese Looters Emulate Robin Hood in Foochow

(Associated Press Despatch)

Foochow, China, Jan. 7.—With consideration for their victims worthy of Robin Hood, pirates recently took possession of the Chinese steamer Ningshin, ran her into a harbor near Amoy and proceeded to loot her most systematically, according to a report brought here by William Overholt and family, American missionaries, passengers and witnesses of the occurrence. The quartermaster bravely refused to turn over his keys to the pirate chief and was killed, but the pirates made up a purse of $300 and entrusted it to another of the ship's officers to be given to the family of the murdered man.

The pirates boarded the ship in Shanghai in guise of passengers. When nearing Amoy they overpowered the officers and crew, acting with precision and with practically no violence. They politely warned the Chinese-speaking passengers not to get excited, informing them that their object was primarily the seizing of 90,000 pounds of silver bar consigned to the American Oriental bank at Foochow. Nevertheless, it was explained somewhat apologetically, the pirates needed some clothing and would be obliged to accept some from the passengers. Only the passengers in private cabins were robbed, the less fortunate ones in the matter of comforts being unmolested. Toward the foreign travelers the pirates were extremely polite. From them they took nothing, evidently under orders from their chief.

Under compulsion the crew piloted the Ningshin into a harbor where, in a concealed location, appeared a fort suggestive of medieval days. Boats put out from shore in great numbers to take off the treasure. Many of the wild looking boatmen attempted to board, but the pirate chief stood them off at the point of a revolver while his followers brought the loot to the ship's side. He explained to the passengers: "If these fellows get on board I can't control them, and they certainly will rob you of everything you have."

As soon as the silver was unloaded into the small boats, the captain of the ship was ordered to put to sea, and as the boats dropped astern the pirates fired a salute with their small arms, the chief bowing low and swinging his hat in a wide theatrical gesture.

THIS LADY IS VERY MUCH WORRIED

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 7—"I am a bigamist and I want to give myself up."

Mrs. Flossie May Buckner-Kirkman-Johnson-Butler-Arrowway walked into the Syracuse police station and made that statement. With her was a man she declared to be her fourth husband, whose taunts drove her to the police.

Wife at times of Fred Kirkman, Milton Fred Johnson, Samuel Butler and Joseph Frederick Arrowway, the woman, now 25 years old, was married four times before she was 20.

An Armistice Parade

(From the American Legion)

Europe, weltering in debt and misery, throbbing with national jealousies and hatreds, placed flowers on the tombs of its unknown soldiers on Armistice Day. But of all the ceremonies on this November eleventh none was more compelling than the parade of the division of the living dead throuhg the streets of Paris.

Not a drum beat. Not a trumpet sounded. Instead, the tramp of tired feet, the clumping of crutches, the creaking of wheelchairs, the silence of stunned crowds of spectators. There passed in broken ranks a regiment of the war-blinded, each groping man led by a child, another regiment of the armless and the legless, and a third regiment of those whose faces were so horribly marred by wounds that many wore masks. The living dead, men with beating hearts but sparkless souls—twenty thousand of them.

It is recorded that after the first moments of stifling silence, a tidal wave of emotion swept over the crowds the well-clothed, well-fed and sound-bodied wept loudly and unashamed.

What wonder that those who fought in the war, the organized veterans of the World War in all countries, lead in protesting the futility of war and seek to make war impossible. Perhaps as war loses its foggy glamour among those who have been reared on the old myths of glory, the world repentence and agreement will come in time to save Europe from bleeding to death.

MARTINELLI ILL

New York, Jan. 7—Giovanni Martinelli, tenor, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has been added to the list of prominent persons who are ill with typhoid fever. He is dangerously ill, according to the latest reports of his condition. Frank Vanderlip, former banker who also was a victim of typhoid fever, is convalescing.

OVERMANNED

Warsaw, Jan. 7.—Polish railroads are expensive to operate because of the large number of employes. This averages 13 for each kilometer of track, as against seven men in France and five in the United States. It is declared by experts that Poland could dispense with 50,000 railroad employes and thus save $30,000,000 a year.

Mr. D. H. Saville, of Toronto, of the Ontario fire marshal's department, on Saturday investigated the New Year's day fire, which caused a loss of $18,000 to the store and apartment building west of the Hotel Empire, St. Thomas. Mr. Saville and Chief Mitrella came to the conclusion that the fire developed from a defective stovepipe leading from the rear of premises occupied by the Eureka Company.

Cross Words Help His Stenographer

Big Company President Noticed Improvement In Spelling

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Crossword puzzles "are a blessing in disguise to those employers who feared their distracting influence when they first appeared," according to Albert M. Johnson, president of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States who said that so far as his organization was concerned the puzzles were responsible for increasing the efficiency of his stenographers 25 per cent.

Rather than being a distraction to the office girl, the mental labor in solving them has made her faster and more accurate in her work, Mr. Johnson found.

"Noticing a marked improvement in the speed with which our several hundred stenographers were handling the correspondence to 100,000 policy holders, I inquired the reason and found that we had the cross-word puzzles to thank," Mr. Johnson said. "I discovered our stenographers were crossword enthusiasts and that their idle hours spent over the dictionary had improved their spelling and recognition of words to a startling extent.

"All our executive reported that the stenographers were taking dictation far more rapidly that they were recognizing and handling correstly words that they used to stumble over. We have encouraged our employes to play the game as it widens their minds and improves their speech, as well as increasing their office efficiency."

ABLE TO SPEAK WITHOUT A LARYNX

New York, Jan. 7—Medical students and physicians at Vanderbilt Clinic heard perfect speech from the lips of a man whose larynx had been removed and who for years had been unable to utter any sound. The device which restored the lost faculty—one of about forty in use, was simple but delicate mechanism constructed on the principle of a whistle in a toy balloon. It is the invention of Dr. John E. Mackenty of this city and Dr. Harvey Fletcher and Clarence E. Lane of the joint labratories of the Western Electric Company and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

TWENTIETH VICTIM IN BIG TONG WAR

New York, Jan. 7—The tong war, believed at an end after police warnings that unless the peace was kept tongmen would be deported, flared up anew with the slaying of Chin Hing, a member of the Hip Sing tong in a crowded Chinese restaurant.

His assailant escaped.

The victim was a member of the powerful Chin family of Canton. His was the twentieth death that can be traced to the renewal of the murder orgy of the tongs.

Police to-day examined a score of Chinese, including many who were in the restaurant where Chin was shot. Detectives have been scattered throughout Chinatown in an effort to prevent renewal of hostilities.

There was a splendid turnout of members of the Kent battalion of the first parade of the year at Chatham, and officers are confident that membership records will be broken this year. At the annual inspection in 1924, the regiment had the second largest turnout in the Dominion, the chief honors being awarded to the Queen's Own Battalian in Toronto.

It is believed that City Clerk Morrison, of Woodstock can lay claim to being the oldest city clerk, in service and in person, in Ontario. This point is being raised somewhat through the death of W. G. Beritt, cty clerk of Chatham, who was 70 years of age and saw 27 years as clerk of the city. City Clerk Morrison is now in his 80th year, and next April he will have completed 32 years of service.

THE BROKEN PINION

Recently a friend purchased a canary from my mother and as he was a wonderful singer she was not only very proud of him but valued him highly.

Some time later he caught his claws in some manner in his swing and, in his endeavors to free himself, broke his leg. His mistress felt very badly and decided that she would call in a veterinary before consenting to the killing of the bird.

The good man was puzzled when he looked at the poor little crippled mite and said that he had never set a bird's leg and was in doubt as to what course he should pursue.

"Nothing like trying, however," he said, and this is what he did.

Doubting the outcome of the experiment very much, he took matches and made some splints, after which he proceeded to put the leg into a plaster cast.

Some ten days, I forget the exact time, passed and the cast was removed only to find that the leg was stiff and useless. The doctor believed nothing more could be done, but not the lady. Every day she worked with the canary's toes massaging them up and down until the little songster was able once more to use his leg as before.

Perhaps some one may benefit by this article, but I would advise using splints and bandaging the leg in preference to placing it in a cast as it is less apt to remain stiff after knitting together again.

STRAIGHT TO THE GOAL

The world gets out of the way for the man who knows where he is going, so they say. At a lecture the speaker stated fervently: "He drove straight to his goal. He looked neither to right nor to the left but pressed forward, moved by a definite purpose. Neither friend nor foe could detain him nor turn him from his course. All who crossed his path did so at their own peril. What would you call such a man?"

"A truck driver!" shouted a voice from the audience. —The Haversack.

Reporter Won By Sheer Persistance

Married Young Lady Who Slammed Door in His Hand

New York, Jan. 7.—Eighteen months ago Marie Saxon slammed a door in the face of Sydney Silverman, then a reporter for his father's theatrical weekly, Variety, when he sought to interview her at the Palace theatre.

Now, it is learned, Miss Saxon, now a principal in "My Girl" at the Vanderbilt Theatre, and young Silverman, part owner of Variety, will be married at the end of the present theatrical season. The engagement was announced at a Christmas party given by Mr. and Mrs. Sime Silverman, the youth's parents, at his home, 135 Central Park West, on December 24.

The romance is attributed more to young Silverman's persistence than to Miss Saxon's reluctance, for when she refused to see him, he was undaunted.

For a week Silverman labored to interview Miss Saxon and finally, when the interview was granted, he decided to call again. He did, and now, after 18 months of courtship Miss Saxon has capitulated and will be married, she says, as soon as possible.

Only the immediate friends of the couple have known what was going on behind the scenes, and the engagement announcement therefore, was a surprise to Broadway.

Miss Saxon, talented dancer and singer, has been starred in several Boardway musical comedies and is now one of the drawing cards in "My Girl."

French Girls Are Wearing Wool Hose

Fear of Red Noses Drive Them From Silk

Paris, Jan. 7.—The fear of a red nose is alleged to have caused silk stockings practically to disappear from Paris streets during the past week. Bitter cold weather was responsible. It was not a question of style, but one of comfort, which brought out neat gaiters over well cut shoes and heavy woolen stockings to replace the flimsy silk creations as ankle protectors.

The following paragraph, printed in one of the leading styles periodicals at the beginning of the cold wave over the signature of one of the most renowned doctors of Paris, is said by the trade to have been responsible for the unprecedented run on gaiters and woolen stockings. It read: "It is really wise to dress warmly, for it keeps the circulation right, and helps save one from a red nose and that pinched, blue look about the mouth which is so very unbecoming."

MURRAY-KAY CO. CLOSING BUSINESS

Toronto, Jan 7.—Announcement is made by the Murray-Kay Co., that they have decided not to proceed with plans for the erection of a new store at the corner of Yonge and Dundas streets. Being under agreement to vacate the larger part of the present premises on King st. east, by January 15th, the company has appointed E.R.C. Clarkson & Sons to take charge of all merchandise immediately.

The Murray-Kay Firm has been in existence for 72 years. It was first known as W. A. Murray & Co., and the John Kay Co.

The business was originally established by W. A. Murray on the present site.

ONLY PACKARD CAN BUILD A PACKARD

For Twenty-Five Years

For a quarter of a century, Packard has been building cars of the highest quality for that portion of the public that demands the best at any price.

Today, from the position of leadership that has been so generously accorded, Packard celebrates its Silver Anniversary by making it possible for more men and women to have the car of their dreams.

Now, for the first time, one may buy standard enclosed models of highest quality at actual open car prices.

Revised prices just announced offer an average reduction of $995 on the enclosed models of the Packard Six — for example, the price of the Seven Passenger Sedan is reduced $1330.

Each car is identical in every way with those Packard has been building during the past year. The prices of all models of the Packard Eight are not affected.

Packard Six and Packard Eight both furnished in ten body types, open and enclosed. Packard's extremely liberal time-payment plan makes possible the immediate enjoyment of a Packard—purchasing out of income instead of capital.

ARE FEWER JOBS IN CANADA NOW

London, Jan. 7.—The employment situation in Canada, as reported on December 31, 1924, by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, a copy of which has been received locally, gives the number of persons released from pay rolls in Canada as 18,837. This constituted the figure as submitted by 5,880 firms making returns to the department.

Workers employed by as many firms totalled 749,841 and at the same time for 1923 have dropped close to 25,000 from their pay rolls. The reports show that employment has declined in all industries except logging, mining and retail trade, in all of which there were large seasonal gains. The most extensive shrinkage was noted in construction and manufacturing.

CROWD OF 40,000 VISITS RADIO SHOW

Berlin, Jan. 7.—Berlin is having a radio exposition, and on Sundays the visiting crowd has reached 40,000. Votaries to the new form of entertainment are accruing in large numbers.

Some 250 firms exhibit sets and accessories, and not a few advertise that with their instruments one can hear the musical programs broadcast in the United States. Privately the salesman will whisper, however, that one must arise early to hear the western hemisphere, since the evening programs of New York are given between 2 and a.m., Berlin time.

POLAND HONORED DEAD IN SURPRISE

Warsaw, Jan. 7— Poland recently achieved a monument to "The Unknown Soldier" in such a mysterious manner that neither the press nor the public know whence it came. One morning at dawn a motor lorry appeared in Saxonian Square and unloaded at the base of the Poniatowski statue a great sandstone block bearing the inscription "To the Unknown Soldier."

The public immediately began laying wreaths of flowers before the inscribed stone and it has become an accepted monument in spite of the ignorance as to the origin of the gift.

Burton L. Bedford was elected chairman of the Chatham public utilities commission for the current year at the inaugural meeting.

To Executives and Salesmen

"How I sell busy executives"

A remarkably successful salesman says:—"Never call on a prospect you don't know without first calling him on the telephone to make an appointment." Here are his three reasons:—

1. "To secure an appointment, I must know something about the man, and plan what I am going to say to him. I talk to him about his business, not about my own.
2. "Having the lead in the conversation, I can ask questions to which he will answer 'Yes'. They are of such a nature that he invites me to call—the best possible introduction.
3. "With an interview arranged for, I then carefully study my proposition, and how I intend to present it. 99% of my sales are made in this way."

Planning the conversation before lifting the receiver off the hook is the essence of success in making sales by telephone. It makes better, more productive salesmen. Selling by telephone is an art capable of unlimited development.

BELLEVILLE JUNIORS 8 - CAMPBELLFORD 5 ; KINGSTON MEN ARE BUSY FINDING ALIBIS

Belleville Lads Step Out Fast

Beat Campbellford Tidily Last Night by 8-5 Score

COME FROM BEHIND

Hibbard Spent a Wild Evening; Nobody Could Hold Him

(Special to The Intelligencer)

Campbellford, January 7th—Hockey fans crowded Covert's ice palace here to the roof, and then the small boys "hung" from rafters to see the fastest junior O.H.A. hockey match ever seen in the town, when Ed Thomas' Belleville crew came from behind to win from Campbellford juniors by 8-5 last night.

The game was speed personified from the drop of the hat with new faces on each lineup and changes in positions on both teams. Belleville players excelled in holding their positions well and exhibiting a real knowledge of six man defense hockey.

How four of Campbellford's five counters ever got past Jeffrey who played goal for the visitors, will always be a mystery, but "Coot" Blue Lemyre, Wood did the tricks respectively. Johnny Hibbard, who was chain lightning cut loose last night, and who scored six of the eight goals netted Belleville's first, the first period ending Campbellford 4, Belleville 1.

The second stanza opened with a grand rush, every man in uniform taking the game very seriously. It was this stanza which produced what old timers believe to be the fastest junior O.H.A. hockey ever witnessed in the rink. Hibbard, who should have a wonderful season, who is a seasoned junior, and who was criticized in Belleville following Friday's game between the same two teams, for not wading into the fray, evidently left no doubt in the minds of fans as to his wading abilities. He was "crazy" and could not be stopped. He beat "Froggy" Sanders, the efficient local goalie in quick succession for two tallies and Rourke who was wide awake all the time, grasped opportunity and scooped in another, tying the score and giving a new lease of life to the Thomas crew.

"Coot" Blue, "The Terrible Turk" who was used as utility last night on the wing, came down with a sweep fire in his eye and everything—and beat Jeffery with number five while the rafters of the rink fairly "creaked" above the cheering of the fans. The second period ended 5-4 for Campbellford.

Stepped Right Away

Belleville stepped away from Campbellford in the third period, and completely outclassed the locals. Sanders kept his head tolerably cool, but the [illegible] in his citadel came so thick and fast it seemed as though it would be impossible for anyone to stop all of them. Hibbard went clear wild in this the last period, bulging the twine three times in short order. "Red" Townsend cinched the game when he packed a wicked shot past Sanders for number eight. When the gong closed the game, cheers rent the air, for fandom had been treated to a fast game in which the best team had won.

Hibbard, Townsend and Rourke were best for Belleville, Blue, Lemyre and Wood shining for Campbellford. With good coaching these boys should round into promising players as the season advances.

Penalties were numerous because of the failure of players to strictly adhere to the new O.H.A. ruling that body checking out in the ice and hoisting at the boards are taboo. Penalties were nearly all minor however, Belleville geting thirteen, and the locals eight. The most of them were two minute rests; but Seeney drew a four minute rest when he needed it badly by the way, for rough tactics.

Referee Ross Buritt of Trenton handled the bell to perfection. He did splendid work, nothing escaping his eagle eye and there was not one complaint from the boards about his decisions.

The game started sharp at 8.15 o'clock sharp.

Tle line-ups:

After the game, when the return trip was attempted by the Belleville players in the big bus, a flat tire held up the proceedings for a time.

Arnot of Belleville and Sarginson were timekeepers, while Latchford and Ingram acted as goal umpires.

Oshawa Hopeful For Ball in 1925

Several Good Players Have Taken up Residence There

Oshawa, Jan. 7.—With industrial conditions locally having shown a decided improvement during the past month or two Oshawa's stick in the baseball world has increased one hundred percent. In looking over the situation it would seem that the Motor City is supplied with material both for senior and intermediate teams.

Andy Sommerville, the Orono lad, who made such a creditable showing with Orme Gamhby's Colts in the D. and O. League for two seasons, has taken up residence in Oshawa, being eligible to play here this year. Whether Andy will join the senior or intermediate ranks remains to be seen. He spent one year in the Central Ontario League with Bowmanville and would make a desirable acquisition to any senior outfit.

A catcher by the name of Benson is also said to be working while Dugan, a former Peterboro first sacker has been working in this city for some time. It is also reported that another Peterboro player has located here. Whether these are correct will be verified only when the ball season rolls around.

Despite the fact that it is now in the midst of the hockey season interest in baseball has increased due to the calling of the annual meeting for Tuesday, January 13, in Cobourg. It is expected that officers will be elected and general plans discussed for the season of 1925.

How Kingston Saw It

(The Standard)

Getting the jump on the locals and scoring four goals in the first period Belleville intermediate O.H.A. team last night surprised even themselves by winning the game there from Kingston by the score of 5 to 1. The game was played on slushy ice, and the locals were a long time in getting used to the poor sheet that Belleville caught them at the critical moment and slipped in four goals. After that Kingston had all the better of the play but the wretched condition of the ice made their shooting bad, and they were only able to notch a counter once Beleville hardly expected to win Belleville hardly expected to win the start that they had little chance but they fought hard from the drop of the puck, and had the advantage on the slow ice. Rogers, in the Kingston goal, had an off-night, allowing four to slip past him in the first frame, two of them rather easy ones. At that he stopped many shots, and after the middle of the second period was in his usual good form. Rooney and Watts both found the going hard while the forward line couldn't work a combination satisfactorily. Joe Smith played a great game, and was even better in the last period when, with one man short, Kingston kept the play around the Belleville nets and for a time threatened to score several goals. Nurse, however, put up a grand game, and the defence pair, Green and Finkle were exceptionally good. Hagerman loafed a great deal at centre, and had several trips to the penalty bench, though Weir worked hard from start to finish and Whalen surprised the fans by his good performance.

Belleville forced the play from the start, and for the greater part of the first period had the puck around the locals' nets. Finally, with one man on the bench, Frechette broke through and fooled Rogers on a slow shot. A few minutes later on a three-man counter. Kingston for a few minutes showed a flash of their true form, but the back-checking was heavy, and Belleville again bombarded Rogers, Finkle scoring on an easy shot. A minute later Weir bored in on top of the Kingston goaler and flipped the puck into the corner of the net.

The second period saw Kingston improved, but Nurse was unbeatable. The play had only gone a few minutes when Finkle went up the side and from about forty feet out scored on a long shot which Rogers apparently did not see. After that the Bellevilles failed to dent the twine and Kingston worked their heads off in an endeavor to get into the scoring column.

The final period was all Kingston. Even in the slush they played fairly good combination, and peppered Nurse with shots. In seven minutes Watts went up the ice with Lawlor, and taking a pass in front of the goal scored the locals' only tally. Smith worked like a Trojan and Gibson kept plugging for goals, but Nurse turned everything aside. With six minutes to play Watts was given a five-minute penalty, but even with this advantage Belleville couldn't get anywhere. Smith never looked better and worked his hardest, playing all over the ice, but the Kingstons were out-lucked, and failed to score again.

Harold Mitchell of Toronto handled the game and was satisfactory. Several of his decisions were questioned, but nothing serious resulted.

(The Whig)

Despite the fact that they commanded the greater part of the play in the last two periods the Kingston intermediates went down to defeat bfore the Belleville team last night at the Belleville rink by the score of 5-1, but the difference in the score does not indicate the relative merits of the teams as the locals, playing on an entirely different rink with very poor ice as a contrast to that which they are accustomed to on the arena here, put up a much better fight than one would be led to believe by the score. It is admitted that the first period was all Belleville and the Kingston team were unable to get going on the shell ice and the difference in the ice being so great from their own rink, they were greatly handicapped but for the next two periods they held their own and especially in the last period they set a terrible pace and had Belleville in a desperate fix, but they were woefully outlucked and deserved at least three goals. Belleville fans were more than surprised at the excellent showing of the Kingston team in the last frame and they were plainly nervous, remembering what Brockville did to their team in the last period when the Easterners invaded Belleville early last week. Kingston's only tally came in the last period when they were playing at their best form. It is plain to be seen that Kingston put up a wonderful fight after they had found out what the going was like when it is seen that in the first period, Belleville tallied four times, dropping down to once in the second period and being entirely shut out in the last period. This alone shows that the local lads showed a wonderful improvement as they went along and there is not a man among them, who does not feel that the difference in the lighting, the ice condition and the playing of the boards was not responsible. Kingston are every bit as good a team as Belleville—if not better—and Captain Joe Smith and his men are of the opinion, that they will surely defeat the Belleville team when they come to Kingston to play on the arena next Monday night.

ANNOUNCE ALIBIS

Kingston sure looked bad in the first period of the Belleville game, but everything was against them, and they ought to trim the Belleville team here.

Just the same if the management of the Belleville rink would put a couple of candles over the goals, the goal-tenders would have a decent view.

There was much overskating of the puck, and when the disc did travel last night, it was on its edge. On good hard ice, Kingston should have an easy time.

Referee Mitchell in the last game at Belleville ordered new nets saying that ones used in the game with Brockville were utterly inadequate. The same nets were on the job last night, as well as the same referee.

The accommodation at the Belleville rink hasn't improved any with age, and the lighting doesn't get any brighter. Persistent rumors of a new arena do not seem to have much substantiation.

HERMAN E. WON

At Dufferin Park, Toronto, yesterday, Herman E., owned by Dr. Benson of this city, won the 2.20 pace. Five heats were necessary to determine the winner. The time of the heats were 2.18 1-4, 2.16 3-4, 2.18 3-4, 2.[illegible] 1-2, and 2.17 1-2.

PLAN BASEBALL NOW

On Thursday (to-morrow) evening at eight o'clock, a meeting is to be held in the Y.M.C.A. by all those desirious of forming an Intermediate baseball team in Belleville next summer.

Drugs Excite The Kidneys, Drink Water

IF BACK HURTS OR BLADDER IS TROUBLING YOU, TAKE A LITTLE SALTS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure ;makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SUZANNE LENGLEN ROUNDING INTO FORM

Cannes, France, Jan. 7.—Suzanne Lenglen and her partner, Elizabeth Ryan, came through the Christmas-New Year tournament here without the loss of a single set, winning the finals in the woman's doubles yesterday from Mrs. Satterthwaite and Mrs. Neville Smith, of England, 6-0, 6-2.

Mlle. Lenglen, during her tournament, showed that she is still a mighty racket wielder in spite of her temporary retirement from championship play since the Wimbledon tournament of last June. She intends to continue playing doubles for another month and to resume singles play in February, gradually getting into form to compete in the French championships and also at Wimbledon.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN: SERIAL: THEATRES

A Woman's Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

"I declare you think of everything!" exclaimed her ladyship. "You must have been wonderfully trained, Doris!"

A faint flush rose to the pale cheeks and then left it all the paler for the swiftly passing color.

"Poor people learn to be thoughtful. The dear friend to whom I owe everything, Lady Despard, spent all his life in tender devotion to me!"

"There, I've made you nearly cry!" exclaimed her ladyship, putting her arm round her. "What an awkward idiot I am! But I'll be more careful, dear; I will. And now go and put on that pretty bonnet of yours and we'll go and work havoc with the hearts of those foolish young men who hang on the rails in the park."

Doris gave the butler the necessary information. Although she had only been three days in the house, Lady Despard had almost handed over the management of it to her, and the servants had commenced to look to her for their orders. It was a strange change from her old life of dependence and excitement, but it was a change which Doris found very grateful; the quiet of the magnificently-appointed house gave her a sense of repose, a sense of repose which she needed which she needed greatly, and but for and but for the memory of her loss of Jeffrey, but for the dull, aching pain which smote her heart whenever she thought of the man who had stolen her heart in Barton meadows, and tossed it almost contemptuously back to her, she could have been happy.

All day long she strove to put the memory of Cecil Neville away from her, but it haunted her sleeping and waking, and a great dread assailed her that all her life she should strive for forgetfulness and find it not.

As they drove in the park she leaned back in the carriage, and—lost to all sense of the crowded drive and the long lines of pedestrians, nearly all of whom plucked off their hats to the well-known Lady Despard herself, and woke with a start when her ladyship, with an arch little laugh, said:

"I never got so much notice before! I wonder why it is. Can you guess, Doris?"

"I? No," said Doris, innocently.

"Really no? Well, for a really pretty girl, I think you are the most modest I have ever met, my dear."

Doris laughed and drew farther back.

"There!" exclaimed her ladyship. "I've put my foot in it again! Never mind, dear, we'll go home now; I'm tired of bowing; besides it's scarcely fair to me to do all, when half ought to be your share."

Long before the evening Lady Despard had forgotten about the invited guests; but Doris dressed early and arranged some flowers in the small dining-room in which the meal was to be served; and thinking that it would be required, arranged as well as she could the music which lay in a confused heap in the rare Chippendale canterbury. Presently Lady Despard came down, fresh from the hands of her maid, in a costume of Worth's with which she had been entirely satisfied until she saw Doris' simple frock of black lace with a yellow rose nestling in its bosom for her only ornament.

"How nice you look, dear!" she exclaimed, taking her by the shoulders and holding her at arms' length. "Now I wonder why it is that you always seem just perfectly dressed. That neat little frock of yours is simply exquisite, while mine looks all furbelows and fuss. Where did you learn to dress like that?"

Doris could have answered, "At the best of all schools, the theatre;" but instead, she smilingly put the question by and praised the other's handsome costume.

They were still talking when a footman announced Mr. Spencer Churchill and Mr. Percy Levant. Lady Despard gave a little start.

"Bless me!" she exclaimed. "I had forgotten them!" and she glided forward to receive them. Doris turned aside for a moment to pick up a flower which had fallen from a vase, then looking round, found Mr. Spencer Churchill waiting with extended hand.

"My dear Miss Marlowe!" he purred pressing her hand and smiling down upon her with a perfect wealth of benevolence; "I'm so glad, so glad to see you again. Let me introduce my friend, Mr. Percy Levant. May I?"

He stepped on one side, and Doris, looking up, saw a tall, graceful young man, with a face almost perfectly handsome; and as she noticed the well-cut and carefully severe style of his evening dress, she felt surprised and amused. This aristocratic gentleman with the face of a Greek god, must have startled Lady Despard, with her doubts and fears.

"Miss Doris Marlowe, Percy," said Mr. Spencer Churchill, glancing at him sideways and wtih keen watchfulness.

Percy Levant did not start, but the quick flash of his eyes and a certain quiver of the delicately-formed lips, sufficiently indicated the surprise which fell to his share.

He had imagined a girl, plain almost to ugliness; not only plain, but shy and diffident, and—as he would have put it—bad form; a dark, colorless, governess kind of creature; and this vision of perfect grace and youthful loveliness startled him almost to bewilderment. He bowed low to hide the faint signs of his discomfiture and Doris, just inclining her head, at once moved away.

Dinner was announced, and Lady Despard, talking in her languidly-glowing style, gave her arm to Spencer Churchill, leaving Percy to escort Doris.

The dinner was served on the oval table, and the little party—which would have seemed cold and formal in the larger apartment, with its huge table and splendid furniture—was made to appear pleasant and homelike Spencer Churchill and Lady Despard did all the talking for some time and Percy Levant only joined in occasionally; but his silence was perfectly self-possessed, and without a touch of gaucherie or awkwardness and want of breeding Lady Despard had so much dreaded.

Every now and then he let his splendid eyes wander to the lovely face beside him, and each time the amazement overwhelmed him, although he sat apparently so calm. This exquisite creature had been sold to him by Spencer Churchill! This beautiful girl to be his wife! He caught himself once or twice looking round the room with a close scrutiny, as if to convince himself that he was awake and not dreaming. But he could not sit there silent all through the dinner, and at last he forced himself to address her.

MISS PANKHURST JOINS PROPHETS

New York, Jan. 7—"With the Bible in his right hand and the newspaper in the left, the good citizen of to-day is equipped to recognize in the happenings of these times the message which the spirit of God is delivering to humanity—namely, that the kingdom of heaven is at hand" Miss Christabel Pankhurst told an audience in Ascension Memorial Church to-day.

Miss Pankhurst, widely known as one of the pioneers of the movement for women suffrage, said: "My task in this series of meetings is to show how current world events are week by week fulfilling Bible prophecy.

"Here is the conclusion to which a student of public affairs in the light of prophecy is bound to come:

"This age, or dispensation, is drawing to its close.

"The newspapers confirm prophecy in every issue, reporting as they do the signs of the times whether it be 'wars or rumors of wars' or 'earthquakes in divers places," or, as just now, 'the sea and the waves roaring'."

The year 1925, Mis Pankhurst believes, will be a year of crises. There is much still to happen, she predicted "the end will come sooner than some suspect."

"We are entering on the last phase of this age. The Jew is back in Palestine."

Real Headhunters Shown On Screen

"The Lost Tribe" Coming to Griffin, Packed With Thrills

Don't stay at home and dream about headhunters and cannibals and the land where men slay and women work. Come along to the Griffin theatre and see them live in the first true motion picture record of "The Lost Tribe" taken by Captain Hurley and his gallant band of Australians in unknown New Guinea.

This wonder picture comes to the Griffin theatre for three days, starting Monday January 12th, with a school children's special price matinee Wednesday at 4.30 and with matinees daily and the management positively assure you that no motion picture previously screened in Belleville—no story ever published in our magazines and newspapers—is half as interesting and as thrilling as this record picture of a journey into the trackless regions of New Guinea by plane and boat. Don't say there are no cannibals or headhunters. Don't say civilization has reformed the world and ousted these creatures. See 'The Lost Tribe" and you will discover that the most fearsome headhunters in the universe not only exist but are in this very town.

Captain Hurley will be remembered as the intrepid adventurer who gave to the screen "Allenby in Egypt" and with Shackleton to the South Pole and the "Bottom of the World". In is latest thriller he has given the world a thrill of an entirely different sort.

There is something in this wonder picture for the tired busines men, the weary housewife, the flapper and the sport, for it contains thrills and sport beauty and quietness, excitement and the soliude of the great outdoors. The picture is to play at Griffin's theatre at popular prices at the desire of the local management instead of the two dollar prices which it obtained in New York last month and half the prices charged during the successful Xmas and New Year's engagement at Massey Hall, Toronto.

Arizona Express Belle Attraction

Melodrama Expected to Take Well Here on Thursday

A Bloomington, Indiana motion picture exhibitor who is showing 'The Arizona Express' at his theatre wrote: "Let us bow our heads and give thanks for Lincoln J. Carter. Most melodrama is just melodrama, but when it bears the name of Lincoln J. Carter it becomes super-melodrama. Some of yoru patrons may try to ridicule his style, but just keep your eye on those folks. Ten to one they'll come sneaking in to see one of his pictures."

And it's true. People like to be thrilled. They want to be lifted out of the realm of everyday things and everyday people and carried magically into a world of makebelieve. Carter is the magician who, by a single wave of his wand-pen, can create a dream world of stronng heroes and beautiful women. He is the king of melodrama.

It is only recently that Mr. Carter has been signed with the Fox organization, but his name as a playwright, was a household word a generation ago.

He has produced more successful stage plays than any living playwright, which is a remarkable record. But his career in the film world should be even more remarkable since the screen affords so much larger opportunity for dramatic situations.

"The Arizona Express" is an excellent example of this. It is packed with thrills from start to finish. It opens at the Belle Theatre To-morrow evening.

MOTHER'S SONG

Don't grow old too fast, my sweet!
  Stay a little while
In this pleasant baby-land
  Sunned by mother's smile.

Grasp not with thy dimpled hands.
  At the world outside;
They are still too rosy soft.
  Life too cold and wide.

Be not wistful, sweet blue eyes
  Find your rest in mine,
Which through life shall watchful be,
  To keep all tears from thine.

Be not restless, little feet,
  Lie within my hand;
Far too round these tiny soles
  Yet to try to stand.

For awhile be mine alone,
  So helpless and so dear;
By-and-by thou must go forth,
  But now, sweet, slumber here.

WOMEN WHO LOOK OLD

In many cases they are not old in years, but because they are overworked, over-tired, nervous and run-down, ailments have developed peculiar to their sex and this condition makes them look years older than they actually are. Such women should consider the remarkable record held by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a recent canvass among over one hundred and twenty-one thousand women who had used it, ninety-eight out of every one hundred women reported benefit from its use.

"Old Bill" Coming To Griffin Theatre

Humerous Bairnsfather Character to Appear in Six Guises

In reality there are six guises—that is to say, this famous and much-loved character makes six different appearances in the new film "Old Bill Through the Ages." We see him as William the Conqueror, a Baron in the reign of King John, a courtier at the court of Queen Bess, a Puritan, a Cavalier, and as himself.

As may be gathered from this description, the picture is really history humorously seen through the eyes of Captain Bairnsfather's immortal creation, Captain Bruce Bairnsfather not only wrote the story, but actualy appears in the production.

The film is burlesque in its merriest form, famous characters shown in comic aspect, and familiar incidents told with a twinkle in the eye.

We laugh heartily at the way Old Bill—as a Baron—forced King John to sign the Magna Carta; we are amused to find him, and him alone, sighting the Spanish Armada—"within the three mile limit"; and we toroughly enjoy his encounter with Shakespeare at the ourt of Queen Elizabeth.

It is all extremely diverting, and innocent fun, quite new to the screen and affords an exhilarating evening's entertainment. The part of Old Bill is very cleverly played by the well-known comedian Syd Walker, who is Old Bill to the life!

The producer of the picture is Thomas Bentley, who will be remembered for his clever film version of the "Pickwick Papers" and his other brilliant Dickens pictures. At Griffin's Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Blossom Time"

The following of "Blossom Time", the show in which Knight MacGregor is starring, at the Royal Alexander this week, appeared in the Mail and Empire yesterday:

There are certain theatrical productions which can return to the city time after time and never seem to grow thin; and prominent in that list is "Blossom Time" was announced for another en- Royal Alexandra this week, which, it is hoped, will never fall into the hands of an inferior company. When "Blossom Time" was announced for another engagement in Toronto, there was never any doubt as to the opera itself, for the quaint and simple love story of Franz Schubert, the composer, as it is told through this theatrical medium, and as it is garnished with some of the songs and music of this genius of melody, can always be relied upon to produce a delightful evening, if it is in the hands of the right people. So the only doubt was as to the company selected by Messrs. Schubert for its production. And that question did not long remain in doubt last evening, as it required only the rendering of two of the early numbers, "My Springtime Thou Art," "Song of Love," to set the minds of the audience completely at rest, and to reassure them that "Blossom Time," which merits so much, has not been slighted by a second rate cast.

For this engagement in the city, "Blossom Time" comes with a complete new cast, and to say that they are in no way inferior to the companies which have preceded them is paying a tribute which requires but little elaboration. And yet one must not stop without mentioning some of the high lights of song. At the top of the list is Beulah Berson, who takes the part of Mitzi, and who, in her duet work with Knight MacGregor, who plays the role of Schubert, stands out as one of the most acceptable actresses who has been seen in this city in that role. Miss Beron undoubtedly has a bright future before her, as her voice has that reserve of force so essential for long years upon the stage, and her support, Mr. MacGregor, provided that background which lent color and effect to her work.

There are no really weak points in the vocal cast, as Ralph Soule, who has the responsibility of playing the role of the Baron Schober, has a pleasing, though none too strong tenor, and he is well supported by Harry Wilson, Ray Greene and Sano Marcov in the ensemble work. In an evening so filled with melody, it is difficult to pick the high lights, but one must not forget the serenade song of the male quartette or their work in "My Springtime Thou Art". "The Song of Love," long since grown popular through familiarity and age, is undoubtedly the hit of the evening, as it is the sort of thing which folks like to hum on their way home on the street cars and which lingers long in the memory. The part of Bellabruna, the jealous and scheming Countess, is taken by Grace A. Yeager, and though much of her work is thankless, she takes the cast in a satisfactory manner though if her voice were stronger it would doubtless add to the pleasure of the evening's entertainment. The lighter moments are provided by Rupert Darrel, who has the cast of Kranz, the suspicious father, and though at times his part is overdone, he offers a pleasing relief to some of the heavier moments and gives sufficient of the buffoon touch to level out the average of the evening.

RAYMOND—LOCKWOOD

A pretty and interesting event took place on Monday, Dec. 22nd, when Gertrude, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond, and Arthur R. Lockwood, were united in marriage at the parsonage at Mountain Grove. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Mr. Gall. The birde charmingly gowned in a navy serge with tan shoes and stockings to match, was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Georgena Shortt. Percy Shortt, uncle of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony the happy couple left on a short honeymoon to the groom's parents in Kennebec, where they spent Christmas. On their return they will reside at Porcupine Hill, four miles east of Mountain Grove, with the bride's father.

The death of Samuel Harding, father of Rev. P. N. Harding, pastor of St. Pohn's Anglican church, St. Thomas, took place at Victoria Hospital, London, on Friday. Rev. Mr. Harding will attend the funeral. Monday to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

J. P. FORREST FOUND DEAD IN HIS STORE

Mr. J. P. Forrest, who for many years has conducted a gents' furnishing store at 348 King street, Kingston, was found dead in his store yesterday morning at about 7.30 a.m. by his brother when the latter opened the premises for the day's business. Coroner (Dr.) A. E. Ross, M.P., was called in and after ascertaining the cause of death decided an inquest to be unnecessary.

The late Mr. Forrest had been in poor health since the death of his sister, Mrs. Mary Walsh, with whom he made his home until her death some few weeks ago since when he has been living with his niece. He was exceedingly well known in the city and surrounding district, his integrity in business making for him a very large circle of friends through the many years since the establishment of his well known store.

Deceased was in business on King street for more than thirty years, and always was regarded as a most efficient business man. He took a keen interest in sport, and was an ardent follower of the local baseball teams He is survived by two brothers, William and Edward, of this city, and also by a niece, Miss Anita Walsh, with whom deceased lived.

It's Easy To Darken Your Graying Hair

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur, and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of tother ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. ... to all.

Bandits Posed as Meter Readers

When Inside, Bank President Held Up For $20,000

SON IS WOUNDED

Maid Gave Police Tip at Pittsburgh, But Too Late

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 7.—Two bandits, posing as gas meter readers, gained entrance to the home of Lawrence E. Sands, president of the First National Bank, shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday morning. They held up the entire family, compelled Mr. Sands to telephone the bank for $20,000 under penalty of carrying away Mrs. Sands, and then shot and slightly wounded Captain John W. Sands, son of the banker, when the younger man tried to escape. Captain Sands formerly lived in Glen Ridge N. J.

The firing of the shots attracted attention in the neighborhood, and caused the robbers to flee. They ran to a Packard car with a hired driver, left standing in Wightman street, and compelled him to speed to Craft avenue and Forbes street, where they alighted and after paying the driver $10 boarded a taxicab and escaped.

No valuables were taken from the Sands home, as far as could be learned.

Captain Sands, who was shot in the left side under the heart, was the target of five shots as he tried to dart out of the front door, but is believed not to be seriously wounded. He is receiving medical attention in the Sands home. The attempted escape of the younger Sands—he is 35 years old—and the shooting occurred while the bandits were waiting for the money to be brought from the bank to the home.

Five minutes after the bandits had fled the police of the Squirrell Hill station swooped down on the Sands home. A maid employed at the home of H. B. Chess, across the street, had telephoned to the bank telling employees that something was wrong at the Sands home. This, coupled with suspicions aroused at the bank when Sands telephoned, resulted in police being notified while the hold-up men were still waiting for the money. They would have been trapped in a few minutes had not Captain Sands attempted to escape.

The bandits hired a closed Packard automobile in front of the Wm. Penn Hotel shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, and the chauffeur was told to take them to the Sands home, where he stopped the car and the passengers alighted.

Walking coolly up the front steps they rang the bell which was answered by the butler.

"We're gas men and want to see the meter," said the leader. The butler admitted the two and went to the cellar with them. No sooner had they reached the basement that the two bandits drew handcuffs and clasped them on the hands of the astonished butler. While one stood guard over the butler the other made a round up of the members of the family and servants. Soon Mrs. Sands and two girl servants were sitting in the dining room along with the butler under cover of an automatic pistol. Going to the second floor, the other bandit found Mr. Sands arising from bed and ordered him downstairs.

Captain Sands then entered the room, and when the demand was made for the $20,000 cash in small denominations the bandits were informed that Sands did not keep any money at home, but they should wait until he called the bank to have it sent out. After the call was made to the bank, Captain Sands made an attempt to escape from the room and the bandits opened fire, wounding him.

The bandits then made their escape. The daylight hold-up was attempted in the most exclusive section of Pittsbur

Mother Wins in Fight For Child

Effort Made to Withhold Name of Foster Parents

Kingston, Jan 7.—The efforts of Mr. John Pollie, formerly agent of the Children's Aid Society, to see that a child placed with foster parents some time ago remains undisturbed are to be unavailing, as in obedience to an order issued by Judge Lavell Monday he will produce the child at the request of its mother, who has made application for its custody.

It appears that the child in question was born in the Kingston General Hospital during December, 1922, the mother being an unmarried woman resident of the country, and at the request of the mother the child was placed in the care of foster parents by Mr. Pollie shortly after its birth. The present action is brought by the mother of the child, through her solicitor, Mr. W. H. Herrington, as Mr. Pollie refused to divulge the name of the foster parents.

It will be recalled that Mr. Pollie's resignation from the appointment of agent for the Children's Aid Society took effect in October, 1922. The Children's Aid Society, through the president, Dr. E. C. D. MacCallum, state that they know nothing of the case, and are not a party to the present action.

Nurmi Sets Up A World's Record

He Did Mile at Madison Square Garden in 4-13 3-5

New York, Jan. 7.—Two Canadians figured in the Finnish-American A.C. track events at Madison Square Garden last night, Cyril Coaffee, former Canadian Olympic star, now running for the Illinois A.C., taking fourth place in the 50-metre dash, and Phil Granville, of the Hamilton, Ont., Y.M.C.A., taking second place in the two-mile walk.

Loren Murchison, Newark A.C., took the 50-metre dash, establishing the first world's record for the distance, six seconds. Wm. Plant, Morningside A.C., won the walk in 14.11 4-5.

Paavo Nurmi, Finnish Olympic star, captured the mile in the world's record time of 4.13 3-5. Joie Ray was second.

Yesterday Ritola withdrew his name from the one mile in order to make his best showing in the longer distance. Ritola's withdrawal left Joie Ray, Lloyd Hahn, Walter Higgins, James Connolly, Lee Larivee and M. Loven Dahl to oppose Nurmi in the mile event.

Madison Square Garden has held some great crowds and has provided the centre for some of the sports history making competitions, but there have been few in the past which exceeded in point of attendance or interesting satisfactory competition, that of last night. The historic old arena in the words of a veteran patron, "could have been sold out four times over," so great was the demand for tickets to this epoch_making meet.

As a consequence every seat in the house was occupied by a throng which arrived early and poured into the Garden in a steady stream, which diminished, but did not cease, until the field was called to the post for the mile special—Nurmi's introductory to America.

As it was one of the largest crowds ever to witness a meet in this or any other city, so was it one of the most representative and distinguished that has ever assembled for an indoor or outdoor athletic meet under Amateur Athletic Union supervision.

Petes Blank Ham Oarsmen, at Home

Sticky Ice Produces Miscellaneous Hockey—Dwyer was Good

Peterboro, Ont., Jan. 7—Hamilton Rowing Club O.H.A. seniors went down to defeat last night before the league-leading Peterboro team which chalked up a 3-0 score in their seventh successive win of the season. It was the first O.H.A. league game to be played in Peterboro this year, and the first senior O.H.A fixture in many years.

Opening up fast, with both teams missing half a dozen chances to score the first period saw Peterboro register only once. The disadvantage of natural ice was again forced on the players when it became sticky towards the close of the period, and many a good chance to hang up a tally was spoiled by a rolling puck.

The crowd had been kept out of the rink until 8 o'clock in an effort to preserve the surface of the ice. At times the game looked more like a hoop-trundling spree than a hockey game, with the boys chasing a puck that persisted in standing upright across the ice.

Parker Scores First

For the first five minutes of the second period the game was rather dead, but when Parker eluded the Hamilton defence and slipped a beauty past Quinn, the pace was quickened and for a few minutes the wild eyed Hams peppered Dwyer from all angles, near and far, the Pete's guardian handling all their shots.

The last few minutes of play in the second period was lightning fast, with Brown and Garvie doing most off the gunning for the Hamilton crew, but finding the home net elusive and the keeper vigilant. Both pack a wicked puck, and they ripped some sizzlers at the veteran Joe Dwyer.

When the third and final stanza opened the ice was quite wet and the puck-carriers were bothered greatly. The Petes lined up and started their three-man rushes, carrying the play to the visitors, but the Hams stuck to individual rushes and the back checking of the Peterboro forwards spoiled their chances to even up the count.

On the defence, Parker and McLeod turned in some wonderful checking, Parker shining with his poke check while their rushes were always dangerous. Three minutes after the period opened Bailey registered after a beautiful lone rush, eluding the defence by some nice stick-handling and closing right in on the goaltender, giving him no chance to save. It was one of the prettiest pieces of stick-handling shown during the game.

The visitors stuck to their guns making a last effort to pull the game out of the fire, but lack of combination ruined their chances.

Every man on the Peterboro line-up gave all he had, and they worked nicely together, while Garvie and Brown proved the most effective offensively for the losers. Quinn, in goal was given poor support by his team-mates at times, and although the Petes registered three times against him, he turned away a flock of shots and made some wonderful saves. The line-ups:

Referee—Mike Rodden, Toronto.

Rotarians Learn Secrets of Theatres

Beauty Chorus Picker Tells Age by Back of Head

Ned Wayburn recently told 400 members of the Rotary Club in New York how he picks chorus beauties that completely satisfied the exacting demands of Ziegfeld and other producers. The members were extremely attentive.

"A girl's throat is the same circumference as the calf of her leg," confided Wayburn, prompting the thought that perhaps after all beauty is only skin deep. He explained the close scrutiny that a girl endures when applying for a position in the merry-merry. It is necessary to "look right through" the applicant, deciding at a glance whether she has the needed symmetry of body.

Her eyes are included in the inspection. Wayburn didn't mention it, but it was gathered that a one-eyed or three-eyed girl is rarely, if ever engaged by him. Afterward, the girl's eyes are looked into. Then, she is asked to take off her hat, so Ned can see hair.

"Sometimes, if they are new on Broadway," he said, 'their hair is all one color, but after they have been around awhile you'll find as many as five shades of hair on one head."

If one of the five shades happens to please the inspector, why that's all in the girl's favor.

At this point of the inspection the girl always displays nervousness, and so Mr. Wayburn tells a couple of good jokes. The girl, little suspecting this is but a trap for her, laughs right out loud, thus exposing her teeth and voice to the inspector. If there is an artificial glint to the teeth, the examination is at an end. Show girls may have artificial ways, but not teeth. The back of the hand is the most important part of all to tell the girl's age.

The Rotarians were admitted to a few other trade secrets, but were also told frankly that there were many secrets they would never know. The members all pronounced the talk as having been highly educational.

WANT TO GET NAME OF BOY WHO STOLE

Peterboro', Jan. 7.—On receipt of a letter last night from a citizen demanding a full publication of the facts in the case of the examination papers stolen from the Peterboro' Collegiate Institute on the eve of the midsummer examinations, the Board of Education decided to press the Department of Education for this information which has so far been withheld.

The person who stole the papers broke three locks and a plate glass window to reach the papers. The crime was investigated by Detective Hammond, but his report to the department was not given to the Board of Education here. It was asked by the board's solicitor, E. A. Peck, and in a further endeavor to obtain information Mr. Peck visited the Parliament Buildings yesterday with W. H. Bradburn M.P.P. Premier Ferguson was absent.

While Dr. J. J. Craig, a member of the board, opposes the publication of the facts as tending to saddle a crime on the guilty youth, the majority of the Board appears to consider the rights of the majority paramount and would clear the innocent pupils.

TURNING TRAM CARS INTO CITY HOMES

London, Jan. 7.—The use of old tramcars as houses was discussed in Birmingham yesterday when a number of persons were haled to court and convicted on charges of erecting buildings without notice just outside the city boundary. One of the defendants had dragged three old tramcars from Wolverhampton to the edge of the city. Two of them were occupied by two adults and seven children, and there was no system of drainage connected with them.

A. A. Drake, Roseberry place, St. Thomas, suffered a misfortune Friday afternoon at his home, when he fell and broke his jaw.

BASIL COSGROVE, who coached Gladys Robinson, the fastest girl skater in America, has moved from Toronto to Ottawa to teach speed skating.

KINGSTON GIRL IS HELD AT BORDER

Detroit, Jan. 7.—Muriel Gilmour, a pretty Kingston girl, aged about 21, is held here by the United States immigration authorities, charged with entering the country illegally. A deportation warrant has been applied for. She was travelling with William Anderson, son of a Maritime Province banker, with whom she left Toronto at New Year's. They were planning to "see the States."

Spent Christmas at Home

Kingston, Jan. 7.—Muriel Gilmour, held at Detroit, Mich., is the daughter of Robert E. Gilmour, Sydenham St., Kingston, a machinist in the Canadian Locomotive Works. He says his daughter spent Christmas at her parents' home and returned to Toronto, where she has been engaged with a fashion company. She has been married but is separated from her husband.

Profits of well over $1,000,000 will accrue to the Alberta Provincial Treasury as the result of last year's operations under the new Government Liquor Control Act, according to Attorney-General Brownlee.

DRIVER FOUND NOT TO BLAME FOR ACCIDENT

In Which Miss Jessie Anderson Was Killed on Saturday

RIDER IS ADDED

Opinion is Given Against Children Tagging on Sleighs

"We, the jurors find that Jessie Anderson came to her death by injuries received when struck by a runaway team on Front street, Belleville, on Saturday, January 3rd, 1925.

"We further consider that the driver did all in his power to check the team.

"We further deprecate the habit of children jumping on sleighs and autos and this practice should be strongly repressed by the authorities."

Such was the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury in the case of Miss Jessie Anderson, the victim of the deplorable runaway accident which occurred in this city on Saturday last. Dr. W. W. Boyce, coroner, presided and the examination of witnesses was conducted by Mr. B. C. Donnan, County Attorney. A number of witnesses were examined.

Dr. G. H. Stobie testified that he did not know the late Miss Jessie Anderson. He saw her in the city ambulance and she was dead then. There were severe wounds on the head. The jaw was broken and there were severe abrasions. Death was almost instantaneous from the injuries received. A crush or blow might have caused the injuries.

Saw the Runaway

Mr. Thomas Thompson testified that on Saturday morning he saw a team running away on Front street south. Just after passing Wm. McIntosh's store something broke and the team bolted toward the sidewalk. He did not see the deceased struck by the horses. When he arrived upon the scene, Miss Anderson was lying upon the walk and she was bleeding profusely from the head. The driver of the team did apparently all in his power to stop the team. He thought the team might have been frightened by an auto which was passing them at the time.

Neck Yoke Broke

John Adams, in his evidence stated that the team started to run when in front of the City Hotel. A piece of snow from one of the horse's hoof struck one of the animals and it kicked. The horse on the left hand side appeared to be the most fractious. The neck yoke broke ,swung around and struck the horses, causing them to be more frightened. There were two boys on the back of the sleigh. He did not see the accident. He had seen the team about the the city before and they appeared to be a quiet pair.

Mr. Isaac Stephens testified that the team wasrunning fast when they passed him near the Cherry Press. Witness saw the horses swerve to the left rather sharply and collided against McIntosh's Bros. window. He saw the deceased lying on the sidewalk who was bleeding freely from the head and mouth. He assisted in carrying her into Leslie's store. By this time she was apparently dead. He did not know the driver of the team. He had instructions in first aid and had his diploma. The ambulance arrived quickly upon the scene after the call was sent in.

Daniel Wilder testified that he was on the walk opposite Leslie's store when the team crashed into McIntosh's store. The horses fell on the sidewalk after striking the window which was smashed. Witness caught one of the horses and he helped to unhitch the trace. Miss Anderson was lying on the walk at the time. Another lady was lying on the sidewalk and appeared to be dazed. This he learned was Mrs. Potter.

Mrs. Mary Spencer testified that she was near Blackburn's store at the time and she saw the team go upon the sidewalk. A lady was apparently looking into the window when she was struck to the walk.

Dr. J. Caldwell in his evidence, stated he was standing in the window of his office opposite McIntosh's store. He saw a lady walking down near the store when one of the animals struck her and threw her to the walk. Witness did not see the horses strike McIntosh's window. The horses travelled on the walk a few feet. Did not see any person in the sleigh. Witness did not think that Miss Anderson was struck by the tongue of the sleigh.

Wm. Wannacott, a clerk in J. A. Berbridge's store was another witness The crashing of the window attracted his attention. He recognized Mr. Potter, who was capless and was assisting some woman into Leslie's Shoe store. One horse was down and did some kicking. He did not go over to where the accident occurred.

W. A. Reid's testimony was in corroboration of some of the previous witnesses. The team was on the sidewalk in front of Stroud's store window when he first saw them. It was a black team. He held one of the horses and later took it to a stable. The horse was slightly injured about the head.

Driver on Stand

Mr. M. C. Potter testified that he was the owner of the team that ran away. They were a medium team and were attached to a light bob sleigh. Just before he came to Victoria Avenue he had some trouble with them. The horses heard some noise and made a jump. The neck yoke broke and the sleigh ran upon the horses' heels. He and his wife, who were in the sleigh tried to stop the horses, but in vain. He did not see the horses strike Miss Anderson as he was thrown out of the sleigh. He saw the lady lying on the sidewalk and he lifted her up. The team had never run away with him before. The neck yoke produced he procured from Mr. Parks and was used on a light sleigh. Witness had drive one of the horses singly and he was a little ambitious. The young horse on the left hand side was the first animal to become frightened. He had used the neck yoke to back up.

Mrs. C. M. Potter could not tell what frightened the animals but it was some noise. She tried with her husband to stop the team but they could not. Witness was thrown out of the sleigh. The team had never run away before. Her husband was a good driver.

A lad named Robert Webster gave his testimony without being sworn. He stated he jumped upon the sleigh near the upper bridge. Another boy whom he did not know was on the sleigh and was pulling a hand sleigh. A car passing frightened the horses.

This completed the evidence and the jury retired to consider their verdict.

52 APPLICATIONS!

Ministers Protest Brewery License

Regret the Shipments Leaving This Port; Criticize Department

At the last meeting of the Ministerial Association the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act is greatly hampered by the shipments of liquor, legal or illegal, from this port; and wheras the adding of another distributing agency is in utter disregard of Prohibition sentiment.

Therefore be it resolved that we, the Ministerial Association of the City of Belleville, representing in some good degree the forces of law and order, hereby declare our disappointment and regret at the recent issuance of a brewery license in this city, and do enter our emphatic protest against action of the Department of Customs and Excise in this particular.

Many Attending Short Courses

Seventy Young Men and Women Enrolled at Wallbridge

Seventy girls and young men were present at the opening day of short courses being held in the Town Hall; Wallbridge. The courses for girls are being supervised by Miss M. L. Knapp of Galt, who is instructing the course in millinery; Miss H. R. Smith of Toronto has charge of the course in sewing. Forty girls from all parts of Sidney Township are taking advantage of this opportunity.

The course in Agriculture has proven very successful, judging by the attendance the first day, when over thirty boys were present. Mr. J. G. Thompson, B.S.A., of Perth is assisting Mr. Ray Atkin, local agricultural representative in giving instructions to the young men.

Conservatives Will Organize Tonight

Big. Meeting is Called. for G.W.V.A. Hall at 8 p.m.

Belleville organization meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association will be held this evening in the Great War Veterans' Memorial Hall, Front street at eight o'clock.

Organization is of course the prime motive of the meeting at which other business will be transacted.

This is not a meeting for men alone, but is a joint organization meeting for men and women, all of whom are cordially invited to attend. Addresses will be made by prominent speakers.

The meeting, which has been duly advertised, was called by G. A. Reid, President of the Men's Association and Mrs. Isobel S. Kinnear, President of the ladies' Association. A full attendance is requested.

Two leaders of a gang of political rowdies, who were arrested after they had stopped a dance held by United States citizens at the Hotel Imperial, Tokio, Japan, on June 7, as a protest against the passage of the Japanese exclusion clause in the American Immigration Bill, were discharged by a criminal court because of insufficient evidence. The men were charged with disturbing the peace.

RECEIVE NURSE RIGHT ROYALLY IN BELLEVILLE

Victorian Order Visits Totalled 140 in December

MANY WERE FREE

Miss Shand Finds Taxi Cab Service Necessary

A splendid record of work accomplished in a short time is contained in the monthly report of Miss Shand, Victorian Order of Nurses. This report was made to the Victorian Order Committee held in the office at the City Hall.

During December as many as one hundred and forty visits were made by Miss Shand to homes in Belleville. And as evidence that her services are being appreciated, it is pointed out that this number was twice as many as those made in November.

Of the one hundred and forty visits to the sick bed, forty-four were made without charge to the family. Seventy-seven were insured visits, four were made at night and twenty were to infants. Sixteen cases were dismissed and eighteen carried into January.

The fees received from patients amounted to $6.05 and from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company $75.00.

"In going my rounds," reported Miss Shand, "I find there is a certain misunderstanding regarding nursing fees. A few people are under the impression that they can pay whatever they feel like paying, regardless of how much they can afford. The nurse sets all charges, the rate per visit being from fifty cents to one dollar, one dollar being the amount that fully pays for any visit.

"However, everything is taken into consideration, the income and the family budget, for example, or if the illness has been of long duration. The fee is carefully adjusted and is usually satisfactory to patient and nurse. To those who cannot pay, the service is free and all fees are turned over to the local Victorian Order Board.

"Dr. Procter has started a chest clinic at the Victorian Order office at the city hall, at which I assist him. The clinic is probably to be held every two weeks or oftener as the work grows."

Mis Shand points out that taxi service has been a great help in going to long distance cases and as most of the cases have been quite a distance apart, she has had to use the taxi frequently.

POINT ANNE MAN HAS BEEN HONORED

Mr. M. W. Hutchings, of Point Anne, one of the oldest employees of the Canada Cement Company, who will be eighty years of age on May 31 and who looks but sixty, has been superannuated.

He is the first man to receive this recognition of service from the Company, and as he told the Intelligencer today, he is mighty proud of this mark of esteem.

For twenty two years he has served at the plant, being with the Lehigh for two years before the Canada Cement took over. Mr. Hutchings was assistant editor at Plant No. 5 for the Cement Bulletin.

POST GIVES WARNING TO CANADIANS

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 8—There is talk in Canada of the Dominion separating from the British Empire, according to the London Morning Post. The Post says:

"Canada is a strong and independent nation in proportion and only in proportion as she is associated with the other nations of the Empire. We do not believe that the policy of the Canadian Government tends toward separation, but its tenor undoubtedly has aroused some uneasiness in this country."

Fifty-five nations are contributing to this pear's expenses of the league, figures show with Great Britain as the largest contributor to the amount of $411,478. France will be second with $364,719. Other large contributors will be China with $233,794, India $280,553; Italy and Japan $285,229 each, Argentina and Canada $163,656 each, Spain $187,035 and Czecho Slovakia $154,304.

In Larger Cities Vote Is Divided

Churches For and Against Union in Hamilton And London

Hamilton, Jan. 8.—Church Union was defeated in Erskine and St. David's churches, and carried in Laidlaw memorial church, according to the figures announced.

The vote in Erskine church was 460 against, and 416 for, a majority against union of 44. The total membership is 1,040. Rev. S. Burnside Russell, minister, had previously announced that if union was defeated in his church he would resign. He declined to make any statement in this connection last night.

At. St. David's Presbyterian church the vote was most final, as 151 voted against union, while no vote was cast for union.

Laidlaw Memorial church voted 172 for union and 144 against.

One For; One Against

London, Jan. 8.—Knox Church, South London, by a vote of 375 to 193 joined the forces of the unionists, thus dividing honors with the antis who won in New St. James' Church, in the north end, by 526 to 230.

The final result in Knollwood Park a suburb, was an anti-union victory by 79 to 1. West Lorne and Wardsville were reported as union, the former by 96 to 78 and the latter by 33 to 12.

Transportation of the Holy Year pilgrims to Rome is a problem which has necessitated the assembling of an international conference of railroad men at Geneva, Switzerland. What with the pilgrims passing through Switzerland and those from that country it has been found necessary to schedule from 150 to 200 trains.

Bailey Is Remanded; To Analyze Wine

Bail for Point Anne Man Set at $3,000

Charles W. Bailey, Point Anne man was charged with keeping liquor for sale, when arraigned before Magistrate Masson in afternoon police court here Wednesday, and was remanded for one week, when he signified his intention of pleading not guilty, to the charge.

Bail was set at $2,000 surety and $1,000 cash. Accused's wife and young family were present and will make every effort to raise the bail.

The two Belleville boys arrested at Point Anne Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock by two Provincial police officers of this city, pleaded guilty in afternoon court to charges of being intoxicated in a public place, and were each fined the minimum of $10 and costs. Both have been summoned as witnesses at Bailey's trial next Wednesday, January 14th.

When told what the bail would be, Bailey, who is a big man, turned and exclaimed nonchalantly.

"Oh, I might as well stay here," gazing in the direction of the yawning cells.

"Well, we will take good care of you," assured the Crown.

"We are glad to have you," added Inspector F. Naphan, who is prosecuting the case for the Provincial police.

Mrs. Bailey urged her husband, however, to negotiate with the bench for bail.

"I have $650 cash," said accused, "and my car is outside—but it is not legal to accept a car as bail,

"If a bondsman with $500 will present himself and you put up your $650, I will accept it," decided the Bench.

Analysis of the Niagara wine which is to be made was the chief cause of the remand.

NOT A VIOLATION

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Washington, Jan. 8.—Secretary of State Hughes, in a letter read today to the house naval committee, took the position that the elevation of the guns on the United States capital ship would not violate the arms treaty, although it might have the unfortunate effect of tending to promote naval competition.

Hold Second Of Week Of Prayer

Rev. McKechnie Reveals the Power Prayer Has

The second of the meetings in connection with the week of prayer was held in Holloway St. Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, and notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, was well attended. Rev. Dr. Brown, Pastor of the Church, presided, and Rev. Messrs. Marshall, Ramsay, MacTavish and Kenny, and Mr. C. E. Clapp assisted in the service. A fine solo "Just as I am" was well rendered by Mr. Snelgrove, the leader of the choir.

Instead of discussing the topics suggested by the World's Evangelical Alliance each speaker in the City this year chooses his own subject. Rev. N. S. McKechnie who was the speaker on Wednesday evening gave a very practical and suggestive discourse on the topic of prayer. After dwelling in detail upon what James, Paul, and the disciples taught on the subject of prayer, Mr. McKechnie turned to the prayer life of Christ, and reminded his audience that Jesus prayed before he chose the disciples, before He fed the five thousand, before He was transfigured, at the grave of Lazurus, and in the garden of Gethsemane. Sometimes He rose up a great while before day and occasionally he continued all night in prayer. He also gave his disciples a form of prayer.

The speaker turned to some more modern examples and quoted Gladstone and Tennyson who commended prayer and urged their friends to practise it. He also referred to John R. Mott's statement that every marked advance in the missionary enterprise has been preceded by prayer. Every fresh accession of power which has come upon the workers has been associated with prayer for the kingdom.

FIRE AT ST. JOHN'S

(Canadian Press Despatch)

St. John's Nfld., Jan. 8—Fire which raged from midnight until six this morning destroyed two large fishing plants and a residence on the south side of St. John's harbor. There was $25,000 on one of the plants, the other plant and residence being uninsured.

LONG PROBE ENDING

Horse Places Stamp of Disapproval On Common Enemy of His Brethren

Peterboro, Jan. 8.—Evidently one Peterboro dobbin objects to witnessing his field and the field of his brothers, being encroached upon by the modern and "saucy" automobile.

A horse was being led behind a car along Aylmer street, and showed a disinclination to play second fiddle to the mechanical carriage. On reaching Hunter Street, the animal became almost unmanageable and the car was stopped for consultation between the driver of the auto and the man who was holding the horse's halter.

That was the horse's opportunity. He turned away from the car, raised his near hoof and planted it solidly and forcibly on the exact centre of the front door.

There remains the imprint of the shoe in the enamel and a dint in the door itself.

BUSY TRYING TO IRON OUT DIFFERENCES

Britain and United States In Financial Conference To-day

'AVOID QUARREL'

Though London Cannot See That States Should Share

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 8.—British Chancellor of Exchequer, Winston Churchill, and James A. Logan, Jr., of the United States delegation to the Inter-allied financial conference had another talk this morning in an attempt to iron out the Anglo-American differences over the United States' claim for payment of the occupational army costs and war damages from the Dawes plan proceeds. Negotiations were said to be proceeding normally.

Paris, Jan. 8.—On the first day of the Allied financial conference, Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, took steps indicating England's desire to reach an early settlement with the United States regarding the latter's claim for the collection of damage awards against Germany out of the product of the Dawes annuities.

Commonsense Dictated

Taking the initiative, he requested Colonel James A. Logan, American observer with the reparation commission, and one of the delegates to the conference, to call at the British Embassy following the first formal meeting yesterday. Mr. Churchill explained that while his Government was determined not to accept the Hughes point of view that the Berlin treaty gave the United States the right to share collections from Germany under the Versailles Treaty, yet commonsense dictated that a quarrel between England and Anerica should be avoided at all reasonable costs, and he said he could be anxious to discuss with the Americans possible grounds of agreement on their demand. Logan assented and the two agreed to pursue conversations outside the main conference in an effort to reach a settlement.

This attitude on the part of Churchill and its reception on the part of Logan indicated that on one hand the British Government were prepared to recede somewhat from the position outlined by Chamberlain in his rather stiff notes to the State Department, and on the other that the American State Department, if it obtained a right to share in the Dawes annuities, would no longer insist on pinning an Allied blue ribbon on the Berlin treaty. It will be recalled that France, Italy, Belgium, as well as Japan, have agreed to grant the American demand on a basis of equity without recognizing the legality of the American position.

ROBBED WOMAN OF HER FUR COAT

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, Jan. 8.—While Eugene Prieur was walking along the street with his wife yesterday afternoon, three men drew up to the curb in a car and levelling revolvers forced Mrs. Prieur to hand over her sealskin coat. They found no money in their search of Mr. Prieur. The same gang, police declare, were responsible for three other robberies yesterday from the same car, a stolen one being used in each instance. The gang got $39 from one pedestrian, $10 from another and $16 from another.

THE RIDDLE OF THE RADIO

Lest the crossword craze should have the monopoly in teasling up the nap of human wit and engross public attention by its exquisite form of torture, a new puzzle has thrust itself into view in connection with the radio and its rightful claims upon the public purse. Much discussion is going forward with reference to the musical items of entertainment proffered by Mr. John McCormack and Lucrezia Bori on New Year's Day, this treat being broadcast free gratis to thousands who heard these famous artists as distinctly as though they had made a home visit to each patron. It is, indeed, about patronage that the controversy has been let loose. Radio has passed the curious and experimental stage. It has become a business proposition. The question, therefore, is asked as to what will be the ultimate effect of broadcasting upon the fortunes of the concert stage, or rather its select artists, if all and sundry are privileged to receive the benefit of the programme without even the purchase of a tickt or the payment of any fee? Will the would-be patrons thus admitted to the feast of reason and flow of soul travel to the public hall and plank down shekels at the box office merely in order to see the favorite singer face to face?

Answering the questions, the Montreal Gazette says:

"It would seem that one of two things must happen. Either the select circle of the elite stars in the musical world must be a thing apart from the radio wave and its broadcast strains or the number of those who devote themselves to the profession will be diminished, unless some method is devised of securing to them a fair and proportionate return for their talent. And here is the rub. Can radio be taxed? Can a fee be pinned upon its purchase? Can the broadcasting companies charge and collect? Whichever way the situation is looked at, it presents a real poser. And the man who can solve the puzzle is likely to find the most elusive and agonizing crossword easy in comparison.

CHICAGO IS DIFFERENT

Two Ontario women are reported to be engaged in an attempt to raise money to save the life of a man who is under the sentence of death in Chicago for murder. The notion that money is all that is necessary to save the life of a man convicted of murder in Chicago, seems to be cherished by these Ontario women. They may be right at that, says the Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

THE DEADLY CLOSED GARAGE

Despite the definite and repeated warnings given from time to time, cardon monoxide continues to take its toll of life from among the most useful and respected classes of citizens. The chief danger of carbon monoxide poisoning lies in the fact that he is unable to make the effort odorless, and so the victim has no intimation of its presence in the atmosphere until he falls unconscious. Even if he realizes that all is not well with him, the effects of the gas may have so paralyzed the nerve centres and powers of locomotion that he is unable to make the egort and take the few steps necessary to reach safety. Tests have shown that three minutes' running of a motor engine in an unventilated garage 10 by 10 by 20 feet is sufficient to vitiate the air to a dangerous and overpowering degree, while another five minutes is almost certain to produce fatal effects. The gas, being heavier than air, fills the lower portion of an enclosed space first, so that an individual working in a pit or at floor level is liable to be affected sooner than if in a standing posture. This quality of carbon monoxide has also a bearing upon public health, medical experts having voiced the view that in dense motor traffic the open air may become so heavily charged as to produce harmful results. The headaches and lassitude which affect traffic policemen, chauffeurs and others who are obliged to remain for any length of time in such a surcharged atmosphere have been ascribed to this cause, and the proposal has been seriously made that motor vehicles should be fitted with appliances to carry the gases expelled from the exhaust to the level of the top covers, thus permitting their more rapid dissipation in the air. Cases are also reported occasionally of occupants of closed cars being overcome to the point of unconsciousness or even death because of leakage of gas carrying the fatal monoxide. The lesson cannot be too strongly impressed or too frequently reiterated that thorough ventilation of garages and closed cars is a necessary precaution and especially that it is courting death to run an engine in a small garage without opening a door or a window.

KEEP THE WORK FOR CANADIANS

(Mail and Empire)

In the eleven months ending with November Canada's exports of pulpwood totalled 1,180,777 cords, of which the value is $12,886,192. The finished product into which this Canadian raw material is to be made is paper, most of it newsprint. The turning of the wood into paper will cost about seven times the price paid for it in Canada. That is to say, the processes of manufacture to which this Canadian pulpwood is to be subjected in the United States will add about $90,000,000 to its value. Why is the benefit of this wealth-produciton lost to Canada? To convert the $12,000,000 worth of Canadian pulpwood into $90,000,000 worth of paper, it is not necessary to send the raw material into the United States We have pulp mills and paper mills in Canada. In the past eleven months their output of paper in one form or another amounted to about the same sum as the American produce of the exported pulpwood will amount to, that is, $90,000,000. Why favor United States mills and United States wage-earners when we have industries of our own to sustain? Naturally the United States prefers to buy pulpwood from us as far as possible, rather than paper. It is thereby enabled to give employment at home and to spread millions in wages among its own workers. If Canada kept its pulpwood for its own mills, our neighbor would have to buy twice as much paper from us as it now buys, and our own workers and our own business circles would receive the benefit of the additional money distributed in wages on that account. We must conserve our account. We must conserve our pulpwood resources for the benefit of our own expanding paper industry. If we do not, the spruce forests of the country will cease to be the support of any industry and our condition as a pulp and paper manufacturing country will become as precarious as is that of the United States.

President Coolidge will abandon his post. Russia will change its government. England will witness a tremendous growth of Socialism. The King of Italy will have many troubles. Spain may revolt against the directorate. These are the principal prophecies for 1925 issued in Paris, France, by Mme. De Teleme, self-styled "prophetess of the stars."

Press Opinions

THERE IS TOO MUCH ENVY

(London Morning Post)

There is something in the best of us that grudges success to others. It is annoying to see someone pass us in the race, someone who is young while we are getting old, someone who is greeted with smiles and applause, while we with wry face take our seat some feet away from the high table. We talk about our own bad luck, and if we must attribute human causes to human succes, well, then, we hint airily about "consummate cheek' 'or "family influence" or the "passport of good looks." The philosophy that can steel us against our own mediocrity and save us from contemning our successful neighbors is difficult to find in these days. The result is that envy, the curse of modern civilization, stalks the land.

THE LOVE OF BIRDS

(Ottawa Journal)

Captain Stephen Gwynne, writing in the London Observer, tells this story of the late Cardinal Logue: "A young priest told me this story of Cardinal Logue. One of his friends went to see the old man and knocked at the door of Ara Coeli, the new and stately residence at Armagh. After a while the door was opened by the cardinal. His guest asked why. 'My housekeeper is old and has sore feet.' They went in and, after a while, 'Come now till I show you my friends,' said the cardinal. They went out, and from all quarters birds came flocking, to sit on the little, old, bent shoulders. He knew each of them, and had names for them all. 'But the worst is,' he he said, 'I cannot read by breviary any more walking in the garden They give no peace, and I cannot keep my mind from them.' Was there ever a more perfect subject for a poem?" Also something for imitation. There is little in the world more beautiful than birds; lovely, harmless creatures that make life more joyous for humankind, and harm of which seems like a veritable sacrilege against the goodness of Providence itself.

TRAFFIC IN OPIUM

Times of India:

The Japanese representative at Geneva made great play of the anti-opium efforts of his country and apparently fell foul of the British representatives, as though Britain were hampering them. But what are the facts? Japan as positively refused to accept the wholesome policy of imports into Japan only through her government. Her representative loudly declared that she has stamped out the opium traffic in Formosa. We are glad to hear it, for apart from this official statement, the evidence was we understand all the other way. Anyhow, large quantities of opium are imported by merchants in Japan They formerly got their supplies from India, but when the Indian government pressed the Japanese government to stop these private imports the merchants, before their government had acceded to that principle, quietly ended their purchase in India and filled the gap from Persia and Turkey. Opium from these countries readily lends itself to the manufacture of morphine and the preparation of it for export was apparently the main desideratum. Through what channel it is exported, the outer world, struggling against its evils would like to know, and if it were shown that the channel led to America we should not be surprised.

REASONABLE TAXES

Winnipeg Tribune:

It should be remembered, of course that seemingly high taxation is not necessarily so when useful and valuable public service is rendered in return. But taxation should be cut sufficiently to give busines and industry a chance to recover, to give an impetus to immigration, to help stem the tide of emigration, and to establish a firm basis for a long period of healthy expansion.

CANADIAN SOAP INDUSTRY

Canadian Chemistry and Metallurgy

The manufacture of soaps, washing compounds, and toilet preparations ranks third among the chemical industries of Canada. It is exceeded only by the paint and varnish, and the heavy chemical groups in importance It is one of the fields where there has been steady growth, and, in some directions, real expansion, during the last few years. Plants manufacturing special lines, such as are required by particular industries have been affected by trade in these lines, but, broadly speaking, the whole group is in a sound and progressive condition. There are some seventy plants engaged in these lines of manufacturing, of which one-half are in Ontario.

OFFICERS INSTALLED OVER AT PICTON

Last Night D.D.G.M. Bro. J. Duckworth visited Trenton and installed the officers of Trenton Lodge, No. 113, I.O.O.F. A large number of members were present to welcome the visitors and the following are the officers for the present year:

N.G., B. B. Miller; J.P.G., A. P. Dixon; V.G., G. C. Sprentall; Re.-Sec., A. Shurie; Fin.-Sec. R. Roberts; Treas. F. Jones; Warden E. Whitley; Conductor M. Taylor; Chap. J. Crowthers; R.S.N.G., D. Cota; L.S.N. G. D. Neilson; R.S.V.G. H. Johnson; L.S.V.G. W. Dauphinee; R.S.S. R. Hill; L.S.S. C. Hill; I.G. G. H. Clegg; O.G. B. Bowen.

After the installation ceremony the Trenton members served an oyster supper which was enjoyed by all. The J.P.G. Bro. Dixon officiated as Chairman and short addresses were given by the D.G.M. Bro. Duckworth, PD.D.G.M. Bro. Way; P. G. Bro. H. Ransom, Bro. Rev. Dr. Laker, of Prince of Wales Lodge, Toronto, Bro. Kemp of Brighton.

Songs were sung by Bros. J. Cobley, C. J. Quick, A. Hazel and W. Ralls, the accompanist being Bro. Hazel.

Among the Trenton members who spoke was P.D.D.G. Bro. C. VanAlstine, P. G. Bro. A. Stacey, P.G. Bro. J Stacey, P. G. Bro. D. Kerr, N. G. Bro. Miller and Bro. W. Pacey. All spoke in congratulation of the D.D. and his staff for the efficient manner they carried out the Installation Ceremony. Bro. Dixon thanked the members for the support they had given him during the past year, which had been a successful one. Before closing the visitors led by the D.D. joined in singing, "For they are jolly good fellows" in recognition of the welcome they had received.

Deaths And Funerals

MRS. SARAH WRIGHT

Mrs. Sarah Wright, widow of the late Mr. Allen Wright of Ivanhoe, passed away this morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Harvey Leeman 26 Forin street, city. Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian Church and had been in failing health for some months. Mrs. Wright was a daughter of Mr. Thomas Lyman of Stirling and had resided in this locality all her life. Three sons, Germon, William and Murney, of Huntingdon Townships and one daughter, Mrs. H. Leeman of this city survive.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

MRS. HARRIETT HAIGHT

On Monday last Mrs. Harriett Haight, widow of the late Stephen Haight was the victim of a stroke which proved fatal. She passed away this morning at the residence of Mrs. D. Farley, 48 Everett street. She was born in Huntingdon township in 1864, being a daughter of the late Mr. H. Morton. For many years Mrs. Haight resided in this city and for twenty years occupied the apartments in the Post Office building, where her husband was the caretaker. She was a member of the Tabernacle church and a lady much respected by all who knew her. One brother, Albert Morton, resides at Bayonne, N.Y., and two sisters are living, namely, Mrs. Robert Weber of Midland, Ont., and Mrs. Sussie M. Greenough of New York. Two grandchildren, Grace and Bruce McCorkell are living in Toronto.

NOBODY'S BABY

Perhaps not in the history of local talent threatricals has so much interest been manifested as in that of the forthcoming production of this big three act spectacular "Merrie" musical comedy entitled, Nobody's Baby. The rehearsals are in full swing every afternoon and evening at the City Hall. The committee in charge and director Theodore H. Bird are delighted with those who have responded to the call and are taking parts in the cast, solo work and adult chorus. The children's chorus composed of two hundred school girls and boys will be a big feature of the entertainment and well worth the price of admission. Nobody's Baby promises to be funnier, and more spectacular in every way than Mr. Bird's previous play "The Girl in Red", which was also under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society. Nobody's Baby will be presented at the Griffin Theatre, two nights January 20th and 21st with a special children's matinee on Tuesday afternoon the 20th. It

Point Anne Grabs Firit From Irish

Defeat Kingstonians 6-3 in Decisive Battle in Kingston

(Special to the Intelligencer)

Point Anne, Jan. 8.—Last night in Kingston, Point Anne took the Irishmen of Kingston into camp 6 to 3, in the opening game of the Bay of Quinte League.

Kingston started out strong but could not keep up the pace. Point Anne kept improving as the time went on.

Pat Boland and Tobin, two old rivals were in the nets and while Tobin had the more work to do, Boland made some sensational stops.

Terry Millan and Joyce were the best for Kingston, but Millan showed lack of condition and could not keep up the fast pace set by the Point Anners. Gilly Goyer was the best for Point Anne but the rest of his team mates were not far behind him. The whole team played good combination with the exception of the first period and Kingston found a stone wall defense that they could not break thru.

Kingston had the best of the play at the opening, scoring the first two goals in seven minutes. Point Anne then began to get their bearing and evened up, but Kingston netted one more and the period ended, Kingston3 Point Anne 2.

Point Anen came on in the second a much improved team and had the better of the play during the entire period, netting two goals to Kingston's none,the period ending, Point Anne, 4, Kingston 3.

In the third period, Kingston showed lack of condition and could not break up the Point Anne combination. Point Anne played a three man defense in this period and kept Kingston shooting from well out. Point Anne netted two goals in this period to Kingston's none and the game ended, Point Anne 6, Kingston 3. Line up.

Referee—Brock Hudgins, of Napanee.

Goals—L. Goyer, Millan 2, F. Goyer 1, Maracle 1, Joyce 1, Brant 2.

WALKER GETS VERDICT IN McTIGUE SCRAP

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Newark, Jan. 8.—Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world would be holding another crown had he boxed Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion in New York state last night. Walker defeated the King of 175 pounders in the opinion of newspapermen at the ring side. In a tame 12-round no decision contest and his margin was wide but boxing laws of Jersey forbid a decision.

DE LUXE TRAVEL TO CALIFORNIA

Modern travel leaves little to be desired in comfort and luxury. The most recent innovation is the introduction of Lady's Maid Service on the California Limited, the Los Angeles Limited, and the San Francisco Overland Limited, operating daily between Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco over their various routes. It has also been announced that the California Limited has been equipped with new all-steel drawing room compartment, sleeping cars, specially designed ladies' lounge. Such improved services signify the strides being made to satisfy every conceivable desire of the long distance traveller.

These famous trains are already associated by connections with the Canadian National double track system to Chicago and the trip from Toronto to Los Angeles or San Francisco is thus made one of unequalled pleasure and satisfaction throughout.

Full information and tickets may be obtained from Canadian National Ticket Offices and personal service in arranging reservations, etc., will be rendered by any Canadian National Ticket Agent.

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. There is nothing like Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment. Try it $1.60 at Roos' Drug Store or Soemaker's Drug Store. advt.

May Sell Famous Leeds Pink Pearls

String Valued Near Million, Part of Princess Estate

New York, Jan. 8.—Complications pertaining to appraisal and duty on the famous string of 43 pink pearls belonging to the late Princess Anastasia of Greece, may cause them to be exported, following their being placed in the hands of appraisers here in December. If no complication arises, they will be sold in this country, according to William B. Leeds, Jr.

The jewels were bought by William B. Leeds, the tinplate king, and given to his second wife, who afterwards became Princess Anastasia. Eight years of litigation marked the first importation. The Government contended that the pearls were strung and that the owner was subject to 60 per cent duty which it collected, while Bernard Citreon, the jeweller, and Mrs. Leeds contended they were unstrung and liable to only 10 per cent.

A final decision in the case was a favorable to Mrs. Leeds and the $110,000 collected by the Government was ordered returned.

Verification of the second entry of the pearls was made by F. J. H. Kracke, appraiser of the port of New York.

They will be disposed of to settle the estate of Princess Anastasia, if all goes well, and the money will make up part of a trust fund for her sister, Mrs. Henderson Green, of Montclair, N.J.

They originally were purchased by Mr. Leeds in 1907. The reputed price was $340,000. They have increased in value since that time and are believed to be worth close to $1,000,000 today.

SENDS ALONG $21 CONSCIENCE MONEY

Otawa, Jan. 8—New Year's resolutions are believed by the Department of Customs and Excise to account for the receipt this morning of the sum of $21, as 'conscience money.' The envelope was postmarked "Sherbrooke. Que." and attached to the two $10 and $1 bills was a typewritten note, stating: "This is duty on personal effects purchased in the United States at various times, not declared, and not hidden."

The amount is being deposited to the credit of the Receiver-General.

SO MUCH DEPENDS ON THE LIGHTING
WHAT is more comfortable than good light—and what other comfort so cheap in cost?
A 75-watt Edison Mazda Lamp gives two and one-half times as much light as a 40-watt Edison Mazda Lamp, yet the difference in current cost averages only a third of a cent an hour.
Use light freely—and use it rightly. A living room without a floor or table lamp cannot possess the charm of one containing either or both. Put white or frosted Edison Mazda Lamps in portable floor or table lamps, and clear Edison Mazda Lamps in fixtures that do not permit the eye to see the lamp.

A Modern Jazz Opera

(Otto Kahn, noted banker, urges that Irving Berlin or some other composer of jazz numbers compose a jazz opera with a story of modern life of which the heroine is a modern type of girl—a flapper, a stenographer or shop girl.—News item.)

Characters

Carmen, a Flapper.
Her Bobbed-Hair Grandmother and flask.
A stenographer with visible ears.
A Cross-word Puzzle out of Work.
A Shop Girl (in seven horizontal letters).
Two Adenoids.
Done Jose, a Subway Guard.
A Low Comedian.
Two Low Friends of His.
Six Southern Mammies in Search of a Composer.
87 Jazz Musicians.

Scene I.

A quiet spot in the subway immediately in the rear of 400 hurried businessmen with sharp elbows.

(As the curtain rises 3,687 people still munching buttered toast rush down the subway steps and see a sign marked "Exis Only." They rush back and come down the right way. They see a frail woman waiting for a train. They knock her down, sit on her and calmly begin reading a newspaper which enters quietly from the left in the hands of a subscriber from Troy. The girl seems very happy. She has travelled in the subway ever since she was able to stand. As a train pulls in Carmen, the flapper comes down the subway stairs preceded by the Notre Dame eleven. She manages to enter the train with only minor injuries,but upon getting inside discovers that in the rush she has lost her hat skirt, waist, chemise, corset-cover, petticoat and stockings. Done Jose, the Subway Guard, finds everything but the first eleven articles and returns them to her. It is a case of love at first sight. Here the jazz orchestra begin playing a tune of no importance and the action begins.)

Carmen: Ah, thou hast a fair countenance, making allowance for wear and tear.

Guard—I love you. Pennsylvania sta-shun. Lettemoffpleaze.

Carmen: Silly! why shoulds't thou love me.

Guard: You remind me of my mother.

Carmen: Tell me of your mother,

The Guard
(Singing)

Mam-my, Mam-my, the sun shines east, ,the sun shines west
But my ma lives where the sun shines best.
Mam-my, Mam-my, way up north in Ala-bam-my.
Etc.

(Carman is overcome with emotion. She seems very dejected. It's his voice or something).

Guard: Why so depressed, fair creature.

Carmen
(Singing)

I'm a poor broken blossom and nobody's child
Haunting and taunting and just kind of wild
Oh, Limehouse blues, I've the real Limehouse blues
Learned from the chinkees, those sad China blues.

(She is interrupted by a plumber who enters the train, pulls her out of her seat onto the floor and takes the seat himself. She lies on the floor in a stupor while the train passes eight stations. The guard sings.)

Guard

(In rich contralto, by Puccini out of Bizet)

Low smiling in the Orient sky
Morn in her beauty breaking
Cans't thou my love inactive lie.
My sweet, are thou not waking?

(The 86 jazz musicians set up a horse laugh through trombones and trick saxaphones. The guard now loses interest in the Flapper and turns to the Stenographer who is being slowly crushed to death between fourteen filing clerks).

Guard: I love you.

Stenographer: If you love me get these fourteen men off my neck. I've never met them.

(At this point everybody gets off the train except the Two Adenoids):

Note: The second and third acts take place three weeks earlier at a convention of Southern Mammies held jointly in Carolina, Virginia and Alabama. They are not worth printing.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen infalmed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

The 1924 rainfall record in Britain has only been exceeded five times since 1877. Hampstead had a rainfall for the year of 33.21 inches, equal to 4,000 tons of water to the acre.

"The dust of a carpet in a room occupied by a tuberculosis patient was collected, and 48 guinea pigs were exposed to it. Forty-seven of them died from tuberculosis," declared Sir Robert Jones before the Institute of Public Health in London. "It is pathetic that a kiss from a fond parent afflicted with tuberculosis has often sealed the fate of a child."

TO OBSERVE LENIN'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Moscow, Jan. 8.—Preparations are under way for observance of the first anniversary, on January 21, of the death of Lenin. The eight days beginning January 18, and ending January 25, will be designated "Lenin Week", and commemorative ceremonies will be held throughout the country.

Special commissions will be appointed in every town and district to call meetings devoted to popularizing Lenin's principles and teachings; a drive for increased membership in the Communist party will be inaugurated, and steps will be taken to strengthen Leninism within the party.

Delegations from the provincial centres will make pilgrimages to Lenin's wooden tomb in Moscow to honor the memory of the dead leader. Platforms will be erected in Red Square, where revolutionary orators will address the crowds, and millions of pamphlets on Lenin's life and principles will be sent broadcast.

ARREST DETROITERS FOR CONSPIRACY

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 8.—John Sharpe and Daniel J. McEntew, Detroiters, and William Brown of Toronto, were arraigned before United States Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd Tuesday, charged with conspiracy to violate the immigration law. The charge grew out of an alleged attempt by Sharpe and McEntew to bring Brown across the ferry in their motor car. Examination was set for January 9, and bond placed at $2,500 each.

According to United States immigration inspectors, Brown had been visiting Detroit through the use of a visitor's pass, which allowed him to spend week-ends here. It was alleged Brown took advantage of his pass a number of times and finally on one of his weekend trips secured employment in Detroit and remained here. He returned to Toronto to visit last week, and on his attempt to re-enter Detroit on his visitor's pass immigration officials arrested him.

Sharp and McEntew were involved in the case when Brown telephoned Sharpe to come to Windsor and get him in his car. The latter with McEntew picked Brown up, and in their alleged attempt to smuggle him across the river were arrested.

Believe Someone Was Vindicative

Wireless Expert Claims Broadcasting Deliberately Interfered With

London, Jan. 8.—Either a number of malicious amateurs or a European country deliberately tried to jam the reception of American wireless stations by British listeners-in during the International Radio Week, E. C. Davies ,wireless expert, has charged.

Radio Week, Mr. Davies says, was a failure because virtually every station in America was interfered with. The programs were ruined by continuous Morse or a piercing whistle which began every night just at the time when the American stations were due to begin broadcasting. The Morse contained no message and sounded as if some one were playing about with a key, and there was generally more Morse during this week than any time during the previous six months.

WOULD MODIFY THE TARIFF ON SUGAR

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—Requesting modifications in the British preferential tariff on raw sugar, a delegation representing Halifax sugar refiners waited upon Hon. James, A. Robb, acting Minister of Finance and Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Minister of National Defence, Tuesday afternoon. The delegation which was introduced b y R. E. Finn, member for Halifax, took the ground that the British refiner, who purchased his sugar in the open market had an advantage over the Canadian Refiner.

The new preference for West Indies sugar, recently announced by the British Government, was discussed, and its bearing on the sugar industry in Canada was taken into consideration.

Beyond revealing that the discussion took this form, neither the members of the delegation nor the ministers involved cared to discuss the matter after the meeting. "It was just a general discussion nothing was decided on," said Mr. MacDonald afterwards.

Mr. Robb, as acting Minister of Finance, promised to take the whole matter nder his consideration.

FIND DEATH WAS PURELY ACCIDENTAL

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Brockville, Jan. 7.—A verdict of accidental death from gas poisoning, caused by a break in the gas main outside the house was returned by a coroner's Jury, which last night completed the investigation of catastrophe which took six lives here Saturday morning and left but one survivor in the family of Jesse W. Gray. Officials of Utilities commission testified that the break was found 17 feet from the Gray house and from this t he gas had escaped into the cellar.

CAT LEARNS HOW TO RING DOORBELL

Brantford, Jan. 8.—Mysterious ringing of the doorbell at the residence of a Brantford citizen has resulted in a discovery that has added another wonder to this home of the telephone.

Searching analysis of the situation showed that the ringing of the doorbell always was followed by the appearance of Jake, the family cat. it was found that Jake disdains the regular method by which a cat lets it be known it requires admittance. He stands magnificently on his hind legs and rings the bell with his paw. If service is not prompt, he rings it again.

Between rings he looks in through the glass of the door, and at night his eyes glow in a spooky manner as he waits with his paw poised ready to ring again.

BRITISH STEAMER IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

New York, Jan. 7.—Fire of undetermined origin in the hold of the British steamer Glenbank, of Belfast, at the Bush Terminal dock on south Brooklyn, last night caused a loss estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000. Three alarms were turned in, and fire boats assisted in fighting the flames. Part of the cargo taken on board during the ship's journey here from Calcutta, India, was destroyed.

OLD "MONARCH" MUST "FACE FIRING SQUAD"

Portsmouth, Eng., Jan. 7.—The battleship Monarch, the last capital ship wich Great Britain scraps under the Wasington Treaty, was towed out of Portsmouth harbor Tuesday afternoon She will be taken to Plymouth and before the end of the month will go to sea to become a target for the Atlantic fleet. The Monarch, from which all usable finishings have been removed, must be completely destroyed by February.

The Winter hen record claim was advanced yesterday by E. P. Ellis, Grandview, near Stratford whose 22 Plymouth Rock hens laid 317 eggs in December and are keeping on at the same rate.

RAZOR WOUND FATAL AFTER THREE MONTHS

Stratford, Ont., Jan. 7— Suffering from the effects of a razor wound in his throat, self-inflicted three months ago the death of John Beutter occurred Monday night. He died at the Avon Apartments, where he was staying for a short time.

The late Mr. Beutter was about 78 years of age. He had been a resident of the city his entire life as far as is known. About 30 years ago he was a prominent jeweler and plater in the city. In late years he has been doing practically nothing, however.

USED HYPNOTISM FOR AN OPERATION

Dorpat, Lithuania, Jan. 8—Prof. A. Wannach has recently performed a number of surgical operations at the Dorpat University Hospital which attracted much attention because hypnosis was substituted for narcotics. The patients are alleged to have suffered no pain.

GOOD NEWS FOR BRONCHITIS SUFFERERS!

Deep-Seated Chest Troubles Yield to PEPS.

BRONCHITIS lays hold of the chest in a slow insidious way. Do not, therefore, neglect to take prompt measures to counteract the first symptoms of this ravaging ailment—the first difficulty in breathing, the occasional made-up feeling in the throat with its accumulations of phlegm. Be warned by that irritating cough and those frequently-returning colds.

Get a box of Peps, the well-known breathing remedy. After removing the silver wrapping place a Peps tablet on the tongue and breathe in the healing fumes as the tablet dissolves.

Peps are simply invaluable for allaying that teasing, tickling cough; for softening and loosening the phlegm, and soothing the irritated and semi-inflamed bronchial tubes. Every day as you breathe in the powerful germicidal fumes which are emitted from these Peps, a healing influence is extended deep into the lungs where liquid cough mixtures cannot penetrate.

The regular use of Peps at bedtime will ensure healthy slumber undisturbed by bouts of coughing. By day, the treatment should be continued on the assurance that the throat, bronchi and lungs are all being healed and strengthed by this medicine.

Peps are guaranteed to be absolutely free from opium, laudanum, chloral, morphia and any harmful ingredients of the old-fashioned cough medicines.

Dr. GORDON STABLES, M.D., C.M., writes:—"Fear every little cold. Keep Peps handy and you will ride triumphantly clear of bronchitis. Peps are invaluable for soothing and healing semi-inflamed bronchial tubes. Peps tablets are more of an inhalation, and go directly to the seat of injury."

Whilst PEPS are an expensive remedy to produce the demand has become so great that it has now been found possible to have the price reduced from 50c. to 25c. Get a box to-day! All druggists.

BELLEVILLE READY FOR BROCKVILLE ; PRO. LEADERS FALL ; STRATFORD , GALT , FALLS WIN

Boys All Ready For Brockville

Goyer Brothers May Travel Too; Depends on Meeting To-day

The Belleville Intermediate team is all set for the battle with Brockville in the eastern city to-morrow evening. They are leaving on the 12.15 train at noon to-morrow and expect to have a good number of supporters with them. The fare is $4.90 on the club rate and tickets may be obtained from Harry Thompson at the C.N.R. office on Front street.

The line-up as it was for the last game here with Kingston will make the trip and it is just possible that the Goyer brothers may go along too. There was to be a meeting this afternoon of the Bay of Quinte League to decide as to whether they will be allowed to travel O.H.A. with Belleville or remain with the other league.

Harold Mitchell will handle the bell again, and from this distance the going should be very fast with Belleville having the decided edge.

The boys are practising regularly and are looking better every day. Ed. Thomas said to-day that they were all feeling fit.

STRATFORD BEAT SIX FROM PRESTON

Stratford, Jan. 8.—The Stratford Indians hung up another scalp, their second in the week, last night when they defeated the Preston Riversides by a 7 to 3 score. The game was one of the hardest fought of the season with the homesters having the edge almost all the route. About 2,000 fans witnessed the contest.

It was a game from the drop of the hat. The visitors had a little bulge in their shooting for the first ten minutes, after which the Indians answer came into the limelight and they had the upper hand for the remainder of the game. The game was pretty to watch. There was plenty of good stick handling and both teams showed wonderful bursts of speed. Few penalties for minor offences were handed out.

The Indians were uniformly good with Frank Carson probably the most effective. In addition to notching four of the Indians' seven goals, he back-checked hard and was strong in the pinches. His brother Bill was a tower of strength, while Cole worked consistently every minute he was on the ice.

A marring incident occurred towards the close of the second period when Albot, of the visitors, collided with Graham and fractured the main bone in his wrist. Up to this stage he was the outstanding man for the visitors. Clark was probably the fastest man on the ice and turned in a good game. Ashley, the ace of the Riverdale, was watched throughout and was not given the opportunity to show his wares.

The teams:

Referee—R. Hewitson, Toronto.

NIAGARA FALLS IN WHIRLWIND FINISH

Niagara Falls, Jan. 8.—By a whirlwind start in the final period of last night's "Big Six" senior O.H.A. game here, the Falls' sextette scored two goals in 30 seconds, breaking the 1-1 tie with London and winning out by 3 to 1. The game was witnessed by 5,000 fans, the largest crowd of the season. It was a great exhibition of hockey, and for the first two periods it looked like anybody's game. The Falls, however, after scoring their two winning goals looked good enough to add more to their string in the dying stages, and only for the clever work of Renaud in the London net they would doubtless have done so. The invaders, while not quite as formidable as their opponents in the last period, kept plugging, and made noble attempts at scoring.

London—Goal, Renaud; defence, Fournier and Starkings; centre, Lowrey; right wing, Neville; left wing, Leamy; subs, Slater and McKay.

Niagara Falls—Goal, Mayo; defence, Fraser and Kitchen; centre, Rice; right wing, Herrington; left wing, Kelterbourne; subs., Molson and Siebert.

Referee—Harold Mitchell, Toronto.

POOR EXHIBITION GIVEN AT GALT

Galt, Ont., Jan. 8—In the poorest exhibition of "Big Six" hockey witnessed here this Winter, the Terriers last night defeated the Kitchener Green Shirts 3 to 2. The last period provided the only interesting hockey of the evening, the other two stanzas being very listless. Both teams acted at the start as if they were suffering from too much hockey, not having recovered from their games of Mon- night.

Kitchener—Goal, Woods; defence, Ferguson and Karges; centre, Hiller; right wing, Kruz; left wing Hinsberger; subs, Hillman and Hemphill.

Referee—Farlow, Toronto.

At Hamilton

Hamilton, Jan. 8.—Punch Broadbent went on a goal-getting expedition against Hamilton in an N.H.L. fixture here last night, and the Montreal team of which he is a member defeated Hamilton six goals to two. Broadbent was an important factor in the victory with his five counters, but it remained for Reg. Noble, Alf. Skinner and Clint. Benedict to star for the invaders defensively. This trio took care of what little team play the Hams showed in championship style. The Hams only showed flashes of their old-time form, the close checking of the Montreal team slowing team play down to a walk, and they appeared to have but little trouble in beating the Hamilton defence and Forbes.

Following the game the fans went after Lou Marsh, who refereed the game, but Lou stood his ground and no trouble resulted.

Simply Old Rule Being Enforced

Thinks O.H.A. Hockey Will Be Faster as a Result

Toronto, Jan. 8— Commenting on the instructions issued by the Ontario Hockey Association last week regarding heavy body checking, the Star today says that the order to referees ordering them to tone down this phase of the game is having a wonderful effect on the speed of the players.

The Star says: "In effect, the governing body told its referees to eliminate all heavy and unnecesary body checking on the forward lines and to stop the defence players from crashing into attacking forwards. There is no new rule. The old rule against charging is simply being strictly enforced and the O.H.A. is backing its officials up.

"For the last couple of years the cry to the defence men has been 'Step into them,' and the result is that the majority of the bodying in defences has been charging pure and simple. Defence players, usually big men, have been skating into attacking forwards and knocking them flat or opening out and sandwiching them savagely. Players who have passed the puck on reaching the defence have been slammed hard to keep them out of play, or jabbed and harried all over the defence area any time they come in to pick up a pass or a rebound. The day for that stuff is over according to the O.H.A. Defence players are still permitted to use their bodies to block attacking forwards but they must not hurl themselves into a player simply because he has the puck. The 'sandwich' has ben reduced to a squeeze and no more while players who are not in possession of the puck. The sandwich has been reduced be slammed all over the lot. On the forward line hard body checking is to be cut out altogether. Nothing more than bodily contact sufficient to enable a player to get at the puck is permitted, while players not in possession of the puck must not be touched at all. The net result is cleaner play, fewer injuries and a better spirit among the contestants.

"Y" Basketball

A full card of Basket ball was run off at the "Y" Gymnasium last night. The junior Sunday School League teams started the fireworks, the opposing teams being Christ Church Juniors and the Baptists. Baptist, due to the stellar performance of F. Faulkner won handily by the score of 13-6. Churchill, the opposing centre failed to watch his check and as a result Faulkner ran wild throughout the game, shooting baskets from every angle. For Christ Church, Fisher Smith and Churchill shared the scoring honors.

The Teams

Baptists—Lewis, Lloyd, Faulkner, Hitchon and Hobson.

Christ Church—Fisher, Smith, Churchill, Hilton and Morgan.

Intermediate

The second game, an intermediate fixture between St. Andrews and the Tabernacle was won by the latter. For St. Andrews Buchanan and Boyes accounted for all the field goals while Palmer, H. Redfern and J. Redfern shared the honors for the Tabernacle Team.

The final score stood St. Andrews 21, Tabernacle 28.

St. Andrews—Buchanan, Boyes, Christie and Boulter.

Tabernacle—Palmer, Duff, H. Redfern, J. Redfern and Darragh.

"Y" House League

In the Y House League there were two games, the first between Art Herity's Red Sox and Bob Mile's Green Sox. Herity's squad turned in the winning ticket scoring 26 points to Miles and Co.'s 16. In the case of both teams the scoring was well distributed among the players with Doughty and Rowell leading the line.

The teams—Red Sox—Doughty, Hurley, Herity, A. Weir, Rowel and Hibbard.

Green Sox—Hough, Barriage, Armstrong, R. Miles and Clare.

The second of these fixtures brought the Black Sox and Blue Sox together and as the latter could only muster four men instead of five they were forced to play under that handicap. Nothwithstanding this Weir and company jumped right into the game took all kinds of opportunities to register baskets and as a result of a combination of hard work, real effectiveness and their share of the breaks, were able to check up another win. The score at the conclusion of the game read Blue Sox 36, Black Sox 30.

Blue Sox—Harris, Hitchon, V. Weir and F. Symons.

Black Sox—Deroche, Kerr, Cole, Redfern, Redfern, Townsend and Palmer.

Boston Doesn't Like Defensive

Pro. Hockey Has Yet to be Acclaimed in States

Boston, January 8.—The long awakening of Boston to the merits of professional hockey is still in the future, according to sports writers here in their comments on the game at the Arena, in which St. Pats, of Toronto, trimmed the oft defeated Boston Bruins by 3 to 2. The lethargy of the 2,500 spectators throughout most of the game was attributed by the sports commentators to the fact that most of the time both teams appeared to be playing on the defensive. It was only in the closing stages, when Boston scored and threatened to tie that the crowd woke up. At the final whistle St. Pats were the objects of a tremendous razzing for killing time and beating Boston out of an opportunity.

The Boston Post, which said that two of the goals scored by the Toronto team were pure gifts, added, however, that both teams elected to play defensive hockey, and this accounted in a measure for the failure of the crowd to get steamed up. Early in the game each was waiting for the break. When the Saints scored their two soft goals the Bruins cut loose. The work of Babe Dye, who is a most heroic figure in Boston since he tallied five goals in the last appearance here of St. Pats, came in for much praise. The Babe was too closely watched last night to get much scoring done, but he netted one, and was responsible for a second the Post points out.

The Herald says that throughout the first period, and, in fact, all through the game Mitchell gave a great exhibition of covering, and completely sewed up the hard shooting Babe Dye. The Post comments: "The latter did get one goal, but he skated away over to the opposite wing position to get it. He got the puck at mid ice, wove through and scored with a short backhanded shot. Dye was also responsible for the third Toronto goal. The Babe took it down his own wing and let her go a hard one at Stewart. The latter blocked it and the puck bounded out ten feet on the ice. There was no Bruin near it and Stewart made a desperate full length dive in an effort to smother the rubber, but Holway was ahead of him. The St. Pat stickhandled it around the prosprate goalie and put it in the cage, where Herberts had hurriedly taken his place."

VARSITY SENIORS 3 AURA LEE BUT 1

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Proving by far the better puck-carriers and with ability to work in in the opposing net, Aura Lee were returned winners over Varsity 3 to 1 in their senior O.H.A. game at the Arena last night. Varsity were weak on the forward line, even Lou Hudson, who has seldom played a poorer game, being unable to make much headway in his attempts at rushing, and Aura Lee easily held him in check, while Kirkpatrick, the Plaxton boys and McKenzie King did not have any more success than their captain. Put at that Varsity appeared to have a splendid chance to knot the game half way through the final period, but with Aura Lee leading 2 to 1 and the Blue forcing the play Ross Taylor was ruled off. While he was serving the penalty Burke slipped in the goal that settled the argument.

Aura Lee were even better than the score shows, but lost a number of goals by wild shooting and from overanxiousness when in close. All the system played in the game was by the winners. They held their positions much better, outfooted their opponents and altogether displayed the smarter hockey. And Moore was very good in the Aura Lee net though the majority of the Varsity shots were from a long way out and those that came from inside the defence lacked steam and were generally right at the pads.

TWO LEADERS OF LEAGUE ARE BEATEN

Montreal, Jan. 8—Ottawa upset all calculations here last night when they defeated the world champion Canadiens 2 to 0 in a scheduled N.H.L. fixture played before a jammed arena of 6,500. It was a listless game with Canadiens playing away below form and showing every indication of being stale. Ottawa scored once in the first period and then resorted to a defensive game. Near the end of the second session, Canadiens were short of Coutu on the defence and the Senators opened up again and notched their second and final goal through Dennenay.

The crowd were looking for a big Canadien rally in the last session as in the former game here between the two teams when the champions rallied to snatch a win. But they lacked the punch and with Ottawa playing a purely defensive game the play became monotonous.

Boxing Titles To Remain As Now

Critical Contests Wait Until Spring or Summer Time

New York, Jan. 8—For a time boxing titles may be expected to remain where they are, with the champions waiting for the outdoor season facing worthy opponents.

Mickey Walker welterweight champion, and Mike McTigue the king of light heavyweights, met last night in Newark, with little danger of any crowns changing hands, although the battle was interesting. There was nothing for McTigue to win, for he is far beyond the welter limit, while Walker profeses to see an opportunity to annex another championship. As the match was of the "no decision" type, the only kind permitted in New Jersey, Walker had to knock out his man to realize his ambition.

Kid Kaplin of Meriden, Conn., who recently won the featherweight championship in the eyes of the New York State Athletic Commission by outpointing one and knocking out two adversaries, has declared his intention to participate in several matches on the Pacific Coast under the new 12-round law, in which he will not risk his title as he will contract for appearances over the featherweight limit of 126 pounds.

Eddie (Cannonball) Martin, of Brooklyn who recently captured the bantamweight title has elected to become a fighting champion, but his campaign so far indicates that he is also waiting for the large assemblies out of doors before signing for a match that might disturb his honors.

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, promises to fight in New York this summer probably in the new stadium being erected in Long Island City which is expected to seat 110,000 and for which ground was broken yesterday. Benny Leonard, lightweight king, remains on the stage, and has no appointments of a fistic nature scheduled.

DON'T LIKE GAME BUT FANCY SLANG

Oxford, Eng., Jan. 8.—Englishmen have seen the American game of football here recently, and do not like it. They found much to criticize, and the consensus of opinion was that the game as played in England is better suited to the local temperament and the local climate.

While the game itself has found little favor, the remarks of its devotees on the sidelines have been greatly appreciated. "Attaboy," may yet come to its own in England, for this modern American interjection struck the Englishmen as possessed of great energizing quality.

SIKI OUT AGAIN

Memphis, Jan. 8—Battling Siki, Sengalese heavyweight, just out of jail after losing a decision to his wife, said Wednesday that his contract with Bob Levy, New York, had expired and that Ben Bluestein, Memphis, would manage him in the future Siki and his wife engaged in a mauling, hairpulling and scratching bout, which ended with the battler in jail on

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN: SERIAL: THEATRES

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

It was only some trivial remark about the weather, but it seemed to him that his voice trembled with the emotion with which his heart literally throbbed.

Doris responded in her soft, quiet voice, and the sound of it somehow lulled the storm within him and gave him confidence. He found himself talking to her more freely, and each moment the spell her unexpected beauty and grace cast upon him grew stronger. To listen to a commonplace from Doris was delightful enough, but she could talk something better than commonplace; and Percy Levant, the adventurer, the man who "know the world," was again startled to find that Mr. Spencer Churchill's ward was, young as she looked, well read in subjects of which most women were utterly and sublimely ignorant. And yet she talked so modestly, so diffidently that her knowledge was an added charm.

He started when Lady Despard, rising, said:

"The butler knows the claret you like, Mr. Churchill; I shall leave you to his tender mercies. Mr. Levant, we will have some tea for you when you come into the drawing-room, so don't expect any to be sent in."

He opened the door for them, and then sank into his chair, let his head fall upon his bosom, his lips tightly compressed.

Spencer Churchill filled his glass and remained silent until the butler had left the room, then he said, with a smile:

"Well, my dear Percy, what do you think of my dear young ward?"

Percy Levant raised his head and looked at him with a curious expression.

"Give me some wine," he said; then, after he had drank a glass, he demanded, almost sternly: "Why did you not tell me?"

"Tell you what?" asked Mr. Spencer Churchill, with a chuckle. "I told you she was a charming young lady——"

"And you wished me to think you lied in saying so," retorted the other. "Why did you not tell me that she was as beautiful as—she is?"

Spencer Churchill chuckled again.

"My dear Percy, I thought that a little surprise would not come amiss. If I had told you that she was pretty—

"Pretty!"

"Well, beautiful—lovely—you would not have believed me!"

"No, I should not," he said, curtly. "Don't say any more. I want to think! Great Heaven, she is like a dream! Stop! Don't talk, I say; I'm not equal to any of your smooth platitudes at present. Let me be in peace!"

Mr. Spencer Churchill laughed softly.

"Certainly, certainly, my dear Percy," he said. "Yes, I can understand your astonishment. This claret is very fine——"

"No more!" said Percy, rising and taking a step or two across the room, with his arms behind him, his head bent upon his breast again. "Let us go to them."

"I'm quite ready," said Spencer Churchill, smiling with intense enjoyment.

They went into the drawing room. Lady Despard was turning over the music, Doris was seated at the tea-table.

"I am trying to find something for you to play, Mr. Levant," she said. "We are so eager to hear you play, Miss Marlowe and I."

He bowed; and his glance caught Doris'; but she only smiled.

"Will you not play or sing " he asked.

"Oh, no," she said; "I should be afraid."

"Of me? It is I who should fear, for I know from your conversation that I shall have a musician for a critic."

CHAPTER XXII.
TWO SONG BIRDS

Percy Levant bowed and went to the piano, and Mr. Spencer Churchill walked across the drawing-room and took a seat immediately beside Doris.

"I hope you like my young friend?" he said, in his softest voice, and glancing affectionately toward him as he stood by the piano talking to Lady Despard.

"I have seen so little of him," said Doris, "but he is very agreeable."

"Yes. Ah, my poor Percy!" he sighed. "Poor boy! He has suffered so much—so much! There should be sympathy between you two, my dear young lady, for he has known what it is to lose his dearest. I should move your heart if I were to tell you what sorrow and trouble have fallen to my friend's lot, and win your admiration and esteem for him if I recounted the many difficulties he has had to encounter. It has been a hard world for him, a hard life, poor fellow! I do so hope you and Lady Despard will like him."

Doris remained silent, but the softly spoken words had something of the effect their speaker intended, and she looked toward the young man with increased interest.

"I think, with the exception of myself, he has scarcely a friend in the wide world," said Spencer Churchill, sipping his tea and sighing. "I am counting so much on your and Lady Despard's sympathy, my dear Miss Marlowe! A word of encouragement from such kind hearts as yours will go far to console him for the cruel disappointments he has endured. Ah! he is going to sing, I see! Now you will see if I spoke too highly of his voice and abilities."

Percy Levant was certainly going to sing but he seemed somehow loth to begin. For a few minutes his fingers strayed over the keys irresolutely, then he struck a chord and commenced.

Home Hints

A tablespoonful of potato flour sifted in with dry ingredients makes a cake wonderfully light and fine grained.

To keep flatirons clean and smooth, rub them first with a piece of wax tied in a cloth, and afterward scour them on a paper or cloth strewn with coarse salt.

When running rods through sash curtains, if you slip the finger of an old kid glove on the end of the rod it will run through much easier. Danger of tearing the curtain is avoided.

To curl an ostrich feather shake the tip vigorously through the steam escaping from the spout of a kettle, being careful that the feather does not get too damp. Then curl carefully with a silver fruit knife. Shake or comb the feather afterwards to remove the stiff appearance.

Any SKIN TROUBLES In Your Home?

Then Zam-Buk is your surest means of securing once more perfectly sound tissue and a blemish-free skin. Zam-Buk owes its signal triumph over skin disease to its unique herbal composition. This rare antiseptic balm expels all harmful germs that have secured lodgment beneath the cuticle, banishes sores and eruptions, and grows healthy new skin in a way done by no mere pore-clogging ointment or fatty salve.

ECZEMA ON HANDS.—Mr. J. E. Cusick, of 319, Wilson St., Hamilton (Ont.), says:—"Every winter eczema appeared on the back of my hands. The intense itching and pain was most severe, and the disease got so bad, I was unable to work. Even a sample box of Zam-Buk proved its worth, and I at once bought a supply. I never could have believed [illegible] how quickly Zam-Buk completely healed my hands."

BURNS & SCALDS.—Mr. E. Webster, of 519, Seigneurs St., Montreal, says:—"As I was lifting a pan of boiling water off the stove, my son Eddie ran towards me, and knocked the pan upwards, severely scalding his neck. We tried several so-called remedies, but they all failed to give him relief. We then applied Zam-Buk and this acted like a charm. It drew away the pain and soon healed Eddie's terrible scald."

POISONED HAND.—Mrs. Geo. Boorman, of 906, Selkirk Avenue, Winnipeg, says:—"I cut my left hand while using a pair of scissors. The deep ugly wound bled so profusely, and so long, I was afraid an artery had been severed. Inflammation set in, and my thumb turned black with poison. Zam-Buk soothed the acute pain directly, drew out all inflammation and discoloration, and soon healed the wound."

TO MY WIFE

(Whose patience under the greatest difficulties and whose faithfulness and love have been to me of inestimable value in overcoming some of life's obstacles and in encouraging me to face those which lie ahead.)

I love you for the simple grace
That adds its radiance to your face;
I love you for the gentle eyes
And for the speech that never lies.

I love you for the Christlike way
That keeps you safely day by day;
I love you for your patient care
With children's errors, hard to bear.

I love you for your faith so true
To God, who governs all you do;
I love you that through grief and pain
You always reverence Jesus' name.

I love you for the morning prayer
That keeps you safe while I despair;
I love you for your thanks at night
To God, for hope of Heaven bright.

I love you for the lesson taught
Of how life's battle should be fought;
I love you for that hope and strength
That bid me strive to win at length.

Thus do I gather from your past
Only what helps me to the best,
And view with many a twinge of shame
My life, so weak and full of blame.

Yet I do hope, if future years
Brings to you griefs, cares and fears,
If courage fails, you'll lean on me,
That I may prove my love for thee.

Sorcerers Attack Big Sea Plane

Just an Incident in the Thrilling Picture Here Monday

Have you ever sat before a fire reading a story of cannibals and headhunters—and dozing off, dreamed of the most amazing experiences amongst these dreadful people, with yourself as the central figure, that upon your release from the arms of Morpheus you hardly dared to move for fear a fearsome creature would pounce upon you with a blood-curling war cry?

If you have ever had this experience you probably cast it out of your mind the next moment, as an impossible trick of your imagination—yet you are about to be offered a series of adventures much more thrilling and a thousand times more interesting than any you have ever imagined.

The management of the Griffin Theatre are bringing this picture direct from Massey Hall, Toronto, and offer you this thrilling experience in Captain Frank Hurley's wonder photoplay revelation "The Lost Tribe" which comes here for three days, and a school matinee on Wednesday 4.15 starting Monday, Jan. 12th at half the price charged in Toronto.

In a land practically unknown to civilization Captain Hurley found a tribe of headhunters who are so remarkably Jewish in their face, form and customs that scientists at last believe that the Lost Tribe of Israel have been found. The explorers went into the lair of the headhunters by boat and sea-plane. The cannibals thought they were strange Gods whom a big bird had brought to them. This was the one and only reason that they were not killed. The picture has more thrills to the foot than is found in ten serial pictures taken in the motion picture studio. The picture runs the gamut from deep sea pearl fishing to an attack on the sea-plane by the sorcerers of the lost tribe. This is the first Canadian tour of "The Lost Tribe" and popular prices are to be charged which will meet the purse of all classes. The Wednesday matinee starts at 4.15, evening shows at 8.15.

ANOTHER HAS FOUND THRILL VERY COSTLY

Wichita, Kas., Jan. 8— Another youthful "intellectual" is facing a long prison sentence just because he wanted a "thrill". Karl Peters, 19, of Wichita, Kas., is beginning to realize it was not worth the cost. While managing a large Kansas City rug plant and studying on the side for the diplomatic service, Peters joined in a drug store holdup. One of his companions shot and probably fatally wounded a detective. His father, a stock broker, formerly was in business in Louisville. Ky.

WORKING GIRL'S EXPERIENCE

Read How She Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Arnprior, Ontario.—"I must write and tell you my experience with your medicine. I was working at the factory for three years and became so run-down that I used to take weak spells and would be at home at least one day each week. I was treated by the doctors for anemia, but it didn't seem to do me any good. I was told to take a rest, but was unable to, and kept on getting worse. I was troubled mostly with my periods. I would sometimes pass three months, and when it came it would last around two weeks, and I would have such pains at times in my right side that I could hardly walk. I am only 19 years of age and weigh 118 pounds now, and before taking the Vegetable Compound I was only 103 pounds. I was sickly for two years and some of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken a bottle of it I felt a change. My mother has been taking it for a different ailment and has found it very satisfactory. I am willing to tell friends about the medicine and to answer letters asking about it."—Miss Hazel Berndt, Box 700, Arnprior, Ontario.

A day out each week shows in the pay envelope. If you are troubled with some weakness, indicated by a run-down condition, tired feelings, pains and irregularity, let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound help you.

Something Really New In Pictures

Old Bill, Himself, Starts in At Griffin to-night

Something quite new in film fun will be seen at the Griffins this week end, in the shape of the diverting picture, "Old Bill Through the Ages."

The film, the story of which has been written by Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, takes the history we have worried over at school, and gives it all a highly humorous twist—as Bairnsfather alone knows how. The result is extremely funny, and provides hilarious entertainment.

We see Old Bill some six or seven different periods—as the hectoring William the Conqueror, writing the Doomsday Book; as a Baron using "gentle persuasion" on King John to sign the Magna Carta; as a courtier of Queen Bess, bored over Shakespeare; as a jolly Cavalier and a glum Puritan, etc. And throughout it is just one long succession of joyous, harmless laughs.

It is worth mentioning, however, that Thomas Bentley, the well-known director, who produced the film, has been very careful to get the artists who play the characters as true to the originals as possible. Queen Elizabeth, Shakespeare, Drake, etc., are all wonderfully like the famous notabilities as they lived in the flesh. This gives a welcome background of realism to the film.

When Is A Girl A Real Flapper?

When She's Short, Says Anne Cornwall, Belle Theatre Star

Why is a flapper?

Anne Cornwall, than whom there is no 'flappier flapper' cavorting her merry way on the silver sheet to-day, announces that a "flapper is only a flapper because of her size.

"Look at me," she invited, pirouetting on Tom Buckingham's set at the William Fox West Coast Studios, Hollywood, where Anne is "flapping" in Mr. Buckingham's production of Lincoln J. Carter's melodrama, "The Arizona Express," which comes to the Belle Theatre to-night for three days. "I'm not quite five feet tall. Therefore, I flap. If I was five feet five do you think I'd flap? Not at all.

"Age has nothing to do with being a flapper," she continued. "Neither has coloring. You know about Edna Hopper, who is called the sixty-two year-old flapper. There you are," dramatically.

"The very name flapper suggests frivolity and light-headedness to me. Of course, I'm always flattered to be a flapper. But seriously I really have done more weeping in the pictures I have appeared in than any other member of the cast," she declared. "Do I weep in this picture, Mr. Buckingham?" she called to her director.

"Oh, yes, you have your heartaches," he soothed.

"You see," resignedly, "I weep yet I flap, too. Of course, if you'll let me flap the way I want to, I don't mind the term at all. Just because a girl loves life, the gaity of it and the splashes of beauty amid its grayness is no sign she is addle-headed. Why mope because life is serious? The tragedy of life is the fleeting span of your own years. Interspersed are the sorrows and the sadness of daily tribulations and petty and big disappointments. Why carry the ills and woes where everyone can see? "You take the average girl laboring under the term of flapper. I'll wager she comes through one-hundred per cent. in a crisis. Beneath her obvious love of a good time is a rich vein of true gold.

PAYS UP TAXES

Kingston, Jan. 8.—Late yesterday afternoon Joseph Nash paid the taxes which he owed the city, some $400, non-payment of which was the cause of his being disqualified after he had headed the poll for Alderman in St. Lawrence Ward at the recent elections. Mr. Nash will again be nominated at the by-election to-morrow, and it is thought tha the will be elected by acclamation.

The body of George Knight, Stuart street, west, Hamilton, is still at the city morgue and an attempt is being made to locate relatives or friends. Knight was found in his room last Friday night.

To Live in Tamworth

Mr. and Mrs. John Richmond are moving into the house in Tamworth just vacated by Mr. Barrett. Mr. Richmond is suffering with creeping palsy and requires a good long rest. They have bought property formerly occupied by William Barrett, near Hannah's meat shop, and will live in Tamworth.

Gordon Storey Dead

Napanee, Jan. 8.—A gloom was cast over the community Tuesday morning when it was learned that Mr. Gordon Storey had passed away. The deceased had been ill with pneumonia for the past month and although he rallied at intervals the heart action was not strong enough to withstand the disease and he passed to the great beyond attended by his devoted wife and little child.

The late Mr. Storey was well-known in town, a comparatively young man, and was a faithful employee of the Napanee Iron works Co., Limited. He was an adherent of Grace Methodist Church.

William Henry Gerow Dead

After a brief illness of heart trouble, William Henry Gerow, Picton, passed away. He was a son of George and Diana Gerow and the survivor of a family of four boys and one girl. Born in Hillier on May 27th, 1848, he was a miller by trade and operated flour mills at Frankford, Shannonville, Belleville, Trenton, Glenora, Milford and Hallowell Mills. In 1885 he married Miss Isabella MacDonald, daughter of the late Donald McDonald, Picton, and moved to Rochester, operating large mills there and at Buffalo. After the mill was burned through a gas explosion, he returned to Picton and lived near Hallowell Mills with his parents in 1887. About this time he was overtaken with a very serious illness from which he never fully recovered. In 1895 he moved to Picton and built his home on Ontario street and ran the Hepburn grist mill for twelve years. Through failing health he was compelled to give up work and for the last fifteen years remained in his chair.

A Close Call

What came very near being a tragedy at Gananoque Junction occurred last Wednesday evening. Ray Heasler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heasler, went to get out his car and closed the door before starting the engine. A few minutes later his mother heard the engine of the car running and waited for him to appear, but when he did not as soon as she expected, she went to see the cause of the delay and found the young man unconscious on the floor of the garage, having been overcome by the fumes from the engine. She administered first aid and had Dr. Bird telephoned for. He soon had the sufferer restored sufficiently to be out of danger. It was a close call, however, for had Mrs. Heasler delayed a few minutes longer in going to the garage, it would have been too late to have saved her son's life.

Cases Adjourned

Oshawa, Jan. 8.—O.T.A. cases against Frank Cobernick, John Fialka Annie Glaech and Harry Bartlett, have been again adjourned until January 14. Harry Bartlett failed to appear in court and for a time it was thought his bail of $500 might be estreated, however, his bondsmen secured a doctor's certificate and satisfied the court he was unable to appear. The charge against Harper was also adjourned.

Cement Taken

Oshawa, Jan. 8.—Thieves broke into the warehouse of Mr. J. V. Hill, Hardware Merchant, Simcoe St. north, the other evening and took a thousand or more cement bags. These were the only contents of the building. Lately it seems certain operators have been making a specialty of empty cement bags for a number have been taken from other dealers.

Painfully Injured

Joseph Ryan, a prominent resident of Marysville, was very painfully injured late Tuesday while working around a waggon which was heavily loaded. While the waggon was in motion, Mr. Ryan fell in front of one of the hind wheels, and it passed over the front of his head, with the result that he suffered double fractures of the jaw on both sides, and his right ear was severely hurt also, causing a hemorrhage, and for a time his condition was quite serious, but Wednesday morning he showed some improvement and in the afternoon was reported to be doing fairly well again at the Hotel Dieu Hospital. The patient is under the care of Dr. I. G. Bogart.

Horses Killed

Newtonville, Jan. 9—A fine team of horses owned by Stanley Rowe, local farmer were killed when in the course of their runaway course, the C.P.R. flier crossed their path. The crazed horses crashed into the last coach, one being instantly killed and the other so badly injured that it had to be destroyed.

Rowe had delivered a crate of eggs to the C.N.R. sta[illegible] but when the locomotive whist[illegible]nded for the crossing, the hor[illegible] are believed to have bolted. The horses were very valuable.

Late Prof. Horning

With the death yesterday of Prof Louis Emerson Horning, there was ended a service of 40 years of teaching, first at Peterboro Collegiate Institute and then at Victoria College, both in Cobourg and afterward in Toronto, he having been professor of old English and Teutonic philology since 1858 He was widely known as a public lecturer in historical and literary themes both in Ontario and in Western Canada. Ill only three weeks, he passed away at his home, 31 Woodlawn ave. west.

Prof. Horning was born in Norwich of U. E. Loyalist parentage was educated at Brantford Collegiate and at Victoria College, from which he graduated in 1884, gold medallist of his class and silver medallist in philosophy.

Customs Returns

Deseronto, Jan. 8.—Customs and Excise returns for the port of Deseronto for the past three months are as follows:

Oct. $23,084.46 Nov. 57,833.15;
Dec. 38,081.73; Total $118,999.34.

With almost one hundred and nineteen thousand dollars passing from Deseronto into the hands of the Government, in a period of three months which amount of returns increasing eachquarter, one would naturally ask the why-fore of the dilapated condition of some Government owned property in Deseronto, the improvement of which is an actual necessity to the commercial and industrial welfare of Deseronto. A portion of the amount paid into the Government in three months ,would give a first class wharf and shed to the members for East Hastings big enough to command return to Deseronto.

Car Was in Gear

Port Hope, Jan. 8.—When W. H. Roper, manager of the Royal bank here, cranked his auto which was parked in front of the Port Hope Club behind another car Tuesday night, he found that his car had been left in gear, when it started up and crushed him against the bumper of the car parked in front.

Friends who were with Roper, showed presence of mind when they quickly shut off the engine, and shoving the car back, liberating the man. He was carried to Doney and Giddy's store and Dr. Benson was called. He was found to be suffering from deep wounds in the right leg, and after first aid had been rendered, he was removed to the hospital. Though not seriously injured, Roper wil be confined to bed for some days.

Sulphur Safe To Heal Skin

BROKEN OUT SKIN AND ITCHING ECZEMA RELIEVED AT ONCE

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Kingston Hospital Men Financiers

Sell Securities on Market to Gain About $70,000

Kingston, Jan. 8— Mayor Angrove is very enthusiastic over the proposition to hold an old boys' reunion in Kingston next summer, and many citizens have also expressed their desire that the city should have a reunion.

Ex-Ald. John McLeod, Toronto, who attended the inaugural meeting of the city council on Monday, stated that in Toronto he had met a great many former residents of Kingston who were very anxious that Kingston should hold a reunion, and were greatly pleased over the action of Mayor Angrove in bringing the matter to the attention of the council.

The mayor's idea is to make it a big affair, lasting four days. or possibly a week, and having the different service clubs in the city, lodges and organizations of various kinds, taking a hand in the arrangements so that everything possible will be done to make the affair a success and with everyone lending assistance, the mayor is satisfied that the old home week will be a great success.

The suggestion has been made that the celebration commence on the first Monday in August (civic holiday) as it is felt that this in itself would give the celebration a good start.

It is expected that very early in the season steps will be taken to prepare for the big event.

NEW EXPERIENCE IN QUEBEC HOUSE

Quebec, Jan. 8.—Mr. Sauve, Opposition leader in the Legislature Assembly yesterday enjoyed a rare experience that of having the pleasure of introducing to Hon. J. N. Francoeur, Speaker of the House, two Conservative members who have succeded in winning seats at the recent by-election. These are Armand Crepeau, elected in Sherbrooke, and Ludger Bastien, elected in Quebec County.

Mr. Sauve has been Conservative leader since 1916 and there have been quite a number of by-elections since that time, but this is the first time he has been able thus publicly to call attention to the fact that he can win by-elections. It is true that the Opposition has gained and gained greatly, especially in urban centres, but not at by-elections, when an Opposition ffaces terrific odds. The Opposition leader bore his honors meekly, and as if to the maner born. In the case of Mr. Bastien, he was supporter in the presentation by Dr. Faucher, M.L.A. for Quebec Centre, and in the case of Armand Crepeau he was supported by Arthur Plante of Beauharnois.

KINGSTON TALKING OLD BOYS RE-UNION

Kingston, Jan. 8—As will be recalled, the Kingston General Hospital was some time ago left a large bequest under the will of the late C. S. Campbell, of Montreal a son of the late Sir Alexander Campbell.

At the time it was estimated that the bequest was worth approximately $280,000, free of taxes being almost all made up of American securities. But as good fortune would have it, following the election of President Coolidge in the United States, the stock market there has had a phenomenal advance, and just wen this advance seemed at its height, the local trustees of the bequest took advantage of it to dispose of all the American securities in the Campbell beqnest, with the result that they realized over $350,000 and interest, as against the early estimate of $280,000—a clear gain of fully $70,000 for the Hospital

At the same time the funds so realized were immediately invested in Canadian bonds, which at that time had not enjoyed any appreciable advance, but which since then have made an excellent gain, and thus it is that the trustees "caught" the market coming and going and are in consequence receiving hearty congratulations from those who have heard of their wise move.

ALL CALL "MA-MA"

Kitchener, Jan. 8.—There was some commotion at the C. N. R. depot last week when a box of mamma dolls was overturned for they all began to cry at once.

The St. Catharines police yesterday got a report on perhaps the most trivial burglary in Niagara district history. A Henry street butcher shop was broken into and the only thing taken was two pounds of weiners.

RUB CHEST COLDS AWAY: STOP PAINS

Pain and congeston is gone. Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from chest colds, sore throat, backache, lumbago follows a gentle rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your chest and like magic relief comes. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless liniment which quickly breaks chest colds, soothes the inflammation of sore throat and breaks up the congestion that causes pain. It never disappoints and does not burn the skin.

Get a 35 cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store. It has been recommended for 65 years.

Mr. Business Man

Your greatest aid towards quick turnover is your newspaper. Efficient advertising in its columns will do much to build up your business.

BUT—DOES ADVERTISING INCREASE THE COST OF ARTICLES TO THE CONSUMER?

You have perhaps heard it stated—but erroneously so—that this is the case.

Because advertising properly done will quicken your turnover by increasing sales. Quantity selling means lower prices. The resultant extra sales will thus enable you to sell your goods at a lower figure than would be possible had you not invested money in advertising. Hence RATHER than increasing the cost of the article to the customer, efficient advertising ACTUALLY LOWERS PRICES.

On the other hand, advertising POORLY DONE will not produce results—or sell goods—so even in this case the extra money spent does not come from the customer—as he doesn't buy the goods.

It Pays to Advertise!

Predicts Epidemic In Chicago City

If Supreme Court Decision on Diversion Goes Into Effect

New York, January 8—The city of Chicago will be subjected to the danger of a serious epidemic if the United States Supreme Court decision upholding an injuction prohibiting the diversion of 10,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan for drainage and sanitation purposes takes effect before a new sewage system has been completed, Mayor William Dever of Chicago declared at the Waldorf.

The Supreme Court opinion prepared by Associate Justice Holmes decreed that the injunction granted by Federal Judge Carpenter limiting the Chicago Sanitary District to a water flow from the lake of 4,167 cubic feet per second, should become effective within sixty days. The district has been using 10,000 cubic feet of water per second for several years despite the issuance of war limiting the di- the issuance of a permit by the secretary of war limiting the diversion to 4,167 cubic feet per second.

"Unless the 10,000 cubic feet of water per second that the city has been allowed for sanitation and drainage is permitted to flow until a new sewage and drainage system has been finished," Mayor Dever asserted, "the present system will be unable to function and much of the city's sewage will of necessity be turned into Lake Michigan, where the city-s drinking water is obtained from intakes several miles out from shore. The whole city will be threatened with disease if this happens."

He pointed out that the domestic water supply is not included in the 4,167 cubic feet per second allowance but that it was taken from the lake under a separate permit. The indirect effect of the decision on the domestic supply by crippling the present sewage system, he said, might prove more damaging than if the decision bore directly on the supply.

In the decree handed down by Associate Justice Holmes there was a final clause which would permit Chicago to continue its fight for 10,000 cubic feet per second, stipulating that the decision should be "without prejudice to any permit that may be issued by the secretary of war in accordance with law." Bills legalizing the 10,000 foot flow are now pending in Congress with the endorsement of the Illinois delegation.

The Norwegian steamer Karma, which sailed from Swansea on December 3, for Halifax, with 2,000 tons of coal and for the safety of which fears were being entertained in shipping circles, has arrived back in Swansea in a badly battered condition. The Karma was within 250 miles of Cape Race when she was overpowered by the gales which have been sweeping the Atlantic during the past month and was driven eastward, arriving at her point of departure Sunday.

Are You Fat? Just Try This

Claim Communists Spy On Industries

But Newspaper in France Says Documents Are Forgeries

Paris, Jan. 8.—A most complete system of espionage is provided for in documents alleged to have been issued by the French Communist party. Conservative journals have published these papers, voicing the belief that they are genuine, but Humanite, the official communist organ, declares them to be forgeries.

The lowest unit of organization in the party is the "cell"; next above comes the "rayon." Members of "cells" are charged to supply detailed information as to the activities, output, pay-roll, etc., of the industrial plant or factory where they may be employed. Especially are they to observe the doings of members of the bourgeoisclass. This information is turned over to the "rayon," which collates and makes use of it.

"Cells' among the police, customs employes, porters, doorkeepers, servants, etc., are charged with the duty of spying upon the movements of the bourgeoisie outside of their business. Also they must report on all stocks of arms and ammunition in their vicinity, and investigate all supplies of gasoline; tell where situated, the amount, how they are guarded day and night, and report whether any Communist sympathizers are employed in these plants.

Automobile garages, pleasure cars and trucks must be enumerated and located, in short, nothing is forgotten that would "provide the incendiary material for the burning of a town and round up the vehicles that may be available to transport the insurrectionists when the 'great day' comes."

The French government, although expelling a few dozen foreigners of communistic connections, gives the impression that it regards this agitation as relatively insignificant. Complaint is made in some official circles that the incident has resulted in American tourists, because of exaggerated stories, deciding not to come to France for the present.

WOLF HUNTERS GET ANOTHER VICTIM

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Jan. 7.—Proving that they would follow a wolf trail in the initial hunt of the Algoma Wolf Hunt Club, on December 9, the two wolf hounds imported by the club, proved yesterday afternoon that they would not only follow a trail to the end but tackle the wolves themselves. Yesterday Bob and Norman Wilson, Doughts Garrett and Bob and Gibson Murray took the hounds out for a run near Isbister. The dogs soon picked up a trail and after following it four miles cornered the wolf and tackled it. They held the animal unti lthe arrival of Gibson Murray, who shot it. A hound owned by Ed. Hollingsworth of Bar River, ran with the others and was in at the finish but contented himself with being a spectator. He would not come to grips with the wolf.

The wolf, which was as large as a good sized dog, will be brought to the Sault to-morrow. News reached the Sault to-day that Jack Junor of Laird Township, had trapped a big timber wolf. This makes 36 wolves taken in this district this Fall and Winter.

Irish Flappers Make Mills Hum

Demand For Silk Stockings Has Revived Trade Generally

London, Jan. 8—The little shop girls of Ireland are responsible for a boom in the artificial silk trade that is one of the bright spots in the business life of these isles.

The manufacturers of a new process of weaving artificial silk materials, an industry started long before the war are now banking fatted dividends because the girls in the shops and offices, and even schools, are no longer content to wear the cotton stockings and cotton blouses which they displayed before and throughout the war. That aptitude for style changing which in America could make and unmake flapper fashions overnight, moves slower in England, and a year or so ago the English girls found that much of their social standing was based upon silk stockings.

The manufacturers of the artificial silk then reopened their mills, closed the factories working overtime producing stockings, blouses and other similar articles. The artificial silk trade has grown until now most of the long established woollen and cotton spinning firms are producing artificial silk of some sort. Machinery for making artificial silk garments and novelties is being invented and marketed daily.

Since the war factories for producing the synthetic silks have been established at Bury, Nelson, Peterborough and Golbourne.

The industry has spread also to India, where artificial silk shawls, headdresses and cloths are being produced with even a more luxurious gloss and feathery softness than real silk.

BLAMES GOVERNMENT FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Toronto, Jan. 8.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Women's Liberal-Conservative Association of the north end of Ward Six was held in the Earlscourt Community Club House. Mrs. Garvin Segar presided.

Jos. Harris, M.P., was the speaker of the evening. He dealt with the unemployed situation and accused the King Government for having brought about such conditions in Canada. He He referred to the immigration policy of the Federal authorities as detrimental to the interests of the country, and stated that immigrants were being allowed to stream into the Dominion while the Government refused to protect our industries by an adequate protective tariff.

Mrs. Alex. Gordon, president of the Ward Five Association, installed the newly elected officers.

Mrs. Segar presented the retiring officers, Mrs. Albin, Mrs. B. Kirby and Mrs. Elsie Chapman, who have served as officers for over three years, with tokens of esteem. Mrs. Segar was the recipient of a pair of candlestickas.

CELEBRATED HIS 106TH BIRTHDAY

Orillia, Ont., Jan. 8—Orillia's oldest resident, John Peters, celebrated his 106th birthday yesterday and was the recipient of many congratulatory messages. Mr. Peters is still in robust health and in full possession of all his faculties. Nothing pleases him so much as to entertain callers with reminiscences of the days of his childhood when Europe was just recovering from the effect of the Napoleonic wars.

Mr. Peters is of Irish birth, having been born in County Mayo in 1819. He came to Canada in 1853 and farmed for fifty years in North Orillia, coming to town four years ago to reside with his son, Mr. Wm. Peters. His wife died twenty years ago at the age of 81 years.

CANADIAN WINNER OF RADIO PRIZE

Stratford, Jan. 8.—That the telegraph key is by no means a back number as yet was amply demonstrated in a little incident in which the radio was also a prominent figure. Seated at his radio H. J. Peter turned the dial and picked up Forth Worth, Texas, and for an hour or so he and a number of friends enjoyed a program given under rotary auspices. At the conclusion of the program announcement was made that a prize would be given to the person farthest away who picked up the concert. At 0.55 p.m. Mr Peter filed a telegram with the Canadian National Telegraph agent here, addressed to Fort Worth saying he had heard the program quite clearly and at 11.50 p.m. the announcer in Forth Worth broadcast the news that Mr. Peter had captured the prize.

BROKE CAR WINDOWS WHEN FIRE STARTS

Montreal, Jan. 8—One man was slightly burned and a woman suffered slightly from shock when the controller of a north-bound street car blew out on Bleury street, near Sherbrooke and set fire to the front vestibule of the car. Excited passengers broke the windows of the car.

The injured man, Louis Girard, 35 years of age, of 222 de St. Valier st., was the motorman of the car and suffered his injuries while applying the brake of the car and preventing it from sliding backwards down the hill on Bleury street, thereby preventing further accidents.

At the time of the accident there was a large crowd on the street car it being during the rush hour. The car was one of the older types of cars at present in use, but equipped with modern apparatus in the way of brakes and controllers.

The executive committee of the Italian Fascist party has sent a circular letter to its provincial branches stating that the new electoral bill in no wise indicates that a general election is imminent. It further declares that the Government's decision to introduce the bill is proof of Premier Mussolini's parliamentary security.

OLDEST CITY CLERK?

Tillsonburg, Jan. 8—Citizens of this town have taken a keen interest in the reports from Chatham and Woodstock relative to the friendly "oldest city clerk" controversy which has ensnared several Western Ontario towns.

To-day, Town Clerk A. E. Raynes started his 36th year in that position and officials declare that his record is the longest up to the present time.

Mr. Raynes has served continuously as chairman of the nomination meetings for the past 37 years, and has seen a great many changes in civic affairs during his tenure of office.

W. G. Merritt city clerk of Chatham died on Friday last after a noteworthy 27 years' service. City Clerk Morrison of Woodstock is 80 years of age and has completed 32 years in that post.

HOUSE DISSOLVED DOWN AT JAMAICA

Kingston, Jan. 8.—The Jamaican Legislature has been dissolved by the Governor.

The principal planks in the platform of candidates in the elections to be held next month are the need of British capital to develop the island, subsidized steamship service in and from England, and the establishment of trade commissioners. Candidates say Jamaica has been dependent too long on foreign capital, where as British money invested here will give Jamaica greater prominence as a unit in the Empire.

ENTHUSIASTIC CONSERVATIVES RE-ORGANIZED IN BELLEVILLE UNDER STRONG LEADERSHIP

Major R. D. Ponton is Elected As New President

OPTIMISTIC TALK

See Trend of Support in County and City Elections

Unbounded enthusiasm and sincere optimism featured the big organization meeting of Belleville Women's and Men's Liberal Conservative Association, held last night in the G.W.V.A. hall.

Officers for the new central organization, which by the way is to be permanent, were selected, and this new organization which is to hold regular meetings in club rooms which are being fitted out—one room being reserved for ladies' meetings—will meet arising municipal, provincial or Dominion emergencies.

Frank speeches by Past President George A. Reid of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Belleville, E. Guss Porter, K.C., ex-M.P. and others, stimulated courage in the hearts of the large audience which comfortably filled the hall.

W. H. Nugent acted as secretary and the officers of the new men's organization is as follows:

Honorary President—E. Guss Porter, K.C. and R. J. Graham.

President—Major R. D. Ponton.

Vice-President—Harry A. Thompson.

Secretary-Treas.—Richard H. Ketcheson.

A meeting of all conservatives is called for January 28th at the City Hall at 1.30 p.m which will be the first meeting of Conservatives in the newly formed riding of South Hastings. This meeting is being called to check over the constitution and delegates who are to be appointed shortly will all be there.

Mrs. Kinnear Re-elected

Mrs. Isobel Kinnear, President of the Women's Conservative Association in Belleville was unanimously re-elected President, and at her request, the officers appointed when this organization was formed in November, were all returned with her. Later changes which may be made in the personnel will be make known to the secretary-treasurer of the Men's Association.

A short but timely talk was given on the important subject of ward organization by Provincial organizer Clyesdale of Toronto.

Defeated but not dismayed was E. Guss Porter's description of himself, when he predicted amid applause that he would arise from the ashes, and shake them from him. He promised to do everything in his power as long as he lived for the Conservative party and no matter who the chosen candidate might be, he would be in behind him. He wished all a happy New Year.

Explaining his defeat, Mr. Porter said. "There came a time of carelessness and indifference when conservatives who felt that all was well, fell down. The time has now come, however, when they have wakened up, and they are now determined that the repitition never occurs again."

Gratified that he was chosen Honorary President the defeated candidate was proud of his fifty year period of active association with Belleville, and his life long association with the conservative party.

"I have always been a conservative and never regretted it," he continued.

Victim of Circumstances

A person was a victim of circumstances in religion or politics to a great extent—until recently—Mr. Porter, who is a Presbyterian suddenly thinking of the church union contriversy.

"There is still life in the Presbyterian church yet" he added amid applause and hearty laughter.

Pointing out that the Conservative party was and is the party of construction and action, the speaker stated that the party had brought honor to the Dominion, and made it possible for the Dominion to exist. The party had worked assiduously for advancement and development of the country, all great principles of Canada having been worked out by the Liberal-Conservative party. Confederation, railway and canal construction, postal system, and development of public works were mentioned as a few of the many outstanding achievements, which were worth fighting for and are worth living for. The Liberal party had never accomplished one single thing of outstanding importance.

Explaining that the Conservatives are known as the Protective party and the Liberals are known as the Free Trade party, it was shown how during the leadership of that greatest leader in the history of Canadian life—Sir John A. MacDonald—Canada developed industrially by leaps and bounds, and was known as the most prosperous young country in the face of the earth.

An Unhappy Day

"Then an unhappy day came," continued the speaker, "Unrest and discontent grew. It was, "Time for a change", as "the Ontario" would say, and the public mind was impregnated by discontent, which grew until the party received a crack on the head and went down, the sad part of it being that the party does not see its position until it is too late."

This occurred in West Hastings, the riding which for fifty years had always elected a conservative and was regarded as being "right as a whip"—and at a time when a special effort was being put forth for a special cause. Confident conservatives who warmed their shins at their comfortable firesides, and did not get out and work, realized too late that everything was not fine. Now they were ashamed of themselves and alarmed at this "Nation shaker" (loud laughter).

A political fight, it was pointed out, is the fight of everyone of us not individual. It is a fight for the salvation of Canada, and a solemn duty for everyone.

A Sacred Duty

"Remember I say that seriously, from my heart," emphasized the speaker, "and I hope it sinks into your hearts. It is a sacred duty."

"I am not strong enough to carry on this fight and work but I hope there are people in this city who will and can carry on this work which I have so long fought for. We need a revival, an awakening."

In an effort to corect false ideas, Mr. Porter stated that he had never spent one dollar in any election campaign during his life, which had not come from his own pocket, and which was his own hard earned cash, and he challenged any person in Hastings county to disprove it now or at any future time.

"Religion or politics which you have to buy, is not worth much," he exclaimed, in asking that in future money be ignored, and that everyone work freely for the principles of the party.

Chairman Reid described the Conservative party as being one great wheel, each elector being a cog. When any cog failed to function, the progress of the wheel was hampered.

Speaking of the bye-election, he stated that he and all the workers had done their level best, and are prepared to do it again. "I am first, last and forever a Conservative," the speaker emphasized amid rounds of applause.

Did Not Vote Issue

Dealing with the issue of the bye-election, the Murdock charges, Mr Reid said that the electors did not vote on the issue at all. They did not vote on the policy or issue, and their action goes down in the history of the country as a disgrace to Hastings county in whitewashing Hon. James Murdock.

"Every little thing imaginable was raked up and scraped up to divert attention from the Murdock issue. Hanna was a good fellow, they said, and many who voted for him did so on the strength of their personal belief, that "when he was in the council he was a Tory." The moral issue was played up strong, irrevelant topics like temperance and the Bay bridge being dragged into the battle by the Liberals.

"But the most immoral and the most disgraceful act which ever occurred in the city, has passed without a word having been said about it," hotly asserted the speaker. "Over on the river bank near Hanna's home, the effigy of Hastings county's first citizen was burned after the election. There has never been a "peep" out of anyone about the moral nature of that act. The city police took no action whatever, but the poor devil with a bottle of whisky gets "soaked". He is very immoral. The Mayor is not here tonight, but I intend to ask him why the city police did not take action, and I also intend to ask Mr. Ireland why the Provincial police did not take action at that time."

It was explained that real honest and honourable Liberals were much against the act, but the member-elect was there and made a speech afterwards.

"What could be expected, however when the Crown Attorney's partner was there?" asked the speaker, and he wanted to know if Conservatives were going to stand for such conduct

"Let us be British and when occasion arises, do things. Recently Britain had a choice between, being British or Russian. She showed the Red government in no uncertain manner that she had decided to remain British." (loud applause).

The issue at the general election would be the tariff and it was up to Conservatives to vote on the issue, and not vote for a neighbor because he is a neighbor, if he happens to be a candidate. We would put an end to the reign of King and his rebel gang. (applause).

"King was a traitor when the war was on," explained the speaker, "and still is. I have no fear of what this riding will do next election."

Encouraging

Mayor Mikel's unprecedented victory at the polls this year and the municipal results Monday at Frankford, Thurlow, Tyendinaga, Tweed and Deseronto were described as being "Northern lights" to the party.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Kinnear and Mr. Reid by President-elect R. D Ponton, for their indefatiguable work in the past.

"Belleville cannot again fall down", warned the new President," for Belleville is absolutely a conservative city" We must all work for the principle of the party, which many electors lost sight of in the last election." Every ward must be thoroughly organized, and enthusiasm up."

Vice-President Thompson concurred with Mr. Ponton, and urged that workers in future be not afraid to sacrifice a few day's pay if necessary to help in the fight which means the principles of the conservative party and prosperity to Canada.

'We must all work hard and together,' he said.

Secretary-treasurer Ketcheson, who has been doing much good work for the party in his quiet way, has always been a Tory and gave his word that he always would.

Provincial Organizer Clyesdale urged that the best possible candidate be chosen, and that everyone should get in behind him and work for his election. He also urged that an association for the young men and women be organized in the near future. Since the by-election six new conservative organizations have been completed by Mr. Clyesdale and twelve more are in line for next month.

Mrs. Mikel brought regrets from Mayor Mikel as charter member of the Wharf street debating club, was unable to be present on the night of their get-together.

The officers of the women's organization who were returned are:

President—Mrs. Dr. J. W. Kinnear.

First Vice-president—Miss Jessie McLean.

Second vice-president—Mrs. A. R. White.

Third vice-president—Mrs Cotter.

Secretary-treasurer—Mrs. Jas. Hurst.

DEBT QUESTION BEING SHELVED FOR PRESENT

Allies' Delegates Agree time Not Ripe For Treatment

END PARLEY SOON

Many Details of Anglo-American Negotiations Settled

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 9.—Present expectations are that the inter-allied conference will close next Wednesday, perhaps even on Tuesday. Delegates are already planning to leave on Wednesday night to submit conclusions of the conference to respective parliaments for approval.

Anglo-American negotiations continue to make headway, many questions of details already having been settled. As to the question of inter-allied debts, which loomed so large at the beginning of the week, although extraneous to the conference, exchange of views has convinced delegates that the question is neither ripe nor suitable for treatment at the present general conference.

Canned Heat Fiend Arrested In City

Formed Habit in Hamilton Young Man Tells Court

Quivering and scarcely able to stand, a young Montreal man appeared before Magistrate Masson this morning and was remanded to jail for one week. He is a drinker of canned heat—a substitute for intoxicating liquor in dry provinces. His suit case was exhibited and was half filled with empty canned heat containers.

"I learned to drink it in Hamilton," explained the unfortunate when asked why he drank such stuff.

By warming this paste known as canned heat, it becomes partially liquified and is then strained through a pocket handkerchief, and the strained liquid is drunk. A pink jelly like substance remains. The straining handkerchief was also seized with the suit case when accused was arrested in his Pinnacle street boarding house last night by P. C. W. Franks.

The boarding house keeper complained to the police of accused's drunkeness, asking that he be taken into custody.

"My father is Captain———, retired and he lives at Montreal," he said.

Dr. J. Robertson who examined the man, says he is in a bad shape.

A gas heater within reach of three small children resulted in the death by gas poisoning of Victor Rapoza, junior Alfred, 11 and Manuel, 7, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rapoza of Fall River, Mass. Two other children—Georgianna, 10 and John, 3—and the parents, escaped. They were asleep in another room. Rapoza declared he turned off the gas-heater before going to bed, but believed the children got up and turned the heater on again, without lighting it.

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN PRELIMINARY TRIAL TO-DAY

Mayor Proposes Urban Community

To Members of Wharf street Debating Club; Splendid Meeting

The Wharf St. Debating Club last night celebrated the opening of the new extension to the new club rooms, when the members turned out in full force. Chas. Hanna M.P. read a poem making humourous references to the members of the club, and was obliged to leave soon after to attend another engagement. Col. E. D O'Flynn gave a short address and sang that ballad for which he has become famous, "O Death Where is Thy Sting." Messrs. Powell, Gould, George, Ald. Foster, Ald. Ruttan and other members delivered addresses.

Mayor Mikel, a Charter member, was called on last. He said his policy had always been to support the masses rather than the classes. A chain was no stronger than its weakest link. Every one in the community should have a fair chance. Underpaid labor was no use to the country.

The Mayor announced his proposal to lay out an urban community to meet the needs of a growing country. He also asked co-operation of every citizen for the celebration of the 110th anniversary of the Peace between Canada and the United States and the Old Boys Reunion next August.

Speakers of the evening were: Ben. Sanford, chairman, Mayor W. C. Mikel, Ald. George Foster, Ald. Ruttan, Ald. Wm. Parrish, George Powell, J. C. Weir, Robert Blaind, Jr., W. Gould, Col. Ed O'Flynn, Mr. Harrison.

A STICKY STORY

Chicago, Jan. 9.—The syrup love affair of Gale Stokes, the "candy kid" of a Chicago sweets factory, and his sweetie, Maggie, the beautiful chocolate dipper, has come to a buttery end.

Gale, who stirs a mean kettle of fudge, met Maggie when he took his position a month ago. As the candy rose to the boiling point, Gale's affection for the dainty dipper seethed also and it became the fudge king's nightly privilege to see her home.

But not all the warmth was on his side. The caramel queen admitted that he was sweet enough to eat, but that she had another boy friend who was a boiler maker. When the latter heard about the nectarine romance he also became heated.

The other night the boiler maker and a friend paid Gale a call at his home.

Stokes told the police that his visitors sloshed him around in cold water, shaved his head, rubbed it with butter and added salt and pepper. Stokes wants the pair arrested.

Shannonville Man Won Ford Tractor

K. Vivian Made Twelve Sales; Had Big Competition

Mr. K. Vivian of Shannonville is the winner of second prize in the Ford Motor Contest, which closed on December 30th last. As the district in which Mr. Vivian was placed covered all the territory from Kitchener to Gananoque, it is no small distinction which he has earned. Second prize is a Fordson Tractor which will be presented to Mr. Vivian next Thursday evening at the Belleville Armouries at a social function at which Mr. Eardley Wilmot of the Belleville Motors will be host to Ford owners in this territory.

Mr. Vivian made twelve sales which is a remarkable record in a community the size of Shannonville in the Fall months of the year.

The Contest

"On October 15th the Dealers of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, plunged into the "Farmer Owners' Contest," which threw open the whole Dominion to what has been the most spectacular selling idea ever conceived.

Convinced that their best advertising was the "word of mouth" recommendation of satisfied owners, these Dealers gave to every Canadian farmer who owns a Ford car, Ford truck or Fordson tractor, and to the members of his family the opportunity of becoming during the life of Contest an authorized Ford Dealer in his Township, but with the proviso that only the first three farmers or members of a farmer's family to enroll in each township should be chosen as agents. This immediately injected spontaneous life into the project, and robbed the Autumn post harvest days on the farm of all dullness and inactivity.

Excitement reached a high pitch throughout rural Canada as the enrolments of Farmer Ford owners came flooding into the branch offices of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, from every parish and township of the Dominion that boasts a plowshare, like ballots into the boxes of a hotly contested election. Each farmer owner who entered the contest enrolled with his nearest dealer and mailed his enrolment to the nearest branch office of the Ford Motor Company. They then endeavored to sell Ford products to their neighbors, their selling arguments based on their own personal experience and satisfaction.

Celebrating the Victory

Mr. Wilmot as host of the function next Thursday evening, has arranged a most interesting programme, and the Ford Motor Company will show many reels of their interesting and instructive films. Mr. Wilmot is leaving no stone unturned to make the evening a success, and knowing Mr. Wilmot as we do we feel sure that his arrangements will prove a most suitable closing to the greatest sales contest ever undertaken, and may we take this opportunity of congratulating Mr. Vivian and Mr. Wilmot for their success, and the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, for the inception of such an original and enthusiastic contest."

Jack Canuck Is Giving Up Ghost

Founded in 1911, it Has had a Peppery Career

Toronto, Jan. 9.—"Jack Canuck" Publishing Co. is going out of business, it was announced yesterday by W. R. Smyth, counsel for J. H. Cooke, who on Friday last was given an order of sequestration of the property, pending payment of $1,000 fine imposed by Justice Orde for contempt of court in publication of an article referering to the Cooke alimony trial. At the same time the editor, David Campbell, was sentenced to six months in jail. The office furnishings were being removed yesterday under an arrangement made between Mr. Smyth and counsel for the company.

Hectic History

"Jack Canuck" a weekly paper, was founded in July, 1911, by the late J. R. Rogers, a printer, whose little son had died in the Isolation Hospital, where he had been admitted ill with scarlet fever, after having, it was said, contracted diphtheria while in the hospital. The late Judge Winchester conducted an inquiry which Rogers regared as resulting in a "whitewash." Resenting this, he began publishing "Jack Canuck" as a means of expressing his resentment at the judge's report, and was assisted by the late Joseph Gurofsky, who also held a grievance againt the judge, because of a sentence arising from a shooting incident, near his home in the "Ward," when he was defending his aged father.

After the Great War broke out, Rogers went to France as a tourist, but had to return to England, for which he held the late Sir Sam Hughes accountable. He came back to Canada, but shortly afterwards sailed again for England on the ill-fated Lusitania, and lost his life when the liner was torpedoed.

The paper, which reached its highest circulation during the war, has been carried on by his widow, Mrs. Louisa Rogers, and there have been numerous editors. David Campbell, an elderly man, came here from Montreal last September and was managing the paper when he "made the break" which had such disastrous consequences.

SALVATION ARMY

The Salvation Army has issued a booklet containing a history of the movement from its foundation by General Booth, less than sixty years ago, to the present time, and giving some account of the multiferious activities of the organization. This is one form of militarism of which the world cannot have too much—the perpetual fight of good against evil, the warfare of the spirit against the flesh.

The Army may well be proud of its wonderful achievements in the few but busy years it has been operating. From its small beginnings in the slum districts of London, it now covers the world in its beneficent ministrations. The success of its efforts, and the universal testimony of those wh ohave been brought into close contact with its operations, are the best evidence that it has done its work faithfully and well. Who can tell what a load of misery and suffering has been removed from the weak—morally and physically—the discouraged and the neglected?

Through the self-devoted labors of many thousands of earnest Christian men and women in all parts of the world, the Army has made itself known and respected everywhere as the uplifter of the outcast, the ever-present friend in time of trouble. It has earned its splendid reputation by hard work and singleness of purpose strictly adhering to the principles laid down by its founder. That reputation was still further enhanced by the services rendered in the world war. Unostentatiously it fulfills its mission, with increasing influence and blessing. The world sorely needs such an institution, and has cause to be grateful that its need is so faithfully served.

FORESIGHT

There are people who try every conceivable form of health fake, or magic diet and exercise system, while ignoring the simple, commonsense, elementary measure of having the body thoroughly overhauled and its defects listed, rational measures taken to correct them and diet, exercise and general living habits regulated in accordance with the actual needs of the individual.

Every citizen who neglects to have these examinations for himself and the members of his family is deliberately putting aside a measure that is even more important than many protective measures that are considered commonplace necessities, such as fire insurance and life insurance.

There are men who carry burglary insurance to protect a few pitiful items of personal property, while they neglect this simple measure of insuring their health and happiness and business success.

Remember, these examinations are not merely for the prevention of disease, but for the up-building of health and vitality. They aim to increase your capacity to live well, to enjoy life, and to be successful in life's struggle.

CROSS WORD PUZZLES

Newspaper editors are taking account of the cross-word puzzle fashion, finding food for thought in their analysis of the evident hold it has taken on the reading public.

The tendency is to ascribe definite educational value to the popular pastime. Aurther Brisbane insits it is a good thing. Other writers join in the assertion as to its educational value, produced largely through the increased vocabulary that comes to those who pursue the horizontal and vertical meanderings of the hitherto obscure or unknown word, finding to their edification that, after all, it is only a majestic relative of one employed in every-day conversation.

Yet these appraisers and approvers of the value of the cross-word puzzle sound their warnings. Mr. Brisbane suggests it can be overdone. Editorially, the Washington Post has seen fit to point to pitfalls, due to many errors creeping into the puzzles, obviously chargeable to the ignorance of the designers and found chiefly in the definitions given to the words. The comments of the Post editorial in this connection are enlightening:

"Thus in the last few days we have observed 'baronet' described in one puzzle as a 'young baron' and in anther as a 'knight'; both entirely wrong. 'Loin,' also, was defined as 'thigh', an error as gross as would be that of making 'arm' and 'neck' synonymous. Equally inexcusable was the definition of 'tripe' as 'a kind of fish', and 'alibi' as 'an excuse.' Repeatedly we have seen 'code' described as 'a short poem,' which of course it is not. Neither is it correct to define 'Alp' as 'the highest point.' To identiy 'pewee' with 'woodcock' is of dubious propriety, seeing that such use of the former word is only local and very restricted, while its application to an entirely different bird is all but universal.

"Such errors as these are literally of everyday occurrence, and they are doubly pernicious. They cause unnecessary and entirely unfair difficulty in the solving of the problems, and they give to many false conceptions of the meaning of words.

"Perhaps it is too much to expect all makers of puzzles to have all their definitions accurate, because many persons of high general intelligence suffer strange delusions concerning the meaning of some words. But at least editors should take pains to examine all puzzles before printing them, to make sure that spellings and definitions are correct. If they are correct, they serve as a practical educational agency of real value.

"But if they contain such brutalities as those which we have cited, they tend still further to promote the misuse and demoralization of our long-suffering language."

A BLUNDER

It is most unfortunate that the hasty action of a few of Belleville's citizens should have caused the loss of a new business concern of high standing.

The Shell Company, a large, solid English corporation, made arrangements to establish a distributing branch in Belleville. A contract was let to the Patterson Construction Company for the erection of an office, warehouse and tank. But when some citizens, believing that the location of the new plant was prejudicial to their personal interests, put the matter in a lawyer's hands, the Shell representative took offense and pulled up stakes. The yhave said farewell to Belleville.

No one will blame these citizens for guarding their own property from possible depreciation. But somebody blundered when a newcomer to our city was welcomed with a lawyer's letter.

There is no doubt, whatever, that if those people affected had approached the latest members of the family with a handshake, and had secured the help of the Chamber of Commerce in straightening out the difficulty, the new industry would have been with us yet. Everybody could have been satisfied with no hard feelings.

Some years ago, a young business man started to manufacture on a very small scale in the city of Welland. He asked for the co-operation of the people of that municipality and was refused.

He left as did the Shell representatives. His factory was set up in the City of Hamilton.

That man's name was Frost, of the Frost Wire Fence Company, one of the big manufacturing concerns of this country. Welland could have had it for its very own but for a blunder.

Belleville cannot afford to snap its fingers at a concern such as the Shell Company.

Press Opinions

WELL SATISFIED

Calgary Herald:

Calgary can boast that it has more hours of sunshine than any other city in Canada. It has the finest all-year-round climate of any city in Canada. It can grow the most beautiful dahlias in Canada. Now add that it has more actual voters in proportion to the number on the list than any other city in Canada.

HONESTY, THE BEST POLICY

Christian Herald:

There is, in every branch of human activity a demand for young people of sterling character—honest, truthful and reliable. There are no substantial openings ever offered to the trifler, the mere pleasure-seekers, the youth who knows more about gambling and dancing than he does about business. Honest worth, no matter how humble, cannot be kept down. Character is the test—Christian character—and it invariably finds recognition, and in course of time, brings its reward. "Seest thou a man diligent in his business?" says the Bible proverb, "He shall not stand before mean men. He shall stand before kings."

PROTESTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

Brooklyn Eagle:

The question is one of great interest for this country and for every manufacturing nation doing business with Great Britain. American criticism of it must, however, be tempered by the knowledge that this country under successive administrations, Democratic as well as Republican, committed itself to the doctrine of protection. With us the principle is fairly well established, our differences being those of degree and not of kind. If Great Britain should undertake any broad scheme of protection under the guise of amendments to the the Safeguarding of Industries act, our manufacturers, at least, will have no reasonable ground for complaint. Britain would merely be taking a leaf out of their book.

A TRAGIC AFFAIR

(Edmonton Journal)

The huge losses which are said to have been sustained by the music publishing company, with its headquarters at Winnipeg, the president of which is a fugitive from justice, serves as one more reminder of how necessary it is to protect the public in such matters. Many persons apparently placed the whole of their life savings in this enterprise and they have all been swallowed up. The methods pursued have been the subject of severe criticism from time to time on the part of financial journals, but what they had to say did not reach the class of investor who is most in need of being saved from the get-rich-quick appeals that are made to him.

Thirty Years Ago

Fire and falling walls, combined with lack of proper appliances in the way of steam fire engines, were on Sunday morning responsible for the heaviest financial losses ever sustained by the Insurance Companies of Toronto, as well as for the loss of one fireman's life, the permanent maiming of a second and severe injuries to four others. The fire, which originated in the basement of the Globe building, destroyed half a dozen buildings, involving a loss of $750,000

More Good Than Bad

Why is it that people are ready to aid
Their fellows when sorely in need?
Why is it that friendships are constantly made
By unselfish word and kind deed?
Why is it that happy folk readily plan
To comfort the sick and the sad?
Because in this best of all jolly old worlds
There is far more of good than of bad.

Why is it that enemies we oft forgive
And injuries try to forget?
We bury the hatchet and peacefully live
Forgiving the debtor his debt.
Why is it that oft amid sorrow and strife
There is plenty to make the heart glad?
Because in this best of all jolly old worlds
There is far more of good than of bad.

UNUSUAL SUIT

London, Ont., Jan. 9.—Miss W. Marjorie Whittaker of this city is the plaintiff in an unusual suit set down for trial at the Winter Assizes to be presided over by Justice Rose. Miss Whittaker claims $3,000 damages from Mrs. W. James Baxter, wife of an officer of a London advertising agency. A year ago a party of Brantford ladies visited London to play a round of golf with members of a London golf club. A return match was arranged, and certain ladies with cars volunteered to drive their associates to Brantford. Miss Whittaker was billeted to Mrs. Baxter's car. Near Paris the car got beyond control on a hill, and in the crash which resulted Miss Whittaker was thrown against a bag of golf clubs. She sustained lacerations of the face, and asks damages.

HIS ANNUAL POEM

The following was submitted by Charles Hanna to the Wharf Street Debating Club at their social gathering last night:

To the members of the Wharf Street Debating Club I submit the following verse from which I hope no offense will be taken.

There's stoker Johnny Rath
  Better known as Shud,
He kindles all our fires,
  And fills the stove with mud.

Jack Cornell is treasurer,
  And guardian of our cash,
When we have to spend some money,
  He says we're going amash.
He reminds us of the Home Bank
  And impresses on our mind.
''t a good home in Kingston
  We will surely find.

Bill Whalen was a roaring lion,
  His language made us tremble.
Till now we have a motto
  He reads when we assemble.

John C. Weir can tell us.
  Of wicked storms approaching,
As you will always find,
  His weather eye is open.

Frank Keegan and Arch Goyer
  Have a steady occupation.
They're trying to catch fish enough
  'o feed the whole creation.
At Pete's Point they've been fishing
  For many weeks and days.
As they only caught four fish,
  They hardly think it pays.

Another of our numbers,
  Herb Collins is his name
As painter of the City Hall,
  He's surely won some fame.

Of Jim Cornell, we'd say,
  He surely is a hummer,
Getting paving plants ready
  For a very busy summer.

Charlie Barnhardt's another,
Who was only a common member,
Who is only a common member,
  But now a weather strip king.

Jimmy Brennan has given us
  Many a fancy step,
He's living up in Coleman Ward,
  Where he has quite a rep.

Clem Bell, he thought,
  A job would seek.
So at Corbyville,
  'e spent a week.

Bob Blaind Jr., thought
  He would try his best,
But they also decided,
  To give him a little rest.

George Calberry by gosh,
  Is on the job there too,
And it begins to look
  As though they thought he'd do.

Of Bob Blaind, an old debater,
  A good book I could write,
But I have decided,
  To let him off tonight.

Now of our City Council.
  I'd like to say a word,
Of all the councils I have known,
  This one is sure a bird.

Good old Mayor Billy Mikel,
  We surely all know him,
We'll give him a big fog horn,
  And make it out of tin.

As chairman of finance,
  We have a new man Graham,
The way he manipulates the money,
  Surely is a shame.

As chairman of the Water,
  We have Eugene LaRoche,
When you want a service.
  He's easy to approach.

In Foster Ward we have our George
  As chairman of the Gas.
When election time comes round,
  We turn out for him enmasse

Ackey Ketcheson, with the Industrial Committee,
  Will make for us this year,
A very busy city.

Ken Ruttan, a new man is,
  Chairman of the Lights,
When he gets through with Victoria
    Park,
  'Twill be a pretty sight.

For Market and City Property.
  Uncle Sam has some desire,
When they try to change his chairmanship,
  The fat is in the fire.

Our old friend Robinson.
  Is chairman of the printing,
To the newspaper offices you
  Often see him sprinting.
He's been in the city council,
  For man and many a year,
And if he stays there long enough,
  We will surely get our beer.

Phil Harrison picked a good one,
  As chairman of the Fire,
If he serves us well this year,
  Next time we'll put him higher.

  For a very strong man,
  The list we have to scour
That's why Joe Manley was Made chairman of the Power.

We found a man, whom we thought.
  To labor would adjust
To George Dawes we say,
  You must do or bust.

With all the chairmenship selected,
  We will have one to spare,
So Bill Parrish, your job,
  Will be to warm a chair.

Now don't sit about the Clubhouse,
  And of the Council chew,
Let's all get behind them
  And see what we can do.

Whether it's an article you wish to rent or sell, or something you want to buy, make known your wants in the Intelligencer Classified Ad Columns and you'll be surprised at the quick response you'll get.

Deaths And Funerals

CAPT. J. H. SMITH

At the family residence, 90 John St., South, Capt. Joseph Henry Smith passed away last night after being in ill health for some time. Deceased was a well known mariner having sailed for a number of years on the inland waters in this Province. Capt. Smith whose age was 65 years was born in Prince Edward County, being a son of the late Mr. Henry Smith. The greater portion of his life was spent in this city where he was well known. Deceased was a member of Belleville Lodge No. 81, I. O.O.F. and in religion was a Methodist. A widow and five sons survive. The sons are Percy, of Buffalo; Joseph E., and Dawn C., of Oshawa; Croft McCauley and Arthur R., of this city. A sister Mrs. S. Cousins, of this city is living.

MRS. HATTIE J. THRASHER

On Monday evening last Mrs. Hattie J. Thrasher, relict of the late Mr. Gilbert Thrasher, a highly respected and aged resident of Sidney Township suffered a stroke of paralysis which proved fatal. She passed away yesterday after noon at the family residence, 3rd concession of Sidney. Deceased who was 82 years of age had resided in this locality all her life and had a large circle of relatives and friends who will regret her passing. Mrs. Thrasher was born in Thurlow Township, being a daughter of the late Mr. Dorland Clapp. Deceased who was familiarly called Grandma Thrasher was a lady who had always taken an active part in church and philanthropic work. She was a member of Centenary Methodist Church and President of the Ladies Aid Society for many years. Considering her age Mrs. Thrasher was an exceptionally active lady and only on Saturday last was she in the city apparently in the best of health. Her husband predeceased her three years ago. Surviving are two sons, Joseph D., of this city and David A., of Sidney, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Hadden, of Picton and Mrs. H. J Clarke, of this city. Five grand children are living.

MRS. M. THOMAS

The death occurred on Sunday morning, Dec. 28th, of Mrs. Martha Thomas of Mount Pleasant road, Brantford widow of the late Madison Thomas, who predeceased her 16 years ago, Christmas morning. The deceased had been in poor health, but was thought to be improving, when the end came rather unexpectedly. The deceased had resided in the village and community all her life and was very highly esteemed for her christian life. Mrs. Thomas was the last surviving member of the family of Mr. and Mrs. David Secord of Oakland. She was in her 82nd year and leaves to mourn her loss seven daughters Mrs. David Bradshaw, Coronation, Alberta Mrs. J. B. Kelly, Belleville; Miss Alberta Thomas, secretary of Y.W.C.A. Regina; Mrs. James Wright, Regina; Mrs. (Rev.) Hugh Dobson, Regina; Mrs. G. Muray, Mount Pleasant Miss Orpha Thomas at home. The funeral was held on Wednesday and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Carter of the Methodist Church, where the deceased was a faithful member Many relatives and friends were in attendance to show respect to one whom they loved, and many floral offerings were laid on the casket. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved daughters, six of whom were present at the funeral. Mrs. Bradshaw, the eldest daughter, was unable to be present on account of the great distance. Mrs. Thomas visited her daughter Mrs. Kelly, John St., of this city, four months, two years ago. Mrs. Kelly was with her mother when she passed away.

PENNY BANK DEPOSITS

The average monthly deposits made by pupils of Belleville public schools in the Penny bank during the months of September and October last year was 39 cents. This compares favorably with other centres.

The individual showing was as follows:

King George School, 44c, Queen Alexandra, 33; Queen Mary, 36; Queen Victoria, 42.

CHICAGO MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 9—In sympathy with the advance in wheat quotations at Liverpool and upturn in Sterling exchange, wheat market here ascended with considerable vigor to-day during early dealings. Reports of enlarged shipments from Australia and Argentine failed to check the rise, being offset by indications of better European call for breadstuffs, and of improved domestic milling demand. Offerings were light until the market had scored all around advance of about two cents. Opening which ranged from 1-4c to 1c higher was soon followed by material further gains.

Corn and Oats reflected the action of wheat. After opening at 1-4c decline to 1-4c advance, Corn market showed general upturn of about one cent. Oats started unchanged to 1-4c higher. Later there were moderate gains throughout list. Provision market, although at first easier was responsive later to upturn in cereals.

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. There is nothing like Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment. Try it $1.60 at

DISTRICT CEREMONY BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Last night at Brighton Bro. J. Duckworth installed the officers of Brighton Lodge and brought to a close the installation ceremony in Bay of Quinte District No. 47 I.O.O.F. The installing staff has travelled over the country roads of Hastings, Prince Edward and Northumberland Counties in a Ford sedan, and never once were they compelled to stop on account of snow, all that was necessary to step on the gas. The following were installed into office.

N.G.—G S Langdon.
J.P.G.—S. J. Stinson.
V.G.—A. F. Clarke.
Rec.-Sec.—J H McCann.
Fin-Sec.—H G Ross.
Treas.—G R Jennings.
Warden—C A Thompkins.
Con.—J McCann.
Chap.—A. C. Reddick.
R.S.N.G.—J J Corbett.
L.S.N.G.—R Alexander.
R.S.V.G.—F Pound.
L.S.V.G.—E. Pake.
R.S.S.—R Simpson.
L.S.S.—F Jacques.
I.G.—D McColl.
O.G.—H R Russell.

After the lodge the brothers enjoyed a banquet provided in the dining room and the N. G. Bro. Langdon officiated as chairman. Addresses were given by the D.D.G.M. and members of his staff. Bro. Duckworth thanked the members who had braved the bad roads and cold weather to accompany him and he hoped the report from this District would be the first to reach the Grand Secretary, 7 lodges installed by Jan. 8th. Bro. Rev. E. Butcher a member of a Toronto lodge congratulated the staff on their efficient work and expressed the hope that Brighton lodge would prosper.

The most optimistic speech heard in connection with the installation was given by P. G. Bro. F. J. Bradley who although a newcomer to Brighton is become their most enthusiastic worker and if given the support he asked, will surely put Brighton lodge in the forefront of this district. Bro. Bradley is a member of Argyle Lodge No. 212 Napanee. Bro. Duckworth led the visitors in singing, "For they are Jolly Good Fellows" as a token to the welcome they had received in Brighton.

In 99th Year Talks To Board

Remarkable Address Given Yesterday by Adam Brown

ADVISES THE YOUNG

Beware of Losing Enthusiasm in Work, He Says

Toronto, Jan. 9—For the seventy-fourth time, Adam Brown, of Hamilton, who will in April next celebrate his 99th birthday, yesterday moved a vote of thanks to the officers and field force of the Canada Life Assurance Company at the annual meeting. Mr. Brown motored up from Hamilton and sat at the directors' table, a sprightly man with snapping eyes ruddy cheeks, immaculately attired and wearing a large pink carnation in his buttonhole. He is the only insurance policy holder in Canada who has outlived all mortality tables, and only last week he was paid in cash the full face value of his policies in the company.

In introducing him, Mr. H. C. Cox qualified him as "a real Peter Pan who definitely refuses to lose his hold on the spirit of youth." "As a matter of policy," it was said, "he is 'actuarially' dead, but as a matter of fact he is deadly inactuarial and will now proceed to prove that 'though he were dead yet shall he live.'"

Service Brings Reward

Mr. Brown gave an address about twelve minutes in length, in the course of which he made many references to his long experience. In advice to young men he said: "Faithful erformance of duty never fails to bring its reward. Those who give the best in service always get the best in eturn. Beware of losing your enthusiasm in your work."

Mr. Brown, who has lived through he reigns of five sovereigns of the mpire and the terms of twenty-four American presidents, has also lived o see confounded one generation after another of calamity howlers and till feel qualified to say that he believes from a close study of economic onditions that Canada is on the erge of her greatest prosperity. His ddress was filled with references to assing events and he made several of is points from current news items.

Doesn't Rain Roses

"When I was a kid," he said, the armers used to have an old song that I remember yet. It ran: "There's gold n the old farm yet, boys, but you've ot to shovel it out.' It doesn't rain oses; if you want more roses, you've ot to plant more trees."

Referring to the earlier days to hich his memory carries him, Mr Brown said: "We cannot too often or highly hallow the memories of the Canadian pioneers for all they endured in bequeathing such a glorious heritage."

In conversation Mr. Brown laughingly said: "I remember so much that it is impossible to strike even highlights without an hour to tell them you in and a whole newspaper to print them in. When you stop to hink that the first letters I ever received were carried by courier because there was no other means and hat to-day people in that same place re listening in on their radio sets, ou can see that my time covers not nly a fair little span of history, but ou might say the whole history of he invention of modern conveniences.

"Oh yes," he continued, "I have seen the celebration of the crowning four sovereigns. The first was that f Queen Victoria, when it was three months before we saw pictures made rom drawings of the event. To-day ve can see them within a week or so.

A Collector of "Firsts"

"Firsts! I have long ago given up being astonished. I have seen the first ailways first telegrams, first furnaces, firsts of so many hundreds of hings even down to the first real bath ubs as we know them now.

'Yes, life is a different proposition now-a-days, this morning I rode bout fifty miles in a motor car to ome here. When I was a boy that vould have taken two days on horse back. In so many ways life has been nade easier! Light, heat and water ome from the turning of switches and aps. They used to come for hard labor and neither the light nor the heat were like those of to-day. They vere the candles and the fireplaces."

The necessity of attending a director's meeting cut short the conversation in which Mr. Brown was apparently just becoming really interested He referred to the final paragraphs of e address made earlier in the day as expressing all the message of patriotm he could pass on to his fellow citizens. Those sentiments were: "May he good ship Canada ever be manned y a brave, noble and patriotic crew nd the officers on the bridge ever ollow the guiding of the Great Pilot loft. The highest destiny awaits Canda, may it be ours as Canadians, roud of the name we bear as Britons be ever true to our trust and citizenship and despising minor differences, work shoulder to shoulder to hasten on its march of progress the reat future of our country.

"God bless and prosper our beloved Canada, keep it ever the loyal, loving link of the Empire and the brightest jewel in the British crown. "One Throne, One Empire, One Flag, Britain over all!"

Woman Attacked By Jealous Dog

Doctor Had to Dress Twelve Lacerations; Scene In Cellar

New York, Jan. 9.—Inspired by jealously, Rolf, a four-year-old seventy-pound police dog, attacked Mrs. Charles Siegel, 23, in the cellar of her home, 553 West 152nd street yesterday, and for twenty-five minutes the young woman battled with him while another police dog, a female, Peggy, made futile snaps his legs and flanks. Time and again Mrs. Siegel broke loose and started up e steps, only to be dragged back by e powerful animal.

In the kitchen of the house Anna Orbes, a maid, who was herself bitten y Rolf a week ago, listened in a paralysis of terror to the barking of Peggy, he snarling of Rolf and the screams of Mrs. Siegel. Anna was afraid to go into the cellar, but at last she mustered courage enough to open the door

Up the steps and into the kitchen aggered Mrs. Seigel with the dog hang g by his fangs to her right forearm. n vain she beat him with her left hand nd kicked at him. The dog hung on, mpervious to blows.

Then Anna Orbes proved herself a heroine. Fighting down her fear she rabbed the dog around the neck with oth hands and choked him with all her ight. She is a powerful woman, and radually the dog's wind was cut off, his aws relaxed and Mrs. Siegel freed her rm.

Anna choked the dog until his tongue ung out. She felt him relaxing in her rip and dropped him from her stiffened ngers. The dog, cowed by the punishment she had inflicted, crawled into the ining room and hid under a table.

Mrs. Siegel had in the meantime collapsed on the kitchen floor, conscious ut quite helpless. Closing the door etween the kitchen and dining room. nna ran across the street to number 31 and summoned Dr. Velk The doctor treated Mrs. siegel for twelve severe lacerations on her arms, legs and besom nd then telephoned to the West152nd treet police station.

A policeman who responded to the call found the dog still hiding under the lining room table and apparently in a riendly mood. Rolf did not object when the officer led him out into the ack yard and chained him up to await he arrival of a representative of the Board of Health.

Mrs. Siegel, convinced that Rolf is ealthy, has no fear of rabies. She said er husband, who is a real estate dealer, rought Rolf home about three years go. He was then a pup.

About a year ago Mr. Siegel appeared with another police dog— the female Peggy. The advent of a new pet did not please Rolf, but he never ttacked her, although they were kept ogether in the cellar.

Mr. Siegel, his wife and the maid oticed that Rolf was jealous of any attention paid to Peggy, but they joked bout it, and aggravated it by extra attention to the newer pet. About a veek ago when Anna Orbes went into he cellar to feed the animals Rolf umped at her and bit her on the right rm.

She refused to go to the cellar again nd Mrs. Siegel, to whom Rolf appeared o be most deeply attached took up the ask of feeding the pets. She had gone nto the cellar with a pan of water when Rolf leaped at her, grabbed her by the eft leg and dragged her back.

Hereafter the Siegel household will get long with one dog, if any.

For the first time in over a year a urglary was committed in Woodstock. he store of W. H. Jenkins being robbed of a dollar's worth of coppers.

PETERBORO SENIORS COMING HERE FOR GAME THURSDAY ; N. H. L. RACE IS GETTING HOT

Peterboro Coming For Exhibition

Senior Speed Merchants Play Belleville on Thursday

An announcement of interest in sporting circles was made to-day by Ed Thomas, who informed the Intelligencer that he had arranged for an exhibition game with the Peterboro seniors here next week. The fast going Petes are due to arrive in Belleville on Thursday night next.

This should be a rare treat for hockey fans. Peterboro can be depended upon to make Belleville boys show what they really have. And we'll say right here, that in spite of the S.P.A. champions' showing this season they will not have a walkaway, barring accidents.

If Bill Green and Company can step out again the way they did against Kingston, they may not win, but they can afford healthy competition for teams of 1925 senior calibre.

This exhibition will not only be a good drawing car for Belleville's supporters, but should do the Intermediate team a world of good. There is nothing like real competition to bring out a team's abilities.

Here's wishing them the best of luck.

They got away safely at noon today for Brockville where they should do well.

The Intelligencer has a staff man on the job, who will send the score back home at the end of each period. Fans may get this information by telephone. Call 1248.

NEW "Y" LEAGUE READY TO START

A meeting of ladies and gentlemen who are interested in bowling met at the Y.M.C.A. building last evening for the purpose of forming a Winter league. This league will start on Monday evening next, and will be composed of eight ladies' teams and a like number of men's teams. The ladies adopted a rule that a John Doe score will be made up from the lowest score made by a player in the opposing team.

On Friday next, the 16th inst, two ladies' teams will go to Peterboro to play a friendly game with two lady teams of that city. The game will be played in the evening.

CHIEF INJURED

In the O.H.A. intermediate game at Trenton Tuesday night, Charlie Lavery, Chief of Police at Whitby, who plays defense for the Whitby team, sustained a concussion of the brain when Schensel, of the Trenton team accidentally struck him with his knee while trying to hurdle him. Lavery was carried off unconscious and two doctors worked at him several hours before he recovered consciousness.

A lone bandit shot and killed Patrolman Jacob Uhle at New Orleans, La., after robbing the Marine Bank and Trust Company of approximately $13,000. Uhle was attracted to the bank by the shouts of employes and challenged the bandit as he dashed from the building with the money. The man shot Uhle in the head, leaped on a passing truck and escaped.

To-morrow's Games Most Important

National Hockey Race Shaping Into Interesting Contest

While Canadiens are at home to the Boston Bruins at the Mount Royal Arena at Montreal, to-morrow night Montreal and Ottawa will be battling at he Capital in a game which will likely decide definitely which team is to hold undisputed sway in the third place for the time being. Hamilton is scheduled to play at Toronto against St. Patricks and it is possible with the Tigers apparently in a slight slump, that Jimmy Gardner's players may find it a hard road to keep even with Canadiens at the head of the National Hockey League race.

The recent improved showing of both the Ottawa and Montreal clubs has added a fillup to the interest in tomorrow night's game between these two teams. Ottawa showed more machine-like play in their game against Canadiens Wednesday evening than at any other time previously this season. Their victory, especially coming after a similar one over the Hamilton Tigers, placed them in a class as real contenders for honors. The forward line, in particular, teamed well, though probably the confident manner with which Connell guarded the Senator net was a big factor in giving assurance to the players in front of him.

Montreal's win over Hamilton was a surprise to many, though to Cecil Hart and his players, who recalled their close showing against Tigers at Hamilton in their previous meeting, the victory was not unexpected. Great credit is given Alf. Skinner, recently obtained from Boston, for the aggressive game which he put up. He went into his first battle with Montreal Wednesday night and fitted into the machine immediately incidentally adding a punch to the attack by his boring-in tactics.

Montreal will go through a light workout here today and will leave tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock for Ottawa. Punch Broadbent and Benedict returned to Ottawa from Hamilton, and will join the team at the Capital tomorrow.

In the two games played by Montreal and Ottawa this season, the local team has won both by close scores, but a rare struggle is anticipated for the honors when they meet tomorrow. Lee.

FUNDS ARE LOW FOR RUSSELL SCOTT

Chicago, Ills., Jan. 9.—The life of Russell T. Scott, financial wizard and promoter of million dollar companies now depends on the financial ability of his father, Thomas R. Scott.

The elder Mr. Scott is in Canada trying to raise money to take the case of his son, who has been convicted of murder, to the supreme court of the state of Illinois.

The case comes up on January 31, at which time Judge Thomas Lynch will hear arguments of defense attorneys Walter T. Stanton and Leslie Whelan for a new trial. If their motion is over-ruled, formal sentence will be passed. Scott will then be sentenced to be hanged on some date between the fifteenth and the twenty-fifth of February.

To carry the case to the supreme court enough money must be gathered to defray the expenses of printed abstracts, briefs, and fees for attorney Charles P. R. MacAuley, who has been selected by Mr. Scott and attorneys Stanton and Whelan to represent them in the higher court.

The father of the convicted youth is at present conducting a campaign among working men formerly employed by the boy now languishing in the county jail. It was discovered today that only sufficient money has been raised so far to pay the cost of the court reporters for the typewritten transcript of the proceeding before Judge Lynch. However, about $300 above that amount is assured from

SOFT-HEARTED JURY BLAMED FOR CRIME

New York, Jan. 9.—Shirking of jury duty and the reluctance of the average juryman to convict a prisoner are responsible for the prevalence of crime, Judge Alfred J. Talley, of general sessions court, told talesmen called to make up the petit jury panel.

Judge Talley's remarks were prompted by a letter from the Greater New York Taxpayers' Association, which said that unless 'drastic action is taken by the officials, vigilence committees may have to be organized" to check the crime wave in this city. The leader deplored the "unbridled operations of thugs and hold-up men' 'and voiced the opinion that "a large number of sentence imposed upon notorious criminals are entirely inadequates for the gravity of the crimes committed."

Judge Talley said to the talesmen: "If I refuse even a small portion of you men, who are seeking to avoid your duty as citizens, I will have to close the term of this court for the remainder of the month. The reason for the activity of the thug in this city is not the fault of the police or the judges, but the fault of the citizens who neglect or refuse to do their duty. The weak spot is when more than half of the citizens called seek to be excused from service.

"The crook has no fear of the law for two reasons," he continued. "First ,he knows that there is a tendency on the part of the average juryman not to convict a defendant on the evidence submitted to him, and, second, that he has a better time of it in Sing Sing than he has outside of prison."

SENATORS DECLARE A REAL DIVIDEND

Washington, Jan. 9.—In strengthening the team for its world's championship achievement and for the supreme effort to repeat this year, the Washington American League Club parted with $124,000 in hard cash last year for new talent. The treasurer's report to the annual meeting of stockholders at which a 40 per cent. dividend was declared, showed that $15,000 of the total outlay was recovered in the sale of players. Of the total outlay $50,000 went for the purchase of Earl McNeily, the outfielder who made the "hundred thousand dollar" two-base hit that won the final game and the world series from the Giants. The figures showed the Senators paid Seattle $10,000 for its veteran hurler, Vean Gregg, and Brooklyn $8,000 for Dutch Ruether.

HAS DEFAULTED

Oshawa, Jan. 9.—Owing to injuries to players and inability to put a team on the ice, Cobourg O.H.A. intermediate hockey team has been compelled to default the game with Oshawa, which was scheduled to be played in Cobourg on Friday night next.

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

He had chosen not an elaborate specimen of the flowery school, but a simple Brittany ballad, and he sang it exquisitely. Doris, as she listened to the long-drawn notes that seemed to float on sider wings through the room, felt a singular sensation at her heart. It was as if this stranger had defined the trouble of her young life, and had put it into music! With tightly compressed lips she sat fighting back the tears that threatened to flood her eyes, her hands closely clasped in her lap, her eyes fixed on the ground, unconscious that Mr. Spencer Churchill's eyes were covertly fixed on her with a keen watchfulness.

The last notes of the song died away and Lady Despard's soft, languid voice poured out her praise.

"Oh, but that is very, very beautiful, Mr. Levant; and you have a lovely voice! How kind of you to come and sing to us! And I am so grateful to Mr. Churchill for bringing you! You must sing again, must he not, Doris?"

He had risen and bowed to Lady Despard, but his dark eyes looked beyond her, and sought Doris' face.

Her lips trembled, but she forced a smile; taking it as a request, he returned to the piano and sang again.

Lady Despard was in raptures, but he prevented her asking for another song by going across to Doris.

"Lady Despard will not play; will you?" he said. "You are not afraid now?"

"Yes, more than afraid," she said, with a smile.

"Will you sing with me? Here is a duet!" he said, quietly, his eyes downcast.

"Do, dear!" said Lady Despard. "Miss Harlowe sings like a professional, Mr. Levant."

Doris rose reluctantly, and he led her to the piano.

Mr. Spencer Churchill went and sat beside Lady Despard and began to talk to her in an earnest but softly persuasive tone. The two voices at the piano rose and fell in harmony, and seemed to act as an accompaniment to his.

"Isn't it beautiful?" said Lady Despard. "Their singing together is simply delicious!"

"And if your ladyship assents to my proposal, they can sing together as often as you please!" he murmured, insinuatingly.

She laughed and nodded.

"That's true! Oh, yes, just as you like. I'm sure he is most interesting, and such a perfect gentleman!"

"Ah, yes," said Mr. Spencer Churchill; "I would not have brought him to you if he had been anything less. And it is settled, then?"

"Yes," nodded her ladyship.

He rose at once and looked at his watch.

"I will make all arrangements," he said, in a low voice. Say nothing to him to-night."

The two men said good-night, and Percy Levant found himself outside his brain in a whirl, his heart beating wildly.

"Well, may one ask your highness what you think of my ward now?" said Spencer Churchill, softly.

Percy Levant thrust his hands in his pocket.

"Has she been ill, or is it trouble that makes her look like that?" he asked, in a grave, thoughtful tone.

"Trouble," said Spencer Churchill. "Poor girl. Yes, she has been ill, too; but she is better, and the change will completely set her up, I hope."

"Change?"

"Yes," he purred. "She and Lady Despard go to Italy next week," and he smiled as he struck the blow and saw Percy wince.

"To Italy next week!" He turned upon him. "What are you scheming? What are you doing? Why did you take me to see her to-night, if——Do you think I am made of stone; that, like yourself, I've no heart! To Italy!"

"Yes," murmured Spencer Churchill "and I have arranged that you shall go with them——"

Percy Levant started again, and, stopping, confronted him with a pale, eager face.

"What?"

"Yes, exactly! You are to go with them as—what shall we say?—friendly courier, what you will—anything will serve as an excuse. What do you say? Perhaps, after all, you regret your bargain! If so, say so, and I'll release you."

Percy Levant caught him by the shoulder and held him in a savage grip, almost wildly.

"You know that I cannot! If I had not seen her I might have had the strength; but now——"

He withdrew his hand, and almost thrusting the other man away from him, strode on.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A SAD HOMECOMING

Lord Cecil Neville was a man of his word. He had pledged himself to remain in Ireland until the mission he had undertaken was completed, and he meant keeping his word, though his life depended on it. It seemed that more than his life, his happiness hung in the balance. He had written again and again to Doris, and had received no answer to any one of his letters. That they had reached her was evident from the fact that none were returned through the post to him. To all his passionate attempts for an explanation of her silence not one word came from her!

Life had gone fairly smoothly for Viscount Neville up to this, and his hot impetuous nature—inherited from his mother's side of the family—found it difficult to endure the suspense. Many men would have broken their word and returned posthaste to England and Barton, but a pledge was a solemn thing to Cecil Neville, and like a soldier on duty he stuck to his post.

Studied To Make Her Dance Best

Star in Belle Picture Was Very Well Prepared

One of the features of the cabaret scenes which Tom Buckingham shot for his production of Lincoln J. Carter's melodrama, "The Arizona Express" on the William Fox Hollywood lot was in the Spanish den of Evelyn Brent. Miss Brent, one of the featured members of the all-star cast, plays the role of the heavy who starts the commotion in this thrilling melodrama. She studied the dance she gives in the picture from Otero in Seville, Spain. Otero is one of the most famous Spanish exponents of terpsichore. It was while making exteriors for "The Spanish Jade", in which she played the title role that Miss Brent studied with Otera. "The Arizona Express" opened a 3 day run at the Belle theatre yesterday.

MUCH INSULIN USED

Toronto, Jan. 9.—Figures issued at the Parliament Buildings by Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health, showed that during the past year the Provincial Government had distributed 3,258,150 units of insulin at a cost of $34,106. The number of patients treated was 3,354. Improvement in methods of manufacture during the year effected a reduction of 22 per cent, in insulin production costs.

TO TAKE 10 DAYS

Toronto, Jan. 9.—According to Crown Attorney J. C. McRuer, nine or ten days will be required for the trial of Hugh Lickley resumed in the Court of General Sessions before Judge Denton and a jury. Accused faces charges of theft of some $50,000 and of conspiring to issue false prospectuses, thereby defrauding the public and certain corporations. Six oil and gas and other companies are involved.

AWARDED $5,000

Toronto, Jan. 9.—George Campbell was awarded $5,000 against Carl Zuber by Mr. Justice Lennox. Campbell had been invited by Zuber for an automobile ride. After a meal at Campbell's Corners, in which two of the auto party indulged in pigs' feet, the journey had been continued, and a crash with another car took place as a result of which Campbell was laid up for sixteen months. With respect to an unsupported statement of one of the witnesses. Mr. Justice Lennox remarked that he could not account for it unless the pigs' feet referred to were the appendages of a "blind pig".

THE ERRING WIFE AND MOTHER is the woman who sacrifices her health and consequent happiness to her ambition. We all know such women,—anxious that there homes shall be kept immaculately neat and attractive and their children well-dressed they overdo and soon bring on some feminine ailment which is evidenced by nervousness, irritability, headaches, backache and other aches and pains attending such ills. Every woman should remember that the most successful remedy for such conditions is Lydia E. An Amazing Picture Is The Lost Tribe

Griffin Picture Secured at Great Risk to Captain Hurley

Coming direct to Canada for a coast to coast tour, under the direction of James B. Pond and William B. Naylor, after being the wonder attraction during the opening week of the Picadilly Theatre, New York's newest monster picture palace, the management of the Griffin Theatre announce the presentation of Captain Frank Hurley's thrilling film masterpiece. "The Lost Tribe", which will play three evening shows on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 12, 13, 14, coming to Belleville direct from Massey Hall, Toronto, where it was a two week's holiday attraction.

For those who are interested in man in his earliest stages of civilization, surrounded by scenes of barbaric splendor and beauty, no more amazing pictures can scarcely be imagined than those which Captain Hurley has secured at great personal risk and hardship. Captain Hurley left Australia by seaplane accompanied by a small specially built vessel with crew of a few men, and making straight for the Great Fly River of New Guinea he flew along its course for six hundred miles, showing part of his flight in beautifully colored pictures of the river, with its banks of brilliantly colored flowers, found only in a tropical country. The scenes along this river are truly magnificent, dawn and moonlight scenes on The Great Fly River are unbelievably beautiful. Soon signs of life began to appear along the banks and the headquarters of the headhunters was reached. Captain Hurley's first encounter with the savages was made particularly unpleasant because of the fact that upon landing at a village they discovered that the natives seeing their approach had fled the village, and the Captain and his party leisurely examining the crude and uncanny specimens of head hunter's art, sudenly were surprised a shower of arrows, which forced them to make a somewhat ungraceful exit to the shore and their seaplane. After many days of waiting, making friendly overtures to the natives social relations were finally established and after still more patient waiting the motion pictures were secured of headhunters in their various forms of worship, their fete days, marriage ceremonies, and everything that goes to make up the life of an honest-to-goodness headhunter. The pictures are accompanied by fantastic music faithfully reproduced from records which Captain Hurley made in New Guinea.

Captain Hurley was the official photographer with General Allenby in Egypt and was made famous by his cinema work with Sir Ernest Shackleton in the dash to the South Pole.

A special school children's matinee will be held on Wednesday at 4.30 p.m. when 11cents will admit any school child.

English History Provides Comedy

"Old Bill Through The Ages" is Clever Acting

"Old Bill Through the Ages" is just burlesque. It is English history seen through the distorting mirror of Captain Bairnsfather' inimitable humour. It shows the sometimes dull pages of the history book suffused with a rich glow of fun, in which some of the most conspicuous characters and incidents in our island story figure.

It takes that most typical of all Englishmen. Old Bill—carries him back through the ages, and lets us see how he, with his Cockney outlook and humour, would have viewed past events —if he had happened to be mixed up in them—and the result is highly diverting.

Though hilariously funny "Old Bill Through the Ages" has a background of realism in matters of make-up and cast selection which greatly enhances the effect. It is something entirely new in film production, appealing both to young and old—sheer extravaganza, full of life and merriment and clever acting. If it does seem sometimes to be making fun of ourselves—well, we are strong and sensible enough to take it all in good part.

The Story

"Old Bill Through the Ages" starts with William the Conqueror, and passes through the King John period, the spacious days of Queen Elizabeth, the Roundhead and Cavalier times, and the days of the "Merry Monarch." In the course of the picture Old Bill appears, among other characters, as William the Conqueror, a Baron in the reign of King John, a courtier at the palace of Queen Elizabeth, a sour-faced Puritan, and a jolly Cavalier.

Such famous personages as King John, Queen Elizabeth, Shakespeare, Drake, Charles II., etc., also figure in the film.

True to Life

All these characters, though played burlesque fashion, are made up with an extraordinary truth to the originals —thanks to the skill and untiring labours of the producer, Thomas Bentley.

Famous Scenes

Among the famous English locations in the picture is Plymouth Hoe. By a coincidence the scenes at Runnymede were taken on the anniversary of the signing of the Magna Catta.

The scenes in the Picture include a number of elaborate sets, notably the throne room of Queen Elizabeth; while some unusual photographs effects— appropriate to Old Bill's muddled dream—have also been obtained.

The picture, as it goes from period to period, makes a kaleidoscope of colours and costumes, the mere task of selecting which accurately was an exacting one.

Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, who wrote the story, himself figures in the picture as a British officer.

Syd Walker as Old Bill

The name part of the film is taken by the clever comedian, Syd Walker—his first appearance in a film. He is not only Old Bill to the life, as Bairnsfather must surely have seen him, but enters into the character with a rare spirit that makes it really live.

As a riot of fun and entertainment, "Old Bill Through the Ages" should be a refreshing addition to the enterainment of the screen.

It has only to be added that the music for the picture was especially composed by Mr. G. H. Clutsam who will be remembered for his work in conection with "Lilac Time." Old Bill is now showing at Griffins.

If Back Or Kidneys Ache Drink Water

DRINK FREELY AND OFTEN TO FLUSH THE KIDNEYS, ALSO TAKE SALTS

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to get relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidney; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Rented a Farm

Bert. Kemp has rented Miss Emily Murphy's farm at Little Kingston, Prince Edward county.

Woman Honored

Six years ago, Mrs. Alexander Newlands, assistant professor of mathematics at Queen's University, had the honor of being one of the first women to be elected as a member of the Board of Education, Miss Mowat being elected to a seat at the Board at the same time. At the inaugural meeting of the board of 1925, held on Wednesday evening, Mrs. Newlands had another high honor conferred on her, when by a unanimous vote, she was elected to the chairmanship of the board.

Stole Car; Jailed

Edward Northcott, of Oshawa, was yesterday morning sentenced in Whitby to nine months in the Ontario Reformatory with hard labor, for receiving a stolen car on the 29th of October, 1924, the property of George McLaughlin.

Good Fishing

Deseronto, Jan. 9.—Those engaged in winter fishing report some splendid catches, fish appearing more numerous in the Bay this winter, than in the past, and all indications point to larger catches during the winter. Last week about one hundred boxes ,almost five tons of fish were shipped by the purchasers from this territory, with fish commanding fancy prices. The shipment meant the turnover of a large amount of money. Deseronto merchants reaping a benefit of the industry.

Special Meeting

Oshawa, Jan. 9.—The board of education are holding a meeting tonight to discuss certain charges contained in an affidavit signed by J. G. Russell alleging irregularities in connection with the North Simcoe Street school and the new High School extension. It is understood that the meeting has been called specially to deal with this matter and something of a definite nature will undoubtedly be arrived at..

Stole Coppers

Some time during Tuesday night, some person or persons secured entrance to the City Dairy, Upper Princess street, Kingston, and made off with about $20, all in coppers.

It is stated that entrance was secured to the building by smashing a window.

Lost Cattle

Mr. Julius Lachance of Howe Island lost eight young cattle by having them drowned through the ice opposite his farm. He had cut a water hole through the ice for them to drink through and had watered his milch herd but when the young cattle went to drink they did not notice the hole and went on out to open water in the main channel on the south side of the island.

A Long Illness

Brockville, Jan. 9.—Struck by lightning eight years ago, Mrs. Evanna Hogg, of Smith's Falls, was so weakened by the shock that she never fully recovered and died at her home a few days ago.

Gold Strike Thrill

Ottawa, Jan. 9— The age old thrill of the gold strike has come again, this time to the hustling little town of Alexandria. in the county of Glengarry, about 70 miles southeast of Ottawa, on the Ottawa-Montreal line of the Canadian National Railways.

Just what proportions the strike will assume is dependent largely on what developments of the near future will bring. One sample said to have been taken from the scene of the 'strike' is reputed to have been assayed by the provincial analyst at Toronto, and to have shown a return of $1,085 to these ton, incredulous as this high figure may appear. Other samples, when analyzed are stated to have shown a return ranging from $15 to $20.

Three Nominated

Kingston, Jan. 9—At the nomination meeting which was held at A. E. Hunt's shop on Princess street, on Thursday noon for the purpose of nominating candidates for alderman in St. Lawrence ward to fill the vacancy caused by Joseph Nash being disqualified, three were nominated as follows:

Joseph Nash. proposed by Samuel Hamilton, seconded by Melville Hunter.

Thomas H. Sargent, proposed by Havelock F. Price and seconded by W. J. Vince.

John Henry Jarvis, proposed by W. J. Vince and seconded by Joseph Nash.

It is expected that Joseph Nash will be declared elected by acclamation on Friday evening when the candidates must file their papers of qualification with the city clerk.

A Sale of Property

James Weeks has sold his farm, south side of Consecon Lake to S. Forsythe. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks have purchased the property belonging to David Robinson, Consecon, the home of the late Mrs. A. Anderson.

Found a Foreign Substance

D. G. Kilgour, Eganville became seriously ill, and on the attending physician's advice was at once removed to Pembroke general hospital. Immediate operation was deemed advisable. This was accordingly done. leading to the discovery that a foreign substance—a piece of glass of celluloid—had been swallowed and which had punctured the intestines, and was the cause of the trouble.

Funerals at Sydenham

Sydenham, Jan. 9—The body of the late Mrs. Ulysses Townsend arrived here by C.N.R. on Monday morning, and her funeral was conducted at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Townsend lived in Sydenham until about seven years ago, when she went to Dryden, Wash., to live with her daughter Mrs. Eminger.

Condition Much Improved

It was reported at the Hotel Dieu Wednesday afternoon that the condition of Joseph Ryan of Marysville, who was seriously injured when the back wheel of a waggon passed over his head, was much improved and hopes are held for his recovery.

Real Estate Active

The records show that there were 410 real estate transfers made in Kingston during the year 1924. It is of interest to note that in the year 1913 there were 851 transfers, the largest number issued since 1889. In 1912 there were 619. Following is a list showing the number of transfers for the past eight years:

1917, 389; 1918, 406; 1919, 614; 1920, 622; 1921, 493; 1922, 385; 1923, 452; 1924, 410.

TOO MANY SCRUBS DAIRY MAN SAYS

Cornwall, Ont., Jan. 9.—Some straight forward advice was given by that veteran dairyman, Richard Honey, of Dartford, at the session of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association. "We keep far too many cows in Ontario for what they produce," he stated. "There are to moany scrub cows and scrub feeders. If necessary, go into debt and buy feed for your cows. It will pay also to remember that a cow has to produce 5,000 pounds of milk to pay for her keep, and our average production of milk is below that figure."

Practically the same point was stressed by Professor Wade Toole, of the Ontario Agricultural College. This speaker claimed that breeding, feeding and specialization would take care of most of the ills of the producing side of dairying. He pointed out that the average production per cow had risen from 3,000 pounds per annum a few years ago to between 4,000 and 4,500 today an increase of 33 to 50 per cent. "This still looks rather small," said Professor Toole, "in comparison with 8,000 pounds per year in Denmark."

W. B. Cochran, a director from Almonte, claimed that it would be advisable to advertise Canadian cheese on the home market, while Director E. Campsall, from Hartington, claimed that the grade should be stamped on the cheese itself and not simply on the box as was the case at present. "The retailer would then know what grade of cheese he was buying." Another director advocated grading of cheese before the stuff left the factory so that the producer would know what to expect in the way of price when the product was shipped.

A striking analysis of the farm problems of Eastern Ontario was made by Principal W. J. Bell, of the Kemptville Agricultural School.

An attempt is believed to have been made in San Francisco, Cal. to assassinate Assistant United States District Attorney Kenneth G. Gillis. Gillis was at work when a bullet crashed through the window of his office in the Federal building. Had he been sitting in his accustomed chair, he would have been killed, secret service men said.

For a Quick turnover

Mr. Business Man

Your greatest aid towards quick turnover is your newspaper. Efficient advertising in its columns will do much to build up your business.

BUT—DOES ADVERTISING INCREASE THE COST OF ARTICLES TO THE CONSUMER?

You have perhaps heard it stated—but erroneously so—that this is the case.

Because advertising properly done will quicken your turnover by increasing sales. Quantity selling means lower prices. The resultant extra sales will thus enable you to sell your goods at a lower figure than would be possible had you not invested money in advertising. Hence RATHER than increasing the cost of the article to the customer, efficient advertising ACTUALLY LOWERS PRICES.

On the other hand, advertising POORLY DONE will not produce results—or sell goods—so even in this case the extra money spent does not come from the customer—as he doesn't buy the goods.

It Pays to Advertise!

Willard Company Wages Are Probed

Girls Testify at Toronto as to Money Received

Toronto. Jan. 9—Two additional former employees of Willard's Chocolates, Limited, were called by W. G. Henderson, counsel for the trades and labor council, in support of allegations of underpayment when the probe was resumed before the minimum wage board yesterday afternoon of charges brought against the company for alleged infractions of the minimum wage act.

Miss Louisa Cousins said that she started work with Willards in May, 1923, after she had already had two years' experience in the work which she was doing.

"I was promised $12.50 a week," she testified, "but although I asked for it frequently I was never given more than $10 up until the time I left in September of the same year."

Miss Yvonne Lefevre said that she started work with Willards two years ago, when she was 19 years of age. She was there for a month and during that time had never received more than $8 a week.

Witness went on to tell of having written a letter to the chairman of the minimum wage board in the presence and at the request of Wilfred Robertson on November 24, 1924, asking for arrears in wages.

"He came over to where I was working and told me what to say," Miss Lefevre stated.

"Did you mail it?" "No, I left it with Mr. Robertson."

Mr. Regan reiterated his previous assertion that Mr. Johnson desired to make no charges.

Gordon Shaver, counsel for the company, then commenced his cross-examination of Cyril Johnson.

Mr. Regan proceeded to interrupt with frequent protests and asserted he would advise his client not to answer some of the questions put.

"You are laying yourself open to contempt of court," declared the chairman.

"Very well, if you insist, we give up," responded Mr. Regan.

"Did you ever cash checks for employees?" Mr Shaver asked the witness.

"Yes, sometimes."

"Did you ever cash old checks?"

"No."

"Did you ever have Mr. Douglas cash old checks?" "There were instances."

"And you put the money in your pocket?" "Absolutely no."

"Did you ever make any charges against the Willard company before the attorney-general?" demanded Mr. Shaver at a later stage of the cross-examination. "No," was the reply.

"Did you make any charges before the trades and labor council " "No."

"What did you do, then " "I merely told the truth. I wanted to see the girls get justice."

"When you had these girls at your office and told them they were underpaid, was it just to see that they would get what was coming?"

"I did not tell them they were underpaid."

Mr. Shaver produced two postal cards, addressed to Jessie Hilton and Annie Commer, suggesting that they come to Johnson's office in connection with money which might be due them under the minimum wage act.

Johnson admitted knowledge of them but denied any animus against the Willard company.

He admitted however that he had made the statement that from 1921 to 1924 the records of the company were changed with intent to deceive the board.

LOOKING FOR GIRL

Information is being sought by S J. Dickson, Chief of Police, Toronto, concerning Emma Evans, aged 25 years, who has been missing from Fonthill, near Welland, since Nov. 20, 1924. She is described as being five feet, four inches in height, of medium build with dark brown hair, full face, fresh complexion, and one crooked finger.

Settell Working Beside Doughty

Has Been Given Job in Deputy Warden's Office

Kingston, Jan. 9.—E. Clarence Settell, former secretary to Sir Adam Beck at the Hydro, now serving a three-year term here at Portsmouth prison for attempted theft, is working in Deputy Warden Tucker's office, attached to the prison block in the keeper's hall. Settell is doing clerical work and alongside of him is John Doughty, former confidential clerk to Ambrose J. Small, missing Toronto millionaire.

Norman James "Red" Ryan, famous bank robber, now a "lifer," who was working in the mail bag department, has been again placed in solitary confinement and is in the "selected row" beneath the keeper's hall, where he was first placed after being brought back to Kingston a year ago. Ryan violated some regulation, it is reported.

Peter Smith, former provincial treasurer, is working in the library, while his late deputy, Charles Albert Matthews, jr., is doing bookkeeping work in the prison office. Matthews sings in the chapel choir.

Woman, Age 75 Mashed Long Trail

Miss Nellie Cashman, Famous Prospector, Has Passed Away

Tuscon, Ariz., Jan. 9.—The career of a woman who commanded the respect of that rough and ready element which prospects for gold from Arizona to the Arctic regions of Canada and Alaska, was closed yesterday when the body of Miss Nellie Cashman was lowered into its earth vault in Victoria, B. C.

Friends to-day recall the days of 1877 when Miss Cashman came to Arizona, following the lure of the gold. In the early eighties she "grub-staked" several of the state's present milionaires on the gamble they would find a "strike" in the Tambstone, Arizona, gold field. Later she used the money returned by those men to finance a trip to Alaska, where she outfitted and "mushed" into the interior—again seeking gold.

One of the first of the daring band of women to enter the frozen, unchartered fields of Alaska, she served as nurse at many mining camps, at the same time prospecting and taking her own claims.

It was recallled that only last year, when she had reached the alloted age of three score and ten, the "champion woman musher of the world" mushed from Koyukik to Seward, Alaska, a 750-mile snow trail.

Miss Cashman's last visit to friends in this state was in December.

Refused admission to the home of the man she loved, Eva Baker, of Youngstown, Ohio, drew a revolver and committed suicide on his doorstep. Infatuated with Frank Terrell, Eva according to her landlady, learned that he was going with other girls. When she left her room the girl told the landlady that she was going to kill Frank Terrell, and then kill herself. Relatives of Terrell however, refused to let her into the house and as they closed the door in her face, she shot herself.

Asking that a sufficient amount be put in the main estimates to start dredging work on Owen Sound harbor, a deputation from that city waited on Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, yesterday morning. The city had, it was stated by the deputation, voted $150 000 on January 1 for the erection of an elevator, and in order to complete the project it was essential that the harbor be dredged.

A number of Ukrainians, loyal to the Canadian flag and calling themselves the "White" Ukrainian party, are starting an extensive campaign in Calgary to "convert" their "Red" brethren and show them the advantages of becoming naturalized Canadian citizens in preference to advancing the cause of the Soviet party and other revolutionary methods.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce building, corner Desforges and Champlain streets, Three Rivers, Que., was partly destroyed early yesterday morning by a fire which broke out in a tobacco store in the basement. Several other offices were also damaged. H. H. McKee, local manager of the bank, estimates the loss at $25,000.

HE TOOK EXERCISE THROWING DISHES

Toronto, Jan. 9.—"My husband again started to swear and threw dishes at me," declared Mrs. Frank Petrucci, laying a charge of assault in women's police court yesterday. Petrucci pleaded guilty but Magistrate Patterson thought an investigation was necessary and remanded him for sentence until the 15th.

"What was the cause of the fracas?" asked Crown Attorney McFadden. Witness: "It's just a habit with him. I suppose you would call it temper. He has a nasty streak."

"You might call it a form of exercise," observed her worship.

"There was no real argument; there never is," continued complainant. "I was lying on the bed with baby and he came over and struck me on the cheek with his fist. It started to swell up. I couldn't stand it any longer so I got up and threw the mirror at him. He told me to shut up and went out without his breakfast."

"I don't want him and I absolutely refuse to give him another trial," declared the wife, when asked if they couldn't make it up. "It wasn't the first time and I want it to be the last. I demand a separation."

GETS OFF EASY

Los Angeles, Jan. 9.—Kid McCoy, ex-prize fighter, conviced of manslaughter here last week, for the death last August of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, was sentenced yesterday to from one to ten year in San Quentin Prison.

Miss Nelie Cashman, pioneer mining woman of Alaska and the Yukon, is dead at Victoria, B.C., at the age of 81. The late Miss Cashman spent most of her time in the West in the mining regions, and was well known for her charity. She was in Cassiar, B.C., during the boom days, and later went to the Klondike.

FIREMEN SAVED HEAVY LOSSES ON FRONT ST.

Fire Starts in Royal Tailors Store Early Last Evening

HARD TO GET AT

Adjoining Stores are Touched But Not Very Seriously

Excellent work on the part of the fire brigade of this city last evening prevented what might have been a serious fire entailing a heavy loss. At a few minutes before 7 o'clock, a citizen saw smoke coming out of a transom over the doorway of the Royal Tailors store, conducted by Mr. H. A. Fish, and located in the Gordon block, west side of Front street. An alarm was immediately sounded and the brigade lost no time in reaching the scene.

The fire was located in the work room of the establishment and it had gained considerable headway. Some difficulty in combating the flames was experienced by the firemen owing to the fact that the ceiling was covered by a corrugated metal and the flames had ignited the frame work between the ceiling and the roof. Fortunately the flames were confined to that part of the premises, where it originated, but not before it had eaten its way through a partition which divided the tailor shop and Mr. W. H. Lattimer's drug store. The loss sustained by the latter was not extensive and is covered by insurance.

Mr. C. Ashley, insurance agent, has his place of business adjoining the store wherethe fire originated. Smoke was the only damage done to that place of business.

The premises is a part of the Gordon estate and damage sustained to the building which amounted to some hundreds of dollars is covered by insurance.

The stock of the Royal Tailors was damaged to some extent by water, but it is covered by insurance. As soon as the loss is adjusted, business will be resumed.

Wrote Love Notes To His Dear Self

Police Discover Queer Collection of Man in Toronto

Toronto, Jan. 10—It was inevitable that, sooner or later, the police court should meet a young gentleman thoroughly representative of the spirit of jazz. This morning he appeared on the horizon in the person of Oliver Morton. Whereas there is nothing original in sin, occasionally there is novelty. Morton's mode of living was rich in novelty. He was in court on the specific charge of stealing two trunks, the property of young ladies appearing last week at a local vaudeville theatre. The young ladies had put them on the verandah of their lodging for the taxi man to get. Morton turned up with a vehicle and carried off both trunks, later changing their color from black to green and red. The trunks contained the young ladies' clothes, and he may have reasoned that much clothing was not necessary on the stage nowadays.

A glimpse behind the scenes of the young man's life was obtained by a perusal of his library, which consisted solely of a volume called "The Little Colonel's Good Times Book," a handsome affair with each page partitioned off for details of "good times" the little Colonel had had with girls. The memoranda was shockingly frank, almost as "frank" as some of Broadway's "greatest successes." He had had girls galore, both here and in the United States, where so many of today's young people look for inspiration on the subject of loose living. The girls' ages ranged from sixteen upwards and the additional detail pointed to the "Little Colonel" having had a great many bad times. In addition to this, Detective Williams found that the young man had written letters of a most effeminate and affectionate nature to himself. He was his own, very own, dearest. And to make the thing even stranger, the excuse he gave for stealing the trunks was that he wanted to provide his wife with good clothes. But think of the poor young ladies who owned the trunks! Had the clothes not been recovered they might have had to desert the vaudeville stage and go into one of Broadway's "gorgeous spectacles" of female pulchritude.

"The Little Colonel," who hails from the U.S.A. will be sentenced on the 16th.

The first robbery reported in Woodstock in over a year took place Tuesday night when thieves broke into the store of W. H. Jenkins, securing for their trouble exactly 100 coppers. Entrance was made by climbing a water pipe to the roof and then descending into the store through a skylight.

SHE SAW HIM WITH HAMMER IN HIS HANDS

Mary Shmyzchyn Gives Important Evidence at Court

CASE ADJOURNED

More Evidence on Murder Charge Coming on Tuesday

Officials at the Police Court were not able to get in all the evidence in the preliminary trial of Sergai Tkatch of Point Anne yesterday. Tkatch is facing a charge of murder.

Magistrate Masson adjourned proceedings at 5.20 o'clock until Tuesday next at 10 a.m. There are a few more witnesses to be examined.

Much of the evidence given yesterday was similar to that offered at the inquest. Nick Gurniak, at whose home a drinking party was held before the murder, said he had lived in Point for 14 years and worked for the Canada Cement Company and that he knew the accused.

He swore that when Tkatch and the murdered man, Cernuska were at his place on the Monday of the murder and that they were alright then. They seemed to be good friends.

The witness then told about the little scrap outside, when he and the murdered man were killing a pig, and described how Cernuska had hit Sergai and made his nose bleed. He also repeated what he had seen in the bedroom of the boarding house, where Cernuska lay battered on the bed. The accused was there and had told him.

"Alec hit me over at your place and I hit him back."

The next witness was William Shymzyshyn a boy of ten years, who repeated what he had said at the inquest, telling the court that he had seen a hammer in the pants pocket of the accused on Monday morning.

"Did Alec say anything about Russia?" the boy was asked.

"Yes, he said something in Russian and Sergai said, 'You hit him in Russia and he is gone'."

Mary Shymzyshyn told how Sergai had come to her boarding house on Monday, before the murder.

Dispute Over Cards

She said that there was dry blood on Sergai's face and that he was mad. He had told her that there was some dispute over cards.

Then she reviewed how the murdered man had come into dinner and had gone upstairs to lie down. Sergai came in about three o'clock, went out and then came in again, going upstairs.

Next thing, her little girl called her upstairs and she found that Cernuska had been hit. She saw Sergai standing on the Floor with a hammer in his hand.

Sergai told her he did what the murdered man had done to him.

Britain and U.S.A. Getting Together

Are Making Progress in Negotiations over Reparation Claims

Paris, Jan. 10.—Great Britain and the United States are getting together slowly, "but normally," on the United States reparation claims which are to finally come before the conference of Allied Finance Ministers, in session here.

At the end of yesterday's informal discussions and conferences it was apparent that the representatives of both English-speaking countries were trying to drive a hard bargain. Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, wishes to economize, and the United States estimate of war damage claims, tentatively fixed at $350,000,000, is likely to be whittled down before the Anglo-Saxons finally reach the expected accord.

United States Ambassadors Herrick and Kellogg, with James A. Logan, Jr., United States representative with the Reparations Commission, are standing their ground, but the negotiations for the time being, are up to the respective Government of Britain and the United States.

The continental delegations are watching the apparent deadlock between the two principal countries with ill-suppressed chuckles.

Belgium's assent to the reduction of the Spa allotment of reparations from eight to five and one-half and perhaps five per cent., if necessary, appears to have been the only forward step made today.

Complete accord has also been reached on the Belgium position as the latter contends, she has about 250,000,000 gold francs due her on her priority claims.

ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING

The annual vestry meeting of St. Thomas Church will be held on Monday evening at eight o'clock.

The Griffin Ice and Coal Company, of St. Thomas, commenced harvesting their supply of ice at Pinafore Park lake, giving employment to at least 100 men. The ice is nearly ten inches thick, perfectly clear, and of the best quality. The big icehouse has a capacity of more than 1,000 tons.

Hope McGinnis Chosen By Council

As New Sanitary Inspector For City of Belleville

From upwards of sixty applicants for the position of sanitary inspector of the city, Mr. Hope McGinnis was selected last evening when the city council met in special session. Among the applications was one from a lady resident of the city.

Messrs. Walter Lingham and C. N. Sulman who were appointed members of the Board of Health last week resigned, and their places were filled by appointing Major R. D. Ponton and Mr. P. H. Wills. The other member of the Board is Mr. Charles Whelan.

Members present at the meeting were mayor W. C Mikel, Aldermen R J E Graham, W H Patterson, S H Treverton, A E LaRoche, P. Harrison, C. Ruttan, A Robinson, Wm Parish, J Manley, A H Ketcheson, G Dawes and G E Foster.

Council went into Committee of the whole, Ald. Patterson in the chair.

Adopt Recommendations

The following recommendations were unanimously adopted.

"Recommended that no action be taken on the communication of Miss Bessie Sayers as to an increase of $10 per month as stenographer in the city clerk's office.

Recommended that a committee composed of the Mayor, Aldermen Graham and LaRoche and City Engineer be a committee to investigate the request of Mr. Rowson, of St. Catharines, with regard to a bus service and make a report to the Council.

"Recommended that as the Shell Company of Canada Limited has complied with city of Belleville By-law No. 1884 that no action be taken by the council with regard to the letter received from Wallbridge Company objecting to the construction thereof, the city having no power to interfere with building on private property.

"That the Mayor and Clerk be and are hereby authorized to sign an agreement to purchase certain lands as set out in a document prepared for the purpose of a southerly extension of Bleecker Ave from Dundas street from

Two bylaws were introduced and pass Levi Buckley, of the city of Belleville. ed through their various stages appointing Mr. H. McGinnis as sanitary inspector and Mayor R D. Ponton and Mr. P H Wills as members of the Board of Health.

Motions

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Treverton that the City Clerk be requested to convey to their Excellencies Lord and Lady Byng the thanks of the Council for the gift of two steel engravings of their Excellencies, as a memento of the Governor-General's recent visit to the city.

France Decides to Get After Ibanez

Will Prosecute Spanish Author on Foreign Sovereign Charge

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 10.—Vicente Blasco Ibanez will be prosecuted in France for his recent pamphlet against King Alfonso of Spain on a charge of an offense against a foreign sovereign. A conviction on such an offence would render him liable to imprisonment from one month to one year.

The Minister of Justice today instructed the public prosecutor to begin proceedings against the Spanish author on the charge named. The publisher of the booklet also is to be prosecuted. Proceedings were instituted at the request of the Spanish embassy submitted to the French Government.

CRIPPLED OPERATOR BURNED TO-DEATH

Brooks, Maine, Jan. 10—Mrs. Carrie Johnson a crippled telephone operator was burned to death early today when she remained at her post summoning outside aid for a fire on the main street of this town. Before her task was accomplished the building which the exchange of the Waldo & Penobscot Telephone Company was situated caught fire and escape was cut of.

TO SPEED UP THE HOME BANK TRIALS

Toronto, Jan. 10.—Only new evidence will be heard at the trials of S. Casey Wood, K.C., and F. J. B. Russill, Home Bank directors. This suggestion was put forward yesterday afternoon by Judge Coatsworth at the conclusion of argument in the trial of Richard P. Gough, former vice-president of the Home Bank, in which His Honor stated he would deliver judgment on January 20 next. Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., who will act for the defence in the trial of S. Casey Wood, happened to be in court at the time the suggestion was put forth, and addressing the bench said that he was quite willing to cooperate in this regard.

Market Prices Are Not Changed Much

Largest Crowd Gathers Since Saturday Before Christmas

The market to-day was the largest held here since the Saturday before Christmas and in consequence much farm and garden produce was offered for sale There were not many changes to note in prices.

Fresh dairy butter was quite plentiful selling at 38c and 40c a pound.

Whilst at first 65c was asked for strictly fresh eggs they dropped to 60c per dozen. A few packed eggs were sold for a lower figure namely 55 cents.

Dressed fowl especially chickens were in abundance and commanded fair prices, namely $1.25 to $2.50 a pair according to size and quality Ducks sold at $1.30 and $1.40 each and a few geese brought from $2.50 to $3.50 each.

There was no change to note in prices of vegetables. Potatoes sold at 85c and 90c a bag.

Dressed beef sold at 9c a pound for hind quarters and 7c for fore quarters. Dressed pork $15 per hundred.

A number of stalls were located on the market where meat was being cut up. Beef sold from 9c to 18c per pound and pork from 12c to 20c per pound according to cut.

A few loads of wood were offered for sale and were sold at various prices.

Professor Speaks To Y's Men Club

Advised Application of Golden Rule to Business

The Y's Men Club of Belleville listened with interest to Professor I. L. Moore at their regular meeting last evening and enjoyed a varied program of music and fun. Bert Adams was in the chair and kept things on the move. Al Wilson and his quartette, J. A. Hyslop, J. Robinson, Alex. Gloshen and Art Herity were guests.

Some of the points emphasized by the speaker of the evening were, good quality of merchandise, correct weight and measurement, truthful advertising accuracy, willing, courteous, efficient service and the application of the Golden Rule in business dealings. The value of punctuality and accuracy was specially stressed. Reference was made to means of creating and maintaining business good will. The speaker also stated while business competition may be keen it is possible for competitors to maintain pleasant friendly relations. The young men of the club were urged to cultivate those qualities that will build their business interests on the solid ground of good nature, sympathetic friendliness and sincere, genuine courtesy.

HEAVY VOTING AT JOHN STREET CHURCH

Interest being taken in the vote on Church Union at John Street Presbyterian Church in Belleville is indicated by the large poll being taken by the clerk, Mr. Harold Davidson. Out of a total of 327 who have the right to vote, some 283 have already cast their ballot Their is still an opportunity afforded to vote on Monday evening between the hour of seven-thirty and eight-thirty, when the ballot box will be opened and the results announced at a congregational meeting.

Get Three Months For Liquor Theft

Make Examples of Two Distillery Employees who Took Liberties

Thomas Bell and Clarence Herorn who have been on remand for one week on charges of theft of liquor from their employers, the Consolidated, Distilleries Limited, of Corbyville, appeared before Magistrate Masson this morning, pleaded guilty and were each sentenced to serve three months in the county jail.

This sentence will run concurrently with three month sentences imposed upon each accused on January 5th. When he pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor in a public place.

Sherron will be examined as to his sanity, it is proposed.

Both boys who appeared wan and dejected to-day, were arrested one week ago to-night on Front street. One carried in his pocket a reputed quart bottle of gin, the other, a reputed quart bottle of special selected whiskey which had been manufactured at the Consolidated Distilleries where they were employed.

Night Hawk Club Meeting Is Held

Belleville Radio Organization Enjoyed Good Program Last Night

The Radio Club of Belleville held a Night Hawk Club meeting at the Chamber of Commerce last night, starting at 11 o'clock. Carl Reid of the Radio Shop, who is a member, brought a 5-Tube Neutrodyne Receiving set and gave the Club a very interesting talk on Neutrodyne sets. Mr. Reid tuned in stations very loud and clear, and it was very much appreciated and enjoyed by the members.

The following members were elected for this year:—J. W. Lill, president; Chas. J. Symons, vice-pres.; H. G. Davison, re-elected secretary-treasurer A vote of thanks was tendered to Carl Reid for his kindness and co-operation in bringing different types of Radio Receiving equipment down to the Chamber of Commerce and giving the members a treat. Mr. J. W. Lill gave a very interesting talk on Radio troubles, condensers, etc., which was enjoyed very much. The Radio Club expects to have a peppy year for 1925.

Make No Change In U.S.A. Tariff

It Will Remain As It Is For Four Years Yet

Washington, Jan. 10—The Fordney-McCumber tariff will remain unchanged for the next four years, or during the period of the administration of President Coolidge. There will be no tariff tinkering. No change in schedules and no attempts to alter in any way the schedules contained in the present law,

Comes Back To Help Find Small

Englishman Sure Body Was Buried in Rosedale Dump

Toronto, Jan. 10—"When I heard that at last there was a possibility that the Rosedale dump would be properly dug to find if possible the body of Ambrose J Small, I packed up and came back to Canada. For if they are going to dig, I am the man they want."

So declared Alfred Elson, former caretaker of Rosary Hall, who gave to the police the sensational story of how on December 2, 1919, he observed four men from a large high-powered motor car carry a burden into the dump Some minutes after, a fifth man hurried over from the car and consulted with them. After some minutes had elapsed, the party returned to their machine and sped eastward.

Elson some time ago returned to the Old Country on account of ill-health, but has returned to Toronto, as he was the man who first suggestedthe digging of the dump. He reiterates his former assertion that the police "probed" in the wrong spot, and that he was not consulted as to the spot the party carried the burden into, and that there was no mistake as to the exact night—that of Small's mysterious disappearance. There have been thousands of tons of earth dumped there since.

Not Consulted by Police

"I really believe it was Mr. Small's body that I saw carried into the dump and I am positive that the police did not use the steam shovel in the right place," declared Elston this morning. "That is the reason I came back when I heard that the dump was to be dug properly. You know that Detective Mitchell never came near me, nor Chief Dickson, nor anyone else when they had the steam shovel there. The body has not been recovered, and it is inconceivable to me that this place has not yet been dug properly."

Elson's story after his last visit to the City Hall was as follows:

Elson's Story

"On the night of December 2, 1919, between 7.30 and 7.45 a large closed car with dimmed lights pulled up at the side of the roadway in Rosedale Ravine just west of the rear of Rosary Hall (it was St. Margaret's College then).

"Four men got out and lifted something from the car, which they caried into the dump. They were joined by a fifth man who after consulting with them returned to the car.

"The four men lifted their burden and went further into the dump. They returned after several minutes; were again met by the fifth man who after speaking briefly hurried back to the car, lifted the hood and raced the engine, as if fixing it.

"Then all four hurried over the rough ground, entered the car, and it sped off to the east.

"I feel satisfied that their burden was the body of Ambrose J. Small, and I am satisfied that if the police who used the steam shovel had gone back far enough they would have uncovered his remains. They did not allow for the dumping of ashes and rubbish on the ground for six months before they began to dig with the steam shovel. One look at the spot will tell you that.

"There is no mistake of what I saw nor of the date. I was fixing the boards at the foot of the rink and saw the car pull up and the lights go dim. I thought at first it was a joy party, but when four men got out I stopped my work to see what they were up to."

This was indicated today when the Ways and Means Committee, turned down a proposal of Representative Garner for a slight change which would permit the transfer of cattle across the Texas-Mexico border. The committee refused to take action, saying it was undesirable to establish a precedent which might be used to bring about other changes.

Chairman Green has refused hearings on proposed changes. It was plainly intimated the committee was acting in accord with the wishes of the Administration.

The decision is in line with the attitude during the campaign of administration leaders, who defended the Fordney-McCumber tariff from the stump, and refused to yield to objections coming from the Northwestern farmers.

Mrs. Susie Greenough of Riverside Drive, New York, is here attending the obsequies of her sister, Mrs. Harriet Haight.

TWENTY FIVE CENT DINNER WAS EXCITING

Argument Over Five Copper Difference Led to Court

DINER WAS FINED

Montreal Magistrate Takes Lenient View of Accident There

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Peter Wilkins was hungry. The sign in the window read:

"Best Meal in the City—Twenty-Five Cents"—it read Peter had exactly twenty-five cents so he entered boldly.

Peter's appetite was no delicate flower, so he did full justice to the watery soup, luke-warm meat, pie and tea-coffee beverage which were served to him. Then came the moment of reckoning.

"Thirty cent!" said the Grecian hero who presided over the establishment.

"Whatja mean, thirty cents, wop?" protested Peter, startled out of his after-dinner urbanity. "Don't ye say twenty-five in the winder?"

"You eat pie. Pie five cents extra. Thirty cent."

Overcome by the complexities of the financial situation, and justly indignant at the trap into which he had been lured, he leaned his arms upon the glass show-case beneath which cigars and chewing gum reposed in state, and martialled his intellect for argument.

Then came disaster, with a shivering of glass the show case gave way and but for some timely footwork Peter would have dived headlong among the stogies.

Instantly that noble wrath which led the ancient Greeks to besiege Troy fired the proprietor of the Craig street eatery. He seized upon Mr. Wilkins while his assistant telephoned for the minions of the law, held him despite all remonstrance.

Dazed by the latest trick of fate Peter made no remonstrance when he was welcomed to cell at the police station. Even when he appeared before the Recorder charged with wilfully doing $15 worth of damage to the property of the noble Greek, his explanation was given in a subdued spirit.

"The show-case was cracked?" questioned the Recorder. "How big a crack?"

The purveyor of food indicated a space of about a finger's length.

"You're sure it was no longer?"

"Well, maybe twelve, fifteen inch."

"Next time it will be three feet. It was ready to fall to pieces, perhaps. Case dismissed."

So Peter walked forth a free man. But next time he contemplates a twenty-five cent meal he will make sure that he has thirty cents in his pocket.

Let there be harmony in things essential—liberty in things not essential—Charity in all.

WHY NOT FINE THOSE WHO DO NOT VOTE?

The recent municipal elections which have been taking place in many parts of the country brought out probably more than ever the deeply regrettable fact that an increasing number of the citizens of Canada are shirking their responsibility in connection with the very foundation on which democracy is based—the right to vote. Not only are offenders—for neglect of this duty is an offence—found in the cities, but also in the outlying municipalities throughout the country. They are not confined to the illiterate group among our foreign population, but are found even among otherwise respectable and dutiable citizens.

That the franchise should be so lightly held indicates a decided lack somewhere in our education or in our conception of citizenship. When one considers the evolution of democracy and the struggle through which the Anglo-Saxon peoples have come in an effort to assert the right, inherent in all free men, to have a share in the direction of government, one begins to fear that true conception of freedom and democratic principles is being lost. What a contrast between the spirit of our fathers who claimed this land from its primitive state with constant hazard of life and property, and their descendants who apparently are willing to run the risk of allowing the country to be badly governed and possibly to be burdened with a deadening load of debt while their only excuse is nothing more serious often than the inclemency of the weather! What an indictment against our twentieth century civilization is the suggestion recently put forth that it may be necessary to instigate some sort of penalty in the case of those neglecting to perform their duty at the polls.

Has not the time come to take some steps to prevent this increasing lack of interest in the political well-being of the country? For criminal negligence in other directions, the state imposes a penalty. Is not negligence in this direction criminal, and should it not, therefore, involve a penalty?

LAST YEAR'S ACCIDENTS

With the thirty-first of December, 1924, industry in the Province of Ontario saw the completion of the first ten years of operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act in this Province.

During this ten-year period 442,002 accidents to workmen were reported to the board and of these 3,983 were fatal.

In the ten years $45,937,221.06 was awarded in compensation to injured workmen and their widows and children and in providing medical attention, hospital and skilled nursing services and artificial limbs and appliances.

This means that, roughly speaking, the average accident reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board has cost over $100.

In 1924 there was a decrease in the number of accidents from 1923. In 1924 there were 58,675 accidents, of which 402 were fatal, as compared with 61,109, of which 379 were fatal, in 1923.

The total benefits awarded during 1924 were $6,122,809.26, or about $50,000 less than awarded during 1923.

Industry in Ontario may feel that this toll of accidents is a heavy one, and yet, on the other hand, an enormous amount of good has resulted from the passing of the Compensation Act over ten years ago.

The great advantages of the present system as compared with the old law are the speedy disposition of claims, the immense saving of expense to all parties concerned, the great widening of the workers' protection and the immunity of the employer from individual liability.

Although the Ontario Act is now the most liberal in the world, especially in cases of severe accidents, the rates of assessment paid by employers are very much less than under other systems in adjoining States.

Accident prevention is a common problem for both employer and employee.

The purchasing public is interested in the fact that ove $45,000,000 has had to be provided by industry in the last ten years to pay for accidents, and it is a fact that nothing but good can come from a reduction in the accidents and a consequent lowering of compensation costs.

IT WILL NEVER BE

A diseaseless world in 50 years, is the vision of an eminent physician. That in the next half century medical science will uncover what are now mysteries is not improbable. Plagues are already just about a matter of history.

To vision a deceaseless world, however, is to place a great deal of reliance on the intelligence of human beings who wil live in 1975. Though knowledge of the laws of health be complete and causes of all disease be known, to predict that every one will have full regard for his physical welfare is to expect too much. It is to be feared that illness will be common until human nature changes.

No matter how much science achieves in its conquest of disease something must be left to the individual in avoiding the conditions which produce disease. Not every individual will have supreme regard for his own or the public's welfare. The doctor may foresee the time when it will be an unpardonable disgrace to be sick because such a state will imply ignorance or wanton disregard of well known law. It may take vastly more than a half-century to lift the race to that plane, if it is at all possible, about which there may be doubt.

AN UNWANTED RESULT

(Baltimore Sun)

It would be an undesirable sequel to the booming wheat market if the farmer proceeds promptly to put himself back into the hole from which he is just emerging. He has demonstrated that he can raise more wheat than he can sell at profitable prices. Unanticipated damage to the crop elsewhere has saved him this year. But what of his foresight? It would be a grave reflection on his ability to look ahead if he plunges on again, trusting to luck and the weather to give him top prices for another bumper crop.

MUSCOVY AND CATHAY

(Chicago Tribune)

Moscow is, in fact, the capital of Russia, expressing Russia as a Petrograd could not. Petrograd was artificial, a facade borrowed from Europe for an Asiastic state. In returning to Moscow the Russian Government turns its back on Peter and his western dreams and faces the east and Asia, the mother of Russia. Bolshevik propaganda is infiltrating Asia far and wide. In Peking, at the moment, the Bolshevik influence is powerful. In Europe it has failed of accomplishing anything important. It may very well fare better in Asia.

IMMORTAL YOUTH

(London Times)

Youth and age, indeed, seem to be discovering fresh bonds of sympathy in the general quickening of enthusiasm which is the accompaniment of an assurance of longer life. Age has so very much to give to youth and is so much more capable now of giving it effectively. The complaint is often made that each year of added existence tends to create an "older outlook" in the general mind by altering the proportions of recruits and veterans. But that complaint becomes groundless when the spirit of youth remains alive and active in the hearts of the old campaigners. Divided no longer by an impassible physical barrier, age and youth can meet on terms of equality in the common service of humanity.

THE SUBMARINE SCHOOL

(Washington Post)

No fleet would now dare to approach within two hundred miles of an enemy coast protected by mines, submarines and aircraft. The Japanese fleet would not attack the American coast, but with its equipment of submarines it would clear the Pacific of American ships within a week after the declaration of war. There is a demand for an appropriation of $6,500,000 for the elevation of guns on old battleships. What good will that do, if Congress should subtract that sum from appropriations for submarines or aircraft? Congress should know how much to spend for national defence, and then should spend the money in the most effective way.

SUN YAT SEN'S RAVINGS

Hong Kong Press:

No one can look back over the last twelve or thirteen years of China's history and fail to recognize that a momentous error was committed when the Throne was suddenly swept away and the whole power of government vested in a people before they had undergone the necessary education which would qualify them to effectively exercise it. If the sovereignty of China has been reduced to mere farce, Dr. Sun Yet Sen, more than any other man is responsible for it. And when he talks of the Russian Revolution as having set an example to China of how a nation may free self from the shackles of foreign aggression and injustice, we can only conclude that his mental condition is such that he ought not to be at large.

MAKING EYES AT US

Lowell Courier Citizen:

The Pan-American Union would like to have Canada in its membership. There, after all, is an association of nations which conceivably may develop into a live competitor of the League of Nations. Canada, not very willingly, it is suspected, already takes part in the deliberations at Geneva; but so, for that matter, do most of the Latin-American states. The Pan-American Union has a good nucleus of organization. With Canada as well as the United States in it something still might be shown Europe anent American capacity alone. This motive, we take it, must underlie the effort of the Pan-Americans at this time to interest Our Lady of the Snows. The association of nations which Mr. Harding promised to bring into existence may in reality have been in process of formation right around the corner from the White House.

Thirty Years Ago

Sir—As it is seldom anything by way of news from Point Anne appears in the public press I thought I would send you a few lines, as I know many of your readers are interested in the amount of business done in this place The new quarry is one of the finest found in Point Anne yet, and at present the company have about thirty-seven men employed quarrying and cutting stone to be shipped as soon as the season opens.

There is another company from Morrisburg ready to start here. They claim to want 20,000 yards of stone. That will make only a small hole in this place. There will be about 75 men empoyed by this company, which should make quite a stir in the business of your city. (Signed).

25 Stations in U.S. from Ottawa

Mr. O. Schoenber, 164 Creighton Street Ottawa, Canada, writes: "Yours are the best tubes I have used. With one Myers Tube I have heard in one night, about 25 stations in the United States. The farthest one was San Francisco." Such results are achieved with Myers Tubes because the leads are not bunched as in the bulbous or incandescent types. They function in any position as detectors, amplifiers or oscillators.

Three types for dry and storage batteries. Complete ready to mount. At your dealer's or sent postpaid for $4

Deaths And Funerals

MRS. R. B. TAYLOR

Death robbed one of its finest women, and Queen's University of one of its staunchest supporters in the passing Thursday evening of Mrs. R. B. Taylor, wife of Principal Taylor of the University, after a long illness. Fast-ebbing vitality failed to diminish the courage of the deceased in life.

The late Mrs. Taylor, was born in Edinborough, Scotland, in 1872, the daughter of Pro. J. G. McKendrick. She was educated at Glasgow University, and at Jena, Germany, showing a marked ability as linguist, so much that she could speak German as fluently as she could English. In 1896 she was married to Principal Taylor.

Throughout her early life Mrs. Taylor took the deepest interest in the poor and unfortunate, a trait which she carried through life. While in London she took charge of a settlement in the east end, and through untiring efforts and devotion to the work she chose, brought it to a high degree of efficiency. She never tired of working for those less fortunate than herself, and in this won the heartfelt thanks of thousands.

MRS. ELIZABETH HARRISON

Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, widow of the late Lorenza D. Harrison, died this morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. George Dawkins, 28 East Moira St. Deceased was born in Prince Edward County and was in her 90th year. Four daughters and three sons survive, Mrs. G. Dawkins, Belleville; Mrs. L. McGregor, Mrs. Mary Clarke of Lindsay; Mrs. C. Armstrong of Oshawa; Edgar of Silver Lake; Milton of Severn Bridge, and Harvey of Grass Hill. Mrs. Harrison has been living with Mrs. Dawkins for the past two years, having previously come from Lindsay. She had been sick for some time.

MRS. HARRIETT HAIGHT

The funeral of the late Mrs. Harriett Haight, widow of the late Stephen Haight took place this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Martha Farley, 48 Everett street. The service was held at the house and interment was made at the Belleville Cemetery. Rev. Captain Kenny conducted the services. There were many friends and relatives in attendance. Bearers were Alf. Delaney, Charles Bonisteel, A. C. Mott, R. H. Ketcheson, J. McCarthy, A. Esmond.

MRS. EFFIE DINGMAN

Floral tributes to the memory of the late Mrs. Effie Gertrude Dingman, wife of W. C. Dingman, 21 Wharf Street were as follows:

Wreath—Derry Lodge, No. 30, L.T.B.; Blue Apron Chapter No. 4.; John Dingman and family.

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. There is nothing like Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment. Try it $1.60 at

NOBODY'S BABY

What promises to be the social theatrical engagement of the season is the forthcoming production of this beautiful spectacular musical comedy entitled "Nobody's Baby", which promises to be one of the funniest and most amusing novelties ever presented in Belleville. There is not a serious line in the show, it is just one big laugh from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Combined with this three act comedy will be some of the most spectacular specialties ever attempted in this city. Thousands of beautiful flowers are being prepared by the committee and every effort is being made by all concerned in making this an entertainment of great merit.

Want Speed Now For Airplanes

And Manufacturers Are Giving Countries What They Want

Paris, Jan. 10.—Speed, speed and more speed, was the main object toward which airplane manufacturers strived during 1924, judging by the exhibits shown at the Ninth French Aviation Salon in the Grand Palais. It seems as if the trend toward monstrous machines with weight lifting capacity ranging from three to five tons, prevalent at last year's salon, has been abandoned.

In order to achieve speed, the designers and manufacturers have reverted to monoplanes and sesquiplanes, all-metal thick wings, and powerful motors built as light as possible.

"The manufacturer must build whatever the customer wants," said Monsieur E. Dewoitinne. "In our case the customer is the state and the state wants fast planes, so it is up to us to supply them."

There are orders for 300 of these fast planes now on file at the Dewoitinne plant for delivery in 1925. They are distributed among the following governments: Jugoslavia, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Belgium and Japan. It is understood that the largest order comes from the Far Eastern country.

Nieuport presents a sesquiplane, armed with four machine guns, despite the fact that it is only 7.50 meters in length and has a wing spread of only 12 meters. They say its 450 horsepower motor can haul that plane at a rate of 300 kilometers per hour for three solid hours. It has a lifting capacity of 500 kilos.

Potez, Salmson, Breguet and Caudron all turned in "pursuit planes" with dimensions and lifting capacity similar to the Nieuport. They all claim to be able to negotiate between 250 and 300 kilometers an hour.

Farman alone exhibits a huge bombing biplane, equipped with four 500 horsepower motors, which weighs 11,-800 kilos when ready to take the air. This weight includes 2,500 kilos of bombs and 2,000 kilos of fuel.

The armament of this air cruiser consists of 32 bombs of 56 kilos each, with seven to ten bombs of 100 and 200 kilos, all arranged with automatic release. Provision is made for bombs of 500 kilos instead of the lighter bombs when necessary. Two machine guns, one for and another aft, complete the military equipment. It carries a crew of seven men; two machine gunners, two pilots, two mechanics and a navigating officer, who also acts as bombing expert.

A Salmson motor capable of developing 480 horsepower and weighing only 330 kilos, was the subject of much scrutiny by the experts.

To the layman one of the most popular features of the salon has been the Breguet machine with which Captain Pelletier d'Oisy flew from Paris to Sanghal. The motor which propelled the plane from Paris to Hanoi has been taken apart and the worn condition of some of the pieces just holding by a thread has been giving the visitors a thrill as they discuss "what might have been."

Has Invented Crude Oil Engine

Swede Claims No Over-heating of the Engine, Lower Cost

Stockholm, Jan. 10—A solution of the problem of how to drive an automobile on crude oil, and at one-third the cost of gasoline, is claimed by a Swedish inventor, Nils Anderson, who has perfected an engine attachment for this purpose after several years of experimenting. Anderson's device can readily be installed on any ordinary motor and makes it possible to use crude oil, kerosene, wood alcohol or gasoline.

The crux of the problem, says the inventor was the fact that crude oil cannot be completely vaporized without special treatment, the residue would clog the engine. He solves this by exposing the oil to intense heat, which shatters such ingredients as cannot be turned into gas. They remain in the form of a combustible fluid and are consumed during the explosion in the cylinder. When using crude oil, the motor must, however, be started with gasoline from a separate small container while the oil is carried in the regular gasoline tank of the car.

The crude oil attachment consists of a super-heater, a special carburetor and exhaust pipe, together with the necessary connecting rods for manipulation.

Among the advantages claimed are a smaller quantity of oil consumed per mile, less lubrication, no overheating of the engine and a reduction of about 70 per cent from the cost of runing a car on gasoline.

WOMAN AGED 76 CHARGES DAUGHTER

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Arthur Chamberland, aged 32, of 258 Chateauguay St., pleaded not guilty to a serious charge when he appeared in arraignment court yesterday on complaint of Mrs. E. Beauleau, a woman 76 years old, who lives alone at 50 Pichet Lane, Point St Charles.

Chamberland is claimed to have assaulted the aged woman and stolen a purse containing $2 from a table. He was arrested at his home Thursday night by Detectives Degrosélier and French.

Yesterday Mrs. Beauleau laid another complaint. She alleged that Chamberland had seduced her and asked for the attendance of a physician which was granted.

Mrs. Arthur Meighen, wife of the Hon. Arthur Meighen, will be the guest of honor this afternoon at an informal reception in the Rose Room of the Arcade, given by the Women's Conservative Association of Hamilton.

Circus Story Is Belle Feature

"The Side Show of Life" Coming Here on Monday

The circus is coming to town! Bigger and better than ever! The most marvelous aggregation of wild animals in captivity! See the death-defying leap of Madame Zaza, the excruciatingly funny clowns, the antics of the pachyderms, commonly called elephants, etc., etc., etc. Peanuts, popcorn and pink lemonade! Hurray! The parade is coming!

Now don't get excited folks, the circus we have in mind is in the new Paramount picture, "The Side Show of Life" that is to be shown at the Belle Theatre next Monday. Willis Goldbeck and Julie Herne adapted it from "The Mountebank," the absorbing novel by William J. Locke. We'd like to wager that you'll get a bigger "kick" out of the reel circus than you would out of the real one because the one and only Ernest Torrence of "The Covered Wagon" fame has the featured role of the fun-making clown who becomes a brigadier-general during the war and after the war is over is forced to return to his circus life.

Herbert Brenon, who produced the picture is a stickler for realism, so you had better be prepared to see the circus in all its glory. There are a lot of extra-added attractions in the notable cast: Anna Q. Nilsson is featured with Torrence in the production.

Come early and avoid the rush!

Headhunters Look Very Friendly But-

Arrows Poisoned By Smearing With Putrid Flesh

A race of headhunters with remarkable Jewish features has been discovered by Captain Frank Hurley, the famous Polar Explorer, 250 miles up the Fly River at Lake Murray, New Guinea. Except for their bronzed skins and lack of civilization, he said they might be mistaken for one of the lost tribes of Israel. Captain Hurley together with party of seven scientists spent two years in New Guinea where he carried out extensive explorations by means of seaplane. The new race discovered by Captain Hurley was called "Sambios" because of their habit of calling out "Sambio" and waving their padles in friendly fashion when approached. This deception almost cost the party their lives They were lured into an ambush on their first visit ashore and effected a miraculous escape through a hail of poisoned arrows.

Friendly relations were established with them by trading tin cans and axes in exchange for native products and specimens which are now at the Australian Museum, Sydney. The Sambios had never seen metal before and did all their boiling in vessels made from palm leaf or bamboo.

The men of the tribe are described by Captain Hurley as exceptionally powerful for their stature, ranging in height from five feet six to five feet nine inches. The men were able to bend bows several feet higher than themselves. Their arrows were pointed with bone and poisoned by smearing with putrid flesh.

At Lake Muray the party discovered immense fields of Pink Lotus, a new species, with a flower spread of fourteen inches, on stems eight feet tall, similar to the sacred Lotus of Egypt. The highest position on the tribal hierachy goes to warrior who has collected the most human skulls. The shrine of one veteran was embellished with no less than thirty six. The motto of these aborigines, Captain Hurley said, was the more victims in this life the more slaves in the next.

The victims were placed in a huge basket work object, which was revered as a sacred spirit. Arms and legs of the victim were broken to avoid escape. The body next morning was cut up and seasoned with cocoanut and eaten. The actual warrior who killed his rival does not participate in these feasts. The natives were terrified by the flying machines which they regarded as demons and sacrificed a pig each day in order to propitiate them. "The Lost Tribe" was the special holiday attraction, Xmas and New Year's weeks at Massey Hall, Toronto, where enormous busines was done. It is promised for Belleville Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A NEW COACH

Recognizing the demand for a truly comfortable and economical car of the coach type, Dodge Brothers have provided it.

The new Coach reveals a characteristic maturity of design—in the low-swung lines of the body, in the arrangement of the interior for five-passenger comfort, and in the exceptional dimensions of the doors and windows.

The car is lacquer finished in Dodge Brothers blue with a body stripe of gold. Fittings and fixtures are first quality throughout.

So far as riding comfort and dependability are concerned, it is only necessary to add that the Coach is built on Dodge Brothers sturdy chassis and cushioned by Dodge Brothers underslung springs.

GERMAN COLUMNIST HAS NO FAVORITES

Hambourg, Jan. 10.—A column conductor on the Hambourg Correspondent has compiled a number of opinions about the salient characteristics of men of different nationalities. Here are some of them:

"One American is a silent drinker. Two organise a limited company, and three enact the prohibition of alcohol."

"One Englishman is an eccentric creature. Two organize an athletic contest, and three make a great nation."

"One German is a pedant. Two found a brewery, and three make war."

"One Italian is a syndicalist. Two make a love tragedy and three march against Rome."

"One Russian represents a variety of political parties."

TWO YANKEES DO BIG ICE BUSINESS

Buenos Aires, Jan. 10.—American ice cream soda is at last finding favor with the Argentines. Three years ago two enterprising American youths opened an American candy store and imported the first American soda fountain. Save for Americans and a few English, however, the soda fountain was little patronized at first. For a cool non-intoxicating drink, the Argentines continued to prefer cold milk.

But advertising and the gustatory merits of the ice cream soda itself gradually brought an increasing number of native customers. The American boys at length set up two more [illegible] soda fountain in each, and with the advents of the hot days of the southern summer, they are now doing a rushing business.

TO BUILD MODEL HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, Jan. 10.—The success which Queen Mary's doll's house achieved as a gatherer of funds for hospitals, has encouraged three public men to commission a famous woodcarver to build an oak model of the Houses of Parliament. This will be constructed on a half-inch scale, 40 feet long, 31½ feet wide and 15 feet high.

The carver estimates it will take five years to complete the model, which will occupy 21 men daily, two of these being expert carvers. The cost will approximate $225,000. The foundation of the structure will be of teak, but the rest of the model will be of oak and all of the carving true to detail. After exhibition in London it is planned to the take the model around the country, all proceeds going to hospital funds.

The wheels of justice worked with speed and precision when inside of two hours, Young Gee, Chinese, who burglarized a store in Vancouver, B.C., was captured after a chase of two blocks, appeared in police court and was sentenced to serve two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Commander D. Jones, chairman of the Scottish Fisheries Board, is in Victoria, B.C., conferring with the Government on plans for the settlement of the Hebridean fishermen on the west coast of Vancouver Island. He will inspect possible settlement areas before reporting to the Overseas Settlement Board in England.

The Old Favorite

Is Just As Popular As Ever

And Just as Effective in Relieving Coughs, Colds, Croup and Bronchitis

Family Size 75c

For over a quarter of a century Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has been the favorite treatment for coughs and colds.

It is still growing in favor, for the simple reason that it can be depended on as a positive relief for Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough and Asthma.

Bronchitis

Mrs. Lena Hall, Loiselleville, Ont., writes:—

"My daughter suffered for four years with recurrent attacks of bronchitis. She was treated by several doctors, but none of them seemed to do her much good. I started giving her Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine, and noticed that her cough was somewhat better, so decided to keep on using this and nothing else. The results were most satisfactory, as my daughter never has to miss school, and is steadily gaining in weight. I consider I owe a debt of thanks to Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine, and I would never be without it in the house."

Severe Colds

Mr. Fred Adams, New Ross, N.S., writes:—

"I have tried many medicines for coughs and colds but never found anything to compare with Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. We have had the greatest satisfaction with this medicine, for it never fails to relieve a cough and loosen it up."

Mrs. Frank Dolman, Flat Lands, N.B. writes:—

"I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with the best results for croup and colds in my family. I am sure no home is safe without it."

BROCKVILLE 7, BELLEVILLE 3, RECREATION TEAMS READY, KINGSTON SIGNS NEW MAN

Belleville Met Big Opposition

Lost Battle With Brockville Last Night By 7 to 3

WAS FAST HOCKEY

Both Teams Step it Out, With Brocks Having Edge

(By Staff Reporter

Brockville's "concentrated" Intermediate hockey squad of 1924-25 won the most gruelling game of their season to date, when they earned a victory from Ed Thomas' sextette by the score of 7-3, last night at Brockville arena before the largest and most enthusiast turn out of fans for the season.

Brockville led all the way, the closest the locals ever came to tying it up was one goal. The game was in doubt, however, until well into the final stanza, for the Red shirts were chasing the Island down crew with a vengeance, and did not stop trying until seconds before the final bell when they came dangerously near scoring.

The scores by periods were 2-1, 4-2, and 7-3.

Frankly speaking, the best team won, and any fan who saw the game should agree that it would take a snappy team to beat. Belleville, the way they were going last night. They played the same brand of hockey that sent Kingston down to a 5-1 defeat here recently, but they were up against a different team. In fact they were up against what is regarded as the best Intermediate O.H.A. team which has represented Brockville since they re-entered the O.H.A.

Kingborn is not with them this year, that speed marchant who was slated for advancement, but they have Munroe—whom they call "Dunc" with pride and justification. They have Bill Guest, the Kemptville find, Higgins the wing man surprise packet, "Bounce" Holway and others.

Pretty Combination

When their machine commenced to operate, it was obvious that displaying the speed, excellent combination and hockey grey matter that they did display, Belleville would have to step into town to take their measure. Every man on their line-up was speedy and at least two of them seemed to excel Belleville's fastest last night. Munro and Guest, the beacon lights, stood out. They worked a bewildering combination made the more effective by superb stick handling. At times they swooped down with lighting combination two and three men, but at other times by sheerly exclusive stick handling they successfully worked a three man, slow pass com which was pretty as it is unusual.

Thanks to the new rules and to Harold Mitchell the referee, it was one of the cleanest exhibitions ever seen in Brockville between the old rivals. Two or three minors were the total of penalties, there being no body checking to mention. Checking and at times slashing with plenty of back checking made up for the lack of weight thrown into the battle. In this department, Belleville tore into them like they did against Kingston's "Amalgamated" team here, but it did not work nearly so effectively, for thye had more speed to contend with and found that the Brockville six were very capable at the same game, and seemed prepared for such tactics.

Bill Green Marked

Bill Green, the terror of Brockville threw a scare when he appeared in uniform after it had been reported that he had not come or had left the train at Napanee and other foolish rumors. He was marked however all evening, and every time he broke away there were at last three men on top of him. He did get through though several times for splendid rush efforts and pretty assists in combination efforts.

For Brockville Munro was the best man and he is a dandy. He is one of the surest and smoothest skaters in the game and with that he is a tricky and brainy stick handler. He was fed all evening and never lost an opportunity. Bill Guest is also a speed merchant with a wicked and accurate shot, and is also a very good stick handler. These two boys gave Whalen and Hagerman something to worry about from the drop of the puck. Higgins, at right wing, surprised Brockville fans with his stellar exhibition. Though short of stature, Higgins is some skater is quick as a flash and an elusive hickory wielder. Holway played a good game on defense despite the fact that he stayed in the game for sixty minutes with an injured leg which made him wince with pain throughout. He was game to stay and turn in a game like he did. Saundercook, Holway's young partner, the burly junior of last year's Brockville squad, was the other surprise. He played a nifty game. Kerwin, the Niagara Falls boy subbed, but did not shine, though he broke into the score column. Simon the other sub was never used. Murray in goal was an absolute stone wall, and time after time, his wonderful work literally robbed the locals of goals.

All Worked Hard

For the locals there was no shining star, but they all worked as though their lives depended upon the outcome of the game, and it was gratifying to learn that their condition has improved so that they can stand the gaff for the route. In this connection however, Brockville were just as strong if not stronger.

Stan Nurse in goal probably should be singled out as having turned in a game which equalled Murray's performance, robbed Brockville of several other ordinarily "sure thing" counters, and saved his team from having a bigger score run up on them. Several times he turned away shots which were sent at him from inside.

Though many Brockville rushes were broken up, their three man efforts when speeded up was hard to stop, and more than once they went from end to end, drawing out the defence and swooping in on Nurse. Their passing was very accurate on ice that was smooth as glass and in surprisingly good condition for the mild day and evening. Before the end of the first period, it was evident Brockville would play a defensive game when they grabbed a short lead, and they sure did. The last two stanzas saw a three man defense facing Belleville rushes, and though they got through many times, they were turned back by persistent checking or sent to the corners other times knowing that Murray is unbeatable except at very close range, the locals wisely bored in, but were often robbed of their shots when they waited too long. Belleville passes, though fast and accurate in most cases were intercepted more than once by the alert and peppy opposition.

Allowed Smoking

The rink management allowed smoking—something new at Brockville and after the first period a blue haze hung over the ice and made it difficult for goalies to see the disc in its hectic flights. Luckily no one was injured, except referee Mitchell when Frechette in shooting the puck to him to face off, lifted one which struck him in the abdomen. He resumed in a couple of minutes.

The game opened fairly fast and not until the first tally four minutes after the opening did the teams find themselves for the pretty stuf.

Holway, the old Belleville boy, had the honor of netting number one on a quick scoop from close range after having taken a fast pass from the dangerous Munro after a pretty half way rush. Number two came right after the face off, and the cheering for number one went for number two, when Higgins with a long deadly shot beat Nurse. Brockville speeded up and Belleville pulled down the gas lever also. Munro broke through and going from end to end alone, all but scored. It was Nurse alone who saved, Munro drawing a penalty for upsetting Green. Weir broke through and with assistance of the forwards came nearly beating Murray with a close in shot. In nine minutes the locals drew first blood, when Hagerman and Frechette broke loose and swept down on the Brockville citadel, Frechette taking the pass and bulging the twine. Brockville checked hard for the remainder and stopped Belleville time and again. They intercepted Belleville passes and then broke away in beautiful combination efforts, but Nurse saved. Higgins single-handled, went through but Nurse turned him aside at the goal mouth. Weir upset Saundercook and drew a short rest. Until the bell, Munro broke through time and again and Nurse it was who saved further tallies.

Second Spasm

The second period had but nicely started when Munroe broke through again, going around the defense with clever stick work. He was turned aside by Nurse whom alone he had to beat. Finkle pulled the same stunt when he recovered the disc, going from net to net alone in a pretty rush, and losing out only by a spectacular stop by Murray. Finkle then drew a penalty for a crash with Higgins. Brockville then made Nurse do some interpretive dancing between the goal posts, until he had robbed them to the heart breaking point, but they would not quit. After eight minutes of strenuous hockey, N. Guest beat him with a tricky short range peck, after he accepted a pass from Munroe in a pretty combination rush. Belleville scored one minute later in the prettiest play of the evening. It was a three man combination effort from end to end, and the full width of the rink, Whalen shooting when on top of Murray who was baffled by Belleville speed and accuracy. Kerwin came right back in another minute, in an identical three man combination play, whacked the rubber at Nurse, who saved, but like a flash Kerwin slapped in the rebound.

Brockville threw in a three man defense when Belleville worked desperately to score and after Whalen and Frechette came within an ace of tallying on a nice rush with two minutes to go. The period ended without further scoring.

Clever Rushes

Bill Green opened the fireworks in number three by going through and getting in a scramble in Brockville goal mouth. Murray diplomatically fell and sprawled in front while, Munroe grabbed the puck in his hands and fell on it stoppini play. In two minutes, Guest on a spectacular rush sent Brockville's fifth past Nurse but Hagerman came back in a minute and assisted by Weir and Finkle, beat Murray for Belleville's last.

Weir, Green and Frechette swept down and got through but failed to tally, and Finkle drew a penalty. Weir then went the entire length of the rink alone, with all the Broc blue shirts after him and failed to score only by dint of Murray's excellent save. Green came right back and depressed hard to cut down the lead and Brockville were bombarding Nurse in starts in spells, but they could not beat him. Munroe netted another, 12 minutes after play started, when he poked one in the lower left hand corner from two feet out taking an accurate pass from Kerwin in a pretty rush. Munroe scored again in fourteen minutes when he took a pass from Guest in a nice rush, and that ended the scoring, though Belleville pressed hard to cut down the lead, and Green came within but inches from scoring with one minute to go.

The line-ups: Belleville — Goal, Nurse; defence, Green and Finkle; centre, Hagerman; left wing, Whalen right wing, Weir; subs., Frechette, Armstrong.

Brockville—Goal, Murray; defence, J. Saundercook, and Holway; centre, Munroe; left wing, Guest; right wing Higgins; subs., A. Kerwin and Morley Simon.

Belleville Fans Much Interested

Intellligencer Telephone Rang Steadily For Over Two Hours

With the help of the Canadian National Telegraphs and the Bell Telepone Company The Daily Intelligencer was able to give efficient service to the hockey fans of Belleville last night. They had the scores just about as fast as they were made down in Brockville.

Fans commenced to call 1248 as early as 8.30 o'clock and from then on, until eleven o'clock the telephone was never idle. It seemed all Belleville and his sisters wanted to know how the game was going. In spite of the rush, however, the telephone girls co-operated nicely.

Bernie Brophy to Play For Kingston

Believe Queen's Man Will Be Great Support to Team

Kingston, Jan. 0.—A meeting of the executive of the Kingston Hockey Club was held Thursday afternoon at 4.30 in the Board of Trade rooms and matters in connection with the team were talked over thoroughly.

The executive were told of the game in Belleville by Coach Gelley and they were not at all inclined to criticize the players for the loss they sustained at Belleville. They were satisfied that they lost the game under conditions over which they had no control and they were well satisfied with the showing made by the team after the first period.

It was decided that Bernie Brophy of Queen's who is with the Tricolor seniors, will line up on Monday night against Belleville here and it is very likely that Brophy will remain with the team throughout the season. The addition of Brophy to the squad should increase the chances of the locals against Belleville very considerably. Brophy will play at his regular position on the defence and he should give the visitors plenty of trouble.

Good Work Out

The Kingston intermediates were out in force Thursday night at the Arena and for over an hour they were put through a fast pace by Coach T. F. Gelley on a dandy sheet of ice and the way the men worked was certainly encouraging to the coach. The players showed more dash and pep to their play last night than they have displayed at any time this season and they got team play quite smoothly. They worked the long passing game to a nicety and if they have as much success with it on Monday night as they had last night, they should certainly give Belleville a busy time. Joe Smith was an absentee but the rest of the squad was out. Rogers, Watts, Rooney, Lawlor, Gibson and Hargraft made up one team while Lindsay, Kirby, Devlin, Bellamy, Brooks and a newcomer from Queen's made up the other team and each side seemed to work exceptionally well together.

PRO. BASEBALL FOR KINGSTON?

The following despatch appeared in The Hamilton Spectator of Wednesday.

"Tom Halligan, president of the Michigan-Ontario Baseball League was a visitor in the city yesterday, and left this morning for points east on what he terms a "secret" mission. Halligan was in conference with Knotty Lee yesterday, and Lee accompanied him to Kingston, where they will look over the ground with the idea of placing a team there. Lee acted as coach for the Kingston amateur team last summer and is convinced that professional ball would be a paying proposition in the Limestone city. If Kingston financial men consider the proposition a good one it is likely that Ottawa will also be taken in, despite the fact that the territory is controlled by the Eastern Canada league. Professional baseball was a paying proposition in Ottawa during the days of the old Canadian league, but the Eastern Canada brand has never proven popular there, owing to the fact that Ottawa men did not control the club."

Leagues Are Well Organized Now

All Bowlers Off to Good Start at Recreation Alleys

At two different meeting of ladies and gentlemen bowlers at the Recreation alleys the new leagues will be under way on Monday night. In the senior will be seen two new teams, the Fruit Merchants who won the junior league and the Ciaco, a new team from Corbyville. The Wanderers and the Hardware giving 150 pins handicap to the other four teams, which should make it the best league yet organized. In the ladies league there are eight teams and 12 teams in the junior men's league. The following are the teams who will bowl in the winter league. Senior—Hardware Wanderers, Kiwanis, Hikers, Fruit-Merchants, Ciaco. Junior—Bankers, Belleville Motors, Durant-Stars, Nat. Castings, Baby Shoes, Wolves of the North, Rovers, K. of C., C.N.R., Almite, Natural Tread, Ciaco. Ladies—Wanderers, Mah Jongs, Am. On. C. Ramblers, Maple Leafs, Belmonts, Strikers, C.I.A.

LONDON AND GALT BATTLE TO A TIE

London, Ont., Jan. 10—The London A.A.A. and Galt Terriers battled to a 2-all tie in last night's Big Six senior O.H.A. fixture before over 2,000 fans both teams notching their goals in the first hour's play and being unable to break the spell in 30 minutes of overtime. Rene Fournier scored the only goal in the first period, and Art. Gauthier, another Frenchman, tied the count for Galt in the second. Starking put London ahead again early in the third period but the Terriers were not to be denied as Alex Watts knotted it again within six more minutes of full time.

KITCHENER AT LAST TAKES ON FIXTURE

Kitchener, Jan. 10. — Kitchener broke into the win column last night for the first time this season by defeating the Stratford Indians 6 to 2 in a Big Six O.H.A. senior game. The Green Shirts were much superior to their opponents in every department of the game, and Stratford were fortunate in not bein beaten farther off. Kitchener dominated the play from bell to bell; in fact, one of the Stratford goals was a pure gift. Ferguson, of the local defence, knocking in a rebound from Woods' pads when there was not an Indian player in the vicinity.

The visitors were completely held in check by the Green Shirts, who checked back like fiends all evening and played their positions. The Stratford combination play was shattered by this persistent and hard checking throughout the evening, and only on rare occasions were the Indians really dangerous. Kitchener had nearly three times as many dead on shots as their opponents, and they were from closer in.

REMINDERS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Speak kindly to animals as well as to people. A dog's sensitive ear suffers from harsh words or sounds.

Animals fatally hurt should be mercifully killed by some one who knows how to do it with the least suffering.

Do not throw stones at living creatures.

Never carry poultry with their heads downward.

When the owner does not object, give a lump of sugar or other food to the horse that comes to your gate.

Listen to the cry of pain or distress and lend a helping hand.

Causing animals to fight is cruel. Followers of cruel animal sports show depraved character.

Cruel trapping for gain or hunting for sport are products of a barbarous age and have no place in the conduct of a thoughtful man.

Performing animals are nearly always cruelly trained and suffer much in being carried about the country. Help them by not attending such shows.

Pick up nails, glass, tin cans, etc., from walks, streets, or public places, and place them where there will be no danger from them.

Never keep an animal unless you can provide for its comfort and happiness.

Never imprison wild animals or birds, as they cannot enjoy confinement.

Never consider anything pleasure which cause spain or unhappiness to another.

Give up your game or pleasure to comfort the suffering or to increase the happiness of the less fortunate.

Plant trees in your yard to attract birds, thus adding to the beauty and comfort of your home.

Be considerate of the aged, and seek frequent opportunities of bringing them joy and happiness.

Apply the Golden Rule in your dealings with animals.

Do an act of kindness every day. It will be your greatest source of happiness.

Answers to Correspondents

"Merely"—Warts are unsightly things, I agree, but can be removed, you know. When I was a kid, a big fellow adorned (?) the back of one hand, and my music teacher told me to keep a piece of chalk on my desk and frequently during the day moisten it with my tongue and rub on the wart. Well, it was an "honest to goodness" cure and the wart disappeared and left no trace! A more sanitary and up-to-date cure is a small drop of cinnamon oil applied daily. This will not leave a scar either.

"Granny"—It is rather late to reform that finicky child, but it can be done. If he is not sick, then give him three plain meals a day, of nourishing food, withhold all candy, pie, cake and fancy dishes and send him outdoors to get hungry. It will take patience and common sense, but you will soon have the pleasure of seeing him develop a healthy appetite for the wholesome foods—the growing foods. There is nothing more necessary for the health of a child than correct feeding.

N. G.—Yes, I can help you. It has been proved by actual tests that foods which are liked by a convalescent are more beneficial than those viewed with distate. Now, if you will try the following recipe for egg-nog which was given me by a dietition of a leading hospital, you will find it can be taken without causing that "billous feeling" as the ordinary milk, egg and vanilla mixture is apt to do. Mix the juice of half a lemon and 1 tspn. of sugar (or more) together, as if starting a lemonade. Beat the yolk and white of an egg separately, the latter very stiff. Then mix these two as for a custard and put into a tall glass with the lemon mixture. Fill up with cream or rich milk, then mix all well in the glass and set on ice for awhile. The lemon is a big asset. It adds vitamines and also offsets the richness of the cream.

A Womans Soul

BY Charles Garvice

It is not necessary to speak in detail of what he accomplished in Ireland, but this much may be said, that he found the people in the right and the agent in the wrong, and that that agent had a bad time of it! It may be added that Lord Neville succeeded in a few short weeks in winning more hearts among the marquis' tenants than all the Stoyles for centuries had been able to do, and that before many days had passed "the young lord," as he was called was regarded as a friend and protector, and many a faltering voice called down a blessing on his head, and implored him to remain in "the old country." The Irish are a warm-hearted people, quick to resent an injury, but equally quick in their gratitude for a benefit; this handsome young nobleman who had relieved them from their oppressor, and done his best to better their hard lot, received his reward in the shape of an affectionate gratitude which he should remember all his life through.

The absentee landlord, the man who screws the last penny from the tenant, and spends it in Paris or London, has been the curse of the country; and it was because Lord Neville saw this, and owned it freely, that the people trusted him.

Often when he had returned from a day's inspection of the estate, and had relieved the oppressed, he wondered what the marquis would say when he heard what his ambassador had done! Often when, tortured by an anxiety respecting Doris' silence he spent the night pacing up and down his room, he vowed that when they were married they would come and live among these people, who had welcomed him so readily, and so gratefully recognized his efforts on their behalf.

But for the constant hard work, the incessant traveling, Lord Neville would have suffered more than he did; for, as the days wore on, and no news of Doris reached him he began to imagine all sorts of terrible things. One night he dreamed that she was dead and woke trembling and shaking, half-persuaded that he had heard her voice calling to him.

All day her image haunted him, and he found himself pulling up his horse, and sitting staring vacantly before him recalling her last words, her shy, passionate kiss; and then he would dash forward, and try to persuade himself that his letters had, in some way, miscarried, and that all would be well.

One morning his servant brought him a letter, and he seized it eagerly, but his face fell as he saw the Stoyle coat of arms on the envelope.

The letter was from the marquis. It was the first he had written, though Cecil had sent him a short report of his proceedings each week, and the contents caused him to spring from his chair. It said:

My dear Cecil, I think you had better come back. It appears that your course of true love, like other persons is not running smoothly. Stoyle.

That was all, but it was enough for Cecil. In less than an hour he was on his way to the station as fast as the car could carry him. He was fortunate enough to catch the mail, and, traveling day and night, arrived at Barton Towers just after dinner. The butler started and stared at the young viscount's haggard face and travel-stainedclothes, and in his solemn fashion looked quite shocked.

"Where is the marquis?" demanded Lord Cecil.

"In his room, my lord. I'm sorry to say, dinner is over, but I can serve you——"

"Will you tell the marquis I have arrived, and ask him to see me, please?" said Lord Cecil, interrupting his stately periods. "I shall be ready in ten minutes."

He was scarcely longer, and still pale and wearied-looking, was conducted to the library.

The marquis was sitting in his easy-chair, wrapped in his velvet dressing-gown, and looked up with his usual cold smile, and a slight elevation of the eyebrows denoted his recognition of Cecil's altered appearance.

"How do you do?" he said, giving him the tips of his thin fingers. "I am afraid you have been rather hurried in your journey——"

"I came back without the loss of a moment," said Lord Cecil, gravely. "I should have come before, but I waited to complete the business, or until I heard from you——"

The marquis shrugged his shoulders.

"I'm afraid you have inconvenienced yourself on my account," he said, coolly and indifferently. "There was no reason on earth why you should remain there a moment longer than you liked——"

Lord Cecil's pale face flushed, and he made a movement of impatience, almost of indignation.

"You must have been bored to death—ah, no; I forgot—you take an interest in those people. Ah, yes. I got your letters—quite reports, weren't they? I am ashamed to say I didn't read them."

Lord Cecil's eyes flashed, but he restrained himself with an effort.

"My lord," he said, grimly, more firmly and sternly than he had ever spoken in his life, "I will not trouble you with an account of my mission—for it was a mission, carelessly as you ignore it. I am too full of anxiety on another matter. Will you tell me the meaning of the note you sent me?"

The marquis stopped again and looked at him with a faint, puzzled confusion, as if he were trying to remember what he had written; then he nodded.

"Ah, yes; I remember. I sent you the note because I thought you would like to hear some information I received about Miss Barlow——"

"Miss Marlowe, do you mean?" said Lord Cecil, biting his lips. "What information——"

"Give me time, please," said the marquis, arranging his dressing-gown. "Your impetuosity is rather trying."

"Great heavens!" exclaimed Lord Cecil, clinching his hands; "why do you torture me like this? You forget—or do you not forget?—is it from sheer malice that you keep me in suspense? You know, I see you know, that I have not heard from Miss Marlowe; that I fear some accident——"

A PADEREWSKI STORY

Paderewski, prince of pianists, tells an amusing story of a lady who fancied herself as a vocalist. One day while playing the accompaniment to one of her songs, she came to the conclusion that the piano did not sound right somehow, and telephoned for a tuner. The man came, and found the instrument in perfect order. However, he pottered about for awhile, pocketed the fee, and departed. A few days later his employer received another telephone message from the lady. Her piano, she complained, had not been properly tuned. It was no better than before, and she was very disappointed. After receiving a reprimand from his employer, the hapless tuner made another trip, and again tested every note only to find, as previously, no fault with the instrument. This time he told the lady so. "Yes," she said. "It does sound all right, doesn't it, when you play on it; but as soon as I begin to sing it gets all out of tune."

This Lassie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emmans, of 215 Seventh Ave., N. E., Portage La Prairie, Man., is one of the many Canadian mothers who are enthusiastic about the vaporizing salve, Vicks VapoRub, for treating children's colds. Mrs. Emmans writes: "My little girl had croup at night pretty badly and Vicks did her a lot of good. I have also used it with very satisfactory results for head and chest colds."

Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsilitis, bronchitis, croup or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin.

LAST POEM OF ROBERT BURNS

The last poem of Robert Burns, written a few days before he died to the girl who nursed him on his death bed, has been found in Waiko Maiti Otago, a remote settlement in New Zealand. Its existence had been unknown.

The poem is addressed to "Miss Jessie Lewars," who nursed Burns while his wife, Jenny, was ill. She was a neighbor of the poet in Dumfries, Scotland, and later married a man named Thomson, who apparently carried the poem to New Zealand. Thomson thought the poem had been published. Burns wrote:

"How often in the dreary night I clasp my burning hands
Upon those throbbing, sleepless lids, o'er eyes like glowing brands,
And wonder in my weary brain if, haply when I'm dead
My old boon friends for love of me will give my bairnies bread.

"Oh, did the poor not help the poor, each in their simple way,
With humble gift and kindly word, God pity them, I say.
For many a man who clasped my hand with pledges o'er the bowl
When the wine halo passed away proved by a niggard soul.

"Oh, wilt thou gang o' nichts, Jessie, to my forsaken hearth
And be as thou hast been to me, the truest friend on earth?
Sae sweetly in your linnet voice you'll sing my weans to rest
While Jennie leans her weary head upon thy loving breast."

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in over-heated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

JUST IN PASSING

THE RANDOM SHOT

I shot an arrow into the air
It fell in the distance I knew not where,
Till a neighbor said that it killed his calf
And I had to pay him six and half.
I bought some poison to slay some rats,
And a neighbor swore it killed his cats
And rather than argue across the fence
I paid hmim four dolars and 50 cents.
One night I set sailing a toy balloon,
And hoped it would soar till it reached the moon
But the candle fell on a farmer's straw,
And he said I must settle or go to law.
And that is the way with the random shot—
It never hits in the proper spot,
And the joke you sprung, that you think so smart,
May leave a wound in some fellow's heart.

GO AFTER IT

A friend of mine says "If you want a thing very much, you can get it", and he usually gets what he wants. One of the greatest helps is to visualize vividly and persistently the thing you are after. Picture it as already a reality. Cling to this vision of your ideal with all the tenacity you can muster. Keep your mind on your aim. Think it; talk it; act it; live it. Remember that doubt and fear are your worst enemies, because they sap your determination and take the pep out of your endeavor. Never lose faith in yourself or doubt your power to accomplish the thing on which you have set our heart.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A little boy in Belleville had been praying for a baby sister. One day his mother while reading the Intelligencer said "I see Mrs. —— has a little daughter." "How do you know?" asked the little girl. "It says so in the Intelligencer, dear". "Read it to me, please", and the mother read, "Born to Mr. and Mrs. —— on Dec. —, a daughter". The child pondered a moment and then said "I know what I'm going to do. I'm going to stop praying and begin advertising."

NATURE LORE

By Wallace Havelock Robb

WHERE WAS JIMMY

That was the big question. Everybody that ever understood a boy, seemed to know where he was, including Jimmy's best girl, Lucy Grey, for she knew alright, although nobody could get her to admit it.

Everybody knew except those that wanted most to know and on that side were Jimmy's parents and the school and the police and such like.

"Now Lucy," said the Principal," the other girls say that Jimmy sent you a note by one of the other boys, is that so?"

But Lucy took refuge in tears every time anyone asked her anything and they gave her up as a bad job. It was true, she knew but she liked Jimmy and he was a fine, manly little fellow, the defender of stray dogs and her idea of a good hero and she kept mum.

We other boys knew where Jimmy was, for he had been planning all spring time, to have a cave in the woods and some of the boys had been there helping him make it but not lately. We chose two boys to slip away and go out and see but they met Jimmy coming in to town in the dim light of late evening and, after he had made them take an oath to only tell us after we had taken an oath not to tell, he informed them that he had been sleeping Sunday and Monday nights in the barn at home, up in the hay loft.

"Gosh, it was gloomy up there," said Jimmy. "I was scared to death. Mice ran around on the beams and made squeaky noises and gee; it was awful and just as I was getting so sleepy I forgot almost where I was, who should come in at the broken window but an owl or some bird like that and golly, those mice scampered! I laughed out loud and scared the bird and myself too. It must have been an owl, 'cause the barn was full of mice and I saw an owl with a mouse once."

And so the ramble went on, until they parted in the dark.

Jimmy had never been out of his mother's sight for long and if she or his daddy had peeped into Once upon a Time Land, now and again, he never would have run away but as it was, he ran away to feed his hunger for stories.

Jimmy found food for thought. He found out that we must have food for stomach hunger as much as for our romantic dreams and he was discovered eating pie in his own home cellar.

After poor Jimmy had been spanked and bathed and scolded and kissed and cried at and about, until he didn't know whether the world was ashamed of him or he was ashamed of the world, he came back to school and this is what he told us.

"Dja ever almost touch a fox? Dja ever save a wild animal's life? Dja ever get saved yourself, by a wild animal that would have saved you if the other wild animal hadda been bigger?" Silence, from us.

We sat there with eyes as big as wind-mills and when Jimmy had decided our mouths were open wide enough for the story to jump in, he proceeded.

"In church, I got thinking, if I have to give up childish things, I am going to miss a lot, so I went to see some birds and things in the woods.

It was just so interesting that I made it last as long as, well, till I got caught. I was there till late first night and a skunk came in and I was too scared to move and it ate some grub and came around next day and got very friendly. Just when I was beginning to wish he would not be so friendly, cause I had to feed him to keep on the good side of him, there was another thing that made my hair stand up on end. I saw a bunny come tearing through the wods, turn circles all over the place and then squat. The skunk moved over to the doorway of my shelter and looked ready for a fight. The bunny saw us just about the time a big red fox came along, a fox that the bunny was trying to get away from. Poor bunny. He was frozen with fright and doubtless would have been eaten by the fox but, just as the fox was dangerously near, the bunny saw us and took one desperate chance for life, he bounded almost into our place and squatted motionless, not far from the skunk and where I could almost touch him.

Gosh! Foxes look wicked when a fellow meets them like that but they look beautiful too. I was afraid of the fox, he looked so much bigger than I expected but before I could get up and run, he stopped short in his tracks, just as if someone had a rope tied to his neck and had jerked him up short. He looked at us with a look like —— well, I can't tell you like what, you will have to see it yourself, his eyes were bigger than mine and he was surprised, afraid, disgusted and a whole lot of other feelings in his face and it was so funny and so quick that I sat still.

I forgot I was there, till the fox, seeing the bunny had company he didn't like, turned and ran away with his tail down. The bunny and I sat still, until the skunk left and then I spoke to the bunny and he jumped clean out of sight at one leap."

"Did you get licked hard, Jimmy?" asked one of the boys.

"Naw," said Jimmy, "Mother was crying and laughing too much and Dad and I kind of got friends making her stop and the licking was not so bad as how I felt about making mother cry but Dad is coming to the woods to see things next Sunday afternoon."

And Jimmy grew up but little girls and boys still hunger for the Once upon a Time and light will find them, even through coloured glass windows in churches.

POEMS Old And NEW

A PINK

In winter up above the sink,
I pin a flower called a pink;
Otherwise I'd grow inane,
In later life might go insane,
For though not real it helps a lot
When I wash the porridge pot!
Margaret Clarke Russel.

LAUGH

Build for yourself a strong box,
Fashion each part with care;
Fit it with hasp and padlock,
Put all your troubles there,
Hide therein all your failures
And each bitter cup you quaff,
Lock all your heartaches within it,
Then—sit on the lid and laugh.

Tell no one of its contents;
Never its secrets share;
Drop in your cares and worries,
Put all petty jealousies there.
Keep them from sight so completely,
The world will never dream half.
Fasten the top down securely,
Then—sit on the lid and laugh.

WEARYIN' FOR YOU

Jest a-wearyinn' for you
All the time a-feelin' blue;
Wishin' for you, wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home agen;
Restless—don't know what to do,
Jest a-wearyin' for you.
Keep a-moppin' day by day;
Dull—in everybody's way,
Folks they smile and pass along
Wonderin' what on earth is wrong;
'Twouldn't help them if they knew—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.
Room's so lonesome, with your chair
Empty by the fireplace there;
Jest can't stand the sight of it;
Go out doors an' roam a bit
But the woods is lonesome, too.
Jest a-wearyin' for you.
Comes the wind with soft caress
Like the rustlin' of your dress;
Blossoms fallin' to the ground
Softly like your footsteps sound;
Violets like your eyes so blue.
Jest a-wearyin' for ou.
Morin' comes; The birds awake
(Used to sing so for your sake.)
But there's sadness in the notes
That come thrillin' from their throats.
Seem to feel your absence, too;
Jest a-wearin' for you.
Evenin' falls; I miss you more
When the dark gloom's in the door;
Seems jest like you orter be
There to open it for me!
Latch goes tinklin'—thrills me through
Sets me wearyin' for you.
Just a-wearyin' for you!
All the time a-feelin' blue!
Wishin' for you—wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home agen.
Restless—don't know what to do—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.

FOR JOY OF GOOD HEALTH

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter and I hope some one will be helped by it."—Mrs. Jos. H. KIDD, Box 56, Crandall, Manitoba. C

Arrange Power Meeting

Mr. J. M. Campbell of Kingston was in Brockville yesterday atttending a meeting of the Eastern Ontario Power Association at which it was arranged to call a public meeting in Brockville, on Thursday, January 22nd at which ex-Mayor Maguire, of Toronto, will speak, and to which municipalities between Kingston and Cornwall, and north as far as Renfrew, will be invited to send representatives. The association feels very strongly the necessity of obtaining a further supply of power for Eastern Ontario and getting it right away, and the purpose of the public meeting is to organize an association in Eastern Ontario along similar lines to that followed in the west of the province.

For the Veterans

Ottawa, Jan 10.—General A. E Ross, M.P., for Kingston, Ont., has filed a notice of motion for the consideration of Parliament, at the coming session, "that this House recommend to the Government that all fines imposed on ex-service men, by superintendents or other officials of hospitals, without trial, be refunded to ex-service men, or their heirs, and the charges deleted from the files of ex-service men; and that all charges other than fines on the files of exservice men, made by the superintendents of hospitals, or other officials, without trial, be expunged from the files of the patients, as these charges are false in many cases, and lead to prejudice against the men in future treatment."

A Successful Cheesmaker.

GROWING THE WALNUT

A Tree That Is Desirable Both for Nut and Wood

Southwestern Ontario Can Grow Them—The Walnut Tree Described—Plant Hardy Grafted or Budded Stock—Best Varieties for Ontario.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Ontario grown, soft shell walnuts of excellent quality have been produced in the Niagara Peninsula. A few trees have given good crops for thirty years or more. The number of producing trees that we know of now is 155, and these are located in a district fifty miles long and twenty miles wide, an odd tree here and there in the dooryard or the orchard of well kept premises. Trees are fruiting as far east as Clarkson on the north shore of Lake Ontario.

Southwestern Ontario Can Grow Nuts.

The Niagara Peninsula and the counties bordering Lake Erie have a climate more favorable to production of the soft shell walnut than certain districts in Europe where nuts are grown to take care of the local market demand. There are large areas of deep, rich soil in the district north of Lake Erie east to the Niagara river and west to the Detroit river that will grow acceptable soft shell walnuts, and Japanese Heart Nuts. Why not keep the $5,000,000 at home? There is satisfaction in saving money, and there is more satisfaction in sitting before the home fireplace on winter evenings cracking the fruit of our own labor. In about 100 Ontario rural homes this is being done now. The flickering wood fire is pleasant in itself, but a plentiful supply of walnuts at hand, easy to crack and sweet to eat, will help one to enjoy life.

Thousands of rural homes can have walnuts, providing of course that the home is located in the Lake Erie counties, or in a district where the climate will permit the full development of the peach.

The Walnut Tree Described.

The walnut tree, when dormant, will stand heavy frosts in midwinter, but it will not stand late spring or early autumn frosts. Areas reasonably free from frost during the period April 20th to October 10th alone should be considered. The soft shell walnut grows to be a very large tree, is of the deep, tap-rooted type, hence the soil must be deep enough and rich enough to support a big tree. A good surface soil of clay loam or sandy loam that is underlain by a deep, porous, sandy sub-soil in which the water table is below fifteen feet, a soil that is rich, cool and moist, but not wet, will produce the finest specimens of walnut trees. However, the range of soil types on which the walnut tree grow is quite large, since this tree is to be found growing on sandy, gravelly and clay loams, and succeeding in proportion as these soil types furnish depth for root room, plant food and moisture.

Use Hardy Grafted or Budded Stock.

To be successful the walnut tree must be a vigorous grower, of a variety that blossoms moderately late, a self-pollinator, and it must yield an abundant annual crop of desirable nuts. These factors are best obtained by planting hardy grafted or budded stock. The native black walnut has the hardy and vigorous characteristics, it is most desirable as a root system for a soft shell English walnut. Get your start by growing seedling black walnuts up to a size suitable to graft. Three-eighths of an inch in size does very well, then whip graft a scion obtained from a hardy soft shell tree, making an entirely new top. The black walnuts for seedlings can be planted in the autumn or spring. If kept until spring lay away in cold, moist sand. Plant the seed with the pointed end up, two inches deep in good garden soil. Keep the soil well raked and free from weeds. The little trees will be large enough for grafting at the end of the second season, or when growth is starting the following spring. The grafting of the walnut offers more difficulties than apple grafting, requiring greater care. The following conditions are essential to success; fully dormant wood for scions, the cambium of stock and scion must be brought into exact contact, the work must be done as the leaf buds of the tree to be grafted on are unfolding, a condition that varies with individual trees. The cleft in the stock or amputation and the shaping of the scion should be such as to give a perfect fit. The exposed surface of the stock and scion must be held and protected by tape and wax, the entire scion should be waxed over, the scion wood should be secured two or three weeks before required and kept in cold, moist sand. The scion wood should be firm and have a very small pith cavity. Both seedling and grafted trees usually bear at eight years.

Best Varieties for Ontario.

The Japanese Walnut or Heart Nut will stand lower temperature than the Soft Shell English Walnut. It, too, is of good quality and easy to crack. A tree planted twelve years ago at Scotland, Ontario, gave two bushels of free from the husk nuts last year. Some of the older English soft shells in the Niagara Peninsula have yielded as high as twelve bushels of nuts in a single season. A few soft shell walnut trees will add value, beauty and usefulness to any farmstead.—L. Stevenson, Department of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

If a little flour paste, say a pint to each pailful, is added to the whitewash used on the inside of the poultry house it will stick better and look well longer, adding half an ounce of carbolic acid to each pailful will also hold insect enemies in check.

THE INTERNAL PARASITE

Causes About Fifty Per Cent. of All Poultry Disease

How They Weaken the System—The Lye Treatment Is Best—Tapeworm Troubles—Green Feed for Poultry—The Farm Water Supply.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Internal parasites are responsible either directly or indirectly for fifty per cent. of the poultry losses. This means that millions of dollars are lost each year through the presence of these undesirable creatures.

How Parasites Weaken the System.

Frequently autopsies of healthy birds reveal the presence of a considerable number of intestinal worms which have apparently, up to the time, not caused the bird any great physical harm. In many cases, however, birds become thin, emaciated and finally die. Heavily infested birds are much more susceptible to other diseases, as fowl cholera, tuberculosis, and roup. Practically all the nematodes infesting poultry have no intermediate host. Eggs passed with the droppings develop quickly if the soil of the poultry yard and the weather are favorable into the larval stage. The infective larvae are picked up by the same or other birds of the flock, and finally develop within the intestinal tract, into mature worms. The cycle goes on, more worms, more eggs, more worms, unless the poultry owner wakes up and decides to destroy the parasites that take his profits. The destruction of the parasite is easy.

The Lye Treatment Is Best.

A teaspoonful of concentrated lye mixed with each four quarts of grain, and cooked slowly for two hours and allowed to cool. The birds are given their ordinary feed one morning, and then nothing else until the next morning, when they are given as much of the lye mixture as they will eat. See that the water pan is filled. This treatment should be given twice during the summer. A four-week interval between treatments is essential. then removal of the birds to clean runs.

How to Deal With Tapeworms.

Cestodes or tapeworm infesting fowl differ from the nematodes or round worms in that they require an intermediate host to carry on their life cycle. It has been demonstrated that the various species of snails, slugs, worms and flies that may be found about poultry plants are intermediate hosts of the tapeworms that infest chickens. These white, ribbon like, segmented worms can be successfully combatted with the lye treatment as given for round worms.

Sanitary precautions and rational treatment of the soil in the poultry runs is very essential in keeping tapeworm under control. Concentrated lye is cheap and effective. Why permit your poultry to continue as a convenient host to profit reducing parasites. The chickens cannot get rid of their tormentors unless you help them.—L. Stevenson, Director of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

GREEN FEED FOR POULTRY.

The Best Hatches Are Generally Due to the Vitamines In Grass, Cabbage, Sprouted Oats, Etc.

The old-time poultry man knew that it was necessary for the breeding birds to get outdoors during the hatching egg production season, if the results were to be really favorable. Why the outdoor life made the difference he did not know, but we have learned since that the outdoor life had little to do with the hatchability of the eggs. The success was due to what the hen ate while free outdoors. Green grass and clover, cabbage, lettuce, kale, sprouted oats carry the fat soluble Vitamine D, which is essential for fertility and hatchability of the egg and the utilization in the body of phosphates of lime, so essential in bones. The fat soluble Vitamine A is also present in all green feeds, and to a lesser extent in turnips, mangels, and rutabagas. The use of green feed in some form is absolutely essential if the hatchability of the egg and the vigor of the chick is to reach a high standard. Many poor hatches in late winter and early spring are due to the breeding stock not receiving the vitamine carrying green feeds. Sprout oats and let them grow four inches high before feeding. Stock the feed storage cellar or pits with turnips, mangels and cabbage, and let the breeding stock have all such green feed as they care to consume.—L. Stevenson, Director of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

The Farm Water Supply.

There are two main sources, namely, well and spring (both hard water) and rain water (soft). Any one thinking of installing a modern water system and plumbing in his home should make sure that his water supply is both plentiful and safely protected from all possible sources of contamination. Much more water will be used daily under modern than under old conditions of service—about 30 gallons per person per day. Ask the O. A. College to assist you in solving the following problems in this matter of water supply. So says Prof. R. R. Graham:

1. How to increase the well and spring supplies of water.
2. How to safeguard these supplies from surface contamination.
3. How to make more use of the rain water supply.
4. How to get that fine spring water running through your house and stables by installing the hydraulic ram near the spring.

Sulphur Will Clear Skin Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Forgery Charged

Cobourg, Jan. 10.—Roy King, who formerly conducted a candy butcher shop on Division street, Cobourg, was arrested in Oshawa last week by the Oshawa police at the request of Chief Ruse of Cobourg, on the charge of forgery. King had a cheque from an Oshawa man, which he is alleged to have forged and on which he secured an advance of $10 from a Cobourg merchant. Coming up in police court on Saturday, King was remanded, bail not being accepted.

Business Good

In answer to a telephone message on Monday afternoon our popular station agent, Mr. H. B. Smith, gave up the following figures and facts which no doubt will be of interest to our distant readers as well: In the year 1923 no less than 1640 car loads of forest products were shipped from along the Irondale sub-division and 750 from Bancroft, Bird's Creek and Hybla, and in the year 1924, 1,143 carloads from the Irondale sub-division and 745 from Bancroft, Bird's Creek and Hybla. These figures are for forest products only, and don't include livestock or minerals.

In compiling figures for the past two years Mr. Smith took the trouble to total the ticket sales from his station which read as follows: Year 1923 $11,144; year 1924, $11,256.—Bancroft Times.

SUES PADEREWSKI ON STRANGE CLAIM

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10—A $5,000 damage suit against Ignace Jan Paderewski, famous pianist, has been brought by E. G. Rothleder, a local musician owing to the Polishman's failure to return a programme of his first recital in Berlin, Germany in 1891.

The suit was filed by Rothleder in Federal court here. He claims the programme has been a source of inspiration to him and that, in spite of repeated requests Padereswki refuses to return it to him,

Would not be Without Zutoo Tablets At Any Cost

Mr. A. D. Norton, the millionaire Sock Manufacturer, of Boston, who recently died, was a great "booster" for Zutoo Tablets.

He suffered from headaches from childhood and when he found Zutoo Tablets stopped these headaches in a few minutes and left no bad effect, he began recommending them to his family and friends. In an unsolicited letter, Mr. Norton says in closing:

"My family use them when ever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from Headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I always carry Zutoo Tablets in my grip on the road and WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT THEM AT ANY COST."

Provincial Men Are Butts Of Attack

In Interesting Liquor Case Conducted at Peterboro

Peterboro, Jan. 10.—J. A. O'Brien won the approval of sixty rail birds in City Police Court Thursday evening by leading a scathing attack on three Provincial officers who said they bought liquor from James Akey, but whether he won his client's case remains to be seen when Magistrate O. A. Langley delivers judgment next Tuesday.

Akey was charged with selling liquor to one of the Provincial officers, contrary to the provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act. In his defence he set up an apparently airtight alibi, covering all his movements from the day before the alleged sale until the morning of the second day after. Witnesses told of being with the accused in Toronto at the very hour he was said to have sold the liquor here, and Akey produced a letter which he swore he wrote and mailed in Toronto that day.

In his denunciation of the Provincial specials, Mr. O'Brien rose to oratorical heights in expressing his righteous indignation that men of their character should be turned loose on unsuspecting Peterboro, travelling in a car with a foreign license, and "seducing the young men of the city to secure their own aggrandizement."

He branded them everything in the vocabulary of vituperation from "sneaks" to "wretched spotters", "seducers of the youth of the country" to plain "lawbreakers" and associates of the devil. Then he held up Akey and a witness who is a confessed dope addict to the public gaze as sterling examples of incorruptible young Canadian manhood, whose evidence was unimpeachable.

Laughter and incipient applause in the spectators' benches were hushed by Sergeant John Deannard.

Says Attack Unfair

Declaring that attack of defence counsel upon the Provincial officers was unwarranted and foreign to the merits of the case under trial, J. F. Strickland presented the prosecution in concise form. "These men," he said, "are part of the established form of administration of justice, and in the discharge of their duty they should be treated with respect by the defence as well as by the prosecution. The fact that they are not popular has nothing to do with the merits of the case before the court. I have advanced the case, as they have, on its merits, and I must take exception to the remarks made by the counsel for the defence."

Defending one of the Provincial officers who seemed to have been singled out by Mr. O'Brien for a specially bitter outpouring of his wrath, Mr. Strickland pointed to this man's honesty in presenting his testimony, even to differing on a point from the evidence given by his associates.

"There is no cooked up story here," Mr. Strickland declared, and then after a pause of a split second, added—"in the prosecution."

Attacks Alibi

The witness to whom Mr. O'Brien referred as being seduced to secure a conviction for the Provincial officers Mr. Strickland said, is no misguided youth, but has been ruined by his own habits as a confirmed drug addict and is incapable of belief.

This witness confirms in every essential detail the stories told by the officers as to the movements of the cars, and even as to two mysterious girls who were said to have been in Akey's car. The girls got out at Smith Street, and are unknown to the prosecution. "The innocent bystander can often be materially hurt by even being called in these cases," Mr. Strickland said. "and personally, if I knew the girls, I would not call them."

Magistrate Langley pointed out that Mr. Strickland's chivalry may withhold evidence as to the identity of the second man in the car.

Referring back to the allegedly seduced witness, Mr. Strickland declared that it has never been the policy of the Crown to browbeat witnesses. Tis witness may have been frightened by threats from other sources, more potent than the Crown could produce. "He had made a slip in introducing these men to his friends, and I ask you to find that he has come here to testify in a last desperate effort to square himself and has deliberately perjured himself."

Mr. Strickland submitted that all evidence as to the alibi, with the exception of that given by a Bewdley man, is perjured. "It is a concoction from beginning to end."

Magistrate Langley said he had a somewhat definite opinion on the case at the moment but he would take the evidence under consideration and give his finding on Tuesday next at 10 o'clock.

Akey was allowed out without bail.

FORD HAS ORDERED 340 TON ENGINE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10.—The most powerful electric locomotive in the world is being built for Henry Ford for use on the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad.

The giant will weigh 340 tons, will be 117 feet long and 15 feet high. It will have sixteen 250-horse power motors connected to sixteen pairs of driving wheels.

Built more for hauling power than speed, the locomotive will be capable of pulling a train of 150 or more loaded box cars. Its running speed will be 17 miles an hour with a maximum of 25 miles.

The electrical equipment is being built by the Westinghouse Company of East Pittsburgh.

BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS

Progress of the Disease is Slow, Insidious and Chronic

The Symptoms Described—How Milking Cows Become Affected—Post Mortem Appearances—The Septic Tank.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The onset of this contagious and infectious disease of farm animals is slow, insidious and chronic, with no outward manifestations for some time.

Symptoms of the Disease.

A short, dry cough, intermittent and more noticeable when the resting animal is made to rise quickly should be regarded with suspicion. A cough alone while suspicious is not entirely characteristic, nor should its absence mean that the animal is not tubercular. The breathing may be quickened, there may be an unthrifty condition and chronic diarrhoea. In some cases the loss in condition is very marked, and the animal recedes to a thin hide-bound condition, with sunken eyes and rough coat; such animals are usually referred to as wasters. There may be enlargement of the lymphatic glands, such as the submaxillary or the prescapular. Enlargement of any of the lymphatic glands should always be considered with suspicion. Slight bloating, which may be due to enlarged glands interfering with the normal functioning of the digestive tract, should be regarded as suspicious, since the mesenteric glands if badly infected may cause irregular action of the intestines, with bloating and constipation followed by diarrhoea. In cases where tuberculosis is affecting the bones and joints the animal may move with unnatural gait or show lameness.

How Milked Cows Are Affected.

The mammary glands of milking animals is a common seat of tubercular lesions. Hard areas in the glandular substance, painless on pressure, which may be very small or even involve the entire quarter of the udder, should be regarded with grave suspicion. These painless nodules or tumors if present can be felt by the most inexperienced. In cases where the udder is affected the supramammary lymph glands also become much enlarged and may be easily felt.

Post Mortem Appearances.

The effects produced in the body tissues are characterized by the formation of tubercules or nodules, which in the advanced condition are of a yellowish color and cheese-like consistency. Such nodules may be single and of small size, or they may be quite large and in masses. The common seat of tubercular lesions is in the following glands: bronchial and mediastinal lymph glands, the cervical, pre-scapular, pre-pectoral, portal, inguinal, sub-lumbar, popliteal and mesenteric glands. The lungs and the pleura are also common locations for the lesions of tuberculosis, in which they (the lesions) appear as hard lumps, easy to see and easy to feel. These when cut into are found to be cheeselike, and contain a thick yellowish pus.

The "Pearl Disease" Condition.

When the pleura (covering of the lungs and lining membrane of the chest or thoracic cavity) is affected it presents over its surface clusters of small round nodules, pale creamy red in color and resembling grape-like masses, commonly spoken of as "pearl disease" condition. When the organism successfully invades the liver caseous masses and tubercular abscesses are formed. These when cut open show the characteristic yellow cheesey pus and gritty feeling on the passing of the incising knife. Where the peritoneum (the lining membrane of the abdominal cavity) is attacked the "pearl disease" condition is characteristic. Lesions in the udder, lymph glands, ovaries, kidneys and spleen resemble the caseous masses and abscess formation common in the liver. The oviduct, the uterus, the bones and joints may also be affected with tuberculan lesions. In old standing cases the pericardium (sac covering the heart) and the heart may be a position of attack by this destroying organism, the work of which is characterized by its destruction of tissue and the formation of tubercules.—L. Stevenson, Director of Extension, O. A. C., Guelph.

The Septic Tank.

It consists of a large concrete tank divided into two compartments by a vertical partition. The size for a single house is about 4 x 8 ft. and 3½ ft. deep. This tank holds the sewage long enough for a certain kind of bacteria to destroy the solid matter. When the liquid accumulates to a certain amount a non-mechanical affair called a siphon empties one of the chambers into a system of field tile, called the absorption bed, laid shallow under the ground. Any remaining sewage is destroyed in the soil by another kind of bacteria that live near the top of the ground. In this way these friendly bacteria are enabled to do a very valuable work for us. This is science applied to a useful purpose.

We supply bulletin and blue-print to any one wishing to build a septic tank. All necessary information is given in these, and by their helpful suggestions any handy man can build it. Cost for cement, siphon fittings and tile amounts to about $52. The tank may be located close to the house and the tile laid under the lawn or garden.—R. R. Graham, O. A. C., Guelph.

It does not pay to turn cows into yards and compel them to remain out in disagreeable weather. It costs feed to keep cows warm.

WHAT GERMANS READ

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Booksellers report that the German reading public selects primarily fiction, with books on travel a close second. Detective and adventure stories are popular, and there is a brisk demand for volumes on sports and hygiene. War Books are a drug on the market.

WEAK DIGESTION DUE TO POOR BLOOD

PERFECT DIGESTION WILL COME IF THE BLOOD IS MADE RICH AND RED

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.

There can be no perfect digestion unless you have rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way, then, to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood.

Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work, as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating predigested fod.o Tone up your stomach, then your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

If your digestion is weak and your blood thin, you need Dr. Williams Pink Pills to restore the strength to your blood; in addition use care in selection of your diet and your stomach troubles will soon pass away. Mrs Charles La Rose, Fruitland, Ont., suffered severely, and tells what Dr. Williams Pink Pills did for her. She says —"I was a terrible sufferer from stomach trouble. The doctor called it nervous indigestion. Everything I ate distressed me, and I became so weak and rundown I could hardly walk. I had a pain around my heart most of the time, and I slept very poorly. I was afraid I would not get well, as the doctor's medicine was not helping me. In this serious condition Dr. Williams Pink Pills were recommended and I decided to try them, and I can truthfully say that they made me feel like a new person. I will always give this medicine a word of praise when I get a chance for I think there is nothing to be compared with it for dyspeptics, or any one weak, nervous or rundown."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE ARMS TRAFFIC IN CHINA

Hong Kong Press:

In the year 1919 following upon the abortive Peace Conference held in Shanghai with the object of securing the unification of China, the American Minister made the suggestion to the diplomatic body at Peking that the Powers should put an embargo on the export of arms to China. The suggestion resulted in an agreement by most of the Powers then represented in China. . . . Not all the Powers subscribed to that agreement and it is common knowledge that since that agreement was signed arms and munitions, and material destined exclusively for their manufacture have poured into China from certain foreign sources, with the result that we see to-day armies taking the field in China vastly better equipped than Chinese armies have ever been before. Following the Great War in Europe, immense quantities of discarded arms of all sorts have been seeking a market, and there is little doubt that large quantities of them are now being used in the battlefields of China.

ICY SIDEWALK APPEAL GOES TO PLAINTIFF

Mrs. Cokers Wins Her Action Against the City

INTERESTING CASE

Judgment is Given For $1,500 and Costs

The appeal on the decision of Mr. Justice Orde on the action of Mrs. Rowena Cokers against the City of Belleville last spring has been allowed with costs in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, according to word received in the city today.

Judgment was given for the plaintiff amounting to $1,500 and costs.

This action aroused a great deal of interest in Belleville last year, when Mrs. Cokers sued the corporation for injuries received when she slipped on an icy sidewalk. Masson and Carman handled the case for the defendants and Ponton and Ponton for the plaintiff.

In the appeal at Toronto, Ponton and Ponton appeared again for the plaintiff, but the defendant's case was handled by legal men of Toronto.

Following the decision of Mr. Justice Orde last spring the following appeared as an editorial in the Daily Ontario:

"Mr. Justice Orde has dismissed Mrs. Cokers' action for damages on account of a slippery sidewalk. This case settles the point as to whether or not the city is negligent if citizens slip on icy sidewalks and sustain injury.

"The number of claims made against the City of Belleville of recent years would indicate that the citizens have an entirely wrong view point in such matters. Canada is a country of rigorous winters and ever-changing weather conditions. It is utterly impossible for man to counteract the elements and make safe every byway used by the general public. Therefore, unless we are all willing to take our chance on such conditions our only option is to live elsewhere. The ice hazard is ever present just as are many others of like kind. Who can say that any man is negligent because of such a condition, when caused by the action of the elements?

"The action of Mr. Justice Orde was the only one that could have been taken by a fair and impartial judge. He is to be commended on the judgment and let us hope that it bears further fruit in reducing the appalling number of claims made against our city, the money to pay which comes from the pocket of the individual taxpayer."

Leopard Turned On Its Trainer

Bay City Woman, Near Death's Door Following Attack

Bay City, Mich., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Dolly Hill, known in the circus world as Dolores Valiceda, is at Mercy Hospital with little hope for her recovery as a result of an attack on her by a leopard which she was training in an arena on Siginaw street.

She had turned her back for a second when the leopard sprang, landing with his paws and teeth on the back of her neck, and knocking her to the floor. The infuriated animal continued to choke and paw the woman, and gradually moved his hold on her neck to the throat. She managed, however, to attract the attention of her assistant, Herbert Craig.

Assistant Displays Courage

Craig, who was in the rear part of the building, hearing her screams, secured an iron bar. Springing into the arena through one of the two doors, he securely fastened them, and, watching his chance, advanced to where the infuriated animal had the woman on the floor. He succeeded in striking the leopard over the head several times. The blows dazed the brute for a moment; then it left the woman and sprang at Craig. He again clubbed it over the head until it retreated, when Craig seized Mrs. Hill and removed her from the cage.

The animal succeeded in puncturing Mrs. Hill's windpipe with his teeth and disfiguring her face. His claws also dug into her scalp. The woman has had the leopard at the Saginaw Street arena for over two months, it is said, although the police declare they did not know of the fact until they were called for assistance.

Woman Was Experienced Trainer

The police will investigate the circumstances under which the animal was brought here. Persons who entered the building after the attack on the woman were surprised that permission would be given to keep animals of such nature in a down town section of the city because of the danger connected with the practice.

Mrs. Hill is said to be an experienced animal trainer. Last season she travelled with Pitmore's Greater Circus, and was under contract to appear with a different company in the spring.

OLD LONDON IS SMOTHERED BY HEAVY FOG

Number of Accidents and Deaths Are a Result

BAD FOR PLANES

Passengers From Paris Had Sensational Landing Yesterday

Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 12.—The worst fog in many years smothered London and its suburbs yesterday, causing a number of street accidents and some deaths. Traffic was scanty and difficult. Early in the day, it stopped almost entirely.

There were many colisions between motor cars. Several were reported through sparks engendered by sudden application of brakes.

An airplane bringing passengers from Paris had a sensational landing at Croydon airdrome. The plane made a trip from France under a cloudless sky, but upon nearing London found land invisible. The pilot picked up by tops of radio posts which rose above the fog zone. He descended and landed safely, and passengers found themselves immediately lost, as visibility was limited to five yards.

Claims Canada Colony of States

Australian Says We Sell Everywhere But Don't Buy

(Associated Pres Despatch

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 12.—Although the reciprocal tariff with Canada was received first with enthusiasm and was ratified by the federal parliament by a vote of 35 to 7, the feeling in business circles now is less buoyant.

The Tariff Board reported as follows: "The proposals are admittedly of greater immediate benefit to Canada than to Australia. Raisins and currants are the only lines in which we can expect to do extensive business. The one great concession, one which Canada is very anxious to have, is the open market in Australia for newsprint."

The labor party opposition leader in parliament termed the trade treaty "an absurdity and a delusion." He looked on Canada as a colony of the United States, saying it had adopted a similar policy, selling anywhere, buying no where.

Wonder Picture Showing To-night

"The Lost Tribe" Opens Three Day Engagement Griffin

Entertainment out of the ordinary is offered to Belleville and Hastings people at the Griffin Theatre to-night, Tuesday and Wednesday, in "The Lost Tribe," heralded by the leading critics of the continent as one of the most fascinating films ever presented to the theatre public.

Capt. Frank Turley, the photographer, gives in his picture the actual life of cannibals in the hinterland of New Guinea and has packed in "The Lost Tribe," a series of thrills and gripping adventures that outshine anything that could be acted in Hollywood or on other moving picture locations.

It is to be regretted that Belleville does not get a chance to see the big pictures such as "The Ten Commandments," and others, but Belleville may rejoice in the opportunity for seeing this attraction.

Man Holding Rope Mistook Signal

And Kingston Workman Just About Slid Off Roof

Kingston, Jan. 12.—A local man had a very close call while employed in clearing the snow off one of the highest buildings in the business section of Princess street, when his fellow workman misunderstood his signals and lowered him down the roof instead of pulling him up.

It appears that in accordance with instructions from the City Police, a local business man was faced with the problem of removing the snow from his roof and sent a call to the Government Employment Bureau for two men to do the work. The men went up on to the roof, one of them having a roap around his waist and being lowered by his companion down the roof.

A series of signals had been previously arranged between the two but when the man on the roof was but a very few feet from the edge his signal to haul up was misunderstood, and the rope was "payed out," with the result that he slid down the edge and was prevented from going off altogether by obtaining a very precarious seat in the eave trough, with his legs dangling in the air at least fifty feet above the side walk in the street below.

Had the eave trough given way the opinion is expressed by eye-witnesses of the incident that the rope would not have held the man's weight and he would undoubtedly have fallen to the street below.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS TO-MORROW

Under the auspices of the Belleville Poultry Association the annual poultry show will open in the market building to-morrow and continue for three days. The number of entries indicate that it will be a successful show. A feature will be the demonstration of handling eggs, by an expert from the department at Ottawa.

SETTLE FIRST REAL POINT OF CONFERENCE

United States to Get 2¼% Of German Receipts

LATE WIRE NEWS

C.N.R. Earnings Decrease—Man Smothers to Death

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 12.—Allocation of two and one quarter per cent. of receipts from Germany under Dawes' plan to payment of United States war damage claims, is the first definitely settled point in the discussions of the Inter-Allied financial conference. The share of the United States will decrease percentages of Allies. France ceding the greater part, or one and one quarter per cent., but it is pointed out that the extension of period over which occupation expenses were spread under agreement compensates largely for these concesion as it will take fifty per cent. less from reparation payments.

Winnipeg, Jan. 1 2.—Opening futures. Wheat May 1 1-4 to 1-2 lower at 1.88 3-4 to 2, July 1-2 lower at 1.85 1-2. Oats May unchanged to 1-8 higher at 69 to 69 1-8, July unchanged at 69 7-8.

WESTERN GRAIN MARKET

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Chicago, Jan 12.—Wheat scored early advances in prices today owing more or less to dearth of offerings here and to gossip that considerable export business was in progress. Besides, advices were at hand that prospects for new wheat and rye crops in Hungary are poor and that wheat stocks in Poland and Czecho Slovakia and Vienna will soon be exhausted. An upward tendency in foreign exchange rates tended also to strengthen wheat values, opening which ranged from unchanged figures to ⅛c lower was followed by gains all around with May touching as high as $1.82. Corn and oats were responsive to wheat strength. After opening, unchanged to 3-8c off corn, the market scored moderate advance. Oats started at ⅛c to ½c lower and then rallied. Provisions reflected an upturn in quotations on hogs.

MERCHANTS OF FUTURE WILL HAVE DEGREES

Such is Prophecy of Montreal Business Man To Rotarians

EMPLOYEES' RIGHTS

Should Have Share in Profits of the Business

A new vision of "Service" by Mr. W. H. Goodwin of Goodwin Limited, Montreal, was given the Rotarians at their luncheon to-day. The address was one of the best ever delivered before the local club and in the opinion of President Charles Reid was well worthy of being presented before International Rotary.

Some of Mr. Goodwin's ideas sound revolutionary but he made the prophecy that in the not distant future, merchants would have to have a university degree before they were permitted to serve the public. Many of the present ideas of service, Mr. Goodwin, characterized as wrong in principle. "The public should be educated to expect service in the goods they buy, rather than in such extras as deliveries, refunds, etc.," he said.

Another point touched on by the speaker was the rights of the employee who honestly served his employer. Such an employee was fairly entitled to credit for his share of the profits of the business which he helped to build.

Mr. Goodwin was greeted by enthusiastic applause at the completion of his address. In thanking him, President Charles Reid said that "his ideas were ideals which every Rotarian should strive to reach."

OWNERSHIP OF COW FIGURED IN COURT

Hamilton, Jan. 12— Victor James Lawrence was awarded $315 damages and his sister, Merval Albert Lawrence, $82 in action against Mrs. Mary Ann Richardson, hear by Judge Evans, Friday afternoon. Costs were awarded on the County Court scale.

The accident was the result of a collision between the plaintiffs' automobile and a cow, said to be the property of Mrs. Richardson, which was pasturing, unherded on Dundas street near Palermo. The Lawrence car, after running into the cow, was thrown over a culvert into a creek and badly damaged. Miss Lawrence received a broken collar bone and bad bruises. Mrs. Richardson denied owning the cow and said it belonged to her son, to whom it had been given by her first husband.

ROADSTER POSSESSED A FALSE FLOOR

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 12.—The customs officials on the other end of the lower bridge discovered a cleverly constructed false floor in a roadster Friday night, in which was concealed 108 bottles of whiskey. In the car were a man, woman and child. While the inspector were discovering the false floor and the whiskey the man disappeared, but he is known, and a warrant is out for his arrest. Car and whiskey are being held.

William Hughes, this city, charged with selling liquor from a coupe, appeared before Magistrate Fraser and was remanded. The car was seized with 132 gallons of alcohol by Officer Barber. Hughes claimed that two men borowed the car and said he could prove an alibi. One of the mne, McGinnis, is from St. Catharines, and one Burke from Toronto.

Edmund J. Burke, 25, clerk at the Canadian Railway office here, was arrested as he crossed to the other side of the river on a charge of conspiring to smuggle two carloads of Canadian ale into the United States. The two carloads were seized over the river and had ben billed as hay.

Fireman of City Hurt at Kingston

Arthur Frankish, 302 Bleecker Avenue, Taken to Hospital

Arthur Frankish, C.N.R. fireman who lives at 302 Bleecker avenue, was badly injured at Kingston Locomotive Works on Saturday.

Frankish who was in the cab of a locomotive which was being run into the Locomotive works for repairs, is believed to have projected his head through the cab window just as the entrance was being passed. There is no clearance, and he was caught between the wall and cab. Luckily he was not pulled out of the window, but was thrown back into the cab.

He was immediately removed to the Kingston hospital where he is reported to be resting as well as could be expected to-day. He is suffering from head, shoulder and arm injuries.

Toronto Police Fire At Bandits

Men in Stolen Auto Came Out Worst Yesterday

Toronto, Jan. 12.—When attempting to escape from a stolen automobile while being pursued by police to Queen and Niagara streets early Sunday morning, David Robertson, aged 19 years, of 10 Howard street, Detroit, was shot in the right thigh.

George Brown, aged 19 years, of Wood street, fractured his right arm when he also jumped from the fast-moving machine.

James Robertson, aged 22 years, brother of the youth who was wounded, was driving the stolen car. Both he and Harry Madden, aged 23 years, of 47 Munro street, Hamilton, were held in the car by police.

Thrilling Race Through Streets

The arrests were made following a sensational motor chase east on Queen street from Cowan avenue to Niagara street. With police standing on both sides of the running-board, Plainclothesman Fred Clarkson drove the police car at terrific speed.

Approaching Strachan avenue the police car drew up on equal terms with the stolen machine and the driver was called upon to stop. Disregarding the commands of the police, the driver sped on.

Drawing their revolvers the police first fired several shots in the air. This failed to have the desired effect and Clarkson once more drove his car up beside the runaway, and both cars raced "neck-and-neck" from Dovercourt Road to Niagara street. Here Clarkson drove his car in closer in an effort to allow Constable Anderson, who was on the running board, to try to leap to the running board of the other machine. Unable to do this, Clarkson drove his car a few feet ahead of the other automobile, and, turning in quickly, forced the other car into the curb. In doing so one of the side doors of the police car which was open snapped off. The front of the stolen car was also damaged.

Attempts to Escape

Brown was first to jump from the stolen car and fell, breaking his arm. He rose, however, and ran west along Queen, only to be stopped by Constable Turner of Claremont Street Division, who was on duty on Queen Street West.

David Robertson, who ran from the car after it had been brought to a stop, fled south on Niagara street, pursued by Constables Anderson and Watt. After being called upon to stop running, Robertson was shot at by the officers. Both Anderson and Watt fired, and one of the bullets took effect in Robertson's left thigh, and he collapsed. An ambulance was summoned and both were taken to the Western Hospital. An operation was performed on Robertson and the bullet removed. It was only a flesh wound. Brown's arm was set, and both prisoners were then placed in cots in the emergency ward across from each other. A police guard will be kept on duty until the prisoners recover sufficiently to be removed to the jail hospital.

Car Stolen Saturday Night

The automobile owned by M. J. Robertson, 184 Hanson street, was stolen Saturday night from Teraulay street. At midnight the licence number had been given out to all men on the beat. The car came in from the Hamilton Highway at 4 a.m. At Sunnyside Constable Lee attempted to stop the car. Unable to do so, he ran to the signal box and telephoned the operator that the car had gone east on Queen street, travelling at a speed of 20 miles an hour. The police car with an arsenal of sawed-off shotguns, was at Cowan Avenue Station, and Driver Clarkson picked up Constables Watt and Anderson. Just east of the subway they caught sight of their quarry and in a few seconds were in action at close range.

Sees Woman President and Prime Minister Before 1950 Rolls Around

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Helen Normanton, the first woman barrister in England, who arrived here recently, thinks that by 1950 there will be a woman president in the United States and a woman Prime Minister in England. Mrs. Normanton has come to study American courts, while she lectures on divorce, marriage and law.

Commendation of women jurors was given by Mrs. Normanton. She believes in capital punishment for women as well as men. As to marital laws, she admitted they were in a tangle all over the world.

Volunteer Corps And Fire Brigade Out to Rescue

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Shanghai, Jan. 12.—Both the victor and vanquished in yesterday's coup, by which Chi Hsich-Yuan, deposed military governor of this province, regained control of Shanghai, united this morning in an orgy of looting.

The soldiery both of Gen. Chi, whose attack was in defiance directed at the Provincial government in Peking and of the defending forces led by Peking appointee, Chang Yungmin, ran wild through Nanta Native city which adjoins the French settlement here.

Native merchants and householders in that region to-day were frantically removing their possessions into protected foreign quarters in defence of which volunteer corps, comprising most of foreigners in Shanghai had been called out.

Volunteer corps, aided by Chinese merchants and members of the Chinese fire-fighting brigade were this afternoon making futile efforts to cope with the soldiery.

FRENZY FOR TAXES

One of the facts that must be driven forcibly home to the governments in Canada is that business in this country must be saved from the tax-gatherer. This point, made by the Brandon Sun and being urged in many parts of Canada these days has much merit.

Business in this Dominion is paying fifty per cent. higher federal taxation than is paid in the United States. There are also voracious tax gatherers in the provincial departments and enterprises. Nor have either federal or provincial governments any thought of reducing taxes. Extravagance in expenditure has in no case been reduced. Parliament and legislature meet almost solely to discover new methods of taxation. The United States, within the last four years, has reduced the taxes per head of the population from $54 to $27.

Earlier in the year the King government by meeting, through the backing of notes, obligations for over $70,000,000, was able to claim a surplus of $35,000,000. This was a desperate expedient, but the government made much of its fictitious surplus. It was hailed as the beginning of a new era in debt reduction. Now the federal finance department's own statement shows that in November there was an increase of $35,405,272 in the public debt. These must increase.

This year's financial statement will show the worst muddling in the lifetime of the present generation. The last budget was one of the most reckless ever presented to a Canadian parliament. The estimates were conceived in deception, for they led the public to think that there would be a reduction of $47,000,000 in the year's expenditure. Eight months of the year show that the current expenditure has only $2,387,874 less than for the corresponding period last year, while an increase of $4,007,891 in capital expenditure makes the actual total $1,620,017 greater than during the same period last year. Forced into making some reduction in certain forms of taxation the government took a leap in the dark, and the returns for the eight months show it to be confronted by a loss of $40,000,000 in revenue. A loss of $5,000,000 a month means $60,000,000 on the year.

HOLD-UPS IN MONTREAL

The Montreal Herald draws attention to the fact that fourteen hold-ups in Montreal were reported to the police during the first week of the New Year and not one arrest in connection with any of them has been made. In two cases, women over 70 years of age were robbed and in another case a woman was compelled at the point of a revolver to hand over the fur coat that she was wearing on a public street, and in practically all the cases the revolver and the automobile played a part.

This record, coupled with constantly-recurring crimes of this nature, compels the conviction on the part of the people at large that something is radically wrong with the police system. In the first place it indicates the imperative necessity of a Federal law prohibiting the manufacture importation or sale of revolvers. The fact that a man carries a revolver indicates that he has but one intention in doing so and that is to kill. In many instances bandits have not hesitated to shoot those displaying the slightest hesitation in obeying their commands to put their hands up and allow themselves to be robbed. The open traffic in firearms is directly responsible for this and on the other hand the Government is directly responsible for allowing that open traffic to exist. The Government must take action, for public safety demands it.

A DANGEROUS CORNER

If some car drivers continue to travel on Front Street as they have in the past few months, some day there is going to be a serious accident at the corner of Victoria Avenue. While only the odd car is observed exceeding the speed limit a large number take every inch of the law. Cars coming down Victoria avenue are continually in danger of a collision. An approaching auto on Front street cannot be seen until it is right at hand.

Day after day accidents are narrowly avoided and in the past few weeks two or three minor bumps have occurred.

"Stop and look" would be a timely sign to erect at this corner.

Press Opinions

THE CURE

Stratford Beacon-Herald:

According to the railway commissioners, "notwithstanding safety devices and cautionary signals, people take chances and disregard safety." These accidents are on the increase and it is the opinion of the commissioners that if they are to be lessened, "the same motorist must educate the culpably negligent." But what is to be done with those who are incapable of being educated? People were cured of blowing out the gas only by the introduction of electric light, and it is possible that people will be cured of stepping on the gas only when something else takes the place of the automobile.

WHY IMPORTS FELL OFF

Hamilton Herald:

Last year the value of goods imported into Canada was $810,900,000. This was a decrease of about $90,000,000 from the import trade of 1923. But the value of the country's exports was $1,060,000,000, or an increase of $45,000,000 over the exports of the previous year. So that the net shrinkage in trade last year was $45,000,000.

If the total volume of trade had increased, the fact that the value of exports was so much greater than that of imports might have been interpreted as a healthy sign. But the balance of trade is in our favor only because the import trade has fallen off. Even that fact could be regarded cheerfully if it meant that commodities which had been imported are now being made in Canada—that Canadian manufacturers and workers are now getting the money which formerly went abroad to pay the manufacturers and workers of other countries. But we know that this is not the case imports fell off because the purchasing power of the people was diminished.

A favorable balance of trade is not necessarily a sign of prosperity.

WHEN NICHOLAS IS READY

(Kingston Standard)

It will be a bad day for the Soviets when Grand Duke Nicholas feels strong enough to attack them. He has proved his worth as one of Europe's foremost soldiers. Much as the world would regret seeing Russia plunged into Civil War, still it looks as if the only way in which it can be relieved from the tyranny, which is oppressing it, and which is seeking to destroy the civilization of other nations is by force.

A GREAT ATHLETE

(Buffalo Express)

The Finnish athlete, Nurmi, who was the individual star of the Olympic games last summer in Paris, broke three running records on his initial appearance on an indoor track in New York City. Nurmi is the greatest combination of speed and endurance that has appeared among athletes in many years. American runners have in him a rival worthy of their mettle.

Letters to Editor

THIS EMBARGO BUSINESS

To the Editor

Sir:—

Some timid souls oppose an embargo on pulpwood on the ground that it might provoke American resentment. They ignore the fact that the Americans themselves recognize the validity of the embargo as an economic expedient and make use of it whenever it serves their purpose without considering its effect upon other countries. This is set forth in the Boston Post of January 7th in an article entitled, "This Embargo Business."

"Before we put up an official protest against the British embargo on American potatoes we ought to do a little thinking," says the writer. "We are the original and persistent users of the embargo tactics.

"The reason," he says, "that fine Malaga grapes were unobtainable in the American market the past holiday season was that the government had put an embargo on Malagas from [illegible] Plant bulbs from France, England and Holland have likewise been excluded by the same process. Some years ago, reminds the writer, the onion growers of Bermuda were totally ruined for a season by an embargo excluding Bermudian onions from the United States. The last time Canada had an abundant potato crop, the American government imposed an embargo on their importation."

"Now," concludes the Boston Post article, "with our record, how can we consistently protest when our favorite tactics are turned against us?"

Canada, as a nation, gets nothing for the pulpwood of which this country is despoiled, although put to great expense in protecting it from fire in other ways. The so-called "private owners" get but a pittance from its sale for export. The middlemen, jobbers and such, of course, get their rake-of. The American paper manufacturers get the rest. Why not put a stop to the whole business? If we must consume the wood instead of conserve it, as we should, why not consume it ourselves?

By the time exploitation, fungi, fire, insects, wind and the axe get in another ten years' work of devastation, the people will cry "Hands off" on any more cutting in our poor dilapidated wooded areas because of the ensuing tremendous and disastrous changes in climatic conditions long before that time, regardless of whether or not our last tree has been cut or destroyed. This is why I say we have less than ten years' supply remaining under the present conditions.

In the interest of the people who are investing their hard earned savings in these large pulp and paper flotations, and in the interest of the Banks who are loaning huge sums of money to these companies, if for no other reason, surely the time has arrived when the Government must either prohibit the erection of any more pulp and paper mills in Canada or else prohibit the export of the raw material that is to feed these mills. There are enough new mills and enlargements now under way to absorb more than the total quantity of wood now being exported and some of the existing mills have already exhausted the wood supply on their own watersheds. It is time to invoke the blue-sky law—in the interest of the whole people.

Teacher—Johnny, why didn't you come to school yesterday?

Johnny—Well, sir on my way I saw a steam roller.

Teacher—Well, what of that?

Johnny—An old man came up to me and said, "Mind that steam roller, boy," and I just stood minding it all afternoon.

Thirty Years Ago

On Monday the Kingston Presbytery met in Deseronto and accepted the resignation of the Rev. R. J. Craig, pastor of the Presbyterian church there. He had to retire on account of ill health. A call has been extended to the Rev. A. McMilMillan of Mimico, and if he accepts he will be inducted within four weeks.

During the night the thermometer registered 10 degrees below zero.

While Alderman and Mrs. Ponton were driving on Bridge street, opposite the post office this morning, one of the traces became unhooked and the horse, a spirited animal, was beginning to make things awkward for his driver when he was caught by the head by a passerby.

The Literary Society of the Belleville Business College was re-organized yesterday afternoon. At four o'clock all the students assembled in the large commercial hall and selected officers.

Miss Imogene Palen, daughter of Mr. E. L. Palen, Dunbar Street, has passed the examination for second class teachers at the Normal school, Toronto.

HODGE PODGE

We have grown so sick and tired of telling our curious friends why we didn't go away this winter, says one newspaper man, that we have had some little cards printed which read as follows:

Why We Didn't Go To California This Winter

First. During the month of November, in our home town, it rained for eleven days in success. We respectfully invite the Los Angeles weatherman to tie that!

Second. On our week-end drives to the beaches we have found the water in the Atlantic much too cold for surf bathing also.

Third. Every day our postman brings us either a real estate, an oil well, or a bond prospectus, or all three.

Fourth. We can buy better oranges at $1.20 a dozen right here at home than in any other place we know of.

Fifth. Whenever we feel the need of a dose of superlatives we simply go to see my sister-in-law whose new baby is the cutest, sweetest, darlingest, cunningest, brightest, keenest, bestest, and altogether the most unusual baby in the whole, wide world.

Sixth. We didn't want to.

Deaths And Funerals

MRS. THOS. WALLACE

Death came suddenly some time early Saturday morning to Mrs. Thomas Wallace, an aged and esteemed resident of Frankford, Sidney Township. Friday night when she retired she was apparently in her usual health, but was found dead in bed Saturday morning. Her passing had occurred a few hours previous according to the physician who was called in. Mrs. Wallace was in her 73rd year and had resided in this locality all her life, her maiden name being Miss Hannah Fall. She was a member of the Methodist Church and had always taken an active part in church work. In addition to the husband three children survive, namely Gilbert, of Hamilton. Wesley, of Frankford and Mrs. J. E. Howard, of Frankford. Three sisters, Mrs. Tonybee, of California; Mrs. Baker, of Toronto; and Mrs. Sexsmith, of Spokane, Washington are living. Mrs. Bert Brown residing on Yeoman street, this city, is an niece of the deceased.

JOHN JAMES HARRISON

John James Harrison, a former resident of Belleville, passed away at Ottawa, on Friday 9th inst after a lengthy illness. Mr. Harrison was a son of the late Capt. Ed. Harrison who, for many years operated a line of steamers on Lake Ontario.

For some time he was engaged with his father in business on Front street, Belleville, and moved to Ottawa in 1878 where he was associated with his brother in-law the late Mr. H. F. MacCarthy as druggists.

He served with the 15th Battalion Argyle Light Infantry during the Fenian Raids of 1866. His brother, the late Lt. Col. E. Harrison, formerly commanding 49th Battalion Hastings Rifles predeceased him seven years ago.

Mr. Harrison was married to Sydney Anne MacCarthy, of Ottawa.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow and four sons, Fred E. Harrison, of the Department of Labour at Vancouver B.C.; P. C. Harrison, President, British American Bank, at San Francisco, Cal.; John V. Harrison, Manager Union Bank of Canada at Winnipeg and Major H. S. Harrison, Asst Secy-Treas. of The Ottawa and Hull Power Company at Ottawa.

Interment will be made at Belleville on Monday afternoon 12th inst on arrival of C.P.Ry train from Ottawa.

Begging Trade is A Profitable One

Blind Make as High as Fifteen Dollars a Day

TAKEN TO COURTS

Brought Out That Well Paid Assistants Are Employed

(Associated Press Despatch)

Los Angeles, Jan. 12.—That some professional beggars make as high as $15 a day on streets of Los Angeles, that they ride in automobiles not of the cheapest make, buy expensive jewelry and musical instruments, and even hire assistants to watch for the police while they work, are some of the things disclosed in recent trials of mendicants in police court.

One blindwoman testified that she and her husband, also blind, drove to Los Angeles from Cleveland with a hired driver, and that in this city she had made as high as $15 and $16 in a day of three hours. She said her best week had netted $85, but denied that she collected $300 and $400 a week as reported to the court.

"I am informed that you bought a radio set some time ago for $500," the court remarked.

"Yes, Your Honor, I guess that's correct."

"I have also been told that you bought a monkey. Is that true?"

"Yes, eight months ago I did buy a monkey."

"How about a parrot?"

"Yes, I bought a parrot and a canary too."

Her husband then admitted that they had bought a new automobile for $1,700; a watch and a diamond ring; a roll top desk for $105; a fan for $24; a player piano for $485, and a steel banjo and saxaphone for $180. He also admitted that occasionally he became intoxicated.

Another woman informed the court that she conducted this blind woman to and from her hotel daily and stood watch for her to give warning of the approach of policemen. She said that for such services she was paid $3 a day.

Odessa Merchant Sued for $5,000

Latest Development of Hallowe'en Prank When Boy Was Shot

Kingston, Jan. 12—Cunningham & Smith, solicitors, acting for Percy Clarke, aged sixteen years, who was shot on the evening of October 31st, 1924 in the village of Odessa, have entered an action at the Court House to recover damages amounting to $5,000, from Urban Snider, general merchant at Odessa.

Although both plaintiff and the defendant reside in the county of Lennox and Addington, it has been decided that the case will be heard in Kingston at the next sitting of the supreme court of Ontario. The legal documents have already been filed with the local clerk of the court.

It will be remembered that Percy Clarke, in company with a number of other boys from the village, went out on Hallowe'en night for the purpose of making the rounds of the village. They visited the home of Urban Snider, and while near the back door of his home, Clarke was shot. The bullet entered his lung and lodging in the back. At first it was feared that he would die, but due to the skill of the doctors treating him at the Kingston General Hospital, his life was saved, and he was able to proceed home ten days after the accident happened.

Snider was arrested on the night in question, taken to Napanee, and detained in jail until his trial which took place a short time ago. He was charged with shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm, and also shooting with intent. The jury found the accused 'not guilty" on both counts, and he was given his freedom.

Take Salts If Stomach Isn't Acting Right

Separate School Board Held First Meeting of Year

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as foods left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensixe, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many tomach disorders with excellent results.

Stranded in Singapore Without Money or Work

(Associated Press Despatch)

Los Angeles, Jan. 12.—The tale of the disillusionment of an expedition of 20 Americans, mostly young men from Southern, California, who left here last May to seek romance and adventure in secluded by-ways of the Orient, was told by the last of the party, who recently returned home here. They, as had the rest of the group, made the return trip by a devious route, doing menial tasks aboard steamers after having been stranded for months at Singapore, where their romantic complexes were shaken by fever and privation.

The returning adventurers offered a strange contrast to the debonair party which set sail on the President Van Buren with the intention of obtaining motion pictures among the queer folk and animals in the wilds of the Orient. An "ape-man" was to be filmed for the benefit and enlightenment of American audiences. The itinerary included a side trip to the Isle of Bale, where a few choice scenes were to be taken of the inhabitants offering 1,000 babies to their gods on an altar of fire. These pictures were to be sold on the expedition's return.

The party was headed by Carl P. Winther, and associated with him was William Bals, who professed to have had experience in the Orient. The former's wife and little daughter a child of 10, were with the party and shared its hardships.

The voyage to Manilla passed without incident, but at Singapore their troubles began. Money sent by Los Angeles backers arrived late, and the travellers were without funds. When it did arrive dissentions started. Then the backers backed down and out, and a local hotel turned the Americans into the street.

The American consul helped as much as he could, and arranged for living quarters in an unused school But the condition of the adventurers steadily became worse. Several were attacked by fever.

Heroic methods were used to raise funds, but there were no odd jobs in Singapore for Americans or Europeans, W. E. Boerg, of Peoril, Ill., secretary of the expedition, who had been something of an amateur boxer, had an idea that he might earn a few dollars by fighting in one of the frequent cards at the athletic club in the European colony.

Boerg obtained a match with Harry Smythe, a Chinese boxer notwithstanding his English name, but on the day of the fight came down with fever. He insisted, however, on climbing into the ring and lasted four rounds, which enriched the expedition's coffers by $40 in Mexican money.

A few months ago the exodus from Singapore began, every man for himself, and they filtered into Los Angeles and home singly, or in two and threes. All are now safely back in the United States except Winther and Bals, who remained in Singapore.

London Subways Best in the World

Are Extended as London Grows; Fares Are Cheap

(Associated Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 12.—The city of London, instead of talking about sub ways, builds them. For several years this has been going on, and in consequence there is seldom a crush. Except for an hour or two in the mornings and again at the end of the work-day, the tube trains seldom have any strap-hangers. There are seats enough to go around.

And they are comfortable seats. Well-stuffed plush or leather cover most of them. Only the very oldest coaches have the plain straw seats so common in America. One can, and does, smoke in about half of the cars without fouling the air unduly. For there is seldom a close-packed crowd.

Fares for the short rides are cheaper than in New York, and for longer rides the cost is higher. Instead of a standard fare for any distance, the London tubes charge for the length of the ride. Three half-pence is the minimum, but this soon is to be reduced to a penny. The cost of ordinary runs usually averages a little less than a penny a mile. The omnibusses which, like the tubes, spread out in all directions, charge about the same.

During the present year the lines of twoof the underground railways have been extended far out into suburban territory. London, unconfined by either sea or river, and not caring to grow upward in the American apartment house manner, is sprawling out in every direction with great rapidity.

Th tubes are helping to create suburbs, already encouraged by steam railway lines from a dozen or more London terminals. Some of the underground lines make a practice of buying outlying property, pushing their rails out to it, and then advertising it for sale to home-seekers, who, of course, become habitual patrons of the electric trains.

But one is beginning to hear complaints that the suburbs they are helping to make are becoming too thick. Only recently it was proposed that a green belt of parks, forests, golf-courses or other open spaces be established around the greater city, to preserve some of the amenities of the countryside within easy reach of Londoners.

DE LUXE TRAVEL TO CALIFORNIA

Modern travel leaves little to be desired in comfort and luxury. The most recent innovation is the introduction of Lady's Maid Service on the California Limited, the Los Angeles Limited, and the San Francisco Overland Limited, operating daily between Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco over their various routes. It has also been announced that the California Limited has been equipped with new all-steel drawing room compartment, sleeping cars, specially designed ladies' lounge. Such improved services signify the strides being made to satisfy every conceivable desire of the long distance traveller.

These famous trains are already associated by connections with the Canadian National double track system to Chicago and the trip from Toronto to Los Angeles or San Francisco is thus made one of unequalled pleasure and satisfaction throughout.

Full information and tickets may be obtained from Canadian National Ticket Offices and personal service in arranging reservations, etc., will be rendered by any Canadian National Ticket Agent.

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. There is nothing like Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment. Try it $1.60 at

SOMEONE HAS DREAM PREMIER SAYS

Toronto, Jan. 12.—"Somebody had a dream!" Thus tersely did Premier G. Howard Ferguson last evening dismiss the story of an evening newspaper which indicated a probability of his resigning the Premiership.

The evening paper story had stressed the "obviously disconcerted" manner of the Premier when interrogated, and emphasized that Mr. Ferguson did not give a negative reply.

Asked by The Globe last night why he had not given a negative reply to the question, the Premier replied, laughingly:

"Well, the question sounded so foolish."

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

"I know nothing of your not having heard from her," said the marquis, with perfect coolness; "and I care less. I wrote to you because I considered that I should do so, on a point of honor. You were absent on my business, and it was my duty to let you know what I had heard. I have always done my duty, and I did it in this case, though the writing of even a short note is irksome to me."

"Well, my lord, well?" demanded Lord Cecil, and he paced to and fro, "what is it? Is she ill?—is she——" He could not force his lips to utter the word "dead."

"Ill? Oh, no; I hope not. The fact is, I—I may say 'No,' for it is generally known, I imagine, that Miss Barlow—pardon, Miss Marlowe—has disappeared."

Dreadful as the word sounded, Lord Cecil drew a breath of relief, and a smile, a very mirthless one, crossed his lips.

"Disappeared?" he said, almost contemptuously. "You mean she has left Barton? That accounts for her not having received my letters or answered them. Where has she gone?"

The marquis shrugged his shoulders. "I had better tell you what I know; we are getting rather confused. It appears that Miss Marlowe's guardian died suddenly; probably you know this?"

Lord Cecil uttered an exclamation of dismay and pity.

"No! I did not know it! I have not heard from her—from any one! My poor Doris! When—when did he die?"

"Some time ago—soon after you left I believe; and here in Barton. I know nothing of the particulars."

"And she did not write. Why not, why not?"

"For reasons best known to herself. My dear Cecil, I am reluctant to shake your faith in this young lady, but I am afraid I must."

"What!" demanded Lord Cecil, scarcely understanding. "My faith in Doris! Go on, sir!"

"It would seem—— Pray take a chair; your constant moving is harassing."

Lord Cecil sank into a chair, impatiently.

"It would seem that the young lady was not very serious in her little love affair with you. I imagine that that kind of young person seldom is. How can it be expected of them? They are actresses by profession. I daresay she was practicing for a love scene when she was exchanging vows of perpetual faith with you. Pray don't take my suggestion in bad part!" he put in, for Lord Cecil leaned forward with crimson face. "I am sorry you should have regarded the matter so seriously! It is a mistake—I speak with experience—a mistake to take any woman seriously; they are all daughters of Eve, and as unreliable as their first mother. Miss Marlowe is like the rest, that is all!"

"Will you tell me, my lord, what it is you insinuate?" said Lord Cecil, in despair.

"I insinuate nothing! Why should I? I believe it is perfectly true, but you can ascertain for yourself, of course, that she has jilted you, and gone off with her first, and pardon me if I add, her more suitable young man."

Lord Cecil started up, his face pale and working, his eyes flashing.

"It—it is a lie!" he said, hoarsely.

The marquis regarded him with a mixture of curiosity and contempt, the kind of look with which one might regard the movements of a strange animal.

"Yes, it may be! I don't answer for the truth of the story, as I said."

"Where has she gone? Who is this—this man? It is false! I will stake my existence upon her truth. It is a ridiculous lie!"

The marquis smiled.

"A large stake; too large for so paltry a prize as a woman's faith!" he said, calmly. "I have heard that she has gone to Australia with a man named—named—excuse me, my memory is very faulty, but, fortunately, I jotted down the details. I had an idea that you would like to hear them." He reached for an elegant-bound memorandum book as he spoke, and consulted it.

"Ah, yes, here it is! 'Miss Marlowe sailed in the Orion on the fourteenth, in company with Mr. Garland, late of the Barton Theatre Royal; engagement at Melbourne.' The Orion, the fourteenth! I am glad it occurred to me to jot it down with the particulars."

Lord Cecil stared at him as if he were in doubt whether he or the marquis was mad, and the marquis, closing the book, regarded him with a calm, set placidity.

Then Lord Cecil laughed. It was an unpleasant laugh to hear.

"Who told you this fable?" he demanded.

"I got it from Spencer Churchill!" said the marquis promptly.

"Spencer Churchill! Spencer Churchill!" repeated Lord Cecil. "What had he to do with it?"

"Too much," said the marquis. "Very much against my advice, he insisted—you know he is a professional philanthropist?"—with a sneer—"he insisted upon pleading your cause with the young lady. But it was of no avail; even so distinguished an individual could not persuade a woman to keep her faith."

Lord Cecil strode up and down, his physical weariness and exhaustion playing their part in his mental disturbance.

"It is not true!" he asseverated, vehemently. "It is not true! Why should Spencer Churchill be mixed up in this matter? Why——"

"That is easily answered," said the marquis. "It appears that he discovered that the young lady's guardian was an old friend of his. I don't know his name——" which was true. "I don't know anything more than I've told you; and forgive me saying so, that, seeing the reception my information has received at your hands, I'm sorry I know so much! I hate and detest this kind of business. It was bad enough when I took a personal interest in it, but now——" he shrugged his shoulders. "It is a pity that the world could not have got on without women; we men would have been better and happier, believe me."

"Where is Spencer Churchill?" demanded Lord Cecil, hoarsely.

"Heaven only knows!" said the marquis, shrugging his shoulders. "In London, possibly, or he may have gone out on a mission to the Jews, or the Turks, or the Sandwich Islanders. I neither know nor care, if I may say so. And now, hadn't you better go and get something to eat? I fear we have exhausted the subject," and he leaned back and regarded the opposite wall with an expression which was intended to indicate that, whether they had exhausted the subject or not, the subject had entirely and completely exhausted him.

Rev. Dr. E. N. Baker was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Flavelle, during his stay in Lindsay.

Mr. McCorkell of Toronto is here attending the obsequies of Mrs. Stephen Haight.

Mrs. Scott Cockburn, of Hamilton, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. R. Gowdy, Foster Ave., returned to Hamilton yesterday.

Miss Fleming, who went to Tweed for a visit during the Christmas holidays and was taken ill, returned home to-day.

Mr. George Thompson, furniture dealer, left on Sunday to attend the furniture exhibitions at Stratford, Kitchener and Toronto.

Miss Earshman, teacher at Pine St. School has not yet resumed her duties there, which she discontinued on account of illness.

On Friday evening Form 1 D Belleville High School girls and friends enjoyed a sleighing party after which they were entertained at the home of Miss Dorothy Salisbury, Bridge St. west.

A pretty wedding took place at 9 p.m. on Wednesday at Erinsville church, Deseronto, when Miss May McGraw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGraw, 27 north Marlbank, was joined in matrimony with Mr. Francis Naphon, of Lonsdale, son of Mrs. Cornelius Naphon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father O'Reilly, parish priest of Erinsville and formerly of Deseronto, and the church was full of friends and relatives. About forty guests sat down to luncheon at the home of the birde's parents, among whom were Mrs. C. Naphon, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Naphon, of Deseronto, Martin Naphon, Joseph Phillips and Mrs. Michael Gouldin, of Tyendinaga. Many beautiful and useful presents were given to the happy couple and all present joined in hearty wishes wishes for their future happiness. The wedding feast was a joyful affair and dancing was indulged in during the evening and until the small hours of the morning when the happy couple left by C. P. R for a honeymoon trip to the west.

SPONGE PUDDING

- 4 tbspoons of sugar.
- 3 tbspoons of flour
- 1 pint milk
- 5 eggs
- 1 1-2 tbspoons butter.

Heat milk, reserving enough to blend with the sugar and flour. When milk boils stir in the latter, remove from fire, and add butter. When cool add beaten yolks of eggs and lastly the whites, stiffly beaten. Pour in buttered baking dish, placing dish in a pan of hot water. Bake one-half hour.

LEMON SAUCE

- 1 cup of sugar
- 1-2 cup of butter
- 1 egg
- 1 lemon
- 1 tspoon nutmeg
- 3 tbspoons boiling water

Cream butter and sugar, and beat in the egg, lightly beaten; then add lemon, all the juice and the grated rind of one half, then the nutmeg. Beat hard ten minutes, adding water, a little at a time. Heat over boiling water.

This is a delicious dessert, though more expensive than usual.

Brings a Circus To Movie Studio

Used It to Film Show Now At the Belle Theatre

Herbert Brenon couldn't find time to go to the circus at Madison Square Garden when the Big Show was in New York City so he brought a circus to the lot at the Paramount Long Island studio. Incidentally the circus was used for scenes in "The Side Show of Life", featuring Ernest Torrence and Anna Q. Nilsson. While amusing himself with lions, tigers, bears, camels, bareback riders and the other characteriste parts of a circus Mr. Brenon also furnished entertainment for some two hundred men, women, and children who gathered under the tent as spectators. And they were paid for watching the performance!

Mr. Brenon didn't even leave out the side show and following the big show there was the usual after concert with the fat lady, the tal man, the strong man and the wild man from Borneo. Taking it all in all a great time was had by all.

Supporting the principal players in "The Side Show of Life", which will be the feature at the Belle Theater Tonight among others, Neil Hamilton, Louise Lagrange, Katherine Lee, Maurice Cannon and Lawrence D'Orsay.

The story was adapted to the screen from the novel, "The Mountebank" by William J. Locke.

GRAY HAIR IS QUICKLY MADE DARK, GLOSSY

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years

Kingston Promises Keen Opposition

Team Will Be Strengthened For To-night's Game

(From Kingston Whig)

All roads will lead to the Arena on Monday night when the Belleville intermediates will be the guests of the Kingston intermediates in their second meeting of the season and there are mighty few fans, who will miss this contest. In years gone by, the engagement with Belleville here has always been a hockey classic and Monday will be no different from any which has preceded it. The Belleville team comes here with a strong determination to put things in this group to their own liking and they feel that they have a big chance to do the work required of them.

Belleville still has hopes of winning the group title but they will have considerable more guessing to do, according to the members of the local squad who are determined to go out on Monday and hand the visitors a real trimming. The Kingston team has been going wonderfully well in practice during the past week and Coach Gelley is more than delighted with the way the men have been going about their work. He believes that Kingston will win on Monday night and by a comfortable margin.

The locals will be strengthened for their engagement on Monday evening by addition of Brophy, who will not play defence, but will go up on the line while Voss may be used but it is not certain yet whether he will be or not. Every effort will be made to land the game Monday and Kingston hockey fans will see a real battle.

Belleville will have their team at full strength for the game and reports have filtered out of the Bay of Quinte city that the men have been going great in practice. "Bunny" Frechette has shown plenty of speed in practices while Hagerman at centre never played better hockey than he is turning in now. Weir is the man to watch on the Belleville forward line and he can streak with the puck like a flash.

The team for Monday night has not been chosen but will be picked from the following members of the squad: Brooks, Rogers Ronney Watts Voss. Smith. Gibson. Hargraft, Millan. Bellamy Lawlor. Devlin, Donnelly. Lindsay, Johnston, Murray and one or two others.

Four Leagues Open At the Recreation

Canadian National Starts Ball Rolling at Nine O'Clock

After being idle for the past month at the Recreation alleys all bowling leagues will get under way for their winter schedule to-night with the topnotchers leading off. The Lady Wanderers, winners of the fall league will play the Mah Jongs and the Hardware, also winners of the fall senior league, playing the Wanderers. In the junior league two new teams will start off namely the Bankers and the Belle Motors.

C. N. R. League Starts

To-night at 9 o'clock at the Recreation alleys the newest bowling league in the city will play their first game, when the two official teams will open the Canadian National Bowling league with 10 other teams in the line up. The two teams to start out to-night are one headed by Mr. J. D McMillan and the other by J. Walshe. Although this is a new league, there will be some very good bowlers on the different teams who have played in the city senior and junior bowling leagues and with all these bowlers being scatered on the different teams should make it a very close contest.

LONG DISTANCE BRIDE IS DIVORCED

Fort Worth, Texas., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Helen Keller, 19 years old, "long distance telephone bride," was granted a divorce by Judge Lattimore from William Horace Keller, 20.

Two thousand miles have separated the couple since before their wedding.

The marriage ceremony was conducted by telephone May 3, 1923, with Keller in Bremerton, Wash., and Miss Helen Leona Satterwhite in Fort Worth. Through arrangement with the telephone company, a straight line of more than 4,000 miles of wire was linked up between the two places. The line was [illegible] through St. Louis, Chicago, Denver, San Francisco and Seattle.

London C.N.R. Six Defeats Local Here

Grab Lead and Play Defensive Game Winning 4-3

London C.N.R. hockey six just succeeded in nosing out the Belleville C.N.R. team here Saturday at the arena by 4-3 in a hard fought engagement.

The period scores were 1-1; and 3-2 Hagerman first found the net for the locals when he stick-handled through right smartly after Riggs had nearly scored on Clift. Hagerman grabbed the disc from Woods who had made a dangerous rush and slipped it to Riggs who packed it at Clift. The Londoners had the edge for a spasm and made goalie Buskard step lively to save on many occasions. 'Chum' Buskard drew a rest for violation of the new body checking rule, and the Westerners tried real hard to equalize the count, good work on the part of the defense men, Hagerman and Buskard taving them off until finally Tozer, who was relieving, lifted a high one past Buskard from outside the defense placing the teams on equal basis again.

The second period opened fast, the Westerners showing every indication of scoring the first. Buskard was called upon time and again to save the situation, when the fast travelling opposition forwards swooped down upon him. Nothing happened in the score column, however, until Seeney drew a penalty for body checking, and with him on the fence the visitors forged ahead. Moms notched two for the visitors, when he whipped in a rebound from the boards behind the net. Belleville accelerated their speed but the opposition had Hagerman marked, and their watchfulness checked his usefulness. Clift saved nicely when Follwell rushed. Goddard grabbed the puck and taking a hard shot, the gypsum luckily "oozed" over the line from Buskard's pads. Seeney and Hagerman spurted out for an end to end combination sweep, and Seeney poked one past Clift by a niftily placed shot just inside the goal post. London protested this counter but it counted just the same.

The locals were then victims of a similar set of circumstances as the Intermediates experienced at Brockville, for Hagerman taking a fast pass from Seeney, had shot and scored, but not before referee Barrett had sounded his bell for a forward pass. The period ended with London three, and one up on the locals.

Belleville Tried Hard.

Speed was uncorked in the last by both squads, brilliant and thrilling end to end sweeps and rushes, adding zest to the game.

On one occasion, Riggs who had gone clear through, missed by inches with Clift to beat. London played three man defense, with a one goal lead, and despite the excellent efforts of Hagerman, held Belleville off to great advantage. Buskard cross-checked Morris when he was through and away, and it looked like another counter for the opposition. He stopped the man, but had to take a penalty. With Buskard in the penalty box, Fortner London's other sub, slipped London's fourth past Buskard. Locals came on desperately and had the edge for a time, holding the visitors well to their half and then some. Finally Hagerman broke through, and notched Belleville's third and last. They were able to stall the local Moguls off until the gong sounded victory for them London's "crime" or penalty sheet was clean, Belleville having three.

London C.N.R. six make a snappy team, and last week they beat Stratford 2-0, but two of their tallies here Saturday were secured while Belleville players "served time."

Belleville C.N.R. team play in Stratford next Saturday.

The line-ups were:—

London C.N.R.—Clift, goal; Goddard and Malone, defence; Woods, centre; Morris, left wing; Pigeon, right wing; Fortner and Tozer, subs.

"Y" BASKET BALL

This will be a big week in basket ball at the local Y.M.C.A. Eight games are on the list. On Monday at 8.15, Bridge Street meets St. Andrews in the Intermediate S.S. League. On Wednesday at seven o'clock, St. Andrews Juniors are matched with Christ Church and at seven thirty, Tabernacle Intermediates meet Christ Church Intermediates. At eight fifteen and nine o'clock the Y Senior league fixtures. Blue Sox vs White Sox and Red Sox vs. Black Sox are slated. Kingston and Belleville clash on Friday night at 8.15 o'clock.

KINGSTON STANDARD CALLED IT RIGHT

The following appeared in the Kingston Standard on Friday:

To-night Brockville will be the scene of a merry battle when Belleville intermediates travel there in their scheduled game. Brockville showed their strength in the opening game by winning right in Belleville and then were slipped up before Kingston. The latter then turned around and dished in a poor per—the result that the group is tied up as tight as a matrimonial knot.

Brockville, however, seem to have the edge, and should be returned the winners tonight. Belleville have a team of veterans, and their substitutes are not as strong as in former years. True, Frechette played well against Kingston, but the chances are that on good ice the wings will be skating away from him, while Armstrong failed to make a favorable impression, and Wardhaugh is far from intermediate calibre. Brockville have a cracking good substitute in Saundercook, and Frego is no slouch, though he has been at the game since Adam was a baby.

SOCIETY EDITORS ARE AT LOSS NOW

(Associated Press Despatch)

Washington, Jan. 12.—The economy policy of the Coolidge regime has had its effect even in the drawing roms of fashionable Washington society.

One of the latest items of expense to be clipped from the annual budget is the small, but much-sought-after monthly publication called the Diplomatic List, wherein the names and official titles of all members of embassy and legation staffs heretofore have been made available by the State Department.

Department officials have decided that new editions of this diplomatic book will be printed hereafter only when there has been an accumulation of necessary revisions. Consequently no hostess now can be certain, without special inquiry, of the precise rank of diplomatic officials, or of the correct spelling of some of the jawbreaking names of those sent here to represent distant countries.

The change has been a particular cause of disurbance to social secretaries and society editors, accustomed for years to the possesion of a ready-reference tabulation of all Washington diplomats.

Tractor Crosses Ice

An unusual scene was witnessed on the bay last week when a large steam tractor crossed the ice bridge from Deseronto to the Fredericksburg store opposite. The tractor proceeded to Hay Bay by road, then crossed the ice there to Sand hurst where Mr. MacFarlane the owner will set up his saw-mill for a few weeks' work, after which he will return to Deseronto and set it up at the old shipyard for the winter.

Miss Madeline Vanderburg was successful in securing the highest standing among the girls taking part in the Lansdown district in the judging competition staged during the past season and consequently was advised by the agricultural representative of the department that a championship prize, consisting of a trip to the International live stock exposition at Chicago had been awarded to her.

From Club to Club

A short time ago the Harding Memorial Flag was presented to the Kingston Rotary Club by the Brockville Rotarians. This is a flag sent out by Rotary headquarters in memory of the late President Harding, and is being sent the rounds of the various clubs in the twenty-eighth district, of which the Kingston club is a member. The Kingston club has been instructed to forward the flag to the Rotary Club at Smith's Falls, and the latter club, so it is understood, will in turn hand it on to the Oshawa Rotary Club.

Autos Waited

That two automobiles were close at hand for the purpose of aiding the two convicts who made their escape from the Portsmouth penitentiary on Saturday afternoon last, while engaged in shovelling snow, is the interesting story which comes to light. It is stated that the two autos were waiting for a good opportunity to pick up the convicts, but that their plans were foiled as the prison cars did not have time to reach the conveyances, and were speedily caught by the prison officials without trouble.

Arena For Oshawa

Oshawa, Jan. 12—Plans and specifications have been drawn up for a new hockey and skating arena here, which it is proposed to erect, if preliminary arrangements such as securing a suitable site, etc., can be negotiated. It is understood from reliable sources that C Deverell, who has a lease on the present rink in Whitby, as well as being proprietor of the skating rink here, is contemplating the project and a further definite announcement may be made this week. The plans call for a modern arena which will seat about 2,000 people with standing room for an additional 1,000.

Elected Alderman

Joseph Nash was on Friday night elected by acclamation as an alderman for St. Lawrence ward, Kingston. Thomas H. Sargent and John Henry Jarvis, who were nominated to contest this ward, retired, thus giving Mr. Nash an acclamation. Dr. W. W. Sands, city clerk, declared Mr. Nash elected at noon on Saturday, following the usual procedure, and he will be able to take his seat at the meeting of the city council on Monday night.

The Carrying Place

In the early days of settlement, the settlers going east from Kingston Prince Edward county and other points were quite frequently brought in boats to a point known as "The Carrying Place," where Asa Weller kept a tavern. There they found lodgings, and frequently his stout yoke of oxen attached to a wagon or sled, was the means by which they reached their destination further west. This spot to this day retains the name of "The Carrying Place."

Fifty-Sixth Annual Meeting of The Royal Bank of Canada

Sir Herbert S. Holt, President, Insists That Country Must Now Deal With Serious Problem of Over-Taxation — Suggests Establishment of Central Budget Bureau and Committee of Experts to Investigate Railway Situation—Believes Canada Should Return to Gold Standard at Once.

C. E. Neill, General Manager, Reviews Growth and in Commenting on Increase of $40,000,000 in Deposits Points Out That in 1924 Bank Opened More New Accounts Than in Any Other Year of Its History—Expansion in International Business.

The annual general meeting of The Royal Bank of Canada held at the head office in Montreal not only marked the conclusion of one of the most successful years in the Bank's history, but was also featured by most interesting and forceful addresses by Sir Herbert Holt, the President and C. E. Neill, the General Manager.

Sir Herbert in his address pointed out that Canada was confronted with such serious problems that it would be unfair to pass over them lightly. On the other hand, they had to be faced courageously and a solution found, otherwise the damage may become almost irreparable.

Foremost among these problems is taxation. He regarded the situation in this respect as very serious indeed, and stressed the necessity for reducing our tax burden in order that Canada might not be placed in too unfavorable a position as compared with other countries, notably the United States, where taxes are steadily being reduced. As a remedy Sir Herbert recommended drastic economies in public expenditure, and to assist in this suggested the establishment of a Central Budget Bureau similar to that in operation in the United States, directed by an efficient and non-partisan officer who would understand that so long as many of our citizens and companies are struggling to make both ends meet public funds must be spent on bare necessities alone. Not only should sales and income taxes be cut, but a way should be found to lighten the public's burden all along that line. He emphasized the fact that it is not the wealthy who are the greatest sufferers from high surtaxes on incomes, but the rank and file of the people who find it difficult to secure employment when industry is stagnant and the men who should be risking their money in new enterprises have no incentive to do so.

The Tariff Question

On the tariff situation in Canada he pointed out our responsibility to the great number of men and women who depend on our factories for a livelihood and noted that these factories could not operate properly under the menace of tariff reductions. The urgent need for stability was stressed.

Immigration

In touching on the immigration question the speaker said that the first people to enter Canada in any number must be farmers, and these would only be attracted if farming could be carried on at a profit. While farming in Canada during the last few years had not been generally profitable, he hoped that from now on it would give reasonable returns. In this case, a proper immigration policy would be well rewarded. If Canada secured a good number of new farm settlers, the way would be again open for our factories to operate satisfactorily, the exodus of Canadians to the United States could be stopped, and eventually the country would be able to absorb newcomers of the industrial class. A general revival of business in Canada is almost entirely dependent upon development along these lines.

Sir Herbert came out strongly in favor of a change in our policy in regard to the export of pulpwood. As Canada urgently requires every dollar of earning-power it can possibly secure he thought it foolish to export large amounts of pulpwood in the raw state. While an embargo on exports was perhaps too drastic a measure, he did advocate an adequate export tax which would result in the further development of the paper making industry in Canada and the provision of more work for Canadians.

The problem of our excessive railway mileage was referred to and the appointment of a commission of experts to investigate and make a report on the whole railway situation, with the object of lightening the stupendous burden under which we are now laboring, was suggested.

On the subject of bank amalgamations, Sir Herbert stated that one of the reasons for such changes was the lack of profit in banking in Canada today. Opportunities to reduce overhead costs through amalgamation were therefore, taken advantage of. Income and business taxes paid by The Royal Bank of Canada increased from $120,000 in 1914 to $805,278 in 1924 exclusive of any amount paid on lands and buildings.

Gold Reserve Adequate

The President referred to the world's need for greater stability in business, and in this connection remarked on the handicap arising from fluctuating exchange rates. He believed that the question of a return to the gold standard would be prominent in 1925, and that if England were to take the lead in resuming gold payments, many other countries of the world would follow suit within a reasonable time. So far as Canada was concerned, he believed that such action could be taken immediately, that our gold reserve is adequate and any fear that we could not maintain gold payments is groundless.

In concluding his remarks, the President said, "I have never been more optimistic in regard to the possibilities of this country than I am today. We have been held back by agricultural depression since 1920, but this should disappear as normal conditions are restored throughout the world. I have firm faith in the future of the Empire, of which we are a part, and hope to see good results obtained as its varied resources are properly developed. Moreover, a factor conducive to Canadian prosperity is our close proximity to a country of 113 million people, increasing in number at the rate of perhaps two million per annum. I feel sure that great prosperity is ahead of the United States in the next ten years, and that we shall find in that country a market not only for larger amounts of lumber and paper, but for increasing quantities of foodstuffs as well. Good as our prospects are, it must not be forgotten that we are faced with the necessity of finding a solution from some very urgent problems, and that the improvement which we are justified in expecting can be retarded by the mishandling of our affairs, by failure to reduce taxation, by neglect of immigration, or by the development of a spirit of sectionalism with its resultant instability, damaging the reputation of Canada in the countries to whom we look for new citizens and fresh capital.

General Manager's Address

C. E. Neill, the General Manager, in his address, dealt with the changes in the bank's financial statement for the year, notably the growth of over $40,000,000 in deposits, and the increase in investments in Government securities. He stated that the bank had opened more new accounts in 1924 than in any year of its history, and intimated that the increase in deposits was due to the natural growth of the business, rather than to any specially large deposits.

The decrease in commercial loans in Canada was accounted for by the general slackening off in business and the absence of demand for credit for new enterprises. In this connection Mr. Neill stated that the bank had made a special effort to provide all borrowing customers with their legitimate requirements, that liberal support had been given when justified, and that everything reasonably possible was being done to provide credit for the development of the agricultural, manufacturing and other important industries of the country.

Mr. Neill pointed out that net profits for the year were satisfactory, due to the increase in assets and to the substantial profits arising from the bank's international business.

Speaking of the bank's holding of Government securities, he said, "You will be interested to know that our present holding of short term Government and Municipal securities exceeds $78,500,000, and I am sure you will approve of our policy of holding such a very substantial liquid reserve."

Outlook Is Encouraging

In referring to conditions in Canada and other countries where the bank is represented, he stated that while 1924 had not been a good business year in Canada, the outlook for the future was encouraging, chiefly because of the rise in price of agricultural products, notably wheat. As for the foreign business of the Bank, it was particularly satisfactory and profitable.

Speaking of the South American countries in which the bank has branches, he said, "These countries produce necessities which are bound to be required in increasing quantities by the outside world as time goes on, and I believe that not only is their prosperity assured, but that some of them will develop remarkably during the next twenty years. The quality of the business we accept in South America is exceptionally high, a prominent feature being the purchase of documentary bills of exchange representing export of commodities. Our experience has been unusually satisfactory, and I look for even better results in the future."

DESERONTO NEWS

Deseronto, Jan. 12.—Mr. Hagart has a gang of men at work on the the pay office building, getting it reconditioned to accommodate the creamery machinery which is expected to arrive in a few days.

The municipal automatic fire bell, which the council had installed about three years ago, having been found inadequate as an alarm, has been superseded by a motor driven siren. The latter was tested out yesterday and can be heard for miles around.

Mr. York, of Chicago, spent Thursday on business in Deseronto. J. Sullivan, of Roblin, F. Walker, of Napanee, George Fields and Thomas McGuin, were business callers on Friday.

R. Benjamin, Chicago, who has been spending a few days with W. D. Perry and family, has returned to his home.

Milton Sharpe and J. Campbell, who were reported as gone to Detroit, broke their journey in Toronto, and purchased a McLaughlin car with which they returned to Deseronto.

Gladys is Given An Exciting Time

Christmas Joke Causes Embarrassment in Office and Home

Peterboro, Jan. 12— An interesting Christmas presentation has just leaked out which is causing a laugh among those concerned.

During the summer months some important visitors reached the city and were entertained by friends at one of the numerous summer cottages near Peterboro.

While rambling around one day one of the visitors bought or had presented to him a gosling, which was duly christened 'Gladys."

In due time the visitors left for home, having spent a very enjoyable vacation, leaving Gladys behind.

At Christmas one of the friends conceived the idea of making a presentation to his friend, and obtained a very large goose, which was crated and forwarded by express, with a picture of Gladys as she was and Gladys as she now is—attached.

The goose also had a fancy tag attached, reading "Gladys — Merry Xmas."

The package was addressed to a prominent office building where the friend's office was located, and during his absence arrived, and was delivered.

Next morning the season's greetings to the elevator man and a merry enquiry if any Christmas boxes had arrived brought the answer: "I'll say there has."

Imagine the embarrassment when "Gladys" was seen parked in a large crate in a mahogany finished office with a staff of clerks—and further imagine the office boy's feelings when Gladys was put on leash and he was instructed to exercise the lady up and down the corridor.

Finally the present was taken home and placed in the cellar, making a hissing sound as it went down the steps at the old dog, which rushed out and hasn't been seen since. What to do with "Gladys" was a problem, as the residences are rather congested where the recipient lived, and besides, geese are not kept in fashionable neighborhoods.

A few days elapsed, feeding and looking after the bird and finally a telephone call was sent to the family butcher to come up and slaughter the bird. But city butchers buy their meat dressed ready for sale, and the family butcher declined.

After telephoning thirteen butchers, one of the old-fashioned kind was found to do the job, but when he arrived, the family refused to have the work done as they had become attached to "Gladys" and could not have her executed. So "Gladys" lives. How long cannot be stated but until such time as old age overtakes her or the Board of Health get wise and order her removal, "Gladys" will be the pet of the family.

Investigate Fire

Oshawa, Jan. 12—Following the request of Fire Chief Cameron of this city the fire marshal's department at Toronto, sent Deputy Pointon here Friday to investigate the fire which occurred Wednesday night at the G.M.C. restaurant and First Aid Room. The Deputy accompanied by Chief Cameron went over the premises and when interviewed the Toronto official stated that he had nothing of a definite nature to reveal as yet, but added that some developments would result. I wish to make public that the work of the Oshawa Fire Department and the G.M.C. brigade was remarkable at this blaze, inasmuch as they were successful in preventing the flames from spreading to another building. They deserve all the praise possible for their excellent service."

SERGE TKATCH WAS SENT UP TO HIGH COURT

Magistrate Finds Sufficient Evidence to Commit Him to Trial

FOUR WITNESSES

Doctor Explains How Blood Would Not Smear Hammer

Serge Tkatch, Point Anne Russian, charged with the murder of a former brother workman Alek Cernuska, was committed to the county jail here at 12.30 o'clock noon to-day by Magistrate S. Masson in police court after the adjourned preliminary hearing had concluded. He will appear for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction.

Tkatch appeared the best to-day that he has since his arrest in the bedroom of the house in which Cernuaka is alleged to have received his fatal hammer blows on December 22nd last. He appeared clean and tidy, was clean shaven, and did not show the worried and strained facial appearance that he did on other appearances in court in connection with the affair.

The court room was comfortably filled by curious spectators who remained until adjournment.

Evidence adduced from the four witnesses examined this morning did not bring out anything particularly interesting which had not been brought out at the inquest.

Cecil Reid, who was in the Shymsyshyn home the day Cernuska was mortally wounded, was the first witness called today. He knew both Alek and Serge one year.

While sitting in the house talking to Mrs. Shymzyshyn and a peddler, who had sold goods to her on December 22nd, Reid saw Serge enter the house. His face and hands were bloody and the blood was dry. He appeared stupid but was not drunk. He did not speak and went out of the house then came back in one or two minutes, going upstairs.

He had been in the room three or four minutes when the woman in her native language instructed her daughter Annie to go upstairs. The six-year-old girl shouted after she had been gone about two minutes, and her mother who then went upstairs also shouted and cried "Come Cecil."

He Left the House

"I grabbed my water pail and left the house and she followed me outside after coming down stairs." explained the witness.

He had seen Alek and Serge together and they always seemed friendly. To Mr. Payne witness said he heard no footsteps upstairs, and heard no one walking. When Serge entered the house he was minding his own business.

George Lane, foreman of the clayhouse, of the Canada Cement Company, under whom Serge was employed, knew him for three years. Cernuska worked in the coal house.

Telling of the tragic scene, Lane said that when he entered the bed room. Serge was lying on one bed with his hands under his head. Alek was lying on his right side, his feet touching the floor over the edge of the bed, Alek's head pointed North.

"I said, What the hell have you done? when I saw Alek's condition," said witness, and Serge answered:

"Mr. George, him hit me first a time."

Lane then said "You should have been at work and this would not have happened."

Agreed

Serge nodded is head.

Serge appeared dazed, as though he had been up long ours or getting over a few drinks of something.

Mrs. Shymzyshyn picked a hammer from behind a trunk in the room and gave it to Lane, which he laid on the table when he went to assist Lazaruk place Alek in the waiting ambulance. Lane identified the hammer exhibited because it was a claw hammer with a nick out of the striking surface.

To Mr. Payne, witness said that Serge was not quarrelsome and always did what he was told.

He was the only Russian at Point Anne and other foreigners were accustomed to joke Serge about being a Russian. He took the jokes in pretty fair part except when he had a few drinks.

Girl Takes Stand

Kathleen Pechaski, who lives in house 48, at Point Anne, next door to the house where Cernuska was found wounded, told of having seen Serge and Alek going over to Gurniak's house about eleven o'clock Sunday morning, December 21st. She had heard them scrapping on a former occasion in their boarding house, but could not remember words which they had used on that occasion. She repeated having seen something in Serge's pocket on the morning of December 22nd, which resembled a hammer. It was in his pants pocket as he walked up and down in front of her home.

Alek wanted to go out of the Gurniak house on Monday morning to get at Serge, the girl explained, but Nick and Sam Gurniak would not let him go outside. Serge was walking up and down outside at this time, and he was bloody. His face, sweater and hands were covered with blood.

Telling of her conversation with Serge upstairs after Alek had been injured, the girl said that in answer to her query, "What did you do that for?" Serge had replied, "He hit me twice and I just give him back." It was Kathleen who found the hammer between the mattress and the spring of the children's bed in the room.

Picked on Him

To Mr. Payne, witness told of Cernuska having always "picked on" Serge, and of hearing a quarrel between Serge and Alek on the Sunday previous to the affair. She had first seen Serge on Monday after 9 a.m. and later again at 11.45 a.m. when he came to the door of the house, bloodstained, and asked her mother if he might go upstairs and sleep. She told him to go and sleep where he drank.

Alek was seen by witness to return from Gurniak's house and enter the Shymzymchyn house after 1 p.m. Monday. "He was pretty "full", pale and ugly looking," she said.

"I heard the Shymzychyn children say, "Alek wants something" when he entered the house, then he went upstairs." Witness told of hearing the conversation through the partition of the double house, half of which is occupied by the Pechaski family.

Dr. J. J. Robertson, physician and surgeon who attended Alek and Serge, repeated the evidence which he gave at the inquest, and explained positions on the beds of the two men as he found them, according to the photograph exhibits submitted to him by County Attorney E. C. Donnan for perusal.

Became Excited

Dr. Robertson told of asking Serge "Who did this?" when he saw the serious condition of Alek after a glance. Serge answered the question by saying that Alek had fought him. When asked by the doctor if he had struck him with anything, Serge did not answer, but became excited, arose from the bed and spoke in a foreign language. The witness believes that he shoved Serge back on the bed in the great excitement, for later when he looked, Serge was lying on the same bed as he had arisen from, and in a very similar position—on his back with his hands underneath his head.

Shown the hammer exhibit, witness believes it was the same hammer which had been shown him in the bedroom on the afternoon of the 22nd. He believed he saw a lady put the hammer behind the trunk after he examined it.

"Serge was bloody about the face and hands at that time," witness explained.

The gruesome details of the terrible head and jaw injuries which proved fatal to Cernuska, were then repeated, including the operation at the General Hospital and the post mortem examination. The injuries, he said, appeared as though they were inflicted with a hammer, or some tool or instrument or piece of steel of similar shape, and used with great force.

Makes Experiment

Asked for his explanation as to the absence of blood stains on the hammer, Dr. Robertson still maintained, as he did at the inquest, that if the blows were delivered sufficiently quick enough, no blood would get on the hammer.

"Since this occurrence, in performing operations," asserted the witness, "I have watched carefully for that condition—something I never watched before, and I find that in making the first incision, of an operation, if the knife is drawn but rather quickly there will not be a trace of blood on the blade."

"Eat While You Walk to Your Office," Is, Latest Slogan In Berlin Streets

(Associated Press Desaptch)

Berlin, Jan. 13.—"Eat while you walk to your office" is the slogan of a new species of street peddlers which has recently invaded the downtown section of Berlin. Imitating Swedish models, these peddlers wheel an immaculately white cart through the city, on the top of which, under a glass globe, are exhibited appetizing sandwiches at a price of three for 50 or 75 pfennigs, depending upon the quality of the meat or cheese offered.

The peddlers themselves are also in white, in the familiar garb of a chef. They report a good business thus far. Hustlers who are disgruntled at the slow method of serving which is characteristic of European restaurants generally, welcome this means of getting away with a noonday lunch as they rush from one appointment to another.

Many Enjoyed Herbert Piercy

Took Four Phases of Jean Valjean's Eventful Life

The Baptist church was well-filled last evening, when Herbert Piercy presented the famous characterization of Jean Valjean. He divided his representation into four parts, and proved himself a master of impersonation. His imitation of the old priest, Jean, and other characters was splendid. He has a rich, musical voice which is very adaptable to mimicry. His performance occupied the major part of the evening. He offered two or three humorous selections which were well received.

A musical program rounded out a most satisfactory evening. This consisted of a trio composed of Mrs. Blackburn, Miss Forman, and Mrs. Cooke, the Colclough family who gave two selections with encores; and a male quartet by Messrs. Stillwell, Cooke, Leo Riggs and Faulkiner.

A good offering was received at the door, and all were amply satisfied with the evening's program.

E. Belcourt, president of the Canadian Cartage and Storage Company, Limited, formerly known as the Shedden Cartage and Forwarding Company, died in Montreal. He is survived by his wife and two brothers, Senator Belcourt, of Ottawa, and Louis Belcourt, manager of the Bell Telephone Company, Quebec.

Have 1,200 Birds At Annual Show

Poultry Men of Belleville Put Past Years in Shade

Under the auspices of the Belleville Poultry Association the annual poultry show opened in the market building to-day and will continue tomorrow and Thursday being opened evenings.

The display of poultry is one of the best ever seen here and considerably in excess of last year. A visit to the market building to-day revealed a number of persons busily engaged in arranging the exhibit, the various breed of birds being in coops adjoining each other. This afternoon a consignment arrived from Ottawa and Smiths Falls and were placed on display. When all the fowl have been placed on exhibition there will be upwards of 1,200 being some 300 more than last year.

It promises to a most creditable show and will no doubt prove interesting and profitable to those who are breeders of fowl. While chickens of various breeds and size predominate there are to be seen a number of turkeys, geese and ducks. A few rabbits are also shown, also some fine specimens of pigeons.

During the progress of the show there will be a demonstration by an expert from the department of agriculture at Ottawa showing how eggs should be handled and sorted, also the mode of killing and preparing fowls for the market. This will be located in the eastern part of the market building.

Messrs. Andrew Mason of Windsor and A. G. Jarvis of Brantford are the expert judges and this afternoon they commenced their duties, which are by no means light.

The society has prepared an excellent prize list, and a number of special prizes will be awarded for the best coops in various breeds.

Church At Tweed Had Good Year

St. Andrew's Presbyterians Raised Thirty-Nine Dollars Per Member

Tweed, Jan. 13—The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church, Tweed, was held on Monday evening. At six o'clock the children of the Sunday School sat down to a sumptuous supper in one room and a cafeteria tea was enjoyed by the adults in another After supper an excellent program of music and recitations was given by the Sunday School under the direction of Miss Sills. During the entertainment the chair was occupied by Mr. T. E. Moffat, B.A.

At eight o'clock the business meeting was held, the Rev. Dr. MacTavish presiding. Reports were received from the Mission Band, The Women's Missionary Society, the Sunday School, Bible Class and the Managers. These reports showed the work of the congregation to be in a healthy condition. The money contributed amounted to over $39.00 per member, and almost all of this was raised by voluntary giving. A motion was unanimously carried expressing appreciation of the services rendered by Rev. Dr. MacTavish.

MINES IN FRANCE PRODUCE MORE COAL

Paris, Jan. 13.—A record production of coal was turned out in France during October, 4,000,000 tons being reached in a month for the first time. The exact output was 4,103,516 tons, as compared with 3,837,378 for September.

The average daily production in October was 151,982, as compared with 144,680 tons in January of this year; 136,651 tons in October, 1923, and 136,147 before the war. The number of miners has increased from a pre-war figure of 203,000 to 302,000 in October, 1924.

Taxicab drivers in Kansas City have formed a union.

GOOSE IS REVENGED

New Westminster, B. C., Jan. 13.—A Fraser Valley goose nearly turned the tables on its owner here recently. The bird, which was being carried away to grace the New Year's festive table of a New Westminster resident, poked its head through a slit in the sack in which it was confined and seized the owner by the ear. With a howl of pain the victim released his hold on the goose, but it held on, flapping its wings. Finally the bird was pried loose and killed.

JOHN ST. VOTES TO JOIN WITH UNITED CHURCH

Vote Stood at 139 to 123, a Majority of 16

HEARD QUIETLY

No Demonstration of Any Kind Made; Benediction Pronounced

Last night John Street Presbyterian Church decided in favor of entering the United Church by a majority of 16.

The final voting continued until 8.30 and then the congregation assembled in the church to await the announcement of the result. A motion was passed thanking the poll clerk and scrutineers, and requesting that the result of the voting be received in silence, to be followed by the benediction. Mr. Nicholson gave a short organ recital.

At ten minutes to nine, Harold Davison, who acted as poll clerk, distinctly announced that John St. church had decided to cast in its lot with the Union Church by a vote of 139 to 123. As requested, there was no applause, nor any discussion of the provision to be made for the anti-unionists.

Ontario Party Off To Quebec Soon

To Help Cement Friendship Between French and English

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Jan. 13.—One more link in the chain that is binding the English and French in Canada closer together will be forged when a party fully representative of Ontario's business, political and professional life, headed by Hon. Henry Cockshutt, Lieut.-Governor of the provinces, leaves Toronto on Jan. 28 for a three-day visit to Quebec City and Montreal. The visit repays the journey made in the early part of 1924 to Ontario by a similar party from Quebec. In addition to the Lieut-Governor, a large number of members of the Ontario Legislature, probably including Premier Ferguson, and prominent leaders of business and industry in Ontario will make up the party.

The party will spend Thursday, Jan. 29, in the city on the Heights. An extensive programme for their entertainment has been arranged. A sleighride round the city of Quebec takes place after breakfast, followed by winter sports at Battlefields Park, and a luncheon at the Parliament Buildings, where Hon. Narcisse Perodeau and Hon. Mr. Taschereau, respectively Lieut.-Governor and Premier of the Province of Quebec, will welcome them. In the afternoon a visit to the Legislative chamber of Quebec wil be made, where special addresses in honor of the Ontarioans' visit will be made. A reception at the home of the Lieut.-Governor, a banquet given by the City of Quebec in the evening, and a midnight parade to the station accompanied by snowshoers and skiers, completes the day's programme.

Arriving in Montreal on Friday, Jan. 30, the party will enjoy the hospitality of the Metropolis until they leave for Toronto on Saturday. Montreal's hospitality will take the form of visits to a number of public institutions, including McGill College, Villa Marie Convent and the St. Denis Club. After a luncheon at the St. Denis Club the party breaks up, to meet for the dinenr in the evening which will be given by the city of Montreal.

FOUND WITH GIN IN HIS POCKET

Arrested in a cafe Monday afternoon about three o'clock, a local man appeared in police court this morning before Magistrate Masson, charged with having liquor in a public place.

Pleading guilty to the charge, accused was fined $200 and costs of $19 or three months. He paid.

In his pockets at the time of his arrest, were a Gordon gin bottle partly filled with a mixture of gin and alcohol, and a whiskey bottle nearly filled with the same stuff. The alcohol was procured on prescription from a local physician, the gin having been found in his home. The two liquids were mixed.

The liquid was described as dangerous by the bench and its confiscation was ordered. Chief Kidd poured the stuff down the sink.

T. P. DEMO HEADS INSURANCE MEN

The annual meeting of the Belleville Life Underwriters Association was held this morning at the Y.M.C.A., when election of officers took place. The result was as follows:

T. P. Demo, London Life, President; J. F. Hinchey, Sun Life, vice-president; and H. G. Davison, Secretary-treasurer.

Information reaching Quebec City from a reliable source is to the effect that the Donnacona Pulp and Paper Company plans to erect a new mill or power plant at Pont Rouge, Portneuf county, Que., where it already possesses some water development and a small mill. At present the pulp and paper mills of the Donnacona are located at some twenty miles west of Pont Rouge.

SIR THOMAS TO VISIT THE CITY PROMISE GIVEN

Writes Friendly Letter to his Worship Mayor Mikel

VERY SOON PERHAPS

Effort Being Made to Have His Attend Celebration

Sir Thomas Lipton the great English yachtsman, promises to visit Belleville, and Mayor Mikel has written him asking him to be present at the International Yacht Races during the Old Boys' Reunion.

The following is a copy of Sir Thomas Lipton's letter received by Mayor Mikel this morning:

27th December, 1924.

"My Dear Mayor,

"Your exceedingly kind letter of the 9th has just reached me, having been forwarded from Toronto, and I am greatly obliged to you for the courteous invitation to visit Belleville. This, had it been possible, would have given me great pleasure to do, but as you doubtless know I sailed from New York on the 6th. I hope at some future time, should the invitation be renewed, I may have the pleasure of visiting your good city and thanking you in person for your kindness.

"With every good wish,
"Yours faithfully,
"Thomas Lipton".

Marshall Blamed Meighen For Loss

And Charles Hanna Took Dig at Newspaper in Brampton

Brampton, Jan. 13—That Hon. Arthur Meighen received a crashing defeat in the result of the recent election in West Hastings, was the opinion of Hon. Duncan Marshall, delivered at the annual meeting of the Liberal party of Peel, held in the Griffen Theatre.

In referring to the part that Mr. Meighen had taken in the West Hastings election, Mr. Marshall said that Mr. Meighen had spoken some nine times at meetings within the riding, the first time he had ever known a man in Mr. Meighen's position in the Government to do such a thing.

Sure of Winning

"As soon as Mr. Meighen spoke we were sure of winning the election," said Mr. Marshall who refought the entire campaign of West Hastings. "Meighen's talks were just one long wail, because he was not elected in 1921. Meighen and Don Sutherland are a pair of funeral directors and the best help that the Liberals had in winning the election."

The speaker declared that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's budget speech was one of the best things ever heard by the people of Canada,, and exemplified his statesmanship. It also outlined the Liberal policy for the next ten years. The people down in Hastings were sayign that you can't cut the future policy of Canada on the old fashioned party lines, and the Tory party is diametrically opposed to the farmers' policy.. Sixty per cent of the farmers' party was behind the Premier when he presented the budget, one of the strongest evidences that his statesmansip was recognized and that he was fulfilling the view of the party which he was too inexperienced to fill Dominion House.

Praise For Premier

Through the laudation of Mr. Meighen in the Conservative press, he became regarded as a superman by the party. Liberals and in some cases the Liberal press were carried away, Mr. Marshall told the audience. Mr. King was presented by the Conservative papers as a "mere boy" one who had a position forced upon him which he was to inexperienced to fill "You can't always get somewere with that statement." said Mr. Marshall. "The man who was selected by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a man of ability and promise has shown Conservatives and Liberals alike during the past two years that he is an outstanding statesman, and worthy the confidence reposed in him by Canada's greatest statesman and premier.'

"No language was strong enough," continued Mr. Marshall, 'for Mr. Meighen to use against Mr. King and his policy, but the people of the country are waking up to the fact that there is at the head of affairs one of the ablest men who ever guided Canada."

Scores Local Press

It was not until Mr. Hanna, Charles E. Hanna, M.P., for West Hastings took the platform, that the audience realized that Brampton had played a part in the West Hastings defeat. "There was a dirty fight put up by a paper in this town," declared Mr. Hanna. "I did not know until I arrived in the town that this paper was published here. There would be dirty things on the front of the paper and the Sunday School lesson in the back. It is too bad tat Brampton has to put up with this paper!"

The smiles that greeted this statemen might be interpreted in different ways, as many of those present are readers of the paper.

Employer Pays Young Mans Fine

Fine Spirit Shown at Police Court; Never Again!

Clean shaven and evidently recovered from his debauch, the young Montreal man who was arrested on January 5th in his boarding house here in a bad physical condition as a result of having drunk alcohol and canned heat, was fined $10 and costs of $14 when he appeared before Magistrate Masson this morning.

He went back to his work, after his employer, who says that he is an expert workman, had paid his fine and costs.

When warned that if he ever again drank canned heat a charge of attempted suicide would be laid, the man said, "I do not blame you—never again, sir."

The canned heat was purchased from various drug stores and some of the stuff was used for heating and cooking purposes. Alcohol was procured at drug stores on prescriptions procured from three different city physicians.

Two others had assisted the man drink the alcohol in hotel lavatories and at his boarding house, one of whom was described as being a "prohibition" man who never took more than two drinks of alcohol.

NEW POINT ANNE CHURCH IS OPENED

The new Union Church at Point Anne was opened on Sunday with three interesting services at which the principal speakers were Rev. L. M. Sharpe, pastor; Mrs. S. Greatrix, who has been interested in Sunday School work for fifty years, and Mrs. Laughlin and Mr. Darlington, Superintendent of Sunday School, his talk being on Sunday School work and its benefits, and was very interesting.

In the evening, Rev. Mr. Seymour of Rednersville who was pastor of Point Anne Methodist Church fourteen years ago ,spoke, his talk being very inspiring and was greatly appreciated. All the services were largely attended.

The first tea meeting was held on Wednesday evening and was a great success. Rev. Mr. French, who was pastor in Point Anne when there were only seven families, spoke, and the Rednersville band rendered very pleasing selections. Also quite a nice program of local talent.

James Morrison, who founded the Morrison Bros.' works in Toronto. 60 years ago, died Tuesday in his 33rd year.

Salary Of King George Mighty Small After His Money Has Been Distributed

London, Jan. 13.—Mr. Frank Dilnot considers in the columns of the London Sphere the sum that Great Britain provides to maintain the institution of monarchy and then inquires how much His Majesty personally gets out of it:

Is our present system worth the money some may ask. Considerably over half a million pounds a year goes to royalty. The entire sum is probably well expended for the sake of the excellent return we get in monarchy as an institution. But as a matter of fact the money is not lost. The king has to keep up his various palaces with an enormous expenditure for salaries and wages, and the money thus comes back into circulation, benefiting all through whose hands it passes in its ever-widening distribution. I doubt if in these times the king after meeting all his inevitable and automatic expenses (thus sending the money back to his people) receives a net personal salary of more than £5,000 a year. It is not a large sum to give the titular head of the most successful form of democratic government which human beings have yet devised.

Chief, Yard High, Finds Short Wife

Although Fifty Years of Age, He Beat Many Others

(Associated Press Despatch)

Manila, Jan. 13.—Diki Diki, diminutive chieftain of the Island of North Ubian, Sulu, after many disappointments in love, has finally won the affections of Ajaratol, also a liliputian, and the wedding will take place shortly at Jolo, capital of the province.

Diki Diki, who is the most important man of the island, is just 36 1-2 inches in height while his fiancee is three inches shorter.

Ajaratol who lives on the Island of Nsada, ten miles from North Ubian, is 21 years old and has had many suitors for her hand. Diki Diki, however, in spite of his 50 years, has won over all his competitors. Maharja Kiram, Diki Diki's chief rival for the affections of Ajaratol is to be best man at the wedding and Imam Ovil, another rival, is to perform the Mohammedan ceremony. The granddaughter of Hadji Butu, the most influential Moro, is to be bridesmaid.

Some time ago when the public school authorities gathered in all children of school age, Diki Diki was caught in the net. It was several months before his real age was discovered and he was released from school attendance. He declined, however, to quit school and is now an ardent pupil in the second grade at the age of 50.

WEALTHY BOMBAY MAN IS ATTACKED

(Canadian Prece Despatch)

Bombay, Jan. 13.—A shooting affray in a fashionable residential quarter of Bombay to-day resulted in the death of Abdul Kadir Dawla, a wealthy citizen, and the serious injury of Lieut. Seagard, J. Mathews and a woman. Dawla, accompanied by the woman and Mathews, was motoring on Malabar Hill when a party in another car started shooting.

Four British officers rushed to the rescue and captured one of the assailants who was badly wounded. Others escaped.

The attack is attributed to the Pathan menace which is causing serious apprehension. Seagard, the woman and Mathews are in the hospital suffering from knife wounds.

Let there be harmony in things essential—liberty in things not essential—Charity in all.

AS WE MIGHT HAVE BEEN

For those in Belleville or Hastings County who may be discouraged by the slight progress the human race in Europe and America appears to be making, an interesting antidote is available now at the Griffin Theatre, where "The Lost Tribe" is being shown. There the vast contrast between the present stage of development found in the Anglo-Saxon race, for example, and the uncivilized strikes one most forcibly. We are yet far from perfect, but what leagues we have travelled from the animal minded creatures we once were!

In fact we are so far advanced that the average man watching the film wonders if there is not something that we can do to lift those savages from their ignorance and un happiness.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE

Martha Ostenso, a 24-year-old school marm, has just come from the farmlands of the Northwest to accept $13,000, fame and opportunity as a prize for the writing of her first novel, "The Passionate Pilgrim." Among 1,500 manuscripts hers was easily first. The St. Louis Post-Despatch, commenting on her achievement, remarks that it was almost an offence that this girl should triumph. She has never frequented the bohemian cellars of the cities, or found "life" as it is only to be found in cellars and garrets, or mastered the jargon of the "long-haired men and short-haired women," or quarrelled about "technique" over a mug of beer with some bleary-eyed genius who is "not appreciated" because of the "crass materialism" of the age.

She has only known small towns, and sons of the soil, who would confuse Freud with some new kind of fertilizer. She has only seen the plough man treading the level fields, and known the smell of new-turned soil, and watched the harvest come and go. Society to her only meant the "social" at the country church, the sewing circle on the porch. And yet, drawing on the little she has seen and known, she has told a story and won a prize.

JUST BEYOND THE HORIZON

Prime Minister MacKenzie King announced in Toronto yesterday that there were no further tariff changes in sight. Rather a pacifying statement, it seems, admirably suited for a Toronto audience, though not necessarily what he would say in so many words to his Western audiences.

Premier King's utterance is quite literally true. In speaking at Toronto, he was a long way from Ottawa and as yet very few Progressives have hailed into view from the west for the coming session.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

The Provincial Safety League has undertaken a useful task and will render the community at large good service by broadcasting warning against the perils of carelessness in respect of household fires, and in especial the habit of children toying with the flames. The snuffing out of ten lives during the New Year has spurred the League to immediate action in an attempt to banish the pernicious practice, and project to get into touch with families through the schools, dispensing safety information alike to youngsters and their parents, is a commendable one. That fire is a good servant, but a bad master, is a proverb the meaning of which many people have still to learn. Each year durin gthe winter months there occurs an enormous loss in life and property, much of this dreadful toll unquestionably due to negligence and, in the case of children, to playful mischief. Unfortunately, the flame has an uncanny attraction for the kiddies, who quite innocently wish to get up some sort of "show" oblivious to the risks they run. Some education in this direction by way of caution would seem to be needed. "Matches' 'are for grown folk, not for "tots" and at that should be used with proper care.—Montreal Gazette.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT

Around Christmas time much was heard about the slaughter of our forests to provide Christmas trees to ship to the United States for a few cents apiece.

Do Canadians realize that every day in the year nearly 100,000 "Christmas trees" are shipped out of Canada to the United States, to be used as the raw material of pulp and paper mills employing only American workmen? Canada plays Santa Claus to the United States 365 days in the year. The tragedy of it is that these trees are not young seedlings, as are the trees we send American youngsters at Christmas time, but trees full-grown to pulpwood size, most of them evergreens, but some of other species. All of them are trees that should in process of manufacture into paper provide jobs for Canadian workmen; trees that should be a reserve of forest resources for Canadians in generations to come.

Opponents of the suggested embargo on pulpwood exports argue that the shipments from Canada are small and unimportant. Let us see how "unimportant" these shipments are:

Piled like cordwood, four feet high and four feet wide, the wood would form a pile 2,000 miles long. It would make a pile more than 80 times as large as the new Metropolitan Building in Toronto, which is the tallest structure in the British Empire and 55 times as large as the Insurance Exchange Building in Montreal, which is the largest office building in the British Empire.

The trees cut down each year for shipment to the United States are responsible for the slaughter of over 200,000 acres of forest land which is enough to cover with trees the entire cities of Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Halifax, Victoria Hamilton, Ottawa, St. John, Fredericton, Quebec, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton, Calgary and Moose Jaw and leave enough to cover a ranch of upwards of 25,000 acres.

The area cut down each year would form a belt 200 yards wide from Halifax to Vancouver.

Although the shipments are "small and unimportant they comprise over one-fifth of all the pulpwood used to feed the great pulp and paper industry of the United States which manufactures over 7,000,000 tons of paper annually. If the same amount of pulpwood to the United States were manufactured into pulp or paper in Canadian mills it would provide jobs for upwards of 12,500 Canadian workmen. When allowance is made for the families of these workmen, the total number of Canadians who would be supported is equal to one-half the total immigration into Canada in the year 1924 without allowing for workers in allied plants and the tradesmen that would be supported. Including these the industry would support a city about the size of Ottawa or Hamilton.—Financial Post.

Press Opinions

CANADA IS COMING THROUGH

Mail and Empire:

"Canada is Coming Through" advertises Hon. T. A. Low at the expense of the Canadian people. In expenditure, emigration, taxation and unemployment Canada is certainly leading in North America. In placating supporters and communities at the expense of the Federal treasury, Canada is certainly coming through. Canada is coming through in building political wharves and elevators, in world's tours and European jaunts for Ministers and party favorites, in deficits both on Government account and on the National Railway account and in dislocation of industry, expatriation of artisans; and all the Federal money that Mr. Low can expend in party propaganda will not blind the people to the serious "Coming Through of Canada' in export of men money and material.

PURSUIT OF YOUTH

Stratford Beacon-Herald:

In addressing a scientific body recently, President Coolidge declared that it had taken endless ages to create in men the courage to accept the truth, because it is the truth.

There seems some reason to believe that courage of this character is not very widely distributed. What is the truth is still a tough problem; probably for most people the truth is that which fits into their scheme of things. And there is the suspicion that at least some of those who profess a willingness to accept the truth for its own sake wouldn't know the truth if they met it at the bottom of a well, where truth is said to be found.

WILD TALK

Woodstock Sentinel-Review:

According to the London, England Morning Post there is talk in Canada of the dominion separating from the British empire. That is literally true. It would also be literally true to say that there is talk in Canada about smashing confederation and about annexation to the United States. There is also talk about the coming end of the world and a good deal of talk about the weather.

TELLING THE TRUTH

Hamilton Herald:

Canadian immigration literature has not always been candid. In the preparation of it overmuch care was taken to present alluring pictures of life in Canada and the bright prospects this country holds out to all settlers, especially those who engage in agriculture. In the bright lexion of those who prepared this literature there was no such word as fail. The fact is, much of the literature circulated abroad by our immigration department was dishonest and misleading because it contained no mention of hard truths about the conditions which pioneer settlers must face in his country. Too often the results were tragic. Many people, lured to Canada by false representations, have succumbed to the unaccustomed and unexpected hardships of pioneer life—the hard, monotonous toil, the lack of accustomed comforts and conveniences and the isolation from congenial society.

IT MIGHT BE WORSE

Montreal Gazette:

This old earth has its rough hours and its flurries of excitement. Betimes the winter glamor loses its charm. We feel the hard pinch when the snow squeaks underfoot, and the sting of the blizzard begets a protesting shudder. Yet even the Eskimo can make himself snug quarters without burrowing towards the fire below the cosmic crust. Upon the whole, we are thankful that things are no worse, and are not at all disposed to migrate to Mars, supposing such a feat were possible. We, at least, can sing with Shelley. "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" Per-adventure the Martians get their warlike repute from the fact of having to fight incessantly in order to keep themselves warm.

HODGE PODGE

TALKS TO BACHELORS

Is there anything which excites our sympathy much more than the bachelor on the farm?

If he can't get a wife we are sorry for him.

If he won't get a wife we are still sorry for him because he does not know what he is missing. In any case it is a pretty safe bet that he is sorry for himself.

Imagine when everything goes dead wrong on the farm, having no one to blame for it but yourself, the situation must be intolerable.

We recently remarked to a married farmer friend that he had a mighty useful helpmate in his wife. "You bet she's useful," said he. "I wish I had couple more like her."

This might be termed too much of a good thing but we admired his whole hearted enthusiasm.

When bachelors hear such sentiments expressed they should take heart, which when you think it over, is rather an apt expression.

Then, too, married men live longer—yes, we know that old come-back that "it only seems longer," but there is no truth in it.

A London Letter

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 13.—One of the smaller picturesque sights of the City of London any evening is the passage of the Bank of England Guard, from Wellington Barracks along the Embankment and Victoria street and so to the Bank. The Guard, which consists of an officer and sergeants, and forty men, marches to the bank every evening and spends the night on the premises. The officer draws a guinea a night for his services, with the privilege of having a friend to dine with him within the Bank. A proposal is now under consideration for the provision of a band to play the Guards through the streets each evening. The expense of providing the band would presumably fall upon the Governors of the Bank of England, who of course already pay a fairly substantial sum for the ordinary provision of the Guard. Since the time of the Gordon Riots in 1780 the Guard has marched to the Bank every evening without a band.

Many Canadian lawyers will have pleasant recollections of the honorable Lord Finlay, who before he bacame Lord Chancellor in the Lloyd George Ministry appeared for many years in most of the important Canadian appeals before the Judicil Committee of the Privy Council. Lord Finlay has just had the proud happiness of witnessing his own son's elevation to the king's Bench. Sir William Finlay is 49 year's of age—rather an early age to reach the Bench, though His Majesty's judges as a whole are a younger body nowadays than has always been the case. He was for nine years junior counsel to the Board of Inland Revenue, became a K. C., ten years ago, and for some years past has been a commissioner of Assize. The holder of such an office acts as Judge at one or another of the country assizes and the appointment is always considered to foreshadow the occupant's eventual elevation to the judiciary.

The Home Secretary has resolved to increase the number of women serving as constables of the Metropolitan Force from 24 to 50. Ever since the war years considerable discussion has proceeded among public authorities as to the desirability of engaging women police. Societies for the advancement of womens' interest have been persistent in the advocation of more extended employment of such officers.

Given a proper and careful instruction there is not the least doubt that they can perform many duties which a male constable might have reluctance in undertaking. Lady Astor goes even farther and asserts that during the war years women police arrested drunken men whom male police could not arrest. The employment of women on regular forces here possibly suffered something of a setback from the operations of well-meaning but unofficial bodies of women patrols during the war. The Metropolitan police, indeed, found it necessary to obtain the ruling of the higher bodies were entitled to proceed in the powers as to how far these unofficial way of copying the uniforms and general organization of the "genuine article."

A novel sort of competition has been held by the conservative women of Dudley, in Worcestershire. Members of the conservative habitation were invited to a contest in speechmaking. There were six competitors, the winners, Mrs. Whitton, of Dudley, speaking upon the Mackenna duties. She founded her remarks upon personal experience of the harm which she asserted would be produced upon certain branches of British trade by the removal of the duties.

There seems every reason to hope that when Mr. Winston Churchill introduces his first Budget in the spring he will be able to make at least some move up towards pre-war postage charges. The agitation for a return to penny post age has proceeded from bodies of knowledge and authority, who are fortified by statistics showing that the postal revenue is now displaying a surplus. It is amusing to remember that in the early days of universal postage, there were plenty of people, by no means belonging to the snob set, who considered it discourteous to send private letters through the general post. Miss Louise Courtney in her reminiscences, written when over 80, recalled her father's annoyance when a stupid footman posted a letter to Sir Robert Peel instead of sending it by a groom.

"It seems so impertinent," said he, "to send a letter to a man like Sir Robert Peel by post." Invitations, and replies thereto, were invariably sent by hand.

Bewdley, which lends its name to the constituency which it represented in Parliament by the Premier, has decided to confer its freedom upon him in recognition of his public services, local and otherwise.Mr. Baldwin, whose family laid the foundations of their fortune in the Wilden Ironworks close by, entered public life as a country councillor for the neighboring parish of Hartlebury, of whose Grammar school he continues to be a governor. He has represented the Bewdley country constituency for 16 years, following an equally long representation by his father, Alfred Baldwin.

Official notice was given by the Department of Lands and Forests af Quebec of the decision to lease by auction on January 30 of two blocks of forests in the Basin of Blue River, at Grand Pabos, Gaspe, and another of burnt timber on the Ste. Marguerite River. The latter covers an area of 50 square miles. A deposit of $5,000 must be made and the auction will bear on the stumpage dues more than $1 per 1,000 feet. The area of the limits located at Grand Pabos is 19 square miles.

YANKEES INCREASE FLYING BUSINESS

Washington, Jan. 13.—United States people develop a penchant for flying when they get to Europe, acording to Lieutenant John P. Van Zandt, of the United States air service, who has just returned from a 6,000 mile air trip through Europe studying development of commercial aeronautics.

During the summer weeks 1,000 passengers leave London by plane for Paris, and the majority are United States tourists. More than 35,000 from the Republic have flown between the British and French capitals, saving from four to eight hours on the trip, and avoiding the turbulent English Channel which has caused many a traveler to lose his love for the sea.

Deaths And Funerals

MRS. JAMES JOHNSON

At Windsor on Saturday afternoon last, Mrs. James Johnson, an aged lady and a former resident of Hastings County passed away. Deceased who was 86 years of age, was born in Ireland and lived for a number of years in the Township of Hungerford, where she was well known. Mrs. Johnson was a member of the Anglican church. Mr. Johnson predeceased her thirteen years ago. Surviving is a family of three sons and seven daughters. The body was brought here yesterday and taken to the residence of her son, Mr. Wm. Johnson, 2nd Concession of Thurlow Township. This morning at 10.30 a service was held at the house conducted by Rev. Mr. Pattam of Roslin, after which the body was taken to Roslin for interment.

MRS. P. TIGHE

The members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. P. Tighe of Tyendinaga Township have been doubly bereaved within the past three days. On Friday last Mr. Tighe passed away, and the funeral took place on Sunday. Yesterday Mrs. Tighe died after a brief illness. Both were members of the Roman Catholic Church and were highly respected in the locality where they resided. Mrs. M. Callaghan of this city is a daughter of the deceased

MRS. THOMAS RUTHERFORD

At an early hour this morning Mrs. Margaret Jane Rutherford, wife of Mr. Thomas Rutherford passed away at the home of her daugter, Mrs. John Robinson of Napanee. Deceased, with her husband was visiting in Napanee when she was stricken with a fatal illness. Mrs. Rutherford was a well-known resident of Roslin, where she had lived for a number of years. She was a daughter of the late Mr. Robert Hetherington of Hungerford Township and was 74 years of age. She was a Presbyterian. In addition to the husband, two sons, James of Roslin and Bert of Napanee, and two daughters, Mrs. John Robinson of Napanee and Mrs. Murney Hamilton of Thomasburg survive. The body will be brought here on Thursday for interment in Belleville cemetery.

JOHN J. HARRISON

The body of the late Mr. John James Harrison of Ottawa, accompanied by two sons arrived here yesterday afternoon by C.P.R. and was taken to Belleville cemetery for interment. Ven. Archdeacon Beamish. Rector of St. Thomas Church officiated.

CAPT. JOSEPH H. SMITH

Under the auspices of the I.O.O.F. Society of which deceased was a member, the funeral of the late Capt. Joseph H. Smith took place yesterday afternoon. At the home on South John street, Rev. Dr. F. E. Malott, pastor of Bridge Street Church, conducted a service. The burial service of the Society was taken by Bros. G.G. Way, P.D.D.G.M., and G. Kerr, Chaplain, Interment took place at Belleville cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Bearers were sons and nephews of the deceased.

JOHN McCORMICK

John McCormick, a veteran resident of Mount Pleasant, Michigan, died at the hospital New Years morning as a result of burns received in the fire that partially destroyed his home on Nort Mission street, New Year's Eve. His wife is in the hospital suffering from burns received about the head.

It is stated that Mr. McCormick went into the cellar with a lantern to see where the sewer gas was escaping from, and that an explosion followed. He then tried to make his way to the cellar door and safety, but could not quite make it, and was found unconscious, his face and body badly burned, by neighbors.

When the firemen arrived at the home it was feared by some that Mrs. McCormick, who is an invalid, was still in the house. A thorough search of the home revealed that she was not there, and it later developed that Mrs. John Colby, a neighbor, had gone into the burning house and had carried the aged woman to safety.

The roof was entirely burned off and the house was gutted by the flames.

MRS. G. THRASHER

On Saturday afternoon many relatives and friends were in attendance at the obsequies of the late Mrs. Gilbert Thrasher. At the residence of Mr. David A. Thrasher, Sidney Township, an impressive service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Batstone, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church, and he also officiated at the Belleville cemetery. The floral tributes, beautiful in effect, were silent evidences of sympathy. Bearers were Messrs. W. J. Radford, F. Aikens, R. Hart, M. Vanderwaters, J. Rae, and G. Short.

HAROLD SIMMONS

After being in ill health for some months, Mr. Harold Simmons passed away last evening at the residence of his father, ex-Ald. G. N. Simmons 15 Highland avenue, city. Deceased who was in his 27th year, was born at Frankford, Sidney Township. Mr Simmons, after graduating from the public schools attended High School in this city. He was an exceptionally clever student and a great reader, and was also deservedly popular. Previous to retiring on account of ill health he was on the advertising staff of the Albertian newspaper published at Calgary. He was unmarried and was a member of the Methodist church. In addition to the parents a sister Katherine E., of this city, survive. The sympathy of many friends will be extended to the bereaved.

Griffin Has Booked Famous Picture For End of Month

Not content with giving Belleville "The Lost Tribe," one of the best ever unwound in a projection room, which is showing today and Wednesday, the management of the Griffin Theatre has secured "The Sea Hawk". This is the film which, with "Captain Blood", has been taking the movie world by storm in the past few weeks. It is a costly dramatization of Sabatinis famous novel and for interest is unexcelled. It plays to Belleville audiences on January 26, 27 and 28.

ELECTION TANGLE DOWN IN COBOURG

Cobourg, Jan. 12.—Since Monday when six of the seven candidates for the position of Councillor of the town of Cobourg were elected by the ratepayers, the lowest man, Dr. Adam Watson has filed a protest with Clerk A. W. Young against Mr. George Thompson, claiming the seat as next in succession. The ground for his complaint is that the town has a claim against Mr. Thompson on account of a bonus made to the shell factory when it was put in operation here during the early years of the war.

Mr. Geo. Thompson contends that as a matter of equity he does not owe the town anything, but has written a letter to the Town Council asking that as the matter of the bonus has never been finally settled that action be taken to do so without delay. Mr. Thompson refers to the breaking out of the war and the establishment of the shell factory here in a building owned by him, and of the expense which he had in extending the building, putting in the plant and installing a heating plant; it was then that he asked for a bonus from the town. The agreement was if the shell company should pay out in wages $75,000 the bonus should be considered paid. He states that the shell factory paid out in wages while they were in operation approximately $400,000. The agreement also was that $1,000 a year should be written off the $5,000 bonus each year. This was actually done for three years, but before the fourth year came around, the war was over and the matter in a way was dropped. Mr. Thompson stated there was another $1,000 actually earned which was not written off and claims that according to the actual intention the whole amount should be written off.

New Pony Truck Given Trial Run

New Invention For Lubricating Has Been Perfected

COME TO BELLEVILLE

Bearing Surfaces Charged To Outside of Wheels

Kingston, Jan. 13.—The new style of pony truck, which has been patented by William Casey, general manager of the Canadian Locomotive Works, and Mr. G. Cavin, also of the staff of the Works, was given a trial run on Sunday afternoon, from Kingston to Belleville. The new truck, which is the first of its kind to be built in the British Empire or the United States, was constructed at the plant of the Canadian Locomotive works. It was placed under engine No. 6003 which arrived from Brockville on Saturday morning, and was taken direct to the plant where the old truck was removed and the new one put in place, and the engine was in readiness to leave on Sunday morning.

C. E. Brooks, chief of the motive power and mechanical department of the Canadian National Railway, arrived in the city on Friday and superintended the work of installing the new truck. At two o'clock on Sunday afternoon, after the arrival of the suburban train, the large powerful engine started out from the locomotive works' ward, and went direct to the Outer Station, where Mr. Brooks' private car was hitched on, and the engine proceeded on the trial run to Belleville. In company with Mr. Brooks were Mr. Casey, Mr. Hubert Ryan and Mr. Cavin of the locomotive works staff.

To Eliminate Friction

For years railroad officials the world over have been greatly troubled with truck friction and hot boxes, and it is safe to say that ninety per cent. of the engine failures of this continent are caused by hot-box pony truck trouble. With this in mind, the two inventors decided that they would try to eliminate this great inconvenience if possible. The new truck, which to the casual observor looks practically the same as the old one, is altogether different, in that the lubrication system is entirely changed. On the old trucks the only way that the four wheels on the pony truck could be lubricated was by means of a cellar which was arranged on the inside of the wheel, in which there was placed a quantity of wool waste which was saturated with oil, which eventually reached the proper place. As the engine increased in age, the source of the lubrication was not as great, with the result that the engineers were constantly troubled with hot-boxes due to the want of oil. These boxes had to be re-filled at the end of each trip which required considerable time, and then the engineer had no assurance that it would not run dry before the end of the journey.

No Fear of Hot Boxes

Under the new system, by changing the lubricating system to the outside of the wheel, there will be a constant supply of oil or grease, and there will be no fear of hot-boxes. The changing of the bearing surfaces from the inside of the wheel to the outside provides for a more efficient lubricator system. This change is a radical departure from all previous attempts to overcome engine pony truck friction and hot-boxes. The new system is so arranged that with the lateral motion of the truck, there is provided an automatic and constant supply of grease lubrication. The track is four feet eight and a inches in width, while the wheel base is four feet eight inches, leaving a lateral play of half an inch.

The box affair on the outside of the wheel is so arranged that a plug can be taken out and grease forced in with a grease gun, which means that there will be no need of renewing the grease at the end of each trip.

Mr. Brooks, while not commenting on this new device, seems confident that it will be a success, and if it is, there is every possibility that the Canadian National Railways will put these new trucks under all their engines. If this is done it will be a great boom for Kingston, as the trucks will be manufactured at the locomotive works.

NOW KITCHENER TRIMS LONDON

Kitchener, Jan. 13—Kitchener seniors outplayed London here last night at the Auditorium in the first meeting of these teams this season, the home team winning 7 to 2. The locals were as much better than their opponents as the score would indicate.

It was expected that the fast London forward line would skate the locals into submission and be ready in the third period with a real offensive but the shoe was on the other foot, and in third period Kitchener made the game certain by scoring three goals.

The Londoners were outplayed at all stages of the game, and at times looked rather ordinary under close back-checking. The home team led throughout the game, with the exception of in the second period for 3 1-2 minutes when the score was tied. It was not until well on in the game that Kitchener could get a good lead. The count at the first period was 1 to 0 for Kitchener, and at the second it was 4 to 2, with the teams getting in some accurate long range shooting; then Hinsperger scored two for the home club on bullet drives from the wing. Then the third period commenced and it was expected that one of the teams would crack. It was the visitors, and after 12 minutes of play Hillman tallied and Hower followed this with two more counters within two minutes to make the game safe.

London—Goal, Renaud; defense, Starkings and Fournier; centre, Lowery; wings, Neville and Leamy; subs, McKay and Arthurs.

Kitchener—Goal, Woods; defense, Ferguson and Karrès; centre, Hiller; wings, Hillman and Hinsperger; subs Krug and Heimbecker.

Referee—Jerry Laflamme, Toronto.

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. Seventeen Tars Suffer Agonies

Were Adrift on Ocean For Eighty-Four Days

RESCUED BY CHANCE

Without Water Eleven Days Tortured by Sight Of Land

New York, Jan. 13.— Seventeen starved, delirious Portuguese were brought into port yesterday on the Shipping Board freighter Kenowis, with a story of 84 days of intense suffering on a drifting derelict such as few sailormen have known.

Four times their captain, three ribs broken when he saved a man from being washed overboard by a mountainous wave, was restrained from suicide by his crew. The last time was when he insisted upon making a funeral pyre of his schooner, which he had been ordered to burn lest she became a menace to navigation. He was carried off forcibly babbling incoherently. Their rescue came by the merest chance. The Kenowis had been blown 700 miles off her course.

The Portuguese four-masted schooner Manuel Caragol left Montevideo for Philadelphia last August 12 with a cargo of animal bones. She encountered gales and heavy seas, lost spars and much of her rigging, and Captain Joseph Magano, whose wife and family live in Ilhavo Portugal, was forced to put in at Rio for repairs. So badly had the schooner been damaged that she was in port there until October 18, when she cast off again for Philadelphia. She was due to arrive November 25.

She was one day out when a hurricane hit her. The crew got most of her canvas down in time and she nosed through huge seas bravely for several weeks. When the worst of the gale was over her sails went up again. It was an ill-advised move. No sooner were they up than winds of cyclonic force laid her over and almost every vestige of canvas and rigging was torn away.

In a day, nothing was left of her rigging but her bare four masts. Her cargo shifted and she sprung three leaks. Men went below and patched them up slightly with cement. The pumps were manned. Then came a succession of hurricanic winds that opened more leaks in her sides, and the holds had to be fastened down. She was almost awash and no one could go below. Only her sturdy seaworthiness kept her afloat.

The Caragol drifted with the gale, entirely out of control. Seventeen men kept to her decks, watching eagerly from feverish eyes when she was blown within 72 miles of Philadelphia, giving up all hope when she was blown out again. Three times she was washed within sight of land and three times carried out. All reckoning of time was lost, but the men of the Kenowis estimated that it must have been the heavy gale of New Year's Eve that forced the captain to order all deck openings closed.

11 Days Without Water

Until they were rescued January 10, no man was below deck after that. For eleven days not a man tasted water except rain water apportioned with maddening scarcity. For eleven days their only food was one sea biscuit a day. When it stopped raining there was no water.

Huge seas were breaking over the Caragol now, and only her wood and the fact that all the holds were fastened kept her afloat. Some of the men, who were so weak as to be unable to strain against the force of the waves, were lashed to the masts and their biscuit a day perilously carried to them.

It was on New Year's Eve that Captain Magano risked his life to save one of the weakened ones from being washed overboard. Three ribs were cracked when he caught the schooner's side as they almost went over together. There was no medical officer aboard. No one was strong enough to dress the wound. He was mad with pain. Twice a gun was knocked from his hand as he attempted suicide, once by a piece of spar hurled 50 feet by one of his men. Once he was held from jumping overboard.

Only once before the Kenowis came did the Cargol sight another ship. All the wood had been burned in night flares then, and several of the crew ripped shirts from their bodies to make a light. The vessel failed to see them or to recognize anything unusual in the light. There were agonized cries as she moved from the horizon astern.

Chief Officer Gustave Darnell was on the bridge of the Kenowis when that same strange light was sighted at 4 o'clock on the morning of January 10. The Kenowis, returning from Antwerp in ballast, had been driven 700 miles off her course in the same gale that ushered in the new year 1925. Otherwise she would not have been there, and the crew of the Caragol would have attempted their last desperate chance—putting off in a small motor launch and without gasoline. They were trying to rig a makeshift sail of clothing when the Kenowis drew alongside, about 350 miles southeast of Sandy Hook.

Had To Seize Captain

The gale had subsided a bit, and the Kenowis came alongside. From her bridge the crew of the Caragol would be discerned gesticulating wildly from masts and decks. The Kenowis put over two small boats, and the crew—fourteen Portuguese and two Italians—were removed with little difficulty. But Captain Magano refused to leave. Captain W. P. Humphrey, of the Kenowis, sent back word that his action in insisting upon staying with his ship was fool hardy and that she was a menace to navigation, so close to the steamship lanes, would have to be burned anyway. Captain Magano responded by getting her afire in four places and mounting his bridge. Three of his men tore him away and carried him to the Kenowis, delirious. He was given medical treatment and all the men were well fed before being docked at Pier 13, Staten Island, to-day.

Explains Meaning Of Egg Grading

Inspector - From Ottawa Traces Reason for Law and Illustrates

Woodstock, Jan. 13—The outstanding features of the Departmental regulations regarding the grading and sale of eggs for consumption in Canada was clearly and concisely set forth at the store of McLeod and MacBain by Inspector A. L. Morrison of the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. A candling demonstration was also given by the inspector so that those present might have a better conception of what was required in the various grades of eggs now standardized in the Dominion.

First of all, it was necessary to explain that back in July of 1923, the regulation respecting the grading and marketing of eggs became law, making it so that every grocer or other person who handled eggs, must do so on a graded basis. This meant not only that the eggs must be graded and plainly marked as to grade when sold by the retailer to the consumer, but must be graded by the buyer himself before he paid the producer for them. Inspector Morrison stressed this point particularly—it was now absolutely necessary that all eggs brought into a store by a farmer, must be graded by the grocer before he pays the farmer for them. The idea back of this plan was to reward the producer who because of better handling and grading and attention to quality, brought in a superior grade of eggs to those brought in by the producer whose eggs graded seconds and cracks and dirties. It was eminently unfair that the man with the better eggs should not have a better price. While it was true that the regulation became law in 1923, it was also true that it had not been rigidly enforced in all sections, as it takes time to get the system into force and effect in all parts of the country. But the time had now arrived when the law must be adhered to strictly with regard to this matter of grading and that was the point that Inspector Morrison wished to be firmly understood.

Their Buying Value

Inspector Morrison said that there could be no denying the buying value or trading value of eggs over the entire country. They were and always had been a big factor in the realm of trade. A woman who wished to come into town, say for a dollars worth of sugar, knew that if eggs were 20c a dozen, five dozen of them would be just as acceptable as the dollar itself But under the grading system, she would know that with care in handling and grading she would get the topmost price for them, and would not have to let her quality product share the loss sustained by her neighbor's inferior product. In other words the proper grading put the loss or the penalty where it belonged, and surely nothing could be fairer than that.

In some places, it was explained, the grading plan had been in operation for some time, and it was found that the quality of eggs brought in had been materially improved.

It was also explained by the Inspector in answer to a question, that now was the proper time for grocers and other handlers of eggs to get into the system of grading all incoming eggs. The volume was low where it belonged, and surely nothing would be very heavy, and without experience they would find difficulty. Now was the time to get that experience and after all, it would come very easily and steadily.

Following are the more outstanding and generally-used grades of eggs, with an explanation as to what is required in each particular grade.

Class (1) Fresh—Eggs which have not been held under refrigeration at a temperature of 35 degrees Fahrenheit or less, except when in transit, or subjected to artificial preservation

Grade (a) Specials—Eggs of uniform size, weighing 25 ounces to the dozen and over, or 47 pounds net to the 30-dozen case clean and free from stain, strong and sound in shell; air cell small, not over 1-8 of an inch in depth; white of egg to be firm and clear; white of yolk dimly visible. Maximum allowance at time of inspection not to exceed 8 eggs per half case below the grade stated.

Sub-Grade (1) Pullet Extras—Eggs which have the quality of extras but which fall short in weight shall be known as pullet extras, providing they weigh at least 20 ounces to the dozen, or 37 1-2 pounds net to the 30-dozen case. Maximum allowance at time of inspection not to exceed 8 eggs per half case below the grade stated.

Grade (c) Firsts—Eggs weighing at least 22 1-2 ounces to the dozen, or 42 pounds net to the 30-dozen case; clean, sound in shell, air cell not more than 3-8 of an inch in depth; yolk may be distinctly visible but mvoing freely; air cell stationary; white of egg may be slightly tremulous; any undulation in the air cell line to be not more than 1-8 of an inch in depth. Maximum allowance at time of inspection not to exceed 8 eggs per half case below the grade stated.

Grade (d) Seconds—Eggs sound in shell may contain weak watery eggs eggs with heavy yolks, and all other eggs fit for food. Maximum allowance at time of inspection not to exceed 6 eggs per half case below the grade stated, excluding hair splits.

Class (c) Cracked and Dirty—Eggs shells of which have been checked or broken, smeared, soiled, or damaged in shell, but fit for food; allowance at time of inspection not to exceed 6 eggs per half case below the class stated.

Believes Japanese Came From South

House and Customs Similar to That Found in Malay

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Tokio, Jan. 13.—Where did the first inhabitants of Japan come from? Did they migrate here in canoes from the islands of the south seas? Such is the belief of eminent scientists, although the point is a debatable one, and arguments in favor of the theory and opposed to it were recently heard here when Sir Charles Eliot, British envoy to Japan, and Dr. Solf, German ambassador, both authorities, were drawn into public discussion.

Dr. Neville Whymant, who delivered a paper before the Asiatic Society in the British Embassy, started the debate. He pointed out that Japanese who emigrate to the Malay Peninsula find little difficulty in mastering the language of the natives there, whereas the learning of European languages proved much harder. He stated that there was a close affinity between the languages of Japan and that of the Malay Peninsula and the adjacent islands.

"Furthermore," he said, "the houses of the Japanese, the temples at Nikko and at Kyushu, the kami, the ancestor worship— all are very similar to the corresponding institutions of the Malayans. The light structure of the dwellings has been clung to despite the difference in the climate. That also explains the difference in stature of the two peoples. The Japanese, having such light buildings, could not instal heavy furniture and, being forced by the climate to live an indoor life, they squatted a great deal, thereby losing the original stature of the Polynesians. But those Japanese that are still living an outdoor life, the fishermen and peasant folk, have retained the height of their progenitors through the centuries.

Britain Declares War On Smugglers

Revenue Department Has Hydroplane Fleet Watching Coast Now

(Associated Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 13—Hundreds of miles of lonely stretches along the coastline of England and Scotland will shortly come under the eagle eye of the revenue department focused from the skies in an airplane. A fleet of machines has been added to the existing equipment to protect the northern and eastern Scottish coasts, long suspected of being the favorite stopping off places of international smugglers

Patrolling the long coast line surrounding England, when almost every section is within a day's run from countries producing dutiable goods, has always been a problem for the [illegible] except for the few intervals when the Liberal Free Trade party occupied Downing street. Victorian days only in the populous sections was any permanent endeavor made to guard the coast line against smugglers. Revenue ships often made circuits of the island, or busied themselves in some locality suspected of harboring defaulters against Her Majesty's rightful duties, but daily patrolling of some 3,500 miles was not even attempted.

Faster travelling, which developed after 1895, found the government also in a comparative condition of speed, and in a single year the personnel of the coast guard was trebled and all of the English coast and much of the inhabited Scottish coast was patrolled. Certain sections in northern Scotland where several hundred miles are not broken by a single village or cabin always have been a source of trouble to the revenuers. Heavy seas have not allowed the small revenue boats to be used, and the cold winters made it impossible for man or beast to make such a long journey without shelter in sight.

Was Navy's Job

During the war it was necessary to use the personnel of the coast guard for other work, and the smugglers were handed over to the watchfulness of the British Navy. The navy and the war succeeded in reducing smuggling to almost nothing but after the armistice and before the end of the years necessary to reorganize the guard, smugglers became more active than ever before.

According to reports there were 890 convictions last year for smuggling, and about $15,000,000 worth of goods were confiscated.

The revenue department has now obtained a fleet of hydroplanes which will cover all bare spots among the coast, and for the first time in history every bit of coastline of the islands of England, Scotland and Wales will be under surveillance.

ONE SUICIDE CAUSES DEATH OF EIGHT

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Jan. 12—Eight persons were found dead or fatally poisoned from illuminating gas here yesterday Three others who were overcome were revived and will probably recover. Only one of eleven is believed to have turned on gas with intention of ending life. Marion Dunbar, "Broadway butterfly" of 20 years ago was among the victims. She was found dead in her room, gas flowing from a jet on the wall.

Although Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health and Labor, refuses either to confirm or deny the information, it has become known that Dr. C. B. Farrar, Medical Superintendent of the Homewood Sanitarium at Guelph, probably will be the Superintendent of the new Psychopatic Hospital, now under construction in Toronto.

'Never Found Anything to Equal Zam-Buk'

MR. DAVIS, KANSAS CY. U.S.A.

Mr. Henry C. Davis, a widely-travelled railway engineer, now of South 17th St., Kansas City, U.S.A., writes that he has found nothing in any quarter of the globe that compares with Zam-Buk for healing. He says:—"As a first-aid I have used Zam-Buk in innumerable instances for cuts, wounds, bruises and similar injuries sustained in my engineering work.

A REAL ANTISEPTIC HEALER.

"I also tried Zam-Buk for a rather common trouble in this country—skin poisoning by poison ivy. Disfiguring sores appeared on the hands, and other parts of the body after being in contact with the poisonous plant. Zam-Buk speedily cooled the affected surfaces, drew the poison right out, and healed my skin perfectly.

"Another time, whilst travelling, I suffered from a virulent outbreak of eczema, contracted through careless use of a public towel. I had medical advice and tried in addition, many special remedies without finding the hoped-for relief. Zam-Buk treatment took away all the pain and burning irritation, and quickly purified and healed the deep troublesome sores. It made my skin quite well."

ZAM-BUK IS—unequalled for cuts, chapped hands, chilblains, cold-sores, burns, scalds, etc., to check bleeding, inflammation and pain, and bring swift clean healing. Also for eczema, poisoned sores, ulcers, piles, bad legs. Of pure herbal origin. Zam-Buk is infinitely superior to artificial ointments composed of pore-clogging fats and crude drugs. Dealers everywhere sell Zam-Buk, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

Belleville Men Had Edge after Very Bad Start

SCORE WAS 4-4

Goalkeepers Were Busiest Men on the Ice Last Night

In one of the nicest exhibitions of hockey in the Big Three Intermediate group this season, Kingston and Belleville played thirty minutes overtime to a tie in the Jock Harty Arena in Kingston last night. The score was 4-4.

Belleville men couldn't seem to get started in the opening period and the Limestone crew had them faded to the tune of three to zero. But after a minute or two of the second had elapsed, everybody came to life and Kingston were pushed back almost into the spectator's row for a while. I looked like a repetition of the last game in he arena here. They held Kingston scoreless and grabbed one tally to make the score 3 to 1 at the start of the third.

In the last period Weir. Green and the rest had fairly struck their stride and had it over Kingsto[illegible] the proverbial tent. They tied the score in spite spite of an additional goal gained by the home team and on the play should have won handily.

There was no scoring in the thirty minutes of overtime. although Belleville had one glorious chance to win Voss threw his stick into the play after Belleville men had outguessed the Kingston defense.

A Different Team

It must be told in the first place that Kingston put an improved team on the ice last night. They had more system in their play and individually members shaped up better than they did in the last game here at Belleville Rooney was in the pink of condition and played a clever game of hockey, while young Hargraft on right wing put in an excellent evening, and shows signs of even better hockey being in him.

For Belleville. Weir caught the fancy of the crowd, though he was not far ahead of his team mates, when they got going after the first period. Nurse put in a hard night and in the first period was called on to stop a regular fusilade.

The fact that there were 61 shots on Rogers and 68 on Nurse, shows the speed of te game and the work that both goalies were called upon to perform.

Hagerman was handicapped by a severe cold, but gave his best and managed to break into the scoring column, and don't forget Whalen. He has not played as well in many a moon.

Hargraft scored the first for Kingston, after drawing Nurse out of the net. It was a "dirty trick". The next came along about the middle of the first period on a peach of a shot by Rooney. Gibson got the third. During this spasm Nurse was peppered unmercifully.

In the second, Belleville tried time and time again before they got their one count. The breaks were badly against them at every turn. It was Weir who scored after stick handling alone and fooling the entire Kingston team. Finkle got a bad cut under the chin but was able to go on after a little patching. The skate wound required two stitches.

In the third, after Hagerman all but scored on a rebound off Whalen's shot. Whalen went through for a nice successful shot. Belleville was forcing all the way.

Gibson came along and took a gift It was an unearned goal, with the defense temporarily absent. Whalen and Hagerman were responsible for Belleville's next. when Whalen carried through and lost the puck. Hagerman picke dit up and slipped it in. Right on top of this Whalen took a pass from Frechette and tied the score

Belleville tried hard to make it a win forcing the play. but Rogers and the Kingston defense were too good.

In the overtime Kingston rallied, and Nurse had several anxious moments. Green worried Rogers but to no avail.

The line-up—Belleville. Goal. Nurse defence, Green and Finkle; centre, Hagerman; left wing. Whalen; right wing. Weir; subs.. Frechette and Wardhaugh.

Kingston. Goal. Rogers; defense, Rooney and Watts; centre, Gibson; left wing. J. Smith; right wing, Millan; subs.. Vauss and Brooks.

Referee—Harold Mitchell.

Petes My Cinch Groups To-night

But They Will Have Great Battle on Their Hands

Toronto, Jan. 13.—An acid test faces Peterboro in the senior O.H.A. game with Parkdale at the arena to-night and if the Petes can repeat their S.P.A. victory over the Paddlers the fans will be ready to concede them group honors. The game shapes up as one of the season's best and it is expected that the largest crowd to see an amateur game this Winter will turn out. Both teams will be at full strength and with Harry Watson in mid-season condition, Parkdale will be able to present a stronger front than any game they have yet played.

"Peterboro is conceded to have the most effective defence, Harold Parker and Bert McLeod being great blockers and both carry a punch on the offensive. The Petes' chances to win will depend a great deal, however, on how Irvin Bailey can hold the great Watson. Over on the other wing Ranger will have Don Jeffrey and it should be a great battle between the two. Mose Lount in centre, will have Ray Rose or Collins to check and both are good.

Joe Dwyer and Russel McAllister are the rival goal tenders. Both played in Sarnia, the Parkdale net guardian being understudy to Dwyer. They have few, if any, superiors in the O.H.A. The teams will line-up as follows:

Parkdale—Goal, McAllister; defence Harris and Romerill; centre, Lount; wings, Watson and Jeffery; subs, Cawkell. Harrington or Sullivan.

Peterboro—Goal, Dwyer; defence, McLeod and Parker; centre, Collins; wings, Ranger and Bailey; subs, Burgess and Rose.

Referee—M. J. Rodden.

NIAGARA FALLS IS WELL IN THE LEAD

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 13.—The local senior team strengthened their lead in the O. H. A. race last night when they won a clean-cut victory from Stratford by the score of 6 to 2. The game was fast and interesting throughout, although the locals had a noticeable edge at most stages, particularly in the opening period, when they scored four and blanked the invaders. The game was witnessed by a capacity crowd of 5,200 fans. It was a clean affair until the final period, when eight of the eleven penalties were meted out.

The Falls were without the services of Rice, who is suffering with a sore knee, The centre position was well taken care of, however, by "Babe" Siebert and George Pennie. Fraser, Kitchen, Kelterbourne and Herrington all turned in strong games for the local squad. Bill Carson, Cole, Burke, Frank Carson and Gross also played effective hockey for the losers. The penalties: Siebert, Molson, Gross, Kitchen, W. Carson and Fraser, all two each.

Niagara Falls—Goal, Mayo; defense, Fraser and Kitchen; centre, Seibert; r. wing, Herrington; l. wing. Kelterbourne; subs, Molson and Penie.

Stratford—Goal, Dolson; defense, Graham and Burke; centre, cole; right wing, F. Carson; left wing, W. Carson; subs, Griffin and Gross.

Referee—Bobby Hewitson, Toronto.

Both The Winners Were The Losers

Tables Were Turned at Recreation Alleys Last Night

The Mah Jongs and the Wanderers in the men's senior league turned the tables on the lady Wanderers and the Hardware in the opening game of the winter schedule at the Recreation alleys last night. In the fall league both winners last night were the losers. In the ladies game the Wanderers got off to a good start rolling 770 against the Mah Jongs' 718, gaining a lead of 52 pins, but in the second the Mah Jongs rolled one of their best games of their bowling career, if not the best, when they spiled the maples for 903 or 318 pins more than their opponents. In the third and final game the winners added another 116 pins. Miss E. Whalen was high bowler of the evening with 536.

In the senior game the Wanderers rolled one of their most consistent games to date, 1026 for their first game, 1020 the second, and 1018 the third or 3064 for their total, which is a nice score to start the new league with. Two of the Hardware boys were off color but the remaining three rolled some good scores. J. Yerex was the big noise of the evening with a three string score of 725.

In the junior series the Bankers, a new team, won from the Belle Motors by over 400 pins, the former team rolling 2563 with C. Evans leading with 595. Players and scores.

BOSTON COULDN'T KEEP THE LEAD

Boston, Jan. 13.—Hamilton went to the front in the standing by defeating Boston in a fast and spectacular game here last night, 4 to 2. A crowd of more than 4,000 turned out to see the renovated Boston team, their victory over Canadiens in Montreal Saturday night giving them a new prestige at home.

It was by far the best performance the Boston pros. have given this season, but Hams had the class. In the first period Boston led by two goals to nothing, but Hamilton got together in the second and tied the score, while in the third the Hams extended themselves enough to put on the two goal margin of victory. Burch scored two goals, McKinnon and Roach getting the others.

Boston had practically a new team, and it looked like a coming aggregation. Morris and Benson, who came here from Montreal, the long Hitchman of Ottawa, and Shay, former United States Hockey League star, played most of the game, with Herberts and Redding contributing aid as the sole veterans of the old sextet. Morris played a smart game and starred for Boston. Mickey Roach was the individual star of Hamilton.

Boston—Left wing, Shay; centre, Morris; right wing, Herberts; left defense, Hitchman; right defense, Benson; goal, Stewart; subs. Mitchell, Reading, Headley, Carroll and Jackson.

Referee—Lou Marsh, Toronto.

ARTISTS IN GERMANY LOANING PAINTINGS

(Associated Press Despatch)

Munich, January 13.—German artists have devised a novel way of earning a little money while prospective purchasers of their paintings are making up their minds. Through a central organization they will loan their pictures at a small fee, to individuals and societies.

Thus a colector is given the chance to see how a painting will look in his house, and go with his family, before making the purchase, and schools and clubs can give art exhibitions at moderate expense.

Titanic struggle is assured between Thurlow's two chief industries. Everyone welcome. No Admission Fee.

PLEASE STAND UP

In commenting on the famous Belleville-Kingston hockey classic played at the Jock Harty arena last night, the Kingston Standard last Thursday said:

"While on the subject of Belleville's hockey team, we want to take off our hat to Vernon Weir. A corking good shortstop, a most effective wing man and general, all-round good sport, Weir is at all times a gentleman in the true sense of the word, and a credit to the game. Hockey would set its standards higher if there were more players of his calibre."

This is the same "bouquet" which was reprinted in the Brockville Recorder and Times last Friday, and which was read aloud to Weir before the players in the hotel at Brockville.

The Brockville people must read the Times, too, for sizing up the feeling of the fans that night, Weir could have gotten away wth murder, providing of course, Harold Mitchell did not see him.

"Bill" as he is popularly called by his many friends, was, it will be remembered, injured about four montht ago in the left collarbone while playing a rugby game with the K. C. I. team.

A gold strike on the 100-acre farm of Michaele Boudreau, about two miles from Alexandria, in the county of Glengarry, is reported. The farm is reported to consist of little else than great masses of rock, and it is stated that Mr. Boudreau has been working on and off for some time in sinking a mining shaft, which has now reached a depth of 45 feet.

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

Lord Cecil regarded him sternly for a moment, as if he were about to speak, then, with a gesture of farewell opened the door and went out. Scarcely had he done so than the curtains over a door behind the marquis' chair fluttered violently, and Lady Grace glided out.

She was pale, and her under lip was caught in her white teeth, in her endeavor to appear calm and self-possessed.

"Has he gone?" she said.

"Oh, yes!" replied the marquis. "You heard our interesting and dramatic dialogue?"

She nodded.

"Do you think——" She paused and turned aside. "Do you think that he cared for her very much?"

His lordship smiled sardonically.

"I should say he was what is termed madly in love with her."

Lady Grace moved a little away, out of reach of the cold, piercing eyes, and a quiver shot over her face.

"Has he left the house, do you think?" she asked.

He shrugged his shoulders.

"I should imagine so. I should fancy that wild horses would not hold him!"

"Where's he going?"

The marquis smiled indifferently.

"I haven't the least idea—to Australia, probably."

She started.

"He would not be so mad!"

"If my opinion is worth anything, I think he is mad enough for anything. This girl must be extremely goodlooking, Grace!"

She bit her lip till the blood came.

"Y—es, she is," she assented, as if the admission cost her an agony. "Oh! yes. And he is going! I thought he would have stayed the night!"

"And I didn't," said the marquis, grimly. "He is a Stoyle, and its not our way to take the loss of our mistresses meekly."

"Did you give him the letter?" she asked.

The marquis uttered an exclamation.

"Phew!" he said, with a laugh. "I knew there was something I should forget. I told you and Churchill that you'd better play the game yourselves, and that I should bungle it. You see, I am so unused to intrigues of this description," and the great intriguer of his generation smiled grimly.

"Give it to me," said Lady Grace, as if struck by a sudden idea.

The marquis pointed to a cabinet.

"It's there somewhere," he said, indolently.

Lady Grace opened the door sharply.

"Take care, please," he said, with a smothered yawn. "That cabinet is unique and I have left it to you."

She made an impatient gesture, caught up poor Doris' letter and glided from the room and up the corridor.

As she did so Lord Cecil came out of his room, followed by his valet, with a portmanteau in his hand, and wrap on his arm.

"Lady Grace!" said Lord Cecil.

"Why, where are you going?" she exclaimed. "I have only just heard of your return! You are not going again?"

"Yes," he said, trying to speak lightly, and force a conventional smile; "I am as bad as a queen's messenger."

She laid her hand lightly on his arm.

"Something's the matter," she said, in a low voice. "What is it? Is it anything you can tell me—anything I can help you in?"

He shook his head as he signed to his man to go on.

"I have heard bad news, Lady Grace," he said, as coolly as he could, but his voice shook as he added, "No, you cannot help me, and, I fear, no one can!"

She came closer to him and laid her hand upon his arm, looking up at him with her magnificent eyes softened with womanly sympathy.

"I am so sorry! Can you not tell me what it is? Stay; where are you going?"

"To London," he replied.

"To London!" She leaned over the balustrade, and looked at the great clock in the hall. "You have plenty of time. Stay one moment. Lord Cecil, do you remember the first night you came?"

"Yes," he said, gravely.

A faint flush rose to her face.

"And all I said to you? Do you think I should have spoken to you as I did unless—unless I had liked you?"

"I appreciated your candor, Lady Grace," he said, in the same grave tone.

Her hand trembled on his arm.

"Well, then I am going to be still more candid. I am going to ask you to try and fancy that you had asked me to be your wife and that I had refused."

It was his turn to flush now, and his eyes dropped under her fixed, earnest gaze.

"Do you know why I say that? It is because you may not misunderstand me when I ask you—as I do now, to let me be your friend."

"I am grateful, Lady Grace——" he began, in a low voice, but she stopped him.

"Wait. It is no idle, meaningless offer. I will be a real friend, Lord Cecil, if you will let me. I will prove that a woman and a man can be friends without being—lovers! Now, then, trust me, and show me that you trust me by telling me what this trouble is."

Her eyes looked so honest, so eager, so trustworthy, that Cecil—his heart wrung with the misery of suspense and doubt, his brain heavy and bewildered by fatigue and harassing anxiety—fell into the net.

"I will trust you, Lady Grace," he said, and there was a quiver in his voice which was no discredit to his manliness. "In a word, I have lost the girl I love."

"Lost her!" she said, with wide-open eyes. "Ah, yes! I know! Miss Marlowe, is it not?"

"Yes," he said. "Do you know anything? For Heaven's sake tell me everything——"

"I will," she said. "But I have heard nothing more than this—that she has gone to Australia with—with a man to whom she was engaged before——"

"And you believe it?" he said, with grave reproach.

"No!" she said at once. "I do not believe a word of it!"

He took her hand and pressed it, all unconsciously, so that the rings almost cut into her delicate fingers.

"How shall I thank you for saying that?" he exclaimed, in a low voice, which showed how deeply he was moved. "They are the first words of comfort, of encouragement! You do not believe it?"

"No, I am certain it is not true. She has left Barton, I know, but as to the rest—why, it is absurd! Shall I tell you why I do not believe it? Because I have something for you which will explain all, I've no doubt," and she held out the letter.

MOTHERS LIKE TO TREAT COLDS WITH VAPORS

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Inflamed Air Passages.

It is no longer necessary constantly to dose the children in treating croup, bronchitis, sore throat, or deep chest colds. Many Canadian mothers now use the "outside" remedy, Vicks VapoRub, for the cold troubles of all the family, because it is just rubbed over throat and chest—there is nothing to take. When so applied Vicks gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled directly into the inflamed air passages, loosening the phlegm and making the breathing easier.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

"Child's Eyelids Inflamed Stuck Together and Bled"

Mr. E. P. Kimball, Entwhistle, Alta., writes:

"Our little girl from birth was troubled with inflamed eyelids and in spite of several remedies, grew worse until at the age of sixteen months her eyes could not be opened after sleep without bleeding, a waxy discharge sticking the lids together and adhering with great tenacity. The child's grandmothers were consulted by mail, and both responded with a little sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. These were used as directed, and lasted until we could obtain a further supply from Edmonton. Improvement was very marked from the first application. The waxy discharge was easier removed and did not reappear. Inflammation subsided and has not returned."

"The Lost Tribe" at Griffin Truly a Wonder Picture

It is all that critics told us it would be and a little bit more.

That is the best we can say for "The Lost Tribe" the moving picture offered to the public at the Griffin Theatre last night and which is to be shown again tonight and Wednesday.

It is a picture we wouldn't have missed for a great deal. There is nothing with which to compare this production If the motion films have been criticized for lending themselves to slap stick comedy and inferior plays, then "The Lost Tribe" may be set up as one splendid jusification in itself for the industry.

Those present at the Griffin last night almost have been actually with Captain Frank Hurley on his adventurous trip to New Guinea, so vivid were the scenes thrown on the screen It was a wonderful experience to be able to mingle with savages to watch them at work and at play, to see the marshy jungles from a hydroplane and to glide through the tangled growth of jungle in a boat, even if it was only done through the eye of the camera.

Interesting Scenes

Pear fishing, sago-making, native boat building, cannibal dances, huge turtles, giant clams, coral formations tarantulas, native villages, alligator shooting and scores of other unusual scenes remain with the theatre-goers as vividley as if they had made the trip in reality to tat tropical country.

The natural scenery itself was wonderful to behold. Jungle growth tangled over mirror-like streams; strange and glorious flowers are presented Cloud effects and sea views of intense interest abound; picturesque, stilted villages pass by; miles and miles of marsh lands are unfolded underneath.

He would be a truly morbid picture fan who would ask for something more gruesome in the shots taken of the head hunters. Unfortunately, we can't have camera men cooked and eaten and have the film too.

The curiously shaped temple of "The Lost Tribe" the scenes filmed inside it and the invasion of "The Holy of Holies" when a human was roasting, is enough to stamp the picture as realistic.

The educational value of "The Lost Tribe" is very high and yet it is not unpleasant education to take. The man who is not keenly interested by this picture will be very much the exception.

FLAMING SUCCESS IS MISS WILKINSON

Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Eng., Jan. 13.—When Miss Helen Wilkinson, the only woman socialist M.P., made her maiden speech, she was very fluent. She wittily described herself as one of the "Four Orphans of the Storm", a light allusion to the fact that there are only three other women in the House—the Duchess of Atholl, Lady Astor and Mrs. Philipson. She said women as a whole were very disappointed that there was no proposal to rectify the present franchise law by extending the vote to women between the ages of 21 and 30.

"A flaming success," declared Commander Kenworthy, a sly allusion to Miss Wilkinson's red hair, which pleased the House immensely. On account of her diminutive stature, the Socialist M.P.'s have christened her "The Mighty Atom."

REV. DR. BAKER WAS WARMLY WELCOMED

Lindsay, Jan. 13—Rev. Dr. E. N. Baker, Principal of Albert College, Belleville, occupied the pulpit of Cambridge street Methodist church, Sunday, delivering two powerful sermons He spoke in the interests of the college, told of the work being done for young men wishing to enter the Methodist ministry, who had no means to put them through their college courses, and urged citizens of Lindsay to be generous in their response when he happens to call on them during the next couple of days.

Dr. Baker has made many visits to Lindsay and is always welcomed with open arms. Some fifty-four years ago he left his father's home on the farm and located on a circuit near Oakwood after which he entered college and graduated. He has since that time held several important appointments, but for some years past he has been the efficient head of Albert College. Belleville. It is the aim of the Principal to raise sufficient funds to enter the new building free of all debt during this coming July.

Belle Feature Stirs Emotions

Laughter and Tears Mingle in Watching this Picture

There were times yesterday, as we sat watching Herbert Brenon's production, "The Side Show of Life," at the Belle Theatre, when we laughed right out loud. There were other times when we could not keep back the tears and there were other times when we weren't at all sure whether we were laughing or crying. From this you will gather that it's a screenplay of fundamental suffering, sacrifice and love. Life itself is a mixture of laughter and tears!

"The Mountebank" by William J. Locke is the story from which the picture was adapted by Willis Goldbeck and Julia Herne. It deals with the adventures of a circus clown who becomes a general during the war, falls in love with a titled, English lady only to come to the bitter realization, when the war is over, that once a clown, always a clown! In a series of hearttugging situations a powerful climax is reached, and from this point on the picture marches on to a happy and triumphant finish.

There are lavish sets and circus backgrounds and dramatic content of the story. With it all Ernest Torrence's impressive portrayal of the lovable clown dominates the picture. It is a role that affords a wider dramatic scope than anything he has done before. Torrence has a chance to be a real hero himself and the way he does it makes you love him. He is not only funny but human and tender and that is a hard combination to beat.

Anna Q. Nilsson is an ideal type for the aristocratic heroine. Miss Nilsson has a featured role with Torrence in the producton. Louise Lagrange, Maurice Cannon, Katherine Lee and others prominent on both stage and screen appear in support.

General Morris Abraham Cohen, former Edmonton, Alta., loan broker, now aide-de-camp in the revolutionary army of Sun Yat Sen, President of South China, arrived in Vancouver, B.C., on the Empress of Australia. Gen. Cohen, years ago became interested in the China Nationalist League of Canada, an organization of Canadian Chinese supporting the ideals of Sun Yat Sen.

NURSE CAN'T HAVE HER HAIR BOBBED

Toronto, Jan. 13—Bobbed hair is a fad of fashion which is not regarded favorably by the authorities of hospitals at any rate. At practically all the hospitals in the city, there is a regulation to the effect that hair must not be bobbed.

But the rule has not always been patiently obeyed. Pupil nurses at the General Hospital who desired recently to follow the example of their sisters outside, were suspended. And now an incipient rebellion against what is possibly considered a needless restriction imposed by years upon youth is reported at St. Michaels.

"Some probationers who had been accepted on the understanding that they would allow their hair to grow, did not do so, and purely as a matter of discipline their caps were taken from them until they do so," was the explanation of the superintendent.

"There was never any question of their being asked to leave the hospital," the sister continued.

Selling Horses in East

Ross Valleau sold a carload of Alberta horses with the exception of five quartered at the Valleau farm on the High Shore. The prices ranged from $50 for a colt to $152 for a mature horse. When Mr. Valleau first went to Alberta he sold Prince Edward county horses in that province at a substantial profit. He now finds a ready market in his old home county for the Alberta product.

Stroke Fatal

Kingston, Jan. 13.—Suffering a stroke while on the way to church Sunday evening. Miss M. Harold, Nelson street, was removed to the General Hospital where she passed away a short time later.

Miss Harold apparently was in her usual good spirits on leaving for Cooke's Church, but when near the corner of Division and Brock streets, she was stricken and fell to the side walk. Mr. T. H. Sargent, who was passing, immediately went to her assistance, and drove her home, Dr. Elliott being called. She was removed to the hospital, but passed away shortly afterwards.

Sanderson, Grenville; M. B. Cochrane, Lanark; W. H. Olmstead, Russell; Jas. Alliston, Prescott; W. A. Edwards, Stormont; A. E. McGruer, Dundas; Henry Faucet, Leeds; T. J. Winter, Lennox; C. Fraleigh, Prince Edward; Angus Nicholson, East Hastings; T. H. Ketcheson, West Hastings; Alexander Hume, Northumberland; George Gillespie, Peterboro; Wiliam Newman, Victoria; Edward Campsall, Frontenac.

Seized With Stroke

Cobourg, Jan. 13.—Robert Stevenson, for many years teamster for Hamilton Township Council, as he has operated the grader for that municipality, was found by Mr. West Minifie at his home north of Baltimore lying on a couch that had been drawn up beside the fire. He lived alone and had been seized with a stroke. Mr. Stevenson died the following morning. It is not thought that he was stricken long before he was found. His wife died many years ago, and also two children. He leaves a brother, David Stevenson, of Harwood, and several sisters. Rev. F. McCurd conducted the funeral and the interment was at Bethesda Cemetery, near Harwood.

John R. Lavell, Ex-M. P.

Kingston, Jan. 13.—Word was received by Judge H. A. Lavell on Saturday night of the death of his eldest brother, John R. Lavell, ex-M.P., in Edmonton, after a lengthy illness.

The late Mr. Lavell, a son of the late Michael Lavell of this city, graduated from Queen's University in 1878. He commenced the practice of law in 1851 in Smith's Falls where he remained until 1906 when he moved to Edmonton, where he continued his practice until illness caused his retirement some time ago.

In 1900 he was elected Member of Parliament for North Leeds and Grenville, continuing in the House of Commons until 1904. He was a Conservative, and one of the strongest supporters of the party. In religion he was a Methodist.

Broke an Arm

Peterboro, Jan. 13.—While skating on a hill near his home Master Francis MacPherson had the misfortune to fall and break his arm. He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the [illegible] was attended to by Drs. O'Brien and McNulty, and later removed to his home at 450 George street, where he is doing nicely.

Has Wanderlust

Peterboro, Jan. 13.—At last Austin Murney of 285 Perry street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murney of the same address, has been found. He left school when he was 12 years old and went to Toronto. From there he journeyed to the West and after a considerable length of time he returned home again. In the past six years he has spent about a year of the time at home. He has wandered all over Canada and the United States, and for over a year his parents have not heard of him. Through Mr. Fred Murney, his uncle, at Gainsville, N.Y., he has been located. He is now 18 years of age and is in the United States infantry service at Hawaii.

Death Interferes

Kingston, Jan. 13.—Owing to a bereavement in the family, the order which was to have been issued Monday morning on John Pollie, directing him to produce a child handed over by him to foster parents, was not taken out and probably will not for a few days.

Last Monday Judge Lavell had an order made giving Mr. Pollie until Monday to produce the child. The bereavement in Mr. Pollie's family, however caused a change in the plans, and the order was not presented to Mr. Pollie as expected. No indication was given as to whether the child would be produced or not, and the case stands for the next few days as it is.

New Election Made Necessary In Tweed

Three Councillors Resigned Yesterday; Trouble Over Tax Arrears

Tweed, Jan. 13—Through the resignation Monday morning of three of the councillors elected last week, the entire council of the Village of Tweed will have to be elected again. Trouble developed over the fact that three of the Councillors elected were alleged to be in arrears in taxes, and on Saturday they were served with a legal notice stating that if they did not resign, legal action would be taken at once, just as soon as they resumed their seats. All three, J. F Houston, W. P. Trumon and C. F Fawcett handed in their resignations Monday morning.

Five men were nominated for the office of Reeve and eight for Councillors this year, but before the election many of the nominees withdrew including Mr. S. B. Roland, who has sat as Reeve for the past nine years.

If only two had resigned it would have meant that a new election could have been held for two vacant seats but three having resigned a majority of the entire council, a new election for the whole body is required. Mr. Fred Foster was duly elected Reeve this year and has not been challenged in any way but owing to the regulations he will have to stand for election again as well as any of the others who want to run.

Nominations will be held again on Monday, January 19, with the regular election proceedings to follow in the usual way.

The action against the men who were elected, and who are alleged to be in arrears in taxes, was taken by some of nominees who through persuasion of their own judgment, withdrew before the qualification date. The outcome of the action, and particularly the nominations for the forthcoming election will be watched with the greatest interest.

S. B. ROLLINS MAY JUMP IN AGAIN

Tweed, Jan. 13—It is rumored here that S. B. Rollins, popular Reeve of last year, may be nominated on Monday next for the new election made necessary by the resignation of three councillors. Mr. Rollins has been Reeve for a number of years and is held in high regard in county circles. F. B. Foster, newly elected reeve, must face election again and a fight between these two would be most interesting.

"The man I marry must be a multimillionaire." So Ethylind Terry, comic opera prima donna is quoted as saying after she "handed the mitten" to Martin B. Jones, New Yorker, to whom she was reported engaged.

The Little Red Hen

„PUCK, puck, puck, pucKAYah," cackles the little red hen, as she steps off the warm nest, broadcasting to the barnyard that she has just laid a fine, fresh egg. She makes a product that any "manufacturer" might be proud of, and doesn't hesitate to advertise the fact.

A duck egg might be just as good, but the duck evidently doesn't think so. She doesn't advertise, and duck eggs have no market.

To be absolutely sure in buying ANY merchandise, stick to the advertised brands. For their manufacturers believe in them and tell you about them daily in the advertising columns of this newspaper, over their signatures.

The duck-egg brands might be just as good, but you cannot be sure, if the manufacturers themselves will not admit it!

Read the advertisements regularly. Buy from them. You will then know the source of the products, and whom to look to if they don't measure up.

Advertising is the radio of commerce— Broadcasting things you should know.

ALLEGED HE TOOK WRONG MEDICINE

Peterboro. Jan. 13.—The death occurred suddenly Sunday morning about ten o'clock of Raymond Bell, a resident of the 4th Line of Smith Township. The deceased, who was in his 23rd year, had been suffering from nervous trouble for some years, a condition which at times affected his mind to a considerable extent. He was a bright young man and a general favorite in the neighborhood.

Sunday, it is said, he took the wrong medicine, and died from the effects later.

He is survived by his father, Robt. Bell. His mother pre-deceased him some years ago. A cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bell, who came from Bobcaygeon about six weeks ago to reside with the family, also survive.

The funeral will be held from Belleghem's Undertaking Parlours on Tuesday afternoon, at two o'clock. County Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young, and County Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, K.C., after a consultation regarding the circumstances surrounding the death, decided Monday morning to allow the funeral to proceed. Investigation is taking place, and if necessary the body will be exhumed later for an inquest.

A HARDY SWIMMER

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 13.—In the third annual Yuletide dip in the icy waters of English Bay three women members of the Amateur Swimming Club took part. One of them, Mrs. I. Stewart, has the reputation of never having missed her daily swim, winter and summer, for the past 16 years.

Mrs. Sadie E. Screaton, wife of Charles E. Screaton, of Toronto, and daughter of George T. Hiscox, of London, died at her residence, Toronto, Tuesday of pneumonia. Surviving are her husband, Charles E. Screaton, and one daughter, Mary, of Toronto; her father; one brother, Fred, of Winnipeg: one sister, Mrs. Libby Crouch, Hamilton.

Boy Emporer Is Coming To Canada

Was Recently Deposed and Driven From Ancient Palace

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Peking, Jan. 13—Heuan Tung, the boy emperor of China, who was deposed by the revolution and was recently driven out of his palace in the forbidden city near Peking by Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang, may visit Canada next spring.

Pu Yi—that is his name now that the last semblance of royalty has been taken from him—has read and studied much of the ways of the Occident and now he wants to see it all for himself. He particularly desires to visit the North American continent, although he also entertains an ardent desire to visit England, too, and that is easily explained by the fact that almost ever since childhood the boy emperor has been tutored by an Englishman, R. F. Johnston, who is still his constant companion and advisor.

Before going abroad Pu Yi will visit Japan and arrangements are now being made accordingly.

There is more than his personal desire to see the world behind the motive of the journey now being planned. Fear is entertained that trouble between the troops of Chang Tsolin and Feng Yu-hsiang will involve the safety of the former emporer and empress.

When his safety first seemed to be menaced Pu Yi made a daring escape from his palace, wearing ordinary street clothes and carrying a revolver. He went to the Japanese Legation first and then to the British Legation. He has since been notified that it will be quite safe for him to return to the royal quarters, but it is understood that he is quite content to share the hospitality of foreign powers while the present political uncertainty exists.

LORD LEVERHULME HAS LARGE PLAN

Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 13.—Lord Leverhulme has announced he will convert Grosvenor House, one of the most famous mansions in the world, which is just off Park-Lane, into art galleries and museums. A company with this object, and a capital of £100,000, has been formed, the directors being Lord Leverhulme and his son. By this, Lord Leverhulme, whose interest in art is not generally known, will have an opportunity of carrying out schemes for encouragement of art which have long been in his mind.

Details of the plan are not available until Lord Leverhulme returns from Africa, from where he has had cable communication with London. The assumption is that there will be some kind of a permanent collection of pictures and objects d'art at Grosvenor House, as well as temporary exhibitions; and that the galleries will be placed on a thorough commercial footing, though financial interests will not be allowed to dominate artistic considerations. Lord Leverhulme a few years ago bought Stafford House and gave it to the nation and it is now the London Museum.

TIRED OUT ALL THE TIME

Nerves Gave Little Rest

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Harrowsmith, Ontario.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would take weak, fainting spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, day or night. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to publish this good medicine. I lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will serve to help others."—MRS. HARVEY MILLIGAN, R. R. No. 2, Harrowsmith, Ontario.

In a recent canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 100,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 said they had been helped by its use. This medicine is for sale by all druggists.

SAYS HE WAS NOT AT HOME TO SELL WINE

Interesting Evidence Offered Bailey Court Case To-day

RESERVE JUDGEMENT

Crock of Mash Was Found Upstairs at Point Anne

All the evidence in the trial of Charles W. Bailey, Point Ann man, charged with keeping liquor for sale on January 6th, was heard by Magistrate Masson in police Court this morning, but judgment was reserved until ten o'clock Thursday morning, and bail for accused was renewed.

The trial, which concluded at 12.45 o'clock was interesting, several witnesses being examined.

Inspector F. Naphan of the O.T.A. told of visiting Bailey's home, armed with a search warrant, and seizing Niagara wine and a crock of mash.

One witness told of buying an Imperial quart of wine from Bailey on the evening of January 6th for $1.50 Then the defense story was unfolded, when Bailey, his wife two daughters and four others testified that on that evening Bailey and his wife and two daughters were attending a party at the home of Ike Barnhardt, a neighbor, and were not at their home when the alleged sale was made about 8.50 or 9 o'clock.

Bailey admitted having secured a ten gallon keg of Niagara wine from the Dominion Express office here, in the name of John Bell of Point Anne whose name he signed to the card at the express office. Bell had given him permission to sign for the wine however, he said.

Inspector Naphan told of visiting the Bailey home, where he was met by Mrs. Bailey, who said that there was no wine or liquor in the house. On search, however, he found a ten gallon keg with about three gallons of wine in it. It was in a cupboard underneath the stairway and stood on a box about two feet off the floor. The keg was equipped with a tap and a funnel was also found. Upstairs a crock containing a mash was later found. It contained five gallons of a mixture of raisins, potatoes and juice.

In the nearby woodshed were one empty ten gallon keg and an empty five gallon keg. There was a bagful of bottles nearby, and other bottles not in the bag. They were empty, but smelled of wine. The wine and empty kegs were seized and taken to Belleville, a sample of the liquid in the crock being taken. On the road back to Belleville, the officers met Bailey whom they took to Belleville. Returning to the Bailey home, the officers found that half the raisins and some of the juice had been taken from the crock, and water added.

Another sample was then taken and Bailey was interviewed after being duly warned. He said he had received a ten gallon keg of wine in November and a five gallon keg at the C.P.R station, and another keg in John Bell's name at the Dominion Express Company, Belleville. He said he emptied the wine into crocks, but would not divulge the location of the crocks to the Inspector.

A Dark Secret

"That's something I won't tell you about," the Inspector says Bailey said. "They are not in my house but may be hid about the bay where you couldn't find them." A sample of the wine was taken also and a Government analysis made of it at Toronto where it was taken by the Inspector personally. It shows 27.58% proof spirits.

Grounds for the suspicion in the search warrant were not stated, witness admitted to Mr. Payne, defense counsel, and when pressed for the names of persons who had informed on Bailey, witness requested and received the protection of the court. He said that Point Ann people complained to him of Bailey selling liquor to boys who got drunk around the Point.

"I'd like those people who talk to come across, that's all," remarked defense counsel.

No sample of the wine was given to Bailey.

Provincial Constable Simon Elliott who was with the Inspector at the time of the seizure, coroborated his evidence.

Harold Cross, Dominion Express agent here, identified his entries on an exhibit, and Oscar K. Johnston, Relieving Dominion Express agent, who took over the Belleville office from Cross on December 23rd, told of the keg of wine being in the office when he came. It was consigned to John Bell of Point Anne, and was from Niagara Falls. On December 30th he mailed a card to Bell and on January 2nd Bailey came to the office and got the wine.

"He asked if he might take it out the back door," explained witness "but I told him he could not, as the door was frozen."

Witness indicated Bailey as being the man who signed "John Bell."

Clarence K. Smith, railway agent at Thurlow station, told of Lottie Bailey accused's daughter, getting one ten gallon keg of wine there on November 25th, and William H. Drew, C.P.R agent at Shannonville told of Bailey getting one five gallon keg there on December 20th.

Youth Buys Wine

Then came the sensation evidence of the youth who told of motoring to Point Anne with another youth on the evening of January 6th driving to Bailey's home, where he purchased a quart of wine for $1.50. He later drank part of the wine with his companion, attended a dance for five minutes, became ill, got into the car and fell asleep. The sleeping pair were arrested by Provincial officers in the early hours of the morning.

He said he had been to Bailey's home once before, and when he entered the house on the 6th. Bailey, his wife, two daughters and two other fellows were there when the transaction took place.

His companion, who drove the car, told of driving to this house where the other youth left the car and he turned it around. In five or ten minutes he returned to the car with a bottle of wine, which was consumed and which produced deep sleep.

Bailey on the stand told of ordering the ten gallon keg of wine for John Bell and himself, half and half. When it came, Bell had told him to get it and sign for it, he said. When he got it at Belleville he took it to his home, where it was poured out in two 5 gallon crocks, the empty keg being thrown in the shed.

"I intended to take Bell his five gallo ncrock the night I was pinched, explained witness.

He did not know anything about the crock containing the mash, and did not interfere with it after the officers left.

Denies Being Home

"On the afternoon of January 6th," explained Bailey, "I received a phone message from Mrs. Joe Sero, who wanted me to take her to Shannonville to shop. I, with my wife, took my car and got Mrs. Sero. We all went to Shannonville, returning about 5.30 p.m. My wife and I were invited to Ike Barnhardt's for supper, so we went right down there, and had supper at six. After supper, my two daughters came down, and Frank Maracle came in too. We remained there until about 2 a.m. the next morning, playing euchre, dancing, talking and playing the gramophone."

Bailey denied selling wine to the youth, and denied keeping wine for sale, saying it was for family use only. Bailey has six children, the oldest 16, the youngest 2 years of age.

Accused admited to Crown Attorney Donnan, having spent about $65 on wine since November 15th last.

He told of taking 5 gallons of wine to John Bell the day after he was liberated from custody, placing it in Bell's chicken house while Bell was at work.

He also told of a New Year's party at his home where dancing was guided by violin music supplied by Joe Sero and Son, who received $3 for their work, the sum being colected by his daughter from the men guests who each threw a quarter into the outstretched hat.

Gives Free Recipe

Mrs. Maggie Bailey, wife of accused, corroborated his evidence, and admitted having concocted the mash, which consisted of two potatoes, 2 pounds raisins, 2 spoonfuls of molasses, water and one yeast cake. "I see a number of people taking down this recipe," jocularly remarked the Crown, as Mrs. Bailey narrated.

"I had no idea I was making a brew", confessed witness."

Witness said the recipe for this "Raisin wine" was found written on the back page of a pad which lay on the floor of the house, when Bailey's moved into it. She denied having meddled with the mash after the officers left, by adding water or subtracting raisins.

During cross examination, it was brought out that the two-year-old baby craved for the wine which was given him in small quantities. "He would rather have it than water or milk", explained the mother who denied the sale of wine alleged.

Mrs. Julia Sero told of Bailey driving her and Mrs. Bailey to Shannonville on the afternoon of the 6th. Isaac Barnhardt, nephew of accused told of Bailey being at his house on the night of the alleged sale, and Frank Maracle, brother in-law of Barnhardt's but no relation to Bailey, told of having seen him there. Maracle fixed the date and remembered it because there was a hockey match at Point Anne that night.

Lottie Bailey, daughter of accused coroborated the evidence of other defense witnesses and denied any knowledge of the existence of the crock of mash in the house.

Elta Bailey, younger daughter of accused coroborated the evidence of her sister and others, and fixed the date by a hockey match and dance at the Point. Both girls denied that their father had sold wine that night to anyone.

John Bell called, said there had been no arrangement between he and Bailey for Bailey to get a ten gallon keg of wine, half of which was to be his.

"He did tell me he was going to order a keg in my name, and I said I did not care whether or not he did."

Bell received notice of the arival of the wine, but had not consulted with Bailey as to his getting it.

Witness told of Bailey having delivered five gallons of wine to Bell's home since his arrest, but said that he did not intend paying Bailey for the wine as he had not ordered it.

KEPT FIVE SETS OF GLASSES HANDY

Vienna, Jan. 14.—The late Giacomo Puccini was forever looking for his eyeglasses intimate friends here recall. His wife, who did everything within her power to remove all sources of irritation from her husband, so that he might give free rein to his genius, therefore invested in a supply of glasses.

In his study alone his friends regularly noted not less than five sets of glasses, one on the piano, another on his desk, a third on a little table next to the fireplace, a fourth on his bookcase and a fifth on a music rack.

LADIES NIGHT WITH KIWANIS REAL SUCCESS

M. Tudhope of Orillia, Delivers An Inspiring Address

RAISES HIGH IDEALS

Must Look Out For Future He Tells the Gathering

Last night was Ladies Night at the Kiwanis Club in the Queen's Hotel, and the event proved a splendid success. Some fifty of the fair sex turned out with the Kiwanians and from the time dinner was started about seven o'colck until the last dance there was not a dull moment in the whole affair.

The dining room was prettily decorated for the occasion with multi-colored lanterns, and with Al Wilson's serenaders providing real music, the party got under way. Novelties in abundance there were and it was not long before all present caught the spirit and were made to feel perfectly at home, aided by "the life of the party" Bob Gorman, who was much to the fore in making the evening a real success.

At the conclusion of dinner, Kiwanian Peter MacLaurin in his usual witty manner proposed a toast to the Ladies to which a neat reply was given by Mrs. Hyde.

The Speaker

"Assume the responsibilities which necessarily go hand in hand with the privileges of our great nation; maintain the glorious British traditions—a great heritage we in Canada should be proud to possess. Bearing these responsibilities, and upholding the ideals of our forbears, we, becoming a thinking people, and basing our progress on patriotism and honesty, shall develop and shall leave to our children in turn, a great country."

This was the keynote of an eloquent and forceful address delivered by Mr. M. Tudhope, of Orillia, speaker of the evening. Introduced by Kiwanian Fred Malott, Mr. Tudhope presented to his rearers these noble and inspiring thoughts.

There came to us from the distant past, the speaker pointed out, heritages to which we in Canada must adhere. Patriotism and unselfishness were traits common to every great nation and that our country might progress as it should these must ever be before our eyes.

At the present time, Mr. Tudhope went on to say such lofty ideals were being overlooked and cast into the discard amid a wave of self-interest and dishonesty prevalent to-day. Attempts to defraud the customs, public scandals and the like, so common now-a-days, would be abolished by a return to those earlier standards by which our Great British Empire has been built up.

Must Do Some Thinking

"To become a great people, we must become a thinking people," the speaker declared, and this is pre-eminently true. We are enjoying to-day the result of the deep thinking of great men of the past. How many of the present inventions really advance our civilization and make for general progress as those of the past have done? Not many. What then? We are living on the efforts of past generations and allowing the brains which have been given us to remain idle. We must do our own thinking as have others in the past and real progress will follow.

"And the real reemdy for these evils? It rests in a return to the old ideals and traditions which in the past have developed great nations. The remedy too consists in a return to fair play and common honesty, careful thought and the giving of honest value for what we receive. Adhering to these, we shall develop a country in keeping with the great lands of the past and we shall in turn transmit to our children the heritage we have received."

At the conclusion of the address, vocal selections were well rendered by Mrs. Dr. Stobie, Doctor Haffner, Mr. Alan Ker and Mr. Hugh Middlemiss together with a banjo solo by Mr. Tom Robertson.

The presentation of a suitcase was made during the evening to Charles Hanna, M.P., by Charles Gorman.

Following this Al Wilson's Serenaders provided excellent dance music and the members and their guests tripped the light fantastic until midnight All voted Ladies Night a great success and the evening closed with the singing of "Good Night Ladies."

Mother Sacrifices Her Child Because Her Husband Loved Her No Longer

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Newhaven, Conn., Jan. 14— Mrs. Jennie Zarzycki wife of Felix Zarzycki, blacksmith, killed her seven-year-old son this morning by cutting his throat with a razor.

The woman then hurried to the police station were she fell in a faint. The child was found lying dead on the floor at her home, blood still flowing from the wound. Asked the reason for the deed, the woman replied that her husband did not love her any more.

P. H. WILLS IS CHOSEN HEAD OF VETERANS

G.W.V.A. Holds Happy Annual Event in Memorial Hall

DEBT QUESTION UP

Many Believe Handicap Will Be Wiped Off Soon

Members of the Great War Veterans Association of this city were out in large numbers last evening at their home, Memorial Hall, the occasion being the annual meeting for the election of officers and banquet. The business meeting was held prior to the banquet, and the election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Comrade P. H. Wills; past president, Comrade Ald. G. W. Dawes; first vice-president, Comrade Hugh Campbell; second vice-president Comrade Wilfred Price; executive committee, Comrades Art Donohue, James Varley, Major R. D. Ponton, James Lorrimer, C. Thompson; secretary, Comrade Geo. Ketcheson; chaplain, Comrade Rev. A. L. Geen.

The banquet was presided over by president-elect, P. H. Wills. The spread provided was all that could have been desired and was faultlessly served by members of the Association.

At the conclusion, a toast list was carried out and some excellent addresses were given. These were interspersed with songs by Comrades A. E. Baldwin, Wm. Edwards, Walter Norris and community singing

The toast to the Dominion and Provincial Command was proposed by the chairman and enthusiastically received.

The toast to the retiring officers was appropriately acknowledged by past president G. W. Dawes, who thanked his comrades for the support given him during the two years he was in officer. He would still continue to work as a member of the executive of the Association and do all he could for the Association.

Comrades Lavender and Belton also spoke.

To New Officers

Ex-President Dawes proposed the toast to the newly elected officers and President-elect Comrade P. H. Wills returned his thanks for his election to the Presidency of the Association to help the returned men and promote true comradeship amongst the members. Many outside comrades had been helped by the Association during the past year. There was a debt against the Association and he had every confidence in seeing the debt wiped out in the near future. It was proposed to hold a celebration on the 3rd of June this year to assist in this worthy object.

First-Vice-President Comrade Hugh Campbell paid a compliment to the President-elect and he urged all the comrades to attend metings and co-operate in freeing the Association from debt.

Other retiring officers who responded were Comrades Wilfred Price Jas. Varley, Jas. Lorrimer, Chas. Thompson and Art Donahue.

The Mayor Speaks

Mayor Mikel said he would be glad to support the veterans in all their undertakings and if the officers or members cared to express a view on any matter before the Council, favorable consideration would be given their view by the Council.

He was sorry to read in the Press a few days ago a report of a meeting in Brandon at which a member of the House of Commons in Canada intimated his desire to break up Confederation if his views were not accepted by the people of Canada. This member came to Canada, had acquired means and honor in the West, notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions he complains of.

The veterans ought to oppose such views, the Mayor said.

He also referred to his proposal to lay out an urban area adjoining Belleville. He said Canada would have a population of twenty-five millions before many years. Other great cities would come into existence and this was an ideal situation for a great city.

We should look ahead, he said. If we do not try, we can't succeed. If we succeed, there will be plenty of work for not only the people of Belleville, but also for thousands who will come here.

Our Visitors

"Our visitors" was the next toast proposed. Ex-Mayor H. F. Ketcheson in responding to the toast, paid a tribute to the retiring officers of the Association. He was pleased that the financial condition of the Association was improving and hoped the debt would soon be wiped out. We owe everything to the returned men of Canada for the sacrifice they made, he said. The speaker made a plea for the unity of all comrades.

Mr. Robert Bogle spoke optimistically of the G.W.V.A. memorial hall being freed of debt. This hall is something that has been acquired for a definite purpose and it should be free of debt. He would do all he could to have the debt cleared off.

Mr. J. Elliott paid a tribute to the officers of the Association and the members of the G.W.V.A. The memorial hall must be freed from debt, and he had not the slightest doubt but that the debt would be relieved. He was with the boys during the war and would ever remain true to them.

Mr. J. O. Herity, industrial commissioner of the city in his address spoke well of the city and its prospects for advancement. He made an appeal to all to be constructive and not to be knockers.

Mr. C. D. Campbell and Ald. P. Harrison also spoke.

The proceedings were brought to a close after some appropriate remarks had been made by Chaplain Rev. A. L. Geen, and the singing of the National Anthem.

Indian Newspapers Raise Objections To Wholesale shipments of Monkeys

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 14—Native extremist newspapers of India have started a campaign against the wholesale exportation of monkeys from India says a despatch to the London telegraph. Monkeys are worshipped by millions of Hindus.

The despatch quotes a Calcutta paper as saying "European craze for rejuvenation is denuding India of its monkeys, sacred animals being slaughtered so that senile and debauched may win back problematical youth."

The demand is partly for monkey glands for medical purposes. Calcutta paper warns the Government if it does not stop this "devilish trade" it will have a terrible responsibility when the consequences of popular indignation become manifest.

Baptist Church Had A Splendid Year

Funds in Flourishing Condition; Good Spirit in Evidence

The annual business meeting of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church was held last evening with a good number present. As reports from various departments were presented they showed that the church is in a flourishing condition and has had probably the most prosperous year in her history. Comments were heard on the excellence of the various reports as they came in.

Mr. Albert Blackburn, the treasurer, reported that although the church had spent more than $500 during the year on repairs and improvements there was a cash balance at the end of the year of $78. Total weekly offerings for current expense during the year were $4512.64 an average of $68.78 per week.

Miss Annie Gordon, Mission treasurer, reported the total weekly offerings for missions to be $942, an increase of $403 over the previous year.

The Women's Mission Circle also raised for Mission the sum of $156.00, while the Sunday School supplemented the fund for Missions by $125 and the B.Y.P.U. by $60. The total sum raised for Missions by all organizations was $1283.

Miss Lounsberry, Secy-Treas., of the S. S. stated that the Sunday School enrolment had increased by 45 during the year, while the school had raised for all purposes $961.33 and closed the year with a balance of $37. The school also had a building fund of over $1400. Total raised by the church from all sources and for all purposes $6700.

The church clerk reported a net gain of 13 in the church membership.

Good Spirit Prevailed

The Pastor, Rev. N. S. McKechnie, spoke briefly of the fine spirit of harmony and helpfulness which had prevailed throughout the year and expressed the hope that the church might grow in usefulness during the year 1925.

The following were elected officers for the year:

Deacons—F. Cook and S. Lounsberry.
Chairman of Finance—B. F. Butler.
Treasurer—A. Blackburn.
Financial Sec'y—A. L. Stillwell, B.A.
Church Clerk—H. Hitchon.
Superintendent of S. S.—P. C. MacLaurin B. A.
Secretary of S. S.—Miss A. Lounsberry.
Chairman of Ushers—B. F. Butter.
Pres. of Mission Circle—Mrs. N. S. McKechie.
Pres. of B. Y. C. A.—Mr. R. Doughty
Property Committee—Messrs. W. B. Riggs, W. H. Faulkner, C. A. Hart and A. Blackburn.
Organist—Miss Laura Lavoie.

The organist's salary was increased by $100 per year.

Ottawa Sends Its Congratulation

Tribute Paid to Marksmanship of High School Boys

Boys of Belleville High School who carried off the Laura Secord Shooting prizes have received the congratulations of the District Officer Commanding, Major General J. H. Elmsley, and his staff. The following letter has been received by P. C. MacLaurin, principal of the High School.

"Laura Secord Competition:

"Referring to the marginally noted competition. I am requested by the Honorable, The Minister of National Defense to convey his congratulations and that of the Staff at National Defence Headquarters Ottawa, to you on the team from your school winning the second prize.

"To these congratulations I would like to add my own, in which I am joined by the Officers at these Headquarters.

"The score of your team was very satisfactory, and shows the result of painstaking instruction.

J. H. ELMSLEY,
Major General
District Officer Commanding M.D., No. 3."

Belleville junior hockey sextette are in Trenton tonight where they will meet Ross Buritt's juniors in aregular scheduled O.H.A. tilt there.

The locals are going strong now, and the two hard falls which they have taken out of the Campbellford boys has but whetted their hockey appetite, and made them anxious to meet their old rivals up the road.

With the roads passable for autos, there should be a big crowd in Bill Ireland's town tonight for the engagement.

Belleville Show Attracts Many

Outside Exhibitors of Poultry Here in Large Numbers

The Belleville Poultry Show taking place in the market building is in full swing and is an exhibit which is expected to draw hundreds of citizens generally and those who are interested in poultry raising in particular. Fowl of all descriptions are to be seen and some of the birds are fine specimens. It is the best exhibit ever held under the auspices of the City Poultry Association.

Yesterday was devoted to placing the birds in position for show purposes and in the afternoon Messrs. Andrew Mason of Windsor and A. G. Jarvis of Brantford, expert judges, commenced their duties and are at it again today.

The original prize list is an extensive one and since its publicaton, extra prizes have been secured from a number of the merchants of the city. Messrs. Findlay & Philbin of this city have a display of poultry supplies as have also C. E. Bishop & Son. The Queen Incubator Company, through their agents here, Messrs. Findlay & Philbin, donated a Queen Incubator, valued at $45, as a prize for the best and largest exhibit of any one variety of birds by an exhibitor in the Belleville district.

The egg testing demonstration by an expert from the Dominion Agricultural Department attracts considerable attention. Valuable information in the candling of eggs is imparted.

Among the exhibitors from outside points are the following: W. J. Jamieson, Colborne, James Nokes and S. Little of Bowmanville, G. E. Brown of Point Fortune, Quebec, W. F. Dorlone, of Parkdale, H. L. VanAllen of Stirling, Pine Grove Pigeon Loft of Ottawa, W. Deshane, of Trenton, J. E. Alyea & Son, Colborne, A. Stinson of Trenton and Jos. Anthony of Woodroffe, Ont.

The show will be opened this evening and all day tomorrow, also tomorrow evening.

Boyd took him to the hospital, where Dr. S. Cronk is attending. There are apparently no external injuries, but it is feared that there may be internal complications.

ALLIES SIGNED AGREEMENT ON DAWES SCHEME

Rumania and Italy Make Certain Reservations, However

LATE WIRE NEWS

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 14—All powers represented in the inter-allied financial conference today signed the "agreement regarding Dawes annuities". Rumania and Italy signed with reservations. The limitation of American damage claims to $350,000,000 was stricken out. This was the only change made in the text of the agreement before signatures were attached.

Rumanian delegates anounced that they were making reservations with a view to demanding increased percenage of reparations, while Italians objected to the ruling of the conference on Italy's repayment of the excess she has received in reparations over the percentage to which she was entitled. Objections of these powers will be considered by Allies later.

MAKING IT HARDER

A statement that the Germans intend to shoot down French airplanes flying over Bavaria and Saxony on the Paris-Bukarest and Paris-Prague routes, unless the Allies remove the restriction on German commercial flying, will not help to solve the present difficulties of Europe. The problem of restricting German air power is one of the thorniest confronting the Allies, because control is illusory under the Versailles Treaty, and the French to-day asking themselves, what is going to happen during the present year when Germany practically has regained her freedom?

When the Allies placed nine restrictions on German commercial planes with a hope of making them useless for the purpose of transformation into war machines—these restrictions included radius, lifting power, engine power, size, etc.—the Germans did not oppose them, and until January, 1923, when the Allies under the Versailles Treaty, lost the right to fly their military planes over Germany unrestrictedly, the arrangement work very well.

Then troubles began which have not ceased up to to-day. The Germans, while continuing to accept the restrictions placed on the size and power of their own commercial machines, ruled that Allied machines flying over German territory must also comply with these restriction.

"To fly your powerful machines on commercial air routes across Germany," said the Germans, "would be unfair. How could our poor little planes hope to compete? The planes you fly over Germany must not be any larger or more powerful than ours."

The argument, although logical enough, made Allied flying across Germany impossible, because the Allies did not possess such small planes, which anyway would be useless over long distances.

The English renounced the established lines. The French, ignoring the restrictions, had twelve planes confiscated during the year, which, depite protests, are still in German hands. Now comes a rumor from London that the Germans will go to any lengths, even to shoot down French planes.

English opinion favors the removal of restrictions on types of German commercial planes altogether. It is considered by English experts that they do not serve any useful purpose, because the Germans any-how possess the machinery to build war planes rapidly whenever they may find it necessary.

So far the French have shown themselves intransigeant, but it is now understood they desire to find a solution of the situation which renders commercial air development in Europe almost impossible, Germany by her gegraphical position, barring the most important transcontinental roads. Therefore, it is generally expected that they, too, will adopt a new policy regarding the question.

LIFE IS DANGEROUS

Living is a hazardous business no matter in what age or era one lives. The dangers humanity encounters vary from generation to generation, but though they change in nature they are never lacking. It is destined that a percentage of each generation must fall victim to accident or violence.

In the time of the early settlers the epidemic dangers were scalping by red savages, starvation, freezing and savage beasts. The French and Indian Revolutionary wars followed during the next several generations to augment those other menaces to white life in America.

The old dangers are gone, but successors have not been lacking. A few of the modern dangers are bandits, murderers, automobiles, poison liquor and traffic. In the early days of travel by boat and train was a highly hazardous business. Transportation dangers of the present period are automobiles and aeroplanes.

On the basis of population there are probably neither more nor fewer deaths from accident to-day than a century ago although safety first campaigns, so prevalent to-day, were unheard of a hundred years ago. The best that man has been able to do so far is to prevent accidental fatalities from increasing more rapidly than the population. The radio remains stationary. Posterity may hope to see the number of fatal accidents decreasing while the population increases.

Civilization has long been entrenched against the forces of accidental death without gaining or losing ground, but it has successfully waged war against the hosts of death by disease. Man has conquered disease in many of its oldest and most malignant forms. His success against the demon disease has more than counteracted the death list from accident.

Thirty Years Ago

Toronto had another baptism of fire last night which exceeded in extent and financial loss that of the preceding Sunday. The conflagration started in the Osgood building on Melinda St., which is separated from the grave of Sunday's fire by only a small building. Whatever its cause, within half an hour of its outbreak, it had enveloped half a dozen buildings and occasioned the loss of more than three-quarters of a million dollars, swelling the total loss of the two fires to close upon a million and a half dollars. Just before eight o'clock, when the blaze was at its height, word was wired to Oshawa, Oakville and Hamilton to send all assistance possible. From all three promptly came the answer "We are on our way".

A car ran off the tracks near Trenton this morning. The auxiliary went up and cleared the tracks.

The granolithic walk is heaving all along Front St. The water is going down into the fissures, and it looks as though it would be worse when it freezes again.

Press Opinions

HARD ON SENATE

(London Free Press)

The Free Press would suggest that the present senate system be not disturbed except that appointments be made not for life, but for a period of ten years. Life appointments have resulted at times in the senate being a sort of old men's home for disabled politicians. This would prevent the abuse of the upper chamber being filled with cripples in their dotage.

SLEPT 1924 OUT

(Philadelphia Public Ledger)

President Coolidge slept the old year out and the new year in. It would be interesting to know what proportion of the population followed his example. Also it would be interesting to know which is the wisest and healthiest way—or perhaps which way reflects better sense on the part of the people. Furthermore, if the passing of the year is an event of such importance and its observance by a more or less restrained midnight orgy and welcome so natural, it seems a pity that custom and astronomy have staged it so inauspiciously at the darkest lonesomest, solemnest and sleepiest hour instead of morning or noonday Strange, too, that waiting up for the new year to come in has always seemed just a bit too loose and hilarious in the land of Puritania, while to be soundly sleeping when "time his huge bolt slips 'twixt that which is not yet and that which is no more" has generally been adjudged a sign of sobriety and soundness of character.

THE LAUREATE OF QUINTE

(Mail and Empire)

The reopening of the Wharf Street Debating Club in Belleville last week is celebrated in a poem of thirty stanzas for which the flattered members of the Club have to thank the gifted fellow-citizen who represented them in the House of Commons, Mr. Charles Hanna. Mr. Hanna does not let the weight of public affairs rest so heavily upon him as to stifle in him the love of letters and the instinct to vent his feelings in melodious numbers Whatever other politicians may choose to do he still strictly meditates the thankless Muse. What son of song breathing the air of the Bay of Quinte district, land of delightful landscapes rich in historic associations, could help breaking out in lyric rapture on such an occasion as the opening of the Wharf Street Debating Club? Every year when the Club's season opens, Mr. Hanna begins to sing. A collection of these annual poems ought to be published by the Club and offered to the public. The volume would not encounter much competition for there is nothing like it on the market. This particular poem is printed in the Belleville "Ontario" on Friday last. To each of the officers of the Club a stanza is given, the poet touching deftly on their respective claims to renown. Two of the members Mr. Hanna's lay thus immortalizes:

"At Pete's Point they've been fishing
For many weeks and days,
As they've only four fish.
They hardly think it pays."

Another stanza refers to the municipal government of Belleville. It is as follows:

"Now our City Council
I'd like to say a word,
Of all the councils I have known
This one is sure a bird."

In the last stanza the Club members are exhorted as follows:

"Now don't sit round the club house
And of the Council chew,
Let all get out behind them
And see what we can do."

Various explanations have been ventured of the strange stroke of political fortune that gave to Mr. Hanna the seat for West Hastings. All these explanations are surely beside the mark. Does not Mr. Hanna owe his success at the polls to his wooing of voters when in a mood of poetic frenzy? What other campaign literature could serve his political ambition so well as a few sheets of his own compelling verse distributed among the electors.

CANADIAN TARIFF

(Hamilton Spectator)

The January issue of Industrial Canada published by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, is devoted to the consideration of tariff questions. It would be impossible for any unbiased reader to go carefully over the arguments here presented and remain unconvinced of the necessity of a strong policy of protection. The articles are contributed by men in practically all branches of industry who are unanimous in their opinion as to the need of more effective tariff action to put the business of the country firmly on its feet. The problem is discussed, however, from the national point of view, and not from the standpoint of any special private interest. The tariff indeed, it is self-evident, is the concern of every Canadian citizen who has to make a living in the country. On the prosperity of industry are dependent the wages of the workers, the well-being of the dealers, the welfare of the railways, the home markets of the farmers and all producers of essential commodities, the maintenance of property values, etc. This question is one which concerns the general welfare of every individual, therefore, in whatever status of life he or she may be placed. If it can be shown that it is the tariff which makes the wheels of national industry to hum, there will surely be few so foolish as to remain indifferent to the demonstration.

Mexican paper money made its appearance in Windsor over the week-end and Harry Whittle, a grocer, is a loser to the extent of $20.

LEAVES FOR SOUTH

London, Jan. 14—An announcement that Sir Charles Cust, King George's equerry, is leaving for South America early in 1925 creates the belief that he will have the making of arrangements for the Prince of Wales' visit to Argentina later in the year.

Sir Charles joined the navy in the seventies and retired with rank of captain in 1918. He has been an equerry to the king since 1892 and is a close and trusted personal friend of the royal family.

Deaths And Funerals

THOMAS A. WILLS

In the passing of Mr. Thomas F. Wills which occurred at an early hour this morning at his late residence, 272 Ann street, a life long resident and efficient city official has entered into rest. For some months deceased had been ill and his demise was not unexpected. Mr. Wills in the year 1854 was born in Ireland and when a small boy came out to this country with his parents the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wills. He had since been a resident of this city where he was well known and much respected For some years deceased followed his occupation as a cabinet maker and machinist being in the employ of the Tickell & Sons Company factory. A few years ago he was appointed sanitary inspector of the city which position he filled in a most acceptable manner until ill-health compelled his retirement. Mr. Wills was a member of the Tabernacle Methodist church and a member of the official Board. His wife predeceased him some years ago. A son, Alfred E., of Philadelphia, and a daughter, Mrs. Emma M. Hegle, of this city survive, also two grand children, Marjorie Hegle, residing with her mother here, and Dorothy Wills, of Philadelphia. Three brothers and three sisters are living. The brothers are Robert, of Montreal; Casper J., of this city; and Charles, of Toronto. The sisters are Mrs. E. Teagle and Mrs. M. Short, of Toronto, and Mrs. Thos. Blanchard, of Peterboro. The sympathy of many citizens will be extended to the members of the family in this their hour of bereavement.

Hydro to Make Another River Run Backward. This map illustrates the plan of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission to raise the level of Lake Nipigon two feet and give an additional flow of 2,500 cubic feet of water per second through the Hydro plant on the Nipigon river. The idea to canalize the Little Jackfish river and cut through the height of land a short distance to a small chain of lakes and a stream that is a tributary to the Ooki river, which now drains into James Bay through the Albany river. The canals, dams, etc., will cost more than a million dollars and enable the Nipigon plant, which supplies Fort William and Port Arthur, to turn out another 25,000 horsepower of electric energy.

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. There is nothing like Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment. Try it $1.60

YOUR PACKARD IS WAITING

No car that Packard ever built has made friends so quickly and so numerously as the Packard Six.

Now, because of recently announced price reductions of the enclosed models, the Packard Six, in unchanged quality, is available to more men and women.

Thousands who have always wanted the quality and distinction belonging to Packard now can gratify that desire.

For example the price of the Packard Six Five Passenger Coupe has been reduced $1215—now $4275 at Windsor.

Packard Six and Packard Eight both furnished in ten body types, open and enclosed. Packard's extremely liberal time-payment plan makes possible the immediate enjoyment of a Packard—purchasing out of income instead of capital.

Author Admits He Missed Romance

[illegible] of His Story Adventures in His Private Life

New York, Jan. 14—For his breathtaking romances George Barr McCutcheon can seldom find any readymade countries that are alluring enough, so he invented Graustark and other tiny principalities across the sea, where love, honor, beauty youth and villains may fight it out to a happy ending.

But his romance took root sturdily in the commercial and thoroughly American soil of Chicago and blossomed into happiness without the aid of any artificial hothouse atmosphere as he creates for his Nedras and Beverleys.

"It wasn't much of a romance, as romances go,' he admitted in recalling it. "But it's probably the way of the average man with a maid. We didn't bowl each other over at first sight. We didn't go through any agonies to get permission to go together to the altar. We didn't have to elope. "In fact," he laughed "we don't ever remember the first time we met. We've often tried to trace our acquaintance back to the first meeting but neither of us is able to.

"We probably met at somebody's house at a dinner or a party, quite casually and neither of us impressed our personality vividly on the other until we had seen each other several times.

"We were engaged for a conventional period of six months or a year, I don't recall which, then we had a regular wedding, socially correct, with the folks on both sides present, and a wedding cake, rice and old shoes in the conventional fashion.

I had already written a couple of successful novels and had worked steadily for years on a LaFayette (Ind.) [illegible] and so I was able to support a wife, we didn't go through the love in a cottage stage together or face any great privations—that's about all there is to tell except that we've lived very happily ever afterwards."

And thus did the creator of the most swashbucking love tales, who has been putting romantic notions into the heads of the young for the past quarter century, dispose of his own romance.

"I'd rather write a fiery romance than participate in one." he admitted genially. "Most men would rather watch Romeo than be him. That's the reason there is such a good market for romantic novels. We'd rather take our thrills vicariously.

"Your average man doesn't fall in love nearly as violently or hopelessly as he is alleged to. He may see many girls he might be glad to marry. But he won't follow one to the ends of the earth or be unconsolable if he does not get her. He just meets another with whom he may be more successful.

"And because of this [illegible] the scheme of things and find our likes to think of himself as a hero. He loves to read of romantic adventures and love conquests that he himself wouldn't be bothered to make. And that's where we novelists fit into the scheme oft hings and find our niche.

But whereas most of McCutcheon's romances end with the wedding, his just started there, and though Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon cannot remember when or where they met they are both glad they happened to be in Chicago, playing around in the same crowd in the year 1904.

"I must admit,' he concluded "that Marie Van Antwerp Proudfoot interfered with my career to this extent—she reformed a perfectly good bachelor.

"I had prided myself with keeping rather immune from romantic entanglements until I met her and I had started very creditably in my 30's without changing my views.

"But she drove all such ideas out of my head. And she taught me more about real romance in a short time than I had picked up in 30-odd years by myself.

The J. M. Greene Music Co., Limited

Are Pleased to Announce Their

January Piano Club

Our Club Piano $337.00 Only
$6.00 Down
And $2.00 a Week

Limited to 20. Every Member Receives Special Club Prices, Terms and Privileges

Club Opens Thursday, Jan. 15th, at 8 a.m. Closes Positively With 20 Members

It is fitting in a community like Belleville to have such an extraordinary Piano selling event as the Green Piano Club. It enables parents to give the children whose birthright it is to know and enjoy the inexhaustible beauties and delights of music, the opportunity to purchase a Piano—so conveniently NOW—when the child should be taking lessons, and not have to miss the golden age period through waiting for a more convenient time.

The Greene Piano Club gives every parent the opportunity to have the music study begin NOW. The earlier the better, but, start right, with a good Piano, having a good action and good tone, the proper foundation for the child's musical ear, and an instrument that all in all it will be a pleasure to own.

The Greatest Piano in Canada

We have conducted this tremendous Piano event on six occasions. It has grown in volume and popularity because it is undoubtedly the most attractive Piano offer made in Canada. A great many families are owners of instruments secured through this Club. And they are pleased. Its low price offer, easy terms, no interest and special privileges are the magnet that draws them. You cannot equal elsewhere the value offered here.

An evidence of the public confidence in the old established firm of Greene Music Co. and their Piano Club is the fact that many people telephone or write in to join without ever seeing the Piano.

The Deal and The Instrument

The deal is a straight-out offer of 20 Pianos. The instruments are of the most reliable, trustworthy character—THE ENNIS (Boudoir style), in which the real value is put on the INSIDE rather than in fancy cases, although the cases are of genuine walnut, mahogany or oak. We have known the instruments for years. We know them to be as reliable a Piano as was ever put in a home. They are made by good Canadian workmen in one of the best factories in the world.

Club Books Open on Thursday

The Club books open at 8.00 a.m. Thursday. In other words, Thursday will be the first day you can join the Club. The Pianos, however, are now on display in our warerooms, where you can see and hear them. You are cordially invited. The Piano will be delivered upon your becoming a member, making the initial payment of $6.00 and the two succeeding payments of $2.00 each. During the first few days of the Club's life we hope to give everyone their choice of three woods—mahogany, oak and walnut.

The Value of Each of These Pianos is $450.

THE CLUB PRICE IS

ARE THE CLUB TERMS--NO INTEREST

Exclusive Club Advantages OF THE GREENE PIANO CLUB

CASH SAVING—Every member selecting a Piano saves $113.00 cash and pays no interest.

CLUB PAYMENTS—The special Club price is payable in reduced weekly terms of $2.00.

NO INTEREST—Club members pay no interest on Club plans. The Club price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind. This is a great saving also.

PROTECTIVE INSURANCE—If a Club member dies with all payments made as due, the heirs receive instrument without any further charge.

RELIEF INSURANCE—If a member is taken sick, or becomes unemployed, the privilege of making half-payments is granted for as long a period as he has previously paid in full.

REBATE FEATURE—A Club member can lessen the special Club price still more by paying faster than the Club terms call for.

EXCHANGE PRIVILEGE—Club members have the privilege of exchanging their Piano any time within one year, without loss, for any other new Piano or Player-Piano of equal or greater value.

GUARANTEED—Every Club Piano is guaranteed for five years in writing.

FREE—Stool with Piano and city delivery FREE, if on ground floor; also one FREE tuning.

On Thursday, January 15th, we will inaugurate our seventh Club, one of the biggest events that have ever taken place in the Piano trade. Incidentally, we will have reached our Twentieth Anniversary in the music business in this city, the business having been established in 1905. In other words, the big Greene Piano Club—with its 20 members participating in the big purchase—is intended to really celebrate our Twentieth Anniversary in a business way; to impress the importance and significance of 20 years of continuous business upon the public mind, and, most important, to make it possible for 20 families who really need Pianos to secure them under ideal conditions.

Many of These Same Instruments have been sold right here in Belleville at $450.00. Hundreds more are being sold every month all over the Dominion of Canada at $450.00. THEY ARE WORTH $450. They are worth it on our floors or on the floors of any reputable dealer in the country. The Greene Club price is $337.00. The price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind. No interest to be added. Nothing to be added for cartage, freight or stool—ABSOLUTELY NO EXTRAS. Three hundred and thirty-seven dollars is the price, and the price INCLUDES EVERYTHING.

The saving to each Club member is $113.00—will pay for the musical education for one child for more than three years at 75c. a lesson per week.

20 Ennis Pianos

These 20 Pianos will be sold $6,00 cash, then $2.00 a week. The $6.00 just about covers the cartage and delivering—yet the $6.00 payment made when you join the Club is credited to your account. The instrument is delivered when the initial payment of $6.00, and the two succeeding payments of $2 each are made. The remainder is payable every week. Club members do not have to pay more than the regular terms unless they wish This gives them 165 weeks in which to pay, and still get the Club price.

The Club Price Can be Lessened

The Club members' agreement includes 165 payments. Each payment represents one week. One hundred and sixty-five payments represents 165 weeks, or the life of the agreement. Every time a payment is made you are credited with that payment in your Club Book. For payments made in excess—that is, in addition to the regular payments—a rebate of 20 cents is handed over to the Club member in cash.

Belleville Getting Ready For Petes

Many of Last Year's Rivals Will Be On Hand

Belleville O.H.A. Intermediates returned from Kingston Monday night after their hectic battle there and will now begin their careful preparation for the big Peterboro seniors O.H.A. exhibition game here Thursday evening, between Petes and the locals.

There is every reason to believe that the arena here will be crowded to the roof that evening, when the old rivals of last season lock horns Apart from Bailey, the former Owen Sound Junior, now staring with Petes and Bert McLeod, the burly defense man, who has played with Varsity and Collingwood, and is working strong for the Liftlockers this season, the team is practically the same as it was last season.

Between the posts, the veteran Joe Dwyer still shifts, and Parker, Ranger Collins, Halpin, Burgess and others well known here make up the remaining members o' the well balanced team, which had not lost a game up to yesterday.

The locals will be pepped up to the limit and will be out to win if possible.

The league attraction this week in the big game at Kingston Friday evening next between the Kingston "Amalgamated" and the Brockville "Magnetized." "Versatile" hockey should result on the big ice sheet in the new Harty palace, the ice surface of which is six inches longer than Toronto arena and same width.

Brockville team is back here next Monday evening.

Belleville High Lost First Game

Defeated by Deseronto 7 to 3 Away From Home Last Night

The Belleville High School Hockey team lost out to Deseronto at Deseronto last night in the first inter-scholastic fixture. The score was 7 to 3.

The Eastern district this year is divided. Campbellford, Deseronto and Belleville comprise one group and Picton and Trenton the others. The winners of each group will play off for the honors. Belleville plays in Campbellford on the 20th of this month and meets Deseronto and Campbellford here on the 26th and 30th respectively.

The game at Deseronto last night cannot be taken as an indication of Belleville's strength. The local boys had had only one practice together and that was on the night before the game. In addition, they had to play on a small ice area at Deseronto after being used to the larger surface here.

Ross was the shining light for the B.H.S. He scored all Belleville's tallies and played a good game through out. Gray and Cole are rather green at the defence game but show signs of rounding into form rapidly. Colling in goal had just a fair night. He can do better.

Galway, Townsend and Ross made up the forward line, Ketcheson and Wallbridge subs.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF LIQUOR SEIZED

Kingston, Jan. 14.—Following the seizure of liquor which took place last Saturday in this city, another seizure was made Monday of several shipments, and still more are expected. In addition a special despatch from Brockville received Tuesday morning by The Kingston Standard states that a representative of a Montreal Brewing Company has also been there [illegible] in Belleville, securing large orders [illegible] beer and ale, but whether shipment[illegible] have been made yet to these places n[illegible] one seems to know.

The despatch goes on to state that the brewery representative has also visited outlying places in the same district, as shipments have passed through for Sharbot Lake, one of which was promptly seized on arrival yesterday, while it is rumored that other seizures are imminent.

What action will finally be taken is entirely in the hands of the authorities in Toronto, and still remains to be seen.

Newt Thompson Is League Secretary

Chosen For Job After Jack Nott Resigns At Annual Meeting

Oshawa, Ont., Jan. 13.—The Central Ontario Amateur Baseball League held morning and afternoon sittings at its annual meeting today with the following delegates present:—Past President, A. C. Kimmel, Peterboro; President, M. P. Duff, Belleville; Second Vice-President Chas. M. Anderson, Oshawa; Third Vice-President, W. L. Kennedy, Kingston; Secretary-Treasurer, J. G. Nott, Oshawa; Delegates, Alex. Givens, Kingston; S. D. Hagerman Belleville; J. Ewart MacKay and F. J. Bailes, Oshawa; G. S. Matthews and P. A. Johnston, Peterboro Baseball and Athletic Association, and W. A. Jackson, representing the Peterboro Ball Club.

At the morning session the suspension of Kingston and Peterboro, meted out last year, were raised, and the two representatives of rival interests in Peterboro, who were seeking the Central Ontario franchise, were given hearings. After considerable discussion the executive handed out the following decision: "That the Peterboro Baseball and Athletic Association, represented by Mr. Matthews and Mr. Johnston, be given the franchise of the Central Ontario Amateur Baseball League in Peterboro, and that the executive in session were influenced by the statements of Mr. Matthews that his association would deal fairly with the liabilities of the former Peterboro Club."

The election of officers was then proceeded with, when all were chosen with the exception of secretary-treasurer, which was left to the afternoon meeting. The following were those elected: Past President, A. C. Kimmel, Peterboro; E. Anderson, Oshawa, and M. P. Duff, Belleville; President, C. M. Anderson, Oshawa; First Vice-President, W. L. Kennedy, Kingston; Second Vice-President, H .T. McFadden, Peterboro; Third Vice-President, N. P. North, Belleville; Executive Members, F. J. Bailes, Oshawa; Alex Givens, Kingston; Gordon Matthews, Peterboro, and Belleville to name one at its next club meeting.

Jack Nott Resigns

After the afternoon session when nominations were called for secretary, Past President Kimmel placed J. G. Nott's name before the executive, but he declined, saying that so much reorganization had been going on in the league that he had the thought of "a new broom sweeps clean," and after five years of service he wished to be relieved of office. Newton W. Thompson, of Belleville, was chosen as his successor, and a vote of appreciation of the five years' service done by Secretary Nott was ordered recorded on the books, and that his resignation was accepted with regret.

President Chas. M. Anderson and Past President A. C. Kimmel were chosen as delegates to the annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, to be held in Toronto in April, and the nomination of A. C. Kimmel of Peterboro for the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. J. Solomon, who has taken up his residence in the United States, was ordered to be sent on to Joe Walsh, secretary, at Toronto. The following four clauses were passed to be added to the constitution as to passing of certificates.

Certificate Committee

1. That a committee, consisting of three past presidents, along with the president and secretary-treasurer, be appointed for the purpose of passing on all applications for playing certificates.

2. That this committee shall meet as soon as possible after the annual meeting of the O.B.A.A. and not later than May 1st, and at such subsequent times as the president of the C.O.B.B.L. may direct and shall pass on such applications for playing certificates as they may deem advisable.

3. That such certificates, when granted by this committee, shall be duly listed and forwarded to the secretary of the league for signature, after being O.K.'d by the president and chairman of the committee.

4. That such certificates shall be considered valid until cancelled and such cancellation shall only be made by this committee or by the O.B.A.A.

The league decided on a single schedule with the same number of games as last season with the first and second teams to play off for the championship and winner to enter the O.B.A.A. series. The league will open on Wednesday, May 21, with Oshawa at Belleville and Peterboro at Kingston. The games schedul[illegible] the holiday, May 24, are: Bellev[illegible] Oshawa and Kingston at Peterb[illegible]

Petes Too Good For The Paddlers

Won Against Harry Watson's Team by Score Of 7 to 2

Toronto, Jan. 14— Peterboro outskated and outplayed Parkdale at the Arena last night, defeating the Paddlers, 7 to 2, in a fast and spectacular game of hockey. It was the third consecutive win in the senior O.H.A. series for Petes and their eighth straight victory, this season, four coming in the S.P.A., and the other in an exhibition affair. Parkdale were beaten by a better balanced team, and the farther the game went the stronger the Petes got. They were skating faster on end than at the start and the opening period was a sizzler. The Paddlers overcame Peterboro's early two-goal lead and tied the score only to have their opponents bulge the twine for five straight goals, three of them coming in the final period when the winners were all over the Toronto team.

Deserved Better Crowd

The largest crowd to see an amateur fixture this season turned out, but the game deserved a packed house There will not be many finer exhibitions of hockey played at the Gardens this winter. Speed, beautiful stick-handling, combination and checking were the features. The goal-tending was sensational, especially on the part of Joe Dwyer, the Peterboro veteran, while the Petes were brilliant in close, scoring several of their goals by flipping in rebounds. Parkdale, led by that super hockey player, Harry Watson, gave all they had in an effort to turn the tide,. But they were not good enough.

Very Strong Defence

Peterboro's greatest superiority was on the defence, Harold Parker and Bert McLeod playing wonderful hockey. Parkdale endeavored to skate the Petes into the ground in the first period setting a terrific pace, and might have secured an early lead but for Parker and McLeod. Parker poke checked the incoming forwards breaking up attack after attack until the Paddlers decided that it might be wise to shoot from outside and rush in for rebounds. But they did not gain any more success that way. Joe Dwyer being in the way. But at that the Peterboro net had some close calls, the Parkdale players dashing in so fast that Dwyer had little chance to clear after making a stop.

Offensively, Parker and McLeod proved a powerful pair, being dangerous on every excursion to the Parkdale end. And both scored a goal. The Peterboro defence pair are very fast good stick-handlers, and good shots. The whole Peterboro team showed improvement in their shooting, and almost every drive was dead on, the shots being low and hard to stop.

Clever Forward Line

The Peterboro front line men all played grand hockey, showing cleverness on the attack, Bailey, Rose, Ranger and Collins always being prominent when on the ice. Bailey, the former St. Mary's star, never showed to better advantage and in the final period Rose and Collins outskated everybody else with the exception of Harry Watson. And the Peterboro forwards did some very effective back checking, coming back with the Parkdale rushes to repeatedly intercept well intended passes. Burgess was not used very much, but he was very useful whenever he did get into the game

Great Is Watson

Harry Watson was miles the best of the Parkdale players, and his own individual effort earned him at least two goals.

Kingston Comment

(The Whig)

In one of the most thrilling hockey battles witnessed here in many a day, the Kingston intermediates and Belleville intermediates battled it out last night to a four all finish after thirty minutes overtime before a crowd that almost filled th earena. It was a real hockey battle from start to finish and every minute of play was crammed full of excitement for the hundreds of spectators who yelled themselves hoarse in an effort to cheer their team on to victory. It was a game that was marked by many penalties and Referee Mitchell, who certainly made no friends here by his performance last night, drew down the wrath of the crowd many times during the struggle and he was given a red hot reception all the way through. It is doubtful if Billy Hewitt's league will have the nerve to send Mitchell here again to handle a game.

When the game ended with the teams tied 4-4, the crowd settled back for some real fast hockey in the overtime periods and they certainly got it. Kingston forced the play in the last five minutes and had Nurse using all the horseshoes he had hung around him. Stan Nurse saved Belleville from a severe licking and the Bay of Quinte sextette can thank their stars that Nurse turned in the game he did. He was nothing short of marvellous and time after time shots were rained at him but he turned them all aside and when pressed closely by attackers he handled himself nicely. It was the finest game that Nurse has ever put up on local ice and he is a long way from being through as a goal-tender. He played like a Vezina or a Forbes last night and his work at all times was sensational.

The Standard

Ninety minutes of the most grueling hockey failed to return a winner last night at the Harty Arena and Belleville and Kingston skated off the ice with the score a 4 to 4 tie. The game was perhaps one of the finest ever played in the city, packed with thrills from start to finish, and with the players giving every ounce of strength in an endeavor to land the verdict. Even three overtime periods failed to result in any score, though it must be admitted that Kingston had the better of the play in the overtime, and would have scored but for the magnificent work of Stan Nurse in the Belleville nets.

The crowd was the best of the season, and almost every seat was sold, while a big crowd stood, and shouted their heads off through the fray which was featured by Nurse's work, Kingston's back checking and offensive work, and Belleville's come back in the third period. Added to this excitement the fact that Referee Mitchell continually aroused the disapproval of the fans, and it will be readily seen that the game was a thriller all the way through.

Strengthened by the addition of Hargraft and Voss, Kingston played grand hockey and would have made overtime unnecessary but for Nurse. Hargraft gave a marvellous exhibition of back-checking, while Joe Smith turned in the best game he ever played. He was all over the ice, and had Weir shaded badly. Gibson at centre was very effective and worked hard all through. On the defence Rooney and Voss made a great team, the latter showing his best work in the overtime periods, when his checking and rushing was brilliant. Rogers played a great game in the nets, and had little chance on the goals which beat him. Watts and Millan were used as subs., and got in some good work. Watts time and again carried the puck through, but Nurse was always the obstacle.

Apart from Nurse, Weir and Whalen were the best of the visitors. The latter was perhaps the most effective man Belleville had, and along with Weir gave Rodgers plenty of work. Finkle and Green worked well on the defence, while Hagerman, when he wasn't lagging, was strong on offensive.

From the start of the game Kingston appeared superior, and gave Nurse some hard shots.

In all it was a wonderful game and kept the fans on their toes from start to finish. The fact too, that the referee was apparently incompetent added to the excitement, and practically throughout the whole game he was the subject for booing and hissing. Several times he stopped the play for apparently no reason, and the crowd was so incensed over his work, that they didn't neglect to tell him. This only served to make the referee more excited himself, and twice he insisted that he would have certain fans ejected. At the end of the game, while no request for protection had been made, three policemen were on hand to escort him off the ice, and they saw him safely into his taxi, though there was no necessity for this as no one seemed to pay any attention to the referee after the game was over.

Health and good looks —the reward of internal cleanliness

IF YOU do not keep clean internally your looks and health are undermined together. A clogged intestine breeds poisons that reach every part of the body. These poisons ruin the complexion and undermine health. Constipation brings on such ailments as headaches, bilious attacks and insomnia, each of which saps your health and vitality.

Avoid Laxatives—say Doctors

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

HOT SHOTS

Harold Mitchell is one of the best referees in the province. He is always impartial and knows hockey as few else do. Yet the two Kingston newspapers yesterday gave him a real razzing for his work on Monday night. One goes so far as to suggest that Hewitt might hesitate at sending Mitchell back to Kingston to referee another game. Because Mitchell is strict on offside passes and loafing is no reason for newspapermen or fans to start bawling him out.

Come early on Thursday night and avoid the necessity of climbing up on the roof.

Better luck to the High School Boys next time.

And neither of the Kingston papers said that Whalen played a "whale" of a game.

From this distance it looks like a battle between Niagara Falls and Peterboro. But you never can tell.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN: SERIAL: THEATRES

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

He almost snatched it from her.

"A letter! Why—when—where—how——" And he stared at her with eager impatience.

"It came while you were away, and I took it. Don't be angry."

"Angry! Has any one seen it but yourself?"

"No one!—no one! I kept it. Of course I felt that its safety was of importance to you. I should have forwarded it to you, but I knew you were moving about, and I feared it might be lost."

"I see, I see!" he said, and already hope was displaying itself in his face and voice.

"Yes, that will tell you where she is, and why she has gone, no doubt," said Lady Grace; and with an affectation of delicate consideration she turned to the great oriel window, that he might read it undisturbed.

Suddenly he uttered a cry, and, looking round, she saw him leaning against the balustrade staring at the letter, which shook like an aspen leaf in his hands.

"Oh, what is it?" she breathed, and her face went almost as white as his own.

He looked up with a bewildered stare; then, with a working face, seemed to struggle for composure.

"You—I—we were both wrong!" he said, hoarsely; "she—she has gone!"

"Oh, no, no!" murmured Lady Grace "don't say that! Do not believe it! Oh, Lord Cecil!" and she laid both her hands upon his arms and looked up at him beseechingly, sympathizingly, as a sister might strive to soothe and encourage a brother.

"Yes," he said, almost inaudibly, and with a catch in his voice "it is true—it is true! Great Heaven! and I loved—I trusted—I——" He turned his head aside for a second, then faced her, every muscle of his face quivering under the effort to appear unmoved. "Lady Grace, the letter proves marquis' estimate of women to be a true one, and mine—Heaven help me—false! Read it. No, I cannot! It is the only letter she ever wrote me—it is sacred! The first and the last! Great Heaven, to think that she, she! ——" and as he recalled the pure and innocent face, the truthful, trustful eyes that had looked up so devotedly, so passionately, with such an infinity of love into his, his voice broke and he could not utter another word.

"No, do not show me the letter!" she said. "It should be sacred to you. And I do not believe it yet. Where were you going, Cecil?"

Her omission of his formal title escaped him at the moment.

"To London," he said. "But where"—and he made a despairing gesture—"it doesn't matter. Nothing matters now!" and he forced a rueful smile.

"Yes, but it does matter," she said. "There may be some mistake—there is there must be! It is useless to ask you to remain here, I feel that. Go to London, Cecil, and go to the offices of the Orion. Go and see if her name is on the passenger list. I will stake my faith in the honor and truth of my sex that it is not!"

He seized her hand and pressed it again.

"How can I thank you?" he breathed. "Yes! Ah, what woman's wit will do! I will go to the office!"

"And you will let me know? You will not forget—your friend!"

"I shall never forget all you have done, all you have been to me this day, Lady Grace," he said, fervently; and with a grave solemnity that might well have become one of the old knightly Stoyles whose pictures looked down on them, he raised her hand to his lips.

A deep red suffused Lady Grace's face, and she drew a quick, sharp breath.

"Go, then!" she said, her hand resting on his clingingly, "and come back with good news!"

He nodded, and with the letter in his hand, ran down the stairs. Lady Grace leaned over the balustrade and looked at him, her heart beating wildly, her eyes flashing with suppressed excitement. She looked at that moment like one

Whose soul and brain with keen desire
Burnt in a flame of all-consuming fire.

Then as the door closed behind her and she heard the retreating sound of the dogcart, she drew herself upright, and, pressing her hand to her forehead she thought intently.

"A wrong step now, a false move, and I lose him!" she murmured. "Oh, if I were there with him; if I could be sure that Spencer Churchill had got her out of the way! Ah!"

The ejaculation was forced from her lips by an idea worthy of a woman. Without waiting a moment she sprang up the staircase to her own room.

"Find the next train to this," she said to her astonished maid. "Don't stand staring! There may not be a moment to lose. Pack a bag—a small bag—and order a brougham. Say nothing to anybody but the groom of the chambers, and tell him to keep his tongue quiet—give him this!" She handed her a couple of sovereigns. "Wait! I want this to go to the telegraph office. Stay! No! I will take it myself as I go!"

"The office is closed, my lady," said the maid, looking up from the portmanteau she had already commenced to pack.

Lady Grace's face fell, then it cleared again.

"Of course! All offices are closed by this time; none will be open till tomorrow! No matter. Give me a telegraph form."

She sat down and wrote quickly:

He will be at the Orion packet office the first thing to-morrow. Act. Meet me at the square at ten.

Two hours later she was seated in the train following that which had borne Lord Cecil to London, and her telegram lay at the office to be forwarded to Mr. Spencer Churchill at eight the morning.

Lord Cecil reached his chambers in the gray of the summer morning, looking like a man who had received sentence of death, and yet hoped that by some chance a reprieve might save him.

Not until the train started had he remembered that the steam packet-office would not be open until ten o'clock, and, yielding to the respectful entreaties of his man, who was deeply attached to him, and saw with dismaythe change which the last few days had made in him, Lord Cecil threw himself on the bed. But he found it impossible to rest there, and spent the long hours pacing up and down, vainly trying to draw encouragement from a remembrance of Lady Grace's assertion of faith in Doris.

"She believed in her, and she does not know her; how much more should I trust in her, who do know her? And yet this letter!" and he took it out and read it for the hundredth time.

Long before ten he had a bath, drank a cup of coffee to appease his valet, and, dressing himself, went down in a cab to the office of the Australian Steamship Company.

A peculiar election bet was paid in the Soo when Wilbur Cain, despatcher at the Steelton Station of the Algoma Central Railway, transported Jim Dupew, his operator, three miles down Queen Street on a hand sleigh from the station in the west to Flat Walsh's tobacco and billiard emporium, and there purchased cigars for all who happened to be in the place at the time.

Harold Lloyd In Safety Last Again

Starts Three Day Engagement at Griffin on Thursday

The location is twelve stories above the street. Clinging to the side of the building, two-thirds of the way up, with a dozen pigeons roosting on his head is Harold Lloyd. The crowd below, amused but frightened, watch breathlessly while the spectacled comedian continues his upward climb, overcoming the most difficult and hilarious obstacles.

What a comedy! Never has an audience shrieked with such uncontrollable laughter. There have been riotous two-reel comedies produced in the past by master comedians, but never before has one been seen in seven reels that moved at such a fast pace.

How Harold Lloyd performs his thrill stunts is a mystery. It is certain that he did them himself, for his face is seen plainly in every hazardous predicament he encounters. When a young man attempts to climb the side of a twelve story building in the place of a real "human fly," and meets hilarious trouble every foot of the way up the result is a continuous run of uproarious laughter.

But the comedy is not all thrills. There is a real story—a delightful story with pretty little Mildred Davis—now Mrs. Harold Lloyd the young lady in the case. We don't like to tell too much of it, but Mildred is the cause of everything—as has been with Woman through the Ages.

The first scenes of the comedy take place in a department store in the Big City, where Harold has gone to make his fortune. His trouble commences when the girl, thinking he has acquired a fortune already, comes to town to marry him. And what a time Harold has! The haughty floor-walker in the store glares while Harold tries to get his lady love out of the building and at the same time pretend to her that he is the General Manager. But I must not give away too many secrets!

As The Boy, Harold Lloyd is at his best. He has a huge bag of new tricks up his sleeve and a recklessness in facing danger that is amazing. Mildred is sweetness personified. Then there is Noah Young, well remembered as the hard-boiled gob in 'A Sailor Made Man.' Bill Strothers, a real "human-fly" makes his screen debut and gets into the spirit of the fun splendidly. Westcott B. Clarke is the floor-walker, and Anna Townsend, remembered as "Grandma," is also seen. And there is the funniest "drunk" we have ever seen in films.

You really cannot afford to miss "Safety Last." It's Harold's most hair-able hair-raising comedy that will make you weak from laughing! At Griffin's Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

PALENCIA MEMBERS ENJOY FINE DANCE

Despite counter attractions, the usual large and happy crowd attended the January dance of the Palencia Club—the first club dance of the New Year—at the Johnstone academy last night.

An interesting program of moon waltzes, fox trots, and other popular dances was arranged by Professor Albert Johnstone, who had the academy tastefully decorated, and the floor in unusually fine condition. The Bon Ton orchestra supplied music which satisfied.

One outstanding period of the "Palencia evenings"—lunch time—continues to find new favors, and last night the cheerful waiters appointed by officials in charge, were kept real busy serving the lunch that's different.

Geo. McIntee, employed at the J. H. Williams plant, St. Catharines, was seriously injured about the head and face on Saturday when an emery whele on which he was working, burst. His face was lacerated in several places.

T. R. Stokes, for four years clerk of Stamford Township, quit that office Saturday and will not be present at the swearing in of the new Council to-day. Mr. Stokes announced his displeasure with the men elected this year and stated he would quit.

Nearly 900 marriage license were issued in Windsor during the year, which number is almost identical to the total in 1923.

Old Melodrama On Silver Sheet

"Nellie, The Beautiful Cloak Model", Coming To Belle

One of the old-time stage melodramas, "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," has at last reached the silver sheet and will be the attraction at the Belle Theatre for 3 days, beginning To-morrow. It was directed by Emmett Flynn for Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, and was adopted by H. A. Van Loan and placed in continuity form by Carey Wilson.

This play was originally produced about fifteen years ago and at once became popular with the great public, which kept it alive for many years. Owen Davis, the author has recently turned to the writing of comedy and realistic plays such as "The Detour," "Icebound," and "The Nervous Wreck," but it is doubtful if any of them, despite their great success, will ever be sen by as many people nor enjoyed so hugely, as in his old-time melodrama, "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model." It became a model for its style of stage entertainment and Goldwyn has retained all of its melodramatic high-lights in putting it in picture form.

The cast is an unusually brilliant one, containing Claire Windsor, as Nellie, Mae Busch as her chum, Polly Joy, Edmund Lowe as her lover, Jack Carroll, Lew Cody is again seen as a villain in the role of Walter Peck, Raymond Griffith and Hobart Bosworth complete the cast of principals, with Lilyan Tashman, Dorothy Cummings, Will Walling, Mayme Kelso, William Orlamond, Arthur Houseman and David Kirby in other roles.

Director Emmett Flynn has done a very workmanlike job in filming the melodrama and has made of it a picture that will delight countless millions of theatre goers who like red-blood drama-crammed to the brim with action. The photography is unusually attractive and contains some of the most beautiful "shots" seen in any production.

BRITAIN'S BIGGER BUSINESS

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 1[illegible].—British trade returns for 1924 shows striking increases in both imports and exports compared with former year. Nevertheless, they elicit mournful comments from the press because while imports show an expansion of one hundred and eighty-four million exports increased less than four mililon exports increased less than fifty million pounds and the total excess of imports over exports reached 345,000,000 pounds.

R. Patterson, dismissed from the Hamilton police force recently, was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of selling liquor, and it was intimated that further charges would be made A warrant was issued some time ago, but Patterson could not be located. A car driven by Patterson was spotted on Hess street, north, and a bag of beer was taken from it. He had in his possession several bunches of lead pencils, which he said he purchased. The particular brand he had are sold only to schools, it was stated.

Darken Hair! Look Young

NOBODY CAN TELL WHEN YOU RESTORE GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Grand mother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When ever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for 'Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound,' you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known down town druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft bush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy soft and beautiful.

DRINK WATER FREELY AND OFTEN TO KEEP KIDNEYS FLUSHED AND CLEAN

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally says, a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in your kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfase for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon jiice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. and draw this through your hair taking

Got Two Months

Oshawa, Jan. 14—Morley Wilson of Toronto was sentenced to two months in the Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate Hind on a charge of securing lodging by fraud to the extent of $50 on Tuesday. Last week Wilson pleaded guilty to the offence and was remanded for sentence. Magistrate Hind informed him that he should make good even though none of his so-called friends came to his aid when he was in trouble.

"You are a young man and should make good," he said.

On Wrong Track

Oshawa, Jan. 14—"You are a pure case of a young man on the wrong track." Magistrate Hind told Frank Hawley when he appeared before him in police court yesterday morning. Hawley pleaded guilty last week to a charge of theft preferred by R. C. Henry. The accused was employed by the coal merchant and collected $5 from a purchaser which he converted to his own use.

Cheques Not Met

Peterboro, Jan. 14—Nathan Merson alleged to have victimized a score of farmers in this district in November has been captured in Montreal, and is being brought here to-day to stand trial for conspiracy to defraud. Merson with a companion is alleged to have gone through the farming community buying carloads of stock. He made his purchases on Saturday and had shipped and got away before it could be found that his cheques would not be met.

Reeve Gave Dance

Apsley, Jan. 14.—Norman Lean, the newly elected Reeve of Burleigh and Anstruther, celebrated his victory by giving a dance in St. George's Institute on Friday evening which was attended by about 100 people. Dancing was kept up until the early hours of the morning, music being provided by John Coones, former Reeve Duncan Brown and Mrs. George Kilborn. During the supper interval Mr. Spence, in a congratulatory speech to the new Reeve and Councillors, spoke of the good work done for the township by their predecessors, and trusted this would be continued under the new regime. In closing his remarks he called for three cheers for victor and vanquished, which were heartily given after the singing of "For they are jolly good fellows."

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson, Almonte, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on New Year's day. All the family were home except two sons. Mrs. Patterson was presented with a beautiful gold wrist watch. Mr. Patterson was presented with an ebony cane and a pair of gold cuff links.

Asks Co-operation

Lindsay, Jan. 14.—The city clerk of Belleville wrote Lindsay council asking co-operation governing advance poll for municipal elections amended. Belleville passed a resolution asking privilege of having this poll open for a shorter time than three days preceding an election, if it was deemed wise to have it so. Two days, it was felt was sufficient length of time to hold advance pool prior to election.

The Little Red Hen

"PUCK, puck, puck, pucKAYah," cackles the little red hen, as she steps off the warm nest, broadcasting to the barnyard that she has just laid a fine, fresh egg. She makes a product that any "manufacturer" might be proud of, and doesn't hesitate to advertise the fact.

A duck egg might be just as good, but the duck evidently doesn't think so. She doesn't advertise, and duck eggs have no market.

To be absolutely sure in buying ANY merchandise, stick to the advertised brands. For their manufacturers believe in them and tell you about them daily in the advertising columns of this newspaper, over their signatures.

The duck-egg brands might be just as good, but you cannot be sure, if the manufacturers themselves will not admit it!

Read the advertisements regularly. Buy from them. You will then know the source of the products, and whom to look to if they don't measure up.

France Disturbed By Foreign Workers

There Are Now About Two Million; May Set Quota

(Associated Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 14.—The French government is beginning to take notice of the ever increasing immigration which has brought the total of foreign workingmen in France to about 2,000,000. This number is approximately five percent of the total population, and in official circles it is said France may soon have to follow the example of the United States and limit immigration.

The inflow of workers in 1923 was approximately 272,000, mostly from Italy, Poland, Spain and Belgium. Sixty percent of these men went to the devastated regions.

France encouraged immigration after the war because she sorely needed men to replace the great wastage of hand labor from 1914 to 1918. Annoying difficulties, however, have arisen through the presence of great numbers of foreigners in what was once the war zone and the participation of foreigners in communist agitation has caused some alarm. There is an undisguised feeling that, though imported labor has rendered France great service, she has now about enough of it, particularly since there is a strong communistic strain running all through the foreign laboring element.

PAPER PASSES OUT WHEN BOY LEAVES

Nome, Alaska, Jan. 14—America's farthest north newspaper, the Teller, Alaska, Pioneer Scout, suspended publication recently when its publisher editor, composing room force, pressman, advertising and circulation manager and reporter, left for Seattle to complete a high school education. Walter J. Marx, 17, held all these positions. The paper was started four years ago, was issued weekly and had the majority of its sixty subscribers in Nome. Teller is on the Seward peninsula northwest of Nome.

Would Wipe Out Masonry In Italy

Effect of Legislation Mussolini Plans For His Country

Rome, Jan. 14—Three former Italian Premiers, bitter enemies in their dey, met yesterday to consider joint action against the Government in view of further drastic repressive measures proposed by Premier Mussolini.

Marquis Salandra, Orlando and Giolitti held a conference and posposed meeting again last night to discuss the situation arising from the Fasciti move in presenting bills in the Chamber of Deputies to restrict the activities of secret organizations. It was the first time since the world war that Giolitti and Salandra had spoken. In the short session of the Chamber yesterday, Mussolini presented a bill regulating the membership of Government employees as well as those of provincial and communal administration, associations, clubs and fraternities.

The Premier also proposed that secret orders—and this would include the Free Masons of Italy—must present a list of their members and give details of their organizations, such as the oaths and by-laws.

This would mean the wiping out of Free Masonry in this country.

Richard Begue, the first merchant in the city of Moosejaw, Sask., a veteran of the Northwest Rebellion and several times Mayor of Moosejaw is dead. His death was a tragic one. One of the hens in a flock which he kept at his house pecked him on the thumb of the right hand. Blood poisoning set in. Though an operation was performed at the hospital he failed to rally.

Berlin Communists Are Tricky Lot

Use Workingmen's Beerhalls to Spread Interesting Propaganda

Berlin, Jan. 14—One of the most effective instruments of propaganda yet devised by the Communists is the so-called Proletarian Wandering Theater which was first put to use during the recent election campaign. It is popular in the real sense of the word, reflecting the wishes, the hopes and the hatred of the broad masses.

Wherever in the workingmen's quarters there is a beerhall or other large room with a stage available, the Communists rent it on some convenient evening and offer their 'Review in Fourteen Scenes." As the scenes unfold before the eyes of the workers, two men, one representing the Class Struggle, the other the Bourgeois, furnish the proper comment. They thus take the place of the chorus in the ancient Greek tragedy or of the interlocutor in the American minstrel show.

One scene depicts a Communist as he is about to be sentenced to long imprisonment for thinking differently from the accepted standards. He makes a last impassioned plea to the jury, which is nothing but a veiled campaign speech, but which the listeners swallow whole because it is fed to them in the form of drama.

Another scene depicts a visitor from Mars coming to earth and finding to his surprise that there are people who actually slave and starve so that someone else may wallow in wealth. He can only explain this situation by remembering that the earth is in part peopled by a race of crazy men called proletarians.

The familiar figures of German political life, such as General Ludendorff President Ebert, General von Seeckt, Chief of Police Ritcher, Prussian Minister of the Interior Severing, and others hateful to the Comunists are imitated on the stage and their statements parodied.

Japanese Relief Goods Spoiling

Somebody Blundered in Locking Up Stuff in Unventilated Warehouse

Tokio, Jan. 14.—Vast quantities o clothing and other materials sent t this country from the American Continent for relief purposes following the earthquake disaster have been allowed to rot in the warehouses at Shibaura and the situation brought about a municipal scandal such as this city has seldom witnessed.

Blundering of officials during the confusion following the earthquake and fire is held responsible for the waste, although a thorough investigation is to be made. Plans are being made to dispose of the goods by auction to the highest bidder, and a belated effort will be made to have the stuff distributed in a manner which conforms as much as possible with the desires of those who sent it originally.

The goods completely filled three large warehouses which have been kept tightly closed for many months due to the lack of ventilation and the the dampness of the old buildings much of the foodstuffs, clothing and other material has become so mouldy that it is unfit for human use.

Beside the destruction wrought by time and weather, huge colonies of rats and cats have grown up in the buildings. The bedlam which prevails in the warehouses at night is enough to frighten the bravest heart, according to Nichi Nichi, and as a result it has been impossible to secure the services of night watchmen.

STONE REPORTERS UP IN GLASGOW

London, Jan. 14—Two reporters who were on the scene of evictions in the Clydebank district of Glasgow yesterday were stoned and severely injured. A number of reporters were taking notes as four evictions were under way for non-payment of rent when they were molested by a mob of sympathizers with the dispossessed tenants, only two of them received injuries of a severe nature. The police intervened to save the reporters.

The evictions were carried out by sheriff's officers. They were opposed in only one case, but the barricades erected by them to keep out the dispossessed ones were quickly battered down. One of the four families turned out of home was enabled by the assistance of the onlookers to get back into the house in two hours after the eviction proceedings. The other three families were preparing to follow along the same line.

CHANGE NAME OF PARK

Peterboro, Jan. 13—Riverside Park, familiar to baseball teams throughout the Province, is Riverside Park no longer. A motion was passed by the City Council to-night renaming it "James Stevenson Park" in memory of a man who had much to do with the upbuilding of Peterboro'.

Information was given of a proposal pending whereby another combination would take the franchise of the ball club and lease the park for 1925, to be decided at the Cobourg meeting to-morrow, but of this the Council did not take cognizance.

Riverside Park may be defunct, but it is a very real thing to the Peterboro' Baseball Association, which still owes $750 rental from the 1924 season. The park was leased for $1,000, and on nonpayment of the $750 balance in November an offer was made by the City Council to accept $500 if this sum was paid before Dec. 31. The concession was not taken advantage of, and at to-night's meting the City Solicitor was authorized to sue if necessary to collect the full amount of $750.

M. L. Graham, 728 Erie street, Windsor, was painfully burned about the hands when a gas heater was ignited by the fumes from gasoline, which he was using to clean clothes.

WOMEN BORN 1873 TO 1881

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"A Blessing To Suffering Women," Writes Mrs. McPeak

Louisville, Illinois.—"I certainly thank you for the great benefit I have received from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I first learned about it from my step-mother who got so much help from it. Several years ago I took it for inward weakness, and since then I have taken it during the Change of Life and it has been a great help to me. It certainly is a blessing to suffering women and I take pleasure in recommending it. My health has been better this summer than it has been for five years. I am now able to do all my work and have canned 340 quarts of fruit and vegetables this summer."—Mrs. KATE McPEAK, Louisville, Illinois.

Wants Letter Used As Proof

Frankford, Pa.—"I am sure if women who suffer through the Change of Life as I have, with hot flashes, nervousness, and other weaknesses, would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial they would be benefited as I was. My nerves were so bad that every little noise made me jump, but now I am not bothered that way at all. My husband says he really hated to look at me I looked so miserable. I hope you will use this letter as proof of the help the Vegetable Compound is giving me."—Mrs. ABBIE HARVEY, 5701 Leonard St., Frankford, Phila., Pa.

Forced To Remain In Bed

Carlyle, Illinois.—"During the Change of Life I suffered with severe nervousness and with disturbances of the entire system. These continued probably two years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I could do none of my work and was not always able to be up. For ten days at a time I was forced to remain in bed with my hips propped higher than my head and the pains were terrible. The doctor helped me some, but each time I was forced to go over the same suffering. I had taken the Vegetable Compound in 1910 after my twins were born and it had helped me so I decided to try it again. I became better and gained in strength. I have taken it for about three years now, but not steadily. I am able to do my housework, but I avoid all heavy lifting, and washing and ironing, as I know I am not strong enough yet. I give the Vegetable Compound to my daughters and recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. LOUISA B. BRAND, 450 Fairfax Street, Carlyle, Illinois.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 220,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 reported they had been benefited by its use.

"ALL-BLACKS" TO TOUR CANADA

THE world-famous "All-Blacks" Rugby Team of New Zealand will tour Canada shortly, having made arrangements to sail from Liverpool on January 24th, aboard the Canadian Pacific Steamship "Montlaurier." The team will visit Toronto, Niagara Falls, the Canadian Pacific Experimental Farm at Strathmore, Banff, Vancouver and Victoria. They will play in these last two cities. The photograph above was taken when they played Ireland during their sensational tour of the British Isles and France, in which they never lost a match, and gives an excellent idea of their fine team-work.

BAILEY FINED $200 ; TO PAY THE COST TOO

Magistrate Believes Alibi Was Not Sufficient For Acquittal

REVIEWS EVIDENCE

Defense Counsel Maintains Analysis Was Not Quite Fair

Charles W. Bailey of Point Anne, was found guilty on a charge of keeping liquor for sale at his home, and was fined $200 and costs in police court today by Magistrate Masson, who had reserved judgment yesterday until today.

Argument of counsel and delivery of judgment occupied almost the whole of the morning.

"I believe that defendant has made up a story to save himself," said the Magistrate in commenting on the case. "Made up by himself with members of his family."

Though defense witnesses were more than four to one in number, it was felt that they all resolved into one, as they were all one class, of one family or relatives.

The evidence of the daughters of the accused discredited the defense evidence in his opinion. The two girls testified that they had not discussed the case in any way, but admitted that they had been told by their father to come to court and tell what they knew about the case.

"It does not seem probable that the father would say to them come to court, without telling them what to say," opined the bench.

They may have been to the Barnhardt home, or they may not.

The defense story did not throw any reasonable doubt upon the evidence of the Crown, said the magistrate, which showed that they had liquor, and that they had it for sale.

The fact that one ten gallon keg of the wine was secured in the name of another was an act of secrecy. Why did accused not get the wine in his own name and divide it with the other man, the Magistrate reasoned.

Suspicious circumstances surrounded the crock of brew which stood on the stairway. No one in the household knew of its existence, though all admitted passing it every time they went upstairs. They must have known it was there and the purpose of the wife in brewing liquor for the family.

Reliable Witness

Outlining the evidence of sale as submitted by Crown witnesses, Magistrate Masson told how the local youth had given a description of the Point Anne house where he purchased an Imperial quart of wine for $1.50. He had been there once before. He described why he had gone to Point Ann—to attend a dance—where the wine was procured by Bailey in the house. He then told of drinking some of the wine with his companion, becoming intoxicated and sick.

His companion corroborated the evidence.

As to the veracity of this witnesses' evidence, it was worthy of belief. The fact that this witness had been with a man who sold liquor last June during the demonstration, and was fined in court for so doing, was not a reason for not now believing his evidence.

The evidence of the government analysis of fthe wine made at Toronto was accepted, though defense counsel O. A. Payne fought hard to discredit it.

When fixing the penalty, Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan asked for a penalty in exces of the minimum, because of the nature of the case and the defense evidence, but owing to the accused being a laboring man with a large family, the bench imposed the minimum.

Wrong Statement

One incident temporarily startled the court when Mr. Payne in argument showed that the analysis certificate entered as an exhibit at the trial yeserday, was a certificate for an analysis made on December 29th, nine days before the seizure was made at Bailey's home. Inspector F. Naphan quickly corrected his error however by finding and introducing the correct statement which had accidently slipped from the folder when he was taking it from his grip yesterday.

Mr. Payne did not feel that Bailey had ordered wine to excess. In six weeks he had ordered 25 gallons, five of which he still has three of which the Inspector seized, and five of which were delivered to John Bell. That left 13 gallons to be consumed by a family of eight in six weeks, all of whom drank the wine.

Speaking of the alleged sale, he discredited the evidence of fthe youth named seven witness who established the alibi that on January 6th. Bailey his wife and two daughters were at a party at Isaac Barnhardt's when the sale was alleged to have been been made.

Cliams Analysis Unfair

He described the analysis as being unfair, the wine being left in the cell room at police headquarters unprotected fro m12 o'clock noon until 4.30 p.m., before the sample was drawn off by Inspector Naphan for the analysis. Though the sample was sealed and personally taken to Toronto by the Inspector who handed it to F. E. Elliott, senior officer for prosecution under the O.T.A. there was no evidence as to what happened to the bottle or contents from that time until Inspector Naphan received it back that afternoon from Elliott with the certificate of analysis.

Crown Attorney Donnan felt that there was definite proof of sale and that even the fact that Bailey secured wine in Bell's name was a clandestine transaction, with an inference that the recipient bought the wine for re-sale.

He believed that the analysis was perfectl- regular and in compliance with requirements in accordance with the act.

The fact that Bailey had spent $65 on wine in six weeks in relation to his apparent financial condition, was strong evidence that it was being kept for sale by him.

Youth Charged With Burglary

Nineteen-Year-Old Chap Remanded Week on $1,000 Ball

William Laney, aged 19, appeared in police court this morning, charged with breaking and entering the J. Wilson Company plant here in June last on June 24th, 1924, and stealing therefrom old brass valued at more than $50.

Laney is also charged with the theft of new copper from the New Albert College, the property of H. Pine, and valued at more than $20. This theft is alleged to have occurred on June 24th also.

Accused was remanded for one week bail being set at $1,000.

Russel Babcock, an alleged confederate in the first mentioned crime, also appeared in court this morning, and was also remanded for one week.

Belleville Case Causes Amusement

Lawyer Was Too Early; Argument Over Blacksmith's Work

Toronto, Jan. 15.—The City Hall clock was striking eleven as Mr. Justice Logie concluded his list in Weekly Court and declared "That's all." The bell was still ringing out the hour a moment later as H. S. White, K. C., appeared on an injunction motion.

"You nearly lost your deposit," said Mr. Justice Logie, "though you are on the stroke of the town bell."

"That case does not come up till tomorrow," declared Registrar Hinds.

"The Registrar tells me that instead of being late I am 24 hours early,' Mr. White informed the court.

"Just as bad to be too early as too late,' 'remarked the judge.

Mr. White explained that his principal had advised him that the case was returnable to-day.

It was a case in which an old blacksmith had sold his shop at Belleville, and had undertaken not to practice the art of horseshoeing within five miles of his old chip. He had been at it so long, however, that he was accustomed to hang about his son's forge, and once or twice when his son was away he took a hammer in his hand in case of emergency.

AMATEUR BURGLAR ADMITS HIS FAILURE

Hamilton, Jan. 15.—As a "boigler," William Martin is a failure. He admitted it in Police Court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to entering the homes of two prominent citizens, James Crooks, 50 West Avenue South, and Col. William Butler, Main Street East.

At the residence of Mr. Crooks, Martin stole a case, which he mistook for something else. It turned out to be table water.

At Col. Butler's residence, Martin seized a large sheaf of bills. These, alas were Confederate money, issued when the great martyr was President. Col Butler came by them when he served in the American Civil War.

Martin was remanded for one week.

FAIR ARRANGEMENTS ARE UP TO-MORROW

CHILDREN OF SCHOOLS WILL HELP OUT TOO

Old Boys' Re-Union Committee Enlist Aid to Obtain Names

DESIRE GREAT LIST

Lodges and Other Societies, Newspapers and Theatres to Help

The help of all the school children in the City of Belleville is to be enlisted by the Old Boys' Re-union committee in a sweeping effort to get thousand of names of former residents, friends and relatives of Belleville and Hastings who are to be invited to the big celebration from August 1 to 5 inclusive.

At a well attended meeting of the executive committee last night in His Honor, Judge Wills' chambers, it was reported that principals of schools were willing to co-operate and it was felt that this plan would ensure the receipt of a great many names.

Not content with this alone, the committee decided to do considerable advertising in newspapers, at theatres and through lodges and societies of every kind.

People of Belleville and the vicinity will be properly impressed with the imperative need of giving as many names and addresses as possible to the committee. All are to be received by J. A. Kerr, at the Court House.

While expenses are being kept down to the minimum, something is needed to carry on the preliminary work and the committee planned to visit the committee of the City Council to-night to ask for an advance of $500.

All present agreed that above all else the big event should be made to pay its own way.

His Honor Judge Wills presided and faced a good representation of the committee members.

Niagara River Now Presents Problem

Calls For Team Work Between Countries For its Preservation

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Washington, Jan. 15.—Niagara River, lying between two friendly nations, presents the question of joint ownership and control and the necessity for team work for preservation and further utilization, says a report by Samuel S. Wyer, associate in Mineal technology of the United States National Museum. The report was made public to-day by the Smithsonian institute, Power problems and water diversion from the great lakes as proposed in drainage projects, particularly that at Chicago for sewage disposal and deeper waterway to the gulf are discussed in the report. In regard to the Chicago problem, it suggests "complete sewage treatment" which it estimates would cost $157,000,000. As to plans for any further diversion at Niagara Falls, the report says that those must cope with a "sentimental situation" surrounding the beauties of the falls concerning proposed additional canals between lakes Erie and Ontario. The position is taken that the Welland canal, wholly under Canadian control but available to both Canadian and United States vessels on equal terms can handle all traffic.

Britain Interested in Balancing Her Debt to States

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 15—Winston Churchill's accomplishments at Paris in connection with the inter-allied debt question are understood to be of much greater importance than public is aware of. Mr. Churchill attended a Cabinet meeting this morning, and presented a detailed report of his work at Paris dealing particularly with inter-allied debt matter. The British Government, it is stated in official quarters, has no fixed policy regarding allied debts but the cabinet is considering the question of policy, and probably will be able to make a formal announcement shortly. Cabinet is expected however, to adhere to the main point stated in several notes that Great Britain is vitally interested only in payments by her debtors of amounts sufficient to balance her debt to the United States.

Meet In Protest Of Water Diversion

Represntatives of Scores of Cities at Conference Pass Resolution

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Cleveland, Jan. 15.—Representatives of scores of cities on United States and Canadian shores of the Great Lakes met here to-day to protest against proposed legislation intended to legalize the diversion of lake water at Chicago. Those attending the meeting include Mayors, City council members and representatives of commercial bodies, shipping and industrial interests. The Conference ends Friday when a vigorous protest against Chicago's diversion of water will be offered by resolutions of the committee and adopted by the conference.

Addressing the morning meeting, Mr. Bruce said the Chicago Sanitation scheme with its diversion of water is not only illegal but, constitutes the most gigantic blunder of modern times.

Very Encouraging Reports Heard By Directors Last Night

AN ACTIVE MONTH

Association Holds Interest In Varied Scheme Of Work

An enthusiastic meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. was held last night, when reports presented threw light on the happy activities of the Association. President G. T. Cole presided.

A pleasing event of the meeting was the reception of the gift of $1,000 for Endowment Funds from the Gamma Kappa. The secretary was instructed to acknowledge the gift.

Other gifts for the Endowment Fund during the past three years have been: $500 from Mrs. M. Lazier; $500 from D. V. Sinclair, and $300 from the Ladies Auxiliary.

This made a total of $2.300 and the Board felt that special efforts should be made to increase this to $35,000.

It was reported further to the Board by the General Secretary that the fourteenth open house this year brought together 193 from the Young People's Societies of the city for an inspirational and social evening.

The sum of $282 was pledged by members of the Association for foreign work. And as the amount last year was $247, congratulations were in order for P. C. MacLaurin, chairman of that department.

Reference was made to the finance workers banquet and the good spirit in evidence and to the happy bowling banquet held.

The Y's Men Club was in full swing and had been fortunate in securing Mr. H. G. Pope, Moncton, N.B., who introduced the club to Canada.

Employed Boys' Brotherhood

The regular meetings of the Employed Boys' Brotherhood were held on the 8th and 22nd of the month. The meeting of the 8th was well attended and those present were privileged to listen to the report of the delegates Messrs. Woodley, Herity and Harden all contributed an excellent report of that convention and all were unanimous in the opinion that this particular gathering was a decidedly worth while conference.

The meeting of the 22nd although held on the regular meeting night, was not as well attended as usual and due to the fact that the majority of those present had returned to their respective places of business following a brief supper hour the meeting was brief in nature. Before adjournment, however, plans were laid for a group social in the way of some kind of out-of-door activity if at all possible.

Gymnasium Classes

Gymnasium classes for the month do not show quite as high average attendance at regular sessions as during the previous month but this is largely due to the fact that the ordinary out-of-door winter activities are showing their usual impress on the indoor activities. During the holiday period the facilities of the physical department were open to the use of the Boys' Division practically at all times during the day.

Special Activities

During the holiday period at Christmas and New Years a special schedule of activities was carried out which consisted of game tournaments on the gymnasium and in the recreation rooms of the Boys' Department, swimming and diving contests in the swimming tank and out-door hikes. With the exception of one senior boys' hike which, due to inclement weather conditions, was withdrawn, all holiday features were favored with marked interest and enthusiasm on the part of the Boys' Membership.

Extension or Community

During the first half of the month the regular scheduled fixtures of the Sunday School Basket Ball league were played under the combined supervision of the Physical and Boys' Division, opening the facilities to a considerable group outside the membership.

THE TOURIST INDUSTRY

A special Ottawa dispatch to the Financial Post (Toronto) carries the interesting information that while Americans are reaping an estimated profit of $125,000,000 from their Canadian investments, the American tourist traffic is worth about $150,000,000 a year to our country. This is a very gratifying condition of affairs and obviously the thing for Canada to do is to increase this tourist business as much as possible. We need American capital for Canadian development, but the more profit that we can bring back to this country, in the shape of tourist or other expenditures, the better.

There are certain factors that must be taken into consideration in our plans for increasing the popularity of the Dominion with American visitors. One of them is that of easy admission at our borders. We must have a minimum of red tape, the removal of every unnecessary bar to the free coming and going of visitors. More important still at such a cross-over point as we have here, is the question of transportation. Thousands of tourists are using the Border Cities-Detroit ferries every year, but it is safe to say that the number would be greatly increased were a bridge available. Forgetting entirely the way it would speed up and assist traffic, think of the advertising value of such a structure and of the thousands who would drive even great distances out of their way in order to use it.

Another important factor in the attraction of tourist business is that of driving regulations. In the United States an effort is being made to secure uniform motor laws to apply in the various states. Up to now these laws have presented a variety so great as to cause confusion, a great deal of unpleasantness and many expensive delays. It is hoped to secure a set of regulations that will be acceptable to all the states, and put them into effect everywhere at once. Here is a suggestion for Canada. Is there any good reason why this country should not adopt the same set of regulations that will be chosen for the States. If we are to attract American tourists in greater numbers, such an act—the use of the standard American road regulations—would be of great assistance to us. The motorists of the United States could be informed of the change and many of them who now hesitate to come because of their ignorance of local ordinances on this side of the border, would feel entirely free to drive their cars across, knowing that it would not be necessary for them to acquaint themselves with a new set of laws, different from their own and changing in the various provinces. Driving conditions in the States and Canada are approximately the same. A good road regulation there should be a good road regulation here. Is there any sound reason why we should not have uniformity between the two countries on this question?

Too many of us have not appreciated the importance of the American tourist business. It is really only in its infancy but already it has developed gigantic proportions as the estimate carried above shows. It must be clear to all, then, that Canadians should use every legitimate effort to increase this form of revenue. Making it easy for Americans to come in, treating them well while they are here, and generously advertising our country and its advantages—motoring and otherwise—throughout the United States, will do the trick.

There is much ground for encouragement in the announcement of Essex Automobile Club that tourist traffic into Canada will be doubled this year. It is only natural that Essex should be an attraction to motorists from the States and other parts of our own country. There is everything here to please the tourist—good roads, excellent climate, lovely scenery and high-class accommodation. The visits of these thousands of holiday makers are inspirations to prosperity. The family which starts out on a motor tour goes for a good time. It is prepared to spend a reasonable amount of money along the way, and the districts which hold out the strongest invitations get the bulk of the patronage. The result is greater prosperity for the whole community. Much of the credit for the influx of tourists through this port is due the Auto Club. The club, with its literature, its information bureau and its courteous treatment of strangers, has done much to popularize the local route.

"MADE-IN-CANADA"

The leading editorial in a recent issue of a popular national United States weekly dealt with the subject of Imperial preference in the British dominions and intimated that Canada will no doubt be satisfied to have American capital build factories in Canada and export Canadian made merchandise, made with Canadian labor in Canadian factories.

Canada would, it is true, be quite satisfied with this but the great objection in Canada is to giving imperial preference to products that are merely assembled in Canada after being manufactured in the United States. And that is, unfortunately, only too often the case.

When the McKenna duties in England required that at least a specified percentage of the manufacture must be Canadian, the automotive industry in this country got its greatest boost and to obtain imperial preference any article should be at least 66 per cent. manufactured in one of the British dominions.

KEEP THE FEED IN THE COUNTRY

It is greatly to be hoped that the improved price of wheat won't cause Canada too severe a loss of its grain. port trade in cattle depends upon our retaining enough mill offal in the country to keep as many steers and young cattle as possible up to a fair condition.

Russia is reported to be in the markets for very large amounts of flour and turns, naturally enough, to Great Britain as the centre of the Empire for supplies.

But there is no reason why Britain our shipping and financial centre, should also become the sole exporting source of the Empire's flour. Canada's flour mills are not as greatly overworked that they could not grind a large portion of this and other flour which will be contracted for England, during the existing wheat shortage.

By grinding our wheat in Canada and shipping flour, the finished product, we may retain for our stockmen the bran and shorts they require for feed, and thus we also may retain at least a part of fthe nitrogenous production of our soil, which will be returned to it for its refertilization.

ASKING TOO MUCH

London Daily News:

At the present moment we are alone among the European Allies in the repayment of debt. We are paying in full to the United States the debt which was incurred on behalf of our Allies: paying it at the rate of £40,000,000 a year and at a heavy cost to our taxpayers through what may appear to them a vista of interminable years. Not one of our Allies is paying us on our gigantic loans, to them a penny either of interest of principal. What will be said, not only by our taxpayers, but also by Britons in general, if in these circumstances France enters into an agreement to fund, not her debt to us but her debt to her wealthiest creditor, and on terms conspicuously more compassionate than those vouchsafed to Great Britain? We should be a nation of angels if we did not look a little blue and mutter a sullen protest, or if we permitted any British Government to swallow the insult with bland indifference.

SAD TIME IN CHURCH LIFE

Toronto Telegram:

December, 1924—January, 1925, will be long remembered as a time of sad separations. These separations are mainly the effects of far from ignoble causes. The Presbyterian leadership of the Church Union movement seems destined to leave two or three hundred pastors without pulpits and two or three hundred more pastors encompassed with the difficulties of a ministry to sorely divided congregations.

Congregations have voted to support or oppose the wishes of pastors who were honored as faithful ministers should be honored. These ministers have given up the best years of their lives to the upbuilding of congregations in whose service these pastors might have gone on through long years of activity to the autumn and winter of an honored and comfortable retirement.

GET DOWN TO BUSINESS

Peterboro Examiner:

Both the Dominion Parliament and the Ontario Legislature are to be convened shortly, and to citizens who realize the many important problems that should engage the attention of such bodies, it is disconcerting to read that one of the principal matters to occupy the Federal House will be the reform of the Senate, while the Queen's Park legislators are to devote much of their time to the Ontario Temperance Act.

Surely there are other problems of much more vital importance that might be taken up by the two bodies.

To-day's Smile

The prisoner had been convicted a dozen times before.

"Your honor," he said, "I should like to have my case postponed for a week. My lawyer is ill."

"But you were captured with your hand in this man's pocket. What can your counsel say in your defence?"

"Precisely so, your honor. That is what I am anxious to know."

Thirty Years Ago

The Napanee "Express" says that coasting is the popular amusement in that town but it has its drawbacks.

Capt. Vanalstine of the Iona, who has been rebuilding the docks at Trenton for A. W. Hepburn, has completed the work.

Mr. Jas. Post, who resides at Oak Lake settlement near Peterboro, states that on December 24, in that locality he tapped a number of maple trees and gathered four pails of sap, and on Christmas Day made a quantity of maple syrup. This is evidence of the fine weather which prevailed during the last month of the year.

To Belleville team and the Ontarios will play a game of hockey in Belleville shortly. The date has not been arranged yet.

Trenton has been challenged by the Y.M.C.A. team of this city and will likely give our boys a game.

Mrs. Dr. Boyce and daughter arrived in the city this evening. For the present they are stopping at the Huffman House.

Stock Company Supercedes Small Business

In a very interesting, clear and comprehensive address, delivered to the members of the business training course of the chamber of commerce, in the technical school auditorium, at Hamilton, J. M. Miller, general manager, Lever Brothers, Toronto, outlined the management angle in the organization of a business. The address was one of three on business organization, of which special stenographic reports were taken and which, it was announced last night, would be printed in pamphlet form.

J. M. Miller, in his opening remarks, said the aim of every business man was to make a success of his venture. Monetary success was not the only aim of the business man. Real success was in improving organization and becoming of use to the community.

The old days when an employer worked next to his workman, and when he staked his all in a business, were gone. The day of the point stock company was here, but the business succeeded best when the executive had a stake in it. The time was rapidly approaching when commerce, manufacturing and finance would be recognized as professions.

It was bad policy to choose the president for the stock he put in the company, without knowledge of the business. The officials should be chosen with great care. A business was a system, the members of which werked together for the commond end. The speaker stressed the word "together."

Company's Officers

The president occupied the most important post in the business, but far from being a figurehead, was the man on whom success depended as it was his duty to decide the policy of the organization.

The vice-president was often connected with the sales organization. The secretary, who was often the treasurer was connected with the banking arrangement. The bank however, liked to meet the president.

Turning to the department of a business, Mr. Miller stressed the importance of the cost department and the sales department.

Sales Department

The sales manager should keep statistics of the possible sales and homes or firm that could be sold, and compare the actual results with the possibilities of the teritory, the speaker continued The salesman who did not make good should be taken care of in some other way before he was allowed to go to a competitor. There was only one road to the sales manager's position. That was through the school of hard knocks on the road. The sales manager had to discriminate between the different varieties of salesmen and aim to employ only the booster and the business getter.

The day of small opportunity lay in the past. The day of great opportunity was now and in the future. The advertising department should work with the sales department. Often it was under the latter's control. There were many classes of advertisements, so the advertising manager had to have a thorough knowledge of the advertising.

The office manager and the credit man were often combined. He was the man who could make or break a firm's customers easier than any other man. He had to handle customers right and with tact. Good will was a delicate plant that was very susceptible to frost.

Budget System

In some business the buying price was more important than the selling price. The purchasing agent had to keep a careful watch on raw materials. He should be able to have access to the president or the general manager at all times.

The production department of the factory was a vital factor. The works manager had to get the most out of men employed. He must watch for losses from escape of power or fuel. Some works managers spent too much time on scrutinizing the payroll and too little on watching for escapes of power. The budget system gave the directors the best insight they could have into the business, and kept all departments on their toes.

Time-keepers had been superseded by employment managers. There was a tendency to closer personal relationships between the directors and the employees. This was done through clubs, etc. Suggestion boxes and house organs were other developments of this trend.

Vision Needed

The reason why the great industrialist had been successful was that he saw what other men saw but saw it differently. Other men saw Africa as the dark continent. Lord Leverhulme saw it as an opportunity for business. Bell invented the telephone and the first exchange had been established in Hamilton, but Vail saw the vision of a telephone in every farm house.

Lord Leverhulme had started his soap business with only £200. The firm had been a failure before he took it over, but he eliminated all profitless lines and concentrated on one that made a profit. Too many useless lines are carried by many manufacturers.

A man could not take out of a business more than he put into it. Courage, confidence and co-operation were needed. As Kipling had said, "The Strength of the pack was the wolf, and the strength of the wolf was the pack."

Mr. Miller then related the rise of the business of Lever Bros., from the time Lord Leverhulme commenced at the age of 35 to build it up, until to-day, when he was 73 years old, the firm had a capitalization of six hundred million dollars and its ramifications extended to every continent.

Thos. M Campbe'l Died Suddenly

Was Former President of Bay of Quinte Conference

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Jan. 14.—Rev. Thomas M. Campbell, superannuated Methodist minister was found dead in bed at his home, 210 Indian Road, Tuesday morning. Mr. Campbell was 85 years of age. He retired in his usual health and advanced age vigor on Monday evening. Heart failure ensued during the night.

Mr. Campbell was well known throughout Ontario, where he had charge at various times of many Methodist circuits. He was born in Hawkesbury, Ont., moved later with his parents to Dundas, where he received his early education, graduating later from Victoria Colegel. He first entered the ministry in 1866, being ordained by the late Rev. Dr. Morley Punshon four years later. He ministered at Colbourne, Ridgeway, Dunnville, Merritton, Windsor, Sarnia, Goderich, Owen Sound, St. Mary's Lindsay, Picton, Campbellford, Trenton and other Ontario points. In 1903 he was superannuated and moved to Toronto to reside. He was President of the Bay of Quinte Conference in 1896-97 During his residence in Toronto he lived an active life preaching frequently and vigorously in various city pulpits.

Mrs. Campbell survives, with the following daughters and sons— Mrs. W. H. Graham, Mrs. George Blackwell and Miss Edith Campbell, all of Toronto; Mrs. George Honey, Newcastle, Ont.; Morley Campbell, of Toronto, and A. M. Campbell, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Deaths And Funerals

WILLIAM NOYES

Madoc and vicinity were deeply grieved over the death of a well-known and much loved resident William Noyes, Sr., on Dec. 27, 1924. Deceased was born in Hearsborn, England, 1850 He came to Canada with his bride in 1874, landing at Blaiston, Ont., where they lived for two years, Mr. Noyes working in the mine. They afterward resided in West Huntington, Crookston and Madoc village, Mr. Noyes being their section foreman. Finally he purchased what was known as the old Ferguson Farm on the south shore of Moira Lake, which he operated succesfully for many years. Seven children were born to them, six of whom are living. His wife predeceased him ten years ago, and since that time he has made his home with his son Robert, who had purchased the farm since the mother's death.

The late Mr. Noyes was for forty-three years member of the I.O.O.F. of Madoc. He was also a prominent member and official of White Lake Methodist church. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harrison Poole, Innis. Sask., and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, of Dryden Ont., Four sons, Robert at home, Thomas of Stoughton, Sask., George of Point Anne, Ont., and William Jr., of Carthage, New York.

HAROLD FRANKLIN SIMMONS

The funeral of the late Harold Franklin Simmons took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his father, George N. Simmons, 15 Highland Ave., at two o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. F. W. Malott, Bridge street Church. Many flowers were received. The pall bearers were:—Roy Stafford, D. Waters, Dr. G. Morton, Roy Hadley, George Spencer and Harold Lowry. Interment was held at Frankford Cemetery.

OFFICERS INSTALLED AT EUREKA LODGE

The installation of the officers of Eureka Lodge A.F.&A.M. of this city was held last evening in the Masonic Temple.

The installing officer was Rt. Wor. Bro. Col. S. S. Lazier who was assisted by Rt. Wor. Bros., F. E. O'Flynn, F. Davey Diamond, C. J. Symons, Ver. Wor. Bros. F. McCrudden, J. O. Herity and Wor. Bro. L. E. Walmsley.

Rt. Wor. Bro. Col. Lazier is now the only living Charter member of the Lodge, and he showed by the excellent manner in which he conducted the ceremony that he had lost none of his old time vitality or enthusiasm.

The following is a list of the officers installed:

W. Bro. W. B. Doolittle, Wor. Master; W. Bro. H. A. Thompson, 1st Past Master; Bro. R. D. Adams, Senior Warden; Bro. A. L. Burke, Junior Warden; Bro. Dr. E. N. Baker, Chaplain; Bro. Rev. G. Marshall, Assistant Chaplain; Wor. Bro. H. W. Ackerman, Treasurer; Bro. W. Jeffers Diamond, Secretary; Bro. F. W. D. Wiggins, Senior Deacon; Bro. E. H. Liddle, Junior Deacon; W. Bro. Dr. M. A. Day, Organist; V. W. Bro. R. McCrudden, Director of Ceremonies; Bro. F. R. Wotten, Inner Guard; Bro. Howard Aselstine, Senior Steward; Bro. Newton Thompson, Junior Steward; Bro. H. G. Thompson, Tyler; R. W. Bro. F. Davey Diamond, Bro. W. B. Deacon, Auditors; W. Bro. C. N. Sulman, Trustee on Masonic Property; Bros. Clifford Andrews, Stanley D. Hagerman and Geo. Saunders, Assistant Stewards.

After the ceremony Wor. Bro. L. E. Walmsley, assisted by Ver. Wor. Bro. McCrudden, on behalf of the Lodge presented the retiring Master Wor. Bro. Harry A. Thompson with a Past Master's apron, which was suitably acknowledged by the recipient.

The banquet following the Lodge was presided over by Wor. Bro. Harry A. Thompson. The usual toasts consisting of one to the Installation Officer. The Visiting Brethren and the newly Installed officers filled in a most pleasing evening. A solo by Bro A. E. Baldwin and selections by the Eureka Orchestra added much to the banquet.

Thurlow Team Put Up Battle

Corbyville Won Interesting Fixture by Score of 5 to 3

Last night's big hockey game at the arena here between teams representing Thurlow Township's two greatest industries, decided one important matter and that is how to keep up attendance at hockey games.

It was advertised that no admission fee would be charged, and that everybody was welcome to come and see the big Point Anne-Corbyville battle. The rink was well filled to see Corbyville win by 5-3.

The fans remained until the finish too, for the boys made it so interesting that even Jack Frost was unable to butt in with all his glory and snap.

Point Anne presented a heavier team than their opponents, both squads using plenty of subs, though the pace set on the keen ice was not killing. Point Anne evidently unaware of the new body checking rule, spilled the opposition time and again, breaking up pretty rushes and slowing the game. The boys from the "little red mill" were speedier, two of the junior O.H.A. boys, Matthews and Canning playing with them on the forward line.

Evidently not too well acquainted with the tricks of steel blades on keen ice, a few of the players supplied some humorous falls and spills for the fans.

The game was clean and the boys worked hard all the way.

MONTREAL TEAMS TIED ONCE MORE

Montreal, Jan. 15.—Canadiens and Montreal, for the second time this season battled 20 minutes overtime to a 1-1 draw. Playing at the Forum last night before a crowd of 10,500 spectators the teams were unable to break their previous deadlock.

It was a much more open game than the one previous with both teams attacking throughout and both goals continually in danger until the final minute of the overtime period.

Canadiens were much improved over their recent games, but still lacked their customary dash. Coutu and Morenz carring the team in front of smart goaling by Vezina. Morenz was brilliant being the outstanding player on the ice

Twenty-five penalties were the aggregate for the contest of which Canadien got the two majors, Sprague Cleghorn and Billy Boulcher being chased for deliberate chopping with sticks.

Montreal played cleverly, but lacked the speed to carry them by the strong Canadiens' defence.

Ban Johnson Urges President To Act

(Canadian Press Despatch)

New York, Jan. 15.—Into discussions of the Diamond Game yesterday came a petition headed by a letter with the name of B. B. Johnson, President of the American league attached, which urges congress to take charge of the American National game, license managers, players and umpires and pay union salaries. The paper circulated here is believed to have come from Cleveland as President Johnson's letter was addressed to Joseph A. Collier of that city. The petition calls for a commission of "Thre honest men", appointed by the president of the United States to administer law but not to administer the game. Jail penalties and fines are suggested for any violation of the law. The letter signed by Johnson reads. "Your position relative to regulation of our national game is correct, it is my firm conviction that we can only secure adequate and satisfactory results through the medium of a commission created by government."

Hair Becomes Glowing and Abundant Unnatural Losses Stopped

It is a simple matter to keep the hair you have IF YOU DO NOT NEGLECT IT. Neglected hair is soon attacked by dandruff and dandruff soon causes baldness. The Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment is a new and entirely different hair preparation. Its one object is to save hair—and it does it.

Dandruff and the germ of baldness simply cannot exist on the scalp treated with our complete treatment. And the best part of this Complete Treatment is, you don't have to soak your hair every night with a strong smelling solution, but just rub a little of the Hair Fertilizer into the hair roots now and then and apply some of the Hair Grower whenever needed. Of course the Shampoo is to keep the hair clean and is only used once in two weeks. An inexpensive and thoroughly effective treatment. There is nothing like Seven Sutherland Sisters' Complete Treatment. Try it $1.60

That Hollanders who have located in Alberta are making good and are satisfied is the statement of Baron W. Van Heeckeren, of Rotterdam, after a recent tour of investigation.

The forming of a mining bureau as a branch of its activities is announced by the Winnipeg Board of Trade. The bureau is to collect data on the mining situation in the province and will do everything possible to foster greater mineral production in Manitoba.

Tourist traffic in Canada this year is likely to constitute a new record, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Parks. No estimate has been compiled as yet but the figures for 1923, which were carefully estimated at $136,000,000, indicate the value of this traffic to the Dominion.

Up to the end of October, 1924, more than 1,000 circulating libraries were in operation in Saskatchewan, as compared with about 800 at the same time in 1923. The average number of families reading each book is 17. More than half a million volumes were circulated by these libraries during the year.

A huge wooden, tar-paper lined shell erected over the space provided for the structure and heated by thousands of feet of steam coils connected with 380-horse power boilers, which provide a summer-like atmosphere for the carrying on of construction, is an interesting and novel feature of the arrangements made to combat the difficulty of building the new wing of the Chateau Lake Louise, the Canadian Pacific Railway's famous Rocky Mountain hotel, under winter conditions. Thanks to this innovation, the wing, despite frequent drops in temperature to far below zero, is progressing excellently and the company expects it to be ready for next summer's tourist season.

Sweeping changes in the Canadian Pacific Railway's service of great benefit to the communities concerned are scheduled for January 11. They include revision of the timetable of the Vancouver express (Toronto-Vancouver), to reach Fort William and Port Arthur between 10 and 11 p.m., instead of 2 and 3 a.m., and Winnipeg at 10 a.m., instead of 2.30 p.m., as heretofore. The new times are more convenient to the Twin Cities than the old and a half-day is gained for business in Winnipeg. Regina is to be reached by the same train at 11 p.m. instead of 1.20 a.m., and Moose Jaw at midnight instead of 2.45 a.m., Regina-Saskatoon connections being thus radically improved, while arrival at Calgary at 4 p.m. enables Edmonton to be reached that evening. Vancouver is reached at 7 p.m. instead of 9.30 p.m. as previously. The Toronto Express (Vancouver-Toronto) reaches Winnipeg more conveniently, while arrival at Toronto at 8.40 a.m. will make possible connections with early morning trains for Ontario points and with day trains for American cities, thus saving more time. Gains on other trains between Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Chicago and Winnipeg are also scheduled. These arrangements follow the cancellation of the recently inaugurated train between Winnipeg, Montreal and Toronto, which is to come off January 10.

Trenton Lead All The Way To 7-4

Belleville Juniors Slightly Outclassed by Speedy Crew

Belleville junior O.H.A. six went down to defeat at Trenton last night in a regular fixture, by the score of 7-4, Trenton leading the argument all the way. The period scores were 3-1, 5-3.

Ross Burt presents a strong squad of well trained boys this season as the Belleville edition will agree, and though Thomas' boys stepped lively for the full sixty, they were slightly outclassed by the Trentonians, who were very much at home on their own ice, amid the plaudits of a large and peppery following of fans.

The game was fast and exceptionally clean. The line-ups:

Belleville—Goal, Jeffries; defence, Green and Strachan; centre, Hibbard wings, Townsend and Gaulin; subs, Rourke and Canning.

Trenton—Goal, Lewis; defence, Bowen and Allore; centre, Bernard; wings Lamore and Parry; subs. Anderson, Bohan and Rosenplot.

Referee—Burns, Picton.

Judgement On Sidewalk Case

The Appellate Division Finding is Given in Full

COKERS VS. CITY

Civic By-Law Important Factor in Decision Made

The following is the judgment of the Appellate Division on the appeal of Mrs. Cokers against the decision of Mr. Justice Adre last spring on the action against the City of Belleville for damages received in a fall on an icy sidewalk. R. D. Ponton appeared for the appelant and J. R. Cartwright for the respondents.

Action tried before Orde J. A. for injuries received by the plaintiff from falling on an icy sidewalk in the city of Belleville. The learned trial Judge dismissed the action. His reasons are in part as follows:

"Are the circumstances such as to fasten upon the defendants the gross negligence without which, by reason of the provisions of subsection 3 of 460 of the municipal act (R. S. O. 1914, Ch. 192) they cannot be liable?

"Now the burden of establishing that the circumstances were such as to require the defendants to protect pedestrians from the danger of falling upon the icy pavements by sanding or harrowing the ice and that the failure to perform their duty in that regard, of any such duty [illegible] them, amounted to gross negligence, rests upon the plaintiff.

"I cannot see how cases like City of Vancouver vs. Cummings (1922) 46 Can. S C R 457 Jamieson vs City of Edmonton. (1916) 54 Can S. C. R. 443 and Sandlows vs Township of Brant, (1921) 49 O. L. R. 142, can apply when subsection 3 of section 460 comes into play. No evidence was adduced as to the population of Belleville or as to the number of people usually using the northern part of Catherine street where the accident happened or as to the total mileage of the city sidewalks (it was stated in argument to be 33 miles) or as to the financial ability of the defendants to carry out, under the weather conditions then prevailing, any comprehensive system of sanding or harrowing all the city sidewalks, or as to any previous practice in that respect, beyond the fact that the steep hill on Catharine street has been sanded and that it was customary to sand the hills. I am asked to find that the defendants were guilty of gross negligence merely because of the knowledge which they must have had for a few days prior to the accident of the fact, not that this particular spot was more dangerous than the other, but that all the sidewalks of the city were in a dangerous condition.

"Subsection 3 of sec. 460 was intended to afford some greater protection to municipalities against liabilities for injuries caused by the rigors of our winter climate that had therefore existed. Even assuming that without the Statute the defendants could be deemed to have been negligent merely because they took no steps during the period of four or five days to sand or harrow all the sidewalks of Belleville, I cannot without further evidence of the nature already indicated, find that they were guilty of gross negligence."

Subsection 3 of Sec. 460 is as follows:—"Except in case of gross negligence, the corporation shall not be liable for personal injury caused by snow or ice on the sidewalk."

Section 399 S.S. 61 confers power on municipalities to require "The occupants of buildings adjoining the highway to clear away and remove the snow and ice, the sidewalks adjoining their premises and for regulating the times when and the manner in which the same shall be done."

Section 500 enables the council where default is made, by those mentioned in section 399 S. 61 to do the act at their expense which they may recover by action or as taxes are recovered.

The by-law (1126) passed in 1903 by the city council of Belleville required the owners or occupants of premises to remove the snow and ice from the street adjoining their premises before 10 each morning or in case of a continuing storm, then once in each twenty four hours." It also provided that when [illegible] would [illegible] for the strewing of ashes so as to render the sidewalks as free as possible from danger to pedestrians."

This last provision is not authorized by Sec. 399 S. 61. It was further provided that in a case of persons who, "for twenty-four hours neglect" to clean the sidewalks adjoining, the ice etc may be removed by the corporation, but no such provision is made for default to strew ashes and etc.

A penalty of from five dollars to fifty dollars for each neglect to clean is imposed, and in default of payment imprisonment, but no penalty is provided in case of neglect to strew ashes.

The effect of the learned judge's view seems to me with great respect, to result in this, that although the Corporation, having knowledge that all the sidewalks were in dangerous condition, are absolved from responsibility altogether, except in respect to some particular spot which is more dangerous than others, unless the plaintiff prove circumstances as would throw on the municipality a special duty to protect all inhabitants, such circumstances having references to the financial ability of the corporation to cope with the danger of accidents if it is widespread, extent of traffic, etc.

The duty laid on municipal councils is not what is described by Chief Justice Anglin (then Mr. Justice Anglin) in Brenner vs Toronto Ry. (1907 13 O. L. R. 423, 437) as an "abstract obligation becoming a concrete duty" upon the emergency arising. It is rather a positive statuory, and therefore a concrete and immediate duty in the first place, only limited by the ingredients of knowledge or means of knowledge and reasonable time. City of Sydney vs Slaney (infra.), Plamer vs City of Toronto (1916) 38 O. L. R. 90 affirmed by S. C. R. Canada, May 1, 1919. In face of that duty there is not, in my judgment, cast upon the plaintiff any ogligation to prove that the municipality is financially able to perform its duty. That element is an excuse not a condition precedent to the duty attaching.

I do not attach importance to the effect of the legislation which enables the council to pass such a by-law as No. 1126. The council is allowed by it to compel the adjoining occupants to do the work which would otherwise be done by the employes of the council but that power does not absorb the council from liability Organ vs City of Toronto (1893) 24 O. R. 318. City of Sydney vs Slaney (1919) 60 S.O.R. and though it no doubt has a bearing upon the question of reasonable time for the performance of the work of repair," and also necessitates an inquiry as to whether what the council did and when, to require obedience to the by-law was reasonable under the circumstances. The council cannot, by passing such a by-law, rid themselves of responsibility any more than they can send out a gang of men to repair without at the same time seeing that they go to work and accomplish what they were employed to do

The fact showed that the accident was not the fault of the corporation but occurred in spite of their precautions. In German vs the City of Ottawa (1917) 56 S.C.R. 80 the precautions of the city were held to be reasonable although they had not reached the particularly dangerous spot in time. In Killeleagh vs City of Brantford (1916) 38 O.L.R. 35, gross negligence was inferred from the fact that the sidewalk had been allowed to become lower than the ground beside it thus inviting a flow of water which when it became frozen created a danger.

Thus it seems to me, the only question to be determined is whether Sec 460. S.S. 3 exonerates the defendants in this particular case. The evidence for the plaintiff in no way establishes the condition elsewhere similar to that which caused the plaintiff's injury. It merely and in a most general way showed that the other pavements were slippery.

Upon the sidewalk was a sheet of glare ice, banked up between two ridges of snow where water and slush had been allowed to remain without means of escape and so freezing resulted in a dangerous icy surface. The block traversed by this sidewalk so covered had a slight slope upward probably a continuation of the rise of the hill, and this hill had been sanded by the municipality up to the street across which lay the sidewalk in question. The position of the defendant is that they stopped spreading sand just 66 feet from this slope, where the condition I have described existed. The additional cost of continuing the sanding would have been trifling and the notice of the condition ample in point of time.

The defendant offered no evidence to excuse himself. It appeared that where the householders had acted upon the by-law and cleaned away the snow, a situation of danger was created between the ridges left on each side of the sidewalk. The statute does not enable the municipality to throw on the occupants the duty of spreading ashes or sand the by-law which purports to do so is unwarranted by the statutes. Hence the municipality must do that themselves and they did so elsewhere and close to this spot, leaving it unprotected.

Under these circumstances negligence such as the law requires may well be found against them.

I will allow the appeal and direct judgement for $1,500 both with costs.

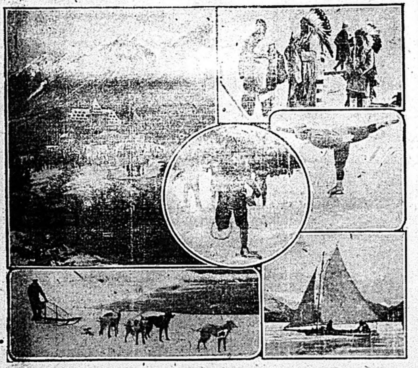
Calgary and Banff to Unite in Carnival



Top left, Banff Springs Hotel in winter garb; below, a dog sled team. Stoney Indians attend the Carnival in full force and regalia, and figure skating, snowshoeing and ice yachting are but a few of the many seasonal attractions to the famous mountain resort.

Banff. Immediately one conjures up visions of the Bow River, the Valley, sunny skies, warm days, summer dresses, ponies, excursions into the snow capped mountains, swimming in the pools, hiking boots, breeks and bathing suits. There are a thousand pleasant memories of Banff in summer time. Comparatively few however, have any idea of this mountain resort in Winter. The thought at this season gives us a chilly feeling perhaps. Yet, after all, having leisure, what better place could be found in which to spend a long or short vacation after snow has fallen. Cold? Certainly no more so than down on the plains where what winds there are sweep uninterrupted.

Sheltered by the rocky slopes on practically all sides, high and with a drier atmosphere, the frost there gives an invigorating touch that stimulates life and activity where elsewhere the country sleeps through the winter. As Quebec is to the East, so, perhaps even to a greater degree, is Banff to the West. The home of Winter Sports.

Instead of going to sleep, the little town of Banff comes to life with the coming of snow. One event and community effort follows the other, and a long list of sporting activities culminates in February with a huge seven day carnival in which all citizens and hundreds of enthusiasts from all parts of the World, take part.

It will only be the case of a very few years until tourists arrange their trips to take in the Carnival at Banff as they now visit New Orleans in March for the Mardi Gras, or Pasadena for the Rose Tournament. Apart from the glorious scenery, it is a perfect Winter playground.

Preparations are even now under way for the next Winter Carnival. This, to be held from February 7th to 14th inclusive, is planned to be the greatest yet. Calgary enthusiasts have decided to cancel their own carnival arrangements and to unite with the Banff citizens to make it a success. A very comprehensive program of sports has already been drawn up covering events in curling, skating, snow-shoeing, ski running and jumping, ski-joring, tobagganning, trap-shooting, sleighing, and swimming in the hot sulphur pools. For none of these sports could the setting or the conveniences be excelled.

For the adventurous visitor Lake Minnewanka offers ice-yachting. Dog-sled races are a never failing source of interest. These races are often run down the main street, and, as in other sports, it is often a case of the best dog being beaten as a great deal of comedy is played. It often happens that an over anxious or jealous contestant grabs an opponent in any convenient place and in the ensuing mixup any old hound can waddle home an easy winner. But its all in the game; and the game at Banff is the out-door game—with dancing, cards or concerts in which each one plays a part in the evening.

Wealthy Landowners Set The Standard

Paris, Jan 15.—M. Louis Forest, founder of the famous Club des Cent—the Hundred Club—whose object is to keep alive the best traditions of the French cuisine, entertained the members of the American Club of Paris recently with a talk on "The Intellectual Value of the French Cuisine." The speaker likened the art of the cuisine to music, declaring that it took as long to form a good cook as it did to make a good musician, pointing out that in more senses than one real art was a question of exquisite taste. The finer appreciation of the good things that grace the table, he declared, was an essential training to the finer appreciation of all other arts.

If France could justly be proud of her reputation for cooking, M. Forest was not without some fear for the future, declaring that more hasty living and more hasty meals led to less discernment in cooking.

French cuisine, said the speaker, was made what it is, not in the palace and the home of the rich, but in the farms of the wealthy landowners of the provinces, where every dish as it came on the table was the subject of discussion and the wine a matter for conjecture, comparison and reminiscence.

SUPPLY THREATENED, WOULD SAVE HERRING

London, Jan. 14—The humble herring, staple breakfast diet in thousands of British homes, has become the subject of much research, and two British scientists recently went to Norway to acquire a more detailed knowledge of his temperament and habits.

Fisheries authorities point out that the huge catches of herring in the North Sea of recent years have threatened the supply, and the migrations and seasonal distribution of fish of different ages are being studied in an effort to prevent the decimation of the runs, such as happened in the case of salmon in the Pacific northwest and British Columbia waters. Thousands of hering have been captured, marked for further identification, then released, and fishermen advised to notify the Fisheries Development Commission if they are caught in the future.

Old Style Cabbies Are Dropping Out

Only a Few of Them Drive In London Streets Now

London, Jan. 15.—A dozen feeble old fellows who belong to the dying race of hansom cab drivers have recently been given annuities of $100 each a year for the rest of their lives in this motorized world. They were selected by the Benevolent Association as the neediest and most infirm of 77 applicants for annuities, all men who, with tall top hats and dropping mustaches once sat on their cab boxes adding to the easygoing amenities of the streets of London. They were too old when automobiles came in to learn the tricks of sliding gear transmission. Gradually taxicabs took away their trade.

Only a few of these oldtimers drive cabs in London today. Everyone favors as a lark, their drivers must depend upon the few dowdy souls who have never deigned to recognize the existence of automobiles.

Nobody troubles to identify one taxicab driver from another, but it was different in the happy days of horsedrawn hansoms. Many of the drivers in those days had celebrated nick-names, known to peers and tramps alike. They pine away their horseless hours now in cheap homes for the infirm poor, or pick up a few pennies opening and closing taxicab doors, dreaming perhaps of the lovelier ladies and more gentlemanly gentlemen of far away and long ago. From time to time they die and are carried off to cemeteries in automobile hearses.

CUSTOMS MEN CAN'T HOLD UP TRAINS

Washington, Jan. 15—The treasury department must not attempt to hold up trains entering the United States from Canada between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. according to a decree signed by Justice Hoehling in equity court in behalf of eleven railway companies which refused to pay overtime wages to customs inspectors.

Because of this refusal the treasury department attempted to collect from railroad companies whose trains entered this country after the regular working hours of the customs force Threats were made to hold night trains at the border until the customs force came on duty the next morning at 8 o'clock.

It appears from the record that the department proceeded under the act of congress of February 3, 1911 and the tariff laws of 1922, but both of these laws provide that only shipowners must pay overtime wages for services performed by custom employ- hours. Nothing is said in either of these laws about the department collecting from railroad companies which require the same sort of service as ship companies. None of the laws in question even mentions a train or a terminal or a station.

The treasury department noted an appeal from the injunction. The complaining railroads were the New York Central, the Michigan Central, Vermont Central, Boston & Maine, Rutland, Delaware & Hudson, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Wabash, Spokane International and Minneapolis St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie.

Another means of determining the migration routes of fish of different ages is by counting the annual growth of rings which appear on the scales.

State-owned Boats Come Off Worst

Couldn't Compete With Privately Owned Vessels, Inchcape Says

(Associated Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 15—In competing against ships which are privately owned state-owned ships have come off the worst, according to Lord Inchcape, the chairman of the P. & O. shipping company. He said that during the war the British government built a great many steamers but very wisely after the war had ceased they got rid of them, and at high prices, for trade was then booming. Not so wise were Canada, America, Australia Brazil and Portugal, which held on to their state-owned steamers. These vessels had been competing with privately owned vessels the world over with the result that these countries had lost millions of pounds which had to be made good by the taxpayer.

It would, he believed, have paid the ship-owning governments to have sunk their ships rather than have kept them running during the last four years. When Government rid themselves of the incubus of state-owned vessels the public may see a moderate return to prosperity in the shipbuilding industry. Meantime the shipbuilding yards of Great Britain will have many empty berths, with the resulting lack of employment, but shipowners will not go on building ships unless they can expect a reasonable margin of profit.

Governments would be better off, concluded Lord Inchcape, if, instead of competing with private enterprise, they took a share of business profits in the form of income tax. If they continued to run ships they would fail commercially, and to make good their losses, would have recourse to additional taxation.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN IN ENGLAND

London, Jan. 15.—The statistical review of the registrar general shows that during 1923 there were 750,131 births; 444,365 deaths and 292,408 marriages.

The statistics show that 20,797 widows and 24,903 widowers remarried during the year and the weddings in which both contracting parties took their second matrimonial step numbered 9,246.

The youngest couple married gave the age of the bridegroom as 16 and of the bride 15. Among the brides were 26 girls of the age of 15, one of whom was married to a man 70. Among the bridegrooms there was one bachelor of 93.

The first 20 years of married life are the hardest, according to the statistics, for the 2,834 litigants who started suits for the dissolution of their marriages included only 321 cases in which the wedded term was more than 20 years.

At the end of 1923 the estimated population was 47,747,100. The female sex with 24,832,513 had a majority of 1,917,926.

Have Separated After 35 Years

Husband and Wife Come to Agreement at Peterboro Court

Peterboro, Jan. 15.—After thirty-five years of married life, William A. Murphy, of 491 Elm stret, and his wife, agreed in police court Wednesday morning to go their separate ways. William Murphy, who was charged with assault sufficient to accasion bodily harm to his wife, the offence committed about two weeks ago, agreed to turn over his home and the household furniture therein to his wife, he retaining a vacant lot on the easterly portion of the land surrounding the house. In return for these earthly goods, the wife released her husband from all claims as to support, and he released her from any obligation contracted by the mariage. The spirit of this agreement, with regard to the practical cancellation of the marriage, met with dissent from Magistrate Langley to whom, however, it was pointed out by Mr. J. A. O'Brien, representing Mrs. Murphy, that time might bring about a difference of opinion between the two.

Johanna, the smallest of the trio of children born of the union was with the mother in court.

Reorganized Hikers Defeated Kiwanians

Was a Close Game; Baby Shoe Juniors Lost

The Kiwanis senior team broke their own record at the Recreation Alleys last night in the first game of the winter schedule, but that didn't stop them losing it, the reorganized Hikers team stepping in and taking the game by just 14 pins, most of the credit going to H. Evans, who rolled 673 for his three strings. The Kiwanis were handicapped by using a John Doe. No doubt, with a full team, they would have reversed the score.

In another close junior game the Wolves of the North won from the Baby Shoes by 15 pins. The Baby Shoes were up 132 pins in the first game, but the Wolves came back strong in the second and tucked the game away. R. Miles rolled 573 for his three strings.

In another junior game the Lightning Express lost to the Marsh team by 160 pins. E. Ethier rolling 652 for Marsh and Bruce Bottom 555 for the Express. Players and scores:

ST. ANDREWS' BLANK CHRIST CHURCH MEN

Two games were played in the S. S. league on Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. St Andrew's Jrs. won from Christ Church by the wide margin of 17 to 0 the Saints battled hard but were unable to break into the score column. The Scots were heavier and coached by Army Armstrong were going strong.

St. Andrew's—Byrnes 4, Moffat 7, Gillen, Kinnear 6, Miles, Kerr, White, Pinkston.—17.

Christ Church—Fisher, Cork, Smith, Churchill, White, Bonnycastle, Hilton, Morgan.—0.

Blue Sox Trimmed

In the Y League White Sox took a fall out of Vern Weirs Blue Sox to the tune of 46-26. Bryce for the White doing the most damage with 13 baskets, the Blue missed Weir who could not get there. This ties the league up with three teams with a loss a piece.

White Sox—Buchanan 8, Maidens 4, Bryce 26, Alexander 10.—48

Blue Sox—Hitchin 10, Morden 2, Harris, 6, Facer2.—26.

On Friday night Kingston 5-9's will be here to play the Y Inter-mediates. The team had a light practice last night after the other games and with the new material available Belleville will have the best team they have had for some time, and the game with Kingston should be a hummer as the score was close at Kingston.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 472L Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

The Subject of Eye Health is receiving more and more attention all the time. And it deserves to. Because to a great extent as the eyes are so is the rest of the body. If your eyes are not as they should be, you cannot enjoy life as you should. My service is for all who need expert eye attention and recognize same when they experience it.

Are Re-organizing City League Loop

Meeting Called For To-morrow Night at the Arena

City League Hockey is to be re-organized.

Those hockey enthusiasts interested in the scheme have called a meeting for to-morrow night at the Arena to get underway. The hour is set for eight o'clock and those desiring to enter teams are requested to be present to catch a place in the league.

OLD TIME CROWD EXPECTED TO-NIGHT

Peterboro seniors and Belleville Intermediates will supply the fire works at the Turnbull street arena tonight commencing at 8.15 o'clock, when the old rivals clash in a specially arranged exhibition game.

This game is so arranged that unless Petes present their regular lineup as they used against Parkdale, they do not receive their expenses, so fans who are skeptical should not remain so.

The locals are using the same line up as they used to tie Kingston at subs. Both the Goyer boys are playing tonight.

Fans should get there early and grab vantage points for an old time crowd is anticipated, and the game will start on the dot unless something unforseen interferes.

Here's the lineups for the game.

Belleville—Goal, Nurse; defence, Finkle and Green; centre, Hagerman left wing Weir; right wing, Whalen; subs., Al Goyer, Frank Goyer; Frechette, Armstrong and Wardhaugh.

ST. PATS FINALLY TRIM SENATORS

Toronto, Jan. 15.—All good things must come to an end and the Senators winning streak, when started here three weeks ago and took the Ottawas from fifth to third place, was no exception as it ended where it started, at the local Arena with St. Patrick's as their opponents, and the final game was won by the same margin as was the one that started them on their steady climb, one goal the score being 3 to 2. The game was one of the best of the local season. If not the best, and the fans were brought from the depths of despair, where they were domiciled at the end of the first period when the visitors led by 2 goals to 0, to realms of delight when Babe Dye scored his only goal of the game, thirty seconds before the regulation time was up. Dye's goal, which marked the end of a great uphill struggle by the Irish, was followed by the greatest outbreak of cheering that has prevailed in the Arena in some years.

The margin of victory was the closest possible and on the play such a small margin was indicative of the play. Ottawa was the better team in the first period, although the two-goal lead rather flattered them and their second goal was a flagrant offside. In the second period, McCaffery proved the hero when he batted in two rebounds evening the score, although the second appeared to be a trifle offside. However, both teams secured an even break in the matter of offside goals and they also had even breaks in the matter of hard luck in front of the goal.

Once again there was no outstanding player for the Irish. Bert McCaffery played another great game and was the man in the pinch for the first two goals. Happy Day was more effective than in any previous game and had his shot on the goal all night. Jack Adams was always in the fray and in addition to proving a strong man on the attack showed a poke check in centre ice that was most effective. Adams has come around to form slowly but surely and now is playing great hockey.

Irish Defence Strong

Holway and Corbeau, played themselves almost into exhaustion but showed better understanding of the other's play than ever in any other game while Roach was his old self in the nets. The team showed some attempts at combination, but not nearly as much as their opponents.

The teams—

St. Patrick's—Roach, goal; Corgeau and Holway, defence; Adams, centre; Dye, right; Day, left; McCaffery, sub.

Ottawa—Connell, goal; Clancy and Boucher, defence; Nighbor, centre; smith, right; Dennenay, left; Finnegan, sub.

Referee—Bill Bell, Montreal.

DETAILS OF JUNIOR CAMPBELLFORD GAME

Campbellford, Jan. 15—Picton Juniors kept pace wtih Belleville for the leadership of group two, when they defeated Archie Wood's kids here Tuesday night by a score of five to three before an enthusiastic crowd that filled Coverts Arena.

The locals were without Johnston their good little defence player, and Copperthwaite, got out of a sick bed to play, and did not show half his usual speed. When he did get down the ice with the puck, he hadn't strength enough left to lift the rubber off the ice. Cowell was good defensively, and showed some clever stick handling besides packing a wicked shot but was a little shy on speed. Saunders made some clever saves in goal and was decidedly unlucky on a couple of shots that beat him, one glancing in off his arm and another after he had flopped on the ice to save a close in shot, the rubber rolled over to a Picton player who shoved it into the empty net.

Front Line Better

Up on the front line, Wood, Lemyre and Blue had a decided edge on the Picton trio, and only the good defensive play of Church and Henry and the wonderful display of net-minding by Young, deprived the local sharpshooters of many more goals.

Several times he left his cage and beat the puck carrier by flopping in front of the shot. Lemyro turned in another fine game at centre ice, using a poke check very effectively and carrying the puck well; his only fault being failure to pass the puck.

Wood, at left, is improving in every game, and he showed the fans some beautiful stick-handling that carried him right in on top of Young repeatedly. Blue also showed improvement over the last game, showing some good puck-carrying ability, and a rare turn of speed. Picton showed a well-balanced team with an outstanding defence trio and a forward line that play combination and back check persistently. Boye, who subbed at centre, is very fast and a good stickhandler. Referee Ross Burt handled the game well and kept it clean each team drawing five penalties for small offences.

PRESTON CLIMBED INTO SECOND PLACE

Preston, Jan. 15.—Preston Riversides are back into second place in the Big Six group. Their win over Stratford Indians, 3 to 1, at the local arena here last night, gave the Ashley crew a big boost. The Riversides' loss of three games in a row had considerable bearing on the attendance, there being a small crowd present. The Riversides played the brand of hockey they are capable of and had the Carson crew beaten every period. The visitors worked hard but the local forwards checked them off their feet.

New York—Cargo of Copper recovered from sea where it has lain 56 years in 318 fet of water.

DRIVERS MUST GO ALONG ALONE NOW

Paris, Jan. 15—For the first time in the history of automobile racing in Europe, no mechanic will be allowed to sit with the drivers in the Grand Prix speed test which will take place at Monthlery, July 26 of next year.

The French Automobile Club has made public the regulations governing the race and they provide that although the car must have two seats side by side, the driver will be alone on board.

Only constructors of the nations invited will be allowed to take part. The weight of cars, empty, will be limited to 650 kilograms. The race will be over a distance of 1,000 kilometres, or 80 laps around the course.

The winner will draw down 150,000 francs, while 50,000 will go to the second and 20,000 to the third.

A Womans Soul

BY

Charles Garvice

He was there before the office opened, and had to wait for a quarter of an hour. While he was pacing up and down, smoking a cigar, with fierce impatience, a quietly-dressed man, in a brown pot hat, sauntered up, glanced at him casually, and passed by; then, as if he had remembered something, took out his watch, and returned at a quick pace, so quickly, indeed, that he almost ran against Lord Cecil, and offered profuse apologies.

A few minutes after ten a yawning boy wound up the iron shutters, and Lord Cecil went into the office.

"I want to know——" he commenced, but the boy, struggling with a yawn which threatened to bisect his face, said, languidly:

"Clerks not here yet; don't know nothing myself."

Lord Cecil inquired when they would be there, was told five minutes, ten, perhaps; lit another cigar; was informed by the intelligent lad that he mustn't smoke in the office; flung the cigar away, and strode to the door, nearly knocking over the quiet-looking gentleman in the brown hat, who was looking in at the door inquiringly.

Ten minutes—a quarter of an hour passed, and at last a clerk arrived; and Lord Cecil made for him as if he were going to demand his life.

"Can you tell me whether a lady of the name of Marlowe sailed by the Orion, for Melbourne?" he began, with suppressed eagerness.

The clerk eyed him with the charming impassibility and indifference which distinguishes some of his class, and read a letter which lay before him before answering.

"You will find her name in the passenger list if she did," he said at last.

"Then, for Heaven's sake, give me the passenger list!" said Lord Cecil, with suppressed fury. "I have been waiting——" He pulled himself up on the verge of an outbreak, and the clerk with a great deal of dignity, got down a huge ledger and leisurely found the proper page. Then he proceeded to read off the names; there seemed a million of them to poor Cecil, who leaned against the counter, his eyes fixed on the book, his lips tightly compressed.

"Mr. and Mrs. Browne, Mr. and Miss Tompkins, Mr. Garland, Miss Doris Marlowe. Yes, she sailed," said the clerk.

Lord Cecil gripped the counter hard and stared in a dazed, blind way at the open page.

"Mr. Garland! Miss Doris Marlowe!" Great Heaven, then the marquis had spoken the truth, and she had jilted him; had left him for the other man—this actor. In a moment he recalled the young fellow, the handsome Romeo who had played so well to her Juliet. And she had gone with him! She—— Doris! Doris, the girl he loved; whose faith, and honor, and truth—ah, and innocent purity of mind and soul—he would have sworn by.

The clerk stared at his white face and compressed lips curiously. It was not the first time anxious inquiries had been made respecting missing persons at the office, but no one had taken the information given as this handsome young gentleman took it. He seemed, as the clerk put it afterward, when recounting the incident to his fellow-clerks, "as if he were struck dumb, and deaf, and blind."

"Is there anything else I can tell you sir?" he asked.

Lord Cecil raised his head and regarded him vacantly.

"Anything else? No," he said, with a grim smile. "That will do, thanks. When will the Orion arrive?"

The man referred him to a calendar and told him.

"There or thereabouts," he said. "She's a fine vessel."

"Ah, so I've heard," said poor Cecil, not knowing what he was saying; and wishing the clerk good-day, he made his way out.

At the door he paused and took off his hat in a confused kind of way, as a man does who has received news which is either too good or too bad to be realized all at once; and as he stood there, he felt a hand upon his shoulder. Looking round, he saw that it was the persistent personage in the brown hat.

"Lord Cecil, Viscount Neville, I believe?" he said, quietly and respectfully enough.

"Yes, I am Lord Neville," said Cecil. "What do you want?" he added, with weary surprise.

The man took a paper from his breast pocket.

"I'm sorry to trouble you, my lord," he said, "but I'm a a sheriff's officer, and I have to arrest you on a debt warrant."

"Arrest me?" said Lord Cecil, not with the surprise the man doubtless expected. Lord Cecil would not have been surprised that morning if he had been arrested for murder. "I don't understand——"

"If you'll step aside for a moment," said the man, very respectfully, indeed apologetically, "I will show you. These are the items," and he took some papers from a greasy pocketbook, and read them off.

Lord Cecil recognized them as some old debts, bills and I O U's, which he had almost forgotten.

"Yes, that is right, I expect," he said, gravely, and very wearily. "But I thought," he said, as the idea occurred to him, "that there was no arrest for debt now?"

The man smiled almost pityingly.

"Nor is there, my lord; it's called contempt of court now. You have been ordered to pay these sums by the court and you haven't done it, therefore it's contempt and they take you on that."

"Ordered to pay them?" said Cecil. "When? I have heard nothing of it."

The man looked incredulous of so much innocence, for a moment, but, after a long and steady scrutiny of the pale, grave face, with its frank, honest eyes, he looked puzzled.

"Hem! I don't quite see. Ah, yes, I do! These processes have been served on your lawyers, no doubt, my lord. Haven't they let you know?"

"No," said Lord Cecil, quietly. "I have been away in Ireland. I've seen no letters——"

"It's plain enough, my lord," explained the officer. "You ought to have had your letters forwarded. The court has been under the impression that you've neglected the order out of sheer contrariness, and so these creditors have got the warrant. Ah, my lord, no end of mischief comes of you swell gentlemen not opening your letters. I'm very sorry, but here's the warrant, and I'm bound to execute it."

LUCKY IS WOMAN WITH OLD EARRINGS

Dresden, Jan. 15.—Now is the time for women who desire to be in fashion to bring out their earrings from the time of Napoleon I. Fortunate is the woman who has among her heirlooms earrings dating back 100 years or more.

Dame Fashion prescribes an ear dress made up of rather long golden chains fastened into the ear and ending in a beautiful pearl or precious stone. Some of these ear gears extend down to the seam of the low-neck cut, and are made up of a series of precious stones. Contrasts of color, by which attention is to be called to the costly nature of the various stones making up the hanging ear decoration, are as much in fashion now as they were taboo the last time earrings were in vogue some 25 years ago.

Thrilling Story Showing At Belle

"Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model" a Splendid Melodrama

"Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model" the Goldwyn feature coming to the Belle theatre today is the screen version of the famous Owen Davis melodrama which enjoyed a popular run in New York several years ago. As a stage play it is one of the most thrilling pieces ever written.

For this production, Emmett Flynn selected one of the greatest casts of the year. Claire Windsor plays the title role. Mae Busch, Lew Cody, Raybart Bosworth and Lilyan Tashman, famous Follies beauty, compose the array of celebrities in "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model."

Continuing with the Goldwyn policy for realism and accuracy, Emmett Flynn took this expensive array of stars to New York City to film scenes on the elevated tracks and various streets in the city. He then returned to California where interiors were made in the studios at Culver City.

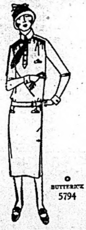
The story moves swiftly through these realistic settings. It concerns the thrilling adventures of the beautiful "Nellie" the daughter of wealthy parents, who, through circumstances has been living under the care of a foster parent, Thomas Lipton, in the tenement district of New York. Her mother has been searching for years for her daughter. Nellie's foster father becomes ill and Nellie is forced to seek employment in a modiste shop not knowing that she is heir to her mother's fortune. Walter Peck, the worthless nephew of Nellie's mother, knowing that Nellie is alive, tries to convince the mother that Nellie will not be found, thus, leaving him heir to the fortune. It is Peck's endeavors to keep Nellie in obscurity that provides action and thrills for the story.

GETTING TOO FAT? TRY THIS—REDUCE

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmola Co., General Motor Bldg., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be able to reduce steadily and easily and pleasantly, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise. Start taking them to-day and get slender.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon



The epaulet shoulder is the rather descriptive name given to the sleeve which runs into the neck and which is used in so many smart coats and frocks.

The new shoulder-line has been immensely successful. It has a little different look and possesses the additional virtue of being extremely becoming. One sees it so much in the new sports type of dress made in the most delightful colors—a very soft hazy gray blue, a light and very lovely rose geranium, gray green, a clear chamois yellow and new and delicate shades of beige. Flannel, light-weight wool jersey and heavy crêpe de Chine are used for a much-copied French model with a plait at the side and a very boyish collar.

A number of members of the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will visit Hamilton on Thursday to attend a special executive meeting of the association. Thrill A Minute Laugh A Second

So Harold Lloyd's "Safety Last" is Described

"Harold Lloyd is undoubtedly the most consistent performer in the movies—a tireless young man in horn-rimmed glasses whose energy and ingenuity are on tap twelve months in the year."

That's what Bob Sherwood, motion critic of Life, had to say about the comedian who opens at the Griffin Theatre tonight in his seven-reel Pathecomedy "Safety Last." But after seeing the first seven-reel comedy ever produced and after having laughed from beginning to end until our sides ached, we will say more. Lloyd is a dynamic in the world of laughter, and when I say 'Safety Last" is the greatest comedy ever produced, I am not using superlatives. Well, see it yourself!

Never was there anything funnier screened or more thrilling than Harold Lloyd's climb up the side of a twelve story building. There's a laugh for every brick. A thrill-a-minute, laugh-a-second comedy! And, a real story with a delightful love interest furnished by Harold Lloyd and Mildred Davis as this writer has ever witnessed. The thrill scenes set the large audience in shrieks of laughter, but the scenes in the department store where Lloyd is frightened to death for fear of the floorwalker will find him with his fiancee are also screamingly funny.

Marie dear,
Ooooh! How the snow is flying today! I'm 'most 'fraidy-cat enough to hug the fireplace, instead of going to that Tobogganing party. But Jack says to bundle up like an Eskimo doll, & rub on lots of Campana's
Italian Balm
and then neither wind nor weather will hurt me. Campana's is the only thing that keeps my hands smooth and white since I started washing dishes.
Peggy.

MAIDS OF ENGLAND INSTAL OFFICERS

The Daughters and Maids of England Lodge Pride of Belleville No. 87 at their regular meeting last evening installed their officers for the ensuing term. The installation ceremony was ably carried out by Sister A. E. Follwell, Past President with the assistance of Sister A. A. Hilton as Grand Guide. The Worthy President Sister E. M. Savage then presented P. President Sister A. E. Follwell with the past presidents jewel with rank, name and year of presentation beautifully engraved thereon and on behalf of the officers and members thanked her for the splendid manner in which she had worked and governed the lodge during her term of office. Sister Follwell in replying, thanked the members for their splendid token of recognition which came as a complete surprise to her and assuring them that she would do all in her power to further the interests of our lodge and our beloved order. When the business was concluded refreshments were served and a pleasant hour was spent.

The following is the list of officers installed: Past President, Sister A. E Follwell; Wor. Pres., Sister E. M. Savage; Vice Pres., Sister E. Looker; Secretary Treasurer, Bro. W. J. Savage; Chaplain, Sister S. K. Armitage; 1st Guide, Sister R. Stapley; 2nr Guide, Sister C. Hamilton; 3rd Guide, Sister H. Stapley; 4th Guide, Sister A. Thompson; Inside Guard, Sister M. E. Rainbird; Outside Guard, Bro. W. Parrish; Pianist, Sister A. I. Hallam.

If Your Skin Breaks Out Use Sulphur

Just the moment you apply Mentho Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

A Family Re-Union

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Rollins, gathered at the home on the 6th Concession of the township of Huntingdon, this being the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rollins. This home has never changed its name in over eighty years, being owned and occupied by either father or son during all that time. Four brothers and one sister, with their wives, husband and children, about thirty in all, met and enjoyed a delightful re-union. The brothers are Robert, Stirling; Hark, Cooper; S. B. Tweed; W. H., on the homestead, Mrs. George Post, West Huntingdon. It was decided to have a re-union of all the Rollins connection sometime during the coming summer on the old historic farm in the township of Huntingdon.

Was Born in Addington

Fred Newman, wholesale grocer, who was elected mayor of Picton, by a majority of 229, was mayor of Picton for 1916, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923. He is a Lennox and Addington boy, was born at Colebrook, in 1870, and served for some time as agent of the B. of Q. Railway at Larkin, Moscow and Marlbank. He went to Picton about twenty-five years ago, and about fifteen years ago opened a store in Napanee known then as Newman Livingston & Co., which he operated with a chain of stores at Picton, Wellington, Trenton, Brighton and Gananoque. Mrs. Robert Ballance, Selby and Mrs. James McCormack, R.M.D. 4, Napanee, are his sisters.

Buried at Kemptville

The funeral of Miss Jessie Anderson, victim of the Belleville run-away accident, was held at Kemptville from the residence of her nephew, Stanley G. Anderson, Interment was made in the family plot in Oxford Mills cemetery.

Smoked Glass To See Eclipse

Prof. Kingston of Kingston has issued a warning not to look through a telescope at the sun during the coming eclipse in January, as there are many cases where eyesight has been lost entirely by looking at the sun through a telescope. The sight goes immediately, and there is apparently no cure. If you want to see the eclipse on the morning of Jan. 24th next, use a piece of smoked glass—that's all you need.

Offered Wedding Ring

An evidence that there are dozens of men and women in Kingston out of employment and do not want to accept charity, was demonstrated this week when the mother of four children walked into a jewellery store and asked the proprietor if he would buy her wedding ring. When the ring was weighed it was found that it would be worth only $2.35 and the woman said that she needed four dollars badly. The jeweller realizing that she was right up against it, offered to give her $4 and she could pay it back some time. The offer was not accepted by the woman as she did not know when she would be able to repay the money and what she wanted was work and not charity.

Close Voting in Brockvile

Brockville, Jan. 14— Close voting featured the decisions of the two local Presbyterian Churches in regard to Church Union. The First Presbyterian Church, 274 to 276 decided to remain outside the United Church, while St. John's voted by 261 to 217 to enter it.

Out of Union

St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, have voted themselves out of union by a vote of 107 to 39. The pastor, Rev. Mr. S. G. McCormack is a Unionist.

Injuries Serious

Oshawa, Jan. 15.—Charlie Lavery who was injured in a hockey game at Cobourg a week ago is still confined to his home. Reports from the County Town indicate that his rapid recovery took a lapse Tuesday and the indications are that it will be several weeks before he is around again.

Pioneer Member Lost

Peterboro, Jan. 15.—Bereaved on Saturday of one of its oldest members, Sister Mary of the Incarnation, the Community of Mount St. Joseph, has lost another pioneer member in the person of Sister Mary Hilda. Sister Hilda, who was Catherine McCormack, belonged to one of the oldest families of Belleville, and entered the religious life at St. Joseph's Convent, Toronto, in 1880. In 1885 she volunteered and was sent to the Jesuit Mission of Fort William. Later she served at Mount St. Patrick, in the Diocese of Pemboke and Almonte. A sister, Miss McCormack, of Toronto, was with her at her death.

Lively Runaway

Picton, Jan. 15.—A lively runaway took place on Friday last about noon when a horse hitched to a cutter came down Main street at a lively rate with the cutter turned over on its side and the contents of the cuter scattered along the stret. Two young men dashed out and captured the animal at the top of the Union street hill without much damage being done.

Broke Leg Bone

Deseronto, Jan. 15.—While attending her household duties Mrs. Arthur Claus recently suffered an accident which resulted in severe injury. While passing from the kitchen into the woodshed the woman stepped on a weak board, which broke, causing her to fall, in which the small bone in her leg was broken and the larger bone severely injured. Dr. H. A. Boyce was summoned.

GUEST IS PUNISHED

Oshawa, Jan. 15.—William Vinning, in Canada twelve weeks from South Africa has been two weeks in jail and will spend another thirty days in the same place. Vinning was the guest of Mrs. S. Wilson at Ashburn for Christmas dinner and while there stole a watch valued at sixteen dollars. Constable Taylor investigated and in the Ashburn pool room Vinning was found and when searched the watch recovered from the lining of his vest pocket. Magistrate Willis in passing sentence said the case would be referred to the immigration authorities for action they saw fit.

Oshawa, Jan. 15.—The banquet given by Mayor Schell to the members of the City Council and members of other representative bodies was of a very informal character and the one feature that distinguished it from former similar events was its brevity. There was not the usual list of speeches, which included everybody present. Dr. Hoig was chairman and set the example by making a very brief introduction and after the toast to the King was honored he called upon Mayor Schell who was given a very warm reception.

PRINCESS JOACHIM,

TRUE BLUES INSTAL OFFICERS FOR 1925

To usher in the month of January of the New Year in True Blue style, Belleville Lodge, No. 51, held their regular meeting in the True Blue Hall when the Worshipful Mistress Sister Mabel Weeks extended a real fraternal welcome to the visiting members from Derry Lodge. D.D.G.M. Sister J. West lake was called to the chair by the W. M. and conducted the installation in a very interesting manner. The following were installed:

Sister M. Weeks, W.M.; Sister E. Lucas, D. M.; Sister E. Revell, Rec.-Sec.; Sister A. Thompson, Treasurer; Sister E. Boothe, Chaplain; Sister L. Akey, D. of C.; Sister B. Woodcock, Conductor; Sister E. Barriage, 1st Committee; Sister L. Robinson, 2nd Committee; Sister N. Haslip, 3rd Committee; Sister C. Alysworth, 4th Committee; Sister A. Mitchell, 5th Committee; Sister E. Colden, Inside Tyler; Sister L. Deline, Outside Tyler; Sister J. Westlake and Sister M. Weeks, Auditors.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Sister Westlake and assisting members and in a few well chosen words Sister Westlake accepted the vote and thanked the Lodge. Brothers Harrow and Thompson gave very interesting speeches expressing their pleasure at visiting No. 51.

Sister Boothe spoke as did Sister M. Weeks who thanked the members for electing her as worshipful mistress for her second term. She hoped that the members would work harmoniously together and that 1925 would be a record for the lodge.

The slogan for 1925 is "a real fraternal welcome to all visitors and more members.

"Best Thing in the World For Delicate Girls"

Mrs. John Bennett, Boggy Creek, Man., writes:

"My little girl had organic nervous trouble, could not sleep, had severe headaches and fainting spells. This went on for three years, and three doctors helped her very little. After reading of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food had done for others, I got some for her. She is now so well that she is like a different child. She is fourteen years old and looks the picture of health.

"We have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for different members of the family, when recovering from "flu" and scarlet fever, and it has always helped them."

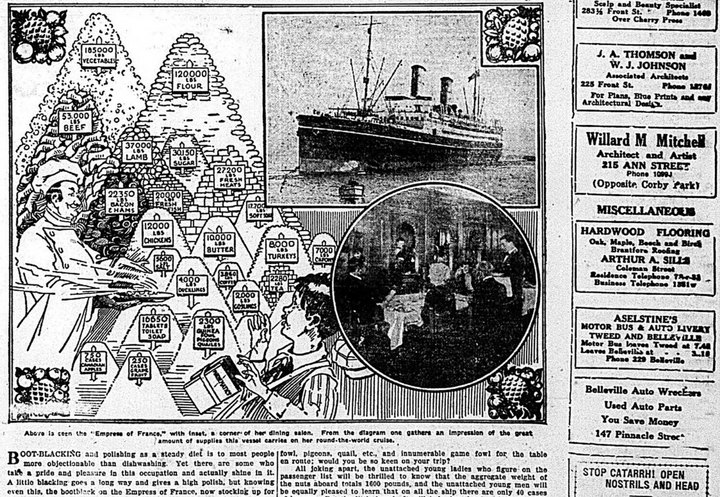
IN ON RE-COUNT

Toronto, Jan. 15—A recount Tuesday re-elects W. A. Edwards, Reeve of Mimico, by the narrow margin of one vote over R. Waites.

A Big Job in Housekeeping for Globe Circumnavigators.



Above is seen the "Empress of France," with inset, a corner of her dining salon. From the diagram one gathers an impression of the great amount of supplies this vessel carries on her round-the-world cruise.

BOOT-BLACKING and polishing as a steady diet is to most people more objectionable than dishwashing. Yet there are some who take a pride and pleasure in this occupation and actually shine in it. A little blacking goes a long way and gives a high polish, but knowing even this, the bootblack on the Empress of France, now stocking up for the round-the-world cruise she will commence on leaving New York January 15th did not quail when he saw a hundred-weight of boot polish being run up the gang plank for him. As a matter of fact he beamed. Each task is but a means to an end and although he may be called upon to see that many square miles of shoes are shined, he will have an opportunity of wiping the dust of many lands from them, and seeing something of these lands beside. His office was sought after, as were all others on the ship.

But dealing with huge figures, one would think that at least the chefs on this giant Canadian Pacific steamship would be to some extent awed by what is before them. Think, Madame Housewife, of having to prepare 185,000 pounds of vegetables, of having to roast 53,000 pounds of beef, 37,000 pounds of lamb, 27,200 pounds of other fresh meats and 2,750 pounds of sausages. Would it not tend to take some of the joy out of a four month cruise? Yet this is the task of the stewards' department of the cruising Empress. Supposing that with the necessary assistance you had to prepare 12,000 pounds of chickens, 7,000 of capons, 4,000 of ducklings, 2,000 of goslings, 8,000 of turkeys, 2,300 of guinea fowl, pigeons, quail, etc., and innumerable game fowl for the table en route; would you be so keen on your trip?

All joking apart, the unattached young ladies who figure on the passenger list will be thrilled to know that the aggregate weight of the nuts aboard totals 1600 pounds, and the unattached young men will be equally pleased to learn that on all the ship there are only 40 cases of lemons. But the little boys! It will indeed go hard with them. For some hard hearted purchasing agent, with no little boys of his own, has ordered 16,650 tablets of toilet soap, 17,700 pounds of soft soap, 55 gallons of liquid salt water soap, and two tons of scouring soap, and soap powder! He thinks that 6,000 Polar Bars and Esquimaux Pies are going to compensate for all this!

It seems that Dad has been looked after very well. Canadian Pacific cruise officers tell us that for the round-the-world trip of the Empress of France, some 59,170 bottles of various shapes and sizes have been taken aboard, and in addition 54,700 bottles of mineral waters.

A few other outstanding figures in connection with the four months supplies for the 450 or 500 passengers are as follows: 750 cases of Canadian apples, 250 cases of grape fruit, 36 barrels of grapes, 500 pounds of dates, 890 lobsters and crabs, 20,000 pounds of fresh fish, 3,864 pounds of coffee, 30,150 pounds of sugar, 2,280 of tea, 250 gallons of olives, 5,600 pounds of salt, 1,780 bottles of sauce, 120,000 pounds of flour, 10,000 pounds of butter, 22,350 pounds of bacon and hams, 50,000 drinking straws, 43,000 menu cards—and so on. Fresh fruits, vegetables, fish, milk and eggs will be purchased in considerable quantities to meet requirements as the cruise progresses. Fifteen thousand, four hundred tons of fuel oil will be used by the cruising steamer.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

Hastings County Keeps Up Record

Only One Making Over 90 Per Cent No. 1 Cheese

"There were 1,584,350 boxes of cheese graded in the Dominion during the past year. Since there were 1,458,129 boxes graded in 1923 this was an increase of 126,221 boxes," said Mr. Jos. Burgess, chief of the division of dairy produce at Montreal. Special and first grade cheese numbered 1,342,644 boxes, an increase of 6.75 per cent over 1923.

In the whole of the Province of Ontario there were 1,096,317 boxes graded in 1924 as compared to 909,227 boxes in 1923, an increase of 187,090 boxes. Here also the grade was considerably higher, some 978,556 boxes grading as specials and first grade, an increase of 8.38 per cent over 1923.

From Quebec was graded a total of 469,883 boxes in the past year as against 533,151 in 1923 a decrease of 63,268 boxes. The grade, however, was considerably improved being 6.09 per cent over 1913. There were 353,783 boxes of specials and firsts marketed during the year.

Prince Edward Island showed an increase in boxes of cheese graded of 2,399, or a total for past year of 18,150 boxes passed through the hands of the graders. There was, however, a decrease in first grade cheese for the province for 1924 of 5.62 per cent.

Production by Counties

Taking the quantity of cheese graded as representing the production in each county, the standing by counties in that section of Ontario east and north of Toronto was as follows:—

	County	No. Boxes
1	Leeds	112,767
2	Hastings	92,754
3	Prescott	87,070
4	Russell	76,574
5	Glengarry	72,309
6	Dundas	70,375
7	Carleton	63,545
8	Frontenac	61,372
9	Stormont	53,351
10	Prince Edward	48,255
11	Lennox	47,034
12	Lanark	41,489
13	Northumberland	41,173
14	Grenville	34,717
15	Peterboro	21,590
16	Nipissing	5,566
17	Durham	5,539
18	Addington	5,488
19	Renfrow	5,396
20	Victoria	4,619
	Total boxes	950,983

"In 1923," said Mr. Burgess, "only one county, Hastings, made over 90 per cent No. 1 cheese. Last year eight counties made 92 per cent or over, which includes, Hastings, Lanark, Carleton, Stormont, Glengarry, Frontenac, Addington and Northumberland. Hastings was again at the top with 95.2 per cent. No 1, Lanark and Carleton were a tie for second place with 93.8 per cent; Stormont 3rd, 92.8 per cent; Glengarry 4th, 92.3 per cent; Frontenac 5th, 92.2 per cent; Addington and Northumberland tie, 6th, 92.1 per cent.

"The outstanding feature in connection with the county figures is that every county excepting one has a higher percentage of No. 1 cheese than they had in 1923. Out of 689 factories from which cheese was graded in this section of Ontario, 24 had a clean sheet of 100per cent specials and No. 1's and there is a decided reduction in the number of factories making low grade cheese. However, many of these same factories had a high percentage of No. 2 cheese in 1923 and it seems to me that two years should be sufficient time to bring about the necessary improvement.

HAMILTON MAN IS A PLAYFUL SORT

Hamilton, Jan. 15. — John Penny's playfulness got him into trouble with the police. When he was arrested by Sergeant May, he was standing in front of a house on the Beach road, hurling snowballs at the window, to the detriment of the panes. The officers told him to come along, but, it was testified in the morning, John threw himself down and groveled in the snow.

Penny, who resides at 390 Barton stret west, offered the excuse that he did not know what he was doing. It failed to work, and he was led to the darkness of the cells, to await his sentence.

W. J. McCaffery, former Alderman of Ottawa has received notice of his appointment as head of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus for Canada and Newfoundland within the order in Canada this post ranks next only to that occupied by George Boivin, K.C., who is the Canadian Supreme Director. The high position in the order which Mr. McCaffrey has been appointed to is a purely honorable one and carries with it the title Vice-Supreme Caster for Canada of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus.

ICE CROP HARVESTING

Practical Methods Suggested for Farm Storage

Ice May Be Formed In Moulds—Artificial Ponds—How to Cut the Blocks—Loading and Packing—The Use and Abuse of Sawdust.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The ice crop every winter in Canada is an enormous one, and if it could be marketed in the cities for summer use, the revenue would amount to many millions of dollars. The farmers must rely upon the ponds, rivers and lakes close by for their supplies, as it has not been found practicable to ship ice by rail. In some sections ice is not available, as there are few if any bodies of water large and pure enough to freeze water to sufficient thickness. Farmers could make their own ice, weather permitting, by making a few ice moulds close to the well and gradually freezing them full, or by making a solid block of ice in a metal lined chamber by pumping into it a little water every day or so and allowing it to freeze solid. Twenty cakes of ice, each 18 inches square and 12 inches thick, would make a ton of ice as stored.

The Artificial Pond.

Still another method for manufacturing ice on the farm is to make an artificial pond where there is an abundant supply of water available from well or spring and the pumping is done by power or hydraulic ram. The area required to produce a ton of ice is not great, depending of course on the thickness of the ice. If the probable freezing will make ice 12 inches thick but thirty-five square feet of pond surface is required for each ton needed.

The usual method of harvesting the supply of ice for the farms is to cut it from some nearby pond, stream or lake and haul it home and store it in the ice house, or some form of enclosure where it will cover deep with dry sawdust. The source of ice should be free from contamination and clean of weeds and other vegetable matter.

Harvesting the Crop.

The method consists of the following operations,—

(1) Cleaning off the snow, if any, by means of a suitable form of scraper. The snow is either dragged off to the shore or pulled into windrows, depending on the size of the area.

(2) Marking off the ice into squares or laying off the field. This operation should be done accurately in order to have blocks of equal size and cut straight and even to make handling and packing in the house as economical as possible. Success in this depends largely on getting the first line straight, and this can be done by stretching a line between two stakes and placing a straight edge board 12 or 14 feet long along the line, and marking the ice with hand tool or hand plough along the edge of the board. The board is moved along as the marking is done, piece by piece. After marking in one direction is completed it is necessary to establish a line across the area which is at right angles to the first direction. Probably the best way to start this is by using a carpenter's large square made of pieces of straightedge boards 10 or 12 feet long, and tied across the corner to hold them fast at angle of 90°. Once the first line is marked straight and at right angles to the first line the rest can easily be marked off properly.

Cutting the Ice.

The ice is cut both ways by either a horse-drawn ice plough or a circular saw driven by a gasoline engine, the whole mounted on a sled pushed along by hand. The latter method of cutting is very satisfactory and is economical, when cutting is done on a large scale, as is the case with a large ice dealer or group of farmers harvesting their ice co-operatively. The ice field is usually cut in one direction with the machine and to a point two or three inches of the full depth. The long strips one way are detached from the field by striking into the saw cut with a heavy chisel, and then pushed up to the loading platform and there cut up into blocks by a hand saw or by the chisel in case the field has been cut both ways by the ice plough or power saw. When a small quantity of ice is harvested the cutting is done by saws.

Loading and Packing the Ice.

There are several devices used for loading the ice on the sleigh, wagon or motor truck, depending upon the amount of ice being handled. The main object in this case is to get a mechanical outfit that is cheap, convenient to operate and which will save the handling of the ice by hand. A small hoist, or a horse-power driven elevator answers very well.

It is advisable to store the ice on cold, dry days as it will be better for handling and will keep better after storage. The cakes should all be the same size, and be evenly cut, in order that they may be packed together with as little air space as possible. Any spaces should be filled with small pieces of ice. The more compact the mass of ice the better it will keep. Below the ice there should be a foot of dry sawdust or shavings, and as the filling proceeds the same material should be packed between the ice and the walls. Do not put sawdust about individual cakes of ice. Pack the ice with a little dip toward the centre, so that it cannot press outwards against the walls. After the ice is stored there should be a couple of feet of sawdust put over the top. O. A. C. Bulletin 306 on Cold Storage is free for the asking.—R. R. Graham, Department of Physics, O. A. C., Guelph.

Former Resident Of Belleville Hurt

Cannot Account For Injuries Received by Sperry Fralette

Kingston, Jan. 15.—The police of the city have a mighty problem on their hands, which it would seem may require the ingenuity of a Sherlock Holmes to solve, in determining how Mr. Sperry Fradette, forty-six years of age, night watchman of S. Anglin & Co., came to receive a terrible six-inch fracture of the skull some time or other during Sunday night while engaged in his regular duties at the Anglin establishment.

Mr. Fradette is a former Belleville man. Mrs. J. H. Smith, a sister, and his daughter, of this city came to his bedside at the hospital.

Indeed so serious is this facture that at the General Hospital, where the unfortunate man now is, it was found necessary to resort to a trephining operation in an endeavor to save the man5s life. An extradural clot of blood was pressing on the brain as a result of the fracture and it was to relieve this and if possible save the man's life that the trephining operation was necessary, with Dr. L. J. Austin in charge. He is reported to be resting comfortably, though still in grave danger.

In the meantime the mystery deepens as to how the man came to suffer this terrible fracture and in an endeavor to solve the problem it is understood the police have been called in to investigate and see what they can learn.

Getting at the Facts

From the facts that have come to light it appears that on Sunday night Mr. Fradette went about his work as usual at the Anglin establishment and punched his clock up to 11.30, indicating clearly that all was well with him up to that time. But then and there the clock-punching stopped, for shortly thereafter—how he cannot explain, for everything is a blank to him after the affair—Mr. Fradette was put hors de combat and with this terrible fracture lay practically all night on the floor of the Anglin machine shop, where he was discovered unconscious by workers at the plant the next morning when they went to their work. He was at once removed to the hospital.

There are numerous theories to account for the affair. One is that in some way a heavy piece of machinery or iron fell on him, but this is scouted by those who ought to know. Another theory is that tramps or would-be burglars were in the shop when he entered and that one of them came up noiselessly behind him and hit him over the head with a heavy weapon and followed it up with another attack, because in addition to the terrible fracture of the skull there is also a slight wound elsewhere on Fradette's head.

But so far as Fradette himself is concerned everything is a blank to him after he entered the machine shop and he knew nothing more until he recovered consciousness at the hospital.

It is stated that nothing was disturbed in the shop or in any of the other buildings and that the man's personal belongings were not touched, so that if would be burglars did the work they were frightened away.

The unfortunate man is married and his home is in Belleville.

Mayor Of Lindsay Speaks His Mind

Criticizes Members of Citizen Band for Not Turning Out

Lindsay, Jan. 14.—Mayor Graham was quite outspoken in his criticism of the Citizens' Band when a deputation from the organization waited on the council Monday night in connection with annual grant. The Mayor's criticism was based on the action of some of the members of the band who failed to turn out for two hours on the occasion of the visit of the Governor General because no pay was forthcoming.

Mayor Graham remarked that no one admired a good band better than he did but he had been hurt as well as peeved because of the action of the Citizens' Band in connection with the visit of His Excellency the Governor-General, when he asked the band to turn out for two hours on that occasion he was confronted with the question of pay. He replied that there would be no pay because he felt that in view of what the town had done for the band that the members should gladly turn out on this occasion. Only fourteen men turned out, however and the music was not up to the standard—in fact, it was a disgrace. Naturally he felt sore. Orillia gives its band $1,000; Gananoque $1,000 and Brockville the same amount.

CANADA GETS LESS

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—Canada will receive £5,000 sterling per year less annuities payable under the Dawes plan as a result of the agreement signed at the inter Allied Financial Conference, which provides for the United States being paid 2 1-4 per cent. of all payment, it was stated in official circles here.

Generally speaking, the belief is expressed that the whole question has been dealth with very satisfactorily, in so far as Canada is concerned.

HE HAD MASTERED SOME 53 LANGUAGES

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 15.—Professor Carl J. Arnell, credited with being master of 53 languages, from the Eskimo to that of the African Hottentots and including all the leading languages of the world, died here recently.

He was secretary to American ambassadors to Japan for 12 years and was the second white man to complete the course in Oriental languages in the Imperial University of Tokio. It was said that he knew the Japanese and Chinese languages as few natives did. On leaving the American embassy at Tokio, Mr. Arnell became a professor in two universities in the Japanese capitol. When his health broke down four years ago, the Japanese government returned him to the United States on a battleship.

He once traveled through the Orient investigating the opium problem, on which he compiled a voluminous report for the United States Senate.

After Industrial Man

That immediate steps will be taken to secure a "live wire" Industrial Commissioner for Oshawa will be one of the initial moves of the new Council. At their meeting Monday, the issue was a live topic and several voiced their opinions in regard to the securing of a competent man for this position. Prospects were cited but nothing definite brought before the Council at its inaugural meeting. This does not mean, however, that the matter will rest where it is, as it has been stated that the matter will be thoroughly gone into and early action in getting a commissioner here, taken.

DE LUXE TRAVEL TO CALIFORNIA

Modern travel leaves little to be desired in comfort and luxury. The most recent innovation is the introduction of Lady's Maid Service on the California Limited, the Los Angeles Limited, and the San Francisco Overland Limited, operating daily between Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco over their various routes. It has also been announced that the California Limited has been equipped with new all-steel drawing room compartment, sleeping cars, specially designed ladies' lounge. Such improved services signify the strides being made to satisfy every conceivable desire of the long distance traveller.

These famous trains are already associated by connections with the Canadian National double track system to Chicago and the trip from Toronto to Los Angeles or San Francisco is thus made one of unequalled pleasure and satisfaction throughout.

Full information and tickets may be obtained from Canadian National Ticket Offices and personal service in arranging reservations, etc., will be rendered by any Canadian National Ticket Agent.

GRANT OF $500 RECOMMENDED FOR RE-UNION

Committee Members Appeared Before Aldermen Last Night

MANY PROPOSALS

City Fathers Place Stamp of Approval on W.C.A. Request

Headed by His Honor Judge Wills, members of the Old Boys' Re-union Committee approached the civic committees at the City Hall last evening and obtained an advance of five hundred dollars to help out in the preliminary expenses of preparing for the big celebration here during the first five days of August. This money is returnable to the city if the Re-union proves to be the financial success that the committee are working for.

Mr. T. E. Ketcheson made an application for an increase in salary which was not entertained.

Recommendations made to the Council were as follows:

That a committe composed of Aldermen Graham and Patterson be appointed to investigate and report to Council the amount of debentures to be issued for improvement at the pump house during 1924.

That an appropriation of $3,300 be made to the Indigent Committees of the Women's Christian Association for the year 1925 for the need of the poor and indigent of the city.

That a committee composed of Aldermen Manly LaRoche and Patterson, be appointed to investigate and report upon B. Simpson's claim against the city for alleged damages for construction of water works main on his property on north side of Bay St.

That the account of the Marsh Engineering Works amounting to $313.24 be credited on the firm's account owing the city.

That the letter of Wallbridge and Cameron Company, also letter of Mr. W. A. Elliott be referred to the city solicitor for his opinion as to the legal liability of the city.

To Attend Meeting

That Mr. T. E. Ketcheson, city assessor attend the Assessor Association meeting to be held at Toronto on Saturday 31st inst.

That a grant of $15 be made to the Toronto Hospital for sick children.

That the City Council be authorized to pay $50 as a membership fee of the City in the Ontario Municipal Association.

That the request of the Women's Christian Association for an appropriation of $1800 for the operation of the home for the aged be granted, the sum named being the same as last year.

That the tender of the H. F. Ketcheson Company be accepted for carrying the public liability insurance of the city for 1925 in a non-tariff company for the sum of $2,800.

That no action be taken in the request of the city assessor for an increase in salary.

Five In House Had A Narrow Escape

Coal Gas From Furnace Caused Hasty Retreat

Woodstock, Ont., Jan. 16.—Five people, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Scott, their baby, and the two Misses Farrington had a narrow escape from death at their home on Riddell street at a late hour last night when coal gas fumes leaking from the furnace, filled the house with the deadly vapor and forced Mr. and Mrs. Scott to flee to the street with their baby, clad only in their night attire.

The Scott family shares the house with the Misses Farrington, and it was one of the latter women who first discovered the leakage from the furnace. The occupants of the house had retired and when Miss Farrington first inhaled the gas fumes she arose and went to the kitchen, where she was overcome and collapsed on the floor. Mr. Scott who went to Miss Farrington's assistance, was also slightly dazed by the gas, but recovered sufficiently to stagger from the house with his wife and baby to the residence of Mayor E. A. Rea, next door. All three were in a state of collapse on reaching the mayor's house, but recovered quickly and informed the mayor that the two Misses Farrington still remained in the house. The mayor went at once into the gas-filled residence and threw all the windows and doors open, removed the unconscious woman to the street and awoke the other Miss Farrington who was still in bed. Beyond a feeling of slight sickness, none of the occupants of the Scott home was any the worse of the experience this morning.

SHE SHOULD HAVE JUMPED AS DOG DID

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Jan. 16—Having her dress torn by a Belgian police dog, Mrs. Elizabeth Cathers sued Lawrence Day for damages, but her claim was refused by Judge Morrison. Day had offered $15 for the damage done, which the plaintiff refused. "You should have jumped at that offer, just as the dog jumped at your dress," Justice Morrison said.

Director of Home Bank Faces Trial—On the left, above S. Casey Wood, K.C., Home Bank director, is shown leaving Toronto city hall on the opening day of his trial on charges of violating the Bank Act. With him is Mr. G. M. Jarvis, his solicitor in the Home Bank trial, and member of his law firm.

Conservatives Pick Ward Delegates

Samson and Ketcheson Meetings Attract Many Men and Women

Conservatives of Samson and Ketcheson Wards turned out in large numbers last evening at the Association rooms, East Robertson block. Ladies were present in considerable numbers with the men and took a decided interest in the proceedings. Chairmen were elected also delegates to a general meeting of the new South Hastings riding to be held here on the 28th inst for the election of officers and other business. The chairmen and delegates selected were as follows:

Samson Ward—Chairman P. H Wills; delegates, F. Howie, Jas. Harold, S. J. Fisher, Ed. George, R. Gowdy and J. L. Tickell.

Ketcheson Ward—Chairman, H. F. Ketcheson; delegates, W. H. Nugent, S. T. Vandervoort, Ald. R. J. E. Graham, C Hyde, B L Hyman and G A Reid.

The ladies selected some of their chairmen for the various polling subdivisions of the Wards, also a portion of their delegates.

WOULD INCREASE GRANT TO W.C.A.

At the civic committee meeting last night a delegation of the Women's Christian Association headed by Mrs. W. C. Mikel was present and requested an advance in the appropriation for the operation of the city home for the aged. The reason for the increase is explanable by the following communication which was presented.

"The Women's Christian Association of Belleville beg leave to request an appropriation of $1800.00 for the operation of the Belleville Home for the Aged. It will answer the purposes of the work if this sum is paid at the rate of $150.00 per month. This is the same amount as the appropriation for 1924.

"At present there are thirteen inmates in the Home, seven men and six women. This is somewhat more than the usual number.

"The time has come when it is necessary to consider ways and means for additional accomodation. There is sufficient adjoining the present building and belonging to the Women's Christian Association to enable the extension to be made.

"The Home Board think it is advisable to let the public know of this need so that friends of the Home will have an opportunity of assisting the Association to bring about the erection of the extension.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) Lilian Ewen Mikel,
Pres. W. C. A.
Mary J. Stewart,
Chairman, Home Board of Management

A recommendation carried that the appropriation be $1,500 an increase of $300 over last year.

Attractive Program Given By Company

Prize Presented Through Belleville Motors, Limited To Shannonville Man

Thursday was a gala day for the Ford motor car and tractor when the Belleville Motors Limited, of this city, gave an interesting demonstration in the armouries in connection with the presentation of a Fordson tractor to Kenneth Vivian, farmer living near Shannonville. Mr. Vivian won second prize in the recently launched Farmer Ford Owners' competition, and the tractor was his prize. Vivian won second in a district which extended from Kitchener to Gananoque.

A large crowd attended at the armouries for the presentation which was made by C. E. Hanna, M.P. Following the presentation, short speeches were delivered by the prize winner, and Mr. C. E. Hanna, President of Belleville Motors Limited.

Moving picture entertainment consisting of educational pictures of the Ford Motor Works, Henry Ford's timber lands, and the production of the car all the way through, were shown, as well as mirth provoking comedies which kept the audience in rare humour. Mr. Harris, a comedian, also entertained between pictures.

Following the picture showing, a dance was held in the assembly room upstairs, where many remained to enjoy dancing to the music supplied by the Black and White orchestra.

Prominent among those present were four officials of the Ford Motor Company. They were Mr. Drope, Sales Director, Mr. Corcoran, District Organizer, Mr. M. Warwick, Projectionist and Mr. Sauley, Sales Manager from South Africa.

During the afternoon, the Belleville Motors' officials arranged a parade in which the prize tractor, a truck, two door sedan, coupe and touring car figured. Each machine bore advertising placards and banners and attracted much attention. Later the tractor and truck were driven to the armouries where they were displayed in the gangway.

FELL FROM TRUCK GIVEN BAD JOLT

Frank McCoy, employe of the Consolidated Distilleries Limited at Corbyville, sustained head and neck injuries in an accident here last evening while he was returning from work.

McCoy was riding into the city in one of the company trucks which was crowded with workmen. When the machine crossed the railway crossing on East Moira street, the jolt is believed to have thrown McCoy out the back of the truck, as he was riding near the back entrance. He alighted on his head in the roadway and was temporarily stunned by the impact. He rallied and was taken to his home in the truck where Dr. S. Cronk attended him. He is not as seriously injured as was first believed.

NON-UNIONISTS ARE STANDING BY OLD CHURCH

John Street Members Meet Together in Baptist Rooms

COMMITTEE NAMED

Will Get in Touch With Others of Same Mind

Although no public intimation was given of the fact that a meeting was to be held yet on Thursday evening about sixty men and women, mostly heads of families connected with the John St. Church, assembled in the school room of the Baptist Church to consider what steps should be taken by them in view of the results of the recent vote in the John St. Church on the question of Church Union. After the matter had been fully discussed, the following motion was unanimously carried by a standing vote:

"That we, the nonconcurring members and adherents of the John St. Church do hereby declare our intention and desire to be and remain as members of the continuing Presbyterian Church under whatsoever name it may be known in Canada after June 10th."

It was agreed to support the Budget in the meantime inasmuch as it makes provision for the missionary, educational and benevolent work of the Presbyterian Church and both unionists and anti-unionists are beneficiaries of it. A committee of five was appointed to confer with any others who might desire to join in this movement. A cordial vote of thanks was given the congregation of the Baptist church for so kindly placing their school room at the disposal of the meeting.

Socialist Member Throws Tumbler

Aims It at Opposition Deputy, Whose Reflection Offended

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 16.—France's revenue for 1925 will exceed her expenditure by thirty-four million francs, ($1,815,600) according to a forecast of the budget committee report. The first working day of this Chamber of Deputies proved to be long one. After suspension of the senate following a row between Nationalists and Communists, work was resumed and continued until two o'clock this morning. There was another flare up near the end of the session when Socialist Emile Goude, stung by a reflection cast by an opposition deputy, threw a glass of water at him. The glass missed its mark but the president's desk was drenched.

Belleville Firm May Add Branch

Natural Tread Considers Factory in Oshawa, According to Report

Oshawa, Jan. 16.—Mr. E. V. Taplin, general manager of the National Tread Co., with head office in Toronto and a branch factory in Belleville is considering locating his shoe factory in Oshawa.

Some weeks ago an announcement was made in The Reformer that a shoe factory was likely to locate in Oshawa. The management of this factory had been in touch with Mr. John Stacey who took them around and showed them various sites in this city, and in other ways endeavored to interest them in locating in the "Motor City."

Yesterday Mr. Taplin, who is a friend of Mr. L. O. Clifford, M.P., phoned the Federal Member stating that he would like to come down to Oshawa within the next few days and meet a few representative business men, members of the Board of Trade, the City Council and others who might be interested in the project. He stated that he thought the Woon factory which had been shown him by Mr. Stacey some weeks ago would make a suitable site. He also informed Mr. Clifford that Kitchener and Midland were anxious that his factory should locate there and both had made him attractive offers, but for various reasons he would prefer to locate in Oshawa.

It is expected that the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council, the Board of Trade and Messrs. John Stacey and L. O. Clifford will be able to work out arrangements by which Mr. Taplin will meet the business men of the city.

Ontario Municipal Executive Presses Claim on Government

REASON FOR CHANGE

Candidates Found Applying for Charity After Elections

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Toronto, Jan. 16—Following representations of the executive of the Ontario Municipal Association to Provincial secretary Goldie, this morning, it is probable that legislation will be brought down this session restoring the property qualification for persons seeking election to municipal councils.

Instances were stated of men running for municipal office and within a few weeks applying for civic relief and charity.

Among other maters urged upon government was resolution asking that the federal government be obliged to shoulder responsibility for the maintenance of indigent immigrants in this country less than one year. The minister said he agreed with this.

The provincial secretary premised consideration for the request for revision of the public health act to provide that medical health officers could be discharged by the City Council on a majority vote.

Husband In Court Wife In Hospital

Jonathan Elliott Facing Serious Charge Magistrate Says To-day

Jonathan Elliott, farmer living in the fourth concession of Thurlow township was remanded to jail until Thursday next, January 22nd, bail being refused, when he appeared before Magistrate S. Masson in police court this morning.

Elliott is charged with assaulting his wife, Ada, occasioning actual bodily harm, and was arrested Thursday afternoon by Provincial police officers.

The woman, whose head was cut, was admitted to the General hospital late yesterday afternoon, but it is expected that she will be able to leave the hospital and attend the trial Thursday next.

This offense was a serious one, it was pointed out by the bench, and anyone found guilty of the offense was liable to be sentenced to penitentiary for two years with the lash.

When the serious nature of the charge was explained to accused he asked for a remand so that he might retain counsel.

It was reported yesterday that a nail inflicted the injuries to the woman's head.

Thomas Y. Wills Is Called To Bar

He Will Take Up Practice of Law in Belleville

At Osgoode Hall, Toronto on Thursday, Mr. Thomas Yarwood Wills, only son of His Honor Judge J. F. Wills and Mrs. Wills, 38 Queen street, this city, was called to the Bar before the Honourable Mr. Justice Logie. Mr. Wills was introduced by the treasurer of the Benchers, F. W. Harcourt K. C. and was entered on the roll as a solicitor of the Supreme court of Ontario.

Mr. Thomas Wills is well known in Belleville, the city of his birth, and is a graduate of public and High School here. He is also a graduate of Upper Canada College and the Royal College at Kingston. Mr. Wills will take up the practice of law in Belleville.

The Intelligencer joins with this young lawyer's host of friends in Belleville and elsewhere to congratulate him in his success in life to date, and to wish him continued success with prosperity in his life work among his own people and in his home town.

Castles in Germany, the former homes of dukes and princes, which are now in the hands of the government, have become so numerous that officials do not know what to do with them. Some have been converted into museums and public buildings, but the majority will remain vacant unless they are purchased by wealthy foreigners.

Carmela, left, and Rosa Ponselle, the latter being the famous opera star. The reward of a life dedicated to unselfishness and devotion came this week at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, when Carmela sang the duet from "Aida" with her famous sister. Both women began their careers as choir singers in Meriden, Connecticut, but after a period on the vaudeville stage, Carmela, the older, set aside her ambitions in order to advance those of her sister. While Rosa was adding more and more laurels to her crown, Crmela stayed in their apartment and kept house. But she always kept her voice in condition.

FAIR SOCIETY ENTERED INTO BUSY SESSION

To-day's Was Most Enthusiastic Meeting Ever Held Here

NEED FOR BUILDINGS

Chairman of Parks Board Suggests Three Large Structures

Discussions as to methods deemed advisory to employ in making the proposed Belleville fair this autumn the greatest in the history of the city, election of officers, presentation of the financial statement, and discussion of the accomplishments and plans of the Belleville Parks' Board, were the outstanding topics for discussion when the annual meeting of Belleville Agricultural Association Society got under way at the City Hall this afternoon.

More than fifty were present when the meeting opened, and it is one of the most enthusiactic meetings ever held by that society. President C. E. Hanna M.P., who was chairman hoped for success for the biggest exhibition ever next autumn. George Reid of Thurlow township, treasurer, submitted a financial statement showing a balance of $186.09. Thirty-four new members have joined.

T. P. J. Power, chairman of the Parks Board, told of an excellent half mile track having been completed at the new Agricultural field and buildings started. Ways and means to raise money to continue was a big topic for discussion.

Hastings County should give a grant, it was felt, and a grant should be forthcoming from the government. This last anticipated grant however, is impossible, it is believed.

"The Parks Board needs assistance and it needs it badly," emphasized Chairman Power.

"We need three large buildings for exhibits and we require sheds also," he went on.

The hope of all is that they will be completed in time for the fair next fall.

Ex-Alderman, H. Greenleaf, also a Parks' Commissioner, expressed his belief that the County Council and City Council should be represented on the Board of Directors.

At 3 o'clock the election of officers had not commenced, but lively and helpful discussions as to ways of raising money were being heard.

Went To Dance After the Murder

Sixteen-Year-Old Girl shows Utter Callousness in Frisco

(Canadian Press Despatch)

San Francisco, Jan. 16.—Pleasure loving Dorothy Ellingson, 16 years old, confessed slayer of her mother, Mrs. Anna Ellingson, maintained to-day that smiling mask of indifference that had characterized her attitude since her arrest yesterday, charged with murder.

Emerging from 12 hours of questioning to-day, the girl still was the life of the party. Police to-day had rounded up three of 17 young men for whom warrants were issued for contributing to the delinquency of the minor. They included David Stein in whose apartment Dorothy was said to have atended a party a few hours after the death of her mother. Keith Lord was arested in Venice, Calif., where he was playing in an orchestra and Harry Lesser, alias Chemitz, was taken into custody here. All are musicians. More arrests were expected to-day.

Father and brother confronted the girl in the city prison yesterday, the former sorrowful and pleading, the boy stern and unforgiving.

The shooting came as a climax to a long series of family differences over the girl's actions. Her father and mother had quarrelled because of the clandestine life their daughter admits she led. The mother defended her. After the girl shot her mother to death, according to her confession, she took $45 from a purse in same room and went on the "wild party". She had rented a room two miles from her home, and there after the party read the papers containing the account of her mother's death.

Jared Vining was re-elected Chairman of London Public Utilities Commission.

CANADA AND ALIEN IMMIGRATION

According to an article in the current number of the Atlantic Monthly, by Mr. Stewart H. Perry, the smuggling of aliens into the United States is a much more serious problem than the smuggling of liquor or narcotics. He declares that the smuggling of aliens has become an organized business and threatens one of the most vital policies which has ever been adopted by the American people, namely, the policy of restricted immigration.

These aliens, he says, are smuggled in along the coast, as well as from Mexico on the south and Canada on the north. He admits that as far as Canada is concerned the restrictions imposed by the Dominion parallel those in the United States to a degree, but he points out that as far as European immigration is concerned Canadian restrictions, though rigid as far as they go, are occupational in character, no immigrant being disqualified for entrance because of his nationality, and no numerical limit being applied to immigrants of the occupations specified for admission. Mr. Perry points out that the American sphere of national interest of this matter does not stop wholly at the frontiers. He remarks:

"For racial as well as economic reasons we should regret to see Canada invaded by extensive immigration of nationalities that we deem it necessary to exclude; for, racially and economically, North America is virtually one country, and the maintenance of the American standard of living and of Anglo-Saxon supremacy in Canada is a vitally important corollary to our own policy. It is to be hoped that the Government and people of Canada will recognize before it is too late, the essential identity of the alien problem in the two countries by adopting a similar policy as far as the racial aspects of immgration are concerned."

Mr. Perry goes on to advocate three legislative steps to deal with the smuggling of aliens. One is the amendment of the Seamen's Act, doing away with the present permit of 60 days' shore-leave for alien sailors; the second is a law requiring the registration of all aliens and providing for the deportation of those unlawfully in the United States; and the third is the application of the quota law to Mexico, Cuba and the West Indies. He concludes as follows:—

"The problem is one to which Congress should immediately address itself, one upon which the sentiment of the nation needs most urgently to be awakened. Our immigration policy has come to stay, and is bound up with our future welfare as intimately as the Monroe Doctrine; indeed it is a logical and inescapable corrollary to that doctrine and to the Declaration of Independence. As a measure of national conservation—economic, social, and racial—this great demarche of the United States has no counterpart. It is a normal product of new world conditions, and the worthy answer of a great nation to the demands of the time—wisely and presciently given while those demands still can be answered effectively.

"We shall meet with difficulties, but the nation must follow its true course. There is no other course that does not involve a confession of impotence or lead to a surrender of our national birthright."

A CHANCE TO HELP

Belleville people and their friends in the vicinity of the city have an opportunity to render a real service for the success of the forthcoming Old Boys' Re-Union. That lies in the request of the committee at work for all to send in the names and addresses of their friends and relatives out of the city to Mr. J. A. Kerr, at the Court House.

It is obvious that invitations to out of town friends should be sent early. Many live at a considerable distance from Belleville and will require notice of the event well in advance of August in order to make the necessary arrangements for the trip.

Make out a list and send it in right away.

DESERVING SUPPORT

The Belleville Baseball Club intends to make application to the City Council for financial assistance this year. When the request comes before the Aldermen they will be guided no doubt by the financial condition of the municipality in the matter of liberality.

But no matter what the Council decides to do, we cannot get away from the fact that the baseball team is worth money to the city and has a certain claim on the municipality for assistance.

Good sportsmanship is an asset to a city the advertising of this sportsmanship through the medium of such a ball club as Belleville has had and will have again, should be recognized by the people of the municipality.

AN IMPORTANT ADDRESS

One of the most important public utterances for some time was the address of Sir Herbert Holt at the annual meeting of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The President of the Royal Bank dealt with some of the serious problems of Canada in a frank, straightforward manner, and with the earnestness of a financier who realizes the necessity of dealing with such questions courageously.

It is to be hoped that the politicians of all parties have read his remarks, and have been impressed by his declaration that Canada's tax burden must be reduced if this country is not to be placed in a most unfavorable position, as compared with the United States where taxes are steadily being reduced.

Sir Herbert argued that sales and income tax should be cut and a way found to enlighten the burden of the people all along the line.

With industry stagnant and men with capital afraid to take a chance of investing in new enterprises under the present conditions, the only remedy was to lift some of the handicaps and this was possible only by drastic economies in public expenditure.

The President of the Royal Bank was speaking not as a politician but as the head of a great financial concern, and the sober nature of his address cannot be passed over lightly.

The remedy is not an impossible one if the Government is given the co-operation of the public in an earnest endavor to eliminate waste and extravagance, and to reduce for a time at least the spending of public money to that required for bare necessities.

Canada has the resources necessary for a great devolpment, and if the people have faith in their country and support a drastic programme of national retrenchment the outlook is good.—Peterboro Examiner.

THE MORAL OF R. A. HOEY

(Ottawa Journal)

Mr. R. A. Hoey, M.P., for Springfield Manitoba, who in 14 years has risen from being a penniless Irish immigrant boy to the post of first lieutenant of the Progressive party in Parliament, contemplates the smashing of Confederation. Two years ago, in a moving speech in Parliament, he instanced his own career to illustrate that Canada was the land of opportunity; he preached high faith in her destiny. Whether prospect of an early election has changed his outlook, one cannot tell, but in any event Mr. Hoey appeared in Brandon on Wednesday night as a John the Baptist of a severed Confederation. To the raucous voices which foment class and sectional animosities, he threw his full weight, crying out that unless we in the East bow the knee to all of the West's demands, then Manitoba, Alberta, and Saskatchewan will cut the painter, will smash the Dominion, will drive a bridgehead of independence and selfishness through the heart of the Canadian nation.

TWO GOOD FLAGS

(The Independent)

Mrs. Baldwin, the wife of Britain's Prime Minister, has given a fitting reply and rebuke to the statement of Mrs. Philip Snowden that "the Red Flag is the flag of Christianity." Mrs. Baldwin says: "I deny that utterly. It is the white flag, the flag of peace, which is the real flag of Christianity. It is our women's work to wash the Red Flag white, and when we have cleansed it and purified it then we can raise it with our Uunion Jack, for under these two flags—the flags of peace and freedom—remains the destiny of our Empire, and not only that but the happiness of our fellow-countrymen and beyond that the happiness of the whole world."

POLITICAL ANTIPATHIES

Lethbridge Herald:

Political antipathies never break the personal relations between broad-minded men. The small, narrow partisan carries the war into social and business life, but that is only to be expected from men of that type. In the house of commons combat between political gladiators only rarely reaches personalities. We merely need to conjecture what kind of world we would be living in if men who disagreed on public questions refused to have anything to do with each ther in everyday life, to realize what joyless place it would be.

BALDWIN'S TASK

ondon Daily News:

Baldwin tells us with rather irritatng frequency that he is an honest nan, but we know of no other cause o question the fact. He probably does 'esire quite honestly to decrease unmp'oyment, to clear away slums, to nd the conditions which have made he housing problem a burning question, to extend old age pensions; and f Mr. Baldwin can do these things, e deserves the support which he will eceive. In particular, if he can lift e housing question out of the morass f party politics, he will have done eal and valuable service. It is the ort of question which can never be olved in the cut and thrust of deate; and the housing of the people ught not to be made a pawn in the arty game.

THE ROYAL HOUSEHOLD

ondon Times:

When Mr. Ramsay MacDonald formd his government it was announced hat three offices in the royal house-o'd, those of lord chamberlain, lord teward and master of the horse, ould not be regarded as political, nt would be filled by the selection f the King himself. This was general- thought a wise arrangement, both r the present and the future. The recedent has been followed by Mr. Baldwin and the appointments may ow be definitely regarded as non-olitical. His Majesty has invited the olders of offices in the last administation to continue their duties, and he invitation has been accepted.. Acordingly the lord chamberlain will e Lord Cromer, the lord steward ord Shaftsbury, and the master of he horse Lord Granard.

Oyster Growers Protect Their Beds in Novel Manner

(Associated Press Despatch)

Olympia, Wash., Jan. 16.—Confronted ith the devastation of their oyster beds y the predatory activities of coots and luebill ducks, and being prevented by aw from routing the invaders by the rdinary shotgun process, members of he Olympia Oyster Growers' Association have determined on a novel camaign of bloodless "frightfulness" to rotect their bivalves, according to E. N. Steele, secretary of the organization.

With the reported approval of state ish and game officials, a speedy launch as been equipped with a gun which discharges a blue carbide flame into the ir at regular intervals. The boat cares also a mortar which discharges moke and noise bombs, hurling the projectiles into the air a distance of 150 ards. This permits reaching out over he exposed beds when the tide is too ow to approach the feeding birds.

This craft will cruise about the beds, elching its flames and hurling its leathless projectiles in hopes that the housands of predatory birds which feed pon the oysters may be routed without lepleting the game supply, or running ounter to the federal game law provisions.

To-day's Smile

On the first night of a new play a man in the front row of the stalls got up toward the end of the second act and began to put on his overcoat. This was too much for the actor-manager, who stalked down to the centre of the footlights and addressed the delinquent.

"Excuse me, sir," he observed, "but perhaps you are not aware that there is another act?"

"Yes," retorted the stranger, cheerfully. "That's why I'm going!"

The headquarters of No. 5 Company of the 16 Battalion have been changed from Demorestville to Rossmore.

Tenders for the re-erection of St. Andrew's Church were to have opened to-day, but as the train was late and tenders were expected from Toronto, the committee adjourned until 4 p.m.

Miss Ella Holden has gone to Toronto to take a course at the Normal School.

The stove pipes in John Brintnell's barber shop in Carman block, Front St., fell down on Saturday evening and in their descent knocked down a bracket lamp. The proprietor at once grabbed the lamp and threw it into the street, while a gentleman in the shop smothered the burning oil on the floor, thus averting what might have been another serious fire.

Mr. J. J. Lockhart, of Brighton, was in the city to-day.

BROCKVILLE TRAGEDY DEEMED ACCIDENT

Brockville, Jan. 16—Officials of the Public Utilities Commission state that they have received no intimation of the launching of an action against that body by Mrs. Henry Peldon, of Syracuse, N.Y., claiming damages for the loss of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Gray and her four brothers, all of whom were asphyxiated by illuminating gas which entered their home here from a broken gas main on January 3. It is declared that a Syracuse attorney interviewed the commission in this respect but after an investigation, which disclosed the purely accidental circumstances ,gave an assurance that it was not his purpose to take legal action. The funeral expenses were borne by the commission.

Deaths And Funerals

MRS. HESTER THRASHER
(An Appraciation)

A feeling of sadness and gloom settled over this community on Thursday last when it was learned that Mrs. Hester Thrasher had just passed into the "Great Beyond" for she was a woman known far and wide and beloved and respected by everyone Deceased was in the city on Saturday last, jovial and full of life and apparently as well as ever. On Monday she was taken with a stroke which proved fatal from the first, and in spite of all that loving kindness and medical skill could do, she never rallied and on Thursday afternoon she entered into rest, surrounded by her sorrowing sons and daughters, whose hearts are broken as they realize only too deeply as the days go by that "Mother", their best friend is gone. Over fifty years ago, she, with her husband, Mr. Gilbert Thrasher, both descendants of old U. E. L. settlers, came to this section and settled on the farm where she died. She knew all the hardships and struggles of an early pioneer life and amid all the cares of the home and the rearing of her little family of two sons and three daughters, she had time not only to be a good mother but a good neighbor also and many a lonely traveller along life's rugged road has been cheered on the way by the clasp of her friendly hand, a kind word, a joke or a smile oftentimes with something more substantial, as she was always good to the poor and needy.

For nearly twenty years she was president of the Ladies Aid of Centenary Church. Her whole heart was in the work and upkeep of the church she was a born leader and in all those years at our annual teas, socials and "at homes" she took a lively interest in every detail and in her anxiety for it to be a success she oftentimes shouldered more than her share of the responsibility. No "Chicken Tea" at Centenary Curch was complete without Grandma Thrasher as the leading spirit. Truly it can be said of her "She has done what she could". She will be greatly missed, not only in the home and the church but by scores of warm friends who had known her so well in all the eighty-two years of her life. Among the many beautiful floral offerings, silent tokens of the love and respect of many sorrowing friends was that of a "Broken Wheel" from the Ladies Aid, a fitting token of remembrance, as we realize to the fullest extent, that the center around which we circled is gone. We extend to the sorrowing friends our deepest sympathy at this sad hour. The funeral services were conducted at the home on Saturday afternoon last by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Batstone, after which a large funeral cortege followed the remains to its last resting place in Belleville Cemetery.

THOMAS EMERSON

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Emerson took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, Sidney Township. At the home and interment at Belleville cemetery Rev. N. S. McKechnie, Pastor of the Baptist Church conducted services. Bearers were S. Lata, J. Archer, J. Canning, W. Buckley, J. Collins and W. Fitzgibbons.
